

COAL MINERS MAY REACH DECISION IN TODAY'S ACTIVITY

General Committee Adjourns for Night Without Reaching Decisions.

STATEMENT OF WILSON TO MINERS GIVEN OUT President Proposes that Strikers Return to Work with 14 Per cent Raise.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 10.—Settlement of the strike of coal miners tomorrow confidently was predicted late tonight by a high official of the United Mine Workers of America. It was declared that the conservative element was in the majority and that an agreement on the President's proposal for termination of the controversy was only a question of how long it would take to hear the arguments of all representatives who wished to speak.

This official, who strongly favors acceptance of the new plan for ending the strike, spoke enthusiastically of the fight made for adoption of the proposal by Acting President Lewis and Secretary-Treasurer Green, of the miners' organization, at today's meeting of the general committee of the miners, at which the plan was presented. This fight, he said, was continued after adjournment of the conference at 8:30 o'clock tonight and it was believed that more than sufficient strength was mustered to vote down the radical element when the committee reconvenes tomorrow. Consideration of the question will be resumed at 9:30 o'clock in the morning.

Close Co-Operation Between Two Services Desired by Authorities.

London, Dec. 10.—Major General Sir F. H. Sykes, British Controller General of Civil Aviation, hopes to arrange for complete co-operation between Great Britain and the United States in all matters relating to flying. This is the purpose of his journey to America, on which he expects soon to leave.

The American Ambassador, John W. Davis, told General Sykes at a farewell luncheon to the British Controller that he thought American co-operation might be taken as assured.

General Sykes said that the International Air Convention, based in the main on regulations for air navigation in Great Britain, now had received the assent of all the powers allied and associated in the war except the United States and Japan.

"The national tendency in aircraft development in Britain," said General Sykes, "is to allow individual enterprise to work out its own salvation in the main and no scheme of government subsidies such as that in France has, so far, been adopted."

But he pointed out that did not mean that the government will spend nothing to promote enterprise.

"With a view to stimulating the efforts of designers and manufacturers of heavier-than-air craft and to guiding them toward the attainment of greater security and reliability," he continued, "an official competition has been instituted which is to be held next year. The prizes offered amount to $64,000. The rules of the competition are framed to encourage those attributes which are required in the future.

"Prizes will be given first for the small type of airplane required for business, pleasure and sporting flying in the British Isles; secondly, for the large weight-carrying machine which experience suggests will be necessary

DANIELS PLEDGES SUPPORT OF HOEY IN ADDRESS TODAY

Secretary of Navy Supports Candidate of Ninth in Morganton Address Today

WORK OF SOUTHERN MEN CAREFULLY ENUMERATED

Comparison of Activities of the South Drawn in Advocating Candidacy.

Morganton, N. C., Dec. 10.—Hon. Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, speaking here today in support of the election of Hon. Clyde R. Hoey for congress in the ninth district, to succeed Judge Yates Webb, said in part:

"We are living in a large world in which neither parochialism nor partisanship can control the actions of men who love their country. Neither is there any call for an appeal to sectionalism or sectarianism. The war taught us that Democrats and Republicans, and even the hitherto derided Mugwump, when it came to the test of patriotism all alike responded to the challenge that their courage should make the world safe for democracy, using that term in the large sense. We learned also to love men and women of all religions, and out of the furnace of war there came not only a new religious enthusiasm but a new brotherhood between the churches. May this comradeship abide in the better world of toleration and for the betterment of mankind."

"There was no difference in the courage of men of North and South. Gen. Clarence Edwards, who commanded the famous Yankee regiment, said that just before going into action on the battlefield in France he made a tour of his force, speaking personally to all his officers charged with the grim duty of the day, assuring himself of their readiness and fitness to lead their men. 'I was particularly impressed,' he said, 'with the spirit and the bearing of a'" (Continued on page four.)

DAILY REFLECTOR

Greenville, N. C., December 10, 1894.

Our Anniversary Day

This date twenty-five years ago The Reflector, which had for thirteen years previously been issued as a weekly newspaper, began publishing a daily edition. Announcement was made at the time that The Daily Reflector would be published for one month as an experiment, at the end of which time it would be determined whether or not it would continue longer. The first of the daily editions had only three columns to the page, just the size of the space within this border. Though a small paper, it was received with such favor by the public, and there were so many requests for its continuance at the end of the month, that it was decided to continue the daily edition, and it has gone right on through a quarter of a century.

It must be admitted that it took some nerve to start a daily paper in a town no larger than Greenville was then, census giving us just 965 population. And just think of the marvelous development and changes that have come to Greenville in these twenty-five years, and the history The Daily Reflector has recorded of the town's growth. Then there was but one brick store building in the town, while now a frame store building is an oddity. Then our educational advantages consisted of two or three private schools, while now we have graded schools, high schools, model school, and a State school for training teachers, giving us a school system that is the pride of the people. Then the churches of the town all worshipped in small frame buildings, now nearly all of the denominations have handsome brick edifices. Then we had no tobacco market, while now we have seven warehouses whose sales have reached nearly 30,000,000 pounds a year with steam plants and other buildings representing an investment of millions of dollars in the industry, and Greenville ranks the second largest market in the State with Pitt county the largest bright tobacco producing county in the world. Then the town had only dirt streets and sidewalks, while now there are eight miles of splendidly paved streets and twenty miles of paved sidewalks. As stated above the population was 965, now it is around 8,000. Then we had one small bank with a few thousand dollars deposits, now three banks with six million dollars deposits.

We might go on with more enumeration, but these are enough to show that Greenville has been doing things. And The Daily Reflector has been standing right by chronicling these things as they came along, and lifting its voice to bring them when they did not come fast enough.

Though small at the beginning, The Daily Reflector did not stay in its swaddling clothes, but grew on as the town grew, except that its aim has been to keep a little in the lead rather than to follow. The abiding policy of the paper to stand firmly for right and truth and against evil in every form, gave it such place in the confidence and esteem of the people as to be its chief pride. Being a home institution, founded and always conducted by native borns whose every interest was here, we have loved Greenville and Pitt county above all places on earth, and every dollar of profits derived from the paper has been spent at home and in helping to advance home interests. Never has the paper wilfully or intentionally wronged any person, and never has it received a dollar without rendering full value therefor. It has always been the people's paper, laboring for their welfare and the advancement of their interests. The people in turn have shown their appreciation of the effort to serve them faithfully by extending a liberal patronage that has made the paper what it is today.

Trains over some lines are suspended. Pratsville, Ala., is reported to be nine feet under water this morning. Telegraph and telephone office inundated and abandoned. Citizens in East Selma are using boats to go from house to house. Thousands of persons in the vicinity of Meridian, Miss., have been forced to desert their homes on account of high water, and without shelter, it is expected they will suffer from cold weather expected tonight.

FRENCH PREMIER'S VISIT OF INTEREST

Clemenceau's Visit to London Considered of Greatest Importance.

Paris, Dec. 10.—Clemenceau's trip to London is of great political importance, according to newspapers here, which say he will discuss the Adriatic, Russian and Turkish exchange questions and will seek to bring about co-operation among entente nations.

SPEEDY SETTLEMENT OF THE COAL STRIKE IS FORECASTED

Indianapolis, Dec. 10.—The settlement of the coal strike today and a speedy resumption of work was strongly forecasted this morning by officials of the United Mine Workers before the organization's general committee resumed consideration President Wilson's proposal for ending strike. The prediction was made in the face of strong opposition which developed yesterday and which probably will prolong argument for and against president's plan.

Bear in mind that you can not make a Christmas present that would be more appreciated by an absent friend or relative than a year's subscription to The Reflector.

GREAT BRITAIN IS STILL RESTRAINED BY WAR MEASURES

End of Year of Peace Finds United Kingdom Working Under Restrictions.

ONLY SMALL NUMBER OF FOODSTUFFS RATIONED

Ministry of Food Has Found it Advisable to Continue Maximum Price.

London, Dec. 10.—The end of one year of peace finds the United Kingdom still working under many of the war-time restrictions affecting ordinary living conditions, although large numbers of the orders have been rescinded and others have been modified.

So far as food is concerned, only sugar and butter are now rationed. The regulations regarding the amount of meat which might be purchased were removed only a few days ago, about one year after the close of the war. The consumption of liquor, however, is being held down rigidly under the old rules. Necessities still rationed, which vitally concern the home, include coal, gas and electricity. The shortage of fuel has been causing considerable hardship both to the individual and to industry.

The Ministry of Food has found it advisable to continue the maximum prices, both wholesale and retail, which it fixed for a considerable number of necessities.

Apart from the matter of food and fuel, the board of trade is maintaining control of the exportation and importation of a long list of articles. The ban has been removed from some goods but this has been mainly in the case of things importation of which had been forbidden and which the country found itself short of.

Removal of restrictions on most of the food necessities has not solved the living problem of the masses, however. There is still a great shortage of many things, and moreover, prices, which went down last summer, have now mounted to about where they were at the signing of the armistice.

The increase is attributed partly to the world scarcity of necessities, partly to the augmented demand from the recently belligerent countries, and partly to inflated currency and adverse foreign exchanges. The last named have had a pronounced influence on prices and it is the belief of economic experts that food cannot become much cheaper until these are adjusted, even though there is an increase in production.

The butter ration is placed at one and one-half ounces for each person per week. This refers to the imported product only, there being no restriction on the use of home-made butter. As a matter of fact, virtually no butter is being made in the United Kingdom these days, so that the consumer has to depend upon margarine and foreign butter.

NOTE OF ALLIES HANDED TO GERMAN DELEGATION

Paris, Dec. 10.—The Allies' note handed the German delegation at Versailles Monday has been examined by council of ministers at Berlin, and the German answer probably will be sent to Versailles today, according to a Berlin dispatch to the Matin.

REPORTS STATE THAT THE COAL STRIKE IS SETTLED

Washington, Dec. 10.—John J. Keegan of United States employes compensation commission, advised Secretary Tamm, at the White House this afternoon that Secretary Green, of the United Mine Workers, had informed him giving distance telephone, from Indianapolis, that the President's proposal for a settlement of the bituminous coal strike had been accepted. Keegan had arranged for a direct telephone wire between the White House and the hall of Indianapolis where the miners met and said that the message from Keegan was received about 3:15, eastern time, tonight.

Battery Life Depends upon INSULATION

Threaded Rubber Insulation has these three distinct advantages over any other:

1 There's only one sure-fire preventive against aging on the shell—that is to store the batteries in true bone-dry condition, which is possible only with the Willard Battery containing Threaded Rubber Insulation.

2 The life of the battery is largely up to the man in the car, but Threaded Rubber Insulation adds greatly to its chance of long service, because it removes one of the commonest causes of battery trouble—breaking down of the insulation.

3 Nearly every battery with ordinary insulation has to be re-insulated at least once during its lifetime. Willard Threaded Rubber Insulation never has to be replaced.

1. Threaded Rubber Insulation eliminates depreciation in the dealer's stock.

Willard Batteries with Threaded Rubber Insulation, since they have no wood insulation in any form, can be shipped and stored bone-dry—since neither plates nor insulation in the battery have ever been wet.

The storage battery with wood insulation in any form can not be kept in a dealer's stock without depreciation, because wood insulation must be put into the battery wet at the factory, and, once, the insulation is wet, a continuous chemical action begins; and furthermore, the insulation can not be allowed to be dried out, as it would become damaged. Hence the battery must soon be filled.

2. Threaded Rubber Insulation returns bigger dividends to the user.

Threaded Rubber Insulation is a manufactured product held to rigid uniformity, more durable and long-lived than any wood can be. The car owner is not wholly relieved of caring for his battery, but the battery will stand more abuse, and function at high efficiency for a much longer time.

3. Threaded Rubber Insulation makes re-insulation unnecessary.

When installed in the car no one can say just how soon wood insulation will begin to break down, on account of the impossibility of securing absolute uniformity in wood, since it is the product of nature, not of scientific manufacture. During this period even careful driving and faithful attention to battery care will not absolutely insure long life.

Re-insulation—at considerable expense—is almost certain to come before the ordinary battery is worn out, and the life of any battery after re-insulation is uncertain.

Threaded Rubber Insulation outlasts the plates and re-insulation is, therefore, unnecessary.

TUESDAY, DEC. 9TH, 1919.

If Senator Poindexter wants to become president, we are sure no one has any objections.

Many an earnest-hearted old turkey gobbler sees death staring him in the face.

Governor Bickett's speech in the Ninth district will put the political pot in running-over condition.

Clyde Hoey appears to hold an impregnable position in the Ninth, even with some of the Republicans.

Greenville people appear to have accepted the invitation to do their Christmas shopping early.

If Villa is captured again no doubt he will be able to bring about the execution of some of Carranza's followers.

Miners of the St. Charles field have returned to work, so it is stated. We would be glad to hear of others doing the same.

The revaluation tax plan may not appeal to very many people, but it certainly put more money in the State treasury.

Senators may be interested enough in the strikes to speak against them, but then, that's not stopping them, by any means.

The way political factions are centering their fire upon John Morehead suggests the possibility of the gentleman losing his head.

Fashion authorities of New York may have enough for shortening dresses the approaching year but there will be little room left for such measures in the future.

The annual report of the secretary of commerce shows splendid increases in the import and export trade of the nation. A high mark has been established that is pleasing in every way.

The way State Baptists have rallied to the $75,000,000 campaign goes to show what can be accomplished in behalf of christianity when people realize the necessity of such. What the Baptists have done probably looks very difficult indeed, but other denominations can do fully as well if they go into the issue with the same determination. Money is plentiful in every locality, and no better time ever will be afforded for an extension of church work. The field for earnest labor is unlimited and all churches should see to it that the gospel is disseminated in foreign lands where enlightenment of the heathen is one of the direct commands of the Bible.

It is no doubt well that the government has seen the advisability of abandoning severing relations with Mexico, in fact, the position taken by President Wilson in discouraging such action is of such significance that it is not a matter of uncertain responsibility by the government but a direct way by which international relations may be sustained and the ignorant people of Mexico held as friends as long as possible. Mexico may be guilty of overstepping the bounds of international diplomacy, so far as the outsider is concerned, but direct apologies have been sent the government upon every occasion, and we can see no reason why everyone should not feel satisfied. The nation is in such an unsettled state that the people as a whole are irresponsible for the actions of a few radicals forever creating dissension, therefore the position taken by the United States is deserving of commendation from every source.

The coal strike may be near the end or it may not, but just now the government appears determined to conserve the diminishing supply of coal in every way possible. Drastic action is now in force in many sections of the country where the supply is becoming smaller with each succeeding day, and although this may appear hard and very unnecessary to many people who have not taken time to be informed of the true seriousness of affairs, it is only fair and just, and must be borne by the entire country alike. Ten southern states first felt the severity of the curtailment order, but unlike the north, has suffered very little so far and restrictions have retarded industry very little compared with other sections where the cold weather has been intense and suffering acute. The south should indeed feel fortunate, for while it has been affected only slightly industry of the north has been necessarily brought to conclusion in the colder localities and large factories forced to close. There is no comparison. The situation is extremely unpleasant throughout the entire nation, but the north has suffered to a greater extent than any other region, even though it has been free of restrictions.

tion made them by President Wilson and entered into the fight for its adoption by the miners with all their strength. Settlement of the controversy when it comes will be greatly due to their efforts and it is only justice to give them credit for their fight.

"The conservative element which favors acceptance of the plan, is clearly in the majority and there is no question of the final outcome."

It was also learned that four extended caucuses in which so-called radicals of Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Western Pennsylvania participated were held tonight. Except that plans were made for continuing the fight against adoption of the strike settlement plan, nothing could be learned of the proceedings.

The radicals, it became known late tonight communicated their first attempt to defeat or postpone settlement of the strike introduction today of a motion to take the matter from the hands of the general committee and submit it to the locals of the organization for a referendum vote. This motion was voted down and is believed to demonstrate the strength of the Lewis Green supporters and foreshadow acceptance of the President's plan when it comes to a final vote.

young officer and with the knowledge which characterized his answer to my question. My command was known as 'Yankee' and most of the early enlistments were from New England, and yet this splendid young fellow had an accent not characteristic of the speech of Yankees, and I asked him where he enlisted. He replied in Boston. Still I felt that no original Yankee had his imprint and speech, and I inquired, 'where were you born?' His answer was 'in North Carolina' and he had promptly enlisted while going to school in Massachusetts without waiting even so much as to hear from home. It was partly because we had such men from the south, the equals of any from Massachusetts, that the Yankee regiment was so invincible.

We all learned that there were Alvin Yorks, hitherto unknown, unhonored and unsung in all the states. If southern people rejoice that he has illustrated on a world battlefield the qualities of our sturdy mountain men of valor have illustrated upon smaller fields, is it not fitting that we should feel natural and peculiar pride that this bone of our bone has shown, along with Flying Parson Maynard and others not less heroic with less fame, that they are of the same spirit and mettle as the Paul Reveres and Nathan Hales of this and other days? It is a compensation for the tragedy of war that our heroes are honored alike in every part of the Republic and here in North Carolina we are as proud of the record of Read of the Navy, born in New Hampshire, who made the first trans-Atlantic flight as we are of our own Maynard of the army who made the first trans-continental flight. Honors are even for the army and the navy and for the North and the South.

"The war made us one—that is, it united all of us who love the indissoluble union of indestructible states more than we love office or party or permit themselves to be guided by passion, prejudice or envy. It is unfortunately true that there are still men among us whose vision is obscured by petty partisanship and mean sectionalism. They cumber the ground, and whether they live in North Carolina or in Massachusetts are unworthy Americans. The best American permits no rent up Utica to contract his powers of national and world-wide love of humanity and responsibility to those lately associated in winning the great victory. It is a calamity, it is an anathema has shown, along with Flying Par-however, that there are men in America who have no large conception of present day big movements and who are seeking to hark back to ancient sectional animosities. These men, who instead of waving only the glorious Stars and Stripes, are waving the Bloody Shirt and calling upon this generation to rally around the new Force bill recently introduced in congress. The American people have highly resolved to permit only one flag to wave in our free air. Old Glory, which represents in its stars every state, will not give place either to the Bloody Shirt of those who live upon sectional hate or Red Flag, the ensign of Bolshevism and Anarchy.

Leader Rises From South To Command Army of Peace

Virginian Marshals 1,000,000 Episcopalians in Great Nation-Wide Campaign To Increase Sphere of Church

Rev. Robert W. Patton.

Virginia—cradle of leaders—has given a new commander to lead 1,000,000 Americans in the battles of peace. From the heart of the "Old Dominion," the County of Albemarle, has risen the Rev. Robert W. Patton, D. D., to be the national director of the Nation-Wide Campaign of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States.

Into his hands the church has given the task of rousing the people to their part in the reconstruction of the world. By his call 100,000 men are mobilizing in every town and city in the country, to enlist in a sweeping drive, December 7th, every man, woman and child in the church.

Must Win Workers.

On his shoulders rests the executive responsibility for raising more than $62,000,000, to be expended in three years to set schools and hospitals, community centers and churches in the remote places of this country and beyond its borders, where the need is great. Through him must come the means for recruiting 1,500 workers that they may be sent out to strengthen the church's forces in the United States, in the Orient, under the southern cross and the midnight sun.

Dr. Patton is an idealist, an inspirer of men and a veteran campaigner. The confident smile of youth is always on his face and the restlessness of youth in his figure.

He comes out of classic Southern institutions: Randolph-Macon, the University of Virginia, where he studied law, looking to that profession as a field for his truly southern gift of oratory, and then the Episcopal Theological Seminary in Virginia, near Alexandria, for the church called him.

Once Army Chaplain.

He was rector for a while in Roanoke. Then his Southern blood told, again, and he became an army chaplain in 1898, when the Spanish war called men to the colors. Four years later found him a rector again, in St. Stephen's Church, Wilkingsburg, near Pittsburgh.

In 1906 he began the career that has carried him to his present position. The Episcopal Board of Missions sent him to the West to work called Dr. Patton, and he found himself commissioned to visit the dioceses and parishes, in the cause of missions, from New Mexico to North Carolina, and from Florida and Texas to Kansas and Kentucky, a territory equal to more than one-third the area of the United States.

Serves in Field.

He began his pilgrimages up and down the United States. He organized and directed campaigns of education that made vivid to the parishes the needs of the mission fields, and conducted every-member canvasses that reaped rich harvests for the work. His successes in New Orleans, Charleston, S. C., and Mississippi brought demands for his services in Richmond, St. Louis, Baltimore, Chicago, and other large cities of the country.

And so, when the Episcopal Board of Missions planned the Nation-Wide Campaign, based on the principle of the every-member canvass, the memory of Dr. Patton's work in this field was vivid, and they summoned him to command.

These not only advise you to shop early, but also tell what they have to offer. The stores are well stocked with articles appropriate to the Christmas season, and the merchants cordially invite you to visit them. Anything desired for a present from a tiny toy to a house and lot or farm, or from a toy horse to an automobile, will be found advertised in this paper. Read every page of it carefully, and you can save time when you start out shopping by knowing just where to go.

STATE MARKING BIG EFFORTS TO STOP
LOSSES BY FIRES

Many Carolina Towns and Cities Going Forward in Fire Prevention.

Raleigh, N. C., Dec. 10.—The city of Durham has ascertained that there is an average cost of fifty dollars for every fire alarm turned in to the city fire department in the actual operating expense of the department and a regulation is consequently adopted making a charge of this amount for every response to an alarm sent in from without the city limits, this applying especially to extensive properties in East and West Durham.

Other North Carolina towns are moving in this direction, regulations to this end being worked out especially by Greensboro and Hickory, with members of others ready to follow suit in a regulation that is clearly just to all concerned. And the movement seems to be leading up to "personal liability" for preventable fires, which is a principle being applied in a number of progressive cities in this country and Europe and which is being found to work most satisfactorily both in placing the burden of fire waste where it belongs, on those whose carelessness causes it, and in forcing a greater care and precaution against fires.

The new fire alarm charge provided for Durham, Greensboro, Hickory and other municipalities that adopt it, says State Insurance Commissioner James H. Young is sure to materially reduce the number of fires in the suburban sections of these towns as the suburban residents come to fully realize that any little blaze on their premises, whether actual fire damage is done or not necessarily costs them fifty dollars without regard for any insurance protection they may carry. Furthermore, on the same principle the growing movement for "personal liability" for fire damage to adjacent property when the fire is due to carelessness of a property owner or tenant, has a similar effect in reducing the number of fires and amount of fire waste inside the corporate limits of those municipalities that provide for the application of this principle. And Commissioner Young directs the attention of all thoughtful North Carolinians to the spread of the application of this system of fixing responsibility for fires and to the great conservation effect it is having in reduction of fire waste wherever applied.

Vienna, Fifty Miles Away, Is in
Starving Conditions, So
It Is Stated.

Pressburg, Slovakia, Dec. 8.—Nowhere in Europe exists such a sharp contrast in food conditions as between this place and Vienna. While the great city fifty miles away goes hungry and meatless day follows meatless day, here is food in abundance, and cheap. There were six meats on the dinner card of a hotel here today and every winter vegetable the climate affords. Whipped cream, butter and cheese, fresh eggs, white sugar and pastry are to be had in every restaurant. The hotels are steam heated and smoke issues from every chimney.

This was the rich hinterland of Vienna before the disruption and poured the products of its fertile fields into the capital. Now a new political boundary intervenes and not one pound of supplies may pass into Austria. The cars of the broad gauge electric line may not cross the frontier. Passengers descend at the border and walk several hundred yards to another car and soldier guards at both the Austrian and Czecho-Slovakian sides search everyone carefully. Passports are examined as if war prevailed.

BAPTIST CAMPAIGN CREATES INTEREST IN MANY SECTIONS

Final Conclusion of $75,000,000 Drive Is Matter of Favorable Comment.

"The success of the Baptist 75 Million Campaign, after a very short period of preparation and under abnormal weather, crop and industrial conditions, is a little short of marvelous," Dr. L. R. Scarborough, General Director, declared in a message sent out from Nashville today when the eight-day period allotted for the drive for funds, expired tonight. "I attribute the success to the goodness of God, the faith, loyalty and untiring energy of the pastors, state associational and district and local church organizations and workers, the liberality and co-operation of the hundreds of thousands of privates in the Christian army, and to the remarkable generosity and co-operation manifested by both the religious and secular press," Dr. Scarborough continued.

"No campaign that has been conducted in the South, with the possible exception of the Liberty Bond drives, has received more and better display at the hands of the newspapers than was given this undertaking of Southern Baptists, which has just come to a successful conclusion. This generosity on the part of the secular press is particularly appreciated by the three million white Baptists of the South in view of the great scarcity and high cost of white paper and the greatly increased cost of newspaper production along every line. This evidences not only a larger appreciation of religious news on the part of the papers themselves but on the part of the people as a whole, for the papers carry only such news as they have reason to believe the reading public is interested in.

"The Baptist 75 Million Campaign marked a distinct advance in the use of paid advertising space in the secular papers for religious purposes. It is my conviction that Christian churches have too long been overlooking this inviting and effective field for the presentation of their messages to the world, and speaking for Southern Baptists I hope the day will soon come when they will learn to employ liberally the advertising columns of the secular papers as well as the denominational press in the presentation of both local and general matters affecting their programs for the advancement of the kingdom of God in the world.

Without the large co-operation given by the daily and weekly newspapers of the territory embraced in the campaign we could never have achieved the success that has crowned our efforts."

TREATY FIGHT HAS BEEN DELAYED TO JANUARY SESSION

Action on Covenant Has Been Deferred Indefinitely to January Session.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Action by the Senate on the Versailles peace treaty and the resolution of Senator Lodge, Republican, Massachusetts, proposing to declare the war with Germany at an end, tonight appeared improbable until after the Christmas recess, schedules to run from December 20 to January 5.

The deadlock over procedure as to the Versailles treaty apparently has tightened and Republican leaders agreed to defer action temporarily on the Lodge resolution. Although a meeting of the Foreign Relations committee for Wednesday was arranged, Senator Lodge said his resolution probably would await disposition by the House of a similar proposal.

Senator Lodge and Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, administration leader, today indicated complete disagreement regarding further steps as to the treaty.

Senator Fall Submits Evidence to Show that Radicals

Washington, Dec. 9.—Evidence that radicals in Mexico with the knowledge and support of President Carranza plotted to instigate a revolution in the United States and to seize the border states acquired by the American government in 1848, is contained in the memorandum presented to President Wilson by Senator Fall of New Mexico, chairman of the Foreign Relations sub-committee investigating the Mexican situation.

Plans for the proposed revolution were obtained by the sub-committee from the minutes, of a meeting last Oct. 15 in Mexico City of Lodge Twenty-three, an organization of extreme agitator's and members of the Industrial Workers of the World. The Mexican president is linked most directly with the plot through correspondence in which he recommends three men for special consideration because of their connections with "the plan they desire to put into practice in the state of Texas." These men, the committee states, have been identified as active agents of Lodge Twenty-three.

The memorandum which contains an abstract of the evidence collected by the committee was delivered to the President by Senator Fall Friday night and made public late today.

Mr. A. Barton Hepburn, Formerly President of the Chase National Bank, New York,
Writing in the November Issue of The American Magazine, Said:—

"There is nothing mysterious about corporations or the value of their stocks. Stock values depend upon earning power as much as the value of land depends upon its yield per acre." If a noil company has property of a certain value on which are wells producing a given amount of oil with prospects of more wells in proportion to the area of the lease, the stock is worth as much above par as will yield around 7 per cent to the investor. If a corporation shows an increase in volume of business, and in net earnings, the value of its stock advances."

RESTRICTIONS FOR HEAT IS BECOMING OF DRASTIC FORM

Fuel Administrator Garfield Clamps Down Lid on the Entire Nation.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Viewing with alarm the steadily dwindling bituminous coal supply, due to the miners strike, Fuel Administrator Garfield, by an order tonight, restored for the entire nation most of the drastic restrictions on lighting and heating which were in effect during the coal shortage of 1917. The limitations which are applicable to consumers of bituminous coal and coke, were made effective tonight with issuance of the order and are to be enforced by the Railroad Administration. Consumers of anthracite coal, gas and other fuels, are not affected by the order.

All street lighting, other than that necessary for the safety of the public, must be curtailed and stores, office buildings and industrial plants with a few exceptions are put on a reduced ration as to both lighting and heating.

Another of the restrictions provides that all manufacturing plants except those engaged in the making of necessary products shall reduce their operations not to exceed three days in any one week. Electric railways are required under the fuel administrator's order to reduce schedules to minimum requirements and no heat shall be provided in electric cars during the rush hours.

The restrictions were announced through the railroad administration as follows:

No ornamental lights, white ways or other unnecessary street lights, outline lighting, electric signs or illuminated billboards, show windows or show case lights, are to be operated. This does not affect street lighting necessary for the safety of the public.

No cabaret, dance hall, pool hall, or lawling alley shall be permitted to use light except between seven p. m. and eleven p. m.

Stores, including retail stores, but excepting stores selling food, and warehouses must not use light (except safety lights) except for six hours per day. Manufacturing plants shall be allowed to use light only during the hours prescribed for the use of power.

Rival Styles Present Their Claims

Now that the lives of women are filled by so many interests, tailored suits have manifold duties to perform and therefore the demand for the fancier styles has outrun that for severely plain designs. But both kinds present their claims in the season's offerings and both are represented by examples of excellent designing.

Even in the fancier suits, skirts find it expedient to remain quite plain. They efface themselves in favor of the blouse or smock. One is more or less "dressed up," according to the blouse worn, and it may vary all the way from a shirtwaist to an embroidered and beaded dinner or theater garment.

"Fancy" is to be understood as a trade term for the type of suit that is most sought for. These suits are not severely trimmed, but they are enriched with embroideries or fur or tucks or braid, all used with originality and restraint. The cloth suit, at the left of the two shown above is a type of the styles favored, with collar and border of fur. It indulges in a narrow girdele of the cloth, with hanging ends at the back, that are allowed handsome flat silk tassels as a finish.

The utility suit at the right of the picture depends upon tucks and buttons for its embellishment and is as smart in its way as its dressier rival. It is a sturdy looking affair in which one can face wind and weather, go a-traveling or to business, and will stand much wear and still come up smiling.

This company today owns interests in 32 producing wells, two of which have an estimated daily production of 4300 barrels. It owns 444 acres of solid lease in and adjoining production. Drilling operations are now under way for the immediate development of this acreage.

A large number of the wells mentioned have been brought in since our organization. One well just recently brought in is estimated at 1900 barrels daily production. We have doubled our royalty holdings on which are located a large percentage of the wells in which we are interested. In addition to this we have added to our solid lease holdings by the purchase of two 10 acre tracts right in Desdemona field and 100 more acres close to Desdemona. These excellent developments and additions to our interest have naturally enhanced the value of our stock.

RESTRICTIONS FOR HEAT IS BECOMING OF DRASTIC FORM

Fuel Administrator Garfield Clamps Down Lid on the Entire Nation.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Viewing with alarm the steadily dwindling bituminous coal supply, due to the miners strike, Fuel Administrator Garfield, by an order tonight, restored for the entire nation most of the drastic restrictions on lighting and heating which were in effect during the coal shortage of 1917. The limitations which are applicable to consumers of bituminous coal and coke, were made effective tonight with issuance of the order and are to be enforced by the Railroad Administration. Consumers of anthracite coal, gas and other fuels, are not affected by the order.

All street lighting, other than that necessary for the safety of the public, must be curtailed and stores, office buildings and industrial plants with a few exceptions are put on a reduced ration as to both lighting and heating.

Another of the restrictions provides that all manufacturing plants except those engaged in the making of necessary products shall reduce their operations not to exceed three days in any one week. Electric railways are required under the fuel administrator's order to reduce schedules to minimum requirements and no heat shall be provided in electric cars during the rush hours.

The restrictions were announced through the railroad administration as follows:

No ornamental lights, white ways or other unnecessary street lights, outline lighting, electric signs or illuminated billboards, show windows or show case lights, are to be operated. This does not affect street lighting necessary for the safety of the public.

No cabaret, dance hall, pool hall, or bowling alley shall be permitted to use light except between seven p. m. and seven p. m.

Stores, including retail stores, but excepting stores selling food, and warehouses must not use light (except safety lights) except for six hours per day. Manufacturing plants shall be allowed to use light only during the hours prescribed for the use of power.

Rival Styles Present Their Claims

Now that the lives of women are filled by so many interests, tailored suits have manifold duties to perform and therefore the demand for the fancier styles has outrun that for severely plain designs. But both kinds present their claims in the season's offerings and both are represented by examples of excellent designing.

Even in the fancier suits, skirts find it expedient to remain quite plain. They efface themselves in favor of the blouse or smock. One is more or less "dressed up," according to the blouse worn, and it may vary all the way from a shirtwaist to an embroidered and beaded dinner or theater garment.

"Fancy" is to be understood as a trade term for the type of suit that is most sought for. These suits are not pure trimmed, but they are enriched with embroideries or fur or tucks or braid, all used with originality and restraint. The cloth suit, at the left of the two shown above is a type of the styles favored, with collar and border of fur. It indulges in a narrow girdle of the cloth, with hanging ends at the back, that are allowed handsome flat silk tassels as a finish.

The utility suit at the right of the picture depends upon tucks and buttons for its embellishment and is as smart in its way as its dressier rival. It is a sturdy looking affair in which one can face wind and weather, go a-traveling or to business, and will stand much wear and still come up smiling.

NO DECISIONS ARE RENDERED AGAINST PROHIBITION ACTS

Supreme Court Fails to Return Decision on Constitutionality of Measure.

Washington, Dec. 9.—No decision on the constitutionality of the war-time prohibition and the Volstead enforcement act was rendered today by the supreme court and there was no indication when a decision would be handed down.

Arguments on the constitutionality of the acts were advanced by the court at the request of the government and a decision had been expected generally when the court reconvened today after a recess of two weeks.

As Monday is the regular opinion day of the court a decision is not to be expected before next Monday, if then.

The cases on which the constitutionality of the war-time act was attacked were from Kentucky and New York while that on which the validity of the enforcement act was contested reached the supreme court from New York.

Arguments in appeals from Baltimore and New Orleans involving the right to manufacture beer containing 2.75 per cent alcohol are to be heard by the court this week. Government attorneys, it was understood, offered to submit these cases on printed briefs, but attorneys from the other side declined. Because of this insistence to argue the cases, officials familiar with the court's procedure believed an opinion on the larger question was withheld to permit the presentation of any further arguments attorneys for the brewers might desire to present.

COLD WAVE IS RUSHING TOWARDS EAST SECTIONS

Washington, Dec. 9.—Indications today are that a cold wave is rushing eastwards, and means a prolonged period of cold weather. According to the weather bureau there is zero weather in Oklahoma, Texas and the Pan Handle territory. Twenty degrees or more below zero in the middle west. Cold wave will reach Atlantic states by tomorrow.

Rival Styles in Evening Frocks

A review of lovely evening gowns made for the younger set, convinces us that many a fair lady intends to turn her back upon society this winter. Let us hope these backs will all be comely and that society will be regaled with lines that are beautiful and skins that are fair; for society is going to have a chance to pass opinion upon backs undommed. It is said that a beautiful back is the rarest of nature's gifts to fair women, and there is a fad for the almost backless bodice.

A conservative example of the style in an evening frock of shell pink, is shown above at the right of the two evening gowns pictured. Very wide moire ribbon, matching the net in color, constitutes what there is of foundation for the bodice and is featured in a sash with a wide Alsatian bow and long ends at the back, finishing the wide loose/girdle about the waist. The net is very full and draped over a soft silk underskirt in cascades that end in points at the bottom. Moire ribbon forms the foundation for the front of the bodice and there is a drapery of net over silk that extends over the shoulders and is lost under the girdle at the front. Silks shot with gold or silver make beautiful underskirts.

The frock at the left is more youthful and less sophisticated than the net frock. It is made of georgette, with a fancy silk trimming stitched in straight rows on the skirt and diagonally on the bodice. Soft net is set in the "V" shaped bodice and a silk daisy chain is a charming detail at the top of the short sleeve on the right shoulder. The sash is of plain, narrow satin ribbon with a rosette and two short ends to finish it. Matching with this trim little detail, the skirt is restrained at the bottom where it is gathered in and finished with a narrow, quaint-looking frill in character. Both are beautiful and the more daring frock at the right has no advantage over its more youthful rival. There is no use trying to outshine the charm of youthfulness anyway.
