SIXTY SEVEN SCHOOLS AT FAIR

Three Thousand Children Marched in Parade

BIGGEST GATHERING OF ITS KIND

Exhibits Were Taken At Random From Daily Work And Not Especially Prepared For The Fair

The school exhibits at the fair were wonderful both as to size and quality. The exhibit covered by actual measurement 2470 square feet of space. Every phase of work of the whole course of study was shown and the work was the work gathered from the daily recitations as it is being done and not work prepared for this special occasion.

First as to the graded schools: The best showing in the parade, Greenville Graded School. The best exhibit—Farmville Graded School.

The committee also desires to make honorable mention of the primary work of the Grifton Graded School and also of three pieces of drawing in the Bethel Graded School as showing unusual artistic talent.

The committee on the exhibits of the rural schools report as follows: Best exhibit—Grimesland School. Best showing in parade—Forbes School.

Second best exhibit—Stokes School. Best drawing by a child under 15 years old—Bernice Tyson of Frog Level School.

Best one piece of work in the rural schools—Eunice Wooten of the Simpson School. Subject: "Gen. Bryan Grimes."

Largest per cent of enrollment in parade—Fleming School.

The most unique piece of work in the exhibit—Thomas Proctor of the Grimesland School. "A Pop Corn Cabin."

The committee also desires to make special and honorable mention of "The Flower in the Church" by Ethel Smith of the Forbes School and "How the Little Leaves Helped" by Bertha Little of the Stokes School.

We feel that the following notes are timely: The Training School girls in the line of the parade have never been beaten in the beautiful appearance they made.

Winterville High School, more than two hundred strong, added much to the parade. Neither of these two schools competed for the prizes.

A very unique thing in the parade was in the Simpson School. A very small pony was led by two boys upon which was seated a beautiful little girl dressed in pure white.

A large number of the banners were beautiful but there were too many of these to be mentioned specially and separately here.

One of the beautiful things that attracted much attention was the Senior Class of the Greenville Graded School as they marched between tonis nets upon which was inscribed the motto of the class: "Per a pera ad astra." The remainder of the High School carried beautiful pendants.

The Farmville High School was distinguished by beautiful sashes, worn by each pupil.

The Ayden Graded School showed up finely in the parade and was the first school to "tag" the county sup-

OTTOMAN RULER MUST ACCEPT

Twenty Four Hours in Which to Consider Them

OTHERWISE FIGHT WILL GO ON

Finances Of Turkey Are Being Safeguarded As Far As Possible In Face Of Treaty Terms

LONDON, Nov. 16.—Rumania is reported to have placed strong bodies of troops at three points on the Bulgarian frontier. The movement is believed to be the result of diplomatic arrangements so that pressure can be applied to Bulgaria in order to keep the terms of the armistice within moderation.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Nov. 16.—The subject of peace negotiations is absorbing the entire attention of the Bulgarian government for the moment. The Bulgarian cabinet lost no time in communicating to the allies, the contents of the letter from the grand vizier on the subject of an armistice and an interchange of views between the Balkan governments, is in active process.

It is stated that the peace conditions will be formulated with the least possible delay and presented to Turkey. Unless they are accepted within twenty-four hours after their presentation hostilities will be continued, as the Bulgarian generals are not willing to permit Turkey to gain valuable time by wrangling over the conditions. A prompt acceptance may avert the entry of the Bulgarian troops into Constantinople.

Turks Believe War Is Over Constantinople (by way of Kustendje), Nov. 16.—The opinion is general here that the war is practically over. The armistice with the Bulgarians will in all probability be arranged within the next few days and this will be followed by direct negotiations for peace.

The Ottoman government fully realizes that further resistance can only prejudice the position of Turkey still more, while its outcome is extremely problematical and might lead to even more humiliation.

With the exception of the Chauvanistic hotspurs the bulk of the public opinion is beginning to rally to the view taken by responsible statesmen and it is generally hoped that the best possible conditions of peace will be secured.

It is recognized that practically the whole European Turkey is lost, so much so that the banks and the council of the Ottoman public debt are already taking stock of their own interest in the lost provinces in view of protecting themselves when the final settlement comes up for discussion.

To the end that interests of bondholders will be better safeguarded this time than was the case at the Berlin congress, the council of the Ottoman public debt has suggested to its European syndicates the advisability of approaching the powers on the subject, while a statement of the revenues affected to the service of the public debt in the provinces now changing ownership is being drawn up for the use of the ambassadors of the European powers at Constantinople. The total of these revenues is about $7,500,000.

Besides the above interests there are also those of the railroads and of the loans secured on certain fixed revenues, for which fresh arrangements will become necessary. Hitherto only a few of the soldiers badly wounded in battle have arrived here.

Intendant, putting around his left arm the badge worn by each pupil upon which were the letters: "A.H.S."

If the train was late Bethel Graded School got in the parade time enough to show he people what a splendid school that is in every respect.

The rural schools showed up finely at every point in the parade.

The reception at the Warehouse in honor of Dr. Joyner, the State Superintendent of Public Instruction was one of the most interesting features of the day and it is to be regretted that it had to be stopped before all the VIEW OF LAKE AND FORESTRY BUILDING, NATIONAL CONSERVATION EXPOSITION, Knoxville, Tenn., Sept. and Oct. 1913.

The above view shows the Forestry Building, completed, National Conservation Exposition. To the left of this building, as an annex, will be erected the Minerals Building. These buildings will occupy the most beautiful site on the grounds, the elevations being such as to afford a bird's-eye view of lakes, drives, buildings and amusement district.

NATIONAL CONSERVATION EXPOSITION,

Knoxville, Tennessee, September and October, 1913, Provides Attractive Grounds For Amusement District.

The section of the grounds of the National Conservation Exposition, Knoxville, Tenn., September and October, 1913, which has been set aside as the amusement district, will be arranged by landscape architects with a view to making the location one of extraordinary attractiveness. Terrace

Park, as it is known, will be famous always hereafter. The plan decided upon by the exposition management in this feature will, when carried out, afford the most unique display and arrangement of grounds ever seen in a midway section. The lay of the land is such as to permit of a street that will traverse the section from the main gateway on the lake to the lower end, returning in a gradual curve to a point near the beginning and again winding toward the upper side of the grounds back to the lower park entrance. This will afford a series of terraces, and the amusement places will be so arranged as to rise in tiers from the lake front to the back of the grounds. It does not require a stretch of imagination to picture the appearance of this section when illuminated at night. This plan is part of the general landscape work which will be carried out in all parts of the exposition grounds. The management feels that one of the greatest attractions which the exposition can present to visitors can be formed by utilizing the natural beauty of the location in modern landscape work. A beautiful park is quite as necessary as fine buildings and exhibits, and the locality lends itself to the most artistic plans that a landscape artist could design.

Big Indianapolis Packing Plant Destroyed by Fire

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 16.—The plant of the Van Camp Packing Company was partially burned early this morning, the owners estimating their loss at about $400,000. The loss is fully covered by insurance. The cause of the fire has not been determined. The flames spread rapidly in the building which covered several acres of ground and had gained great headway before the arrival of the fire department, which had been called out by a general alarm.

While the flames were at their height a twenty-inch water main burst and for a while the firemen worked with streams from two engines which pumped water from cisterns. After an hour's delay the pressure was restored and he firemen soon had the blaze under control. The company employed about 1,200 persons. Officials announced the plant probably would be rebuilt.

CARLYLE COMEDY COMPANY AT GAIETY

The pleasure loving element of the town will have for their amusement at the Gaiety Theatre tonight an attraction that is worth while, presented by a company of high-class singers, and of the highest type of comedians and a large chorus of pretty girls.

Mr. Carl Armstrong, who is well-known to the theatre-going people of Greenville is a member of the company. The company will be here for three nights with entire change of program each night.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 16.—A. and M., one of Carolina's strongest football elevens was overwhelmed by the Navy on the Academy gridiron here this afternoon, the final score being 40 to 0.

The result of the game was never in doubt from the finish of the first period.

Automobile Contest at Basnight's Pharmacy

The contest for the $2,000 automobile to be given away at Basnight's Pharmacy began today with a large number of contestants entered. The rules of the contest are as follows: Purchasers can vote for themselves or any contestant they desire at the rate of one vote for each penny spent. No soliciting of votes will be allowed in the store.

Votes must be handed in for record on the 1st and 15th of each month, and none will be accepted without the pharmacy stamp on back.

The color of voting coupons will be changed each month and will be void if not recorded during the month designated.

Votes are transferable as desired. The standing of contestants will be published by number only (the names not being disclosed) posted in the window of Basnight's Pharmacy once a week and printed in The Reflector twice a month.

The contest will close May 18th, 1913, running six months.

Send in your nomination, secure your contest number and get to work to win this free automobile.

We are glad to have secured the services of Mr. Joe Anderson, a registered pharmacist, to take charge of our prescription department. He is well known to the people of Greenville and Pitt county and needs no introduction.

Customers are promised the best service and attention here. BASNIGHT'S PHARMACY.

GENTRY AND GORMAN'S REPORT.

The market was very active today. Grades up to 30 showing an advance of from $2.00 to $3.00 over last week's prices and they looked very bright to us last week.

We sold several piles of wrappers around 70 cents per pound.

The tobacco board of trade ordered single sales starting tomorrow, but instructed the sales committee that it SHALL put on double sales any day when the sales will last longer than one o'clock.

This insures our customers that they can get away from town by one o'clock even should we have large sales. It is

Taft and Wilson Fail to Meet During Visit in New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—Woodrow Wilson, president-elect, Mrs. Wilson, and the Misses Eleanor and Jessie Wilson left New York for Bermuda shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon on the steamship Bermudian.

They will be gone till December 16th. A throng of well wishers saw them off.

New York, Nov. 16.—Governor Wilson tried to see President Taft today, but missed him by a few minutes.

The governor rose late and at breakfast asked his secretary to ascertain where the president was staying and how long he would be there. Soon afterwards the secretary reported that the president had just left his hotel for the College of the City of New York.

"I am very sorry to have missed seeing the president," Governor Wilson said.

Two calls were made by the governor today prior to his boarding the steamer Bermudian for Bermuda, where he will spend his vacation. He will be away till December 16. One of his calls was upon Colonel E. M. House, of Texas; the other was upon a personal friend whose identity was not divulged. Shortly after noon the governor went aboard the Bermudian.

Tossam Cheats "Doc" Wooten's Table

The face of President John L. Wooten, of the Pitt county fair, was all wreathed in smiles Friday over the success of the fair, but that same face was long enough Saturday to threaten a double price for shaving. And it was all because of the loss of a fat possum. An exhibitor had given him the possum and the wiley smooth tail was kept in a box in the warehouse over night. When President Wooten, with visions of 'cued' possum, went up next morning to transfer the box to his home, he found it empty. The possum had gnawed out during the night and "taken to the woods".

TARIFF REVISION NOW ON THE WAY

Work of Special Session Put in Shape

REVISAL BILLS ATTENDED TO

With The Assurance Of Wilson That The Tariff Will Be Revised Preparations Have Begun

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Clerks of the House Ways and Means Committee are already at work upon the tariff revision bills for which President-elect Wilson has stated he will summon to meet next April.

Democratic leaders have been confident for some time that the incoming administration would force the tariff issue to an immediate trial; and much of the detail of the work of preparing the bills is under way.

While President-elect Wilson is resting at Bermuda during the next few weeks the Democrats of the two houses of Congress will endeavor to settle the general program to be followed at the extra session.

It has not been determined as yet whether one general bill will be introduced, embracing the wool, cotton, iron and steel revisions which the Democratic House has previously passed; or whether each of these tariff schedules will again be brought in the form of a separate bill.

Little time will be necessary to perfect wool, cotton, metal and chemical revision bills, because of the work done by the Democratic Ways and Means Committee in preparing similar bills passed in the last two sessions, which have been vetoed by President Taft.

The Democratic leaders are not agreed, however, over the sugar tariff and this situation is puzzling the managers of the party in both houses.

The House free sugar bill passed at the last session, did not meet the approval of the Democrats in the senate; and it still rests in a conference committee of the two houses.

Suggestions have been made by influential members of the Senate within the last week, that a joint committee representing House and Senate Democrats be informally selected before the special session begins, to go over the tariff situation and harmonize whatever differences may exist between the Democrats of the two bodies upon the more important tariff schedules.

Such action would result in speedy disposition of tariff revision, it is believed, when the new Congress meets in April.

President-elect Wilson's determination to call the extra session perfects a record of practically continuous work upon the tariff since the special session called by President Taft in 1909.

Following the general revision of that year, embodied in the Payne-Aldrich bill there have been attempts to devise a Canadian reciprocity system and to revise certain schedules of the tariff law; but no changes in the tariff have been effected since the passage of the Payne-Aldrich law.

Staunton Resident Offers Wilson a Summer Home

STAUNTON, Va., Nov. 16.—N. C. Watts, president of the Staunton Mutual Telephone Company, has offered his handsomely furnished home to the city of Staunton free to be tendered Woodrow Wilson for a summer for one or two months, just as he desires.

New York, Nov. 16.—Daniel O'Rielly, once prominent as a lawyer and personal counsel for Harry Thaw in his trials, delivered himself to the authorities of the penitentiary on Blackwell's Island last night to serve a term of seven months' imprisonment. An appeal on O'Rielly's behalf has been pending for some time and O'Rielly has been free under a stay of sentence. For some unknown reason he went to the court this week and asked that the say be vacated.

CLEAN FAIRS

Every year just after a state fair is held a cry is raised against the many indecent and fraudulent shows and fakes to fleece money out of the people that are permitted in connection with the fairs. Since the last fair in Raleigh the papers of that city, both secular and religious, have been especially severe in their criticism and have demanded that the fair officials shall "clean or close the midway." This reminds us to say that the state fair officials might have profited by sending a delegation to the Pitt county fair last week to learn how to conduct a clean fair. Here there was not a single show, no horse racing, no fakes and no selling concessions of any kind. Hundreds of these things made application for privileges at the fair but all were strictly shut out, and the municipal authorities backed up the fair management by not allowing any kind of show in the town on the dates of the fair.

Pitt county held a county fair strictly, entirely free from every objectionable feature and the thousands of people attending it declared they had never seen a better one. While the state fair has the whole state to draw from, it did not have any finer exhibits of stock, poultry, farm products, pantry and kitchen supplies and woman's handwork than were shown right here in Pitt county. And as to attendance, we doubt if the state fair shows much larger crowds than were present on educational day at the Pitt county fair. Pitt county has negated the assertion often made that a fair cannot be a success without shows and fakes. We have shown by our works how it is done.

The portion of the grand jury report at the last term of court, relating to the condition of public roads and the duty of road supervisors, should cause the people to give heed. There is no matter of more importance than our roads, yet under the present system of building and maintaining them, no money is more injudiciously spent. It is a waste to build a piece of good road and then do nothing afterward to keep it up. Enough money is spent on roads in Pitt county every year, without getting anything permanent for it, to carry a bond issue large enough to build and maintain good roads in all parts of the county.

The mid-winter meeting of the North Carolina Press Association will be held in Salisbury on Wednesday and Thursday, December 11th and 12th. It promises to be two days full of interest for all who attend.

People who drive teams on the streets ought to take lessons in being careful. More pedestrians get struck by the horse-drawn vehicles than by the gas propelled cars.

You will hear people talking about the last Pitt county fair even after they begin making preparations for the next one.

The next date is Thanksgiving Day.

And Boston comes forward with one dead in a bath tub.

Thanksgiving turkeys are ripe enough to pull and the price will pull the fellow who gets one.

Stanhope A. Forbes
Stanhope Alexander Forbes, one of the most prominent of the younger school of British painters, was born in Dublin, Nov. 18, 1857, the son of William Forbes, manager of the Midland Great Western Railway of Ireland. Mr. Forbes was educated at Dulwich College and afterward studied art in London and Paris. In 1898 he was elected an Associate of the Royal Academy. Among his well known pictures are "The Smithy," "By Order of the Court," "Forging the Anchor," "The Salvation Army, Christmas Eve," "The Fish Sale," "The Village Philharmonic," and "The Lighthouse."

PLAYS AND PLAYERS

Blanche Walsh has a new playlet called "The Countess Nadine."
Hale Hamilton is to appear in "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford."
Catherine Calhoun has been engaged to play the role of Amy in "Little Women."
Fritz Williams is considering going into vaudeville with his wife, Katherine Florence.
Eva Tanguay's place in "The Sun Dodgers" is to be taken by Bossie Wynn, also a light of vaudeville.
Robert Haines as leading man at the St. James Theatre in London.
Victor Herbert's new operetta, in which Christie Macdonald is to be starred, will be produced in February.
Augustus Thomas' new play is to be called "More Man." It will be given about the end of the present month.
After her present season in "The Real Thing," Henrietta Crossman will be seen in a repertoire of classic plays.
Stea Maykew is to star in a musical play under the direction of Lew Fields. The piece is called "The Singing Teacher."
"The New Sin," a remarkable new play with no women in the cast, is to be withdrawn in New York. The play was a London success.
Joseph M. Gaites has accepted a new play by Frank Mandel called "The Other Hand." Mr. Mandel is co-author with Helen Kraft in "Our Wives."
"And They Lived Happy Ever After" was dramatized by Philip Bartholomew from a German one-act sketch. From the same source he obtained "Over Night."
Paul Armstrong's new play, "The Escape," made a favorable impression on its initial presentation in Los Angeles. The piece will be taken to New York soon.
Mabel Tallaferra has quit vaudeville once more, and is to head her own company about the holidays. She will appear in a piece by Richard Walton Tully, entitled "The Poor Little Rich Girl."
In "The Drums of Oude," which David Belasco is personally producing

Get at the root of the trouble. Rubbing an aching back may relieve it. But won't cure it if the kidneys are weak.

You must reach the root of it—the kidneys. Reach the cause; relieve the pain. Begin at once with Doan's Kidney Pills. Are recommended by thousands. Here is a statement from a resident of this vicinity.

Mrs. James Garris, Twelfth street, South Greenville, N. C., says: "I am pleased to add by endorsement to the many already given in favor of Doan's Kidney Pills. For a long time I was troubled by my kidneys and I suffered intensely from backache and pains in my shoulders. Headache and dizzy spells bothered me and I rested so poorly that when I got up in the morning, I was in no fit condition to begin my work. When I read of Doan's Kidney Pills, I immediately got a supply from the John L. Wooten Drug Co., and to my delight; they did me a world of good. I can now rest better at night and my back and kidneys do not bother me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

In vaudeville, the characters are English and Hindu, and for the former only English players have been engaged, while native Hindus fill the other roles.

Charles Klein is now at work on a new play, the title of which has not yet been chosen, but which deals with social conditions of today. It will be ready by March or April, and may see the light under the auspices of the Authors' Producing Company.

Mrs. Della Long Unable to Stand On Her Feet More Than a Few Minutes at a Time.

Pendergrass, Ga.—Mrs. Della Long, of this place, in a recent letter, says: "For five or six years, I suffered agonies with womanly troubles."

Often, I couldn't sit up more than a few minutes at a time, and if I stood on my feet long, I would faint. I took Cardul, and it helped me immediately. Now, I can do my work all the time, and don't suffer like I did."

Take Cardul when you feel ill in any way—weak, tired, miserable, or under the weather. Cardul is a strength-building tonic medicine for women.

It has been found to relieve pain and distress caused by womanly troubles, and is an excellent medicine to have on hand at all times.

Cardul acts on the womanly constitution, building up womanly strength, toning up the nerves, and regulating the womanly organs.

Its half century of success is due to merit. It has done good to thousands. Will you try it? It may be just what you need. Ask your druggist about Cardul. He will recommend it.
