A large crowd of farmers and town-people gathered in the court house this morning to be present at the opening of the trial of Eurastus Cannon and his son Rowland, accused of cutting the stock law fence in the neighborhood of Venters X Roads, on Saturday night, May 4th. Quite some time was exhausted in the selection of the jury to try the case, objections to some of the progressive jurors being made by both sides. Finally a jury, as outlined above was selected and the county represented by Mr. F. G. James swore some of its witnesses, the first to take the stand being Sheriff Dudley. The sheriff gave an account of the happenings on the night in question. How he and his party consisting of about eight men came upon the two defendants directly after they had heard the fence being cut about fifty feet from where the sheriff and his party came upon the Cannons. He told of the buggy in relation to the mutilated fence. Also that at the time they could discern the alleged offenders, the elder Cannon was already sitting in the buggy whilst the younger man was in the act of mounting the conveyance. Upon a search being made several shells were found in Rowland's pocket whilst a pistol was discovered upon Ras. Cannon.

Democratic Contest in New State

Woman's Southern Golf Tourney.
NASHVILLE, Tenn., May 13.—A large number of fair golfers thronged the links of the Nashville Country Club today in final practice for the annual championship tournament of the Woman's Southern Golf Association, in which the qualifying rounds will be played tomorrow. It will be the second annual tournament of the association, which was organized last year at Atlanta. The entries include well known women golf players of Louisville, Atlanta, Memphis, New Orleans and a number of other cities of the South.

The sheriff further told of bringing the two accused to Greenville and locking them up in the local jail. On cross examination by the defense, the sheriff went over his evidence in the same manner as when addressing Mr. James.

Claude West, a deputy sheriff, and one of the party who arrested the Cannons followed the sheriff and substantiated his evidence in whole. His place was taken on the stand by Mr. A. L. Tucker who proved to be the strongest witness against the Cannons, inasmuch as he introduced evidence to the effect that the elder Cannon some days previously had in public made known his views in regards to the stock law fence. According to Mr. Tucker, Ras. Cannon had offered material aid in the fight against the fence and had further made threats to whomsoever would interfere with him were he to be found destroying the fence. In one particular instance he had told the rural carrier of that section, that unless he, the mail-carrier, abstained from talking about the matter, he would take his horse and buggy and go through the district taking down nine out of every ten mail boxes and in that manner deprive him, the mail carrier, of a job. He had also made direct threats against the sheriff. Along this part of the procedure a lively encounter took place between attorneys for the defense and Mr. James, the former contending that the evidence introduced by Mr. Tucker was not competent, inasmuch as it had nothing to do with the present case. Magistrate Mayo allowed the evidence to stand, declaring that the jury and the court wanted to know such statements made by the defendants that would tend to show his spirit towards the law fence.

Mr. Smith, who has been employed by the county to assist in the erection of the fence went on the stand after Mr. Tucker and fully substantiated what the latter had said, especially in referring to the occasion when Ras. Cannon made the threats. After the examination of this witness court adjourned to meet at one o'clock.

Insurance Company Roosevelt Delegation Pays for Titanic

CLAIM INVOLVING SEVEN MILLION DOLLARS

NEW YORK, May 12.—A cable dispatch from London to the New York World says:

Liabilities totalling approximately $6,875,000 were discharged today by Lloyd's underwriters and marine insurance companies as a result of the Titanic disaster.

The insurance on the hull amounted to $3,690,000, this risk being held by the insurance concerns, while the remainder was held by the White Star Line. The costliest item in the cargo was a consignment of rubber worth about $125,000. About $1,500,000 covers the loss of personal effects belonging to passengers, shipment bonds being also included in the latter sum.

Other features today in the matter of the Titanic horror were the return of J. Bruce Ismay on the Adriatic and the startling developments of the British board of trade inquiry to the effect that all members of the Titanic crew did not act as true seaman should, in the matter of effecting rescue.

President on His Way to Make Last Appeal to Ohio People—Will Deliver First Speech in Marietta Today—To Attack Roosevelt Again.

WASHINGTON, May 12.—President Taft left Washington at 4:10 p. m. today for Marietta, Ohio, where tomorrow morning he will begin the final campaign of speech-making in his home state before the presidential primaries there May 21st.

Although none of the speeches that Mr. Taft will make on his 10 day tour of the state were complete when he left the capital, data for many of them was taken aboard his private car. Final conferences with Taft leaders in Washington today developed that the President will probably attack Colonel Theodore Roosevelt along new lines in his Ohio trip. It is said tonight that Mr. Roosevelt's position in the United States Steel Corporation's absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company; would be one of the criticisms by Mr. Taft.

Close friends of the President do not conceal their deep interest in the Ohio trip. On the result of the primaries there, some of them believe, may depend the future course of the President in his fight for renomination. Mr. Taft was told on his visit to Ohio last week that he must spend more than a week there in active campaigning.

Forces Elated At Underwood's Success

Claims Complete Victory For Their Candidate Wherever He Has Competed

IT IS THOUGHT HE WILL CARRY NORTH CAROLINA

(Special to Reflector)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 13.—After having carried 100 per cent of the states in which he has made a fight for delegates to the national Democratic convention at Baltimore, the Underwood managers are confident today that the Democratic house leader will carry North Carolina next week when delegates to the state convention will be elected. That the Underwood managers have good ground for predicting that they will carry the state was the opinion expressed by James R. Collier of Louisville, one of the best known Democratic politicians in the state. Mr. Collier returned to Washington today from a visit in North Carolina, while in North Carolina he visited Raleigh, Wilson, and a number of other towns and he is confident that the Underwood strength overshadows all other candidates. "I am confident that the state's 24 delegates will be cast for Mr. Underwood at Baltimore," said Mr. Collier today. "Enthusiasm for Underwood overshadows everything. I traveled in a number of counties while in North Carolina and I found the strongest kind of sentiment for Underwood. I feel no hesitancy in saying that he will get the state's solid delegation at Baltimore." All talk of Underwood being a stalking horse for any one has been knocked into a cocked hat. Likewise the talk that he is a Wall street candidate. Mr. Underwood beat Governor Wilson in Georgia by nearly 20,000 majority and it was the farmers who did the trick. That he will carry North Carolina and be nominated at Baltimore and elected in November no one now doubts.

The gentlemen consulting with him was composed of a sub-committee of the committee of 24 of the companies meeting in Washington and deciding there upon the consolidation. Commissioner Young stated he had not gone over the details. He said: "The policyholders of neither company need be disturbed as to the safety of their policies. Each company must carry to the consolidated company the reserves to mature the policies according to their terms be- (Continued on page 4)

THE GAME EXPOSED.

The campaign for the nomination has now progressed far enough to enable the Democratic voters to know the methods that are being employed by the Wall street crowd to capture the Baltimore convention. Mr. Harmon and Mr. Underwood are the reactionary candidates. The predatory interests are quite indifferent as to which of these gentlemen is nominated. Mr. Harmon was picked out first, but "big business" began to smile upon Mr. Underwood, as soon as it became evident that Mr. Harmon was not making headway as a candidate. They have now divided up the territory in which they think a reactionary has a chance, and Mr. Harmon is running in a few states in the north and Mr. Underwood in six states in the south. In the north and in Ohio, the Democrats are appealed to vote for Mr. Harmon as a matter of state pride; but Mr. Harmon's delegates, if they are reactionaries, will be at the disposal of Mr. Underwood when Mr. Harmon is out of the way; and Mr. Underwood's delegates will be equally at the disposal of Mr. Harmon—except the delegates from Alabama, who are so tied up that they can not be delivered to anyone else. In Florida, the Harmon men have been leading the Underwood fight and appealing to southern pride on behalf of Mr. Underwood as a southern man.

There could be no clearer case of bad faith and the fact that such methods are resorted to, ought to convince any fair-minded man that the reactionaries are not expecting to win by an open, honest fight, but by deliberate deception. A reactionary would find it impossible to win at a time like this, when so large a majority of the people are progressive; but the chances of the reactionary candidate would be still further weakened if he were nominated as a result of a combination between a few men running in different sections on local sentiment. Governor Harmon and Mr. Underwood are working both sides of the street, but their tactics are becoming so well known that they can not hope to continue much longer even the small success that has attended their efforts.

"BOSSSES AND LEADERS."

In one of his Massachusetts speeches Mr. Roosevelt said: "Mr. Taft says that his supporters are not bosses, but patriotic leaders. Is Mr. Lorimer a patriotic leader? Is Mr. Patrick Calhoun of California, the man whom Francis Heney indicted, a patriotic leader? Are Messrs. Guggenheim and Evans of Colorado patriotic leaders? Is Mr. Penrose of Pennsylvania a patriotic leader? Does Mr. Taft mean that Messrs. Gallinger, Aldrich and Cannon are patriotic leaders and not bosses? Does Mr. Taft mean that Mr. Cox of Ohio is a patriotic leader? "I don't care a rap for the termian-ology of the matter. I care for the fact. If it is any comfort for Mr. Taft to call Messrs. Lorimer, Cox, Penrose, Guggenheim, Calhoun, Gallinger and the rest patriotic leaders, instead of bosses, let him do so, but I earnestly hope that the plain people will vote against that peculiar type of patriotic leader; and mind you, if these particular patriotic leaders were not behind Mr. Taft, Mr. Taft would have no chance of carrying one state in twenty throughout the union."

Without desiring to seem too critical, one can not help remarking that in 1908 all of these gentlemen named by Mr. Roosevelt were supporting Mr. Taft. Mr. Roosevelt knew it. They were also behind Mr. Roosevelt himself in 1904 as they were behind the national ticket upon which he ran in 1900. There was no difference then between Messrs. Taft and Roosevelt. These gentlemen were all "patriotic leaders".

The Greensboro News wants to know where is the old fashioned editor who was all the time apolligizing to his readers for the scarcity of news. Guess he is busy trying to boil down what is happening so as to find room to get it in.

From the row that is being raised over the consolidation of two life insurance companies in this state, it looks like the merger will bring them more harm than good.

The paper trust is taking another whack at the printers, notice having come of an advance on the price of paper.

"Flies in order," is the way an exchange puts it. Not at all, they are very disorderly.

Now, why not give father a day, too.

WITH OTHER EDITORS

The Pension Steel And The President. It is said that the Sherwood Dollar-A-Day pension bill will be ready for the president's signature upon his return from Ohio. The bill will add $25, 795, 702 to the appropriations for pensions which last year amounted to $157,980,575. The new bill calls for the expenditure of $1,685,000 more than the measure passed by the senate as a substitute for the Sherwood bill. The Sherwood bill added $75, 000,000 annually to the appropriation for pensions. The compromise bill proposed in the senate adds $24, 000,000 to the pension burdens of the country. The present bill, on which there has been agreement, will increase the payments on account of pensions $25,797,702 annually. The number of pensioners who will be benefited by the act will be 420,965 and the average additional increase for each of the beneficiaries will be $61.20.

We do not know what the President will do about this measure. We know what he ought to do. He ought to knock it on the head in scorn of consequence. It is stealing, pure and simple, in the name of patriotism. The present pension burdens of the Government are enormous. In 1911, the latest figures we have at hand, the United States paid out in pensions to its soldiers $157,980,575, and this enormous drain upon the resources of this country forty-six years after the close of the War Between the States! The interest on the public debt amounted in the same year to $21,311,334 and the total additional expenditures, covering all the other expenses of the Government, were $654,137,998. The total disbursements of the Government, excluding the postal service, the Panama Canal and the public debt, from the beginning of the Government down to the year 1911 amounted to $23,313,504,347 and the pension burden during this period, the larger part of which was increased on account of pensions paid to those who fought for "the preservation of the Union," as the Fourth of July orator expresses it, aggregated $4,446,065,244. It is now proposed that $25,000,000, or more, shall be added to this burden on account of the patriotism of those who fought for their country.

This is one of the most disgraceful and outrageous exactions that have ever been made in the cause of charity or patriotism, and without any regard of his personal and political fortunes, but merely with concern for the good of the country and the common honesty of its people, it is hoped that the President will place his veto upon this latest steal. We do not know what effect the President's veto of this measure would have on his political fortunes, but we believe that the time has come when some great big public man in authority should rise up and condemn, regardless of his political fortune, the grand larceny which is now proposed in the name of patriotism. We believe that his veto of this measure would only serve to strengthen him with all well-meaning citizens in this country. "The Ten Commandments will not budge, and stealing done in the name of patriotism or for the personal gain of the beneficiaries of a rotten system.—Charlotte Observer.

Hot In The Collar

We fear that Senator Dixon, the head of the Roosevelt committee, has lost something of his sunny temperament since he left his happy home in North Carolina to mingle with the rough people of the distant west. When the change was made at the Taft headquarters in Washington Roosevelt's vote for delegates was obtained in the city and county of Baltimore, that $10,000 was placed with the Roosevelt managers in Baltimore at an early hour on the day of election, that Roosevelt money in a large volume was poured out in Prince George county, and that large rolls and small bills were sent out from Washington on Saturday afternoon for the use of disturbed districts, Senator Dixon declares that every one of these statements was a deliberate lie, that every man connected with their circulation is a liar, and that "these lies are circulated for the purpose and for the only purpose of which liars always lie."

The Senator is making progress; after awhile he will be almost as expert as his chief in the use of violent language. But what are the facts, really? How much did the election in Maryland cost the Roosevelt organization? What was the price paid for votes for the Colonel in the election on Monday? Did New York at the recent primaries in that state? How did the prices compare with the prices paid in New York when "My dear Mr. Harriman" raised $250,000 at the request of the Colonel to save that state some years ago?

Now that the election is over and the votes were procured, it would be interesting to know just about how much the cost of living has gone up—has the price of voters kept pace with the prices of the other necessities of life. The case is so important that it might be well for congress to appoint an investigating committee to call for persons and papers. There ought to be a record somewhere of the outgo. If congress should for any reason decline to make an inquiry, the Taft people who started these stories should produce the proofs.—Charlotte Observer.

As to Mexico.

Because it is reported that Great Britain and Germany are dispatching warships to Mexico for the relief of citizens of those countries who may be in distress, there is no ground for apprehending that the English and Germans are intending to intervene in Mexican affairs. There is not the slightest chance of that. As for American intervention, it is unlike now as it ever was. The president has an army transport to the West coast to take away Americans who may want to leave Mexico, and in sending that kind of vessel instead of warship he has shown the discretion that has marked every act of his in relation to Mexico's revolution against Diaz.

There is no idea of intervention on the part of our government, and there is no fear of it among well-informed and thoughtful Mexicans. But idle rumors have been spread abroad among the ignorant Mexicans and it is well that nothing should be done to give them seeming support. Of the price measure of discontent on the west coast of Mexico there is no definite information. Certainly there is no audible demand for relief among the American residents of the east coast and cities near it. Business is going on as usual in the capital, Vera Cruz, Puebla, Tampaco, San Luis Potosi, Saltillo and Monterrey.—Ntw York Times.

Paranoia.

Paranoia is a word worth nothing for its relation to politics. It is liable to affect a party as it is to obsess an individual. A form of it is a man's belief that he is absolutely right and incapable of error. A vice of it is the man's conviction that those who differ from him are his enemies and the enemies of the nation, indeed of the human race. Paranoia is compatible with ability and vigor of statement as well as with the insanity of conceit. Any doubt of the victim's propositions work havoc of friendship, however intimate, and converts affection to intimate, truth of falsehood, love to hatred and co-operation to a desire to destroy. The paranoiac believes that he and God is one and he is the one. The disease for it is a disease, is infectious. When it obsesses a party it is likely to obsess a majority of the nation and its main exponent is apt to ruin his country unless the recovery of the people leads them to keep him in restraint until he dies in a mad house. In the case of a man the disease is incurable. In the case of a party, the disease can be overcome only by the overthrow of the man's plans at the outset. If adopted by the people, the man afflicts the nation with his own malady, and the nation is only deliberated by other nations that unite to restore and preserve the balances of the world.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The Veteran's Cross Of Honor
How dear to the heart of each gray-headed soldier,
Are the thoughts of the days when we all wore the gray,
While memories recalls every trail and danger,
And scenes of the past live in battle array;
Though long since discarding our arms and equipments,
There's one thing a veteran most surely will note;
The first thing he sees on the form of a comrade
Is the little bronze cross that he wears on his coat.

"How much did it cost?" said a man to a soldier,
"That little bronze cross that you wear on your coat?"
"A fortune in money," he answered the stranger,
"And four years of marching and fighting to boot."
"The wealth of the world cannot purchase this emblem,
"Except that the buyer did wear the gray, too;
"For it shows to mankind the full mark of a hero—
"A man who to honor and country was true."

Then let us be proud of this emblem of honor,
And wear it with spirit both loyal and bold;
Fraternal welcome each one who suggest it,
With love in our hearts for the comrades of old.
Each day musters out whole battalions of wearers,
And soon will be missed this loved token so dear;
But ages to come will remember with honor
The man who'd the right this bronze emblem to wear.

H. H. Stevens,
In "Living Confederate Songs."

Time Almost Up.

This is the last week of the News and Observer contest, and there are yet some of The Reflector man's friends who promised to give him their votes before the end but have not sent them in. What is done to help him must be done this week and it will count for more before Wednesday night than if sent in during the last three days of the week. If he wins in the contest it will be by the help of his friends; if he loses it will be because he did not get votes enough. Now get busy and help him quick.

These Are plain Facts

Now, when nearly everybody is coughing it is well to know the plain truth about coughs and colds.

Since coughs are caused by irritation of the sensitive lining of the bronchial tubes, the only way to cure a cough is to stop that inflammation.

The only way to do that is through the blood—by making it richer so that it will nourish and soothe the inflamed, tender tissues.

Instead of cough-syrup we always recommend that sterling blood and strength renewer, Vilon. It is a delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil and actually cures coughs, colds and bronchitis by building up the whole system.

Mrs. Bessie Mathes, Lynchburg, Va., says, "I want you to know what Vilon has done for me. I have had chronic bronchitis for the past year, coughing, and losing sleep a great deal. Two bottles of Vilon fixed me up all right, my cough is gone and I am better in every way."

We give back your money if Vilon does not do all we claim.—For sale at Moye's Pharmacy, Greenville, N. C.

MADAME RACHELLE'S ADVICE TO BEAUTY SEEKERS

Margaret A.—Yes, it is possible to remove freckles quickly and without injury. There is a scientific laboratory product known as Wilson's Freckle Cream which is favored by the profession for its unvarying satisfactory results. You may buy it at most any good drug store for 50c the jar or direct from the Wilson Freckle Cream Co., Charleston, S. C. It is entirely harmless and positively guaranteed.

Mrs. Scott—To plump out your arms and neck is not an easy matter. Massage with a good skin food will help, and so will the proper exercise movements. I would suggest that you consult a physician concerning the most nourishing diet.

Wilson's Freckle Cream is sold by Moye's Pharmacy, Greenville, N. C.

IN MEMORIAM

The comrades of Bryan Grimes Camp of Confederate Veterans desire to put on record their high appreciation of the life and services of their late commander, Henry Harding, and for this purpose, have prepared the following brief sketch of his life.

Henry Harding was born May 8th, 1836, at Chocowinity in the county of Beaufort, N. C., and he was educated at Trinity School, near the place of his birth. He was teaching school and studying law in the County of Hyde when the war between the States broke out in 1861, and he left the school room and the noble work in which he was engaged to enter the service of his State in her conflict with the Federal government in the War between the States. He was made a Lieutenant in Capt. Smallwood's Company, and was later appointed Captain of the Beaufort County Plow Boys, and from this position, he was promoted to be Major of the 61st regiment North Carolina Volunteers. He was at the battle of Cape Hatteras, and at the battle of New Bern. He was present with his command in the long and memorable siege of Battery Wagner in Charleston harbor, and those who were present with him declare that there was no more arduous or dangerous service rendered anywhere during the war. He was at his command in Petersburg and Cold Harbor, so that his services as a Confederate soldier ran through nearly the whole war, and took him into many of the fiercest conflicts of that memorable struggle.

After the close of the war he returned to farm life near where he was born and on Feb. 21st, 1867, he was happily married to Miss Sue E. Sugg. Of this union there now survive him four sons and two daughters and it may be truthfully said of them that they never brought anything but pleasure and honor to their parents.

After his marriage he taught school at Bay River and in Greene county and located in Aurora, in the county of Beaufort, in 1873. He was a member of the Board of County Commissioners of Beaufort county for several years and he represented that county in the General Assembly in 1866 and '67.

Major Harding moved to Greenville, in the county of Pitt and located here in 1885. He was superintendent of public instruction in the county of Pitt for four years and was register of deeds from 1892 and 1894.

Major Harding was deeply interested in Masonry and was regarded as a very bright Mason. He was a Past Master in Masonry and was at the time of his death Worshipful Master of Sharon Lodge at Greenville. A large concourse of Masons attended his funeral and gave him the last rites of their order.

Major Harding was a profound believer in the doctrine and teachings of the Christian Religion and a devout member of the Episcopal church and was for years a lay reader in that church and at the time of his death, on April 23rd, 1912, was Senior Warden of the Vestry at St. Paul's Parish, Greenville, N. C.

This brief summary gives an imperfect epitome of the life and services of our dear comrade. He was always profoundly interested in every thing that tended to the uplifting of his fellowman and to the comfort of his comrades. He was especially interested in young life, and as a teacher in the secular schools and in the Sunday school of his church, he ever tried to lead the young into paths of rectitude and righteousness. He gave to his comrades the services of a warm and affectionate heart and was ever ready to do anything for a Confederate soldier within his power. We shall ever remember him with grateful hearts. He was in all the relations of life, a true man, a teacher, a citizen and Christian gentleman, he was faithful and true; always seeking to render to his country and to his fellowman the best service possible. In his death, the community in which he lived has sustained a great loss and the Bryan Grimes Camp of Confederate Veterans a lasting sorrow.

Respectfully submitted,
C. D. ROUNTREE,
ALVIN SMITH,
BRYAN TRIPP.

Goes to Rocky Mount.

Mr. F. S. Langley, who is an expert tobacco auctioneer and for the past two years was on the Greenville market, will be with Pitt's warehouse in Rocky Mount next season. There are many tobacco farmers who like for Mr. Langley to sell their tobacco, knowing the interest he takes in making it bring the best price possible. He says that in Rocky Mount next season he will be in position to do more for them than ever and is not too far away for his old friends to take their tobacco to him. They will find him looking out for their interest all the time. Any accommodation to friends near the dividing line of the Rocky Mount market will be gladly furnished upon application to him.

FROM MR. A. J. MOYE

Farmville, N. C., May 8, 1912.

Mr. Editor: We have had a very nice season and our farmers have taken advantage of it and finished transplanting tobacco. We had fine tobacco plants and most people will have a good stand. We will finish planting cotton this week.

Most people who fertilize corn heavily defer planting it until about the first of May. Some are trying for fifteen or twenty barrels per acre. My boy's school closes this week and he will plant his corn the first of next week. Rye and crimson clover was sown upon his acre last fall. The clover never grew much, but the rye has furnished nice pasturage for hogs and calves. I think his acre has furnished for two months pasturage for twenty hogs and two calves.

Mrs. Moye had the boys to set her out a small strawberry patch last September now the vines are the nicest and are the fullest of large strawberries that I ever saw. Strawberries and sweet cream are delicious and refreshing and most farmers with a very little trouble or expense might have them plentifully in season. We have been eating rape for spring greens for some time. Rape is good for hogs and calves and people. Why not plant a patch, say one-half acre for each sow kept and enjoy seeing the hogs and calves grow.

The convict grading machine is putting the Grimesburg road in pretty shape and if each land owner would only drag his road after each rain I presume we would have as nice a road as any part of the county.

Dr. Patrick, Mr. Humphrey, Mr. John Davis and Mr. James Darden and Mr. J. W. Parker each have an automobile. These auto's are mostly for pleasure and display the fact that some of our farmers have some surplus money and that the farmers in this vicinity make considerable produce to sell still we do not make half that the land is capable of producing.

Mr. Overby who removed to our own about two years ago from Benson in Johnston county, commended himself to us all as an upright, gentlemanly, kind and a model citizen. We regret that he saw proper to leave us for we can ill spare such a man from among us. He was universally liked as a salesman and all who dealt with him remember his courteous treatment and his apparent desire to be of service to you. If he was ever unkind to any one or said one discourteous word or in any manner ever offended any person while in Farmville I never heard of it. Still every one always knew that his sympathies were on the side of right and that he had no sympathy with law violators or any lawless persons. Farmville is the better for Overby's having lived there and will suffer for his departure.

Tell Mr. Darden to come over again and I will have some writing on my bulletin board and will have some tobacco and cotton and some fine hogs for him to see. I was pleased with friend Darden's communication. Write again friend.

In closing I wish to say that in all probability Grimesburg will make a better showing at the second county fair than she did at the first.

A. J. MOYE.

A Virginia View

Repeating the slander of the Chester Lantern as to Charlotte and its "combination of booze and blue laws," The Richmond Times-Dispatch is mean enough to say: "Prohibition in Charlotte is almost as mythical as the Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence." The large part of such wet gods as find a market in Charlotte comes from Richmond.—Charlotte Observer.

Richmond could not find a market for such supplies if the demand did not exist. It is astonishing how many men will vote for prohibition laws at home and then send abroad to obtain the means of satisfying their thirst for intoxicants. Charlotte is not peculiar in the respect referred to.

In every "no license" county Virginia and the Carolinas, the amount of liquor consumed is in startling contrast with the results promised by the prohibitionist crusaders to follow on local outlawry of the traffic in alcohol. Nor is this due entirely to the absence of Federal statutes forbidding the shipment of intoxicants from wet into dry States; for in so many localities the legal abolition of the saloon only brings illicit dispensaries that we are convinced that the reinforcement of state prohibition by stringent shipment would only result in an equivalent increase in unlicensed stills. The more we see of the working of legislation designed to enforce abstinence, from drink upon society by taking away the means of indulgence, the more firmly are we persuaded that high license and strict regulation would more conduce to temperance.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.
