Clapp Investigating Committee, Shocked by Chicagoan Statement

MEMBERS OF COMMITTEE PERSUADE HIM TO STOP

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Medill McCormick, of Chicago, stirred up a sensation before the Clapp committee today when as the first witness of the days session, he read a statement touching upon the attempted assassination of Colonel Roosevelt declaring it had been incited by "falshoods of character assassins and liars like Charles D. Hilles."

"It is difficult for any ordinary man in the compass of ordinary language to compete with the testimony of character assassins and liars like Mr. Hilles—men who, by their falshoods incite weak minded men to actual assassinations," was the passage which brought out a storm of protest from the committee in which Chairman Clapp joined.

Colonel Dewey, W. W. Durbin, of Ohio; Colonel George M. Harvey and Elmer over, secretary of the Republican National Committee in 1904, were scheduled as the other witnesses for today.

TOWER OF THE ADMINISTRATION BUILDING, PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION.

FROM an architectural viewpoint the dominating feature of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition will be the huge tower of the Administration building. Rising 375 feet in height and flanked on either side by the domes, towers and minarets of the eight great exhibit palaces, the huge tower will be at all times the most conspicuous feature of the Exposition City. From San Francisco harbor it will appear as the central feature in the great rectangle of exhibit palaces, whose sky line will be 110 feet in height, whose domes will rise 144 feet and whose lesser towers will be 175 feet in height. From afar this central group will appear almost as a single palace, four-fifths of a mile long and 1,200 feet in width; nearer at hand it will be found that the exhibit palaces are interspersed with great open courts, each designed by notable groups of America's foremost architects. The inner courts will express the highest ideal of the architect, the sculptor, the colorist and the landscape gardener. The Exposition palaces will be the loftiest ever constructed; the grouping of huge buildings will give an effect of almost inconceivable massiveness and grandeur. At the base of the tower, which will occupy an acre in extent, will be a huge arcade beneath which visitors may enter from the main exposition entrance into the grand Court of Honor. This court, which will be 700 by 900 feet in its greatest dimensions, was designed by McKim, Mead & White.

King Ferdinand Issues Proclamation

Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 18.—A striking proclamation to the Bulgarian nation has been issued by King Ferdinand. In it he recounts the sufferings of the Macedonian Christians and the efforts of the European powers to secure better treatment for them and finally says that he has called his people to arms only after the patience of the Balkan nations has been exhausted. The proclamation opens with a reference to King Ferdinand's peaceful reign of 25 years and says he had hoped it would have so continued, but Providence judged otherwise. The moment has come when the Bulgarian race is called upon to renounce the benefits of peace and to have recourse to arms.

ROOSEVELT GOES HOME ON MONDAY

Growing Better Colonel Wants to Go Back

DANGER NOT YET PASSED

Wound Healing Rapidly with Indications that No Complications will now Set in.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 18.—Former President Roosevelt will leave Chicago for Oyster Bay on Monday or Tuesday of next week. He will travel on one of the slowest trains over the Pennsylvania railroad so that he may enter New York station, from which the trains for Oyster Bay depart. His physicians came to this decision today.

Colonel Roosevelt's physicians at 1:30 p. m. found his condition unchanged and they did not consider it necessary to issue the usual bulletin.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—"Keep the fight going full blast, Johnson; don't let our boys slack up in their work because I can't be with them for a few days. Tell the people you speak to I wish I could be out there working with you myself and that I certainly will be as soon as my doctors will let me."

This was Colonel Roosevelt's parting injunction and encouragement to Governor Hiram Johnson, Progressive candidate for vice president, when the latter left the presidential candidate at Mercy Hospital today.

Last night brought Colonel Roosevelt more sleep than he has had since he was wounded. Shortly after 11 o'clock last night he dropped the book he had been reading, Mrs. Roosevelt retired to her room, the lights were extinguished and he fell asleep not to awaken until 4:30 this morning when his clinical record was taken for the only time during the night.

THE FARMERS

(By WOODROW WILSON)

I remember reading of a great day in the year 1775 when certain farmers took their guns in their hands and gathered in little groups along the road that led from Lexington in Massachusetts to Boston, and there quietly lay in order to intercept British troops who had come upon an errand aimed at the liberties of the colonies; and I have often heard since that day men speak of the embattled farmers at Lexington. Well, there are going to be embattled farmers again in the history of this country, not with guns in their hands, but with ballots in their hands who are going to come back and claim the sovereignty which they share with the rest of the people of the United States.

I don't want anything I say to be understood as embattling the farmers against any other great legitimate interest in this country because our task at the present moment is the task of understanding one another so thoroughly that there will be only one cause, only one purpose and men acting together can live all the levels of our political life.

The farmers of this country are in a very interesting position. I have seen the interests of a great many classes specially regarded in legislation, but I must frankly say that I have never seen the interests of the farmer very often regarded in legislation. And one of the greatest impositions upon the farmers of this country that has ever been devised is the present tariff legislation of the United States. I have not heard anybody but orators on the stump say that the tariff was intended for the benefit of the farmer. When the United States was the granary of the world, the farmers were not looking for protection and while they were not looking everything else had duties upon it and the cost of everything that they had to use was raised upon them, until now it is almost impossible for them to take a legitimate profit.

While you were feeding the world, Congress was feeding the trusts. I wish to disavow all intention of suggestion to the farmer that he go in and do somebody up. All that I am suggesting to you is that you break into your own house and live there.

And I want you to examine very carefully the character of the tenants who have been occupying it. The rent has been demanded of you and not of them. You have paid the money which enabled them to live in your house and dominate your own premises.

The tariff intimately concerns the farmer of this country. It makes a great deal of difference to you that Mr. Taft vetoed the Steel Bill. It makes a difference to you in the cost of practically every tool that you use upon the farm; and it is very significant that a Democratic House of Representatives passed the Steel Tariff Reduction Bill over the President's veto. The farmer pays just as big a proportion of the tariff duties as anybody else.

What happened in Congress which has recently adjourned? The House of Representatives with the acquiescence of a Senate which is not Democratic, passed the Farmers' Free List Bill. It put agricultural implements, lumber, shingles, salt, bagging and ties on the free list. What happened to it? It was vetoed by the president, because, consciously or unconsciously, he represents not the people of the United States but those who have held their power in trust for their own purposes.

Usually the few days preceding a general election is the time for springing campaign lies. While you can keep on the lookout for them, it is well to pay no attention to them.

The indications are that Locke Craig will get the largest majority any governor of the state has received in many years. Do your part to help swell the majodity.

The Raleigh fair was somewhat of a matrimonial bureau this year. Seven couples from other towns were married there Thursday.

There are but two more weeks of the campaign and they will be filled with work for Democracy.

In both attendance and interest the Raleigh fair just closed was a big success.

William J. Burns.

William J. Burns, probably the best known detective in America, was born in Baltimore Oct. 19, 1861, of Irish parentage. His education was received in the public schools of Columbus, O. He was first employed as a clerk in a store and his next business step was detective work. In 1885 he helped to unearth tally shee forgeries in Columbus and Cincinnati, his first notable case. For 22 years, up to 1903, Mr. Burns was in the federal secret service and handled many big cases for the government. In 1899 he ran down the Philadelphia-Lancaster counterfeiters, robbed the government of $250,000 through counterfeit cigar stamps. A few years later his investigation into land frauds resulted in the conviction of numerous public officials. More recent among the notable exploits of Mr. Burns was the gathering of evidence that resulted in the conviction of the Los Angeles Times dynamiters.

LOCKHART SPEAKS FOR CLARK.

Hon. Jas. A. Lockhart, of Wadesboro, spoke at Madison Saturday afternoon in behalf of Judge Walter Clark's candidacy for the Senate. We gather from the extended report of the speech given in the Charlotte Observer by a staff correspondent, that it was a warm number. It will be recalled that Senator Lockhart and Governor Kitchin passed a few compliments through the columns of the News and Observer last year. Mr. Lockhart charging that the Governor had lost his nerve when the fight was made against the trusts in 1909. At Madison Saturday he renewed his charges with increased emphasis and brought out some startling history and expressed a desire to meet Governor Kitchin face to face and discuss his back-down.

A Confession

Mr. Lockhart said he had a confession to make. "Four years ago Mr. Kitchin came to Wadesboro and opened the campaign and in that speech Mr. Kitchin said, 'Elect me governor and I will put the trust officials behind prison bars and in stripes.' "I believed him. I knew that he had failed to do anything while he was in Congress; but he had told me that he did not know how and that if he could be made governor he would be an independent and active governor. I trusted him and supported him. I spent money for carriages, hired a brass band, paid for the printing of the tickets and I worked for him. It is true he offered to repay me; but I wouldn't let him and told him that I did not want the money; but that I did want him to be a man for the people of North Carolina, and fulfill his promises to the people. "The first suspicion of Mr. Kitchin came to me when the convention was in Charlotte four years ago, and then it was that Mr. Reuben D. Ried of Rockingham county, came to me in the Selwyn Hotel and said that he was afraid we were making a mistake and that Kitchin was in the hands of the American Tobacco Company. His closest friends were the close friends of that big corporation. They were apparently backing him.

Still Believed

"Still, I believed in Kitchin. Then as the deadlock continued, Mr. Ried came to me again and begged me to withdraw my influence from Mr. Kitchin. But still I believed in him, and I still thought he was all right until I, as the Senator from Anson county introduced the bill known as the Lockhart anti-trust bill. I was not its author. It was drawn by Reuben D. Ried of Rockingham county. I was told by William Walton Kitchin that the people of North Carolina did not want any anti-trust legislation and that the people of Rockingham county had defeated Reuben D. Ried because of his interest in that legislation.

Said "Go Slow"

"Mr. Kitchin said to me 'go slow, the people don't want anything done. I went out from his office disgusted and undone and my confidence in W. W. Kitchin was gone and gone forever and I am opposed to nominating that kind of a man for the exalted office of United States Senator."

SAID SHE WOULD FAINT

Mrs. Della Long Unable to Stand On Her Feet More Than a Few Minutes at a Time.

Pendergrass, Ga.—Mrs. Della Long, of this place, in a recent letter, says: "For five or six years, I suffered agonies with womanly troubles. Often, I couldn't sit up more than a few minutes at a time, and if I stood on my feet long, I would faint. I took Cardui and it helped me immediately. Now, I can do my work all the time, and don't suffer like I did." Take Cardui when you feel ill in any way—weak, tired, miserable, or under the weather. Cardui is a strength-building tonic medicine for women. It has been found to relieve pain and distress caused by womanly troubles, and is an excellent medicine to have on hand at all times. Cardui acts on the womanly constitution, building up womanly strength, toning up the nerves, and regulating the womanly organs. Its half-century of success is due to merit. It has done good to thousands. Will you try it? It may be just what you need. Ask your druggist about Cardui. He will recommend it. N. B.—Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent in plain wrapper, on request.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt
Alfred Gywnne Vanderbilt, the titular head of the wealthy Vanderbilt family, was born in New York city, October 20, 1877. He attended private schools and later spent several years at Yale. In 1899, he inherited the bulk of the great fortune left by his father, the late Cornelius Vanderbilt. Two years later young Mr. Vanderbilt married Miss Elsie French of Newport. They were divorced several years ago and last December Mr. Vanderbilt took for his second wife Mrs. Smith Hollis McKim of Baltimore. Mr. Vanderbilt is a controlling factor in the New York Central railroad, industrial and financial corporations. He has done much to promote the rearing of fine horses in America and for some years he has been a head of the association that gives the annual horse show in Madison square Garden, New York.

YOUR BANK IS YOUR MOST CONFIDENTIAL FRIEND

—The relation of a Bank to its depositors is most confidential and based upon implicit confidence. When you are thinking of a banking connection consider the prominent character and clientele of this Bank, with its history of six and one half years of practically the same management.
—Then think a little further and consider the standing directorate and its assets of $450,000, and the fact that this is the only National Bank in Pitt County.
—Then think of its various kinds of Savings Accounts—its Trust Department—its Safe Deposit Department—and you are bound to realize that its equipment to serve is complete in every detail.
—Then the Conclusion: It is the Bank for you, the institution in which you are justified in placing your funds with the satisfaction that every confidence sacredly safeguarded.
—We have not mentioned our service. You will have to be personally acquainted with this to appreciate it.
