

5th Annual Convention of The Deeper Waterways Convention

Will Convene in New London, Connecticut, in September

NORTH CAROLINA INTERESTED

Much Time Will Be Spent in Discussion Of The Recent Survey Of The Intracoastal Canal

PHILADELPHIA Pa. August 5.—What should prove to be one of the most interesting and important events of the fifth annual convention of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association which meets in New London, Conn., September 4th, 5th and 6th, will be a session devoted to the study and discussion of the report by the United States Board of Engineers on the recent survey of the intracoastal canal from Boston Mass., to Beaufort, N. C. This discussion will be taken up link by link by prominent members of the association and a course of action mapped out by those present. One of the most important links in the entire chain is that of the Chesapeake and Delaware canal which was completed in 1829 by hand labor and which has been but little improved since that time. Inasmuch as the southern end of the waterway from Norfolk to Abermarle sound is provided for in the last rivers and harbors act the association will during the next session of congress endeavor to have an appropriation for the improvement of the Chesapeake and Delaware canal written into the law.

Since its conception the association has earnestly endeavored to interest the New England states in the intracoastal canal project and has met with little success. This year, however, New England and Massachusetts in particular, appears to be enthusiastic over the entire plan. Boston will be represented by a delegation of 200 headed by Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, who will tour to New London by autos. Congressman Moore, president of the association has also received an acceptance from General Hugh Bancroft the youthful but live wire chairman of the board of directors of the port of Boston who is directing the stupendous task of spending $9,000,000 for harbor improvements at that port. General Bancroft will read a paper on the work he has undertaken toward the improvement of Boston harbor which should prove instructive as well as interesting.

While New England has been giving evidence of its awakening to the importance of the intercoastal project, the south continues to evince its enthusiasm and word has been received from Norfolk that the mayor of that important port and a strong delegation from the commercial bodies will attend the convention.

Finey Acker president of the chamber of commerce of Philadelphia and one of the city's foremost business men will read a paper on "Transportation and its effect on the cost of living." This important subject has not yet been fully considered by the consumer and the retailer yet bears upon one of the most important benefits to be derived by improved waterway transportation and this paper is naturally being looked forward to with a great deal of interest.

HELP THE FIREMEN.

They Want to Furnish Hall in Municipal Building.

The board of aldermen have turned over the hall in the municipal building to the Hope Fire Company for the exclusive use of the company as a meeting hall and quarters for the firemen. The firemen wish to properly furnish the hall and to this end will call upon the citizens of the town for assistance. The firemen give their services without compensation in saving property from destruction by fire and the citizens of the town can well afford to show their appreciation of this service by helping them furnish their hall.

CRANE NAMED AS THE PARTY'S NEXT TREASURER

DEMOCRATS HAVE ABOUT DECIDED UPON SUPPORTER OF LA FOLLETTE

WAS ONCE MINISTER TO CHINA

SEA GIRT, N. J., Aug. 4.—Charles R. Crane of Chicago wealthy manufacturer and supporter of La Follette in his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination may be treasurer of the Democratic national committee. Gov. Woodrow Wilson had the name of Mr. Crane under consideration today. The only announcement the governor would make was that a treasurer had been agreed upon by himself and National Chairman McCombs but that the name would be withheld until it could be determined whether the man selected would accept.

Mr. Crane who was appointed by President Taft in July 1909 as minister to China, but who was recalled in October in the same year just as he was leaving for the orient, is known to have leaned favorably toward the candidacy of Governor Wilson, having so expressed himself on a recent visit to Sea Girt in company with President Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin.

The announcement that Joseph E. Davies, of Wisconsin, secretary of the national committee, would be in charge of the Wilson headquarters at Chicago, acting there also as assistant treasurer, added some strength to the probability that Mr. Crane would be selected as national committee treasurer because of the friendship between Messrs. Davies and Crane.

It is known that many of the members of the national committee have been desirous of having a man outside of New York city appointed and that the name of Mr. Crane has been within the last week set before National Chairman McCombs who placed it before Governor Wilson. Herman Ridder, who now holds the office of treasurer, it was first thought, would retain the office, but he declined, announcing however his firm support for Governor Wilson.

Governor Wilson returned to Sea Girt tonight after a 24 hour visit to New York but of the score or more political leaders in New York, none saw him. In fact, Governor Wilson talked politics with National Chairman McCombs just four hours, slept 14 hours and reclined in the reading room of the University club until late in the afternoon.

Organists at Ocean Grove

OCEAN GROVE, N. J., Aug. 5.—Ocean Grove is to entertain this week the largest gathering of organists ever assembled in this country. The occasion is the fifth annual convention of the national Association of Organists, which held its opening session in the auditorium today. During the week the convention will discuss among other subjects, ways for promoting the more extensive use of the organ as a concert instrument and the relations which the church organist bears to his minister, his music committee and his public.

Knights of Pythias Meet

DENVER, Col., Aug. 5.—Many prominent members of the Knights of Pythias from every state, of the Union and nearly all of the Canadian provinces, are arriving in Denver for the meeting here this week of the 27th biennial session of the Supreme Lodge. Contrary to the custom in the past the encampment of the Uniform Rank is not to be held this year in conjunction with the Supreme Lodge convention. There will be a meeting, however, of the allied organization, the Pythian Sisters.

Cut The Fence Again

It was hoped that the people who heretofore had been cutting the new stock law fence had realized the gravity of such conduct and would not try to interfere with a law being put in effect. But the report comes in that on one night last week the fence was again cut and otherwise damaged. Good citizens would not be guilty of such conduct.

Our Athletes Kept In Trim While En Route to Stockholm

Photos by American Press Association.

THE American athletes, who proved the stellar attraction of the Olympic games in Stockholm, kept up their training aboard ship on the way over. An improvised track was marked out on one of the decks of the Finland, and the sprinters made good use of it. The figures shown in the picture, from left to right, Andrew Sokalaxis, an Indian of Old Town, Me.; Lewis Tewanima of Carlisle Indian school and John Reynolds and Mike Ryan of the Irish-American Athletic club of New York, all participated in the twenty-five mile Marathon, the classic of the Olympic games. Sokalaxis finished fourth and Tewanima seventeenth. Reynolds and Ryan found the heat and course too much for them and quit before the finish. The athlete shown doing a stunt in the ship's rigging is Jack Eller of New York, who contested in the hurdle events, but was unplaced.

PROGRESSIVE PARTY WILL BE FORMALLY LAUNCHED TODAY

More Than a Thousand Delegates Will Be In Attendance

TEDDY WILL BE THE CHOSEN

Will Head The New Third Party Ticket, But as to Who Will Be His Running Mate Is Yet to Be Settled

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—The national Progressive party will be formally launched tomorrow at noon in the Coliseum where a little more than a month ago President William Howard Taft was renominated for the presidency on the Republican ticket over the protest of many of those now leading the third party movement.

The big convention hall, ready for the new party, shows but few changes in the arrangements provided for the Republican national convention. Over the main entrance door, however, has been hung the head of a magnificent specimen bull moose in token of the nickname attached to the new party.

Between 1,100 and 1,200 delegates are expected to gather in the Coliseum tomorrow to participate in the convention which already has attained a place in this history of American people. On Wednesday, when all of the necessary preliminaries of a national political convention has been disposed of they will ratify the nomination of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt for president. Colonel Roosevelt was tentatively placed in nomination at a gathering here the last night of the Republican convention when his followers assembled in Orchestra hall and laid the foundation upon which tomorrow's convention was built.

Who will be the nominee for vice president has not yet been determined. Few of the leaders in the city will discuss the subject of a running mate for the colonel declaring that it is a matter to be threshed out in the convention and decided as the delegates deem best for the interests of the party. On every hand there is the apparent purpose of the convention.

tion leaders to defer announcements of any character whatever until the convention shall have assembled and the delegates have been consulted.

So far, only the temporary officers of the convention have been given out. It was quite generally reported tonight, however, that Colonel John M. Parker of New Orleans, a Democrat would be the permanent chairman of the convention. For a time it appeared to be the plan to retain former Senator Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana, the temporary chairman as the permanent presiding officer, but it was said tonight Mr. Beveridge had expressed a desire that this be not done.

Many of the leaders in the new party movement, anxious to avoid any semblance of alliance with the old parties are urging that the Democrats who have joined the movement, particularly those from the south, have special recognition in the convention.

There has been much talk of nominating a southern Democrat for second place on the ticket, but this plan did not gain much headway today. Governor Hiram W. Johnson of California, still is talked of as the most likely candidate for vice president and while he is not a candidate for the office it is said he will accept the nomination if the delegates desire it. Governor Johnson is regarded as one of the leaders anxious to attract as many Democrats to the new party standard as possible.

Convention of Jewelers

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 5.—An intense fortune in diamonds, emeralds and other precious stones was placed on exhibition here today as a feature of the American National Retail Jewelers Association. Representatives of the jewelry trade throughout the United States and Canada are here to take part in the convention, which will begin its sessions at the Coates House tomorrow morning. Four days will be devoted to the discussion of legislation, fixed selling prices and Washington are applicants for prices and profits and other subjects pertaining to the trade. Chicago and Washington are applicants for the next convention of the association.

TAKE CONVICTS FROM UNHEALTHY QUARTERS

BOARD OF HEALTH ORDERS PRISONERS MOVED IMMEDIATELY FROM CAMP

SANITARY CONDITIONS ARE FIERCE

WILMINGTON, Aug. 4.—Representatives of the county board of health having visited the convict camp on the federal point road and reported that conditions there were even worse than described in the grand jury's charge, Judge Frank Carter of Ashville who presided over the term of Superior court just closed, ordered that all the convicts be brought to the city and placed in jail and kept there until such time as the county commissioners make better provision for the prisoners on the roads. The convicts were brought in this morning and placed in jail. It is claimed that the food is unwholesome and lacking in quantity prisoners are required to sleep in sweaty garments in which they work in the day, that the sleeping quarters are overcrowded and that the general sanitary conditions at the camp are unhealthy.

VIRGINIA GIRL ASSAULTED FOR THE SECOND TIME

Mathews County Scene of Crime. Daughter of Prominent Citizen

RICHMOND Va. Aug. 4.—Governor Mann wired the sheriff of Mathews county today bidding him to tell the citizens of the county that the law must be allowed to take its course in event the man who assaulted Miss Miller near the court house yesterday is captured. Mean while the Governor sees no occasion for calling out the militia to frustrate a probable lynching.

Miss Miller was in a field about 200 yards from her home when she was assaulted. The young woman was reported as being in a very serious condition.

Miss Miller, according to the telephone operator, declares that the man yesterday was the same one who assaulted her a year ago in a strip of woods running from her home. She said her assailant was a white man, and that he wore long beard.

Miss Miller's family is one of the most prominent in Eastern Virginia. Her father has served several terms in the Virginia legislature, besides for several years being secretary of the Virginia Board of Fisheries, now known as the Virginia Fisheries Commission.

About a year ago, as Miss Miller was riding horseback along a country road in Mathews county an unknown assailant jumped from the woods and criminally assaulted her. She made her way home and gave the alarm.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Present Board Have Served the People Well and Should be Retained in Office

Editor Reflector: It speaks well for the community that so many good citizens of the county offer themselves as candidates for county commissioners. I notice in the columns of your paper the names of some of our best men. But is it to the best interest of the people to replace such men as W. E. Proctor, B. M. Lewis, J. P. Quinley, J. J. May and D. J. Holland (the present board) with new men? The members of the "Old Board" are not only qualified to serve but are already acquainted with the affairs of the county and if re-elected will continue to give us a good, sound administration.

Let the voters think well over these things and I believe they will realize it is to their advantage to vote to return the members of the present board, in the county primary that is to be held on August 17th. DEMOCRAT.

Several tobacco barns near town were destroyed by fire last week, one on the farm of Mr. J. G. Moya and three on the farm of Mr. O. L. Joyner.

J. F. Edwards Fires at Ben R. Warren Inflicting Ugly Wound

INJURY MAY PROVE FATAL

Bad Feelings Had Existed Between The Two Men For Some Time.—Used Stick Before Drawing Pistol

NEW BERN, Aug. 4.—Last night at 8 o'clock at Vanceboro, Ben R. Warren, the liveryman, was shot by Postmaster J. F. Edwards. Only 3 of the bullets took these merely pierced the skin indicating that the pistol which Edwards threw away after the shooting was of a cheap quality. The third bullet, however, pierced Mr. Warren's right side and may prove of a very serious possibly fatal nature.

Warren was attended by Drs. John son and J. A. Druid and will probably be brought to the Stewart sanitarium. Edwards is under arrest at Vanceboro.

There has been bad feeling between the men for some time and it broke out afresh yesterday when the post master so it is claimed, refused to send Warren his mail.

The two men had the difficulty which resulted in the shooting in front of Warren's stables. After some words Edwards struck Warren with a stick. Then he pulled out the pistol and began shooting. Warren walked off about a hundred yards and fell. His son, B. B. Warren, had come up in the meantime and gone to the aid of his father, whom he assisted to his feet and accompanied to Dr. Johnson's office. At the threshold the elder Warren fell and his son picked him up and carried him inside. It is charged that after Warren fell and before his son got to him Edwards walked up to the prostrate victim and kicked him.

Sympathy at Vanceboro is almost all with the wounded man. He is a small man and his assailant is a man of large size. Warren had no weapon of any sort, not even a pocket knife it is said.

Among the many rumors which were flying around the streets was one that Edwards had been heard by several to say that he would kill Warren.

Another shooting scrape, and one with a humorous side to it, occurred about the same time the Edwards-Warren encounter. Will Dudley, a negro, called Dick Cleve an insulting epithet and later followed it up by throwing a lighted cannon cracker into Mr. Cleve's room, giving quite a shock to Mr. Cleve who responded with a load from his shotgun which, however, did not take effect.

PRIMITIVE BAPTIST IN SESSION AT DURHAM

Great Crowds Attended All-Day Services and the Sunday Dinner

DURHAM, Aug. 4.—A sudden lowering of the temperature and a drizzle of rain sent the Primitive Baptist association from the picturesque arbor in the northern section of the city to the Academy of Music this morning for the morning services. Elder P. T. Gold preached the first sermon at 10 o'clock to a crowded house. He was followed by Elder J. A. Shaw. Instead of having dinner on the association grounds the people moved their tables into the Banner warehouse which is not very far from the academy and there fed the multitudes. There was a great crowd, but the Durham people had prepared more than enough for the crowds.

Tar Heel Surrenders

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 3.—A man giving his name as C. S. Snipes, of Burt county, North Carolina, surrendered to the police today saying he was wanted in Burt county for the murder of John Britton, September 19, 1901. Snipes told the police his conscience hurt him and that he was tired of dodging the officers. He is being held pending an investigation.

THE NATIONAL TICKET

Wilson Marshall

They also have female bdnl tigers in Charlotte and the other day two of them got four months each on the roads.

T. R.'s bull moose chase begins today. It will be a short minded chase even though it begins in the windy city.

Governor Wilson has formerly announced that he will not re-en as governor of New Jersey during the presidential campaign. There is no reason why he should.

Hon. H. S. Ward of Washington, and Judge Clark are both canvassing in the latter's interest in the senatorial race and following on the trail of Governor Kitchin. In the meantime Senator Simmons is standing by his job.

No one yet seems to realize Greenville's need for them had enough to get right down to work with a view of securing manufacturing enterprises for the town. Read the article from the Wilmington Dispatch, headed "The Best Population Increase," which we publish elsewhere and get busy.

It was hardly necessary for Senator Simmons to have denied Governor Kitchin's insinuation which the latter has subsequently withdrawn, that the press of the state is subsidized in the senator's behalf. The men composing the Press of North Carolina is composed of men who have minds of their own and have the right to express their own opinions even though some partisan man now and then thinks to the contrary if such opinions happens to be opposite to their own.

Though it may be unnecessary among a people who read the papers as closely as do the people of North Carolina, who intend to make some reference to Governor Kitchin's recent speech in which he said the Press of the state was aligned against him and was treating him unfairly. However, an editorial in the Kinston Free press answers every charge of the governor so completely that we reproduce that in another column, have prompted newspaper men to fa-

It expresses just what the people of the state know is true about the Press of North Carolina.

NEWSPAPER SUPPORT

"It is my misfortune to have the newspapers of the state against me in this fight" said Governor Kitchin in his Charlotte speech Thursday. The fight that the governor refers to is the senatorial struggle in which he is now engaged.

Perhaps his excellency is a little too sweeping in his statement. We had thought that among our valued exchanges were to be found some active Kitchin champions and surely the governor does not ignore their services or class them with the unregenerates.

But it is a fact that most of the newspapers of the state are anti-Kitchin and for Simmons. And for this state of affairs there is a reason.

Governor Kitchin intimates that money is the reason. He says that if he had money enough he could buy two pages in the News and Observer and space in all the other papers and fill up with material boosting his own campaign. This is probably true. Most if not all the newspapers of the state regard their space as their stock in trade and require paymen for it just as the grocer demands pay for his stock. Most of the news papers will accept advertisements of an unobjectionable nature and not repugnant (in the opinion of the proprietors) to sound public opinion.

Most of the state's newspapers bar liquor advertisements for instance, as being subversive of sound public policy; but Governor Kitchin's candidacy for the senate is not so far as we know, regarded in this light. Hence advertising columns would be and are open to him on the same terms as to anybody else.

But if the governor is under the impression that because an advertiser buys space he can buy either the editorial or news service of a paper, he is sadly mistaken. A man might possibly be able to thus influence a few but only a very few, papers.

But the governor is correct in his assertion that the newspapers as a rule, do not support his aspirations in the present contest. And for this there is a reason and money paid for advertising space is not the reason.

The newspapers of the state are its sentinels. It is their business to be watchful of the state's interests and to view critically any proposition that has a bearing on the state's development. They realize that the bestowal of a United States senatorship has a very important bearing on the progress and development of the state. They know that an efficient senator will do much more for his state than an inefficient one will do.

And right here is the reason. They know that Mr. Simmons is an efficient senator and they doubt that Mr. Kitchin would be one in that his record of accomplishment during his twelve or sixteen years of public service shows really nothing done, nothing of any practical benefit. Mr. Kitchin is an engaging gentleman, a great talker, a good fighter and all that; but these qualifications are not to be considered in a grave matter like the bestowal of a United States senatorship.

The newspaper men know it, and hence refuse to support Mr. Kitchin in his fight.

The contest is one between efficiency and inefficiency. That is the point that appeals to the newspaper men and causes them to support Mr. Simmons rather than Mr. Kitchin in this contest.

Mr. Kitchin and his more rabid partisans have tried to becloud the atmosphere by injecting a lot of political claptrap into the situation. Mr. Simmons has been accused of being a Republican. But the accusation is all; there is no proof. Democrats tried and true know that Simmons is a Democrat with his Democracy on straight. They know that he has stood for the square deal as between men and sections; and because of his record in the past they know that they can trust him in the future.

It is considerations like these that have prompted newspaper men to favor Simmons candidacy. Loving their state and wishing her well, so licitous of her development and realizing the conditions, they could scarcely do otherwise.—Kinston Free Press.

The Best Population Increase
What Rocky Mount needs is more manufacturing plants. If we are to have 20,000 people here in 1920, the surest way to get them is by bringing to the city such business enterprises as will attract the people.—Rocky Mount Telegram.

On the right track and too much steam cannot be put on when going in that direction, because it is a need of many other towns and it is being recognized. It is one of Wilmington's needs, and about the only thing necessary in order to complete the circle of success and make this city one of the biggest in the South. Natural advantages, which cannot be purchased, begged or borrowed, are Wilmington's and the only thing needed to place the finishing touches to the picture is the factory. The ekeham is right in hitting upon the manufacturing plant as the means of increasing a city's population. In fact, it is the only way; that if for a substantial increase, here is nothing else that brings many new people to a town. A new store opens occasionally, but the proportion is not such as to indicate increase population. In fact, new stores are dependent upon increased population. If there are no more people, what is the use of more stores? Profits may be divided with some other establishment, but that's all. Then there is merely a "swap" of dollars. The factory means something being created in a town to be sent forth to bring back new money. Factories mean an opportunity for more labor, a demand for more toilers. Expansion in population means more money in circulation, especially when the man of the overalls gets his pay envelope every Saturday night and turns it loose—in cash, which helps everybody.—Wilmington Dispatch.

James M. Taylor

Dr. James M. Taylor for more than a quarter of a century president of Vassar College, the famous institution for the education of women at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., August 5, 1848 and was educated at the University of Rochester and Rochester Theological Seminary. For nearly ten years following his ordination to the Baptist ministry in 1871 he was settled as a pastor in South Norwalk, Conn., where he made a reputation not merely by his preaching, but also by his public spirit, manifested in the successful promotion of enterprises of a charitable or educational character. From South Norwalk he was called to Providence, to take charge of a church there and he left Providence in 1886 to become president of Vassar and professor of mental and moral philosophy in that college. Dr. Taylor is the author of a number of works on philosophical and religious subjects.

For You.

For you I could forget the gay Delirium of merriment,
And let my laughter die away
In endless silence of content.
I could forget, for your dear sake
The utter emptiness and ache
Of every loss I ever knew—
What could I not forget for you?

I could forget the just deserts
Of mine own sins, and so erase
The tear that burns, the smile that hurts
And all that mars and masks thy face.

For your fair sake I could forget
The bounds of life that shade and fret
Nor care if death were false or true—
What could I not forget for you?

A Prayer

Dear God, when day runs swiftly in its might,
With all its glitter and its gaudy haze,
Its mockish pretense and o'er crowded ways,
My baser self stalks proudly up the height,
And I forgot Thy constant, watchful sight,
That, like a sentry, ever with me stays.
But when the night draws close its edon veil,
To hush the laughter and the noisy shout,
And silence fills the empty street without,
I see Thy stars beyond the fumult sail;
Lo! then I turn repentant, sad and pale
To please Thy blessing ere the light go out!

SIDEWALK SKETCHES

By Howard L. Rann.

LEONIDAS

LEONIDAS was a Spartan hero who earned a large bronze monument by holding the pass of Thermopylae with 3 hundred men and a shoestring. Leonidas was king of Sparta at the time this occurred. Sparta was a small, irritable country, about the size of a Florida town site, but it was never stepped upon with any success. The male population lived on neayenne pepper and rare beefsteak and practiced shooting at a mark eight hours a day. Every once in a while some foreign potentate would make up his mind to tie Sparta to his chair wheels and subdue her proud spirit, but he invariably returned home and kicked himself into a state of sweet somnolence. Along about 480 B. C. Xerxes, king of Persia, became offended at something Sparta had said and decided to annex her in a hostile tone of voice. He accordingly rounded up a neat little army of 2,000,000 men and headed for the Grecian archipelago, which was about in the same place it is now.

Xerxes did not get far before he ran into the path of Thermopylae, which was a short cut between the mountains wide enough to allow two thin men to pass each other without being telescoped. Here Xerxes found Leonidas drawn up in battle array, defying the whole Persian army in some of the rudest Greek adjectives ever used.

Xerxes took the affair as a joke until Leonidas had spit a few thousand Persian husbands on his trusty sword, when he concluded that this was increasing the pension roll too fast and hired the only crooked Spartan ever discovered to lead his army through a pass in the mountains until he could get in Leonidas' rear.

When Leonidas discovered that he was surrounded he mounted a stump and announced that it was his present intention to die with his boots on or words to that effect. He thereupon gave his three hundred men a nice course dinner and after adjusting the boots charged the entire Persian army which filled him so full of swords that he had to be pinfeathered before being removed to the family residence.

Reception to Mrs. Cotten GREENSBORO, Aug. 3.—At the Country Club Thursday afternoon the ladies of the Womens' Club gave a very delightful reception complimentary to Mrs. R. R. Cotten of Bruce, president of the North Carolina Federation of Womens' Clubs. Mrs. Cotten has been spending the past week in the city attending the conference of the North Carolina Home Makers, that is being held at the State Normal college.

Over one hundred ladies were present at the occasion. A course of refreshments was served and the afternoon was thoroughly enjoyed by all of the club women who went out to meet their distinguished president.

What the Woman's Clubs Have Done.

More and more it is impressed upon me what we gain by our clubs and federations, writes Helen M. Winslow in the Delineator.

To the conservative woman, federation brings the gradual breath of mind; to the radical woman it brings the knowledge of the individual point of a view, the best lesson ever learned, to the lonely woman it brings friends and fellowship; to the unhappy work and forgetfulness of self; to the rich woman it has brought knowledge of the obligations entailed by her possessions; to the poor it has brought genuine help and uplift in multitudes of cases.

Let us balance our gains and losses in considering this influence of the women's club.

We have gained the out-of-door habit, we have lost the "crazy quilt" and impossible fancy-work habit. We have gained an independence and freedom of dress.

We have gained a sense of the social truth that "an injury to one is the concern of all;" we have lost the narrow selfish for our own, and our own way.

We have gained in some measure the knowledge that should belong to every citizen of nation, state or city. We have lost the helpless ignorance which has kept unjust laws regarding women on our statute books for all past time.

We have gained the idea that mere belongings are not the whole of the home and that cheerfulness intelligence, and fresh air are the old fashion of pedsonality scrubbing all the paint in the house twice a year, and wonder of wonders we have even gone so far as to put off washing from Monday to another day under streets of circumstances.

Again, there is the effect of the club upon the home of the single woman, and indirectly its influence upon the matrimony. Not so many years ago she unmarried woman had no home; she "just lived with somebody," the "somebody" either ignored her existence or made her the drudge of the family. She had no position, no interests, nothing to live for.

In those days the club had taught women that there were beautifully pleasures in the world, interesting things to do, helpful lives to live, even though not married, a woman was almost forced into matrimony. Best of all the single woman is permitted to have her own home, her household goods; she has learned through the club that there is helpful companionship and recognition, and that life may be full and rich.

Philadelphia Pudding

Scald in a double boiler one quart of rich milk. Beat six level teaspoonfuls of rice flour (don't substitute corn starch) in sufficient cold milk to render free from lumps. Stir these gradually into scalding milk. Blanche and pound throughly twenty-five ordinary almonds and six bitter almonds. Stir into mixture while boiling, one and a half cupful of sugar. Stir frequently to avoid lumps. Boil one hour. Turn into a pudding dish, and decorate with mounds of stiffly beaten egg whites, and bake a few seconds until browned in a very hot oven. In the center of each mound put a sugared almond. Around the mounds place candied cherries. Serve cold with plain cream.

Philadelphia Scrapple

Clean and scrape well a pig's head and feet and boil until tender, putting on the fire in cold water with some onions, carrots, two of each, some pieces of turnip, salt, and pepper and a dish of paprika. When tender remove from the liquor and put the meat through a meat chopper; extract all grease and boil again in some meat, add one pound of Indian meal rich stock. To each three pounds of and one pound of rolled oats. Cook in a double boiler for an hour. It should be very thick like porridge. Sugar added to the scrapple improves it. Wet molds or square bread tins in cold water, fill with scrapple and set away to cool. When wanted for use, slice, dip in crumbs and fry in butter.

All Newspaper Jobs Look Alike

A writer on the Decatur, Ind., Democrat, seems to have had the wrath of mankind turned upon him, and his ears must have "rung true" and "burned" some when he evolved the following heroic discourse:

The prevailing custom of seeking to suppress legitimate news items has about exhausted the patience of most newspapers published in this country says an exchange. There is no logical reason why such news should not be published regardless of the persons concerned. The fellows who get into trouble never give a thought about their mothers or their sisters until after their sins have been found out and then they rush to a newspaper reporter—who, as a rule, they never before considered worth being treated civilly—and on bended knees, tears in their eyes, and slobbers on their lips, beg to be spared the notoriety which they have so richly merited. About this time they ore dreadfully concerned about their poor mother or their suppresentive sister. This class of fellows are not worthy of consideration. They are cowards in the first place, or they would stand up like men, make the most of a bad matter, and make amends for the past by future good behavior. As for the dear old mothers and sisters, they need not be worried, for io one whose opinion amounts to as much as a yellow dice, will censure the good old mother or sister, or even the old man and the brothers for the misdoings of some black sheep. Of course relatives dislike to see the name of their kin in print in a unfavorable light. Neither do they like to see him in jail, but sometimes it becomes necessary to put them there, and when their acts warrant their arrest, the should also ceive the pulicety that is due them. If you do not make news that is unfavorable to you the newspapers will have nothing of the kind to publish, but if you persist in making it then you must expect to stand in the spotlight of publicity occasionally.

If there is any disgrace it is in the action of the parties themselves, not in the publication of the facts. The people pay for the news and it is a publishers duty to get it if he can.

Every subscriber to a newspaper takes the paper, not to see what has been suppressed, but to ascertain the facts concerning what is going on in his home town and abroad, and it is an implied obligation on the part of the publisher to furnish the readers all the information possible.—Wapokenate, Ohio, Times.

Give! Give! Give! of whatever you have and hold,
A word is worth while
And even a smile
Is good for its weight in gold.

Work! Work! Work! and be glad there is work to do,
Do your best
And leave the rest
To God who believes in you.

Love! Love! Love! and be richer, far, for the giving
Grow each day
In some good way,
And life will be worth living.

Go Right at It

Friends and Neighbors in Greenville Will Show You a Way
Get at the root of the trouble. Rubbing an aching back may relieve it. But won't cure it if the kidneys are weak. You must reach the root of it—the kidneys. Reach the cause; relieve the pain. Begin at once with Doan's Kidney Pills. Are recommended by thousands. Here is a statement from a resident of this vicinity.
Mrs. James Garris, Twelfth street, South Greenville, N. C., says: "I am pleased to add by endorsement to the many already given in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills. For a long time I was troubled by my kidneys and I suffered intensely from backache and pains in my shoulders. Headache and dizzy spells bothered me and I rested so poorly that when I got up in the morning, I was in no fit condition to begin my work. When I read of Doan's Kidney Pills, I immediately got a supply from the John L. Wooten Drug Co., and to my delight; they did me a world of good. I can now rest better at night and my back and kidneys do not bother me."
For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

SHELBY Aug. 3.—The most terrific hail and wind storm in this section for many years raged this afternoon for nearly an hour. The velocity of the wind was approximately sixty miles an hour. Hail stones, large as a man's thumb, fell in thick showers. Limbs were torn from trees and growing crops of corn and cotton were cut to the ground. Cotton around the county home was totally ruined. The storm was not general over the county.

Yingling is Promising.
Critics all around the National league circuit are picking Earl Yingling of the Dodgers as one of the most promising young southpaws picked up in the 1912 crop. Earl is a stockily built youngster and has loads of smoke on the ball. He learned the rudiments of baseball on town lots in Dayton, Ohio, later played with the high school team of that place and his first real engagement was with the Toledo Mud Hens. He soon attracted the attention of major league scouts and now seems anchored with Brooklyn. He is the son of a clergyman and has a brother in professional baseball.

Aid His Reformation.

SUSPENSIONS ARE NOT JUST

Patrons of Baseball Games Punished by League Executive When Players Are Taken Out.

The presidents of the American and National leagues should have learned by this time that it is unwise to punish the patrons and owners of clubs by suspensions, says the Chicago Evening Journal. Ban Johnson suspended Ed Walsh for five days and Tom Lynch suspended Tinker and Zimmerman for three days. These men are the star attractions of their respective clubs. A man pays his money to see Walsh or Tinker and Zimmerman play. When he reaches the ball park, he finds that they are out of the game because they have been suspended. When the star is unable to appear at a theater the management usually offers to refund the price of tickets. There is no refund at a ball park, although the fans are as much entitled to it under the circumstances as are theater-goers. The suspension of ball players should be stopped. The club owners have only to order their presidents to discontinue it. Suspending a ball player does not punish him, no matter how much he may deserve punishment. It does not punish him to give him a rest, but a fine of say $100 for foul or obscene language on the field would hurt him. If a player knew he would be hit in the pocket-book every time he used bad language on the field, the conversation on the ball field soon would be a model for drawing rooms. The underlying idea of suspensions—that of maintaining discipline and keeping order—can not be criticised. Order and discipline are absolute essentials, but it has been proved time and time again that suspension as a disciplinary measure is a failure. It punishes only the club owner and the fans—not the offending player. It is unfair to take games from one club and give them to another by suspending the most valuable players. The spirit of American sportsmanship rebels at such methods.
