PACTOLUS MAN USES A DOUBLE BARRELLED GUN

Claude Ross Discharges Gun on
Chas. Rodgers

NO PROVOCATION APPARENTLY

As a rule all the shooting in Pitt county is done by people of the colored race. The exception to the rule took place Saturday night in Pactolus when Claude Ross, white, walking up to Rodgers and doing the shooting in one of the stores and discharging his double barreled gun on the latter's leg. Apparently there was no provocation, Ross deliberately walking up on Rodgers and doing the shooting.

Drs. Laughinghouse and Basnight hurried over from here to the assistance of the wounded man. The cartridge discharged against his leg had been loaded with No. 4 shot and although it broke no bones, did a great deal of damage. The wound was dressed and the only danger now is the setting of blood poison and in this case the leg may have to be amputated below the knee.

Ross made a quick "get away" and up to this morning had not been apprehended. The wounded man would not say much about the shooting and would give no idea or reasons for its happenings.

Capt. M. O. Sherrill Out.

RALEIGH.—Friends of State Librarian M. O. Sherrill are delighted to see him out again, after his long confinement on account of a broken leg. The injured leg, or rather the stump of the one he lost in the Confederate service, is healing nicely and he is regaining normal strength. He was able to be at his desk in the State Library a while Wednesday and Thursday.

Have Cornered Three More Virginia Outlaws

Jack Allen Writes Farewell to His Wife "Will Never Be Taken Alive" -- Detectives Believe They are on the Right Track This Time

Sidna Allen Cut Off From The Gang

Reports received from Winston-Salem lead to believe that Sidna Allen, who is apparently cut off from the rest of the gang is in the neighborhood where Wesley Edwards was taken by surprise last Friday and a posse led by a detective is making every possible effort to corner and capture him.

Claude Swanson Allen, Friel Allen, Jack Allen and the other Edwards boy have been located by the detectives ten miles north of Mount Airy, in the mountains.

Immediately after learning this the sheriff of Surry county organized a posse and set out in an effort to reach their hiding place, or at least help the detectives from Hillsville, as the outlaws have openly avowed they would not be taken alive and mean to fight to their last breath.

Sidna Allen's wife received a note from her husband in which he takes his farewell from her in terms that clearly express his determination not to be taken alive.

"As I know what my fate will be if I am taken alive I mean to fight to the very last. You will probably never see me again."

SIDNA ALLEN.

It is stated that Jasper Allen is going to take arms and follow the posse that is pursuing the outlaws. His son, Friel, is with the bandits and it is generally believed that Jasper thinks his son was forced to participate in the Hillsville court tragedy against his will.

In this manner he expects to save his son from the electric chair, is taken alive, and to punish his own brothers for forcing his seventeen year old son to take a hand in the killing.

Hog Cholera in Rowan County.

SPENCER.—It is stated that cholera has made its appearance among the hogs of Rowan county and that more than four hundred are now affected by the disease. Of the four hundred, the veterinarian, who is attending most of the cases, says that only about fifty have recovered. Mr. J. H. Ragan, an employe of The Spencer Cresent, lost two fine porkers yesterday from the same cause.

ROOSEVELT RAPS TAFT STOCK LAW FENCE HACKED

PORTLAND SPEECH AGAINST "BILL"

TAFT'S PLAN, IS "GOVERNMENT OF THE PEOPLE BY BOSSES" SAYS T. R.

PORTLAND, Me., March 23.—The most direct criticism yet leveled at President Taft by his predecessor in office was contained in a speech delivered here tonight by Colonel Roosevelt. The Colonel spent 12 hours in Portland and received a cordial welcome. He was the chief guest at a luncheon and a dinner, shook hands steadily for two hours in the afternoon, attended a conference of Maine politicians and tonight spoke for an hour before a crowd which filled the armory auditorium.

Colonel Roosevelt repeated the statement which he made in his New York speech on Wednesday night that President Taft had declared in favor of government "by a representative part of the people."

STUDENT SEEMS INNOCENT OF ACCUSATION

Abducted Wife Is Found By Relatives

YOUTHS' BOND REDUCED TO $1,000

GREENSBORO, N. C., March 23.—Mrs. Ione Wombaugh, for whose alleged abduction Boyd H. Sing was arrested and jailed here Thursday night, was found at 11 o'clock today in Chesterfield county, Virginia, 2 miles from Richmond.

Information from Richmond is to the effect that Prof. M. H. Holt, of Oak Ridge, and the woman's mother, Mrs. W. M. Lambeth, of Guilford college, reached Richmond early this morning having traces of her and finally located her in the country where the young lady had hired herself as a cook and was just preparing to begin her first dinner when they arrived. She was overjoyed to see them and will return home with them.

It now appears that Sing's protest- ing in company with Mrs. Wombaugh and that he knew nothing of her disappearance which would at all criminate her or him will be established. From Richmond it is learned that Mrs. Wombaugh reached here alone Thursday and registered at Murphrey's hotel as Miss Mary Holt. She then made a round of the hospitals seeking employment as a trained nurse or permission to enter the class of nurse training but was unable to gain a place. After trying all possible means of employment in the city she went out in the country on the trolley and secured a place as cook and had just begun her duties when found.

In the magistrate's court this morning when Sing appeared for trial by mutual agreement of attorneys for the prosecution and the defense the hearing was continued until Monday, and the bond was reduced from $2,000 to $1,000. Relatives of the young man arrived here from Florence, S. C. today and made bail for him. He was let out of jail yesterday morning and has been staying at a hotel in charge of an officer.

ANTI-STOCK LAW FENCE PEOPLE GO AT IT AGAIN SATURDAY NIGHT AND DO SOME DAMAGE.

CUT IN FIFTY EIGHT PLACES

MISS IRVINE TO RETURN.

Saturday night the stock law fence which has called so much attention of late, was again attacked apparently by people who oppose it. In 58 different places, or for a length of perhaps half a mile, it was hacked and otherwise "put out of commission."

Owing to the bad feeling reigning on account of this fence, it seems that the authorities took hardly any steps toward arrests when the opponents of the stock law fence took such steps toward destroying it some time ago. It is said that this time, the perpetrators will be brought to justice.

The first trial ended in a jury disagreement. The result of the trial is now awaited with keen interest by members of the Christian Science Church throughout the country as the case is to obtain a ruling from the higher courts as to whether a Christian Science practitioner is legally entitled to attempt the cure of illness as a religious function and is not doing so in violation of the medical laws.

Mecklenburg County for T. R.

Republicans Meeting in Charlotte Results in the Organization of a Club With Four Hundred Members in Favor of the Ex-President.

CHARLOTTE, March 25.—The Republican executive committee of Mecklenburg county met here today. It was determined to hold the county primaries on April 8, while April 13 was named as the date for the county convention.

As if in answer to the political activity of last Saturday in this city, when in response to a nervous, hurried call, a number of Observer Democrats assembled for the purpose of organizing a Taft club, the executive committee today passed a resolution favoring the nomination of Colonel Roosevelt for the presidency and following this action of the Republican committee a Roosevelt club, comprising of Republicans, of course, was organized with a membership of 400. S. S. McNinch was chosen president of the club, Dr. Adam Fisher, vice-president, with J. C. Newell as secretary. No one questions the fact that the Republicans of Mecklenburg county are for Roosevelt.

Miss Irvine to Return.

Her many friends in Greenville will be glad to know that Miss Annie Irvine, formerly teacher of the first grade in the graded school will return this week to be a teacher in the school till the close of the session.

With the opening of the spring courses at the Training school and the discontinuance of the observation classes, all of Miss Dabney's time will be required for her classes at the Training school, hence the necessity of a teacher to take her section at the graded school.

METHODISTS HEAR SERMON ON SANITATION

Rev. E. M. Hoyle Urges Household Cleanliness

SANITATION GIVES BEST RESULTS

It is to be deplored that the inclemency of the weather prevented a larger congregation from attending the morning service at the Methodist church, as Rev. E. M. Hoyle preached a sermon on cleanliness and sanitation that was both interesting and instructive.

His sermon coming so near the "cleaning Greenville days" ordered by Mayor Wooten, was indeed timely, and even if the congregation assembled was not as large as had the weather permitted it, Rev. Hoyle's preaching must have gone a long way towards impressing the absolute necessity of cleanliness in general and household sanitation in particular.

The pastor said that in his experience in visiting different homes where a member of the family was sick, he could always attribute the cause of the malady to some outstanding sign of uncleanness. Invariably in a case of typhoid fever, he has seen in some parts of the house, probably the kitchen, or even in the immediate neighborhood of the house pools of water which had been allowed to stand undisturbed. Other contagious diseases find their origin in such like sources and for this reason, the cause once pointed out, it was clear to see that cleanliness in the household was all important if the health of the people living in that particular house was to be preserved.

The same applies to community cleaning and if we have been long in realizing the mistake we were making in not looking better after the sanitation of our community the waking up day has come with the four day set aside by Mayor Wooten and we can put our community in a basis of sanitation which will be easy to keep up, if all the citizens will lend a helping hand towards it.

Blind Tiger of the Colored Variety Held Under a $200 Bond, to Appear Before Superior Court Latter end of Coming April.

Amongst other casts of minor importance heard by Mayor F. M. Wooten this morning, the colored man, Paul West, was found guilty of selling liquor and with sufficient evidence to prove his guilt, Mayor Wooten required him to put up a $200 bond for his appearance before the criminal court here next April.

A decided effort is being made by thown authorities to stamp them out and when next criminal court convenes many cases in the docket will be whisky charges.

ORDER YOUR COAL NOW.

With winter making strenuous efforts "to come back" and the coal operators refusing the demands of the miners, it would be a good idea to order your coal right away.

In Cleveland it is believed that a coal miner's strike is imminent, as the operators refuse to listen to or grant the claims of the miners and these through their unions are about to call a cessation of work in all interested districts.

To what extent we are to benefit through the inquiry into the alleged coal trust, to be carried on sometime between now and some other time it is hard to tell. In England where a coal strike threatened to tie up about everything that was loose, the government sized up the situation in a very little while, considering the importance of the undertaking and by now most of the miners are back to work.

We all know, more or less, about those government inquiries into alleged trusts. They very much resemble an automobile's reliability run. If the car is good she'll stand it for the long journey. If she is no good, parts are added that will give her a chance of being in the running and the following year the car gets in again.

If the talked of inquiry does take place look out for one of those long drawn affairs, with a negative result as far as allviating our pains or the miners' ails is concerned.

ARE YOU READY.

Within five days we will begin "chasing the dirt" of our Greenville and we think no matter how much notice we give this coming event, which has for so long casted a shadow in our community, its mention is going to do some good.

So many of us are so busy day in and day out that we are likely to forget that on April first a four day cleaning campaign is to begin.

Yesterday, from the pulpit, Rev. E. M. Hoyle had something to say along the lines of sanitation and we feel his sermon was very timely. He probably had in mind the coming cleaning days.

And also don't forget that the ladies of the Civic League have offered some prizes for the cleanest back and front yards of both colored and white residents. We venture to say that the prizes offered to the boys, white and colored, who collect the biggest number of tin cans, is going to be the cause of a total absence of such ornaments from the neighborhood of some houses.

5 MORE DAYS TO CLEANING DAY

The Greenville Cooperage and Lumber Company, successor to the Greenville Lumber and Veneer Company, is making large additions to its plant just south of town and is also extending its railroad line down into the country. This is another of our local enterprises that is proving a great help to Greenville and Pitt county. It not only turns loose large quantities of money in its payroll, but it also distributes much among the people of the county adjacent to the line of its railroad in the purchase of timber. Like the enterprises mentioned in Saturday's Reflector, it brings in money to be expended here from the fact that the greater bulk of its product is sold outside the territory and not locally. While it supplies local truck raisers with crates, baskets and barrels in which to make shipments, its orders come in from all over the trucking section of this and other states. It turns out a quality that gives the factory a wide reputation.

Pitt county is again put to shame over the knowledge of having within her borders people who would commit such deeds as the destruction of the stock law fence Saturday night. The same character that marks such lawlessness as that would also resort to the torch to carry a point and even to bloodshed in order not to be apprehended in the commission of the act. It is deplorable that there are among our citizenship those possessing these dangerous traits of character. Yet when there are men of whom better ought to be expected, who in the hope of increasing their own popularity will by word and pen keep up an agitation that appeals to the baser nature of those who are weaker, it is not to be wondered at that such acts of lawlessness occur.

Saturday's issue of The Daily Reflector made the paper look like it was coming into its own as a favorite with advertisers. The paper has the circulation to justify this papermm circulation to justify this appreciation on the part of the advertisers and they recognize also it labors to build up and advance the interests of the section it serves. It pays to advertise in a paper read as eagerly by its host of subscribers as The Reflector, hence those who advertise in it are increasing their own business and at the same time helping to make the paper better by reason of their patronage. There are business men not advertising who could with profit follow the example of those who do.

Promises may hold out some hope but unless fulfilled they do not help meet the Saturday payroll.

A Great Institution.

The North Carolina Children's Home Society for homeless children is an institution worthy of the help and good will of the people of the entire state. They are doing a grand and noble work, a work that is the essence of christianity.

One case of peculiar interest will give some idea of the kind of work being done. A little child was found in a "poor home". She was terribly deformed, her feet being clubbed and twisted so that she could not stand or walk. So she was taken to the Home. A noted specialist of New York was interested in her case; and undertook to straighten the little feet and limbs. After a years work, the girl was taken out of the plaster casts and today is well, strong and active. Some time ago a wealthy couple adopted her as their own child and thus was she saved from a life of suffering, povety and uselessness to a life of happiness and service. If this organization should do no other work than this, their institution has been a grand success. But this is only one case of many others where deformed children have been taken from homes of povety and shame and restored to health and happiness.

Besides, hundrers of brigh-eyed boys and girls have been cared for, and are being cared for, and the Home is a blessing to humanity. It is an honor to any community and we consider that Durham is honored in having this Home in her midst. In fact more than forty children from Rurham and Durham county have been cared for in this institution.—Durham Sun.

Blow To Teddy

The third term idea gets another solar plexus jab.

And this from North Dakota—North Dakota of all states most ardent in its workshop of the colonel, in days agone.

How the times change. Fickle public opinion. Where once the colonel was strong he now finds himself feeble, weak, unpopular, discarded.

LaFollette looks better to North Dakota republicans than either the contributing editor or the president of the United States.

Somehow the third-term idea has not set the national athrill. The rabble refuses to throw conppition fits at the mention of the mighty lion chaser's name.

FARM CHARACTER

MAYOR GAYNOR AND HIS HORSES

The Joys and Trials of Life in the Country Described by Mayor Gaynor of New York, Who Gives His Definition of a "Maddler"—"Sons of Oneida"—Country Made Character and Its Work For Good Government in a Great City—Recollections of Roscoe Conkling—Skeeterboro School-house.

At the annual banquet of the Sons of Oneida in New York city, of which organization he is president, Mayor William J. Gaynor talked feelingly of his boyhood days on the farm where he was born, at a "place"—he declined to dignify it by speaking of it as a village—called "Skeeterboro," eleven miles from Ut-and we cradled, we sawed saw logs in the winter, we split rails with wedges and mauls and mallets, and some of the fences that I built are there yet, although there is not a single man living there who saw those rails split or the fences built.

"We lived among good people, all good and industrious and frugal, and what character the sons of Oneida have here in New York city we brought with us from Oneida county. We learned in the school of experience, and now we are working down here at divers things. I am sure I am entirely content with the work I have done here. I have never aspired to this or to that. I worked at the bar, I worked afterward at the bench, and now I am doing a different kind of work. Yet it is not so different, after all, and while some people are kind enough to say that I am doing something in the office—something in the way of good government, something in the way of lifting government up and making it respectable and decent—I have only to say that I am doing nothing except ca. He also entertained them with a description of the district school, "a little board schoolhouse as innocent of paint now as it was then," which he and some of his hearers attended.

"It was a hard place," he said. "It was a hard school. We worked hard, and we ate little, and we did not always have enough to eat either. The recollections of those days will always abide with me, not only the hardships of them, but the joys of them too—the joy of living and the joy of working and the knowledge of the great men who lived there. My father was the friend and great admirer for many years of Roscoe Conkling. I shall never forget the first time I saw him. I went to Utica with my father—it was a great event in my life to visit Utica—and we went to the courthouse, where Conkling was pleading a suit against the New York Central railroad. He was the picture of beautiful young manhood, for he was then approaching middle life—the handsomest man I thought then and I think tonight made by the Almighty since he made Adam.

"It was beautiful to look at him and hear him speak and see the poise of his body and the grace of his manner and the beauty of his rhetoric. He was one of the most eloquent men I have ever listened to, and with it he had a profound intellect.

"We had a hard struggle up there in the country, but it did us no harm. We worked hard all the year around. We planted and we reaped, we mowed then with people in office who were doing wrong and spoiling the public treasury. I have kept that up ever since, with the only difference that I am now in a position to do it more effectively. And in that sense of being a meddler I expect to continue to meddle as long as I live."

FARMER GAYNOR UPSETS THINGS

Copyright by Brown Brothers.

The Old Order in New York Undergoes a Great Change—People Regain Their Rights—Some of the Methods by Which William J. Gaynor Has Ended the Rule of "the System" and Established Honest Government. The People Have Come to Love Him and Speak of Him as a Second Lincoln—A Mayor Who is Doing Big Things in a Quiet Way.

NEW YORKERS used to smile at farmers with an air of indulgent superiority, but they are not doing nearly so much of it now since they have become well acquainted with Mayor William J. Gaynor. He is the first farmer chief executive the city has ever had, or at least the only one it has had for a hundred years or more, and he has given the people a new view of the possibilities of city life and of the capabilities of the man from the country.

Before him the city hall was occupied in turn by merchants, lawyers and politicians, who differed from each other only in name. They were either born in the city or had lived there so long that they had lost all of their individuality and become typical "Noo Yawkers." They talked in the same way, wore the same fashionable clothes and could be counted on to say the right thing on all occasions. And that was all.

Mr. Gaynor, on the other hand, is the most unconventional man with whom New York has been intimately associated for generations. He brought with him the fresh air of the wide out of doors, along with a distinctive and decided personality. He was born and brought up on a farm, has always lived on a farm, for most of the year at least, and is proud of the fact that he is a good farmer. He believes that a spade is a spade and a thief a thief, no matter what his name or position.

He does big things in a quiet way without fuss or foolishness, and, what is even more novel, he does them without any thought of future reward benas done, he has brought the city's government back to Jeffersonian simplicity.

In former days the door to the mayor's office was a portal through which only the mighty might pass. Now it is open to every citizen. The weak and the poor and the oppressed are as welcome as the rich. Mr. Gaynor sees three or four times as many people at his office every day as were received by his predecessor. No one who has a reasonable excuse for seeing him is denied admittance, and no one goes away unsatisfied. To those with complaints of injustice—and there were many of them at first, but their number is constantly decreasing under the general correction of abuses—the mayor inclines a sympathetic ear, and such action as is needed is taken in the vigorous Gaynor fashion.

The complaint of two peaceable citizens who had been roughly handled by special officers without any reason led to an investigation which developed the fact that there were 4,000 special policemen in New York who, though armed with full police powers, were employed by firms and corporations. They naturally took orders from those who paid them their wages without regard to the rights of the people with whom they interfered. Frequently they went beyond the law. The result of this discovery was that by the mayor's order all of these special officers were immediately stripped of their authority.

Early one morning as a merchant was walking downtown to open his store he said something that annoyed and the satisfaction which comes from a work well done. His judgments are based on what he believes to be right, and only that. He is such an unusual mayor that New Yorkers didn't quite know what to think of him at first, but since they have had an opportunity to watch and study him they have come to love him. In much the same way that Lincoln was loved. He is often spoken of, in fact, as a second emancipator, and not without reason, for, to a much greater extent than even the most optimistic citizen dared hope for up to a year or two ago, he has freed New York from the fetters of "the System."

He doesn't look a great deal like Lincoln—this spare, quiet, gray man of medium height—but he's of Lincolnian stature in other ways. He makes the same appeal to the popular imagination, and he stands for the same thing that Lincoln typified—trust in the Almighty and in the Almighty's people. And he has a whole lot of old-fashioned notions, of the kind that go with rag carpets and hunking bees and harvest home festivals.

In the two years that he has occupied the city hall he has done so many things which New Yorkers had come to regard as impossible that the telling of them would make a story as long as the moral law, which comparison, it may be said, is no mere figure of speech. For one thing, and perhaps it is really the biggest thing he a policeman was arrested on a charge of spitting on the sidewalk and dragged off to court. Not only was he denied bail, but the police refused to allow him to communicate with his clerks or send them the keys to the store. When his case finally was reached he was dismissed in short order, but it was nearly noon before he got to his store, where sixteen clerks were waiting around outside of the locked doors, not knowing what had happened. As a consequence of this and other similar injustices, which were brought to the mayor's attention, the police were instructed that instead of making arrests for minor offenses, in cases where the defendant could establish his identity and residence they must merely serve him with a summons, directing him to appear in court at a reasonable hour the next day. The working out of this system showed a decrease last year of 60,000 useless arrests for trivial causes.

These are merely illustrations of the simple, but effective, methods through which Mayor Gaynor is re-establishing the rights of the citizen, which he holds to be paramount and sacred, so long as he keeps within the law, and even when he goes beyond the law he has certain rights which must be respected. The people have learned that under his administration every citizen will get a square deal—nothing more and nothing less, no matter what his station.

Plain every-day potatoes may be the deciding factor in the contest between Taft and Roosevelt for the support of the Republicans of Maine. Potato raising is almost the sole industry of Aroostock county, which is the strongest Republican county in the State. The Roosevelt managers believe they will have the solid support of the county, since President Taft displeased the farmers there by his reciprocity policy.

Social and Personal

Solitude.

There is a pleasure in the pathless woods,
There is a rapture on the lonely shore,
There is a society where none intrudes,
By the deep sea, and music in its roar.
I love not man the less but Nature more;
From these out interviews, in which I steel
From all I may be, or have been before,
To mingle with the universe, and feel
What I can never express, yet cannot call conceal.
Roll on through deep and dark blue ocean—roll!
Ten thousand fleets sweep over thee in vain:
Man marks the earth with ruin—his control
Stops with the shore; upon the watery plain
The wrecks are all thy deed, nor doth remain
A shadow of man's ravage, save his own,
When, for a moment, like a drop of rain,
He sinks into thy depths with bubbling groan,
Without a grave, unknel'd, uncoffin'd, unknown.
—Lord Byron.

People are longing for weather that will let them get to work.

High Winds.

March is trying to make up for lost time in the way of blowing. The wind Sunday night was something fierce.

We Are Getting Votes.

Last week was a good one for The Reflector man in getting votes in the News and Observer automobile contest. After that paper published the list of candidates and it was seen that The Reflector man stood so near the head of the list, votes came in even faster for him than they had been coming. Friends came in and brought votes, some sent them by mail and others mailed them direct to the contest manager in Raleigh, all of which makes us feel good. We want every one who will help us win the automobile not only in to send in coupon votes but send in subscriptions to the News and Observer as well. And if you send them direct to the contest manager in Raleigh be sure to give proper instructions so the votes will be cast for The Reflector man.

What We Should Learn.

Learn to laugh. A good laugh is better than medicine.

Learn how to tell a story. A well told story is as welcome as a sun-beam in a sickroom.

Learn to keep your troubles to yourself. The world is too busy to care for your sorrows.

Learn to see the bright side of things. If you cannot see good in the world, keep the bad to yourself.

Learn to hide your pains and aches under a pleasant smile. No one cares to hear them.

Learn to meet your friends with a smile. The good humored man or woman is always welcome, but the hypochondriac is not wanted.

STATE AND COUNTY NEWS

WAKE FOREST, N. C., March 25.

—Quite a large audience assembled last Friday evening in the Wingate Memorial Hall to listen to the spring Senior speaking. The following men spoke on this occasion:

L. B. Olive, subject, "The Relation of the College Men to the State".

G. C. Kirksey, subject, "The Dawn of Memorial Peace".

Sidney A. Edgerton, subject, "The Wealth of Life and its Investment".

S. C. Gettys, subject, "The Evolution of Man's Opportunity for Service".

C. R. Sharp, subject, "Our Judicial Degeneracy".

J. M. Kester, subject, "The Industrial Awakening of the South".

On account of rain Saturday the game with A. and M. College was called off. It is very likely that this game with A. and M. College will be played here next Saturday. Mgr. Benton is working with Mgr. of the track team so as to have both a track meet in the morning and a game of ball in the afternoon with A. and M. This will be done if possible.

The ball team has been making good thus far in the season. Not a game has been lost yet. It is thought that we will have a much better team this year than last. A number of the old men are back and are playing well in their old positions. Besides there are a number of new men who are showing up fine. Among these are Parker, who was seriously hurt a few weeks ago, but is now back in the game and Billings, who are playing star ball. The ball team plays the University of Fayetteville today.

The track team is getting in fine training for A. and M. here on Saturday of this week. The score has been very close between these two teams heretofore and the meet Saturday promises to be most interesting.

Among the old men of last year's track Hutchens (Captain) is showing up fine in the high and broad jump, high and low hurdles and shot put; Heart is running the mile much better than last year; Tyler is much faster on short distance runs than he was last season; Mayberry is taking Murchison place on the 440 yards also Moos is showing up good on this run; Kennedy is running the hurdles in grand style; Langston (Manager) is in much better training now than at any past track season and will be able to run the half mile for state record this year, also he is jumping 5ft. 6in. There are a number of new men who are running well. Track coach says the track team this year will be much stronger than any team of the past.

Track manager announces the following schedule for this season: March 30, A. and M. College vs Wake Forest, at Wake Forest. April 8, State Track meet at Raleigh. April 12, University vs Wake Forest College, at Chapel Hill. April 20, A. and M. College vs Wake Forest College, College and Guilford College have at Raleigh. The dates with Trinity not yet been settled.

DON'T SAY YOU'RE OLD.

You Can Feel Younger by Keeping Up Your Strength.

It is a mistake for elderly people to let themselves think they are getting old.

What is you have had 60 or 70 birthdays you can keep your mind young and active and you can also feel younger than your age if you guard your bodily strength.

Mr. George B. Smith, aged 71, of Smithville, Ont., says that Vinol cured him of a case of stomach trouble of long standing and that he now feels as strong and can do as good a day's work as he did thirty years ago, which he owes to Vinol. "I think it is worth its weight in gold for any ailment of aged people," says Mr. Smith.

This delicious cod liver and iron preparations without oil strengthens and invigorates all feeble, run down people and is the mainstay of thousands of old persons who say it has prolonged their lives. We guarantee that Vinol will do all that we say and pay back your money if it does not. Moyer's Pharmacy, Greenville, N. C.

Both Claim New York.

NEW YORK, March 25.—The most vigorous battle in the pre-convention campaign for the Republican presidential nomination will be fought out in New York state tomorrow, when the Republican primaries will be held for the selection of the district delegates to the national convention at Chicago in June and delegates to the state convention to meet in Rochester next month to name the delegates at large.

On the eve of the battle optimistic forecasts of the results are emanating from both the Taft and Roosevelt headquarters. Both sides realize the great importance of controlling the New York delegation which will cast ninety votes when the balloting begins for the head of the Republican national ticket. The Roosevelt supporters believe that it will have a country wide effect if they can show at the primaries here that the people want delegates from this state instructed for the Colonel. President Taft and his workers understand as well the great advantage they will have throughout the country if they succeed in carrying New York.

Under the New York law the congressional committees of the parties authorized by the law meet and nominate delegates to be voted for in the primaries. As practically all of the congressional committees of the Republican party were controlled by Taft people, the delegates nominated are Taft men. There are exceptions in only a few districts. Under the law Roosevelt men, to oppose these delegates, were compelled to put their men under the ballot by petition.

Statements given out at the headquarters of the Roosevelt Committee, in the tower of the Metropolitan Life Building, were to the effect that the Roosevelt supporters are well satisfied with the outlook. They believe that Colonel Roosevelt will make a showing that will materially advance his candidacy in other parts of the country. The Taft managers appear equally sanguine. They believe that New York Republicans undoubtedly will give their support to the President. The Taft supporters are willing to concede to Roosevelt, at the outside, only 10 votes from New York on the first ballot. After that, according to the Taft estimate, Mr. Roosevelt's representation is likely to dwindle to two—the delegates from his own congressional district.

There are few items which appear in this paper more important to Greenville people than the statement published below. In the first place, it is from a citizen of Greenville and can be thoroughly relied upon. In the second place, it indisputably proves that Doan's Kidney Pills do their work thoroughly and not temporarily. Read this carefully:

Mrs. E. G. Worthington, Washington St., Greenville, N. C., says: "I have been so greatly benefited by Doan's Kidney Pills that I am glad to recommend them. My back ached nearly all the time and I could not rest well. The kidney secretions caused me annoyance and it was plain to be seen that I was suffering from kidney trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got from the John L. Wooten Drug Co., relieved my aches and pains and improved my condition greatly. I cannot praise this remedy too strongly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Taft Workers Claim Indiana.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 25.—The Taft managers in Indiana profess to see nothing but a victory in the Republican state convention which is to name the four delegates at large to the national convention. The state convention will meet tomorrow in Tomlinson Hall in this city. The predictions of the Taft workers are based upon the results of the county conventions and the expression of sentiment by the Republican press throughout the states.

Supporting the Taft movement in Indiana are such noted party men as former Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks, former Senator James A. Hemenway, Harry A. New, the national committeeman from Indiana, and Fred A. Sims, chairman of the state committee. If the Taft forces control the convention it is expected that Messrs. Fairbanks, New and Sims will be selected as delegates at large.

Colonel Roosevelt is not without his ardent supporters in Indiana and it is declared that they will fight to the last ditch to prevent instructions for Taft. Foremost among the Roosevelt workers is former United States Senator Albert J. Beveridge.

More Pay for Mill Workers.
BOSTON, Mass., March 25.—The general upward movement in the wages of New England textile workers today effected more than 100,000 operatives in the cotton and woolen mills in Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Vermont and other places in northern New England. The advance which became operative this morning in the section named ranges from 5 to 15 per cent. Fully 275,000 operatives will share in the raise by April 1 if all the mills which have not yet joined in the wage movement follow the lead of larger concerns. According to authoritative estimates, wage increases aggregating more than $10,000,000 will go into the pockets of the textile workers during the next 12 months. On the basis of an annual payroll of $79,000,000 in the woolen mills the increase there will amount to $5,600,000 while cotton mill operatives will receive an advance of $5,000,000.

To Hang Murderer of Hubbell Family
MARYVILLE, Mo., March 25.—Arrangements have been made for the execution in the county jail tomorrow of Hez Rasco, convicted of the murder of the Hubbell family. The crime was committed Nov. 20, 1910. Oda Hubbell, a farmer and his wife, and two children were shot and killed at their home near the village of Barnard, the murderer afterwards setting fire to the house to conceal the crime. Suspicion was pointed to Rasco, a neighbor and former convict, and he was arrested and convicted of the quadruple slaying. A poker game in which Rasco lost heavily and Hubbell won is believed to have furnished the motive for the crime.

Arkansas Roosevelt Workers.
LITTLE ROCK, March 25.—Roosevelt supporters among the Republicans of Arkansas met in conference here today to form a state Roosevelt league. The organization will work to have the primary system adopted in Arkansas for the selection of delegates to the Chicago convention. It is feared that under the convention plan the Roosevelt element would have small chance of electing the delegates, as the State Republican organization is in control of the Taft men.

Florida Real Estate Man Finds Sentiment For the Alabamian.

ONLY SOUTHERNER IN FIELD.

So Regarded at a Meeting of the Southern Settlement and Development Association—"Broadest and Sanest American of Them All"—The Conservative Hope.

Washington. — [Special.] — "Underwood seemed to be the choice for president in all political talk I heard during my trip east," said James B. Dodge, a prominent real estate dealer of Jacksonville, Fla. "Men of all classes are turning to Mr. Underwood as the conservative hope of the Democratic party, and in my opinion he will be chosen as our

PLAIN WORDS ON BIG QUESTIONS.

[Extracts from interview of Oscar W. Underwood, reported in staff correspondence of the New York World, editorial section, Dec. 3, 1911.]

"There has been no attempt on the part of the manufacturers to give labor its share of the benefits derived from the tariff. They have kept all the profits."

"To protect profits is to protect inefficiency and to strangle rather than to develop industry."

"I prefer to lower the tariff wall by taking bricks off the top of the wall rather than by dynamiting the structure at the bottom."

"The people have lost faith in the Republican party because it has not kept faith with them."

"If it (the Sherman act) is enforced as a criminal statute it is an efficient instrument for preventing and punishing monopoly and restraint of trade."

OSCAR W. UNDERWOOD, DEMOCRACY'S BEST ASSET.

OSCAR W. UNDERWOOD.

The Most Conspicuous Democrat of the Day.

There are a number of able Democrats in our hesitating country all of whom have done sound, intelligent work for their party and their country. Yet we are inclined to the view that the one most deserving of the affection of his fellow citizens, with or without respect to party, is the gentleman from Alabama, today the most conspicuous figure in congress and the country.

The task which Mr. Underwood faced when he entered upon his duties as majority leader in the house seemed well nigh hopeless. To persuade order and discipline and reason into a herd of wild asses of the desert seemed a simple matter compared to the recreation of a sound Democratic organization out of the chaotic elements in Mr. Underwood's hands. Yet by patience and clear headedness he has accomplished the impossible and achieved a consistent, reasonable plan.

Mr. Underwood has won his spurs fairly on the firing line, and it is no mere chance which finds him the most conspicuous Democrat of the hour.—Washington Star.

standard bearer. At the Baltimore meeting of the Southern Settlement and Development association, which I attended, there was no political discussion, but of course all the candidates had friends among the delegates. The one thing that impressed me was the wonderful unanimity of Underwood sentiment. He was regarded as the only southern man in the field. And yet more than one person said to me that, while a southerner, he was the broadest and sanest American of them all.

"I find a positive yearning for political quiet, stability and thought and practice in political affairs. Always with such expressions comes the emphatic observation that the Alabamian is the party's hope. Never a word was said of his lack of availability because he is a southerner. That bugaboo we have ourselves needlessly evoked. I had much pleasure in saying that my humble judgment was that Mr. Underwood would have a solid delegation from Florida.

"If our people only knew what a wonderful opportunity lay before them if Oscar Underwood were nominated for the presidency there would be no doubt at all of the verification of my predictions." — Age-Herald, Birmingham, Ala.

TAFT, ROOSEVELT, UNDERWOOD.

Tariff the Deciding Issue of the Presidential Campaign.

"The attacks on Mr. Taft's tariff record by the Roosevelt brigadiers," says the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, independent, "would be more effective if Mr. Roosevelt had any tariff record at all except one of absolute negation." That one sentence exposes the absolute weakness of the Republican party and the absolute strength of the Democratic party provided the latter organization develops the homely gumption to realize its impregnable vantage ground. The tariff will be the deciding issue of the approaching campaign. Attempts to sidetrack it will be as futile as would be efforts to invert the tides. Taft's tariff record is shot ridden. Conceding even the far flung contingency that he may approve bills passed at the current session, Democracy will get the credit for them. Roosevelt has no tariff record at all save of "absolute negation." Through seven and a half years of opportunity he could never "see" the tariff save as a possible trap to treat gingerly. Who stands out of the Democratic hosts as irrevocably embodying the party's interpretation of the tariff? OSCAR UNDERWOOD, chairman of the ways and means committee, the majority's house general. Every schedule that is to pass congress or be vetoed by Taft will bear the indelible imprimatur—"UNDERWOOD." The logic of the situation is irresistibly inevitable.—Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution.
