

ORDER IS ISSUED CALLING OFF COAL STRIKE OF NATION

General Committee of Mine Workers Reached Decisions 4:10 this Morning MANDATE OF FEDERAL COURT TO BE OBEYED Recall of Strike Orders Will Open Way for Further Negotiations.

Indianapolis, Nov. 11.—An order calling off the coal strike will be issued today, following the decision of the general committee of the United Mine Workers of America at 4:10 this morning, to obey the mandate of the United States court which was issued Saturday. The committee adjourned a few minutes later to re-convene at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

President Wilson probably will telegraph both coal operators and official United Mine Workers asking them to get together and settle the differences. It is said today at the White House that at the same time the president probably will renew his offer of services of the government toward mediation.

Officials of the American Federation of Labor showed surprise but would not comment upon the final outcome of the situation. The recall of the strike order will open way immediately for resumption of negotiations between miners and operators, as operators have already announced their readiness to consider new wage agreement any time strike order is withdrawn.

Armistice Is Celebrated In Nation Today

First Anniversary of Ending of War Observed Throughout the Land. SEVERAL STATES HAVE MADE EVENT HOLIDAY Celebrating to be Featured by Modifications in Many Parts of Nation.

New York, Nov. 11.—Armistice Day, the first anniversary of that joyous date one year ago when all the world learned that the power of the Teutonic empires was broken, will be celebrated throughout America tomorrow. More than 1,000,000 veterans of the great war and the public generally will unite in commemorating Nov. 11, 1918, when the German delegates signed their names to the historic declaration that ended hostilities in the world's most stupendous conflict.

Americans will recall the wave of joy, relief and thankfulness that swept through their hearts when the wires flashed the longed-for news that the armistice was signed at 11 o'clock that morning a year ago. Tomorrow they will have with them their millions of sons who survived. To others the day is hallowed to the memory of those thousands of America's sons who gave their lives to break the German dream of world dominion and who now sleep in the battlefields where they fell.

Many unique and patriotic events will mark the day. At 11 a. m. the exact hour when the Germans sought cessation of the fighting, there will be numerous reunions followed by parades, singing, airplane flights, and sports to be followed by dinners and (Continued on page eight.)

IMPORTANT FACTS OF MURDER CASE GIVEN AT INQUEST

County Coroner Makes Report Concerning Killing of Isham Ellis Sunday

Several important facts regarding the death of Isham Ellis, colored man of the Fountain township who was shot and instantly killed the past Sunday night by Sam Dixon after forcibly entering the Dixon home, were brought out in the inquest conducted by county coroner J. J. Turnage yesterday, in which several witnesses were examined and many facts of more than ordinary interest produced.

It seems from the evidence submitted during the investigation, that Ellis had been to the Dixon home during the early part of Sunday night, showing not the slightest signs of intoxication or disposition to harm any member of the family. Shortly after 10 o'clock, he returned and demanded that he be admitted immediately. Several profane expressions accompanied the demand, and not being in the slightest hurry to admit the man, Octavus Dixon, father of Sam Dixon who did the shooting, refused to open the door.

Ellis, it appears, was maddened by the refusal of admission, and yelled out that he would smash the damned door in unless it was opened immediately, and immediately began to put his words into effect. He threw his body against the door and smashed it in completely. Members of the household scurried for their rooms, closing the doors behind them. Octavus Dixon entered a bed room for safety, and had barely gotten in the door when he was rushed on and furiously attacked by the maddened visitor with a pistol in his hand. In the ensuing scuffle the man went off two times, the balls going through the roof of the house without injuring anyone, and immediately Sam Dixon rushed upon the scene with a shot gun procured from some part of the house, and emptied a load in the head of his father's assailant, killing him almost instantly.

SEVERAL CASES IN OPENING SESSIONS OF COURT MONDAY

Five or Six Unimportant Actions Heard During the Evening Session.

SHERIFF DUDLEY GIVEN GOLD WATCH FOR SERVICE

Work of Pitt County Sheriff in Whiskey Traffic Appropriately Recognized

Notwithstanding the fact that several preliminary matters occupied the attention of the opening session of the criminal term of Pitt county court which opened in this city yesterday morning, threatening no little delay throughout the day, great progress was made during the evening session which resulted in the disposition of several cases, and a pretty good beginning on the case against J. L. Mayo of the Greenville Publishing Company, the charge growing out of wrong statements made regarding the position taken by Sheriff McLawhorn during the drafting of Pitt county men for service in the army. The case was resumed when court reconvened this morning and probably will occupy the remainder of today's session.

The regular routine of court work was momentarily interrupted yesterday at the beginning of the noon session when Sheriff Dudley was presented with a handsome gold watch and chain by citizens of Carolina township in recognition of his excellent services in curbing the whiskey traffic in that section and particularly throughout the entire county. It was expected that the presentation would be made at the beginning of the morning session but (Continued on page eight.)

TOLEDO ENTERING INTO SECOND DAY OF BIG CAR STRIKE

Citizens of Ohio City Determined to Fight Strike to the Finish.

Toledo, O., Nov. 11.—Toledo today entered its second day of non-street cars determined to fight to a finish the avowed effort of the Toledo Railways and Light company to effect repeal of the ouster ordinance passed by a vote of the people at the election last Tuesday.

City officials also reiterated their stand of yesterday that the ordinance would not be repealed, neither will the company be given a franchise. They are angry because Henry L. Doherty, of New York, head of the concern which controls the local traction company, spirited the cars into Michigan before daylight of Sunday morning without notice to the public.

Mayor Cornell Scheiber, who introduced the ouster ordinance in council last June 30, will meet with the common council tonight.

A resolution will be introduced looking to the repeal of the ouster. It is understood that the councilmen will vote against repeal. It is pointed out that should it be repealed it would have to be submitted to the voters and law authorities have not yet found a way in which a special election could be held under the terms of the city charter.

Frank R. Coates, resident president of the traction company, declared today that the cars will be returned only when the ouster ordinance is repealed and the company is given a franchise. In this he only repeated the statement made by Mr. Doherty yesterday.

Meantime the car riders who voted to drive the cars off the streets are paying all the way from ten cents to fifty cents, getting to their work this morning in private motor cars. Under the rate of carriage they were riding for six cents with a two-cent charge for transfers.

SEVERAL REASONS ARE PRESENTED IN BEHALF HOSPITAL

Rev. Walter Patten Presents Facts Regarding Proposed County Memorial.

DR. FRIZZELLE'S LETTER RECEIVES HIS ATTENTION

Recent Opposition of County Doctor Brings Out Interesting Facts.

The question has arisen whether or not the people of Pitt County are too individualistic to make it practical for them to own and control a Memorial Hospital. One of the doctors thinks that they are. His argument is that it has not been done in other counties and therefore cannot be done in Pitt. He writes, "The establishment of a County Hospital is impractical. I oppose it. I oppose it because the history of county hospitals reveals them as having been failures. In this state a few counties have established or half county hospitals and without a single exception those institutions have been discontinued. I am advised that there has never been in the whole of a successfully operating county owned hospital and for these reasons I question the wisdom of establishing an institution as a memorial which has been a failure wherever tried."

The question that arises is the practicability of public owned and controlled hospitals. That is the issue. It does not matter so much whether the public is a state, a county, a township, municipality, or a church that controls the hospital. I assume that the doctor admits that to be the issue. YOUNG NEGRO MAN KILLED BY WOMAN THROUGH MISTAKE

Jennie Davenport Kills John D. J. Whichard Presents Gavel to Dr. B. W. Spilman, of Kinston.

In investigating the death of John Person, colored man about 20 years of age of the Stokes section, who was last Sunday night shot and killed by Jennie Davenport, colored, on a public highway near Stokes, coroner J. J. Turnage and jury yesterday returned decisions in the matter immediately following the inquest over the body of the dead man, showing that he came to his death at the hands of the woman while she was intending to kill another.

Examination of witnesses during the inquest brought out several facts showing that the woman really did not mean to kill Person, and by her own confession after being brought to the jail in this city, evinced her regret, stating that he was one of the best friends she had ever had. The shooting occurred about seven o'clock Sunday evening when the Davenport woman met Person, with some other companions, on the road. She said she was looking for one Earnest Whichard, colored, who had mistreated her in some way, and mistaking Person for Whichard through the darkness she spoke aloud, saying: "There's Earnest Whichard now," and immediately fired at the object of her remark with a pistol which was concealed on her person.

The examination of witnesses failed to bring out any facts why the woman desired to kill Whichard, in fact, her own statements failed to convey reasons for the desire, and there was everything in evidence to show that she was truly sorry of her act. She is about 28 years of age, having lived in the Stokes region for many years and was not considered any bad character by other colored people of the neighborhood. It is believed that jealousy prompted the intention to kill Whichard and that the dead man was shot purely through mistaken identity.

Vienna Said To Be Faced By Famines

Great City Is Practically Stricken from Poverty in Thousand Homes.

UNEMPLOYED CITIZENS THROUG CITY STREETS

Virtually Everything Is High Priced and Beyond Reach of the Poor.

Vienna, Nov. 11.—Outwardly Vienna is the same as before the war but actually this great city is stricken. Dozens of theatres and operas are open, cafes and music halls are crowded, but a very large part of the population is in poverty, lacking not only food and clothing but a place to live. The streets are thronged, shops opened, shop windows filled with the articles of luxury for which Vienna is famous, but the better part of the stock is to be found in the windows.

Virtually everything is priced in hundreds of crowns. Austrian money, paper only and unbacked by precious metal, goes steadily down. Even the swarms of beggars that infest the streets look reproachfully at anything less than the pink piece of paper that indicates two crowns. Its costs a hundred crowns to go a few blocks by carriage, taxi-cabs being few and almost prohibitive even in the depreciated money, while the street porters, old men who act as messengers and carriers, will not cross the street for less than twenty crowns.

Once the best dressed town in the world, Vienna is plain to the point of shabbiness. Most of the women wear unimpeachable home made gowns and the men's clothing shows the mark of (Continued on page eight.)

STATE CONVENTION OF BAPTIST OPENS IN RALEIGH TODAY

Dr. B. W. Spilman, of Kinston.

Raleigh, Nov. 11.—By unanimous ballot Dr. B. W. Spilman, of Kinston, was re-elected president of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina immediately following the devotional exercises of the first session this morning. The following officers were elected: J. A. Campbell, Buies Creek, J. R. Hunter, Raleigh and L. L. Carpenter of Greensboro. The following officers were re-elected: Walter M. Gilmore, Sanford, recording secretary; Walters Durham, of Raleigh, treasurer; F. H. Briggs, of Raleigh, auditor; Walter N. Johnson, corresponding secretary; R. T. Vann, of Raleigh, J. N. Allette, of Baden, W. N. Jones, of Raleigh, R. J. Brogden, of Durham, J. B. Harrison, of Greensboro, Benjamin J. Souges, of Asheville, M. L. Davis, of Beaufort, trustees.

The feature of the election of officers was the presentation to Dr. B. W. Spilman of a gavel. This gavel was made from a piece of timber taken from a site on which was located the Baptist church at Greenville, N. C., in which building the Baptist State convention was organized in 1830. The presentation was made by Mr. D. J. Whichard, postmaster at Greenville, in a very happy address. Dr. Spilman began his active ministerial work as pastor of the Greenville church. The attendance is a record breaker, and the enthusiasm concerning the Baptist $75,000,000 campaign is mounting high.

FOCH SENDS GLAD GREETINGS TO THE AMERICAN SOLDIER

Message from Noted General Read at Convention of the American Legion.

HE RECALLS THE SPIRIT OF LAST YEAR THIS TIME

Message Filled With Expressions of Joy Over Outcome of the Year.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 11.—To give the American Legion permanent shape and declare its policies as a force in the social and governmental life of the nation, two thousand delegates representing all sections and classes of service men and women started their first convention here today.

Governor J. A. A. Burnquist, President Cyrus Northrop, of the University of Minnesota, and Mayor J. E. Meyers delivered brief speeches at the opening sessions which was called to order by Henry D. Lindsay, of Texas, national chairman.

Greeting from Marshal Foch, allied commander-in-chief, were transmitted by J. J. Jusseraud, French ambassador to the United States.

Marshal Foch's message follows: "My valiant war companions: The 11th of November, 1918, saw the capitulation of the enemy, vanquished Germany was craving for mercy and she delivered over to us such trophies as history has never known.

"This was indeed, the victory of the allied armies, who ardently fighting had united in a supreme continuous and violent effort all their energies as they had done in the past.

"With head erect, the valiant American fighters of the Argonne, of the Meuse, of the Somme, of Flanders, after hard days, resumed once more by the side of the allies, the march toward the Rhine.

"In this day when for the first time we celebrate the anniversary of the armistice, I want to be with you to commemorate the past and to tell you that with our eyes ever raised toward the same ideal of justice and liberty we must remain united as we have been in the days of trial and the days of triumph.

"Proud to have been at your head, I send my most cordial greetings to the veterans of the great war, illustrious by their immortal deeds, and to those who, in the camps of America, were preparing with ardor to come and take their part in the battle.

"Lastly, I wish to salute, as ever living in a memory of the past and on the threshold of a future common to us, the tombs of those who lie in the soil of France, resting there as a symbol of our indissoluble union."

The accompanying letter from Mr. Jusseraud said:

"You may be assured that the marshal has very truly expressed the feelings of every French citizen."

FARMS SOLD NEAR CITY BRING HIGH PRICES.

The Atlantic Coast Realty Company has again conducted two successful sales in this county, when on yesterday they sold the James Brown farm, on the Grimesland road, near Greenville, and the Peebles farm, on the Falkland road, six miles from this city. The James Brown farm was sold for the handsome sum of $40,842.98, and the Peebles farm brought $35,700.00. These sales speak well for the Atlantic Coast Realty Co., and much of the success of the sales is due to Mr. K. W. Cobb, who had charge of the advertising campaign. He did not leave anything undone that could have possibly detracted from the selling value of the farms.

VAPOR BATHS IN LAPLAND

Writer's Strenuous Experience of Cleansing Process Finishes With Being Bastinadoed.

In Wide World Frank Hedges Butler describes a vapor bath in the land of the Lapps. He says:

The bathhouse is a small wooden structure generally situated some way from the dwelling house. It is divided into two compartments, one to undress in, while the other contains the oven which produces the steam. The oven is arched with large stones or pebbles, and heated by a fire placed beneath. Undressing in the first room, one enters the heated compartment. After a short rest on a wooden form or bench, which contains a place for the head, the attendants come in and bathe you. Cold water is thrown over the stones and the hissing vapor soon sends up a cloud of steam. The higher you sit from the floor the greater the heat. As more water is thrown over the red-hot stones the vapor becomes so intense that one can hardly breathe. We were soon gasping for breath and covered with a profuse perspiration which issued from every pore of the skin. Hanging up in the room were tender branches or twigs in a green state and retaining their leaves. Dipping these in water, the attendant began lashing and whipping me across the legs, shoulders, loins and back, till my body seemed quite red with the switching. The bastinadoing over, I was then washed with a soft flannel covered with soap, after which a jug of the coldest water was thrown over my head and body.

JOKE ON SCHOOL VISITOR

Fortunately Hamilton Mable Was Well Able to Appreciate Unconscious Humor of the Children.

The late Hamilton W. Mable, the well-known American essayist, was one of those genial men who enjoyed a joke on themselves. Illustrating this phase of Mr. Mable's character, it is told that when he was a student Mr. Mable made an address in which he told this story:

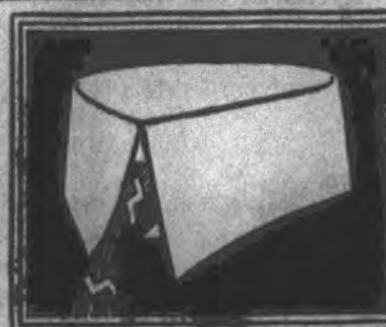

He had visited a school in Philadelphia in which there was a daily fire-drill. The teacher regularly asked the students, "Children, what would you do if fire were to break out in this building?" The children all repeated in chorus, "We would rise in our places, step into the aisle, and march quietly out of the building." On the morning when Mr. Mable visited the school, while he was sitting quietly on the platform, the teacher stepped before the pupils and said, "Children, what would you say if I were to tell you that Mr. Mable is to speak to you this morning?" The children promptly replied in chorus, "We would rise in our places, step into the aisle, and march quietly out of the building."

ALL WILLING TO PAY FARES

Reason Why Citizens of Lima, Peru, Do Not Seek to Evade Their Street Car Obligations.

If fare registers were to be placed in the street cars of Lima, Peru, there would be a loud protest. This is not because it is easier to dodge the conductor under the prevailing system. On the contrary, the travelers of Lima are willing, even anxious, to pay their fares. Perhaps that doesn't seem human, but the explanation is that upon receipt of the fare a numbered ticket is presented to the passenger, and it is a valuable lottery ticket.

The car lines are divided into four sections for the monthly and semi-monthly drawings conducted by the railway company. In the three important sections a cash prize of $150 is offered. The fourth section offers a prize of $50.

Does the public approve of the lottery? Does it? Well 28,500,000 persons rode last year.

Silkworms of the Sea.
Plenty of worms live in the sea, and some of them are very beautiful creatures. Which latter fact ought to be consoling to ourselves, inasmuch as there are naturalists who contend that the earliest ancestor of the human race was a marine worm. But the so-called "silkworm of the sea"—the designation being purely figurative and poetical—is a bivalve mollusk properly known as the "pinna" and native to the Mediterranean. It spins a silk so beautiful that in ancient days the fiber was reserved exclusively for the weaving of royal garments. This silk is spun by the mollusk to furnish an anchor line by which it fastens itself to a convenient rock. It is extremely fine and very strong. Cleaned, dried and passed through combs, it is reduced to delicate threads of a lustrous brownish-yellow hue, which are woven into gloves, stockings and other articles. A pair of stockings of this material today costs $6.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Great Tibetan Industry.

By far the largest herds of musk deer are to be found on the southern shores of the Koko-Nor, and the supply of musk there (at Taichou) is larger than the quantity that comes through Sungpan. In fact, great quantities of musk do not come to Sungpan at all, but are sent east to Yuchow, in Honan, where a fair is held in the ninth and tenth moons, many of the Sungpan traders visiting this place. At Tachienlu musk is the most valuable export, practically every long reeking with it, and nearly all the Tibetans who come from the far interior bring some with them. The price of medium musk there is thirteen times its weight in silver.

Shark Leather Here.

From being an implacable enemy to man science is making the shark expiate its crimes by helping to reduce the high cost of living. For the tiger of the sea has now become a source of leather to clothe millions of pairs of feet.

Experiments with shark leather indicate that it may be used for practically everything now made of cattle leather. It is even claimed that shark hides have one great advantage over cow-hides in that the "splits" are amazingly strong. A "split" is simply a peeling of the hide—something like the veneer cut from a slab of wood.

Dove That Built Great City.

When mighty Amru went to conquer Egypt he camped on the east bank of the Nile opposite Memphis, that great 20-mile-long capital of mud bricks, whose western verge was the pyramids and whose mud brick houses have all vanished. Amru crushed the Egyptians and came back to get his camp to move over and occupy Memphis. A dove had built its folds near the top of his tent. Blood-bathed Amru, the ruthless, would not let her be disturbed. A new city started about his tent. It grew northward along the Nile. It is today Cairo. Memphis is only a name.

Optimistic Greenvilleans say the town has the world in a fond embrace if she will only squeeze tight enough.

There is not the slightest doubt in the world but what Greenville has one of the best electric light plants in the state when in operation.

There are thousands of men, who in their own personal opinions, would have been great, if misfortune hadn't come their way.

The most ordinary old cat in the world can see in the dark, when even good business is blind to good business in the daylight.

There's one redeeming feature about the drunkard, and that is, he sees so many good things at one time that he's not capable of judging the best.

Last year this timethe entire world was glad because of the signing of the armistice, and today, look at it. Even the peace treaty is yet unratified and congress is still wrangling about that which the nation greeted so gladly.

Several authorities on the coal strike situation appear to believe the unfortunate occurrence will be settled very soon, and while, naturally, it is to be hoped so, it appears that the miners are far from the settlement point. The government eventually must take drastic action in the affair for unless this is done it is hardly possible relief will be effected at any early date.

EXTRAVAGANCE AND CONCEIT.

The man who said conceit was at the bottom of every extravagance knew a good deal about human nature. Few men would pay $4 for a tie that did look as if it cost $4 and the factory girls in Connecticut who are buying $300 fur coats in installments out of a salary of $15 a week would care little for such a coat if the only place they could wear it were in an asylum for the blind.

A modern philosopher says, "I conclude that dissatisfaction is a common human ailment and that I might as well be unhappy with what I have as unhappy with that I can't afford."

Thousands of Americans are dissipating their savings in extravagant purchases purely through conceit. And it is a blind conceit which deceives no one but the extravagant themselves. When a man goes into a store to buy a $8 hat which he can afford and comes out with a $16 hat which has forced him to break into his savings, he does not impress the clerk who sells it or his friends who see him wear it. But he has injured them all and himself also. He has aided to divert production from necessities to non-necessities, he has helped keep up prices, and has withdrawn potential capital from possible use in increasing industry. For himself, he has weakened his defenses against old age, sickness and loss of employment and depleted his resources in the battle for success.

Failure to save is too high a price to pay for the pampering of conceit. The only safety against extravagance lies in thrift and saving. Liberty bonds war-savings stamps and treasury saving certificates may not make a flashy show but they are more impressive than extravagant possession money can buy. They afford protection to savings future and character and are sure roads to possession of the things really needed and desired.

There are in North Carolina fifty-five general hospitals which have training schools for nurses, thirty-nine private, and sixteen public. The public hospitals are owned and controlled by the following units: two by the state one by counties, ten by municipalities, and three by churches. These are the most successful hospitals operating in the state. The list includes such hospitals as the Asheville Mission, City Hospital at Winston-Salem, Cumberland General at Fayetteville, James Walker Memorial at Wilmington, Presbyterian at Charlotte, Rex at Raleigh, Watts at Durham.

The reason that there are not more county hospitals in North Carolina is the fact that the people have not been educated to the value of the county as the unit for a public hospital. In other parts of the country the public hospital is the institution. The doctors in North Carolina have had to build their own hospitals prevailing simply to have someplace to care for their patients, since there were no public hospitals.

Dr. M. H. Fletcher of Asheville spoke the following significant paragraphs relative to the "Community Hospital": "How many hundreds of our citizens go out of the state each year to get hospital treatment? How many more suffer and often die who by reason of poverty and other reasons, cannot or will not go to say nothing of a score who are not physically able to make a long journey without placing their lives in peril.

Many cases go out of the state each year because we have not developed the proper facilities and skilled for taking care of them at home, and why? Partly for lack of money, but this is not the only reason. It is mostly for the lack of a co-operative spirit among the profession. How many of us let our knowledge run to seed? How many lose our talents for want of a proper use?

I think there would be far less danger of commercializing our profession, by having the "Grouping of Physicians" take place around a "Community Hospital," where every doctor who has developed special skill along special lines, loves certain kind of work better than anybody else in the community, should be given an opportunity to further develop his skill.

We will not argue the question whether medicine is a science, an art, or a trade. We would like, however, to have a place where we can cure our patients, pursue our studies, develop our skill without devoting our time and thought, and assuming the financial burdens, worries, and responsibilities and often resorting to questionable methods to make ends meet, in conducting a private hospital.

What an idea it is to promote some one thing in a community for which everybody can work alike, without hindrance or regard to race, creed, color or previous conditions of servitude. Many surgeons and other specialists have been forced to erect private hospitals in North Carolina, in order to have a place where they could treat their patients, when they had no special talent for running the business end of the institution, and have had to give up valuable time to detailed work which has no possible connection with the scientific part of their calling.

Presidents address before Medical Society of North Carolina 1916.

Dr. J. M. Parrott of Winston, who owns a private hospital made this comment upon this address, "To my way of thinking, after having heard twenty-two annual addresses, I believe this to be about the best, excusing my own, that I have heard.

I move that Dr. Glenn, of Asheville, Dr. Cyrus Thompson, of Jacksonville, and Dr. Picot, of Littleton, be appointed a committee to report this matter."

Whereupon this committee made the following report:

"We heartily agree with the recommendations touching the establishment of community hospitals, but would not limit the establishment of these hospitals in a state as rural as North Carolina to towns of not less than 5000 inhabitants."

This report was unanimously adopted by the Medical Society of North Carolina at its annual session in Durham, April, 1916. No I would like to ask the doctor if the medical society of North Carolina considered county hospitals impractical would they have unanimously passed the above resolution?

Furthermore the North Carolina State Health Officers Association at its sixtieth annual session passed unanimously the following resolution:

"Resolved, by the North Carolina State Health Officers Association, that in its judgment, the time has now arrived for the individual counties of the state to provide for the erection and maintenance of local county hospitals for the care and treatment of their sick as a necessary and vital part of a proper and advanced public health policy.

Let me ask again, if the county hospital has proven such a complete failure as the doctor states, why did the North Carolina Health Officers Association pass the above resolution?

Furthermore, the fact that the doctor recommends the establishment of a county tubercular sanatorium nullifies his statement of the impracticality of a county Memorial Hospital. If Pitt county can command brains enough to make a tubercular sanatorium a practical institution, and since there is a marked similarity in the arrangement of a county hospital and a county tubercular sanatorium, cannot Pitt county command brains enough to make a county Memorial Hospital a successful institution especially when it is endowed with a sum of $100,000? There is only a financial reason why a tubercular ward should not be established in connection with the Memorial Hospital.

MRS. L. W. TUCKER ENTERTAINS

Complimentary to the Weyher-Cowell Bridal Party.

Last evening at her home on Third St., Mrs. L. W. Tucker delightfully entertained complimentary to the Weyher-Cowell bridal party.

The house was beautifully decorated with cut flowers, ferns and lighted tapers. The color scheme in the parlor was yellow, with large yellow Chrysanthemums, and yellow shaded lights being used as the decorations. The color scheme of the dining room was pink, large pink dahlias and pink chrysanthemums being used in profusion.

Upon arrival the guests were welcomed by the hostess and invited into the library where an interesting contest entitled the "bride's trousseau" awaited them. Mr. Richard Cowell, of Norfolk, being the successful contestant was awarded a beautiful cut glass bud vase, while the bride-elect was presented an embroidered guest towel. After the contest they were invited into the dining room, where an ice course, salted nuts and mints were served. From the dining room the guest passed on to the parlor where they were entertained with a musical program by Mrs. Leon R. Meadows, Mr. Charlie James and Miss Margaret Cone Tucker. After enjoying the music for quite awhile, the guests then went back into the dining room where the bride's cake had been arranged. Much merriment was caused by the cutting of the cake. Little Miss Elmer Andrews, the flower girl and the youngest member of the bridal party cut the ring. Miss Zula Cowell, of Norfolk, niece of the bride-elect, and maid of honor, cut the button. Miss Rachel Korngay, of Mount Olive, cut the dime, and the thimble fell to Mr. Jack Brown. Before departing Rev. Walter Patten presented the bride-elect with a bride's book, containing the names of her bridal party. It was a delightful occasion and Mrs. Tucker proved a charming hostess.

"CANNOT MATCH THE BIBLE"

Stories in Sacred Volume Have Never Been Equaled, a Yale Professor Says.

The bulk of the people—business men, lawyers, doctors and others don't read the Bible, but writers universally recognize it as the greatest book. Prof. William Lyon Phelps of Yale University said in a recent address.

"Being a serious book it is weak in humor," Professor Phelps said. "But I think Job intended a grim joke when he said: 'Would that mine adversary had written a book.'"

"No narrative writers can match the style of the Bible's Old Testament stories—Hume, Gibbon, Rose—they are all inferior. This is the day of the short-story writer, Kipling, De Maupassant, O. Henry, but their best efforts fall short of the stories of the Bible. So it is with its poetry in the Psalms. Its wisdom of the Proverbs is just as up-to-date as the morning paper, and there is no political economy equal to the Book of Gospels.

"It is impossible to overestimate the Bible's influence on English literature. Bunyan wrote a great book because he was saturated with the Bible, and it trickled out when he wrote.

"Lincoln knew only two books—the Bible and Shakespeare, and yet he was a splendidly educated man. To know the Bible is to be educated. One of the finest metaphors in Keat's 'Ode to a Nightingale' is taken directly from the Bible; 'Nearer, My God, to Thee' is simply a paraphrase of the Bible."

TRIBUTE TO WASHINGTON

Shaft at National Capital is One of the Most Remarkable Ever Built by Man.

The foundation of the great shaft of the Washington monument is 80 feet square and is set in solid rock eight feet below the surface of the earth. The interior is only 25 feet in diameter, while the exterior diameter is 55 feet. This shows the tremendous thickness of the walls, which are made of perfectly fitted stones. No wonder that this obelisk has been called "the best piece of masonry in the world."

Many nations, as well as many cities and states, wished to contribute to this great cenotaph, and as the visitor enters the monument and takes his place in the big elevator, he may see, as he slowly mounts, various interesting stones from all parts of the world. He may catch a glimpse of a stone from "Braddock's field," one from the "batfield of Long Island," one from the Alexandrian library in Egypt, one from the tomb of Napoleon at St. Helena, a mosaic block from the ruins of Carthage, lava from Vesuvius and stones from Jerusalem and Mecca, besides blocks contributed by 40 states, 16 cities and towns and 44 societies. Ten foreign countries sent blocks of stone, suitably inscribed, to testify to their regard.—Mary V. Worstell in St. Nicholas.

Remedies for the Earache.

For an earache, dry heat is the safest remedy. Never should the mother drop oil or anything else into the ear without being especially ordered to do so by a doctor. A small hot-water bag with a flannel cover, a kid glove-finger filled with salt and then heated in the oven, or, simply, a flannel made very hot and covered by another one to hold in the heat, may be placed over the baby's ear to relieve the pain. If this does not seem enough, then a small rubber ear-syringe may be filled with hot water; and while the lobe of the ear is gently held downward and backward the mother should use the syringe carefully, then apply the hot flannel after drying out the ear. When pus has formed, or if this simple treatment does not relieve the acute pain, a doctor should be asked to examine the ear. Possibly the drum membrane may need to be opened. Hot boric acid solution or some other disinfectant will be needed to syringe the ear if pus is present.—Mariana Wheeler, in the People's Home Journal.

Push-Button Batteries.

Something new in push-buttons has been invented by an Eastern man that bids fair to send the old dry batteries now in use to ring your front door bell to the ashcan. It is quite a simple arrangement, and it is strange that no one should have thought of such a simple device. The button itself is connected to a rod that is geared to a small dynamo, and when the button is pushed the dynamo armature rotates in the field of a permanent magnet, thereby generating enough electricity to ring the bell. The whole unit hardly takes up more space than the ordinary push button, and does away with the constant expense of renewing batteries.—From the Electrical Experimenter.

LAND SALE.

By virtue of a decree of the Superior Court in Special Proceedings No. 10,000, entitled, Mrs. Charlotte Hart, et als. Ex Parte, the undersigned commissioner will sell for cash, at public auction, before the court-house in Greenville, on MONDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1919, the following tract or parcel of land, situated in Pitt county and in Beaver Dam township, and known as a part of the Clemmie Allen land:

"Beginning at Charlotte Hart's corner on the road and runs north to the corner of J. E. Allen's heir line; thence about east one-third of the length of the line; then south to the road and with said road to the beginning. Containing ten acres, more or less, and being one-third of the Clemmie Allen home tract, and being the piece conveyed to Mary E. Allen by Clemmie Allen, by deed recorded in Book A-4, page 125, in the register's office of Pitt county."

Said land sold for partition among the heirs-at-law of the late Mary E. Allen.

This November 3rd, 1919. F. G. JAMES, Commissioner.

"Redhead" is Farmers' Friend.

"Redhead" is a regular doctor of the fruit orchard, systematically searching every crack and crevice in the bark, and testing with his sharp little augur every spot which looks as though it might conceal beneath the bark a tree-borer. The hundreds of little holes drilled in the bark do not hurt the apple trees, but they mean that many an apple-borer has been discovered and transfixed on red-head's spearlike tongue, to be swallowed a second later with keen relish, or taken away to a gaping fiddling.

The red-headed woodpecker usually selects a partly decayed tree in which to chisel a hole for its nest. Both father and mother bird take turns in the excavating. The one that is off duty forages in the vicinity for grubs, beetles, a little corn, and preferably beech nuts. At a loving call from its mate it returns promptly to take its turn on the job—about 20 minutes or half an hour to the shift. "Redhead" has a thrifty habit of storing away nuts for the winter, frequently to be appropriated, however, by the squirrels.

Language of Heaven.

A correspondent sends me a story which is a good parallel (or, rather, the exact opposite of a parallel) to that of the minister who prayed in Gaelic.

There was in Dublin an old lady both eccentric and devout. One day she sent for a Jewish minister, and started to learn Hebrew most assiduously. Though she was eccentric, and her friends were rarely surprised at anything she chose to do, they did wonder at this, and asked her the reason.

"It would ill become me," she replied, "when I meet my Maker, as soon I shall, to address him in any but his native language."—London News.

To Make Your Shoes Last.

When your shoe leather gets dry or hard, you should oil or grease it, says the popular Science Monthly. To do this, first brush off all mud and then wash the shoe in warm water, drying it with a soft cloth.

While the shoe is still wet, apply the oil or grease, rubbing it in with a swab of wool, or better still, with the palm of the hand. After treatment, the shoes should be left to dry in a warm but not in a hot place. Castor oil is recommended for shoes that are to be polished. For plainer footwear, fish oil and oleine or any one of the less expensive oils may be substituted with very good results.

SCIATIC PAINS QUICKLY RELIEVED

Keep Sloan's, the World's Liniment handy to allay aches. THOUSANDS of men and women, when the least little rheumatic "crick" assails them, have Sloan's Liniment handy to knock it out. Popular a third of a century ago—far more popular today. That's because it is so wonderfully helpful in relieving all external aches and pains—sciatica, lumbago, neuralgia, overstrained muscles, stiff joints, weather exposure results, for it soon penetrates without rubbing to the sore spot. Leaves no muck, stained skin, clogged pores. A bottle today is a wise precaution. Keep it handy. All druggists—35c., 70c., $1.40.

ARMISTICE IS CELEBRATED IN NATION TODAY

(Continued from page one.) dances in the evening. Six states, Oregon, Michigan, Massachusetts, Texas, Minnesota and Maryland have designated the day as a legal holiday and in nearly all it will be celebrated with suitable exercises. Millions of voices throughout the United States are expected to join in patriotic songs for one hour from 11 a. m. until noon. This portion of the day's exercises was originated by the National Council of Women which, in its convention at St. Louis, will swell the chorons of songs when that hour is reached. Prominent Americans will speak at many big gatherings including the first national convention of the American Legion whose sessions open tomorrow in Minneapolis, St. Louis and Chicago.

The famous Second Division will hold its first annual reunion in Chicago. The American Flying club will give a banquet in New York tomorrow night to aviators who went overseas. A program for the country-wide celebrations, prepared by the national executive committee of the American Legion, will be observed, with meditations, in many places. It calls for dinners in honor of all war veterans, parades, flag raisings with pledges to the American colors, ceremonies of welcome to new citizens, public dancing, athletic sports, fairs and municipal bonfires and singing to close the day.

VIENNA SAID TO BE FACED BY FAMINES

(Continued from page one.) wear, the cleaner, the mender and the ten the tailor who turn the un-earable inside out. "It would cost me four months' salary to buy a new suit of clothes now," remarked a foreign office official, as he smiled at his five-year old suit. "The other day there was a great demonstration of state pensioners before the House of Parliament and some of the cases cited by the government were pensioners said they were starving. Meantime the price of open charges that backdoor or illicit trade in food supplies and other commodities supposedly under government control is widely prevalent.

Vienna is suffering from lack of housing facilities. The population is estimated at 200,000 to 400,000 more than in normal times. The city government lately has taken a few half hearted steps in an effort to bring relief. A large number of so-called hotels of rather evil reputation are to be cleaned out of there present occupants and turned over as lodgings for the poor. The same order expels from their premises, often nearly palatial, and confiscates for public housing purposes, the homes of the rich demimonde. Also it is contemplated to make use of some of the splendid and practically unoccupied private palaces. The papers and the more spirited and farseeing men are sounding the alarm of a fuelless winter. The Inter-allied coal commission has been trying to provide at least a modicum of fuel for city utilities, but they admit it will be only a pittance of the normal supply. All around the city the beautiful forests are being cut down for firewood, and fuel is the one demand.

SEVERAL CASES IN OPENING SESSIONS OF COURT MONDAY

(Continued from page one.) for some unknown reason the happy occurrence was kept secret until after the dinner recess. The following cases were disposed of during the day: Herbert Coley, larceny. Case not pressed. R. E. Curwin, disorderly conduct. The defendant pleaded guilty and was fined $5.00 and costs. Ezra Garvin, intent to commit larceny. Defendant was called and failed to appear. Judgment nisi set for capias and continued. Oscar Edwards, Major Mills and Snoden Mills, drunk and disorderly. The cases were ordered transferred to the county court. The action was appealed directly from mayor's court to superior. Ross Edwards, speeding. Judgment suspended upon payment of costs and fine due town of Greenville. John Cox, trespass. Case continued. A true bill of indictment was rendered in the larceny cases of Dock Green, John Grant and Will Simonds.

Sell At Gorman's

Today's sales will all finish by dinner.

Gormans sold Monday	47578 pounds for	$33620.89, average $70.70
In this sold scrap, common & damaged	3134 pounds for	388.50, average 12.40
Leaving	44444 pounds for	32232.39, average 74.77

Note how the small amount of common tobacco effects the average and then meditate on what some of our competitors are claiming. Prices are full up on all grades and we advise selling as fast as you can grade but do not get your tobacco too soft as this hurts the both the color and effects the price. We look for small sales until we get two or three days of rain. Gorman's has 2nd sale Wednesday, 1st sale Thursday and 4th sale Friday.
