PALMER FOOD ACT SLIGHTLY DELAYED IN SENATE CIRCLE

Agricultural Committee Responsible for Bill Being Blocked, Is Said.

HARRISON URGES THAT MEMBERS ACT AT ONCE
Georgia Senator Believes Two Movements Will Reduce High Costs.

(By The Associated Press.)
Washington, Aug. 16.—Action of amendments to the food control act suggested by Attorney-General Palmer as a means of reducing the high cost of living was blocked in the Senate agriculture committee today. Chairman Gronna hopes the committee will act finally Tuesday.

The house agricultural committee proceeded with its hearings with a view to an early report on the amendments. Members of the house committee have been summoned to Washington in the hope of early action of this and other legislation recommended by the president.

In the senate committee, Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi urged that the committee act immediately, but his motion was defeated 4 to 2. Senators Smith, South Carolina; Smith, Georgia; Ransdell, Louisiana; Democrats, and France, Republican, of Maryland, voted against the motion.

In voting against the amendments, Senators Smith, Georgia, and Smith South Carolina, as well as Senator Ransdell took the position that sufficient power now exists to meet the situation.

Senator Smith, Georgia, said two great movements now in progress would reduce the cost of living and return of soldiers to civil life, thereby increasing production, and the reduction in taxes in 1920. Senator France said the food control act was responsible for present conditions, and that the way to reduce prices was to increase production.

PLANS OF PALMER ARE NOW EXTENDED TO EVERY POLICE

Washington, Aug. 16.—With the filing of libels for the seizure of stored food in Cleveland, Detroit and other cities, the plans of the Attorney General to reduce the high cost of living was extended today to include all of the principal markets of the country. The Attorney General began exercising the war time powers conferred upon it through the food control act. The activities of the Federal agents are centered upon collecting evidence against the hoarders. The fullest cooperation between the Federal and state officials is urged by the government authorities. More arrests are expected to follow shortly in the government crusade.

ANOTHER STILL IS TAKEN BY SHERIFF AND HIS DEPUTIES

Sheriff Dudgey Brings in Still and Two Men from Winterville Section.

SEVERAL GALLONS OF LIQUOR ALSO TAKEN
Distiller Was One of the Oldest in This Section of the Country.

Following several unsuccessful attempts recently of apprehending certain members of the liquor traffic operating through the Winterville territory, Sheriff Ernest Dudgey and Deputies Catton, Corbett and Jackson this morning returned to this city with Ricks Forrest and son, William Forrest in their custody, after capturing a still and several gallons of liquor in a reed pond a short distance from the home of the two men, and as a result the distillers are being held in the county jail awaiting a hearing which will possibly be given late this afternoon. The capture undoubtedly features as one of the most successful occurring in this section in some little time as Ricks Forrest is an old member of the whiskey traffic, having been convicted of blocking several years ago and sentenced to several months in jail. Reports concerning their operations in this section have been circulated among the public officials, but until this time it (Continued on page four.)

HINES TELLS THE SENATE TRUTH OF COAL CAR FUTURE

Says No Coal Car Shortage Is Anticipated in Coal Regions Soon.

Washington, Aug. 16.—Replying to a senate resolution, Director General of Railroads Hines informed the Senate today that while there had been some car shortage in the bituminous coal districts, he did not "anticipate any shortages in transportation, which will be in any sense exception or abnormal, or which will justify oppressive prices for coal."

The great danger that confronts the public in this matter," the director general asserted, "is that any shortage either in production by the mines or in transportation may be exaggerated so as to serve as a pretext for heavy increases in the coal prices, which, in my opinion, are generally speaking, it is worthy of serious consideration whether congressional action can be taken to protect the public under these circumstances from excessive coal prices."

The Senate resolution, to which Mr. Hines replied, was introduced by Senator Pomeroy, of Ohio, and asked specifically for information as to the number of coal cars available and whether the coal car situation could be held responsible for any possible shortage of coal.

"There has at no time been any shortage of cars for anthracite coal loading," Mr. Hines said in reply. "Since about July 15, 1919, coincident with a marked upward trend in production, there have been some shortages of cars for loading with bituminous coal in some producing districts, mainly in eastern Kentucky, Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania, and usually in districts producing the higher grades of coal. A strike of marine workers on eastwise ships, floods and other operating difficulties have contributed to these shortages. Contemporaneously, however, there still exists slight surpluses of open top cars in some sections, principally in the west."

MEXICAN OUTRAGE MUST COME TO AN END IMMEDIATELY

State Department's Latest Warns Carranza that Indignities Must Stop.

DRASTIC STEPS WILL BE TAKEN IF NECESSARY
Note Is Presented to Mexican Government by American Ambassador.

Washington, Aug. 16.—The state department's latest note to Mexico, warning President Carranza that if murders and indignities of American citizens continue the United States may be forced to adopt a radical change in attitude toward that country, was the chief topic of interest and discussion today in official and diplomatic circles here.

The note, made public late yesterday along with a reply from the Mexican government, lacked only diplomatic technicalities to make it an ultimatum and was couched in the strongest language used in any communication between the two republics since the exchanges just prior to the occupation of Vera Cruz by American armed forces.

While no official statement was made concerning announcement at this time in the change of policy and outwardly there was no apparent reason other than the continued mistreatment, robbery and murder of American (Continued on page three.)

MUTINOUS CREW IS CAPTURED ON SHIP IN DRUNKEN SHAPE

War Vessel Picks Up Ship in Mid-Ocean With all Sailors Intoxicated.

London, Aug. 16.—A wireless dispatch received at Queenstown from the British tank steamer War Khan says that the tanker had picked up another steamer in mid-ocean, finding the crew drunk, the captain incapacitated from injuries and some of the other officers in irons. The crew of the War Khan arrested the mutinous crew of the other steamer and supplied enough men to take the steamer to Brest, where it was bound. The name of the steamer on which the crew mutinied could not be deciphered from the wireless despatch sent by the War Khan.

Special despatches from Queenstown say that the ship on which the mutiny occurred was the "American steamer Marissa." They add that the negro stokers on board mutinied and imprisoned the officers. The ship carried several thousand cases of whiskey. The crew of the War Khan, it is said, found the fires out and the steamer drifting.

PRESIDENT PESSOA GIVING ATTENTION TO AMAZON REGION

Will Make Effort to Have Conditions Improved in Amazon Valley.

WOULD SANITATE EVERY PART OF THE SECTION
Will Give Governmental Protection to Investors in That Locality.

Brazil, Aug. 16.—President Pessoa, the newly-elected head of the Brazilian Republic is reported to intend devoting considerable attention to the work of sanitation in the Amazon Valley and has expressed his intention of affording every governmental protection to investors who help to develop Brazil's natural resources and to encourage desirable colonists. The region comprises an area of 2,000,000 square miles, almost five-sixths the extent of all Europe, and its climatic conditions are almost identical to those of Southern Europe.

The only industry which has been developed to any extent up to the present has been the production of rubber and this is now in an unsatisfactory condition owing to the competition of the Orient which has reduced the price of the product below a profitable margin. In consequence attention is being paid to the other resources of the valley which include gold, platinum, oil, titanium, vanadium, aluminum, tin. (Continued from page one.)

GERMANY IS USING TORPEDO FLOTILLA IN POLICE CENTER

Two Flotilla of Torpedo Boats Constitute Entire Germany's Navy Now.

OPERATING ON WESTERN COAST OF THE COUNTRY
Corps of 360 Men is Distributed Among the Boats on Some Occasions.

(By The Associated Press.)
With the American Forces in Germany, Aug. 16.—The Germans have organized two flotillas of torpedo boats since the armistice and these constitute virtually all the warships left in active service in the German navy, according to information received here.

One of these flotillas is described in Mitschiffs, a German naval periodical which has reached the American headquarters, as the Iron Torpedo Boat Flotilla. It consists of twelve torpedo boats, which, the periodical says, have been engaged in maintaining order on the western coast of Germany.

Some of the vessels of the flotilla have been used on several occasions for police work in the port of Hamburg doing duty guarding allied food shipments to the Czech-Slovaks and similar work during periods of disorder. The flotilla has its headquarters at Wilhelmshaven. A landing corps of about 360 men is distributed among the 12 boats, each of which has a platoon of thirty commanded by a naval lieutenant. The clothing and arms of members of this landing corps are the same as in the infantry.

The other group of vessels called the Half flotilla is supposed to be doing similar duty on the Baltic coast near the Russian boundary, with headquarters in Koenigsberg. The boats are armed with machine guns, and in some cases with 3.7 centimeter guns as well. The flotilla was organized for operation in connection with the East Prussian Freiwilliche corps and was until a few weeks ago subject to the commander of the northern army.

SATURDAY, AUG. 16, 1919.

NO USE TO WORRY, BOYS.

After Senator Lodge and his colleagues come to the conclusion that the American people are not quite so appreciative of their endeavor to bring about criticism upon the league of nations and its direct bearing and relations to this country, it is certainly to be hoped that they will then see the advisability of resigning the precious theme to the inevitable for the time being at least, and do everything possible to prevent further controversy of a subject which is becoming of more than ordinary interest to the people of this country, especially the points which possibly cannot have any direct bearing upon the future destiny of the entire nation.

The league of nations has certainly produced much opposition among certain members of the senate who have nothing more to do than dig down and find some apparent flaw that means very little to congress, and particularly, to the American people, and therefore, it can really be of little more helpfulness in constructive policies of the issue than the very air emanating from the senate chamber as a result of supposed exhaustive research work precipitating the inevitable controversies. It would indeed be unwise to endeavor to enumerate the number of points which have been brought out that do not have the slightest tendency of enhancing the strength of the league covenant, for instead of accomplishing this purpose, the principal interpretation is heightened and intensified to such an extent that not even those who present the opposition fully realize exactly what they really want.

As a consequence, there has been much valuable time of the senate wasted in vain, futile arguments, which otherwise could have been used more advantageously to the interest of the American people, leaving the league of nations in its present construction, and without proposed changes which would mean very little, if anything, to the future commercial intercourse of the countries involved. There has never been a matter that has received such an unnecessary amount of comment from the senate body, and while it is true, there are many things pertaining to the broad scope of the league's context which will bear thorough inspection and criticism, we do not believe that those presented by Senator Lodge are as deserving of public thought as his adherents would have us believe. No one is afraid that America's isolation will bring about any regretful occurrence in the future, and further more there are very few who really care whether or not other nations have ever viewed it in this particular manner. It is immaterial with the people of this country as to what other nations think of it, for the past war has established certain pre-eminence that will undoubtedly displace all former thoughts regarding the nation's activity among world affairs. America is firmly centered in the heart and thought of the entire world at this time, and therefore, the thought of future isolation is assuredly nothing more than an indirect result of premature ideas of the matter.

The league opponents, we are confident, can find something that will prove of more benefit to the people whom they serve if logical thought is centered upon the reconstruction problems before the entire world, and while, of course, the question in hand is closely related to the future destiny of the nation, there are other things deserving of attention which will require the versatility of the senate far more than the splendid construction of the league agreement. More brainy men than the opponents assisted in drafting the issue from beginning to end, and if President Wilson can judiciously accept it, we cannot see where there really is any room for argument.

SOCIAL CLUBS NECESSARY.

Now that almost all of the young men of this city have been released from military service and are again back home taking an active interest in the commercial and social development of the section, we are impressed with the necessity of providing some place of recreation where the evenings and nights can be passed away in a profitable manner, and at the same time affording certain diversions necessary for both physical and mental promotion of early manhood.

Other towns and cities throughout the entire country have found it absolutely imperative to make certain provisions looking to the development of their young men, and while of course, such places as the pool room prove an irresistible attraction to certain classes, we are of the opinion that the young business man anticipating gradual promotion in the commercial world, will find more pleasure in some quiet club rooms where the evenings can be spent with whatever diversions appealing to his nature, and having a tendency of preparing him to better perform the required duties of the following day.

There are many ways in which this can be accomplished, and although it will require the expenditure of a nice little sum of money before it can be made a reality, we feel that the old business man will appreciate the necessity of the club to such an extent that he will find it advisable to make contributions to assist in making it an established factor for the community because we believe that such a place would produce a more thoroughly alert set of business men more ready to deal with problems of current interest. Recreation is absolutely necessary for the man who is confined to the desk or to any business house for an entire day, and if he is given the right kind of diversion, it will not only prove helpful, but will relieve the mind of depressing thoughts of business, and have an entirely opposite effect from such forms of amusements which many of them participate in at this particular time. A well equipped club room, containing a splendid library with current literature, comfortable chairs, and pleasing environments would certainly prove a source of help in every way, and while we are adverse to the idea of pool tables, dance halls and other things out of line with our position, it is certain that some of these features would be required if the club rooms were made attractive to those whom we desire to bring around to more sound and reasonable methods of spending their time, which otherwise, could be filled with other things more profitable and pleasing in the long run.

We certainly would be glad to see some active, well informed business man begin the organization of some social club, for we believe that through this source many young fellows with high business ideals would be helped in realizing the necessity of certain principles of life which otherwise would remain extrinsic and useless if contact with incentives had not brought about the change. The mission is a great one, and deserves the attention of anyone interested in the future of the city.

Tomorrow never comes—unless you have a bill to meet.

MANY NEW YORK INDUSTRIES ARE THREATENED BY STRIKERS

New York, Aug. 16.—More industries are affected by strikes now going on or threatened in this city than ever before in the history of labor unions, according to figures compiled by labor leaders and made public today. Besides the actors and railroad shopmen those now on strike in New York include painters, plasterers, machinists, carpenters, shopmen of the Brooklyn Union Gas Company, cigar-makers, brass workers, shirtmakers, furriers, brass bed makers, umbrella makers and art lamp workers. A nation-wide building strike, taking 1,500,000 men out of work was threatened in a statement issued yesterday by twenty-seven international heads of labor unions.

The evidence had been obtainable to show that they were true.

Sheriff Dudley and his men have been on the lookout for Ricks Forrest for some little time, but owing to the vigilance and surreptitious movements of the old blockader, little evidence could be secured showing that he was really connected with the sale and dispensation in this immediate locality. However, the lines were drawn a little closer this week, and accordingly certain knowledge was gained which led the officers directly to the location of the still, showing conclusively that Ricks has been continuing the illegitimate practice for some little time.

The still was located in a unusually thick reed pond several hundred yards from the home of the two men, and was secreted so securely that the officers found no little difficulty in getting the exact location of the place. The still was of the usual type used by blockaders in this part of the country, and the liquor, real old "monkey rum," but however, a solid barrel of peach beer was also discovered that was in prime condition for distillation.

The apprehension of the two men brings about one of the most auspicious occurrences of late having a tendency of eliminating the traffic in this section of the state, as it is believed that Forrest's encouragement has had much to do with the enormous proportions which the sale of the beverage has assumed in Winterville and nearby sections, especially among white people.

rare cabinet woods, nuts and apparently inexhaustible supplies of cacao, fibres and kapok.

The banks of the Amazon are inundated for three or four months each year and are said to afford splendid opportunities for the cultivation of sugar cane, mandioc, rice, maize, beans and other agricultural products. Back of the rivers and behind the forest walls there are vast tracts of savannah suitable for cattle raising. An excessive rainfall at certain seasons of the year which is followed by a prevalence of fever is the chief drawback to the climatic conditions and the hospital accommodations in the region are very scanty. The reported intention of the government to tackle this problem in a comprehensive manner is expected to remove one of the principal obstacles to successful colonization.

citizens in Mexico, it generally was the opinion today that pressure from foreign governments and demand in congressional circles for some protective action hastened the announcement.

It was pointed out that should some drastic step become necessary, the United States from a military point of view now is in better shape to act than at any time in its history of the long drawn out controversy with the Mexican nation as to American rights and privileges.

The note was presented to the Carranza government at Mexico City by Charge Summerlin, of the American embassy, acting in the absence of Ambassador Fletcher. The reply was made July 20 by Salvador Diego Fernandez, in charge of the department of foreign relations.
