WOODROW WILSON READY FOR ACTION

Goes to New York to Meet National Committeeman McCombs

HE WILL ROUND UP AFFAIRS

Will Decide Definitely Upon Appointment of National Treasurer and Chairman of Finance Committee

SEA GIRT, N. J., Aug. 2.—Governor Woodrow Wilson will take a hand tomorrow in getting the Democratic national campaign committee organized for action. He will leave here late tomorrow for New York where he will meet National Committeeman Wm. F. McCombs and probably decide definitely upon the appointment of a national treasurer and a chairman of the finance committee.

Whatever delay the national committee has been experiencing in the last two weeks would be swept aside tomorrow night the governor hopes, as he expected to be in conference with Chairman McCombs from early evening until midnight or longer rounding up as he phrased it, the affairs of the committee.

During the law he assured persons who inquired about the progress being made by the committee that no friction existed but that the failure to get started was due to the earnestness and thoroughness of the men planning the organization.

Josephus Daniels, national committeeman from North Carolina and chairman of the publicity committee dined with the governor tonight. He reported that the publicity committee, the newspaper contribution committee and the committee on organization of clubs and auxiliary election bodies were in full swing.

Of the visits today of Senator Culberson of Texas and Hoke Smith of Georgia and Representative Henry Clayton chairman of the House judiciary committee the governor said: "They were complimentary calls. We did not discuss campaign business."

Edward E. Grosscup, chairman of the New Jersey Democratic committee, talked with Governor Wilson at length today, arranging for New Jersey day at the Summer Capital, Aug. 17.

Mr. Grosscup estimated that ten thousand Democrats would call on the governor that day. Wilson not the governor that day. He declared the decision of Governor Wilson not to resign his office during the present campaign would please Democrats throughout the state. Speaking of his intention not to resign the governor said:

"I had been practically unanimously advised by my friends and newspapers of the state not to resign."

Resignation before the coming election might mean, it was pointed out, succession by a Republican president of the state senate and the governor likewise yielded to requests of many Democrats that less confusion would be caused in state politics if he retained his office. The governor expressed himself as highly pleased with the appointment of Wm. G. McAdoo of New York as one of the vice-chairmen of the campaign committee and he said two others would probably be chosen representing other parts of the country.

SHOOT'S BROTHER WHO ASKED HIM TO WORK

KINSTON, Aug. 2.—Charles Heath, a well-known young farmer in Greene county, was the victim in an unusual shooting affair, in which a younger brother was the assailant. Heath asked the younger man to perform some work about the tobacco barn on the farm on which they live, and enraged at the manner in which the request was made, the latter went to the house, secured a revolver, returned and began firing. One ball took effect, entering Hetab's knees. The wound is not serious, but exceedingly painful.

GOING STRONG AFTER GUN MEN

Two Locked Up in Tombs and News of Others Expected

POLICE HAVE SUSPICIONS

One of Those Captured States He Was Not in the City at Time of Tragedy, But Falls to Tell of Whereabouts

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—With Whitey Lewis and Dago Frank Cirofici locked in the Tombs as two of the four gun men who murdered Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, on July 16, police headquarters professed tonight to be expecting news at any moment of the capture of Bub the Blood and Lefty Louie, two other suspects still at large. Lewis, who was arrested last night at a resort near Kingston, N. Y., and brought here today, refused to admit when examined by Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty that he had any knowledge of the shooting and said that on the day before the murder he went out of town to visit relatives. He was very vague, however, as to just where these relatives lived. He was held for further examination on Tuesday.

That the two gun men still missing are in hiding in the same region where Lewis was picked up was the belief expressed at headquarters tonight, an dit was reported that a squad of detectives are hot on their trail.

It was said by Assistant District Attorney Moss, however, that he had received word from Auburn that the men were hiding in or near that city and it is understood detectives from the district attorney's office have been trying to run them down there for several days.

Moss took charge of the case early today in the absence of District Attorney Whitman, who left for Boston early in the day expecting later to go to Manchester, Vt., to remain over Sunday with his family. Directing his attention to the police phase of the case, brought into prominence by the allegations of Jack Rose and Bridgie Webber, that the annual levy of blackmail by the police on illegal resorts amounted to $2,400,000, Mr. Moss examined a number of gamblers and other characters of the underworld. The assistant prosecutor, however, would not tell what information he obtained.

Open Air Services

Every Sunday night during the month of August the congregations of the Methodist and Presbyterian churches will worship together in union services, the pastors of the respective communions alternating in the preaching. The first of these services, tomorrow night, will be held on the lawn adjoining Mr. Wiley Browns home. Mr. Lnacster of the Presbyterian church will conduct the service and preach.

The singing will be a special feature of these open air services and for tomorrow night will be under the direction of Mrs. Samuel White.

If the weather be inclement, the service will be held in the Methodist church.

Norwegian King's 40th Birthday

CHRISTIANIA, Aug. 3.—King Haakon VII, reached his fortieth birthday anniversary today, having been born August 3, 1872. He is the second son of the late King Frederick VIII of Denmark. Since he was elected to the crown by the Norwegian people in 1905 he has steadily grown in the favor of his adopted subjects. The King's popularity among the Norwegian people is shared to the fullest extent by the Queen, who before her marriage was Princess Maud of Wales, daughter of the late King

Open Air Concert

Those who attended the open air concert on the lawn of Mrs. Wiley Brown Friday night enjoyed a real feast of music, readings and recitations. Every number on the program was well rendered and pleasing. The concert was under the auspices of one of the circles of the Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church who realized a good sum from the sale of refreshments.

Wreck of the Schwaben, Latest Zeppelin Airship Destroyed

COUNT ZEPPELIN surely has had tough luck with his airships. The recent wreck of the Schwaben by an explosion of gas, when thirty-four soldiers were injured, several of them fatally, recalls the series of misfortunes to his dirigibles. The Zeppelin I was wrecked on Aug. 5, 1908, after making a flight which astonished the world. The Zeppelin II was wrecked in a windstorm on April 25, 1910. On June 28, the same year, the Deutschland I was wrecked in a gale. On the following Sept. 14 the Zeppelin VI was destroyed when a stern motor blew up. On May 16, this year, the Deutschland II was caught in a gale and completely demolished. The Schwaben was lying at anchor before the balloon shed when a strong gust of wind tore it from its moorings. The ship broke in the middle, and a few minutes later it exploded, caught fire and was entirely burned.

Robs Brother of Four Months' Believe Mann Will Win in the Decision

FRANK WOODALL, THE HUSBAND, IMMEDIATELY ENTERS SUIT FOR DIVORCE

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 2.—D. W. Woodall ran away with his brother's pretty wife yesterday and the brother, Frank Woodall today published a legal notice that he has applied for a divorce. Woodall and his wife had been married but four months. Mrs. Woodall is a daughter of J. B. Matthews, a butcher, of this place.

The elopement which leaked out today was partly by buggy and partly by train, it is alleged. The couple drove from here to Lakewood, a flagstation, a few miles from Fayetteville and there caught an Atlantic Coast Line train. Nothing has been heard of them since. The train they caught was going towards Greensboro. The divorce action is returnable at the October term of Cumberland court.

INTERESTING SESSION OF THE SUPERIOR COURT.

More Sensational Than Any For Many Years.

WILMINGTON, Aug. 2.—Today has been another filled with interest and surprises in Superior Court, which has already established a record for more sensational than any other term held in this part of the state in many years. This morning's session resolved itself into general discussion of crime conditions and law enforcement or lack of it. The discussion lasted for 3 hours and is regarded by all as being the most extraordinary probably in the history of the state.

LITTLE CHICK SMOTHERS IN HEART OF WATERMELON.

Peculiar Barnyard Story Springs Up From Kinston.
KINSTON, Aug. 2.—A half-grown chicken pecked its way into the heart of a watermelon in a Jones county barnyard this week and smothered to death M. L. Jones, a well-known farmer, declares that the chicken had gone so deeply into the melon that its feet only were sticking out.

MRS. DAISY GRACE ACQUITTED OF CHARGE OF TWENTY MILLIONS

Accused Woman was On Verge of Collapse at Conclusion of Trial

SIMPLY BOWS TO THE JURY

Curtain Lowered on the Last Act of the Atlanta Trial When the Jury Rendered Verdict of "Not Guilty"

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 2.—Mrs. Daisy Apie Grace was declared not guilty of trying to kill her husband, by a jury here at 5 o'clock this afternoon. Mrs. Grace, wealthy and well known in her former home in Philadelphia and here was on the verge of a collapse when the 12 men who had decided her fate filed into the courtroom. When the verdict was announced she simply bowed her head.

A few minutes after she had been freed she was handed a telegram saying her blind son was very ill in Philadelphia and it is understood she will leave for his bedside late tonight.

Immediately after the verdict was given women struggled frantically to reach the place where Mrs. Grace sat only to be forced back by officers. The jurymen remained in their places even after they had been discharged. A full minute elapsed and then Mrs. Grace arose and was assisted to the jury box. For the first time she showed a sign of animation, as she silently grasped the hand of each of the 12 men. Mrs. Grace was escorted from the courtroom immediately afterwards.

Grace was found in bed at his home here the morning of March 5 last, shot in the side. Mrs. Grace said Grace shot himself in a scuffle with her over the possession of a revolver after he had threatened to kill her. Mrs. Grace at first maintained she knew nothing of the shooting. Yesterday she was placed upon the witness stand and told of the scuffle, adding that Grace had threatened to kill her several times. It was this statement referred to in the judges' charge.

With the husband's face leering at her from the pillow of his cot, Mrs. Grace related her story to the jury: "I did not shoot Mr. Grace and he knows it. As God is my judge that is the solemn truth, she exclaimed dramatically and Grace's lips parted in a cynical smile. It was a remarkable story, told in a calm, even voice, without pause, as though it had been well rehearsed. Grace was revealed in black colors as a creature who had rewarded wifely love and generosity with the grossest cruelty and infidelity.

Mrs. Grace occupied the better part of an hour in its telling. At the conclusion she left the stand and the defense rested its case. As she did not make the statement under oath the prosecution was denied the privilege of cross examination. The state then put on one or two witnesses in rebuttal and rested finally.

Five hours are to be divided by the two sides in summing up. Lamar Hill, counsel for Grace, occupied an hour of the prosecutor's time before an adjournment was taken to go to the jury shortly after noon Friday.

A bold stroke by the prosecution in trying to have Grace sworn to rebut the statement of the accused woman did not succeed. Judge Roan ruled that, under the Georgia law, a husband was not competent to testify against his wife.

Mrs. Grace declared in her statement that Grace shot himself during a scuffle with her for the possession of a pistol with which he was trying to shoot her. It was not the first time he had attempted to kill her, she said. Last summer after she had made her will in his favor at his insistence she testified that he tried to throw her overboard from a steamer on which they were making a trip from New York to St. Johns. Sometime after they were in Atlantic City, she testified, he threw her across the bed and held a pistol at her head declaring that he would kill her if she did not stop talking to him about going to work. She said that he had beaten and choked her frequently.

ASK APPROPRIATION OF TWENTY MILLIONS

The State Good Roads Association in Session at Charlotte Adjourns

HIGHER TAX RATE ON AUTOS

Will Probably Call Meeting of Organization at Raleigh During Session of the Next Legislature

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Aug. 2.—The adoption of resolutions which clearly and forcibly outline the policies and purpose of the North Carolina Good Roads Association and which reiterate former demands that the state aid in the building of highways was the distinctive feature of the second and final day's session of the annual convention of the organization. The resolution adopted asks the state to appropriate $1,000,000 annually for good roads for the next 20 years, making loans to counties which desire to build good roads and in general assuming the attitude of a Building and Loan association. The resolutions condemn the present system of leasing convicts, urge a higher license tax of automobiles, the revenue to go to the maintenance of a state highway commission, heartily indorse the project to secure state and federal aid for road building and ring clear on every question which is vital to the course of unijFev

Two crowded sessions marked the closing day, addresses, resolutions, election of officers, open discussions and inspection of practical road building, with a batch of routine work being injected into the proceedings. Decision of a time and place for the next meeting was left with the executive committee with the suggestion that it be called at a time during the session of the coming legislature in Raleigh.

The resolutions as finally adopted begin with the startling assertion by way of preamble: "Realizing that the state of North Carolina, through her present county and township of road administration is annually wasting in money and labor at least $900,000 and that her present system of bad roads is now annually costing at least $12,000,000, the convention of the North Carolina Good Roads association would go on record as most heartily indorsing the charges and methods of procedure as embodied in the appended resolution.

The resolutions then declare it to be the sense of the association that the state appropriate $1,000,000 a year for the next 20 years for the construction of public highways and that a state highway commission be created to have control of this fund and the supervision of work on the roads of the state. They put the association also on record as indorsing state engineering assistance to counties in the location construction and maintenance of roads. It is also stated to be the belief of the association that all state convicts who are fit and suitable for road work should be used in the construction of public roads. They would have these convicts worked under the supervision of a highway commission or under the supervision of the North Carolina geological and economic survey. They would be under the care, however, of the penitentiary superintendent. It is provided that such an act should not interfere with the present method of working county convicts in their own counties.

Strong condemnation of the present system of leasing convicts to corporations or using them in the construction of any railways or for other private interests voiced in the resolutions. They provide that all profits derived from the penitentiary should be used in public road building, the proposed highway commission or go but that she had made him every sacrifice in this world that a woman could make for a man.

Grace's only comment after his wife had finished her story was: "It sounds slim to me; doesn't it to you?"

PROTECTIONISTS PLEASE ANSWER

The Republican platform reluctantly admits that there has been an increase in the cost of living in the United States, but seek to exonerate our system of excessive protection with the statement that prices have increased all over the world. This is true, but it is also true that the increase has been more than twice as great in the country under Payne-Aldrichism, that in free trade Great Britain.

Here is a query that every protectionist in the land is invited to answer: The United States official reports show that the average wholesale price of sugar in London averaged two cents per pound less during the last two years than in New York. The Payne-Aldrich tax on sugar is approximately two cents per pound. In England, sugar goes untaxed. If the difference in price in the two countries is not due to the tariff on sugar, to what is it due?

WHY BROWN SUGAR DISAPPEARED

Perhaps you have noticed that the old fashioned brown sugar, like our mothers used to cook with, has practically disappeared from the market. There is a reason. This reason consists of a joker in the Payne-Aldrich tariff law, in the form of a color test known as Dutch Standard No. 16. When the test was fixed it meant the barring out of the old fashioned brown sugar, cheap and good and that is why the brand of sugar has disappeared from the market. Whenever a tariff bill is in the making the agents of the sugar trust are on hand to see that the Dutch Standard is maintained and they had no difficulty in getting the makers of the Payne-Aldrich law to accede to their wishes.

TRUSTS THRIVE UNDER TARIFF.

John Moody, the editor of Moody's magazine, and perhaps the greatest financial authority in the country, has prepared a table which shows how the trusts have increased in number and capitalization under the present system of excessive protection.

Mr. Moody says that 25 per cent of all trust capitalization in this country represents actual investment, and that the remaining 75 per cent represents water.

Editor DePriest of the Shelby Highlander, very promptly wired an apology to Senator Simmons for the article in his paper that the Senator took offense at. The article was a communication and got in the paper during the editor's absence. The writer of the communication has also apologized to the Senator. Correspondents should be careful how they palm off things on the papers that are untrue.

Mr. Walter Buck, who has for the last few years been running The Leader at Spring Hope, has moved his plant to Ayden and started a paper there called The Ayden Advance. The first number has been received and makes a creditable showing. We congratulate Ayden upon having a paper. It is a good town that is progressing rapidly.

Wrightsville Beach has levied another on life in two persons being drowned there. One of the victims was a boy from Winder, Ga., who was a guest on the beach and the other was a colored waiter of one of the hotels.

Recent developments show the New York police force to be a tough bunch. And in some other cities they are almost as bad.

A news item from Washington says that "Uncle Sam" is broke again. So are a lot of his children, judging from the way collections come in.

The Thing To Do.

When a republican individual or a semi-republican individual, or a republican paper or a paper that leans toward the republican doctrine, advises a democrat what to do, why the thing to do it that which is precisely opposite.—Wilmington Dispatch.

Cussing The Wrong Man

Roosevelt's friends never cease to cuss the Taft machine at Chicago. What they should do is to cuss the plan of organization of the republican party that places so much power in the hands of few men. Those loudest in abuse of the convention's actions have heretofore reaped benefits from the machine, yet it is natural they should kick when they are getting the worst of it.—Greensboro Record.

H. Olin Young

H. Olin Young, who represents the Twelfth district of Michigan in the national house of representatives, was born at New Albion, N. Y., August 4, 1850. He attended the public schools in his native town and later graduated from Randolph Academy, Randolph, N. Y. Soon after his graduation he removed to Michigan, locating in Ishpeming. He was elected on the Republican ticket to the Michigan legislature in 1879. After one term in the legislature he retired to take up the study of law. He was admitted to the bar in 1882 and two years later was elected prosecuting attorney of his home county a position he held for ten years. Mr. Young is now serving his fifth term in Congress.

Letter to the Editors

Editor Reflector: Your correspondent has been perambulating a bit this week—picking up subscriptions here and there and talking to the people about various and sundry things. The result is that I have a few things of general interest I wish to give to your many readers.

While at Bethel Thursday I found that he interest in the Senatorial contest seemed to be predominant as between the Simmons and Kitchin supporters the lines are tightly drawn and the situation is rather tense to be comfortable for either party. Judge Clark has a few sturdy, earnest followers. These contend that the Judge's strength is growing every day and that by November 5th he will muster a considerable following in Bethel township.

It had been reported that Bethel township was practically solid for Mr. Simmons, but, to be perfectly fair about it, after a thorough investigation your correspondent falls to find it so easy for our Senior Senator at this time, while on the other hand, there is every evidence that the forces of Kitchin and Clark are pressing him hard for the ascendancy. Still with such tried warriors as S. M. Jones and M. O. Blount to direct for him

Editorial of Human Interest

By Arthur Brisbane

Part III

The intelligent man should see both sides of every question, the good in that which seems absolutely bad to the ignorant.

We should see the evil in the conditions of today in order to hurry forward the better time.

For those that want to know of the modern conditions, this is information in the extraordinary series of hitherto unpublished letters from the files of the Standard Oil Company, which are now appearing from month to month in Hearst's Magazine.

Readers whose minds are serious and who want to know how this country is ruled and why that which we call a republic piles up millions for a few and necessity for many, owe it to themselves to read those letters in the current number of Heart's Magazine and in the issues that are to follow.

Among the letters published this month you find a member of Congress, Sibley, humbly asking Archbald, of the Standard Oil, "If you think of anything for me to do, let me know," and you find this man obeying his master's orders—his real master, the Standard Oil, and paying no attention to the public at all, the master that hires him and pays him.

You find the Standard Oil ruler, Archbald, showing his appreciation of an humble servant by fighting for him in the elections, by writing to a former president of the Pennsylvania Railroad and to others, recommending the humble public official as one to be relied upon by organized money.

In the same series of letters you find that the faithful watchdog, Sibley, writes to Archbald that he must interest himself in Senator Bailey, of Texas, who is "prepared to make a great fight against the vicious principle that the government" can open the hooks of corporations and investigate them.

These letters that reveal our system of government based on organized finance give to the intelligent man a picture of life and conditions and influences at work that nothing else can give.

You find a man like Bailey, of the opponents of Senator Simmons will have no child's play in rolling up a majority against him. John Stator and old Uncle Matthew James, however, say that Kitchin has just got to win.

When you get down to Parmele, on the other hand, things look quite different. Here you hear nothing but Clark and Kitchin, with Clark in the lead so far as the city is concerned. However, when you touch the rural and go east in Martin county, you find an overwhelming sentiment of the Kitchin flavor, slightly sprinkled with a fresh package of Simmons' Liver Regulator. Whether similar conditions obtain as you advance further toward the eastern shore of our great state I am not sufficiently informed to speak about it. Taking everything as a whole, however, let it suffice that the partisans of either are not expecting such an easy time in landing their man. It is a battle royal, the like of which, has not been fought in his nomination for governor over the this state since Governor Kitchin won Honorable Ashley Horne and Locke Craig.

While the contest for the senatorial toga is occupying an important position on our political ladder, still there are other things claiming the people's attention in Pitt county just now. In a few days, August 17th, there is to be a Democratic primary in this county to decide who shall be party's nominees for the various offices to be filled. Many are the candidates, but the most interest centers in the contest for state senator. The candidates announced so far are Messrs. A. L. Blow, Julius Brown and W. F. Evans. Mr. Evans has the endorsement of the so-called anti-ring Democratic mass meeting. The people

Texas—whose character is now known to you, thanks to this newspaper, recommended to the Standard Oil in these words:

"Has the courage and ability to make a legal argument on the floor of the Senate second to none of that body."

"Had you ought not to have consultation with him some day?"

"One great man at the proper time would be a tower of strength and safety."

"He comes nearest today to being the leader of his party of any man in it."

And you soon find that the Standard Oil does indeed find it worth while to have a consultation with him some day.

You find the Standard Oil agreeing to supply a great amount of money to a United States senator—an amount so great that even the Standard Oil requests an arrangement to pay it in installments.

Hearst's Magazine fac-similes the letters of Archbald. In one letter to a Senator you read:

"It now gives me pleasure to enclose your certificate of deposit to your favor for $12,500, in fulfillment of promise."

In another letter to the same Senator you read:

"My dear Senator:

"In accordance with request in your favor to me of the 23rd I now beg to enclose you cashier's check National City, Bank of New York to your favor for $10,000.

"Very truly yours,
"John D. Archbald."

When the Standard Oil hasn't a convenient paid employe of the people to use as a messenger to the President or to others it employs other tools.

The trusts wanted a certain Senator elected and the Standard Oil agent always ready to oblige those that can be relied on to betray their trust to the people, writes: "I have asked our people to do everything they can through the Santa Fe."

In this case as you see, the power of a railroad which controls public men and some votes and some newspapers is to be used to put into the United States Senate another man that will serve organized money instead of the public.

The publications of these Standard Oil letters in Hearst's Magazine is a great service to the public and a great enlightenment.

They show the people are controlled and betrayed through those hired to work for the people.

But neither the Standard Oil letters nor revelations of any kind need discourage the earnest citizen.

The truth at last is coming out.

Those that care to know how the country is ruled can know. Such an organization as the Standard Oil, corrupt in some of its details and vicious in management as it may be, is a great lesson in organization, economy and efficiency.

It is one of many machines built up in this country for personal profit that will in the end show the way to public ownership and public prosperity.

argue that Mr. Evans' case has greatly suffered by this endorsement; that his campaign of vilification and denunciation of good and honorable men and their motives is rather to be condemned than approved, and that they are sure that he will get the kind of condemnation he so richly deserves at the hands of the Democrats on Aug. 17th.

I have talked with good many who say that they have voted the Democratic ticket their last time, yet assert that they are going to vote for Will Evans. Others who have been voting the Republican ticket for many years, I understand, expect to vote for the anti-ring candidate. I heard a man say the other day that he expected to vote for Taft, Simmons and Bill Evans. These kind of voters are commended to Messrs. Blow, and Brown, who are maintaining a painful silence while their anti-ring opponent is vilifying the party which he is begging to elect him to office; who is running over the country and denouncing honorable men besides causing to be distributed to the voters of Pitt county, false, vicious and insinuating literature, for the purpose of injuring others and building up himself. However, the people are not asleep. The avenging hand of public opinion will fall heavily upon any one who willfully insults and maligns the faithful servants of the people.

Blow and Brown should get down and show themselves worthy to represent our great party, or the people must look for some one who has the courage to go after man who has the goal to attempt to scorch its flag or trall in the dust.

Such, Mr. Editor, in brief, is the way the people think about it.

SIDEWALK SKETCHES

By Houara L. Rann.

CLOSETS

do not use it oftener than once a day.

A CLOSET is a place where people secrete long, nervous articles, dress, along with assortment of dry goods, notions, shoes and boots and shelf hardware.

The average closet is built along such generous lines that a long legged man can easily crawl into it head first and turn around the first time by tying himself into the form of a capital V and rolling over rapidly.

Closets are usually flooded with light from some tungsten lamp hung out in the hall, aided by the pale effulgence from certain filmy robes of night which we are not able to pronounce.

Clothing hung in a dark closet never stays in one place long enough to allow a man to find his peignoir. This is French word, which must be looked up to be appreciated. It is a coarse expression and refined people do not use it oftener than once a day. You can hang the baby's night-dress in one of these humid closets, on the first nail to the right and by bed-time it will have worked its way around to the last nail in the southwest corner, under a pink kimono, four princess slips, a lace yoked tea gown and a full set of imported lingerie.

There is nothing more pathetic than the spectacle of a near sighted husband groping his way from hook to hook in a cavernous closet, trying to locate something his wife knows she put there the day before yesterday. Nine times out of ten it will be found on the center table down stairs.

Some day closets will be constructed so that people won't have to back out of them over the mute remains of ostracised oxfords and the lithe forms of she boxes. The modern closet will also have a card index system which will enable a man to find his last summer's vest without pawing his way through four feet of silk petticoats.

If some women had a closet in every room as big as a corn crib they would still have to hang the overflow on the sewing machine.

News Forecast for the Week

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug 3.—There promises to be more doing in the field of politics during the coming week than at any time since the adjournment of the Baltimore convention which is to assemble in Chicago Monday. With the convention's nomination of Theodore Roosevelt for President the selection of his running-mate on the program of the entire will close in the grand presidential sweepstakes.
Governor Woodrow Wilson will receive formal notice that he is the Democratic candidate for President on Wednesday, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when the fifty-two members of the notification committee, with Ollie James, permanent chairman of the Baltimore convention, at its head, will gather at Sea Girt and break the news to him. Then Governor Wilson will make his "keynote" speech.
All parties in Kansas are to engage in a State primary Tuesday for the selection of candidates for governor, and other State officers, members of the judiciary, representative in congress, members of the legislature and county officers. The parties also will express their preferences for United States Senator to succeed Charles Curtis, whose term will expire next March, enSator Curtis is a candidate for re-election and is opposed on the Republican side by Governor Stubbs, who is making his fight on a progressive platform.
Whether Senator Robers L. Owen of Oklahoma is to have another term will be settled in the general primaries in that state Tuesday. The opposing Democratic candidate is former Governor Charles N. Haskell. Five republicans are contesting for senatorship.

Chief interest in the Missouri primaries to be held Tuesday centers in the Democratic contest for the gubernatorial nomination, in which the leading candidates are former Congressman William S. Coward and Attorney General Elliot W. Major.
Indiana Republicans will hold their State convention in Indianapolis Tuesday for the adoption of a platform and the selection of candidates for governor and other State officers to be voted for in November.
The Democrats of Colorado will hold their State "assembly" in Pueblo Tuesday to select the names of candidates to go on the ballot in the State primary next month.
Events of the week in other lands will include the celebration of the Krupp centennial at Essen which is to be attended by Emperor William; the dedication of the "Danish American National Park," in the province of Jutland, Denmark, the celebration in Rome of the ninth anniversary of the contraction of Eupore PiusX., the seventeenth International Congress Medicine, which is to be held in London, and the celebration of the opening of the great railway across the Andes, from Arica to La Paz.
Among the important conventions of the week will be the meeting of the supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias in Denver, the Southern merchants' Convention in Atlanta, the annual convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America, at Notre Dame Ind., the meeting of the Pacific Highway Association in San Francisco, the annual convention of the National Association of Organists, at Ocean Grove, N. J., and the annual meeting of the Canadian Medical Association at Edmonton.

Who He Sang.

A bird was lighted on a tree;
It was the April time of year,
And from his throat there come to me
His joyful note, strong and clear.

The branches are all brown and died,
And left a winter cold and chill;
And yet, by this unterrified,
He sings forth with a royal will.

So close 'tis yet to April's birth
That round him still the raw wind blow.
Yet in his happy, hopeful mirth,
Into his song his soul he throws.

There are no helpmates at his side;
From their retreats they have not flown;
Yet, with a heart to faith allied,
He tunes his mighty song alone.

And, as he fills his swelling throat,
Of which a singer might be proud,
And reaches for his highest note,
I ask: "Why sing so loud and loud?"

To me he thus in answer spake;
"I want to rid the earth of gloom,
So here I'll sing till I awake
This tree into a burst of bloom."
—Thomas F. Porter.

Trade Report

RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 1.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say for Richmond and vicinity: Trade conditions are irregular but may be classed on the whole as satisfactory. In dry goods, shoes and kindred lines the between season dullness is noticed, and filling in orders are not up to expectations. The most unsatisfactory feature in trade is the general slowness in collections without any tangible reason for this condition, this feature is apparent throughout the south particularly with the retail trade. Orders for fall and spring delivery of lines usually sold on long terms are being received in fair volume. Local building operations are active, creating a demand for supplies. Locomotive and manufacturers are well supplied with orders and labor is well employed. Local crop conditions are unfavorable due to extreme dryness. The cotton crop is reported in fair condition. Retail trade is fair, however, early discount sales are noted.

Mr. M. O. Blount is erecting a store west of Hotel Mayo, which when completed, is to be the equal of any store in Pitt county.

Our Road Supervisors have purchased a splendid road machine and bonds or no bonds, Bethel township is going to have good roads.

In behalf of The Reflector in this section this scribe tenders congratulation to the excellent write ups of the court news of last week. We do this because our people are always interested in the happenings in and about our county seat.

Mr. S. M. Jones suggested to us a few days ago that he could read a little local news now and then with considerable relish. Wherefore we call upon everybody everywhere who happens upon anything at any time worth knowing and telling to shoot it in forthwith and at once to the editor of the Reflector. Same will be appreciated.

Flying Men Fall

victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles just like other people, with like results in loss of appetite, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that T. D. Peebles Henry Tenn., proved. "Six bottle of Electric Bitters" he writes, "did more to give me new strength and good appetite than all other stomach remedies I used." So they help everybody. Its folly to suffer when this great remedy will help you from the first dose! Try it Only 50 cents at all Druggists.

ological survey to have use of such money in this road work.
The voiced hearty indorsement of some form of state aid by which the state may become security for county bonds and federal aid in public road building.
It was determined after a general discussion that the state should be asked to levy a higher yearly regulation on all motor driven vehicles, regulated according to horsepower. All such revenue should be used for the support of the state highway commission. It was estimated that the enactment of a state law with such provisions would be put into the hands of this commission about $25,000 annually. John L. King of Guilford, was unsuccessful in an effort to have a part of this license auto tax paid back to the county from which it came.
