READJUSTMENT IN SOUTHERN FREIGHT RATES CONSIDERED

Shipping Centers in South and Placed on Parity With New York.

NEW TARIFF BECOMES EFFECTIVE DECEMBER

Economic Union Between Southern Ports and Central West Possible.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 25.—Readjustment of export freight rates affecting thousands of shippers and said to be of prime importance to southern ports and the Mississippi Valley was announced at the general offices of the Southern Railroad here today.

The new tariffs which in effect will grant the same rates to Southern ports as those enjoyed by New York from territory North of the Ohio River from the Ohio-Pennsylvania State line to the Mississippi river, go into effect to South Atlantic ports December 1st and to Gulf ports December 31.

The subject has engaged the attention of shippers and steamship interests for the past year. Hearings were held in Washington before the United States Railroad administration last July. At a subsequent hearing New York port interests concurred in the equalization and Director General Hines gave instructions to compile the tariffs to become effective on the dates indicated. The new arrangement is expected, according to the announcement aside from relieving congestion at the port of New York, to expedite export shipments to Latin-America, Asia and Europe.

It also will make it possible the statement claims, for the United States Shipping Board to allocate more of its vessels to South Atlantic and Gulf ports. These ships, the announcement says, largely have been assigned to routes out of New York because of the necessity of moving the great concentration of export tonnage from that port. The concentration was due, it is recited, to the differential inland rates in favor of New York. With publication of the new tariffs it is expected this concentration will be greatly relieved.

The business and commercial interests, which long have sought the change announced today, include the Mississippi Valley Association, the New Orleans Association of Commerce, Mobile Chamber of Commerce, commercial organizations of South Atlantic ports, South Atlantic Maritime Corporation and the Mid-West Southern Ports committee. The latter embraces commercial organizations of Gulf and Atlantic ports and principal cities of the Mississippi valley.

DO THEY DANCE SUNDAY NIGHTS

Monday's issue of the Wilson Times had reports of two dances as occurring last evening. Last evening from Monday is, of course, Sunday night, from which it might be inferred that Wilson people select Sunday for their dances. We hardly think it is so, even if the Times publishes to the world that they do.

THIEVES ROB CITY OF SEVERAL TOPS TO GARBAGE CANS

Tops Disappeared Last Night But Cans and Garbage Were Not Touched.

INVESTIGATION THROWS NO LIGHT ON OCCURENCE

In Facts the Police Saw Nothing, Heard Nothing and Know Much Less.

Kleptomaniacs, or just plain out-thieves, whichever the case may be, paraded through the principal thoroughfares of the city at a late hour last night and made a special collection of every garbage can top throughout practically the entire city, according to statements made by City Manager J. G. Bowling after making his usual rounds of the city at an early hour this morning, and while the cans and other refuse containers were left in their usual positions, the tops of all garbage cans were taken away to some place of seclusion where up to the present time authorities and members of the street committee have not yet been able to definitely locate. The occurrence has occasioned no little surprise in many centers because it is believed that the extensive robbery occurred at a late hour of night while there were many cars on the streets and numbers of people in the business district. No reason has been given for such action on part of the thieves, in fact, so much mystery surrounds the unexpected occurrence that even the city manager and his force are completely in the dark, though they know one thing—the tops are gone.

The garbage can tops were not missed until after Mr. Bowling began an inspection of the cans in the business district.

RECKLESS DRIVER RUNS AUTOMOBILE THRU IRON FENCE

Car Early This Morning Dashes Through Fence at S. T. White's Home.

An automobile driven by unknown parties at an early hour this morning accomplished a feat in tearing down fences and demolishing cement gate posts in the front yard at the home of Mr. S. T. White that would have done credit to almost any size battering ram, and while of course, there is very little information obtainable concerning the incident, there is plenty of evidence apparent in the condition of the fence, and signs of some mighty quick and effective scuffling by the driver and riders in getting the car off the premises before members of the family were awakened and their troubles given to the ear of the world.

Mr. White's home is located at the intersection of Washington street and Dickinson avenue, in fact squarely in the center of the termination of Washington street, and it is supposed that the automobile came speeding down the thoroughfare intending to make a clean sweep over Dickinson avenue to what was no doubt supposed to be a continuation of Washington, but instead, came directly in contact with the substantial iron fence fronting the White home, skidded on through regardless of cemented gate posts that should have proven an impregnable barrier for a good size army tank.

The contact of automobile and fence and subsequent noise failed to wake any member of the household, and putting a good half day's work in less than an hour, the unfortunate members of the car had cleared the yard and left the section long before it was discovered they had been there. No one knows anything concerning the incident, whether the automobilists were intoxicated or mistaken in route, but in either case, the wreck proved rather expensive to Mr. White.

AFTER WAR FACTS TO BE GIVEN THRU UNIVERSITY PLANS

Reconstruction Problems to Take Big Part in Lecture Course in Future

COMMUNITY LECTURES ARE ALSO CONSIDERED

Chapel Hill Schol Take Advanced Step in Community Work Planning.

Chapel Hill, N. C., Nov. 25.—After the war problems and reconstruction work are emphasized in the lecture plans of the bureau of extension of the University of North Carolina, just announced by Dr. W. W. Pierson, Chairman of the committee on lecture study. The present plans are an elaboration and development or organized lecture study work done by the University for several years.

During the war the University provided numerous lectures on the causes and aspects of the war, but the subject matter has now been changed so that the "emphasis will be placed on the political, economic, social, and intellectual results of the war in so far as they are evident in our contemporary civilization." Special effort is being made to get in touch with teachers' institutes, chambers of commerce, boards of trade, women's clubs, Y. M. C. A. centers, farmers' conventions and meetings, school boards, study clubs and any other organization in the State that may want lectures. The University, according to the present plans, will undertake to provide virtually any kind of address that is wanted, free save for the expense of the speakers, and the subjects outlined in the most recent leaflet show a wide variety.

AMERICA DRAWING MUCH RECOGNITION AS COAL DISTRICT

Nation Gradually Supplanting Great Britain in Southern Coal Markets.

London, Nov. 25.—Evidence that America is supplanting Great Britain in coal markets of South America and Europe is seen by the Shipping World. The paper attributes this to restrictions imposed on shipping that otherwise might be available for carrying British coal.

"The result is that traders abroad who want coal are getting it from other regions," it says. "The South American trade has fallen almost inevitably into the hands of shipowners from the United States; but more ominous still is the fact that shipments from Virginia are coming almost daily to ports of Europe. Gothenburg, Dunkirk, Antwerp, Rotterdam, Lisbon, Genoa and other ports of Italy are receiving American coal at freight rates which only their urgent needs can justify. Even to Port Said American coals have been shipped."

"The question arises whether this is merely a passing phase due to the present scarcity of tonnage, or whether these American ships are the pioneers of a new form of enterprise of the Western continent which is destined to become a permanent feature of trade. It must not be assumed that, with the increase of British shipping that will assuredly come in a year or two, the old lines of trade will so easily be regained. The river plate trade may to a considerable extent be written off."

"The greater proximity of European ports to the United Kingdom will be an advantage to British shipowners in their endeavor to regain the continental trade, but it will be no easy task to break the trade connections that American competitors are now engaged in forming."

SPEAKS OF GREAT WORK FACING THE SOUTHERN BAPTIST

Miss Mallory Tells Local Baptists of Work Facing the Denomination.

FOREIGN MISSIONS ARE TO BE GREAT FEATURE

Lecture Divided Into Seven Parts Embraced Every Feature of Efforts.

Challenging anyone to prove that the $75,000,000 campaign, which is now being waged by the Southern Baptists, is not based entirely on principals laid down in Bible, and stating that it is a part of the greatest campaign ever waged since the beginning of time, by any denomination for the glory of God, Miss Kathleen Mallory, of Baltimore, corresponding secretary of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist convention, on yesterday, in the Memorial Baptist church of this city, delivered one of the most helpful and inspirational addresses ever delivered in this city.

Rev. W. H. Moore, pastor of the Memorial Baptist church, conducted the devotional exercises, and introduced Mrs. Jones, of Raleigh, president of the North Carolina Baptist Missionary Union, and who accompanied Miss Mallory to our city. She expressed her delight at being in Greenville and especially in the city in which the Baptist state convention had had its birth. After congratulating the ladies of the local Missionary Society for the wonderful part which they are taking in the campaign, she, in a most charming manner introduced Miss Mallory, the speaker of the afternoon.

Miss Mallory with her magnetic personality and winning manner, held the attention of the audience.

CITY HIGH SCHOOL HOLDS ARBOR DAY EXERCISES TODAY

During the Morning Session in Honor Day.

This morning at 10:30 o'clock on the campus of the Greenville High School were conducted Arbor day exercises. Seven beautiful Norway Maples, one standing for each grade in the High School, were planted, with the Senior class planting theirs in the center of the campus. The children marched from the school building out to the grounds and as the trees were planted by each grade they each in turn put in a shovelful of dirt. These exercises will long be remembered by all the pupils of the school, because the trees will always remain, throughout the ages to call back this pleasant occasion. The High school building is only a few years old, and it is a credit to this city. It has a beautiful campus and with these Norway maples, it will be greatly improved.

There will be no school Thursday on account of Thanksgiving, nor on Friday but will re-open on Monday. Several of the teachers will spend Thanksgiving at their homes and others will attend the Teacher's Assembly in Raleigh.

EXTENSION BUREAU ADVISES FARMERS OF FUTURE NEEDS

Farming Lands Should be Broken During the Fall and Winter Months.

COVER CROPS THOUGHT ADVISABLE IN SECTION

Tremendous Rush of Spring is Avoided by Work Being Done in Wintering

West Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 25.—On most farms, it is important to break at least a part of the land during the fall and winter. This means that under average conditions in this state, it will not be found feasible to place all the land in cover crops, because, if this plan is followed it will not be possible to break the land in time the following spring for the planting of such crops as cotton and tobacco. However, there should not be, ordinarily, any reason why one-third or one-half of the farm could not go into cover crops each year, states Mr. C. B. Williams, chief of the Division of Agronomy, Agricultural Extension Service. These cover crops, of course, as far as practical, should be of the leguminous type, or of legumes mixed with such crops as rye and oats.

By breaking the land in the fall, it is possible to get much of this work done so that there will not be such a tremendous rush as soon as spring opens. Again, such crops as cotton and tobacco have to be planted on many farms before many of the cover crops can be harvested. By following such a plan there will not only be a better distribution of labor on the farm, but fields infested with cut worms, web worms, wire worms, sod worms and billbugs may be largely overcome by breaking the land.

PHYSICIANS SPEAK OF RELIEF PLANS THRU MONTENEGRO

Red Cross Is Doing Wonderful Work in Locality, So It is Stated.

Niegosh, Montenegro, Nov. 25.—American physicians doing relief work in Montenegro tell of some curious methods of treatment employed by the inhabitants of this little mountain country. When a Montenegrin is wounded the first thought of the natives is to apply chewing tobacco, horsehair, or a fresh rabbit-skin with the hair facing inside. Common ink is considered a sovereign remedy for burns. To stop bleeding sores or wounds cobwebs are used. When a person is bitten by a dog, the favorite remedy is to pull the animal's ear and rub the wound with it.

The patron saint of Montenegro is St. Vitus, whose shrine is situated on the summit of a mountain between Podgorica and Niksic. Every week thousands of devout Montenegrins come to this mountain shrine seeking cure for their ills. But since the arrival of the American physicians the pilgrimages to the ancient shrine have not been so numerous. For the natives have found that their ills can be cured much nearer home and with greater certainty at any of the numerous Red Cross dispensaries and clinics. The inhabitants come from the remotest mountain regions. They are carried in all sorts of conveyances, wheelbarrows, donkey carts, buffalo wagons, or on horseback. In one case, an old woman, suffering with scarlet fever, was brought to the Red Cross hospital at Niegosh, which is notable as the birthplace of King Nicholas, in an iron soup pot. It required four days to get her over the many mountain ranges.

Mr. Lloyd Tingle, of Ayden, attended the play "Blue Eyes" here last night.

CABINET TO BEGIN CONSIDERATION OF STRIKE SITUATION

President Wilson and Officials to Take Up Strike Issue for Settlement.

GARFIELD TURNS OVER SEVERAL TIMELY FACTS

Fuel Administrator, Miners and Operators Together After Conference.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Settlement of the controversy over a new wage agreement in the bituminous coal industry tonight awaited action by President Wilson's cabinet.

At the meeting of the cabinet tomorrow, a definite decision of policy regarding all phases of the strike situation is expected, and if the cabinet is in disagreement the whole question may be put before the President.

Fuel Administrator Garfield speaking to the joint wage scale committees of operators and miners, announced five principles which have "governed" him and his associates, but different interpretations were placed upon its various provisions by the workers and the mine owners in informal discussions after the meeting.

Dr. Garfield called the miners and operators together after a lengthy conference with Attorney General Palmer, Director General Hines and Assistant Attorney General Ames.

Owing to the disagreement which had arisen as to the amount of the increase in the cost of living, and consequently the per cent of wage advance needed to meet higher living costs, great significance was attached to Dr. Garfield's declaration that "the average total increase in pay over the 1913 base, which was the base considered in 1917, should not exceed the present increase in the cost of living over the same base."

"It is also to be considered that the cost of living will fall rather than rise during the next few years," he added.

Operators constructed this statement as in conflict with the contention of Secretary Wilson that miners should be given a 31 per cent wage advance to equalize the margin between present wages and a 70 per cent raise in living cost since 1914.

Pointing out that war-time coal prices were fixed for the purpose of stimulating production, Dr. Garfield declared that the public would not now pay the increase over normal profits allowed during the war. His further statement that any wage increase should be "borne by the operators or the public or both" was generally taken to mean that part of the advance must come out of the excess profits of the mining companies.

ANTI-STRIKE MEMBERS HAVE REFUSED TO ATTEND TRIALS

New York, Nov. 25.—The anti-strike "strike" called by sixty-six alleged radical aliens awaiting deportation hearings at Ellis Island is still in force this morning, according to prison officials, and it is impossible to predict when trials will be resumed. Acting commissioner of immigration said he had discovered no method whereby he could identify prisoners scheduled for hearing. Strikers sent him an ultimatum saying they would not answer to their names or attend trial until the wire screen behind which they were compelled to stand while receiving friends was removed.

Butter and axle grease may look alike to a man in love, but he soon discovers the difference after marriage.

People do not generally call a miser "thrifty" but he certainly has a way of clinging to the dollar, just the same.

Check flashers do pretty good business in some sections of the country until they are flashed behind the bars.

Many a man has thought he owned the world until wifey got through with the pocketbook, then, he was penniless.

William Howard Taft is urging the senate to ratify the peace treaty now, so we wouldn't be surprised if it isn't done.

If the railroad brotherhoods decide definitely upon some overtime basis of labor they will be doing much better than the senate.

Porto Ricans appear to be in favor of America government ideals, and to have prospered noticeably under national administration.

Great Britain, too, appears to be face to face with coal strikes similar to those in America. Next please, before the fever gets cold.

Rapid change in everything appears to be generally favored, therefore, the climate of North Carolina has a certain distinction of its own.

Several popular leaders of the nation have had the nerve and audacity to tackle the high cost of living, but up to this time they have not made much of an impression. Probably the job sounds easier than it is and appears more impregnable after the initial tackle.

If Mert and Jeff should pass out of existence for a day or so thousands of children would think them dead, and mourn the loss of two of the most popular characters of the comic page.

A Beaufort county farmer claims to have broken all records this year in growing tobacco. Evidently the gentlemen hasn't heard of records made by Pitt county growers in several instances.

Possum hunting seems to be occupying an enviable position in the social life of the country just at this time as we frequently hear of several young men and women going out on a hunt. The possum certainly must experience great activity and see many things strange to his fraternity.

A prominent Republican states that it is up to members of his party to save the country from the orgy of waste and extravagance featuring the present administration. But he failed to state definitely whether or not it would be a continuance or discouragement of present day ideals. In either case the party will have a "party."

The important part which Pitt county teachers are going to take in the present session of the state teachers assembly in Raleigh goes to show what Pitt county is doing in the educational line. When teachers become recognized and take a leading position in state school organizations such as the assembly embraces it's an easy go that there are some achievements in line somewhere. Five teachers from Greenville will speak to the assembly, one probably will automatically become president for the ensuing year, which, taken as a whole, gives the town an enviable position among educational centers of the state.

Very little has been said lately concerning the campaign for raising funds to erect a memorial hospital in Pitt county, but this is no evidence that the good work is not continuing without interruption. Several things have occurred recently to detract attention from the proposed building, but everyone can rest assured that county ministers are wide-awake to their great mission and doing everything possible to give a favorable report in the near future. Pitt county needs such an institution, and $100,000 is indeed a small sum of money when compared with the splendid work of Pitt county boys on the battlefields of Europe. The hospital will be a memorial to those who did not return, and it is deserving of all consideration by those appreciating the efforts in preserving the democracy for which they fought. Contributions should be given generously in every section in order that the endowment fund may be announced as early as possible.

If the senate should ratify the peace treaty in its present form as soon as it recovers there is not the slightest idea but what a majority of people throughout the entire country would be pleased with the action. The situation has become so accentuated at this time that it is only reasonable for people to believe definite and decide action should be taken immediately or soon as this becomes possible. The senate already has consumed enough time in consideration to have ratified one hundred treaties could harmony have been prevalent, but as it were, unnecessary reservations were presented which would have been directly detrimental in every way. The league of nations would have lost its significance to the American people, and the United States practically isolated in international intercourse, therefore, there is every reason to believe that ratification now should be without Lodge reservations. The time has come when consideration is a past issue and determined action is a requisite, and only the demand of the people as a whole can bring about intelligent disposition of a matter which plays such an important part to all nations concerned.

district this morning, then the truth of the situation did not dawn upon him until he had made similar inspections of several other cans along Main street. Continued search, however, showed that practically every can in the entire city had been deprived of its top piece with not the slightest thing in evidence to show that the thieves, kleptomaniacs, robbers, or whatever the city manager would call them, really meant to cause the city any great loss through their action, but were simply impelled by some irresistible desire to take something, with the desire centering on the unfortunate refuse cans.

The city police force has not been called upon to institute an exhaustive investigation into the mysterious disappearance of the city property, for although the approximate cost of the tops would amount to a nice little sum money, it is not believed that authorities could lead any great assistance in apprehending the thieves who accomplished the unusual feat at a time when cops were supposed to have been on their beats, and were not detected in a single effort. However, determined action may be taken in the recovery of the tops, for officials do not like the idea of things vanishing so mysteriously when, too, some ambitious kleptomaniac may be planning to lay the foundation of a new town out in the woods somewhere and acquired possession of the garbage can tops for an inspirational beginning.

If City Manager Bowling doesn't locate the lost property and the topmen, too, there is really little use for calling either the police or detectives to take part in the search because there will be few tops in the near vicinity to be found.

all the movement to leave the treaty situation as it is for the present time and give people a chance of deciding issue next year.

ENJOYABLE DANCE GIVEN IN CAROLINA CLUB ROOMS

The young people of our city enjoyed a dance last evening in the Carolina Club rooms. The dance was given by the young men, of the city, to the young ladies and many couples participated in the dancing. If it had been advertised earlier many out of town couples would have been present, but the young men did not know until yesterday A. M. that it would be possible to secure music, but as the boys of our city are always lucky, they were exceedingly so yesterday when the Prof. J. Astolfo's Royal Italian Band, arrived here to play at the sales which the Atlantic Coast Realty Company is conducting in this immediate territory. The young men at once availed themselves of the opportunity to secure the band, with satisfactory results. They were certainly good musicians and responded again and again to the many demands for music. The dance lasted from eleven until two o'clock, and was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. H. A. White, Mrs. S. T. Hogler and Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Hollinsworth. It was one of the most enjoyed dances of the season.

attention of her audience from the very first word of her interesting lecture until the close. She spoke on the campaign, dividing her talk into the seven parts into which the $75,000,000 are to be divided, namely, Foreign Missions, State Missions, Home Missions, Christian Education, Hospitals, Orphanages and aged minister's relief, showing exactly how each one is based on the Bible. "The Bible is nothing but a missionary book, it's very pages breath with the life of mission work, and I defy any one to prove that a great missionary sermon can't be found in every page of it," said Miss Mallory. She took all the characters of the Bible, such as David, Joseph, Moses, and Jesus himself, showing how they were saved and protected by God, in order that they might leave their homes and go forth to lead their own people, as well as other nations, to a more perfect understanding of God, thus bringing in Foreign, State and Home Missions for which 43 million of dollars are to be spent. In her discourse on Christian Education, for which $20,000,000 are to be given, Miss Mallory emphasized the fact that from our denominational schools, shall come our missionaries. She spoke in the highest terms, regarding state schools, and especially the Eastern Carolina Teachers Training School. "How I envy it for use in our Baptist work, it is such a credit to the town and state, and it has so many beautiful buildings, where nearly all our Baptist schools have only one or two buildings, can we use the $20,000,000 for Christian Education? Yes, and even more if we can raise it," stated Miss Mallory. She told of the need of hospitals in the foreign countries, and compared them with our own hospitals. She painted one or two word pictures which depicted, in the best way possible, the real need of medical attention among the heathens. She based her appeal for the orphanages for which $4,700,000 are to be given, on that familiar quotation from the Bible, "Suffer little children to come unto Me." The pathetic appeal, which she made for the homeless child, stirred the hearts of the large audience. She paid a most beautiful tribute to the aged ministers, and stated that the highest calling, from God to man, was to "minister unto others." She placed the aged ministers on the highest pinnacle possible, for man to reach. "I am the vine, ye are the branches," was used by Miss Mallory in stating that cooperation, pray, and giving are the three great factors which will make it possible for the Southern Baptist to go over the top in this wonderful campaign.

It was indeed a treat to hear this gifted speaker and to know Mrs. Jones and this city feels highly honored in having had such talented ladies to visit her. People from all sections of the county were in attendance, and each and every one was greatly benefited by the great truths which were taught.

Courses of lectures, embracing four, five, and six different lectures, are announced, centering around such subjects as citizenship, Americanization, problems of democracy and reconstruction, and community service. Addresses for special occasions can be provided as the need arises. Community lecture courses through local organizations are especially recommended by the University. The plan has been tried with success in Winston-Salem, Goldsboro, Kinston, and other cities where community centers have been formed. These organizations, composed of representatives of every class and interest, center their work around one subject and have lectures and discussions from various angles of the subject. The number of students at the University has become so large that it is becoming difficult to find a building which will hold all of them. Gerard Hall, where chapel exercises have been held every morning for years, will not now hold all the freshmen and sophomores, and hence it has become almost impossible to gather the entire body of students together for discussion of university problems. In the effort to meet the difficulty the faculty has provided for University assemblies once a month, at which representatives of all classes and groups can gather. President Chase, in the first of these assemblies, outlined the difficulties of keeping life sound and democratic.
