House Adjourns as Tribute to Dead Member

WIFE IGNORANT OF ACCIDENT

Representative Robert C. Wickliffe is Crushed to Death by a Southern Railroad Train When Leaving For Fishing Trip

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Representative Robert C. Wickliffe of Louisiana, was run down on the tracks of the Southern railway in Potomac park today and instantly killed.

He had left the capitol yesterday to go away on a fishing trip. He happened to stray on the railroad tracks has not been cleared up. The engineer of the train said he saw the congressman too late to avoid the accident.

News of the tragic death of the prominent Southern representative traveled fast, but did not reach Mrs. Wickliffe before she had started for the capitol, as was her daily custom, to watch the proceedings in the House. That body was about to adjourn out of respect to the memory of Mr. Wickliffe, when several members happened to catch a glimpse of his wife in the gallery. There was a hurried conference. Representative Estopinal of Louisiana and Cullop, of Indiana, made their way quietly to where Mrs. Wickliffe was sitting and divined her downstairs to Speaker Clark's office. There gently as they could, they broke the news to her. Mrs. Wickliffe fainted. Later she cried to be taken home. Mrs. Champ Clark, a close friend, was quickly sent for.

NO DEMOCRATIC CONTESTS

Everything Will Be Settled in a Few Hours

According to National Committeeman Josephus Daniels Nothing Will Hamper Baltimore Convention.

BALTIMORE, June 11.—The contests to be decided by the Democratic National Committee the day before the Baltimore Convention are expected to be settled within a few hours though the committee has not determined how much time it will allow each side for the submission of cases.

National Committeeman Josephus Daniels, of North Carolina, said the few contests were simple in character and the points controverted would cause no friction in their disposition.

"As the National Committee meets at noon on June 24," said Mr. Daniels, "there will not be any time for extending argument, but each will have a fair and reasonable opportunity to present its claims. The contests hinge largely on questions of regularity of election and have not the same bearing on question of presidential candidates as in the cases at the Chicago convention."

Harmon leaders here said that state superintendent of insurance E. H. Moore, of Ohio, who reached Baltimore today, would be the choice of the Ohio delegation for the new national committeeman.

Mate Hollis Falls Overboard and Drowns

ELIZABETH CITY, June 11.—Falling backwards from the railing of the gasolene schooner, L. O. Muir, commanded by Captain S. E. Mason, Mate Charlie Hollis, was this morning drowned. The accident happened near Blackbury, about two miles down the Pasquotank river, while the vessel with only the two officers on board, was bound from Alligator to this port. Captain Mason stopped the engine and made a heroic effort to assist his mate, but could not reach him in time. Hollis is thought to have suffered an attack of heart failure, as he made no effort to save himself. He was about 40 years old and leaves a wife and four children in Tyrell county. The body has not been recovered.

UNCLE SAM'S SAILORS LAND

Gunboat Nashville Sends Sailors Ashore

ACTIVITIES AT NIPE BAY

Although Calm Prevails in the Capital Prisons are Chock Full of Negro Suspects. Conditions Are Alarming

SANTIAGO, Cuba, June 11.—The United States gunboat Nashville landed today at Mayari, about five miles south of Nipe Bay, a detachment of 65 bluejackets with a mountain gun for the protection of the Woodford mines.

The sailors will later be replaced by marines.

The town of Mayari is well protected by a force of 300 volunteers and 60 regulars. A column composed of 200 more regular soldiers is operating in the vicinity.

A guide belonging to Captain Gariga's guerilla corps brought into town today a number of ears cut from negroes' heads. He was arrested and is to be tried by court-martial.

Washington, June 11.—General Ivo-net with seven hundred insurgents is said to be cornered about twelve miles from Saugua de Tanamo, on the north coast of Oriente. This information was received through the American legation at Havana. It is believed here that the negro revolution in Oriente province will be short lived.

Disturbances continue in Santa Clara province, the consular agent at Sagua la Grande reporting the situation serious. Details of a fight in the city park between the white and blacks on June 9 have been received. Two persons were wounded. The regular army garrison have withdrawn from Ciabaren and Remodois, only rural guards remaining. Seditions bands are also reported in this vicinity.

Alarm still prevails in Cienfuegos, and the people are continuing to concentrate in the city.

The Guantanamo and Western Railroads reports the burning of the station, scales, stores and dwellings and buildings at Benito, as well as the town of Palmas, near Jamaica.

The American marines are apparently having the intended effect, for the message adds that the estates given the marines to guard are quiet.

The Atlantic Fruit Company, in reporting the situation at Sama, declares that the Cuban government is making no effort to protect the company's property.

The Nashville has landed marines at Woodford for the protection of the Spanish-American Iron Company's property.

Sadness Ahead For Poor Black Romeo

Jim Edwards, a colored gent who formerly resided in Farmville took unto himself a wife. This in itself is about common enough. Most people that yearn for a home can't realize their ambition without squaring up to some parson or justice of the peace and saying "Aye". So after all Jim getting a wife means nothing extraordinary. There is however one important point that the longing Romeo did not care to go into the proper care. The wife he took was, alas! somebody else's property. That's where Jim got into trouble. Perhaps some well meaning friend told him the dangers of the enterprise—after it had happened, of course—and Jim went to New Bern in a vain effort to elude the law.

Poor Jim! Back from New Bern did they bring him yesterday with liberty-robbing iron cuffs on his dusky wrists. He awaits in the local jail to answer to the charge of embezzling a wife.

A Characteristic Platform Attitude of Colonel Roosevelt

IF Colonel Roosevelt has not been having "the time of his life" in the presidential primary campaign he has probably come pretty near it, for no man in public life today has so keen a relish for the joys of conflict. With tireless energy he has journeyed east and west, north and south, in his efforts to persuade the voters that he is the candidate who can lead the progressives to victory and has addressed nearly as many audiences in the preliminary contest as he did during the campaign that ended in his election. One of the most amusing incidents of the New Jersey primary campaign was the plea of the enthusiastic farmer who, when the colonel motioned for silence, shouted, "Wait a minute, Teddy, while we holler!" The photograph here reproduced shows the ex-president in one of his characteristic platform attitudes.

KENTUCKY'S CONTESTED VOTE IS AWARDED TO PRESIDENT TAFT

W. Barnes, Leader of New York Republicans, on Scene of Battle—Confident of Seating Elihu Root on the Chairman's Throne

MAJORITY OF THE EMPIRE STATE'S VOTES FOR "BILL"

CHICAGO, June 11.—By seating the four delegates at large and the delegates from the first district of Kentucky, all credited to President Taft, the Republican national committee added six vote to the temporary call of the convention in favor of the president and foreshadowed action which would add ten more contested seats from that state to Mr. Taft. Only two seats at large were contested.

In the first district the vote was 46 to 0 against the contestants. With these three districts and delegates at large decided in the president's favor, the number of contested seats determined for him since the committee began its deliberations reaches 92.

After arguments were concluded in the first, second and fourth districts of Kentucky, there remained to be considered contests in the seventh, eighth, tenth and eleventh districts.

Francis J. eney, of San Francisco, leaped into the heat of the political fray and strenuously endeavored to inject paper into the Roosevelt fight. He characterized the conditions in Kentucky as similar to the former chaotic political situation in California and referred to some of the Kentucky political acts as comparable to acts of Abe Ruef, of San Francisco. Mr. eney drew a sharp protest from Senator Penrose.

Judge E. C. O'Rear of Frankford, Ky., who had charge of the arguments for the Roosevelt forces for Kentucky admitted that some of the points advanced were not very strong and Senator Borah, of the Roosevelt wing, declared he thought the contestants were not entitled to their seats.

Thought some of the members of the committee asked for more time to consider the evidence, a roll call demanded by the Taft leaders resulted in seating the regular delegates at large by a vote of 28 to 11. The decision in the first district, however, was unanimous.

William Barnes, Jr., chairman of the New York Republican state central committee and delegate at large to the convention, arrived today and immediately went into conference with Senator Crane of Massachusetts, Senator Newell Sanders, of Tennessee, Fafayette B. Gleason of New York and other leaders of the Taft forces.

Mr. Barnes is looked upon as the probable Taft floor leader and there is said to be likelihood that he will take part in the deliberations of the national committee on the contested delegates.

He declared that his principal business at this time was to aid in the confirmation of Senator Root, of New York, as temporary chairman of the Republican national convention. Practically all of the ninety New York delegates will vote for Senator Root, said Mr. Barnes and I have no doubt that he will be elected.

CUTTER PREVENTS LOSS OF LIFE

Several Villages in the Alaskan Islands of Kodiak and Woody Partially Buried. Food and Water Polluted.

KODIAK, Alaska, June 9.—(Via tug to Seward, June 11).—Kodiak and Woody, island villages are buried under a foot of ashes as a result of the eruption of Katmai volcano, beginning Thursday afternoon and lasting 48 hours. No lives have been lost here, but many other settlements near the volcano have suffered indescribably.

The revenue cutter Manning was in port here when the eruption began and furnished refuge for all the inhabitants of the town, 500 men, women and children, doubtless saving many lives. The Manning is now serving distilled water and government rations to the destitute people, the water supply having been polluted and springs filled with ashes.

The naval wireless station was destroyed by fire and the Manning's wireless equipment is too weak to work with Cordova. Dispatches are being sent here by tug to Seward with an appeal for all available craft to come to the assistance of the people in the vicinity. The property loss will be enormous.

As soon as the hail of ashes, sand and hot pumice stone began the officers of the Manning ordered everyone in Kodiak and nearby villages to board the ship.

ARMY AVIATORS MEET DEATH

Had Barely Ascended When Machine Collapsed

Army Men Had Only Reached an Altitude of 200 Feet When Engine Went Back on Them, Death Resulted.

COLLEGE PARK, Md., June 11.—Lieutenant Leighton W. Hazlehurst, 17th infantry of Macon, Ga., and A. L. Welch, of Washington, D. C., were killed here at 6:13 o'clock tonight when a new army aeroplane of the Wright type in which they were flying fell to the ground at the aviation school and was wrecked.

Lieutenant Hazlehurst and Welch had just started on their trip and had reached an elevation of about 200 feet when the machine suddenly crashed to the ground. Death to both was instantaneous. The machine was wrecked. Welch was flying the machine and Lieutenant Hazlehurst was with him as a passenger. They had ascended a distance of about 200 feet when they dipped to come down and go up again. When about 30 feet from the ground and going at a tremendous speed, estimated by eye witnesses to be between 50 and 60 miles an hour, the machine collapsed and dashed to the earth. Apparently the weight of the engine and the two aviators caused the collapse. The machine struck the ground with terrific force and both men were instantly killed.

Developments today indicated that the fight between the Taft forces and Roosevelt forces in the sessions of the national committee for contested seats was almost equalled by the "gun shoe" campaign being made for delegates listed in the uninstructed column. Both sides, it was learned, had decided to attempt to get a possible balance of power through this source. Although many of the uninstructed delegates already have been pledged by state leaders to either Taft or Roosevelt, campaign managers privately, have expressed ability to secure a block of 50 or more for their candidate. In case the decisions by the national committee in the contest cases send President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt into the convention on practically an even basis the uninstructed men may determine the final outcome of the fight, it is learned.

Dixon, Roosevelt's Manager Continues to Issue Statements Against Methods Used to Keep Friends Out

(By VICTOR ELLIOT)

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Belief among politicians in Washington that Roosevelt and his followers will bolt the Republican national convention at Chicago, if President Taft is nominated, is growing, despite the vigorous denials of the militant former president and his campaign managers.

This belief has been strengthened by the recent announcements of Taft and Roosevelt, and there must be no compromise in Ohio or anywhere else. As the situation is viewed here, there can be no other effect but the widening of the breach already existing in the Republican party from this declaration of the former friends and political allies, it is thought that they will fight each other to the death.

While neither the Taft nor Roosevelt factions will admit for a moment that they are beaten, or that the success of the party at the poles in November is at all endangered by the bitterness that has been stirred up between the Republican factions, it would seem that the present situation cannot do any other than help the Democrats. Consequently, there is no hesitancy on the part of the Washington Democratic leaders in predicting a Democratic victory next fall. Republicans, of course, do not agree with this optimistic view of the Democrats although the old guard leaders admit the situation is serious. With this situation confronting the politicians, interest naturally turns to the field of Democratic candidates in Roosevelt's Friends Will Gather in Chicago's Largest Theatre and Indulge in a Mass Meeting.

CHICAGO, June 11.—Roosevelt leaders tonight announced details of a mass meeting for Friday afternoon which will be staged at Chicago's largest theatre as a spectacular preliminary to the opening of the Republican national convention next Tuesday. Congressman William Kent, of California, who made the announcement, said that the principal address at the meeting would be delivered by Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver and Attorney Francis J. Heney of San Francisco. Also it is probable that Governor Johnson of California and Governor Stubbs of Kansas will speak.

RALEIGH.—In a collision at 9 o'clock tonight between the hose wagon of the Rescue Hose Company and the wagon of the Victor Hose Company, the latter being manned by a negro fireman, Jim Manley, the fireman was probably fatally injured and members of the rescue company had a narrow escape from death. The wagons were responding to an alarm and the rescue wagon, with Lee Justice driving and with Petearris, John McDonald, Sherwood Upchurch and others on board were running up Fayetteville street by the arget street corner as the victor wagon came across the street, from its Marget street station when the rescue wagon dashed into it in spite of efforts of both drivers to avoid a collision.

Manley was knocked from the end rail of the wagon, his face terribly cut and internal injuries inflicted. One of the fine horses of the rescue company was knocked down but not badly injured. No one else was injured.

OFFICE: Flat Iron Building

GREENVILLE, N. C.

Vast G. O. P. Crowd Due.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 2.—Practically every detail has been arranged and the finishing touches are being put to the Coliseum for what promises to be the most perfect of national conventions as far as environment is concerned.

The advance guard of delegates and visitors has put in an appearance. A mighty throng, with bands from every section will follow at the week's end and at the beginning of next week to observe what is expected to be the most spectacular quarennial session that the Republican party has held in years.

For the third time since the erection, thirteen years ago, the doors of the Coliseum will be thrown open on the forenoon of next Monday for the accommodation of a Republican national convention. In 904 the Republicans nominated Theodore Roosevelt for president in this building, which experts declare to be the acme of convention halls and four years later, under the same roof, William H. Taft was chosen as the party's standard bearer.

For weeks men have been working a metamorphosis under the steel girders that span the big building. Forty thousand dollars has been spent in making the needed changes, installing platform and seats and in the elaborate decorations. Practically every available foot of space in the interior of the big hall is being decorated with flags and bunting. The national colors predominate in the decoration scheme. The wall's surface at the south end of the hall, directly back of the speaker's platform, is a bower of American flags, with a large president's flag as a centerpiece. Draped around the hall and, at regular intervals, will be caught up by shields or other emblems.

The speakers' platform will occupy the same position as four years ago—at the south end of the main auditorium. Back of the platform is a terraced stage for 2,000 distinguished guests. Two stands abutting on both sides of the speaker's platform will furnish accommodations for 500 working newspaper men.

Especial attention has been paid to the arrangements for the comfort of the convention guests. In the basement there will be a fully equipped emergency hospital in charge of a corps of physicians and Red Cross nurses. There will be numerous retiring rooms for men and women in the annex. A soft drink emporium will be located just outside the main hall.

Arrangements for the policing and officiating of the convention have been made under the guidance of years of experience. The seating of the hall and the general supervision of the thousands of onlookers will be in charge of several hundred assistant sergeants at arms and ushers under the general direction of Sergeant-at-Arms William F. Stone. Uniformed city police will be present for emergency only, subject to the call of a convention officer.

Arrangements regarding entrances and exits have been given special attention, as well as measures of precaution for the safety of those in the hall in case of fire. Although the building is fire proof, having a main facade of Gothic stone and arches of steel, no chances are being taken. Eleven entrances have been arranged for, six of them leading into Wash Avenue and the others into the ally in the rear of the building. To guide visitors to their seats, big signs will be placed above all the entrances, which will notify them at which one to present their tickets.

the effort to pick the man who will lead the Democratic fight for the presidency. From a popular standpoint, Champ Clark looms up in the foreground of the Democratic procession and the prediction is freely made that he will called on to lead his party in the coming campaign.

That the speaker of the house meets with popular favor, an perhaps would prove the strongest of the Democratic aspirants for the nomination, if placed at the head of the ticket, seems evident from the result of the primaries held in the states where the voters had the opportunity to express their preference. With the exception of a few of the southern states, where Underwood was permitted to have a clear field, and Ohio, where no contest was made against Governor Harmon, the speaker was victorious with overwhelming majorities over Governor Wilson, of New Jersey, who run a second in the race everywhere except in his home state.

Wilson, among Democrats generally, is not considered to have much strength and they do not believe he will prove a big factor in the Baltimore Convention, although he will go before the delegates with the intention of fighting to the last.

Friends of Underwood, however, have not given up hope for their candidate and hint he will prove the dark horse that will come to the front in the Democratic national convention. They laugh at the cry that a man from a southern state cannot be nominated and declare this old belief has become a thing of the past. They point to his record as leader of the house of representatives and deare he should have the support of the business interests of the country for he, primarily, is a business man. Consequently, his followers say he will be heard from at Baltimore when the delegates get down to the business of picking their standard bearer in the race for the white house next fall.

Former Senator Du Bois, in charge of the national headquarters for the Champ Clark boom, however, discounts any strength that Mr. Underwood might have in the Baltimore convention. The primaries, he said, have shown the strength of Speaker Clark and should speak for the great majority of the Democratic voters.

The speaker will carry the convention on the first ballot, said Senator Du Bois. His strength to lead the Democratic party to victory in the fall campaign is unquestioned. Has he not the solid support of most of the Democrats in the United States? Shouldn't he have the support of the delegates in the convention?

Besides speaking of the qualifications of Speaker Clark as the next president of the United States, Senator Du Bois pointed out that Democratic victory at the polls in the coming election is assured. He believes that the Republicans will be badly split, owing to the fact that Roosevelt, if not nominated at Chicago, may bolt the party, putting into the field two Republican candidates.

Du Bois bases his prediction of a bolt on the statement issued by President Taft several days ago, when, he addressed a letter to Arthur I. Vorys, his manager in Ohio, to the effect that he would not consider any compromise of the Ohio delegation and at the same time stated that this fight is a fight to the finish. The uncompromising attitude of President Taft means this fight is to be taken to the national convention and that the Roosevelt nomination will be opposed at all costs.

Then, said Senator Du Bois, it is up to the national convention and if Taft be the regular nominee, you can bet that Roosevelt will bolt. In that event, the success of the Democratic candidate will be assured and that candidate is Champ Clark.

Senator D Bois predicted Champ Clark's nomination on the first ballot.

A Laughing Song
When the green woods laugh with the voice of joy,
And the dimpling streams runs laughing by
When the air does laugh with our merry rit,
And the green hills laugh with the noise of it.

When the meadows laugh with lively green,
And the grasshoppers laugh in the merry scene:
When Mary and Susan and Emily,
With their sweet round mouths sang,
"Ha, ha, ha!"

When the painted birds laugh in the shade,
Where our table with cherries and nuts is spread:
To sing the sweet chorus of "Ha, Come live, and be merry, and join with me ha, ha!"

ROWLETT-JOHNSTON.

The Reflector Family Has a Wedding.

That brilliant luminary who sits at the head of The Reflector table thought he was wise enough for no one to steal a march on him, but Tuesday night he got left to such extent as to give his bump of conceit a jolt right. He knew some courting was going on under the roof, but did not dream that Cupid was working so fast that a wedding could be done and over before he got on to it. But that is just what happened.

Tuesday night about 8:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride on Pitt street, Mr. Clinton B. Rowlett and Miss Nannie E. Johnston were happily married by Rev. C. M. Rock. Mrs. J. L. Carper played the wedding march.

The bride has been a member of The Reflector force for about 9 years, first starting as a typesetter at the case and working her way up to the head of the mailing department of the paper. In all her work she was the best ever—faithfulness, efficiency and devotion to duty being her constant aim.

Mr. Rowlett, the fortunate bridegroom, came from Blackstone, Va., early in the year to take the position as foreman of The Reflector plant. And an all-round good one he has made, not only being skilled, but also taking great pride and interest in his work.

Whether or not The Reflector ever does anything else good, it has the satisfaction of knowing it has made two young hearts very happy by being the means of bringing them together.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Rowlett went to the Smith house where they will make their home for the present. Both were back at their places today and so happy that they were promptly forgiven for "stealing a march" on the force.

Taft & Vandyke

From Woman's View Point

In these days when so many girls go to business, they feel in every sense on an equality with their brothers or their girl friend's brother. So it is somewhat hard to draw the line on just how a girl should conduct herself.

How shall she properly maintain her respect, yet not to be stand-offish? that she will come in for the sobriquet of "prig"?

Sometimes even engaged girls have written to ask me if they should allow their fiances the liberty of kissing them before they are married. I must say that I consider this going to extremes.

Any clean minded girl knows full well whether a man is offering disrespect in any advances he makes. But surely when a couple intend to marry and the young man has done the girl the honor to ask her, of all the world, to be his wife, there is nothing more natural or more innocent than the meeting of lips between betrothed lovers.

The indiscriminate habit of kissing the young man who takes you to the theater or who has you out rowing is another matter.

Here is where the girl's common sense and innate knowledge of just how far she can allow the man to be familiar, steps in. It will save her from later reproach on the part of her conscience, when she wakes up some night, stricken and ashamed of her foolishness.

In office life, the liberty of speech is the greatest evil. If a girl allows herself to listen to the first breach, she may expect a broader story next time. To nip this in the bud, she should make it perfectly apparent at the outset, that while she is no prude and does not always expect a man to keep on his coat and throw away his cigar, she does not insist that he will expect her to listen to any sort of conversation or story recited that she couldn't repeat to her mother.

It is a pretty good rule to follow, this of making confidants of your own mother. When you find that you are reluctant to repeat to her what you heard during the day, or allowed to be said to you then watch out, you are getting on the wrong track.

Your mother may seem a little old fashioned to you at times. You may, with youthful sophistry, argue as I did, "Oh, such a thing will never happen to me. Mother lived in another era—I am more advanced.

Remember, however, that life is the same always, human nature never varies. If you are wise enough to profit by your mother's experience, you will avoid many pitfalls.

I am a firm believer in co-education, in co-partnership, in co-everything that brings the sexes into friendly and mental relations. But I do adhere to the proper reserve on the part of the girl. She can be just as popular with the good fellow, who, unwilling to rebuke licenses, finds in a very short time that she has lost the respect that could have been hers, and gained only a camaraderie in which gallantry and chivalry have no part. These qualities are given to the girl who gently, but firmly makes the men with whom she associates, understand that there is a line drawn over which she does not permit the first steps to be taken.

King George V. and Prince Albert at Weymouth Review

Photos copyright, 1912, by American Press Association.

LIKE his father before him, Prince Albert, the second son of King George V., is receiving the training of the navy. He is now in the naval school at Dartmouth and is so strictly held to his studies that he did not go home for Easter, when all the rest of the royal family were assembled at Sandringham. It is said that his liveliness and strong will make a measure of Spartan treatment desirable for the young prince, who is, by the way, the cleverest and best looking of his family. The king and his son were interested observers of the recent naval maneuvers at Weymouth, the former even making a descent in a submarine. The photograph shows father and son on the deck of the warship Neptune with Admiral Callaghan between them.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by any medicine, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Diamond Dust

It looks as though Manager Mack of the Athletics has picked up another star in Pitcher Penock. Jeff Pfeffer, the former Chicago Boston pitcher, is managing a team in the greater Boston league. Chich Gandil, the former Montreal first-baseman, is making good with Clark Griffith's Washington team. Winning three straights from the Brooklyn Dodgers gave the Cincinnati Reds a good start on their eastern tour. With Donlin, Wagner and Hoffman playing regularly the Pirates should be able to cuddle up a little closer to the leaders. Veau Gregg, Cleveland's great south paw, is not only pitching great ball, but manages to hit the safe wallop now and then.

Despite the fact that the Boston Braves have ben up against it, McDonald keeps up a rattling good game at the third turn.

Zinn and Simmons, recruits and Bert Daniels, who was slated for the can a few weeks ago, are the only Highlanders hitting the ball.

Philadelphia fans recently presented Kid Gleason the White Sox coach with a $700 watch. The kid says the watch contains all the latest improvements with the exception of the push-button.

The Quakers are now able to put a strong team in the field, and the other national league teams are booked for a real battle when they meet Charlie Doolin's outfit.

Pitcher Baumgartner is holding his own with the St. Louis team. So far this season the youngster has defeated Ed Walsh and George Mullin, two veteran stars of the American league.

The Harvard University baseball team will be without the services of Sam Felton, the big twirler, for the remainder of the season. Felton is in difficulty with the college office on account of his studies.

Manager McGraw of the Giants, is well fixed in outfield material. If Devore, Snodgrass and Murray were incapacitated at the same time McGraw could use Becker, McCormick and Burns and still have one of the strongest outfield in the national association.

When the train bearing the Cubs arrived in Syracuse the other day the dining car of a westbound train stopped beside Jim Sheppard's window. Some of the New York Yankees were having breakfast, but Sheck didn't recognize any of them. Later he asked what team that was and was informed. "I knew they were ball players" said Jim, "because they were such tough looking guys."

MISSION BELLS.

A New Musical Work by the Distinguished Composer, Marie Louka. The following letter accompanied a musical manuscript sent by Marie Louka, the distinguished composer, to the Whitney-Warner Company: Lakewood, N. J., Dec. 15, 1911. Whitney Warner Company, 131 West Forty first Street, New York.

Gentlemen—I am sending you with this the last of the five teaching pieces that I have promised to write this year. I have named it "Mission Bells." The theme, in fact, the whole composition, came to me as an inspiration while travelling through the state of California for my health two years ago. I traveled most of the time in stage coaches, of which there are still many left between San Diego and San Francisco. I saw the ruins of many of the old missions, which one hundred years ago were a refuge and a home to the worn traveller, who could stay as long as he wished and pay what he could afford, and when he went away took the blessings of the Monks, those men of God, who sacrificed their lives for mankind in a country which was inhabited mostly by the lawless Spaniards and Mexicans. While almost all of these old buildings are in a ruined state now I was very much impressed with the bells which in four or five missions still remained. These bells were formerly rung at night to guide lost travelers. One day while making a trip on horseback to the foot of a range of mountains with my companion and a guide we lost our way. It was late in the afternoon when we discovered this fact. While pondering what to do we heard the chiming of sweet bells, three in number, we judged from the sound—and following this, to us most welcome sound, we came upon an Ursuline convent, situated in a most beautiful natural park in the foothills of a long range of mountains. As we came up close, we could hear the soft tones of an organ and the singing of the nuns. It was vesper time and I was so deeply impressed with the beautiful scene that I forgot the predicament we were in. We reined our horses and stopped until the chanting was over, and the whole scene made such an impression upon me that I resolved to embody it just as it then impressed me in a musical composition. This I have since done, and I am submitting the manuscript to you under the condition that it be named Mission Bells and that a short description of this event in my life be inscribed upon every copy.

Kindly send contracts and any other communications to my home in Philadelphia. Yours very sincerely, MARIE LOUKA.

Musical critics who have heard the Mission Bells have pronounced it a masterpiece as descriptive work. The sound of the three bells as produced on the piano is remarkably perfect. It is not a very difficult composition, and will doubtless take its place among the semi-classic teaching pieces, such as monastery bells, cathedral chimes, and Das Glockenspiel. The Whitney Warner Company have a splendid catalogue and control all of Marie Louka's latest compositions.

KENTUCKY CONTESTED VOTES

Governor Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri, arrived this morning and at once went to the Roosevelt headquarters. He is to argue the Missouri contests before the national committee.

Should the Roosevelt forces control the convention he is believed to be their choice for temporary chairman and the position of floor leader for the Roosevelt men may be accorded him.

In the hotel lobbies and the rival headquarters there was discussion of possible candidates for the vice presidential nomination and Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, was mentioned in that connection.

Senator Borah, however, emphatically refused to be considered in the light for a possible future presiding officer of the senate.

Under no conceivable circumstances or conditions would I accept the nomination for vice president, he said. I have assumed that it would not be necessary for me to make this statement, but in view of the discussion I want to put an end to it at once and for all. And this ends it, for under no circumstances would I accept the nomination if it were tendered me.

Senator Kenyon, of Iowa, who found it not necessary to go to Washington as he had expected yesterday, said that Iowans were coming in on every train eager to help the presidential boom of Senator Cummins.

The Cummins headquarters will be ready for the crowds expected there later in the day and the Hawkey Club is prepared to direct the enthusiasm of the Cummins men so that it will have the greatest possible effect. Numerous conferences marked the morning in the several headquarters.

Grand Chancellor C. C. McLean, of

The response was made by A. A. Whitner, of Hickory. He is an orator of wide reputation, which he fully sustained tonight. He was heard with the keenest interest by every one within the sound of his voice.
