SENATOR BANKHEAD REFUSES VICE PRESIDENCY FOR OSCAR UNDERWOOD

New York's Move That Nomination Be By Acclamation Rejected and Final Ballot Sees State After State Join New Jersey Governor's Banner--Two States Remain True to Speaker

William Jennings Bryan Centre of Attraction As Fight Draws Near End

UNDERWOOD'S WITHDRAWAL SIGN FOR WILSON BREAK

BALTIMORE, July 3.—Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, was yesterday nominated for the presidency by the Democratic National Convention. The nomination was made after Underwood had been withdrawn. Clark had released his supporters and New York as a climax, had moved to suspend the balloting and make the nomination by acclamation.

There was objection to this plan. As the final roll call came on state after state fell into line for the New Jersey executive, piling upon overwhelming majority. The result was reached with tumultuous demonstrations by delegates and spectators.

Bryan was a center of interest as Wilson's nomination became certain. He said he wanted most of all the nomination of a progressive. Upon motion of Senator Stone the nomination of Governor Wilson was made unanimous at 3:33 p. m.

After then omiation of Wilson the next order of business was nominations for vice president. Prominently mentioned were Governor Marshall of Indiana; Governor Burke of North Dakota; Representative Henry of Texas and Senator Kern of Indiana.

Congressman Fitzgerald of New York moved that roll call be dispensed with and nomination of Wilson be made by acclamation. The convention rose en masse as the New York spokesman moved Wilson's nomination by acclamation. A frenzy of cheers swept the floors and galleries.

The delegates stood on their chairs waving hats and flags. Senator Stone, speaking for Clark released all Clark delegates. Stone said the delegates were perfectly free to vote for whom they chose. But the Missouri delegation regardless of what others might do would vote for Clark on all ballots.

Mayor Fitzgerald, of Boston, took the platform to withdraw Foss. Senator Bankhead, manager of the Underwood campaign, went to the platform and spoke amid breathless silence, withdrawing the candidacy of the Alabama congressman.

He said Underwood had entered the contest hoping to be the nominee. But his chief desire was to eradicate every prestige of sectional feeling. That had now been demonstrated by the liberal support given the Alabama candidate. He would not be a party to the defeat of any candidate. "But I think the time has come to recognize that he cannot be nominated in this convention, nor can he be used to defeat any other candidate," Bankhead proceeded.

"Vice president?" quired a delegate from the floor. "No," houted back Bankhead. "He will not turn from the important duties he is performing to take such an office as vice president." Underwood would remain where he was, doing his great constructive work. Bankhead went on, and he expressed the hope no one would further urge the Alabama candidate for vice president. "Mr. Underwood directs me to withdraw his name from this convention," said Bankhead, amid impressive silence, adding a tribute of thanks from Underwood for the sincere and loyal support given him. He added that all his friends were now released to vote for whom they pleased.

Little Washington Man is Badly Mauled

WASHINGTON, N. C., July 2.—Rufus Tillery an employe of the Pamlico Cooperage company, of this city became entangled in some of the machinery this morning and had his right leg cut off before he could extricate himself. The accident occurred about 12 o'clock just before closing down for dinner. It seems that Mr. Tillery was employed as stove catcher and he was working directly above what is known as the hog machine. The belt slipped off and Tillery jumped through the hole in the floor to straighten the belt, but landed in the hog machine which was still revolving at a rapid rate. His right leg was cut off by this machine, between the knee and ankle. Mr. Tillery was taken to the Washington hospital immediately.

Taft's Old one Under Hammer CINCINNATI, O., July 3.—The old home of President Taft was offered for sale at auction today. Since the president lived there the house has been occupied by several persons, the last owner going into bankruptcy, with the result that the property was ordered sold to satisfy the creditors.

Mrs. William J. Bryan Was at Baltimore With Her Husband

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN has a political secretary in whom he reposes the largest confidence. It is his wife. It has been her custom in all of his campaigns to travel with him, acting as his amanuensis and legal aid, for Mrs. Bryan, the daughter and wife of a lawyer, is herself a member of the legal profession. It was a matter of course, then, that she should have accompanied her husband to Baltimore as well as to Chicago, where he reported the Republican convention. Mrs. Bryan's longest journey with her husband was the world tour which they made in 1906. She is fond of travel, but the place she likes best in the world is the farmhouse at Normal, four miles from Lincoln, Neb., which has been the home of the family since 1901.

WILSON RECEIVES NOMINATION NEWS IN HIS HOME

SEA GIRT, N. J., July 2.—Governor Wilson was seated on the veranda of the "Little White House" with Mrs. Wilson and his daughters when he received the news of his nomination from his managers. "The honor is as great as can come to any man by the nomination of a party," he said, "especially in the circumstances, I hope I appreciate it at its true value, but just at this moment I feel the responsibility it involves even more than I feel the honor. "I hope with all my heart that the party will never have reason to regret it."

Congratulations From Senators

WASHINGTON, July 2.—All the Democratic enators on the floor upon the receipt of the news of Woodrow Wilson's nomination joined in a congratulatory message to him. The message read: "We congratulate you and the country upon your nomination. We are confident of your overwhelming victory." Marquis Cholmdedeley (pronounced Chumley), who holds the hereditary office of Lord Great Chamberlain of England, 54 years old today.

GOVERNOR THOMAS R. MARSHALL, INDIANA'S FAVORITE SON.

INDIANA GOV. FOR 2ND PLACE

But Three Ballots Taken For A Vice-President MARSHALL DEFEATS BURKE

Strongest Opponent to Gov. Marshall Was Gov. John E. Burke of South Dakota, Who, However, Was Defeated After 3 Ballots

BALTIMORE, June 3.—For president—Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey. For Vice President—Governor Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana. This was the ticket completed by the Democratic national convention at 1:56 a. m., today.

The nomination of Governor Marshall for vice president, came somewhat as a surprise for when the night's balloting for vice president began it seemed that the Bryan-Wilson contingent in the convention had definitely settled upon Governor John E. Burke, of North Dakota. There was not much of a fight however, and when the two ballots disclosed Marshall easily in the lead, Governor Burke's name was withdrawn and Marshall was proclaimed the nominee by acclamation. A minute later the convention had adjourned, the delegate, worn and weary, made their way out of the big convention hall inging and happy to be tarted for home.

A VERITABLE ARCADIA, THIS

Commissioners Divide Up County Surplus

Clever Handling of the County Finances in Durham, Gives a Surplus of $3,000 which will be Divided up Between Schools and Good Roads.

DURHAM, July 2.—At the meeting of the county commissioners here this afternoon a resolution was passed to divide a $3,000 surplus, representing the amount of money saved by the salary system for the county officers for the past six months, between the county road fund, and the county schools. The law putting the county officers on the salary basis two years ago provided that the savings resulting from the departure from the system of fees be equally divided between the roads and the schools twice each year. The first year the county had about $1,000 saved from the salary system and the first half of this year they have saved over $3,000. However, only this much is set aside, as the county commissioners expects the expenses of the county to be a little heavier the next six months and the revenue a little lighter.

At the meeting of the county school board today the order was given for opening all of the schools in the county, excepting those of Patterson township, the first Monday in September. Every school will have a full four month's school term before Christmas and the majority will have four after Christmas and some more than this.

BIG DIRIGIBLE A TOTAL WRECK

EXPLOSION CAUSES FATAL FALL

Wives of Men on Air Craft Witnesses The Tragedy That Makes Them Widows. The Four Bodies Fell into the Atlantic

ATLANTIC CITY, July 2.—While 3,000 spectators stood too startled to utter a single sound, the big dirigible balloon Akron was shattered by the explosion of the gas bag and blown to atoms at 6:33 this morning, a half mile off shore, over Absecon Inlet.

Melvin Vanniman, who had built the airship with the idea of flying across the Atlantic Ocean, Captain Vanniman, his younger brother; Fred Almos, Walter Guest and George Brilliant, hi screw, were instantly killed. The dirrigible was sailing at a height of 1,000 feet and had been in the air since 6:15 o'clock when the accident occured. She was a quarter of a mile south of Brigantine Beach, which is across the inlet from this city.

The huge envelope, containing thousands of cubic feet of gas, was rent by the terrific force of the explosion, probably caused by expansion from the sun's rays. It burst near the middle. A mass of flames hid the ship from view. For a space of possibly ten seconds the half million dollar dirigible was invisible while in the air about the spot where she had been hovering to be all flames.

Bale The Hay.
(By G. H. Alford, Atlanta, Ga.)
1. Baled hay is much valuable as a than loose hay, even when the loose hay is well housed.
2. Loose hay carries a great quantity of dust and often gives the farm animal a severe cough while baled hay does not.
3. Baled hay takes up about one-fifth as much room as loose hay and for this reason the entire crop of baled hay can usually be stored under cover while loose hay must be exposed to the weather in stacks and ricks.
4. Baling breaks up coarse hay so that the stock will eat it more readily and there is no waste in feeding baled hay.
5. Baled hay is always ready for the market. It is convenient and satisfactory to handle in every way. It can be hauled by team or shipped by railroad.
6. Much of the tops and sides of stacks are spoiled by the weather.
7. Loose hay becomes dusty and musty. Baling keeps the dust and preserves the hay.
8. Baled hay retains much of the sweet odor that stock relish. There's a freshness and appetizing quality and feed value in baled hay that is never found in loose hay.

17x22 press with 6-horse power engine 16 tons per day.
We should purchase a hay press that has been designed for convenience. There should be a considerable distance between the sweep and the feeding table. Both of these points should be located at the extreme end of the press so that the baling chamber may be set well into the interior of the shed or barn and ample room be had for the revolution of the sweep to make outside of the shed or barn. Another advantage of the arrangement of such a press is that the bale chamber may be set between two stacks and fed from both stacks without resetting the press. The close arrangement of feeding table and the sweep will not allow sufficient space for the sweep to describe the circle necessary to operate the press. The reach bed should be very narrow and should not be more than four or five inches high to enable the horse to walk over it without the least trouble. When operating presses that have a high step-over, the horses will generally slow down, hesitate and often stumble at this point which is very annoying to the man, wearing on the horses and slackens the speed of the press.
The power construction of the press should be such that when the horses reach the step over, they are pulling practically no load. One stroke should be completed before they reach the step-over and the load of the next low, narrow stepover has been passed. Stroke should not begin until the bale chamber should be very low so that it is an easy matter to reach across and tie the bale. This saves much time and trouble, as in tying the bale, it is not necessary to go around the bale chamber to the opposite side.
The press should be principally constructed of steel and high grade iron and should be strong and durable.
The two-horse pull power and the motor baling press should have a self feed attachment as it increases the capacity of the press and at the same time reduces the work of feeding the press.
The hay press is a money maker and a horse saver and should be used on every farm.

We should bail our hay whether we feed it on our farm or sell it. Of course, the market demand is for baled hay and for baled hay only and for this reason baling is the only way to be sure of having market for it.
The growing of hay and especially leguminous hays such as cow-pea, soy bean, peanut and lespedeza will rapidly increase the fertility of our soils, make the growing of live stock profitable, and add very much to the income on the farms.
We can buy a one-horse or a two-horse pull-power hay press or we can a motor hay press. For the small farmer who bales his own hay, the one horse power hay press will prove very satisfactory and economical. With it he can bale his hay at the time most convenient and with a small amount of help. For the farmer who grows large quantities of hay or for the farmer who bales hay for the neighbors, the two-horse pull-power or the motor hay press is necessary.
Of course, no man can tell the exact capacity of any hay press as this depends, to a considerable extent, upon the kind and equality of hay being baled, the skill of the operators, and the speed of the team. However, under ordinary conditions, a 14 X 18 two-horse pull power hay press will bale about 8 tons per day, a 14 X 18 press operated with a 3 horse-power engine will bale about 12 tons per day, a 16 X 18 press with a 4-horse power engine about 14 tons per day and a

The two-horse pull power and the motor baling press should have a self feed attachment as it increases the capacity of the press and at the same time reduces the work of feeding the press.
The hay press is a money maker and a horse saver and should be used on every farm.

The power construction of the press should be such that when the horses reach the step over, they are pulling practically no load. One stroke should be completed before they reach the step-over and the load of the next low, narrow stepover has been passed. Stroke should not begin until the bale chamber should be very low so that it is an easy matter to reach across and tie the bale. This saves much time and trouble, as in tying the bale, it is not necessary to go around the bale chamber to the opposite side.
The press should be principally constructed of steel and high grade iron and should be strong and durable.
The two-horse pull power and the motor baling press should have a self feed attachment as it increases the capacity of the press and at the same time reduces the work of feeding the press.

The Aftermath of My A. B.

New York Times.
Since I've come home with my A. B.
The things that they have asked of me!

FATHER

"Can't discuss with me at all.
The referendum and recall?
What's this education or Culture I've been paying for?"

MOTHER

"Cannot make a rug from rags?
Cannot cook in paper bags?
Don't know how a skirt is faced?
Education is sure a waste!"

BROTHER

"Never heard of last spring's deal Perkins made in U. S. Steel?
Never knew—but Sis, you must!—
How they ashamed the Necktie Trust?"

SISTER

"Mean to tell me you don't know
The start in every Broadway show?
Cannot do the Turkey trot?
I think education's rot!"

BOBBIE

"Don't you know who is in the box
Pitchin' for the Purple Sox?
Don't know bass from pickel?—Geel!
Higher culture ain't for me!"

NEIGHBORS

"Dno't know the size of the German army? No idea how much water to give rhododendrons? Never read the works of Josephus? Dno't know the effect of peanut butter on the mocosus?
Cannot give us even the probable date of the Book or Revelation? Don't know the best way to take out a glass stopper?" (etc., as long as you can stand it.)

"Here she is with her A. B.
And dosen't know the things that we Knew just years and years ago?"
Question is—What does she know?"
The things that haven't tsked of me
Since I came home with my A. B.!

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Jarvis and Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Outlaw and son left this afternoon for Morehead City.

BISHOP'S LAUNDRY.

Baptist Assembly at Winterville.

Those who attended the sessions of the Baptist Assembly at Winterville yesterday were greatly delighted. The addresses from the first to the last were entertaining and instructive, showing thorough grasp of the subject on the part of the speaker and breathing a spirit of the deepest consecration and devotion.

At the morning session addresses were made by Prof. E. L. Middleton, of Raleigh, Rev. W. R. Gradshaw of Ickory, and Rev. O. L. Powers of Scotland Neck. Prof. Middleton spoke on "The pastor and Teacher Training" and no one who heard him could go away without a higher conception of the work of the Sunday school teacher and a stronger conviction that he must be trained because of the strategic importance of his work. Mr. Bradshaw's subject was "Baptist Work in Western North Carolina". He brought a regular "storm from the mountains" and when it had passed all felt refreshed. He is a great man with a great voice watched by the greatness of his heart and of the mountaineers of western North Carolina. He revealed a country of great possibilities for the work of the church, particularly for Baptists. Mr. Bradshaw was followed by Mr. Powers of Scotland Neck, who spoke on the "Jubilee of Organized Woman's Work of America". His address was ornate throughout. It was couched in the finest language and delivered with the ease of a born orator.

In the afternoon Prof. Middleton conducted an open conference for Sunday school and B. Y. P. U workers. This was one of the most helpful meetings of the entire assembly this far.

At 8 o'clock Dr. L. E. M. Freeman, professor of Bible at Meredith college, addressed a large audience on "Teaching of Jesus about Himself". It was clear, scholarly and filled with a spirit of loyalty and devotion to the Master. He was followed by Dr. Wm. Louis Poteat, president of Wake Forest College, who announced a his subject "The Mission of the Church". The unvaried attention of the audience in spite of the lateness of the hour bore testimony of the greatness of the address.

Tonight Dr. J. B. Weatherspoon of Oxford, North Carolina, will speak on the life of Christ, giving a study of the book of Ephesians.

For Thursday, the program is as follows.

9:30 a. m.—Devotional (leader to be supplied.)

10 a. m.—The Four Square Laymen
—by Prof. J. T. enderson.

11 a. m.—Baptists and their Secondary Schools—by J. M. Parrot, of Kinston

3:30 p. m.—Mass meeting on Secondary schools—led by Rev. L. Johnson of Raleigh

7 p. m.—Christ in Life—(a study of James) by Rev. J. B. Weather-spon.

8 p. m.—The Need of a Trained Ministry—by I. M. Mercer, D. D., of Rocky Mount.

The attendance is constantly increasing and the public is cordially invited. Come and enjoy the feast of good things with us.

A Secret has better chance to travel than the goods of a merenlarges the circle of merchant's business, announcer to his meg-the megaphone strengthens the vol-

From Woman's View-Point

The Value of a Pocket Mirror

Maudie H. Neal, in a paper on "The philosophy of a pocket mirror," lays down now more or less popular idea (not a new one, but at this time a more than usual pleasing one to some) that the woman who wishes to pass as pretty may do so through mind-sugary carry a little mirror in her pocket, so she may often look at herself in unoccupied moments, through the sight of girls' anxious consultation of a mirror (in a car for instance,) would likely amuse more than edify the on-lookers. Another bit of advice to the with the pocket mirror is that when she "suckles it away in her reticule because "a pleasant expression is apt she should always smile at herself." This is explained as a necessary thing, to linger on her face." It is quite pleasing to be told that even the actually ugly woman looks pretty if she will. Mrs. or Miss Neal says in the Woman's Home Companion:

"A woman should never look ugly for a moment, even to herself. She should never, never, get in the habit of being plain, even in the dark, behind the door of her room. The cold cream should be well rubbed in, then wiped off with a delicate dusting of some harmless baby powder to "take the shine off." If curl-papers there must be, the effect should be mitigated as far as possible with binding the rest of the hair over them, or donning the charming and fashionable night-cap. Wise is the woman who coils a ribbon about her head at night, and who is as fastidious about her night apparel as she is about her blouses! She is gaining the habit of beauty. And once gained she is not likely to loose it."

"I once knew a woman who was ugly, but who most determined and energetic in the pursuit of beauty. She made a practice, when she lay down to sleep, of saying solemnly and with great assurance, 'I and beautiful I am beautiful.' Fortunately, she had no sense of humor, and the courage of the hero of Trafalgar; and while I would not guarantee the formula as a panacea, as time went on. If a woman would go to sleep every night with a smile on her lips, and a hope for beauty in her heart, I think she would go far toward realizing her wish.

Wives of Two Democratic Chieftains at Baltimore

THOUGH only a handful of women sat as delegates in the two national conventions, the wives and daughters of prominent Republicans and Democrats were numerous in evidence at Chicago and Baltimore. Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Longworth were interested spectators of the proceedings in the coliseum, and among the women who attended the sessions of the Democratic convention were Mrs. Norman E. Mack, wife of the chairman of the national committee, and Mrs. Thomas Taggart, wife of the only "Tom" of Indiana. The photograph, which was taken in one of the less strenuous periods of their Baltimore sojourn, shows Mrs. Mack at the right, while Mrs. Taggart is seen at the left.

rocks and lilies, and hemstitched plain linens with flet lace monograms in one corner.

Cherry Cream Pie

Make a nice, rich pie crust and line a deep pie tin, fill with stoned cherries, add 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon strontarch and a little butter dotted over the top. Bake without a top and when nearly done, beat 1 egg until light, add 1-2 cup rich, sweet cream and pour over the pie. Bake until the custard is set.

Cherry Batter Pudding

Cream 1-2 cup butter with 1 cup sugar, add 4 well-beaten eggs, 1-2 cup sweet milk, 2 cups flour sifted with 1 heaping teaspoon baking powder and scant 1-2 teaspoon salt, then stir in 1 cup stoned cherries that have been drained from any excess of juice. Bake in a buttered pan in a quick oven, and serve with a sweet sauce.

A Becoming Frock for Mother's Girl

Girl's dress with long or short sleeve and with or without sailor collar.

Simple practical designs are always appreciated by home dressmakers. In the style here shown, there are several attractive and new features. The front closing, the pretty sleeve and cuff finish, and the sailor collar, all help to make this design attractive. All wash and woolen goods, silk or velvet may be used for its development. The pattern is cut in 4 sizes; 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. It requires 4 1-2 yards of 27 inch material for the 8 year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

Attractive Luncheon Set

Daisies embroidered in various colors upon heavy Irish linen make a charming decoration for a luncheon set, including a centerpiece and a dozen doilies. The petals of the flowers are in a single long stick, and therefore the work goes very rapidly although when the pieces are completed they look as though an immense amount of time had been spent in the decoration of them.

Other attractive luncheon sets are of Madeira-embroidered linen with plain edges and embroidered corners, of batiste bordered with French Cluny and inset with Italian flet madallions, and of fine canvas with a border of cluny, a circle of embroidered daisies centered with French knots and an inner ring of punch work.

Exceedingly dainty breakfast sets, says the Chicago Inter Ocean, include a cloth and small napkins of linen damash bordered with an English chintz flower design in green and red, green and pink or green and yellow and are hemstitched bordered. Another is of linen crash embroidered in cross-stitch and a third of pineapple patterned linen is edged with hand-crocheting.

New designs for table cloths include Belgian double damask with borders for square and round tables which begin at the center and widen to the edge; Irish linen with pin dots, with scroll borders, clover leaves, sham-

A FAVORABLE introduction is gained amongst business men through the use of HIGH CLASS STATIONARY. A clear cut letter head or a comprehensible bill printed on excellent paper will excite favorable comment even from a business rival. "HOME OF THE BEST PRINTING"

WE take this means of thanking all of our friends who have been thoughtful enough to compliment us on our "LARGER AND BETTER" DAILY REFLECTOR. The Raleigh Daily Times comments in part: "A paper which shows improvement reflects the development of the country over which it circulates. Every word of which is true. The Greenville Tobacco market will probably sell 14,000,000 pounds of tobacco this year, or 5,000,000 pounds more than last year. This meant a strenuous planting campaign by our farmers.
