GOVERNOR BALDWIN ISSUES PROCLAMATION

BUSINESS HAS NOTHING TO FEAR UNDER THE ADMINISTRATION TO TAKE OFFICE NEXT MARCH

A MOST STRIKING PROCLAMATION

HARTFORD, Conn., Nov. 12.—In his Thanksgiving Day proclamation issued today, Governor Simeon E. Baldwin, Democrat, successful in his campaign for re-election, refers to the political campaign and the election as follows:
"The strain to which every four your our frame of civil government is subjected, I has not met unshaken. Never has the general course of business throughout the United States been less disturbed by the political contests incident to a presidential election and to a majority of these citizens contemplate with composure the soon-coming transfer of political power to men chosen by a minority under our rule which allows electoral colleges of the states to control the choice, although they may represent only a minority of the whole people."

Parcels Post System Gets Under Way Next January First

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Not since the outbreak of the Spanish-American war made necessary the issue of billions of special war tax stamps has the Bureau of Engraving and Printing been so rushed. It is due to the assumption of important function of the express business of the country through the parcels post. The bureau must print twelve different denominations of stamps and five denominations of special postage due stamps. Less than half of the designs have as yet been approved.
Not a stamp has yet been printed. The bureau officials are unable to get action from Postmaster General Hitchcock's special parcels post commission.

ANARCHIST ASSASSINATES SPANISH PRIME MINISTER

Senor Canalejas, Leader Of Monarchic Conservatives Was Shot At Four Times And Killed

MADRID, Spain, Nov. 12.—The Spanish premier, Canalejas, was assassinated today.
The assassin was captured by the police. He gave the name of Manuel Pardinias Serrato Martin and said he was a native of El Grado, in the Province of Huessoa.
Martin fired four shot at Premier Canalejas as he was entering the Ministry of the Interior to attend a cabinet meeting. Two of the shots struck the statesman behind the right ear and he fell dead on the spot. The assassin is twenty-eight years old and is believed to be an anarchist.
After he had been placed under arrest the slayer of the Premier committed suicide.

How the Crime was Committed

The assassination of Premier Canalejas took place at half past eleven this morning in the Puerta del Sol, in front of a book stall at the corner of Carretas street, near the entry to the ministry of the interior.
Martin fired four shots from his revolver at close range and three of the bullets struck the premier who fell on the sidewalk and died immediately.

Some by-standers seized the assassin and handed him over to the police. He then turned his revolver on himself and it is believed he has since died from the self-inflicted wound.
Martin is said to have been closely connected with anarchists, but it is not known whether his crime was preconcerted or whether it was committed on his own initiative.
Political ferment always exists in Spain, but nothing has been reported within a recent period which could in any way be connected with the crime.
A strict censorship was instituted by the authorities on the telegrams and telephones immediately after the commission of the crime and for several hours it was impossible to communicate with the outside world.

Celluloid Collar Interferes With Process of Hair singeing

HAMMOND, Ind., Nov. 12.—Wallace Hains, of Logansport, Ind., stepped into a barber shop here today to get his hair singed. He wore a celluloid collar. The instant William Eads, the barber, applied the lighted taper, Hain's collar was set ablaze. He was so severely burned that he probably will die.

TEDDY'S ASSAILANT ENTERS GUILTY PLEA

He Did Not, However, Attack Roosevelt, The Citizen, But The Man Seeking A Third Term

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 12.—John Schrank today pleaded guilty to the shooting of Colonel Roosevelt. The court then decided to appoint a commission to examine Schrank as to his sanity.
Schrank appeared little concerned in the fact that liberty for possibly the next fifteen years was in jeopardy. He ate breakfast with no more or less concern than he had eaten since he came to the jail.
He said unconcernedly: "Oh, it might as well be over. Now, I am not concerned at the outcome. My crime is a political crime rather than a crime against humanity, and I guess that with all the political crimes that has taken place in the last few years, they won't be very hard on me. However, if they do give it to me hard, why, I guess I can take my medicine."
Fewer than 150 persons listened to the proceedings and watched the small, compact form of Schrank as he stepped slowly to the bar and entered his plea. Of this number 20 detectives and half a score of deputy sheriffs kept unnecessary but vigilant watch on all persons in the room not known to them.

The district attorney read the complaint in which Schrank was accused of having made an assault upon the person of "one Theodore Roosevelt, with a deadly weapon and with intent then and there to kill and slay he said Theodore Roosevelt."
"How do you plead to this charge?" the prosecutor asked the prisoner, standing at his elbow.
"Why, guilty, Mr. Zabel," replied the prisoner, in a confused way, as though not sure he was following the proper procedure.
"You have heard the complaint," interposed Judge Backus, in a loud voice: "you understand that in it you are charged with having attempted to murder Theodore Roosevelt. Do you plead guilty or not?"

Trial of Sidna Allen is Proceeding Along Uninterrupted

WYTHEVILLE, Va., Nov. 12.—Sidna Allen's trial on the charge of killing Judge Thornton L. Massie in the Hillsville court house last March, is making good progress.
Attorney Wysor, opening the prosecution for the state, outlined his plan to prove a conspiracy amongst the Allen clansmen to attack the Carroll county court officials.

AMERICAN SHIPS GONE TO TURKEY

At Present Sailing Under Sealed Orders

NEVERTHELESS GOING EAST

Generally Conceded That Cruisers Will Reach Turkish Coast To Protect Ex-Patriated Americans

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Russia officially informed the United States today that it will look out for the interests of the United States in Turkish waters and for United States citizens in Turkey. The information was conveyed to the State Department by the Russian embassy here immediately upon receipt of instructions from the foreign office at St. Petersburg.

Philadelphia, Nov. 12.—The armored cruisers Tennessee and Montana weighed anchor opposite the Philadelphia navy yard shortly after 10 o'clock today and started for Constantinople to safeguard American interests in war-stricken Turkey. As the cruisers steamed away the battery gave them a farewell salute. The warships sailed under sealed orders, but it is known that their destination is Constantinople, although the first stop will be at Gibraltar, where it is believed further orders will await Rear Admiral Austin M. Knight, who is on the Tennessee.
Upon his arrival in the east, the admiral will take command of all the American warships in Turkish waters. It is expected that the cruisers will arrive at Constantinople about November 30th.

An interesting incident of the voyage leaked out today when it was learned that the crew of the Montana had bet the bluejackets of the Tennessee $2,000 that the Montana would arrive at Gibraltar 12 hours ahead of the flagship. When Admiral Knight was told of the wager he said with a smile, "Let them bet; it's the only fun they will have between here and Gibraltar."

Bombardment Continues

Rieka, Montenegro, November 12.—The bombardment of the Turkish city of Tarakosch, on Lake Scutari, continued throughout Sunday. Toward evening the Turkish garrison withdrew to the highest sides of the mountains. Their position was rendered so desperate by exposure to the snow and by lack of provisions that the defenders attempted later to abandon all their positions and to escape into the city of Scutari. They were, however, driven back into Tarakosch by the Montenegrin troops. King Nicholas of Montenegro has left for the Montenegrin port of Antivari.

Attacking the Ports

Sofia, Bulgaria, Nov. 12.—The situation of the Bulgarian troops investing Adrianople and on Tehatalja line in front of Constantinople is the subject of many rumors today owing to the absence of any official dispatches from the front. It is known that the Bulgarian troops have opened their attack on the Tehatalja forts, but no details of the fighting have been received.

The Bulgarian and Servian troops engaged in the siege of Adrianople are working in hearty co-operation. Clashes with the Turkish garrison of that stronghold occur daily. Some of the Turkish troops taken prisoners during sorties of the garrison declare that conditions in the city are desperate.

The population, they say, is on the verge of starvation and it is thought the Turkish garrison will be starved out in ten days at the utmost. Bread, meat and sugar have been selling lately at exorbitant prices and the supplies even of these commodities are now exhausted.

Large numbers of Turkish irregulars have been pillaging the villages around Adrianople. The Bulgarians have now succeeded in repressing these looters and establishing proper administration. A column of 700 Turkish prisoners with six officers, arrived in Sofia today.

THE PITT COUNTY FAIR

Tomorrow, Thursday, the second annual Pitt county fair will hold to the delight of those that rightly believe such meetings of town and country are an instrument to better feeling between the townsman and the countryman. No genius ever invented a better conductor of brotherly feeling than a meeting of people under circumstances such as a country fair provides. The farmer justly proud of the place he occupies; his pride amply backed by the exhibits of products which with the exertion of his energy he extracted from Mother Earth. The townsman, glad to shake him by the hand and assure him, that as long as he (the farmer) keeps scratching the soil to such advantage, his (the townsman) place is safe in town, handling his produce and importing for the farmer such articles as he is not able to raise. Because after all, what would a town do, that has to depend on the actual wealth of the townsmen to keep it going? How long would a town thus populated last? Can't you see how foolish it is for such as do carry on the germ of the belief that the town man has no use for the country man? For, please, how could a Greenville, Farmville, Ayden, Farmville or any other Pitt countyville, exist and grow prosperous without the farmers back of them?

Who brings the tobacco to town; who brings the cotton, who the different produces, naturally called "country produce"? Why, the farmer, of course. The farmer who uses the town as a sort of clearing house to dispose of his produce and provide himself with such things as he can't scratch out of the soil.

And let us tell you right here: It is just such towns as are directly dependant on the farmer that make the best towns. That progress most rapidly; that acquire better means of transportation, etc., etc. Therefore, how can any town man disregard the country man?

The Pitt County Fair Association is composed of both town and country gentlemen, business men and farmers that have the interest of the county at heart. Men, who to prove, that in reality the undercurrent of bad feeling between the town and country does not exist as the professional knocker would have us believe, willingly devote some of their very valuable time to perfect plans for holding yearly a mammoth meeting between town and country, with the object in view of showing the townsmen, what the countrymen are doing, and letting the countrymen see that a royal welcome awaits every farmer coming to town.

This was shown to a great advantage at last year's fair and will be gain shown to a greater advantage still tomorrow and the next day.

Mr. O. P. Crowson has retired as editor of the Durham Sun, which position he held for ten months. The paper has been purchased by Messrs. S. J. Flickinger and W. W. Weaver and these gentlemen are now in charge of it. They are men of newspaper experience and will keep the Sun up to its high standard.

A man's a man who takes his medicine gracefully. That is just what Young Harker did, notwithstanding the twitting of some of the brethren, and he had the last Scottish Chief as full of roosters as a barn yard.

Give a cordial welcome to everybody who comes to Greenville to the Pitt county fair.

This is My Birthday

Gen. E. Burd Grubb
General E. Burd Grubb, a distinguished veteran of the civil war, was born in Burlington, N. J., Nov. 13, 1841. He enlisted in the Federal army in 1861, in response to Lincoln's call for troops, receiving the commission of second lieutenant. He was in the first battle of Bull Run and when General Kearney took command of the First Brigade of New Jersey General Grubb was promoted to first lieutenant. His rise throughout the war was steady, and merited, his comrades say, by service in the field. In 1865 he was made brevet brigadier general as a badge of distinction for services. After the war he succeeded his wather in the management of iron mines and works in Pennsylvania and Virginia. General Grubb was the Republican nominee for governor in 1889 and subsequently he served as United States minister to Spain. About a year ago, in response to a request from his old comrades, General Grubb gave up the ease of private life and accepted a post as commandant of the New Jersey Home for Disabled Soldiers.

The Safest place

for your harvest money is in this bank

Look at these two men. They have been to market their cotton. One put his money in the bank and the other one didn't. They were held up on the way home. The silly fellow who wanted to take his money home had to "deliver" to the robbers. The other was able to "give them the langh." —His money was in the bank.

Take a lesson from this—put your harvest money in this bank like all other successful farmers. It is the safest place—withdraw it whenever you please.

Home Endorsement

Hundreds of Greenville People Can Tell You all About It

Home endorsement, the public expression of Greenville people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Reuctor reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in faraway places. Read the following:

Mrs. G. Barnhill, Greenville, N. C., says: "I have been so greatly helped by Doan's Kidney Pills that I am pleased to recommend them. My back and head ached and I had dizzy spells and pains in my sides. My kidneys did not do their work properly and caused much suffering. Doan's Kidney Pills obtained at the John L. Wooten Drug Co., relieved my aches and pains and corrected the trouble with my kidneys. I most cheerfully recommend this preparation."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

HOW ONE WOMAN WON

Her Health and Strength Back Again by The Use of Cardui.

Tampa, Fla.—In a letter from this city, Mrs. E. C. Corum writes: "I was all weakened and worn out with womanly troubles. My husband brought me some Cardui as a tonic, and, from the first day, it seemed to help."

I had almost lost my reason, but, thanks to Cardui, I did not. Soon, I felt and looked like a new woman. I think the remedy is wonderful. I recommend it to my friends, for I have received great benefit from it."

Cardui acts specifically on the weakened womanly organs, strengthening the muscles and nerves, and building them up to health.

It helps to refresh the worn-out nervous system and relieves the effects of overwork, both mental and physical.

Fifty years' successful use fully prove the merit of this purely vegetable, tonic remedy for women.

In every community, there live some who have benefited by Cardui. The beneficial effects of this time tested woman's remedy, soon show themselves in many different ways. Try it.
