Good Roads Movement In Washington

Democrats Aim to Abolish Useless Commissions And Their Expenditures

SOL, McCABE TRYING TO HELP BEEF TRUST

The Democratic House of Representatives has given the Good Roads Movement a flying start.

This fact is of momentous importance to the people of this nation. Ever since the Constitution was written there has been talk of improving the public highways. It remained for this, the first session of the sixty-second Congress to actually do something toward bringing about that end. It requires upward of a score of years to make a start toward stamping out railroad betting, and the law prohibiting that practice was passed in a month after the start was made. Likewise, the pure food law lagged for seventeen years until an actual start was made. Within a few weeks after the talking was supplanted by action the law became a reality.

The Democrats in Congress have injected the first breath of life into the agitation for better roads. The House has actually passed a bill and as the matter now stands it is up to the Republican Senate and President to carry the work along. If they refuse, the people will know exactly where to place the responsibility. Now that the Democrats have taken a definite forward step the issue becomes clear cut.

In all the Democratic speeches supporting the bill for road improvement, which was introduced by Dorsley W. Shackelford of Missouri, it was made plain that it is proposed to spend money that is now being wasted in keeping up useless political navy yards and to provide soft berths for lame duck politicians.

At the present time there is in existence numerous government "commissions," such as the Canadian boundary commission on which former Congressman James A. Tawney of Minnesota depends for an annual stipend of $7,500 of the people's money. These conditions seldom meet and their only usefulness is to take care of politicians who fail for reelection. The Democrats propose to abolish useless commissions and spend the money thus wasted for the improvement of public roads.

"Improve the public roads with the money that is now being wasted." is the battle cry of the Democrats in Congress, and is being taken up by the farmers in all parts of the country.

Surgeon Is Stabbed In Charlotte

CHARLOTTE, May 28.—Dr. Fred Misenheimer, a prominent young veterinary surgeon of this city, staggered out of a room in the Buford hotel this morning, with a gaping knife wound in his breast, bleeding profusely. He weakened rapidly, and the doctors were summoned hurriedly, his condition being critical. It is known that the wounded man was not alone in his room, but so far he has refused to say in what manner the wound was received.

News of Our Native State Briefly Told

Final Commencement Exercises.
GREENSBORO.—The Greensboro Female College finals occur tomorrow when the several hundred students will be free for a summer's vacation. The baccalaureate sermon was preached at West Market Street Methodist church by Rev. Charles W. Byrd, D. D., of Asheville. Many alumnae of the G. F. C. are here attending the commencement exercises which have proven more enjoyable than any occasion perhaps.

Bank Buys Property.
WILMINGTON.—The Southern National Bank has purchased from W. A. Franch, George R. French and heirs of the late W. A. French, the property on the southeast corner of Front and Princess streets, in the heart of the downtown district, on which are located the buildings occupied by Shrier and Solomon and R. C. DeRosset, the consideration being about $70,000. The bank does not obtain possession for 18 months yet. It is expected that the bank will build a home there.

Sen. Bankhead Refuses to Admit Defeat

CLAIMS NORTH CAROLINA FOR UNDERWOOD

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Senator Bankhead, chairman of the Underwood national campaign committee, issued the following statement today: "As the result of the Virginia state convention and the election of delegates in North Carolina Saturday, Governor Wilson has six and one-half votes in Virginia and no more. These were accorded him as a compliment to some of his ardent friends in Virginia. These six and one-half votes will be given to Governor Wilson on the first ballot, after which the unit rule will be applied in accordance with the rule of the convention. Therefore, after the first ballot Mr. Underwood will have the entire 24 votes from Virginia. Our advice from every congressional district in North Carolina shows Underwood has a majority of the instructed vote in that state. Any other statement is a deliberate attempt to mislead the voters of North Carolina and the parties who make it known that it is totally incorrect. Mr. Underwood's headquarters have never claimed a vote during the contest that he did not have and this policy will be pursued to the end. Shady politics has no place in Mr. Underwood's camp. If he cannot win on his merits and the record he has made, he does not deserve success. We are far more interested in the success of the Democratic party in November than we are in who shall be nominated at Baltimore."

Fly Meets Waterloo in Back Alley

It does your eyesight some good to take a slant at the alley back of Evans street, directly behind The Reflector office. Early this morning Mr. Noah L. Tripp, aided and abetted by our own fire horse had a cleansing spell and unless merchants desist from making a scrap heap of their back doors, it seems that the flies will have to take a trip to other alleys.

Such good work as performed this morning deserves all kinds of praise and encouragement. It means more than a straggle of such conditions as are sure to hurt the feelings of those accustomed to cleanliness. It means more health. Many thanks to Mr. Tripp.

The Entre-Nous Club meets with Miss Lee Brown Wednesday afternoon at 4:30.

Have it Out in New Jersey To-day

State Primaries Will Finally Decide Strength of Republican Contestants

BOTH TEDDY AND TAFT ARE CLAIMING VICTORY

NEW YORK, May 27.—The New Jersey state primary election tomorrow will bring practically to a close the spectacular campaigns for the presidential nomination that have resulted this year from the adoption by several states of presidential preference laws. The South Dakota primaries are still in the future, but it is believed that the voting in New Jersey will mark the end of the personal appeal for primary votes that President Taft and Theodore Roosevelt have voiced in many parts of the country.

This state will choose 28 delegates to each national convention, four at large and two each from the 12 congressional districts. Each district selects its own delegates, but the delegates at large are elected by the vote of the whole state. The primary law also permits voters to express a personal choice for a presidential candidate, but this preference vote has no direct bearing upon the division of delegates voted. The delegates to be voted for are pledged to Taft, Roosevelt or LaFollette on the Republican ballots and on the Democratic ballots for Governor Woodrow Wilson or marked uncommitted. The Democratic fight has been only between Governor Wilson and his opponents inside the state.

Governor Wilson's friends tonight declared that he would win the full state delegation with the possible exception of the members from Newark, the stronghold of former United States Senator Smith whose election the governor opposed.

Colonel Roosevelt closed his campaign tour tonight but the President will speak tomorrow up to the hours of opening the polls, making a tour of the farming and shore towns in the lower part of the state.

Get the Last Terpsichorean Wiggle

THEY CALL IT SHERLOCK-INETTE

LONDON, May 27.—The Sherlock-inette has just been imported to London from Paris. In Paris the dance triumphs over the Boston, the onestep and the grizzly bear and bunny hugs, and 163 dancing masters have approved it.

This is the manner of the Sherlock-inette. There are four figures representing the four conditions of Sherlock Holmes in the four social classes. In the first figure the gentleman examines furtively his partner with an eye to stealing her jewelry. This inventory obliges him to make four steps of a two-step, and then commences the Sherlockinette proper.

The two partners stand facing each other, but the feet of the gentleman are at the right of the lady. Sherlock Holmes continues his inventory and turns round his victim. Then the two dancers separate so as to find themselves standing side by side, after which the man turns round his partner, passing under her right arm, and the lady the arms of her partner in a final pirouette.

In the third figure Sherlock Holmes pursues his partner, jumping alternately on the toes of each foot. In the fourth figure the dance finishes by 4 steps of a two-step and 8 steps of a gallop.

Though this dance has found favor in Paris, it has not become in the least popular in London and is sure to be displaced by the Louis XV. Boston, which is being prepared for the winter season and which unites in one gavotte the minuet, the sarabande and the Boston.

Telegraphic Ticks Gathered From Other Parts

Sunday Schools Workers to Parade.
ELGIN, Ill., May 28.—Sunday school workers from many sections of the state are in attendance at the 54th annual state convention of the Illinois Sunday Schools, which opened here today for a session extending over three days. Bishop Fallows and many noted church and Sunday school workers are among the speakers scheduled to address the convention and to participate in the institute arranged for every one of the three days. The spectacular feature of the convention will be the big parade of the organized men's class on Thursday evening.

Kentucky Dries Meet.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 28.—Many women are among the delegates to the state convention of the Kentucky Prohibition party, which was called to order here this morning for the purpose of nominating delegates to the National Prohibition convention to be held at Atlantic City on July 10, and to name state congressional candidates and presidential electors. For the first time in the history of this state members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union enjoyed the right to vote at a state convention.

Willing to Bet $2,000 On T. R.

MCCORMICK SAYS HE WILL BE NOMINATED

NEW YORK, May 27.—Anybody eager to bet $2,000 at even money on the renomination of ex-Pres. Roosevelt can find a taker in Medill McCormick. The young man from Chicago is a heavy contributor to the Roosevelt campaign fund. He said at the Waldorf yesterday that he had $1,000 on the Colonel and was anxious to risk twice as much more.

Mr. McCormick has just come from South Dakota. He prophesied that Roosevelt would get all the delegates from that state, with Taft running about as far behind as he did in Nebraska and California. He thinks the Colonel is assured of 614 delegates at the Chicago convention.

KING'S DAUGHTERS BENEFIT AT GAILEY

The show to be given tonight at the Gailey Theatre is a benefit tendered by the management of this popular house to the meritorious organization of King's Daughters. Besides an excellent moving picture program there are added attractions such as music numbers and recitations.

Tomorrow night one of the biggest moving picture features will be shown at the Gailey. Three big reels entitled "Old Wyoming Days" will be presented. Thrills galore in every foot of film and hundreds of feet of picture. Prices 10 and 20 cents.

Good Work for Chief Justice Clark

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C., May 27.—Mr. E. R. Pace addressed the Railroad employees here last night, endorsing Chief Justice Walter Clark for the Senate. He had a very enthusiastic audience and an organization of shop workers to further the Justice's candidacy was affected.

Mr. Pace will speak in New Bern tonight.

No Special Train.

The local executive committee tried to get a special train to take delegates to the congressional convention in Elizabeth City Thursday, but could not do so at a figure that they felt justified in paying. Therefore, delegates from this county will have to leave Greenville on the regular train at one o'clock Thursday morning in order to reach Elizabeth City in time. To go on the 9:40 a. m. train will put them in Elizabeth City too late.

Standing of Presidential Candidates

Conservative Estimate of Number of Delegates Favoring Democratic Aspirants

GOV. WILSON LEADS ALL THE OTHER OPPONENTS

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 28.—The standing of delegates already elected to the Baltimore convention is as follows:

Wilson
Pennsylvania	76
Oregon	10
Texas	40
Maine	8
Wisconsin	24
Oklahoma	10
Illinois	2
Porto Rico	6
Florida	2
South Carolina	18
Delaware	6
Utah	6
Michigan	15
Virginia	12
New Hampshire	8
Ohio	20
Tennessee	12

Colorado	12
Nebraska	12
Missouri	36
Maryland	16
Washington	14
Kansas	20
Nevada	6
California	26
Wyoming	6
Iowa	26
Total	242

In this table the twenty votes from Kansas are conceded to Speaker Clark though the delegates favor the nomination of Gov. Wilson and under instructions will go to him early in the balloting. The ten delegates from North Dakota are put down for Gov. Burke, but it is well known they openly favor the nomination of Gov. Wilson in preference to any other candidate. This makes Gov. Wilson's actual strength 305 delegates.

"THE INITIATIVE" MEANS—THE BEGINNING; "THE REFERENDUM" MEANS—LETTING THE PEOPLE DECIDE; "THE RECALL" MEANS—PERMITTING THE VOTERS TO DISCHARGE UNFAITHFUL SERVANTS.

Every surveyor knows what you mean when you speak of a theodite.
 Every engineer knows what you mean when you speak of a piston rod.
 Every chauffeur knows what you mean by transmission and ginition.
 Every farmer knows what you mean by ensilage.

Every tailor knows what a goose we all of us know the words, the terms and the peculiar meaning therein, and that it is not alive.

Referring to the particular thing which interests us.

It is true and disgraceful that a great many American citizens do not understand the terms, simple and plain, referring to public affairs for the reason that too many citizens are not really interested in public affairs.

The distinguished Peter Dunne tells of a genial old Irishman who was quite content to spend fifty years "voting for things that he did not understand".

But he was absolutely determined not to vote for things he could not pronounce.

He referred to the initiative, the referendum, et cetera.

Every American ought to understand thoroughly the words which express determination of the people to rule in a country which is supposed to be ruled by the people.

Therefore, by way of beginning another series on the initiative, the referendum and the recall we publish and ask you to impress upon those of your acquaintance that are ignorant or indifferent, very simple definitions of these words—"Definitions nos termes," as a great man said.

The people of the country want, they need and they will have the initiative, the referendum and the recall.

It is perhaps unfortunate that the two first words were chosen by men using the written language rather than the spoken language of the country.

It is said, but it is a fact that such simple words as "initiative and referendum" appall and displace the minds of certain citizens.

However, the words are here, they are going to stay and what is more, they are going to become realities.

Therefore, it is the duty of you who understand thoroughly the principle, the idea, the public right and justice back of three words, "initiative, referendum and recall," to make those words plain to all near you.

What about the "initiative"? This word comes from the Latin, into, which means "to go into, to begin, to start."

Sombody has to start new law making. Sombody must go into the field where new laws are required, and begin, or initiate the new laws.

Hitherto we have had our corporations, or big and selfish men, and our corrupt politicians enjoying a monopoly of the initiative, or beginning of laws.

It is time for the people to initiate some of the law making. It is time for the people to say "we want certain laws, we are taking the initiative in putting those laws on the statute books and we propose to have them there."

The initiative means that the people shall be permitted themselves to start the making of laws, to initiate or begin new thoughts in legislation. The initiative means that the people shall have the power of framing, voting for and establishing laws, instead of leaving this important task to the gentlemen so often elected by the people, only to represent the corporations.

The "referendum" is a word simple enough to the man who has read about the referee in a prize fight, or the umpire in a baseball game.

Referendum comes from the Latin, refero, which means, "I carry back". With the referendum in existence, the gentlemen in the legislatures making laws or proposing laws would be compelled to refer them, or carry them back to the people.

Under the referendum, the people could keep to themselves, as they should do, the right to pass upon laws started in legislatures or in congress. And the laws "referred" or "carried back" to the people would be passed upon by the people and they would not become actual laws on the statute books until the people under the referendum had given their approval.

In other words, with the referendum the people supposed to govern, to own the nation and the government would do for themselves exactly what the owner of a big factory would do for himself.

A man owns a factory and has a lot of hired men to work for him. These men have various ideas, plans suggestions, notions, rules and so forth.

They work out their plan, write it out clearly, explain it thoroughly and then the owner of the factory says, "refer that to me and I'll pass on it."

Until it has been referred to the head of the firm, until it has been passed on by the head of the firm, it isn't a law in the factory.

The united states is a big factory and the people are or should be the head of the firm.

The people, the owner of this national factory, employ many men in congress, in the white house, in the various legislatures and boards of aldermen. And these hirelings of the people are put there to make suggestions, to think up good new laws, or abolish bad old laws, to invent new ideas and work them out carefully and present them plainly to the head of the firm which is the people.

If you owned a factory, you would not permit anybody under you to make rules governing that factory until you had approved.

You that do the voting own the United States, you hire all the employees of the country from the president down to the dog catcher. Why not make those employees in the national factory refer their ideas for approval to the owner of the factory, the voters, the people?

That is all there is to the referendum—very simple.

As for the recall, that is so simple that it is hardly worth while to talk about it.

A firm sends a young drummer traveling on the road to sell goods. It has hired the drummer and fixed his salary thinking that he would work. The firm discovers that the young drummer is playing poker and drinking cocktails instead of selling goods then the firm recalls the young drummer and puts somebody else in his place. That is all there is, to the recall.

The public hires a man, puts him on the bench, to act as judge, puts him in the governor's chair, puts him in the white house, or puts him in charge of the public pound where they take the stray mules and pigs.

This judge, president, governor or pound keeper is hired by that big firm, the people, to do certain work. As things are now, when the public official hired is unworthy, dishonest, useless, drunken, corporation-owned, or otherwise unfit, the people can do nothing unless they can prove facts in a court of law. But we all know how hard it is to prove in a court of law that a judge has done something that he ought not to do. Judges hang together as doctors hang together, and as others do.

The idea of the recall is that the people who hire a judge should have the right to recall him, just as the man who hires a chauffeur or a drummer or a gardener has the right to recall such an employee when he doesn't do his work properly.

WITH OTHER EDITORS

The Finishing Touches in Baltimore.
 Norman Mack, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, was in Baltimore the other day, arranging with the local committee and the architects and the telephone and telegraph people and a host of others about the accommodations for the National convention. About $10,000 is needed to put the finishing touches on the Armory, where the convention is to be held and the collection for the purpose has been a little slow; but in order to show Chairman Mack what Baltimore could do when its back is up, ten patriotic men who were present in the armory at the time of his visit, raised $1,000 in ten minutes, or $1,100 to be accurate. A movement was immediately proposed to divide the city in blocks of ten and it is expected that the scheme will work beautifully and that "before you can say Jack Robinson," the remaining $8,900 will be on hand; "all that is needed to make the convention a success and redeem the pledges made by the Baltimore committee when it went to Washington last winter and induced the National Committee to bring the convention to Baltimore," says the Baltimore Sun.

In Mr. Mack's opinion, the Convention will be the biggest political gathering ever held in America, and will attract more people to Baltimore than have ever attended a National Convention of either of the great political parties. The demand for tickets to the Convention has been unprecedented, and Mr. Mack estimates that the number of visitors to Baltimore on account of this gathering will reach 150,000. It is proposed to make the distribution of tickets as equitable as possible. The tickets will be non-transferable, and in order that the ticket speculators may not thrive at the expense of the party, Chairman Mack thinks that if any man should be caught selling a ticket, he should be sent to jail if there is any way of doing it. We have no doubt that Baltimore will be able to provide for the convention more handsomely than any other convention of the party has been taken care of. It is to be expected, of course, that there will be a great deal of gouging at the hotels, and the delegates will doubtless be packed like sardines in many places, but those who can not be comfortably accommodated in Baltimore will find delightful conditions, excusing the weather, in the town of Washington, only about an hour's travel distant from the convention city. We may be sure that Chairman Mack and his committees will do all they can for the comforts of the perspiring patriots, who will gather in Baltimore at the birth of the party of freedom. If the convention itself will do as well in the nominations and the platform as Mack and his associates will do in taking care of the material part of the Convention there will be great rejoicing in November when the party of the constitution shall come into our father's house to stay.—Charlotte Observer.

people; And the recall, which gives the people the right to discharge those that they have hired when they find the hirelings unworthy.

Every sane man in the country who understands these three simple terms really believes in democratic government, who demands no special privilege for himself and who wants honest government, must be in favor of the initiative, the referendum and the recall.

RESPONSE SHOULD BE PROMPT.
 Instead of the situation in providing for the accommodation of students seeking admission to the coming summer term of East Carolina Teachers Training School growing better, it is, if anything, growing worse than a week ago. Then there were about one hundred applications on file in excess of the number the dormitories can accommodate, while now the excess number has increased to one hundred and forty with more applications coming in daily. Some days ago President Wright appealed to the citizens of the town to open their homes to the students and take boarders and lodges during the eight weeks of the summer term, so that no applicant need be denied the advantages of the school.

Last week The Reflector took up the matter and tried to impress upon the citizens their duty in responding to the appeal of President Wright. But we now learn that responses have been so slow it becomes necessary to again call attention to the matter. It is but two weeks to the opening of the summer term and with one hundred and forty applications unprovided for the situation is really serious.

People of Greenville, where is your pride in the school and in your town? Will you let appeals as important as this go unheeded? Because the legislature has so far failed to furnish the school with sufficient dormitories for applicants, will you let the reputation of the institution and town suffer by not helping to tide over an emergency like the one now confronting it? While to open your homes during the summer term will be an accommodation to the school and the students, you are not asked to do it merely as a matter of accommodation, for the students expect and are willing to pay for all they get. Now do not let the appeal go longer unheeded. Send at once to President Wright, your name, the street on which your home is located, the number of students you can take and the price per week at which you can furnish board or lodging, or both, and the delinquent will soon be removed. Do this promptly so there may be no need of turning away a single applicant who desires to attend the summer school.

And now, because he happened to be extremely foolish and furnished the information to convict himself, he is being kicked out of office in a slow and deliberate way because while he was passing on matters affecting the Erie railroad, his partner was buying property from the Erie railroad for a tenth of its value—and dividing with the judge.

We can't always wait until a judge goes as far as this distinguished Judge Archibald.

And we can't always wait for other public officials to make it absolutely plain that they are rascals before getting rid of them.

The people must have the recall, so that when they find that they have made a mistake in electing a man to office they have the power to put him out of office. That's all there is to the recall.

The initiative which permits the voters to start legislation;

The referendum, which compels the hirelings of the people to carry back or refer important legislation to the people; And the recall, which gives the people the right to discharge those that they have hired when they find the hirelings unworthy.

Every sane man in the country who understands these three simple terms really believes in democratic government, who demands no special privilege for himself and who wants honest government, must be in favor of the initiative, the referendum and the recall.
