ANARCHIST ATTEMPTS KING'S LIFE

Victor Emanuel, of Italy Escapes Assassins Bullets

KING'S OFFICER BADLY INJURED

An attempt to take the life of the King of Italy was made yesterday by self-styled "Individual Anarchist"—Crowd gathers and attempts to lynch would be regicide.

ROME, March 14.—An attempt was made to assassinate King Victor Emmanuel this morning. Several shots were fired at the King but all missed their target and his majesty escaped unhurt. His assailant was arrested.

The king was just leaving the palace on his way to the Pantheon to attend the annual memorial service in honor of his father, King Humbert. A young man fired several shots from behind the crowd in the street. One of the officers of the king's bodyguard fell dangerously wounded but the king was untouched.

There was tremendous excitement in the crowd, which turned on the youth and attempted to lynch him. The police finally rescued him from the clutches of the mob.

The king was cool and unruffled amid all the excitement. He continued on his way after only a brief stop and sat through the Pantheon services without a sign of emotion.

The populace handled the would-be assassin so roughly before the police could interfere that the youth was hardly able to speak when he reached the police station.

He gave his name as Antonio Della and declared that he was an "individualist anarchist."

There are now more than a dozen Baraca classes in the city and the membership totals several hundred. It is the purpose of the leaders of the new organization to unify the efforts of these different classes so as to promote an increased activity in the work.

CONDENSED NEWS FROM ALL OVER THE OLD NORTH STATE

W. P. M. Turner a Candidate.

Wilmington.—After being urged by many friends for the past two or three weeks, W. P. Mangum Turner, Esq., one of the ablest and most prominent young members of the local bar, has announced himself a candidate for recorder against Mr. John J. Furlong, the incumbent. Mr. Turner is of judicial temperament, is well versed in the law and his friends freely predict his election. The primary is to be held March 27 and all the candidates must announce themselves by Saturday of this week, according to a ruling of the county executive committee.

Harmon Club at Dunn.

Dunn.—As a result of spontaneous combustion, as some one expressed it, Dunn now has a Judson Harmon Club, with a membership of seventy-eight of the best citizens of the town, who came together last night upon their own initiative to show just how they felt in regard to the presidential possibilities. Saturday some one suggested on the street that it be seen how many were for Harmon in the town. A notice was posted in two of the drug stores that a meeting would be held in the recorder's court room Monday night and those wishing to form a Harmon club to be present.

Thieves at Spencer.

Spencer.—Unknown thieves entered the office of J. R. Thomas, coal dealer, in Spencer last night, but were frightened off before any damage was done. Tools with which it is supposed an attempt would have been made upon the safe were found today but there is no clue to the intruders.

Must Have Fathers' Consent

The Supreme Court Decides That a Father's Consent Must be Exhibited Before a Marriage License Can be Obtained in North Carolina.

RALEIGH, N. C., March 14.—The Supreme court in the case of J. E. Littleton vs John Haar, Register of Deeds of New Hanover county just decided, holds that the register of deeds is liable for $200 penalty for the erroneous issuance of marriage license to Littleton's daughter, Edna Littleton, because the license was issued on the written consent of the mother and not of the father. The girl was under age and the consent of her mother was filed only.

The father sued for the penalty and recovers judgment for it. The court holds that the consent of the father is essential when he is living. In this case the daughter was living with and being supported by the father, but the court holds that this consent of the father is necessary whether this is the case or not, and whether the father and mother are living together, as they are in this case, or not.

ON DEATH BED, ATLANTA CONTRACTOR ACCUSES WIFE.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 14.—With the lower part of his body pronounced already dead, Eugene H. Grace, whose spinal cord is severed by a bullet alleged by Grace to have been fired by his wife, is expected to die within the next twenty-four hours, according to his physicians tonight. Grace is said to be facing death with stoic nerve. He continues to insist that his wife shot him.

Although Grace last night made an ante-mortem statement to his attorneys and members of his family, the Chief of Detectives Lansford stated tonight that the dying man will be asked to make another to the officers of the law. In his story to his lawyers Grace is declared to have told in detail how his wife shot him; that she remained with him several hours after he was shot; that he pleaded for a doctor and then begged for water. The attorneys decline to give out the statement for publication.

PARTICULARS OF THE HILLSVILLE TRAGEDY

Should the Noted Outlaws Be Captured it Will Probably Mean More Loss of Life.

MURDERERS MAY NOW BE HIDING WITHIN OUR BOUNDS

LATEST NEWS FROM HILLSVILLE, VA.

HILLSVILLE, Va., March 15.—Other jurors wounded in the battle following the shooting of the court officials are Fowler, Faddis and Kane. Of the citizens in the court house who took active part in the fight, A. T. Howlett, Bruce Marshall and Stuart Worrell were also wounded. Dexter Goad, clerk of the court, did not escape the fusillade and is in a dying condition.

Floyd Allen, whose sentence caused the shooting is also badly wounded but heavily guarded as it is expected that his brother will make an attempt to liberate him. Sidna Allen, who led the outlaws was wounded but made his escape.

(From special Reflector Messages received last night and this morning)

Dispatches received at The Reflector office late last night and this morning do little more than confirm the news of the triple murder committed in the Hillsville, Va., court house by the friends of Floyd Allen, one of the moonshiners being sentenced yesterday morning by murdered Judge Thornton Massie. The story re-constructed follows:

HILLSVILLE, Va., March 14-15.—The jury in the case of the Commonwealth vs Floyd Allen, noted moonshiner and blockader, had just brought in a verdict of guilty and the prisoner had been sentenced to one year in prison for aiding in the escape of a county prisoner. Allen's friends, all mountaineer moonshiners and blockaders, had ridden to town to the number of seventeen. They were armed with winchesters and revolvers. No sooner was the sentence passed that they opened fire upon the officers of the court instantly killing Judge Massie. The guns were then turned on Commonwealth Attorney, Wm. A. Foster, who died instantly with several bullets in his brain.

Sheriff Lewis Webb made a frantic effort to reach some of the outlaws but before he had taken many steps he was shot down and killed. Some of the citizens present in court, pulled out their guns and a free for all pitched battle ensued during which some of the jurors and minor court officers were wounded, J. H. Blankenship probably fatally.

During the scramble that followed the outlaws run for their horses and made a successful "get away" riding hard for the mountains. Before an armed posse could be organized the murderers had been away some time and it is thought that being as well acquainted with the mountainous country as they are, they have made their advantage good. They are probably on North Carolina soil.

REWARD OFFERED BY GOVERNOR MANN.

RICHMOND, Va., March 14.—The news of the triple murder was immediately telegraphed to the governor of the state who at once had a reward of $1,000 offered for the capture, dead or alive, of the fleeing murderers. Governor Mann at once telegraphed Governor Kitchin to instruct all the sheriffs in North Carolina to be on the look out and ready to apprehend the desperadoes. This Governor Kitchin did and as it is supposed the murderers are seeking refuge in the western part of North Carolina, their arrest may be caused at any time.

OFFICERS AT HILLSVILLE.

ROANOKE, Va., March 15.—A special train carrying officers of the law and several militiamen was dispatched to Hillsville to follow the posse of citizens already in pursuit of the criminals.

THE TRAGEDY TOWN.

As announced in yesterday's Reflector Hillsville is the county seat of Carroll county, but in spite of its importance as county seat is quite a small town and is almost isolated from the rest of the state by reason of not having railroad connections and but very poor wire communications. Its population is approximately 300 inhabitants.

EPISCOPALIANS GET RECTOR BEFORE MAYOR WOOTEN

REV. DALLAS TUCKER, OF BRISTOL, 3 NEGROES TO SUPERIOR COURT

BRISTOL, TENN., PREACHER IS TO COME TO GREENVILLE IN A FEW DAYS

Information was gathered today that the Episcopalians have been successful in securing a rector for their church and that in the course of a few days the Rev. Dallas Tucker, of Bristol, Tenn., would come over to Greenville to assume the duties of his church.

This is certainly good news for the Episcopalians here and they surely deserve their success in as much as they have just completed a beautiful house to be occupied by their preacher.

Rev. Tucker was lately sent a copy of the special illustrated edition of The Reflector and in correspondence with one of the leading citizens expressed his pleasure at being introduced to the town he will soon call his home in such a manner.

NEGROES ACCUSED OF LARCENY OF A PAIR OF SHOES FROM SOLOMON BOUND OVER

Before Mayor Wooten this morning the colored men Willie Green, Willie Jones and Elliot Patterson were tried for the alleged theft of a pair of shoes from the uptown store of Paul Solomon on Wednesday last.

Evidence was introduced to the effect that the negroes had used trickery to accomplish the theft but that upon being discovered left the stolen goods and took to their heels. Policeman Clark quickly rounded them up and had them locked up in the local jail.

They were all held for superior court under bonds of $300.00 each, which they failed to put up and therefore were again committed to jail.

Elliot Patterson was also tried for carrying concealed weapons. The charge was sustained by the evidence introduced and on this count was al-

Peoria After National Regatta.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Western oarsmen never pulled harder in a title race than they are pulling just now for the championship regatta of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen. The date and place for holding this summer's regatta will be selected by the executive committee of the association at its annual meeting here tomorrow. The Westerners are united in a movement to have Peoria named as the regatta city. It is conceded that the fight is between Peoria and Boston, and from present indications the Illinois city has more than an even chance of winning out.

Trying to Prove Woman Insane

Young Asheville Wife Who Shot and Killed Her Husband a Week Ago, Is to be Examined by Alienists, to Ascertain as to Her Insanity.

ASHEVILLE, March 14.—Dr. R. S. Carroll and Dr. D. E. Sevier, privately examined Mrs. Walter A. Harrison, who is in jail charged with killing her young husband about a week ago, and by physical and other tests which would have been the means of detecting any feigned insanity, come to the conclusion that Mrs. Harrison is insane. Yesterday afternoon an inquiry was conducted in the office of the clerk of court at which these physicians testified, the inquiry being held with a view to the appointment of a guardian for Mrs. Harrison.

GOOD ROADS ASSOCIATION HOLDS MEETING

Mr. D. H. Winslow Speaks on Good Roads

ATTENDANCE VERY DISCOURAGING

The Pitt County Good Roads Association met here today and was called to order by President R. R. Cotton. Rev. C. M. Rock was requested to ask divine blessing upon the meeting. In the absence of Secretary H. A. White, D. J. Whichard was appointed secretary, pro tem.

President Cotton explained the object of the association referring to the needs and advantages of good roads. He closed with introducing Mr. D. H. Winslow, of the United States department of road improvement, who addressed the meeting. Mr. Winslow referred to the records that North Carolina holds in corn growing and some other matters, but said the state was far behind in the matter of road improvement. He said the state must go forward in road improvement or she would go backward in agriculture.

North Carolina has made wonderful progress educationally, one school house per day having been built in the last eight years, but her roads are not such as will secure the best average attendance upon the schools. Illiteracy is fifteen per cent higher in a community of bad roads than in a community of good roads. The lives of many children are sacrificed to bad roads, for if the roads were such that physicians could be summoned and arrived quickly, many who are taken sick suddenly could be saved.

Chief Justice Clark and Suffrage

Justice is Assailed With the Suffrage Question and Clearly Gives His Views on Women's Votes in the Old North State.

RALEIGH, March 14.—Chief Justice Walter Clark of the supreme court, who as an active candidate for the United States senate to succeed Senator F. M. Simmons, had an anxious inquiry today from a prominent North Carolinian making inquiry as to whether woman's suffrage is included in his senatorial platform and wanting to know where he stood in the matter. The Chief Justice made this unique reply:

"Your inquiry reminds me of the teacher who asked a little boy why lightning never strikes twice in the same place and the boy replied, 'Professor, I guess it don't need to.' There is no need for any one to support woman's suffrage. The women of North Carolina don't want the suffrage now and no one will try to force it on them. It will be probably some years before they do want it. When they make up their minds to have it, the men of North Carolina will be just enough and gallant and wise enough to grant it. You and I will have only to climb up in a chair to see the procession go by."

Dr. Mann Will Recover.

FRIDAY, MARCH 15, 1912.

WE NEED "ISERS".

The Greenville Daily Reflector in its issue of March 12 took out little story about the boy wanting to hold the old farmer's horse as a basis for an excellent editorial. The story was that the horse didn't need any holding, but he would probably need some help when he got ready to start. The Reflector says:

"The story has a very big moral, after you think about it. It is the story of almost everything. The start is what we need. And right here in our community can we apply this story to the greatest advantage to all of us. For there are so many things that we could help to start and once started would be of such benefit of our Greenville yours, etc., etc.,

Durham, like Greenville, needs starters. There are plenty of "stoppers". There is another story that has a moral. An old farmer wanted to buy a horse. He went to a stock farm and told his business. The dealer took him to a pen and said, "These are young horses, thoroughly bred, good conditioned, but untrained, with proper care they will be the best that were ever taken from this farm." They then went to another pen, and pointing to a number of old fellows, the dealer said, "These have been celebrated horses, they have been known the country over, and no horses have made better records." The old farmer scratched his head, took another chew of tobacco and said, "Well, brother, you've showed me your young will-be's; you've showed me your old has-beens, now if you've got 'em, trot out some of your isers."

Every town needs "isers". Men who do things, and do them now. Durham needs "isers," and we need them bad. We need men who start things and "isers" who keep things going.

Above goes to the credit of Editor Crowson, who, we are glad to say is an "iser" and recently took over the Durham Sun and has since then been doing the kind of work that makes the fourth state in the Old North State worth while.

We will simply chalk our cue, put a little more english on the ball and keep it rolling. We thank Editor Crowson for introducing us to that expressive though ungrammatical adjective, ISER. We have often heard and almost as often experienced that every day a man goes to his bed with more knowledge than when he left it in the morning, and today we added the mentioned word to our vocabulary.

We have some "isers" but goodness and Greenville knows we could do with some more and they can't come too fast or too numerous to suit our taste. "Let 'em all come," as long as they are "isers".

THE INITIATIVE, REFERENDUM AND RECALL.

In our issue of yesterday we published an article by one of Greenville's rising lawyers, Mr. D. M. Clark. Thoroughly independent from the fact that the question of the Initiative, Referendum and Recall is one of the planks in the platform of one of the senatorial candidates there are so many questions of the greatest interest to a country belonging to the people and supposedly governed by the people, answered to the entire satisfaction of the broad-minded citizens in that measure that not to know something about this "invention" to circumvent and neutralize the hold that the vested interests have in our government would be to betray a want of interest which can well be termed suicidal.

It is the right and very much the duty of every citizen of every state of this great country to know superficially at least the remedies that could be applied towards the establishment of a government by the people.

In this article Mr. Clark mentions ten states that have the least government by the people and very mildly calls them backward and reactionary. Sorry to say, North Carolina is one of them. And why it should range alongside the other nine is more than could be answered in a few lines. The primary cause for this is simply the very little interest allowed North Carolinians at large to show on their government. Another cause is the want of energy on the part of North Carolinians not to study the condition of their government. For were they to take a little time, it does not require so much, they would so soon become active towards their own management as to clear the barrier that separates their state from the more progressive.

Three Scotland Neck boys, aged about twelve years, run away from their homes with the idea of seeing some of the world. They got as far as Weldon, in the same county, and when about to step off the train there a policeman was on hand to take them in charge and return them to their homes. Perhaps they are wiser boys by this time.

From reports in our exchanges quite a number of towns throughout the state are being troubled with robberies. It is the time of year when loafing negroes are most numerous and when they do not work they are going to steal. Of course some white folks come under the same rule.

The chamber of commerce of Greensboro is going to show its appreciation of the newspaper men and correspondents of that city by tendering them a banquet. No doubt Bob Phillips will sit close to the head of the table.

Chairman McNeil has announced that he will not be a candidate for re-nomination on the state corporation commission. He has served since 1899.

It will soon be cotton planting time again and the farmers who have not already decided to do so should make up their minds to plant a small crop.

Those fellows who are saying North Carolina is safe for this or that presidential candidate, are talking before their time.

March has not given us as much blowing as there was in February, but there is time enough to make up for it.

Wonder what kind of opinion those people who do things just for spite have of themselves.

In the political race many run but few get elected.

WITH OTHER EDITORS

The Richest State in the Union!

Mr. Robt. Lee Carter, writing from New York to the Birmingham Age-Herald, talks interestingly of the undeveloped resources of North Carolina. He mentions the fact incidentally that North Carolina has fewer foreigners than any state in the union. His comment is interesting:

"North Carolina has the distinction of having, perhaps, the only county in the United States populated practically by native born Americans," says William Edmond Breese, Jr., of Brevard, N. C. "in Transylvania county, North Carolina, there is only one person of foreign birth, and he is now a member of the legislature." Mr. Breese was formerly a member of the North Carolina senate and is being urged by his friends to run again for the legislature.

"We are just waking up to the value of advertising our state," continued Mr. Breese. "Few persons are aware I suppose, that North Carolina is the most undeveloped state in the South, and my section around Asheville has been less developed than any other in the state. We know in North Carolina that our state is one of the richest in the south. All we need is capital and a greater population. Not long ago we organized the Greater Western North Carolina Association, with headquarters at Asheville, for the purpose of letting the rest of the world know the great opportunities that are to be had in this state. This organization has representation from six counties. Most everybody knows I presume, that Asheville has the most healthful climate in the world, but there are many who do not know that North Carolina has some of the richest timber and agricultural lands to be found in the United States.

"The state is rich not only in timber lands, but in mineral and agriculture, and everything else except coal. We haven't any coal. In 1876, at the centennial exposition in Philadelphia North Carolina apples took first prize and we have been taking prizes ever since. We captured first prize at the Tacoma fair in Washington against the celebrated Washington apples. Our farm lands can produce anything in the agricultural line. These lands are valued at from $15 to $100 an acre but it will not be many years I believe, when they will be far more valuable than the orchard lands in Odegon, or the famous farm lands of Iowa. There are thousands of acres of timber lands, and the opportunities for investment are greater, I honestly believe, than in any other section of our country."

Happily, capitalists the country over are beginning to appreciate the value of investments in mineral, timber and other resources of the state, and from an industrial standpoint few, if any states, are now making more rapid headway to great wealth.

What we need, as Mr. Carter says, is more capital and men. The capital is coming, and many agencies are striving to bring to this state the right type of immigrants.

The great need is for men—not the riff raff outpourings of other countries, but energetic, hustling, industrious citizens who will join with us in developing the resources which are boundless.

For Lieutenant Governor.

A fresh ripple of interest in the State campaign has been created this week by the circulation of letters from Mr. J. D. Boushall, of Raleigh, announcing his candidacy for the nomination for lieutenant governor. Mr. Boushall says that as it is generally understood the next Governor will be a western man, it is equally certain that the convention will nominate an eastern man for Lieutenant Governor. Mr. Boushall is a native of Camden county. He is a Democrat with a long and active record and is one of the best known public men in the State. He has an exceptionally good legislative record. While expressing no preference in the matter of the Lieutenant Governorship, the Chronicle is free to say that he is a man who will go before the convention with mighty good credentials.—Charlotte Chronicle.

The House of Never.

The house of Never is built, they say,
Just over the hills of the By and
By,
Its gates are reached by a dubouis
way,
Hidden from all but an angel's eye.
It winds about and in and out,
The hills and dales to sever.
Once over the hills of the By and
By
And you're lost in the house of Never.

The house of Never is filled with waits,
With just-a-minutes and pretty-
soons,
The noise of their wings as they beat
the gates Comes back to earth in the afternoons,
When shadows fly across the sky
And rushes true endeavor,
To question the hills of the By
and By
As they ask for the house of Never.

The house of Never was built with tears,
And lost in the hills of the By and
By
Are a million hopes and a million fears—
A baby's smile and a woman's cry,
The winding way seems bright
today,
Then darkness falls forever,
For over the hills of the By and
By
Sorrow waits in the house of Never.

Stomach Trouble and Bad Health—
How to Escape Them.

Stomach trouble and rundown system go together, usually. If you can get the system built up, the stomach symptoms disappear.

W. H. McAlms, Birmingham, Ala., says, "I had suffered from stomach trouble for years but found nothing that would give more than temporary relief. My druggist said Vinol was the best thing for me to use. It gave me immediate relief, improved my appetite and digestion and now I feel that I am through with my stomach trouble."

We firmly believe that all forms of stomach trouble due to impaired
general health can be permanently cured by the use of Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil. Its remarkable tonic and strengthening effects are exactly what the weakened stomach needs. We guarantee that Vinol will do all that we claim for it and give

GOOD ROADS MEETING

One reason we do not have better highways is that we have not realized what highways are. They are really the only permanent improvement we have. Our buildings pass away in time or become unsuited to the use made of them, but our highways are here for all time.
France has the same roads that were built fifteen hundred years ago.
When we build roads we should build them permanently. A hill once cut down to grade a highway does not leave to be cut down again. All there is about a road that is not permanent is the surface. This part of it must be maintained or it will go to wreck. To keep up the roads the cost of maintenance should be distributed among the generations getting the benefit of the roads.

The speaker said he supposed from information that a bond issue for roads was not popular in this county, but good roads could not be obtained in the life time of any generation without the aid of a bond issue. He showed by figures that Pitt county was spending $7,000 a year on her seven hundred miles of public roads and was getting nothing permanent in the way of good roads for the money thus expended.
He then explained how a bond issue sufficient to build a county system of good roads, would give the people the advantage of the roads but would not cost them anything like

as much as it now costs them to have bad roads. Several illustrations were given to show this. The people must either pay for good roads or bad roads and as the good roads
cost less it looks the part of wisdom to have them. Farmers do not realize the enormous tax bad roads lay on them in repair bills to vehicles and harness, to say nothing of damage to animals. Bad roads impose other heavy loss in trade and getting products to market at a time when advance in prices could be taken advantage of.

If you ever start real good road building in Pitt county, they cannot start building in every section at the same time, but the more important roads could be looked after first.
Ninety per cent of the travel of the county is over twenty per cent of the roads, hence the importance of first looking after the roads most used.

He was glad to see that Pitt county has organized a good roads association, for it is only through organization that much will be accomplished. Proper organization will,
in the end, bring both state and government aid for road building. The government can make a campaign, the state can make a campaign, but if Pitt county gets good roads her own people must organize to have them.

Mr. Winslow's address was full of information and was listened to with much interest.

Mr. A. G. Cox also made some remarks on the need of good roads and better drainage. These two things must go together. He said the old fashion way of working roads under an overseer will not accomplish much success. There must be some better system of road building and road maintenance if we are to ever have good roads.

Mr. G. T. Tyson said he favored better roads but was opposed to a bond issue for them.

President Cotten gave notice that the annual meeting of the association will be held the third Wednesday in May, at which time the ladies of the county will be invited to attend and become members of the association.

FIRST QUARTER LESSON XI

MARK 2: 1-12 M ARCH 17, 1912.

THE PARALYTIC FORGIVEN AND HEALED

The Story.

Once when Jesus, in the very house where he was seeking repose, was beset by an audience that completely choked up the court-yard and the very approach to it, a stirring incident occurred. Four men, one or more of whom may have had a personal and happy experience of Jesus' power to heal, picked up an afflicted friend as he lay upon his mat, and brought him joyously and confidently to the great Healer. They were not dashed when they found the ordinary approach hopelessly blocked. They did not lay the sufferer down in the street, or even return with him to his dwelling. They were the kind who take the Kingdom of Heaven by storm. They carried the paralytic up the outside staircase to the flat roof. They dug up the hard, sun-dried earthen roof, enough to admit of their lowering their friend into the room below. There were helping hands reached up from the astonished auditors below, and the sufferer was gently and safely landed at Jesus' feet. A mute, but powerful appeal, that! Jesus' first words were indescribably comforting, "Son, be of good cheer." But there is a surprising change in the formula. It is not a rebuke to disease. It is a categorical, authoritative remission of sin. The startling words could not escape the notice of the inquisitive coterie of scribes and Pharisees. It is not intended they should. It was Jesus' gauntlet at their feet. They picked it up, but not in audible words of dissent. Omniscience unveiled their unspoken words as Jesus said: "Omniscience knows nothing of degrees. One thing is not easier or harder to it than another. It is equally as easy to forgive as to heal and vice versa. But that you may know that I have authority and power to do both, I will also say to this utterly powerless person, 'Arise.' He spake and it was done. No wonder the people said, as the audience dispersed: "We have seen strange things today." "Our eyes never beheld anything to match this scene." "We never saw it in this fashion."

The Teacher's Lantern.

An admirable example, this, of strong and practical human sympathy. This gathering up of those who have been felled to earth by adversity and disease and sin; this carrying of them in the arms of a strong faith to Him who is mighty to save! . . . Power of combination—see that too, in this stirring word picture. No one of these four believers could alone have carried his friend to Jesus. The four together did it with ease. The children of this world are wiser in this respect. It is the age of combination in every sphere. Much spiritual force is frittered away in sporadic effort. Let Christians "get together" for the accomplishment of definite ends. Persistence is finely illustrated here. No one of the four got weary in well-doing, or let go his corner of the mattress. Faint hearts would have faltered at sight of such obstacles. But these believers were not made of such stuff. They did not once look back. They ran their furrow to the end of the field. This is the quality that wins in every sphere; in religion no less than in art, literature, commerce, exploration, and all. . . . Conventional rules were broken and set at naught that day. The sermon was interrupted. Plaster came rattling down on the heads of the auditors. Property was injured. But what of that, so a sinner was saved? Welcome any mode that really brings the unsaved to the golden mercy seat. Public worship is a means to an end, not an end in itself. It is a ladder to convey us to the treasury of grace. Bare ritualism grows very dextrous in gliding up and down the ladder; but it never takes one anywhere.

Analysis and Key.

A stirring and striking incident. Palsied Man and his four friends. Their expedient: A novel approach. Jesus' Categorical Remission of sin. The Pharisee's Challenge. Jesus' reply—No degrees in Omnipotence. One thing as easy as another. Forgiving and healing equally easy. Proves it by change of formula.
