LARGE CROWDS GATHER TO CHEER ROOSEVELT

Ex-President Tells New Jersey Voters That He Will Beat the Politicians, Does Not Mention Taft, Roosevelt in Best of Spirits

CAMDEN, N. J., May 24.—"We are going to beat the politicians right out in New Jersey next Tuesday," said Colonel Roosevelt at the close of his second day's campaign in the state. "When we got through with them in Pennsylvania there was not enough left of them to put into a coal scuttle. It will be about the same thing here."

Colonel Roosevelt made a swing through New Jersey today, traveling from New York to Atlantic City and thence across the southern part of the state to Camden. From this city he went to Trenton. The crowds which turned out to hear the Colonel were large and enthusiastic.

Colonel Roosevelt did not mention the name of President Taft during the day trip. In Camden, where he spoke tonight he replied to a statement which Mr. Taft was reported to have made.

"Mr. Taft says that if my proposal for a referendum on judicial decisions were adopted," said the Colonel, "there would be nothing to prevent a legislature from repealing the 13th, 14th and 15th amendments to the constitution and franchise the negroes. It is impossible to treat such statements as either sincere or serious. It is sheer nonsense. You might just as well speak of recalling the vote by which the thirteen original states adopted the constitution."

"Suppose that the income tax amendment to the constitution is adopted. Does Mr. Taft think that two or three states would recall that amendment after it had become a part of the constitution? It is difficult to reply seriously to such nonsense."

In his other speeches Colonel Roosevelt mixed politics with various other things, some of which bore no relation to the issues of the campaign. He was in a rollicking mood, and laughed and chaffed with his audiences.

When he did refer to politics, it was to make an impersonal assault upon bosses and to appeal for support in what he termed "a straight line up" between the people and the special interests.

It was a blistering day but Colonel Roosevelt said he did not mind the heat and was having a good time.

One of Uncle Sam's Sea-Fighters Aground

NEW ORLEANS, May 24.—The United States first-class battleship Nebraska ran aground late this afternoon in Southwest Pass, at the mouth of the Mississippi river, while bound from New Orleans to Hampton Roads.

The big ocean tugs R. W. Wilmot and W. G. Wilmot left New Orleans at 6:15 p. m. to give assistance in floating the big war craft. They will reach the Nebraska about 2 a. m.

The position of the Nebraska is not regarded as dangerous. She is believed to have run on a mud bank which had accumulated during the present flood.

At 8 p. m. the following wireless dispatch was received from Capt. S. S. Wood, of the Nebraska:

"Nebraska resting easy on outer bar Southwest Pass. Awaiting arrival of tugs. No danger."

New Evidence in the Hawkins Case

Prosecution Springs Surprise as Case is Being Evolved Before the Jury in Mysterious Murder Case.

HENDERSONVILLE, May 24.—A surprise was sprung in the Hawkins murder case yesterday when two new witnesses whose opposed knowledge of the connecting link in the case had never been made known to the public, testified to seeing the alleged murdered girl at the home of the McCallis and in company with George Brady, one of the defendants Thursday afternoon after she left her home in the morning and shortly after Beatrice McCall had told the father of the missing girl that she knew nothing of her whereabouts.

Among the witnesses testifying yesterday was Dr. John Hey Williams, of Asheville, who stated that a man who greatly resembled Bradley, pointing him out in the court room, called at his office late one day last summer and inquired as to the examination of some girl, whom, he stated, was thought to be in trouble. He was not, however, positive in the identification of Bradley. Although he promised no assistance further than an examination. Within a few days, however, a girl, who he identified as Myrtle Hawkins, from her photograph, visited his office in company with an elderly woman whom he thought, though not positive, was Mrs. Lizzie Shaft, who is another defendant.

Is Durham to Have Will Try to Terrorize New Hospital? Convention

Recent Row Growing From Financial Condition of Institution May Force It

PHYSICIANS REFUSE TO TREAT WATTS' PATIENTS

DURHAM, May 24.—The differences between the two factions of the medical society has reached a rather acute stage, and the physicians in the city who are opposed to the new rules and the new staff at the Watts hospital are said to be making preparations for the establishment of a new hospital, having refused to treat patients at the hospital. The factions of the controversy have been giving the public benefit of their views about the matter in the papers and the trouble has caused much comment in the city.

The talk about a new hospital has reached the stage in which a number of places have been suggested as available for the new institution. Among those mentioned was the Corcoran hotel building. The proprietor of this hotel enters a vigorous denial of the availability of this place, saying that he has no intention of giving up the building as a hotel.

The last of the county schools came to a close this evening. A part of the exercises were held this afternoon at the Lowes Grove school, one of the newest and largest high schools in the county. This school is one of the finest examples of the good of special tax and the combination of small districts into one larger one. Just a few years ago the average attendance at this school was less than 20. The past year, the first term in the new school, the attendance has been over 50 and the people of the community have taken the liveliest interest in the school. They have bought five acres of land and are preparing to run a farm school next year.

LaGrange Man Placed Under Bond

CONNECTION OF BANK FAILURE THE CHARGE

KINSTON, May 24.—The rescue of a four year old child from probable death was effected by W. D. Davis, a negro barber, in a courageous dash which almost caused serious injury or death to the man. Davis pulled the baby son of M. Bloom, a Jewish cobbler, from beneath the very hoofs of a plunging horse driven by a lady, and fell with the boy in his arms to the curbing, at the intersection of Queen and Gordon streets, the busiest corner in the city. In another instance the child, unconscious of danger, would have been trampled upon and the man unconcerned apparently over his own safety, escaped with the little one just in the nick of time. A large crowd witnessed the negro's heroisms, and applauded his daring.

Two surprises were sprung in Superior court here yesterday when John P. Walters, a prominent LaGrange man, was put under a $5,000 bond for his appearance in connection with the closing of a bank in that town some time ago, in which L. F. Davis has been indicted. A large number of true bills were returned by the grand jury against persons suspected of violating the state prohibition law. In the whiskey cases, the indictments were a complete surprise, it seems Judge Allen ordered capias served, and consternation reigned for several hours among the "blind tiger" fraternity. Several fled before the papers could be served on them. The bills were against white people mostly.

Some changes were made in the faculty of the Kinston city school at the election of teachers. Several of last year's teachers did not apply for reelection and these were replaced by Misses Bass, of Raleigh, Smith of Durham; Mewborn, of Gray; Nunn, of

Byrd Marion is Re-arrested

Clerk of Court Good Testifies That Bullet Holed in Chair Where Massie Sat Could Only Have Been Fired by Marion.

WYTHEVILLE, Va., May 24.—Six witnesses testified today in the trial of Claude Allen for the murder of Judge Dexter Goad, of Carroll county. During Goad's testimony the bullet-scarred chair in which the slain jurist sat was put in evidence and the witness described the position in which he saw Byrd Marion just before the shooting began. He said one of the holes in the chair could have been made by a bullet fired from where he saw Marion.

Wednesday Marion was released on bail, but evidence brought out during the trial now in progress, so implicated him that he was rearrested. Four of the jurors whose verdict finding Floyd Allen guilty precipitated the Hillsville tragedy were witnesses today. One of them saw a bullet strike Miss Bettie Ayres and looking up saw Claude Allen with a gun pointing in that direction.

The other witness was a civil engineer who displayed and explained maps he had made of the Carroll county court room, the maps showing where bullets had struck and their range.

FLY SEASON COMING.

These days mark the dawn of another fly season. In fact, recent advice indicates that an occasional fly has been sighted here and there. Swat him and do it now. Remember so far as the fly question is concerned, a swat in time saves nine. Some enthusiastic mathematician has figured out for us, that laboring under perfect conditions, a Mrs. Fly will lay 120 eggs, which mature into flies in from twelve to fifteen days. Swat her. These in turn produce 7,200 grandchildren twelve to fifteen days later. Swat them. The next generation, we are told, reaches the enormous number of 432,000 to be swatted. And so on, until by fall or late summer our mathematician estimates that the grand total number of descendants of this one original Mrs. Fly amounts to some 1,096,181,249,310,720,000,000,000, or a mass having a cubical content greater than the earth itself. Too many to swat. A few ciphers more or less mean nothing to us. Such figures are mathematics gone mad. It simply emphasizes the fact that a swat in time saves nine, if not more. As a matter of fact, comparatively few descendants from each successive generation of flies ever live to reach maturity or old age. A very few withstand the rigor of winter and here in lies our cure. If we can successfully combat these few now and abolish their breeding places, our lot for the summer will be easier.

It has been well said that "A man's flies are they of his own household." We are fast learning that the number of flies in a house or community is an excellent index to the sanitary conditions or cleanliness of that house or community. Some day, soon, we will consider the fly as much a disgrace in our home as we now consider the bedbug. In fact, it is already, but we don't know it yet.

To a very large extent our freedom from flies for the summer depends on the effectiveness of our first attacks during the next few months. Five or ten cent investments in wire cloth fly swatters placed in the hands of small boys and girls yield excellent returns. Their enormous amount of exuberance and youthful enthusiasm may be put to good purpose in this manner, instead of letting it run to waste under the name of mischief. In the meantime, if all possible breeding places, such as manure piles, night soil, garbage and filth of all kinds are effectively destroyed, removed or buried, the result so far as flies and disease are concerned will be well worth the effort. Let's try it.

RAILWAY BUSINESS FOR MARCH.

For ninety per cent of the steam railway mileage of the United States the aggregate of the operating revenues for March showed an increase of $12,861,901 as compared with March, 1911. Operating expenses showed an increase of $12,152,294 and net operating revenue an increase of $509,607.

This increase in the total of net operating revenue was due solely to the larger returns incident to an increase in railway mileage. When the returns are measured by the average per mile, the only proper basis for comparison, the net operating revenue shows a decrease. The average was $306 per mile of line for March, 1912 and $309 for March, 1911. This average for 1911 was twelve and eight-tenths per cent less than for March, 1910.

Railway taxes for March amounted to $9,576,575, or $44 per mile, an increase of eight per cent over March, 1911. These compilations were made by the Bureau of Railway Economics from reports of the railway companies for the month in question that had been filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission prior to May 16.

Wilson in the South.

Notwithstanding that South Carolina did not instruct her delegates to the national Democratic convention, the fact that the state convention almost unanimously endorsed Woodrow Wilson is a strong indication that the delegation from the Palmetto state will solidly support New Jersey's governor as long as he has the slightest chance for the presidential nomination. But if further proof is needed, it may be found in the statement of one of the South Carolina delegates that every man on the delegation from our sister state is strongly for Wilson. This information was given to The Citizen yesterday by the traveling representative of a big northern firm who has just come from South Carolina. The gentleman referred to had a long conversation with a South Carolina delegate and was assured that not a man on his delegation would desert Woodrow Wilson.

What North Carolina will do is at this moment problematical, but the chances are that an uninstructed delegation will go from this state to Baltimore. That Wilson will have a strong following there goes without saying, as the scattering returns from various primaries and conventions show that the Wilson sentiment is still strong in North Carolina.

And if Governor Wilson is nominated by the national Democracy, his victory will be won in the face of the most powerful opposition ever encountered by a presidential candidate. It is now generally known that the Ryan-Perkins-Morgan interests have slated Wilson for defeat if money can bring it about and in these days the power of money in a political fight is unlimited. These giant interests are fighting Wilson because he has not attempted to conceal the fact that he is unalterably opposed to all that they represent. Had he so chosen at the outset of his campaign, he could have easily enlisted the aid of the giants of Wall street, but it was his unequivocal rejection of their proffered assistance that drew down their wrath. It was this fact, indeed, which directly led to the now famous "break" between Colonel Harvey and New Jersey's governor. So that the nomination of Woodrow Wilson, in spite of the forces now combined against him, would be a triumph which could not fail to secure his election by a record breaking majority.—Asheville Citizen.

"Infant Damnation" Clause.

We are unreservedly glad that the Southern Presbyterian General Assembly voted to change the phrase "elect infants dying in infancy" to "being elect, all dying infants in infancy". This former expression has been the cause of debate, of controversy and from the mockers, of ridicule, without end. For the phrase "elect infants" it has been contended with much reason that no other import than the one now declared was ever meant and many learned researchers into Calvin and the days of the Westminster divine have been made to establish the point. But there could never by any serious question that the words lent themselves to the hostile construction, hence, if the early divines did indeed choose their language unfortunately, it would be doing their memory and church traditions a service to set the matter straight. For the present good of the church this change had become seriously required. It does not come as a modification of faith but simply as a re-statement of fact. It leaves the continuity doctrine as interpreted by the church absolutely intact. There is no question of "showing the white feather" or there should not be. From many conceivable standpoints the proposed substitute is wise. It will be ratified by the presbyteries, we believe.—Charlotte Observer.

of the University of Vermont, 47 years old today.

Dr. Hyde to Face Third Trial.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 25.—The third trial of Dr. B. Clark Hyde, charged with the murder of Colonel Thomas H. Swope, is scheduled upon the docket of the criminal court to begin next Monday, but it is quite likely that the state will ask for another continuance, as the special prosecutor, United States Senator J. A. Reed, is still detained in Washington by his duties in Congress. If another postponement is asked for and granted the case will probably come up after the adjournment of Congress. At the first trial in the spring of 1910, Dr. Hyde was found guilty and was sentenced to imprisonment for life, but a new trial was granted, which came up last year. Hyde's second trial ended abruptly when Harry Waldron, one of the jurors, escaped from the marshals. The third trial was to begin on January 2, 1912, but at the request of the prosecution it was postponed until May 27, in the hope that by that time Senator Reed would be at leisure to give his attention to the case.

Dr. B. Clark Hyde had been under suspicion in connection with the mysterious illness and deaths in the Swope family ever since the death of Colonel Thomas H. Swope on October 3, 1909. The death of Colonel Swope followed soon after he had suffered a severe convulsion and this convulsion, it was charged by the members of the Swope family, followed immediately after the administration of a capsule given by direction of Dr. Hyde. Dr. Hyde said it was a digestive tablet.

It was proved at the trial that Dr. Hyde had purchased cyanide of potassium in five grain capsules. Dr. Hyde claimed he bought the cyanide capsules to kill roaches in his office.

Two days before the death of Colonel Swope, Moss Hunton, a cousin of the millionaire philanthropist, died at the Swope home following a stroke of apoplexy. Dr. Hyde and Dr. G. H. Twyman of Independence treated Hunton. The patient was bled profusely, it is charged. Shurapo2m fusely, it is charged, at the suggestion of Dr. Hyde. Beginning early in December, an epidemic of typhoid fever broke out in the Swope household during which ten members of the family were stricken and one, Chrisman Swope, a brother of Dr. Hyde's wife, died.

Chrisman died after taking a capsule given at Dr. Hyde's direction and after suffering a convulsion similar to the one that attacked Colonel Swope. Margaret Swope, Chrisman's sister, also treated by Dr. Hyde, had a convulsion after taking a capsule, but she was given an emetic at once by Dr. Twyman and recovered. In all, Dr. Hyde was indicted on eleven counts, the remaining indictments charging him with trying to murder members of the Swope family by introducing typhoid germs and poisons into the medicine administered by him.

Galveston Causeway Completed

GALVESTON, Texas, May 25.—The Galveston Causeway, said to be the greatest engineering achievement of its kind in America, was formally dedicated and opened to traffic today. The opening was made the occasion for a public celebration in which delegations from many Texas cities participated.

The completion of the causeway marks the culmination of the extensive improvements projected by the city of Galveston after the disastrous storm and flood which laid a large part of the city in ruins in 1900. The causeway connects Galveston Island and the mainland. The structure is 10,642 feet long, including 2,472 feet of reinforced concrete arch bridge work, a 100-foot lift bridge, 4,530 feet of causeway on the island and 3,640 feet on the mainland. The structure is 66 feet wide and provides for railroad and interurban tracks and roadways for vehicles and foot passengers. There are twenty-eight arches in the bridge, in four series of seven arches each. The causeway has been three years in building and cost $1,500,000.

Art Windows for Church.

Mr. Wm. A. Hefferman, of the Hefferman Art Glass Works, Washington, D. C., arrived today to take specifications for placing art windows in the auditorium of Memorial Baptist church. Mr. Hefferman has done work for this church before, as it was he who made the window placed by the infant class several years ago and also the large memorial window that was placed in the front of the church some years later. It was because of the excellence of his work that he was selected as the artist for the windows the church will now put in. When the windows are all in they will add much to the beauty of the church auditorium.

What Came Near Being Another Titanic Disaster.

Last night as the fair luna send her pale and mellow gleams across the wide expanse of the river Tar, a happy, jolly and select concourse of our most lovely young ladies and gallant gentlemen gathered for a moonlight excursion down the river.

The steamer "Mayona" and Flatboat were chartered and the parties embarked on a joyous trip to Red Banks.

The trip promised to be a success but on the return trip, the treacherous waters entered the Flatboat. The watchful captain, seeing the conditions and warnings were given. The captain sent his pilot on board the Flat for investigation, who at once gave the signal to stop and make for shore. Wireless messages were at once flashed across the Tar and the private yacht "Night Hawk" responded at once under a full head of steam to render assistance were it needed.

The noble captain at once placed the ladies on his boat and returned with them to Greenville and then went after the gallant and heroic boys.

Latest reports say that no lives were lost only some had wet feet.

Only for the coolness and prompt action of Capt. Joe Mayo and his pilot, the pleasure trip might have ended in a calamity.

Hogs Infected With Cholera.

Mr. O. L. Joyner, proprietor of Ingeltarre farm, who in recent years has taken much interest in raising improved stock and has fine herds of cattle and hogs, became uneasy that sickness appearing among his hogs a few days ago was cholera. Dr. Flowe, assistant state veterinarian, came down from Raleigh Friday to make an examination and found that 98 out of a herd of 113 were infected with the disease. All of the well hogs and a few of the least infected were vaccinated with an anti-cholera serum. Doubtless most of the hogs will die, as a hog once taken rarely gets well and it will be a heavy loss on Mr. Joyner. The herd of hogs was well worth a thousand dollars.
