JURY IN BRYAN CASE IS DIVIDED

No Decision Arrived at After 21 Hours Deliberation

ABERNETHY IN ELOQUENT SPEECH

Judge Foushee's Charge to the Jury Satisfactory to Both Sides—Solicitor Abernethy Delivers Masterful Ad- dress—Jury Hopelessly Divided, It Seems.

NEW BERN, Feb. 15.—The jury in the Baker Bryan case is evidently hopelessly divided, for up to two o'clock this afternoon no verdict had been rendered. It is impossible to tell how the jury stands on this matter, and there have been many rumors on the street as to how the ballots stood, but as the matter is hear-say we will not quote it.

On account of the fact that the criminal term of the Superior court is not over until this jury comes to a decision or is discharged, it was impossible to hold the session of civil court today as was expected. The law does not allow two terms of this court to be in session at one time and for this reason Judge Foushee this morning, after a jury had been sworn, stated that the court would not meet until 2:15, at which time the jury might come to some decision. If such is not the case then the civil term will be probably continued from day to day until this jury has returned its verdict.

Court convened yesterday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock, and at 2:25 Solicitor Chas. L. Abernethy began his speech for the state and it was one of the most eloquent and masterly speeches ever heard in this county, and the solicitor deserves much credit for the splendid fight he put up. He had opposing to him in this case as able lawyers as could be found in the state, and the solicitor paid his respects to these attorneys and stated that if he ever got in trouble he would certainly employ them.

DAVIS' SLEUTH IS MISSING

Today Time Set For Whiskey Selling Investigations

SECRETARY DAVIS NOT QUITE READY

Although Case Against Some Of The Charlotte Clubs Was Set For Today Not Even Warrants Had Been Served Up To Last Night, When Detective Employed By Davis Was Still Missing.

CHARLOTTE, Feb. 14.—For the reason that Rev. R. L. Davis' so-called detective in the exposure of alleged blind tigers in Charlotte has shaken the dust of Mecklenburg from his heels and that a diligent search on the part of the officers has failed to locate him, there will be no trials growing out of the Anti-Saloon League Secretary's spectacular demonstrations at the auditorium Sunday night, February 4th.

On that occasion he exhibited 8 pint bottles of whiskey to an audience estimated at between 3,000 and 4,000 people and exclaimed that they were bought from three drug stores and five clubs in Charlotte.

Mr. Davis will be here tomorrow the date set for the trial, but his mere presence here will be of no value as he has no personal knowledge of the alleged sales.

Not a single warrant has been, or will be issued. The authorities had nothing but the evidence of O. L. Flowe, whom Mr. Davis said bought the whiskey for him, and the police say they have been unable to produce any corroborative testimony.

City Solicitor John A. Parker, stated tonight that he would make a full statement in court tomorrow, explaining why no warrants have been served.

Sidewalk Suggestions.

That a town or city should be kept clean and sanitary, is a matter of great concern to all the people. The back lots, streets front and back yards of private homes, but no place is of more vital importance than the sidewalks, for here all pass over and come in direct contact with every unsightly and unwholesome condition that may exist on the main walks. There is a portion of sidewalk in Greenville that has not been swept for four weeks—on Main street—in front of occupied stores. Shame to our beautiful Greenville. Besides, not one foot of sidewalk on Main street is ever cleaned off on Saturday night, hence filth of every kind remains for Sunday. Why not require all business places to clean off in front of their respective places before leaving on Saturday nights? Why sweep the streets and not the sidewalks? "Better get busy."

"President Taft is a Political Suicide -" McCormick

His Speech at the Lincoln Dinner is Widely Criticized By Progressives

Medill McCormick says that the Republican Admin- istration Carries With it a Policy of Murder

McCORMICK HAS WITHDRAWN FROM LAFOLETTE

Opens Offices In Downtown Wash- ington And Issues Statements Playing Taft For His New York Speech Against the Progressives—It Is Thought That Roosevelt Will Soon Make a Statement.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—A statement issued tonight at "The Washington offices of the Roosevelt national committee" in the interest of Colonel Roosevelt, and signed by Medill McCormick, declared that President Taft's administration has embarked upon a policy of "political suicide and murder."

President Taft's New York speech in which he declared "that progressives were political neurotics" is criticized, as is Secretary McVeagh's speech at Lansing in which he declared that Mr. Roosevelt would not and could not be a candidate for the presidency.

Mr. McCormick, who recently withdrew from Senator LaFollette's campaign, has opened offices in a downtown office building. The statement was issued from there.

Until tonight there had been no Roosevelt headquarters here and these offices are not now known as such, but the former president's friends say they will be as soon as the colonel makes a public announcement of his position, which they think will be soon. The statement follows: "The administration has embarked upon a policy of political suicide and murder—murder is possible and suicide if necessary. In its efforts to discredit the friends of Mr. Roosevelt it has sought to destroy the Republicans who favor his candidacy and has cast its lot with the morbid reactionary leaders of the Republican party at the risk of losing the support of the great mass of progressive voters throughout the country.

"Not content with viciously attacking the progressives in one speech, in another it has sought to divide the Republican opposition to the president by confusing facts with reference to Senator Cummins, Senator LaFollette and Colonel Roosevelt. It is not creditable that the secretary of the treasury could have made his Lansing speech if he had not been misinformed as to facts.

The country will not be confused by the president's characterization of Colonel Roosevelt's supporters as political neurotics. It has noticed that the elements which opposed President Taft's nomination in 1908 are back of the movement for his re-nomination under the leadership of the extreme reactionaries in the house and senate."

WHEN IS A RING?

When It Goes Around—And This One Certainly Did Go Some.

Once upon a time a young lady and her fiancée went fishing. At any rate, the fishing was an excuse to get away from the world, which is even another trick of self-wrapped lovers. In a careless moment and while the swain was pulling hard at the oars and the maiden laid back in rapturous contemplation of the poor sucker, already at hand labor, her engagement ring slipped off her finger and commenced a series of spirals to the muddy bed below. Both swain and maiden did their best to recover said ring but they had to return to the world of the living minus the jewel. Years after a fisherman called at the door of the cottage, where love had been the main fare. The swain was still at hard labor. The fish was bought and paid for and opened preparatory to its going through the third degree of culinary science. And behold! the ring was in the stomach of the fish.

Some people pooh-pooh and likewise boo-hoo at the veracity of this story, but Jonah's there to convince them.

And if Jonah were not enough, Greenville has a little story that might appeal to the most skeptic. Some two and a half years ago, a lady was victimized to the extent of a $250 ring. Right here began a chase such as has few parallels. Policeman Geo. Clark got off to a rather warm scent and kept at it. Whenever the sleuth though he was about to grab the tiffany, something got in between and the chase was resumed. This little hide and seek game kept up till this week when the elusive ring was returned to its rightful owner.

Same rightful owner was so delighted to get it back that she did not even stop to inquire as to extraordinary means had Mr. Clark had made use of to secure it.

Much credit is due to the representative of the police for his perseverance and good effort in recovering the jewel.

N. S. R. R. FOR CHARLOTTE

N. S. RAILROAD TAKES UP OPTION IN CHARLOTTE PROPERTY AGGREGATING $88,000.

CHARLOTTE, Feb. 14.—The first four options on property aggregating $88,000 which would have expired tomorrow, were taken up by the Norfolk Southern railroad and it is announced tonight that options on adjoining real estate, swelling the total to $275,000, will follow in sequence. The entire property is to be used for depot and terminal facilities for the extension of the road from Raleigh to Charlotte, and the real estate deal today means that the extension of the road to Concord and Charlotte is an assured fact. Patriotic Charlotte citizens in two days raised the $50,000 bonus demanded by the railroad. The further definite announcement was made this afternoon that the actual work of construction on the extension would begin within two months.

Valuable Town Property.

Elsewhere in this paper the commissioners, A. L. Blow and J. B. James, advertise the Sutton property to be sold at auction on Monday, March 18th. This is valuable property, right in the heart of the town, and runs clear through from Evans to Eighth streets. It can be divided into several desirable building lots, and there are already two houses on it. The property was sold in November, and bid off as a whole at that time for $5,000, but owing to its value the bid was raised before confirmation of the former sale, which requires a re-sale of the property.

Cummins in Iowa.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 15.—Birthday congratulations were in order today for the latest of the Republican presidential aspirants—Albert Baird Cummins, United States senator from Iowa. Senator Cummins was born sixty-two years ago in the town of Carmichaels, Pa. In early youth he followed his father's trade of carpentering, and with the money thus earned he was able to take a two years' course at Waynesburg College. After leaving college he worked for several years as a railroad surveyor. He must have been a pretty good man at the business, for he was offered a position as chief engineer of one of the western railroads. But the future senator had already determined upon the law as a profession and at the age of twenty-three he laid aside his tripod and became a student in a Chicago law office.

Mr. Cummins did not become a resident of the state that later was to make him governor and United States senator until 1878, when he removed from Chicago to Des Moines and formed a law partnership with his brother. Before many years had passed he had established his reputation as one of the ablest lawyers in the Hawkeye state.

Ten years after his arrival in Iowa Mr. Cummins was elected to the state legislature. He was elected as an independent candidate, which was not a very common thing in those days. He voted with the Republicans on all matters, excepting prohibition. He was a believer in high license, as a more practical temperance measure than prohibition, and subsequent legislation seems to have approved his judgment, for high license with local option now appears to be the settled policy in Iowa.

When John H. Gear, known as the "grand old man" of the Republican party in Iowa, was nearing the end of his long career in the United States senate, Mr. Cummins became a candidate for the toga. He was successful, but he came within three votes of election and established his place among the foremost leaders of his party. In 1901 he came out for the governorship. It was Cummins against the field. He stumped the state and won in the convention of 1,600 delegates by a majority of eighteen. He served his first term and was re-elected. During his administration and under his leadership the reform movement made great headway in Iowa. As a candidate for a third term, with "Reform" as his campaign slogan, he swept the state with an old time majority that made his master of the party.

In 1908 Mr. Cummins was elected to serve out the unexpired term of William B. Allison in the United States senate. He was re-elected to the full term the next year. When the tariff agitation was renewed soon after he entered the senate, Mr. Cummins stood up and said things which started what became known as the "Iowa idea." The idea ment a reduction of tariff on monopolized products La Follette and others took up the idea and made admirers of Mr. Cummins took up the idea and made much of it, but it was Cummins who originated it.

Close friends and admirers of Mr. Cummins believe that the "progressive" movement, as the "Iowa idea" has come to be known, may sweep the senator into the White House. They believe that on a show-down he could poll greater strength among the progressive Republicans than Senator LaFollette. The Cummins policy regards the leading issues of the day may fairly be defined as a mean between the views of President Taft and those of Senator LaFollette, a little more advanced than the former and at the same time not so radical as the last-named.

Senator Cummins believes in reform, but he does not believe that the proper way to remedy the existing condition of things is to destroy the corporations and make war on the railroads. In a speech delivered before the Roosevelt Club in Denver some years ago he expressed his views on the subject of reform as follows:

"Do not fear the title of reformer, but put the true meaning upon the word. The reformer who destroys is the enemy of mankind. The reformer whose cry is "march on" is the benefactor of his race. In a country like our, whose foundation stones were laid by the hands of patriots, and whose structure is cemented by the blood of heroes, wife justice and equality have been the watchword of our commanders, what we need is not revolution, but evolution. We need reformers who recognize that what we have is good, but that it may be better; men and women who devote their lives not to tearing down, but to building up."

New Light on Patrick Henry. After the capture of Richmond a party of English tourists were in that city, chaperoned by an old dandy. "What is that building?" said one of the gentlemen to him. "It's a 'bacco warehouse," said the old man.

And then, looking in the direction of a huge hill, Church Hill as it is called in Richmond, the touring party spied a church at the top.

"And what is that building? Is that a tobacco warehouse also?" "Oh no, sah. Dat's de church whar Patrick Henry made de speech, 'Give me liberty or give me death,' and 'fore Gawd dey done give him both.'"
