

PEACE PACT STILL HOLDING INTEREST IN SENATE CIRCLE

Leaders in Treaty Fight Ready to Vote on Shantung Amendment Soon.

SENATOR LODGE WILL SPEAK DURING TODAY

Speeding Up of Program Due to Occur Throughout Session of Week.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Influence of another test of strength in the senate controversy over the German peace treaty overtops in interest and importance all matters likely to come before congress this week. Leaders in the treaty fight regard a vote on the Shantung amendments to the pact late this week as assured and hope that within ten days all other amendments can be disposed of.

Debate on the Shantung amendments will be continued tomorrow by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, chairman of the Foreign Relations committee and author of the pending amendments. Reading of the treaty text will be continued and by Wednesday it is hoped to conclude the formal reading and proceed to vote on the Shantung section.

To expedite the treaty consideration, Republican and Democratic leaders are negotiating for an agreement for an earlier hour and also for uninterrupted consideration of the document. It is aimed to inaugurate this new "speeding-up" program Wednesday.

The House will consider comparatively minor measures this week including disposition of the bill for vocational education of persons injured in industry and that to establish a federal budget system. Final action on the ouster proceedings against Representative Victor Berger, the Wisconsin socialist, is planned Friday by the house elections committee.

Following disposal of the Shantung amendments to the treaty, Senate leaders plan to take up the "six to one" amendment of Senator Johnson, Republican of California, who is expected to return Tuesday from his Western speaking trip. Leaders of both parties in the senate agree that the vote on Senator Johnson's proposal, aimed to equalize British and American voting strength in the League of Nations, will be very close. Several days, it is expected will be spent in debate on the amendment.

Growers and Manufacturers Are Brought in Close Personal Contact.

New Orleans, La., Oct. 13.—New Orleans tonight became the meeting ground for men of all nations, speaking all tongues, but united on a subject of common interest to the world, cotton. Delegates from thirty-one nations were present to attend the sessions of the World Cotton Conference which formally opens tomorrow.

The conference is regarded as the first serious attempt to gather the cotton interests of the world into council. Through a frank interchange of views leaders have expressed a hope to reach unanimous agreements upon better methods and results to benefit the entire industry.

The movement originated at a meeting of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers held in Boston April 26, 1917. Several directors of the conference tonight were unprepared to say what great single accomplishment they expect from it. It was (Continued on page eight.)

RED CROSS NURSE WILL LECTURE AT CHAUTAUQUA SOON

Miss Jenkins, Recently in European Hospitals, to Be Here Tuesday,

PUBLIC HEALTH NURSING TO BE PRINCIPAL TOPIC

Home Hygiene Will be Given Great Consideration Throughout Address

Every one should hear Miss Jenkins in the auditorium of the High School on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Back from the war hospitals of Europe, a company of American Red Cross nurses are touring the country on the Chautauqua circuits in a new and far-reaching public health campaign. Four nurses have been assigned to cover the chapters in this division and Miss Mary Jenkins will speak in Greenville, N. C., on October 14th, on the program of the Radcliffe Chautauqua circuit, her subject being "A Record and a Prophecy."

The need for public health nursing has been strikingly demonstrated in this country during the year 1918. In the United States alone, the epidemic of influenza was responsible for the deaths of 340,000 people, while tuberculosis claimed 150,000 victims. In addition to this, approximately one third of the men who were examined (Continued on page four.)

MAJOR SPATZ HAS POSSIBLY WON ON DISPUTED HONORS

American Flying Club Probably Will Award Second Place in Place 3rd.

New York, Oct. 13.—Officials of the American Flying Club, which is assisting the army air service in the conduct of the trans-continental air derby, tonight said there was possibility of a protested decision should they give Maj. Carl Spatz second place in elapsed time on the first leg of the contest.

Lieut. Belvin W. Maynard is the undisputed winner of the first half of the race. Friends of Lieutenant Emil Kiel, who landed at Roosevelt Field, the Eastern terminus, yesterday 20 seconds ahead of Major Spatz, who had first alighted at Hazelhurst Field by mistake, were expected to make the protest on the ground that he granted Major Spatz a five-minute handicap at Binghamton, the last control, although this was not authorized by the commanding officer at Binghamton.

When the signal was given at Binghamton for the start of the last "jump" to Mineola, Major Spatz, who was not ready, is said to have requested Lieutenant Kiel to wait ten minutes for him. According to the Lieutenants, a compromise of five minutes was effected, although it was up to the commanding officer at the Binghamton control to determine the time for starting.

CONSIDERABLE TROUBLE IS REPORTED IN YOUNGSTOWN

ENGLISH LIQUOR IS ATTRACTING SOME ATTENTION LATELY

Britain Must Choose Government Control of Either Prohibition, Said.

TWO POLICES ARE GOING TO BE GIVEN ATTENTION

Chairman of Liquor Control Board Believes That Control Is Possible.

London, Sept. Britain must choose between strict government control of the liquor traffic or absolute prohibition, in the opinion of Lord D'Abernon, chairman of the Liquor Control Board.

"If the question is considered broadly there are only two policies, control or prohibition," said Lord D'Abernon. "Reversion to the old pre-war conditions would mean drunkenness, inefficiency, ill health, disease and the misery which has notoriously resulted from drunken habits in the past."

"I believe that control is possible. The experience of the war shows that temperance and efficiency can be obtained by regulation. I believe the liquor trade is susceptible to reform. Recent declarations by leaders in the trade, appear to me to warrant the belief that the new school in the brewing trade is gaining a hearing, and that they have realized that the old methods of the anti-reform whole-hog indulgence advocates are no longer suitable to modern conditions. The same change is in evidence among licensed victuallers: I get many letters from them urging that there be no return to the old hours, during which their shops stayed 17 hours instead of six daily and when the conditions for public house servants were a scandal."

"There can be no doubt that the position of licenses is enormously better than before the war."

EMIGRATION CAUSE OF UNCERTAINTY IN HUN TERRITORY

Matter Forms Puzzling Problem in Many Centers, It Is Stated.

Berlin, Oct. 13.—The moot question of emigration forms a puzzling problem in Germany, all the more so because of the huge taxation that is planned.

The empire is divided into two unequal camps—those who favor the emigration of between fifteen and twenty million Germans because they feel that Germany can only recuperate if it has a smaller population to nourish and support, and the vastly larger group that feels emigration must not be allowed because the forces are needed here to take part in rebuilding and in paying taxes.

Financial experts estimate that a man represents to Germany a capital of 20 times his annual earnings. As the average German workman now earns 2,000 marks, his capital would be 40,000 marks. If 200,000 emigrate each year as has been suggested, then the Fatherland is eight millions poorer each year, say the experts, and that much intrinsic capital is permanently lost. As the workman is the highest economic property Germany still possesses, emigration is a life and death question for Germany.

Judge Bamberger of Aschersleben, one of the many who have been discussing the emigration problem recently, declares that the new emigration-bureau of the government must restrain each would be emigrant at least six months, not only so that his case may be investigated but that he may have a chance to change his mind.

FOREIGNERS GIVEN UNUSUAL THOUGHT IN JAPAN REGIONS

Auspicious Foreigners Carefully Watched by Government Detectives.

INFLUX OF FOREIGNERS PRODUCES PRECAUTION

Height of Absurdity that Authorities Should be too Vigilant, Said.

Tokio, Oct. 13.—Referring to the sensitiveness of the Japanese authorities about the movement of "auspicious foreigners" who arrive in this country, the Jiji says that no doubt the authorities are wisely careful to prevent the influx of such dangerous ideas as Bolshevism and socialism, but the result is that foreigners who are very favorably inclined toward Japan are not infrequently subjected to a system of vexatious spying or shadowing.

The Jiji relates that recently an American whose name is well known in business and economic circles in America, while on his way from Nagasaki to Tokio, is said to have been subjected to examination at the hands of half a dozen different detectives. The American who is a friend of Baron Shibusawa, in the course of an interview with him, drew his attention to what had occurred during his journey and said that such an experience, if suffered by other foreigners, is likely to send them away with a very unfavorable impression of Japan.

The Jiji also refers to the case of Dr. Frederick Starr, Professor at the Chicago university, who is well known among the Japanese by the name of "Ofuda Hakase" or "Charm Doctor," owing to the great interest evinced by him in the collection of charms from the Japanese temples. The American (Continued on page four.)

STRIKERS BELIEVE ABUSIVE METHODS ARE STILL IN USE

Charges of Abuse Are Reiterated by Leaders in Senate Hearings Sunday.

STEEL CORPORATION IS PUTTING ON EMPLOYEES

Testimony of Ex-Soldier Brings About Additional Facts in the Probe.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 13.—Senators investigating the Steel strike situation spent all of Sunday afternoon, and most of Sunday night listening to evidence. A big crowd, filling the United States court room in the Federal building, following the unusual procedure, and had to be disciplined several times by Chairman Kenyon for laughing at some of the answers made by witnesses. Representatives of the strikers devoted their efforts to maintaining the charge, oft-repeated since the investigation began, that civil authorities, State troopers and other law officers were misusing their power to break down the strike.

The United States Steel Corporation again took a hand today and was allowed to put on before the committee a group of old, but lower paid employees, who declared their satisfaction with conditions, hours and wages.

Arthur Raymond, the first of those said he had worked 33 years in the mills, raised a family of nine children, bought a home, and was now drawing the highest pay he had ever received, 43 cents an hour.

"You're a good manager," Senator McKellar, of Tennessee, told him. August Mann, superintendent of a wire plant at Douora, followed the employees and said strike was rapidly falling.

"Out of 4,200 men in the mill, 3,200 stayed on the first day it was called," Mann declared. "Since then 1,084 have come back, and more returned every day."

The major proportion of his men, Mann said, had always wanted to stay. Like other steel company representatives who have testified he assured the committee that the presentation of grievances to superintendents by men in the mills was always countenanced, and even encouraged.

Geo. F. Colson, an ex-soldier and an American, followed him with a whole broadside of complaint to make against the company. "I pretty nearly had to go on my knees to the company to get a job back though I was one of the first fifty men in France," he said.

Maynard said that he is planning to try for the trans-continental record in November with a machine which is adapted particularly for speed and hopes to fly from the Atlantic to the Pacific in two days.

Any one can say that their Furs are made of "carefully selected skins, skillfully fashioned, and smartly designed" yet few assertions of this sort carry any assurance of credence from the reader. Pretty phrases without a reputation to back them up are worthless, with the support of a reputation they are unnecessary. The most significant characterization we can give our Furs is "they are the best values for the money that the market affords."

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 9 1919.

The agitation for a reduction in prices seems so far to have had no effect on bringing down the high cost of living.

A North Carolina aviator winning the laurels in a flight across the continent; puts the Old North State in the lead again as usual.

A reading of Governor Bickett's letter in Saturday's paper, explaining his action on the Bowen pardon, leads one to wonder what the lawyer who misrepresented the facts to the governor can think of himself. What the people think is easier to imagine.

Fairs being held this month in many neighboring towns, emphasizes what Pitt county is losing in this respect. A few years ago this county had two or three creditable fairs and let them stop. We ought to get busy again and have a good one every year, and it is not too soon to start for next year.

You only have to look at the record of the House Building and Loan Association and consider what has been done for the people of Greenville to be convinced that it is the best thing the town ever had. From the standpoint of a safe and paying investment, the opportunity of securing a home on easy payments, it should appeal to every citizen of the community. A new series of shares in the association is to begin the first Saturday in November and booking for these has already started. You will be furthering your own interest when you get on the list of shareholders.

GREAT INCREASE IN BANK DEPOSITS.

There are 27,000,000 savings bank depositors in the United States. These figures became public at the recent convention of the American Banker's Association at St. Louis, and in compiling these figures due allowance was made for duplications. Investigation by the banker has proved that these savings bank depositors are, with few exceptions, people of small means but they are the people who absorbed in large measure the war issues of government securities. Thrift and War Savings Stamps, Savings Certificates and Liberty Bonds. Not only did they buy and hold government securities but those investments led to additional savings, consolidated the habit of thrift and increased bank deposits throughout the entire nation. These 27,000,000 depositors now own $10,573,971,000 of savings.

This is the money which has built up the railroads, municipalities homes and industries of the nation. These savings represent over twenty-six per cent of the total resources. These savers financed the war successfully, and on their continuation of the production of new capital through savings rests the solution for financing reconstruction and for the increase of production necessary to check the high cost of living.

The government savings securities and Liberty Bonds offer ideal means for the production of this new capital. They are adapted for investment of all sums no matter how great or small, they are the safest security possible. They are profitable and readily convertible into cash should necessity arise. Their purchase not only aids in financing the government but releases corresponding capital from the banks and financial institution for expansion of industry and development of production.

The figures compiled by the Bankers Association show that in the five year period ending January 1 of this year, saving deposits in state banks increased 59.47 per cent; in mutual savings banks, 12.96 per cent, in stock savings banks 33.04 percent; in trust companies 24.32 per cent, and in national banks 118.36 percent.

It also was announced at St. Louis that there were 35,000,000 policy holders in life insurance companies in the United States.

for military service were found to be physically unfit, the majority on account of defects which might have been remedied if taken in hand in time, as would have been the case if there had been compulsory examination of school children years ago.

The public health nursing program of the Red Cross offers one specific answer to the question "What is the Red Cross going to do in times of peace?" The address of Miss Jenkins will take up five general topics, the first three of which take public health education itself into the home of every one in the audience.

The first of these is a plea and argument for the employment of a public health nurse in every community. This work will be carried on in co-operation with the State Boards of Health and Education, the State Anti-Tuberculosis League, and other state health organizations. In communities where no organizations exist Red Cross chapters will be urged to establish a nursing service, financed by chapter funds.

The second part of the nurse's "message" is the urgent matter of home hygiene and the care of the sick. She will explain to her audiences the importance of taking the course of basic education in these subjects, so that they will know how to combat contagion in the home, how to keep the health of the family at the highest possible point and the household in thoroughly hygienic condition, how to assist and work with the physician and nurse.

It is the third part of the lecture that asks whether or not the women in the audience can cook, and the question is as far from frivolity as it is from impertinence. The Red Cross course in dietetics teaches what every woman ought to know and so many women do not, simple home cooking for the sick and the well.

When she has delivered these three parts of her message she will change the subject and talk not so generally to the audience as a whole as to one important part of it—the young women who might, if it occurred to them and the opportunity were there, become nurses, Miss Jenkins who has served in France will bring the opportunity, as well as the thought, to her hearers.

The last part of the talk will have to do with the Red Cross enrollment, and will urge nurses all over the country who have not already done so to "enlist" with the Red Cross.

FOREIGNERS GIVEN UNUSUAL THOUGHT IN JAPAN REGIONS

Continued from Page professor recently arrived in Japan. As soon as Dr. Starr landed at Yokohama the local police authorities instructed a police officer to follow him to Tokio. Later, when Dr. Starr left for a trip to Mount Fuji, the police authorities supplied, unmasked, a police escort to the American visitor and the officer accompanied him all the way to the top of the mountain. Dr. Starr is at present staying at Kozu and his residence, says the newspaper is unnecessarily closely watched by the lynx eyed police.

The Jiji adds, "It is the height of absurdity that the Japanese authorities should evince suspicion about the movements of such men and detail detectives to keep watch over them."

Attempt to Be Cave Man Leads to Arrest

Portland, Ore.—John Law is always spilling romance. Just when Ernest Fix tried to pull a cave-man stunt and fix it up for him and Miss Polly Eagle to wed the bride-to-be went and had him arrested. "He used to sit on my porch with a gun and threaten to kill me unless I married him," she told the court. Then Ernest, who is seventeen years old, was held under $2,000 for investigation by the grand jury.

HARDING STANDS ON HIS OWN PLATFORM

Pitt County Candidate for Lieutenant Governor Not Tied Up to Any Man

The friends of Mr. F. C. Harding, who is a candidate for lieutenant-governor, were much amused to read in the Washington correspondence of a state daily the story in regard to the support that Mr. Harding might give Morrison for Governor with the further suggestion now that Mr. Gardner with the hope of making Gardner Governor and that in 1924 it would be easy to make Mr. Harding Governor, it having been established once that a lieutenant governor could be promoted to the governorship. Of course, neither Mr. Harding nor any of his friends ever heard of the support promised Morrison, or ever dreamed that the way to become governor of North Carolina was to break a precedent. But the yarn as dreamed by the politician from North Carolina, who talked to the Washington correspondent made most interesting reading.

The fact of the matter is Mr. Harding's friends don't care who is to be Governor, that is as far as his candidacy is concerned. Some of them are Gardner men and some are Morrison men and the Gardner men and the Morrison men have a way of making a noise for their candidate, but it would surprise some of these self same noise makers for the candidates to know that neither Gardner or Morrison figure in the running in Pitt as much as does Page. The friends of Page are moving quietly and saying little, but since the Seventh district man's visit here a few weeks ago has stock is climbing toward par, it is declared.

As to Mr. Harding tying himself to the coat tail of any candidate for governor—it has never been thought of in Pitt. The folks who know Mr. Harding believe he can be elected lieutenant governor because of his merit and qualifications for the position. They feel that in 1924 he ought to be nominated for governor, but if he is it will be because he has the qualities of head and heart that qualify him for the place and not because a precedent has been broken, if Morrison wins the plum, or because Page, business man, has occupied the governor's mansion for four years, the folks want a lawyer governor again. Harding's friends are counted among the supporters of all three men, but their support is not given to either candidate with the idea of bringing support to their friend and neighbor. F. C. Harding, but because they have made their selection for Governor and mean to stand by the candidate of their choice.

Vice President Marshall will speak at the Kinston fair Tuesday.

There will be several big land sales this week.

ATLANTIC COAST REALTY CO.
SELLS CAPT. WHITE FARM

The Atlantic Coast Realty Company, sold the farm recently owned by the late Capt. White, but now the property of Messrs Luther Manning and L. T. Weatherington, this morning for some over the handsome sum of $90,000. Quite a large crowd attended, and several interested bidders were present.

For several days the Atlantic Coast Realty Company has been putting on an extensive advertising campaign in the interest of this sale and people knowing the value of this property went out with the intention of buying.

The property was bought by three purchasers.

This is one of the many sales which this great land sale company has scheduled for this section of the county this week, and the handsome sum for which this farm, subdivided, sold for speaks in the loudest voice possible for the Atlantic Coast Realty Company.

Mr. K. W. Cobb who conducted the advertising campaign is highly elated over the outcome and rightly so, as it was a splendid sale.
