

PALMER EXPLAINS HOW BIG PACKERS REACHED DECISION

Attorney General Says Agreement Meant More Than Formal Decree.

REDUCTIONS OF PRICES NOT ANTICIPATED SOON

Sharp Controversy Ensues When Senators Intimate Signs of Favoritism

Washington, Jan. 8.—More was accomplished through the government's settlement of its anti-trust proceedings against the five big Chicago meat packers than could have resulted from a court decision adverse to the packers, Attorney General Palmer told the Senate today by invitation of the agricultural committee today. He said in connection with its consideration of what legislation is yet required for the meat packing industry.

The government, the Attorney General declared, surrendered no rights to a further prosecution of the packers, eliminated the packers from the contract to meat packing and does not at present of industries not directly related contemplate further proceedings, either civil or criminal as "the cases against them have been won."

There were sharp interchanges between Mr. Palmer and committee members during his appearance. The suggestion of Senator Norris Republican, Nebraska, that criminal counts against the packers, past and prospective, had been "forgiven" by the agreement brought a flat denial.

Senator Frank, Republican, Maryland, intimated that by bringing civil and not criminal proceedings against the packers, the Department of Justice had "laid itself open to the charge of failing to prosecute multi-millionaires while its agents had been spying upon members of labor unions and making summary arrests."

"It does not lay in the mouth of any man, high or low, to say that the Attorney General of the United States is a respecter of persons," retorted Mr. Palmer, his ire plainly aroused. He added that he had brought civil complaints against the packers exactly as he had brought civil complaints against the miners' union during the recent coal strike.

Commenting upon the general effects of the agreement, Mr. Palmer said he saw no hope of immediate lowering of food prices by reason of it. "There is much weight in the argument that these large concerns secure greater efficiency and consequent lowerings of costs," he commented. "But if so, it is the efficiency of autocracy. We shall have to depend on gaining results in this direction from the competition between smaller units, and if they are not obtained, then our whole theory of efficiency gained by democratic competition is wrong."

Recounting for the first time the immediate history of the prosecutions against the packers, Mr. Palmer said that while a Chicago grand jury was considering the government's evidence, Robert J. Dunham, vice-president of Armour & Co., had opened negotiations for the settlement, after he had informed the packers that if they desired to come with the idea of surrendering to the government and would state how far they were willing to go in complying with certain requirements by the government, he would be willing to meet their representatives.

RUSSIAN PRINCE IS IN FAVOR KOLCHAK FORCES IN RUSSIA

Prince Cantacuzena, On Visit Here, Explains Situation in His Country.

SAYS FORCES IN MANY SECTIONS ARE STARVING

Allies are Only Hope of Armies Continuing Fight Against Bolshevism.

New York, Jan. 8.—Prince Cantacuzena, who married the daughter of President Grant, and who is in this country on a military mission for the Kolchak government of Russia, said today concerning the reports that Kolchak had given up the command: "Whether or not Kolchak has been forced to resign active command of the all-Russian armies because of illness the military situation is not seriously altered thereby. There are other men in the Russian army who will carry on the fighting as long as there is a foot of ground left. There is vast territory between the Russian front and the Pacific Ocean and even if Irkutsk has fallen into the hands of the Bolsheviks, which I myself find hard to believe, the all-Russian army will carry on."

"The Kolchak armies have the men and they have many and excellent officers. What they need is supplies. They have no shoes, no clothes, very little ammunition, and very little food. If the Allies wish to stop the spread of Bolshevism throughout the world, they must come to the rescue of Kolchak and Denikin. Semenov is a Cossack. He is an honest and strong man. I do not believe that he is playing into the hands of the Japanese as people in America are inclined to believe. He is a Russian and a patriot. His methods are ruthless, but his purpose is to fight the Bolsheviks and save the world their clutches."

"The Kolchak armies are fighting on the defensive. Until they are given supplies by the Allies, they will not be able to take the offensive. Their great contribution to the peace of the world at present is that they are preventing the spread of Bolshevism into the Orient."

"The Bolsheviks in Russia have failed. They know that they have failed. It is only a matter of time before the peasants, who are disillusioned and bitter, arise once more and annihilate (Continued on page two.)"

PLAN DEVISED FOR SHOWING NATURAL MARINE RESOURCE

American Merchant Marine to Display Recourses in Demonstration Soon.

New York, Jan. 8.—For the purpose of creating nation-wide interest in the development of the American merchant marine, a series of demonstrations showing marine resources of the country, will begin here April 12 and last one week, it was announced today by the National Marine League.

According to P. H. W. Ross, president of the League, the demonstrations will consist of parades; dinners, at which prominent marine authorities will be speakers; exhibitions of ship models and exhibits of cargo handling devices. John Barton Payne, Chairman of the United States Shipping Board, secretary of Commerce J. W. Alexander, and other men prominent in America's commercial development will be in attendance. While centering in New York, the demonstration will be nation-wide in scope, it was added.

The League, according to its officers, now has more than 9,000 members including not only prominent steamship men, but executive heads of many of the largest manufacturing banking and general business firms in every state of the union.

JANUARY TERM OF COURT TO OPEN IN CITY NEXT MONDAY

Pitt County Superior Court to Convene With Judge Connor, Presiding

SEVERAL CIVIL CASES ARE ON THE CALENDAR

Four Important Murder Cases to be Given Hearing During Session.

The regular January term of Pitt county superior court, for the trial of civil and criminal cases, will convene in this city the approaching Monday morning with Judge George W. Connor, of Wilson, presiding. There are a number of important actions to be heard throughout the two weeks' sessions, and it is believed that more than usual interest will be centered upon the occurrence owing to the rapid disposition of cases made at the last session, in which the calendar was virtually cleared of several unimportant actions which had been retarding proceedings for several months.

The civil session, which will open next Monday morning, will feature largely of whiskey cases and divorce suits, the latter composed mostly of colored participants. The calendar at this time shows that there are from forty to fifty civil actions docketed for the week, and it is believed that, with only minor handicaps, the court will be able to completely clear the calendar during the five days' session. Civil actions have held principal sway in practically every session of superior court for the past several months, and it is not surprising that this term should be filled with similar experiences.

Criminal session, while not containing as many cases as the first week's session, will have a small number of important murder charges on the calendar, and in two or three of those, it is already evident that hard fought legal battles will take place. Some of them, however, will be disposed without being so hotly contested and for that reason quick action is anticipated.

The usual large crowd of people from every part of the country is expected to be in attendance at the opening Monday morning, and as customary, the two weeks will witness great activity on the part of court officials as well as those in the proceedings.

MILLIONS IN GIFTS SENT TO GERMANY BY UNITED STATES

Charity Organizations Made Many Homes Happy During Month of November

Berlin, Jan. 8.—Ten million marks worth of charity gift packages, containing food and clothing, reached Germany from the United States, during the three months ending November 15th.

Among the contents was 100,000 pounds of flour, an equal amount of bacon and 1,000,000 cans of milk.

The shipments are usually consigned to President Ebert, in order to prevent their deliveries being delayed by the official customs control.

The consignments received up to date have been allotted to industrial sections where the need is greatest such as Upper Silesia, the Ruhr district, Saxony, and Thuringia. The government is simplifying the importation of the parcels and large consignments, by removing the customs restrictions.

NEW YORK CITY TO TRY EXPERIMENTS IN CIVIC PROGRESS

Community Experiment Will be Conducted on Greater Scale Than Formerly

COMMUNITY COUNCIL TO DIRECT NEW ENDEAVORS

Infant Welfare Movement Will be Among Those Included in Program.

New York, Jan. 8.—A community experiment similar to the one which has been carried on in a section of Cincinnati the past two and a half years by the National Social Unit Organization, will be conducted here in 1920, if plans for a merger of that organization and the Community Councils of greater New York, recently formulated by the executive boards of both bodies, are consummated.

Miss Sara Graham-Mulhall, Mrs. Edgerton Wintrop and Dr. Albert Shields, director of the Community Councils of greater New York, are prominent in the proposed enterprise. Wilbur C. Phillips, executive secretary of the National Social Unit Organization, explaining the project, said:

"The work of the Community Councils, already established in 80 sections of New York City, has demonstrated their ability to awaken civic interest, increase neighborliness and promote co-operative endeavor. The Cincinnati unit has shown that the organization of people by small population units, with a representative for each unit, has been extraordinarily successful as a means of enabling the discussion of community needs and programs."

"Development of the work in New York," said Mr. Phillips, "may first center around some common problems, such as infant welfare, the reduction of the cost of living or recreation. This work is to be undertaken insofar as possible by the women of the city acting as volunteers. An effort also will be made to waken the intelligent interest and co-operation of important groups in the population such as business men, wage earners, physicians, nurses, social workers, clergymen and city officials."

SEVERAL JUVENILE DELINQUENCIES TO BE GIVEN HEARING

Eight Children Received Attention of Juvenile Court Within Past Month.

TWO WHITE CHILDREN ALSO GIVEN HEARING

Probation Officer Has Several Cases Under Consideration for Future.

There were practically eight juvenile delinquency cases reported to the Public Welfare committee of this county for the past thirty days, according to reports issued this morning by J. F. Harrington, judge of the juvenile court of this district. Of the eight cases, Mr. Harrington stated, there were only two requiring more than ordinary attention, those being disposed of on probation with emphatic understanding that the children are to return to the court's jurisdiction in the event the action does not prove effectual.

There were only two white children numbered among the cases disposed of during the past thirty days, the remainder being of the negro races, who were called to attention of the public welfare office on minor charges of larceny and violation of the public school attendance laws. The two white children were returned to their parents on probation the earlier part of December, but since that time one of them has been brought up before the court again which probably will place him in some training school until reformation becomes more apparent than at this time.

M. K. Blount, public welfare officer, and who also acts in the capacity of public school attendance officer, states that there are a number of cases under consideration at the present time, and that it is more than probable several will be given hearing this month, although delay for purposes of reforming many of the suspected delinquents, will be granted. The juvenile court, as reiterated, is entirely different from courts for adults, where persons are punished according to the extent of crime, and are directed particularly to correcting and reforming children who have wandered away from higher standards of life.

Judge Harrington, in several instances, has delivered short talks to children coming before the tribunal, and in many cases it is believed much (Continued on page two.)

CONVENTION PLANS TO FAVOR WILSON IDEAS FOR TREATY

Democratic National Convention to Endorse President Attitude.

Washington, Jan. 8.—When and where the Democratic National convention will be held next summer will be decided here today by Democratic national committee in session, which will lay basis for campaign issues by resolution endorsing President Wilson's stand on the peace treaty. San Francisco and Kansas City were leading in choice of convention city before the meeting began, but the delegation from Chicago had revised its campaign. The committee meeting, which is expected to last most of the day to be followed tonight by a banquet, is declared by leaders to be the greatest of its kind in the party's history.

Mexico City, Jan. 8.—The estimated number of casualties of earthquake Saturday in the western part of Vera Cruz state still stands at two thousand or more. Dispatches from the stricken area do not even estimate damage done nor give accurate list of those dead. Fragmentary advices received here indicate, however, that death toll would mount above first estimates.

PEACE TREATY TO PROBABLY FIGURE IN BIG CAMPAIGN

Issue Looms Up Conspicuously in Presidential Fight of the Country.

COMMITTEE URGED TO STAND BEHIND WILSON

Resolution Endorsing President's Position to be Presented Today.

Washington, Jan. 8.—The peace treaty as a campaign issue loomed conspicuously on the political horizon today as leaders of the Democratic party gathered here for the quadrennial meeting of the Democratic National Committee laid preliminary plans for the presidential contest.

Already overshadowing the fight for the National Convention, which apparently narrowed during the day in Kansas City and San Francisco, discussion of the treaty got an additional impetus when it became known that its meeting tomorrow the committee would be asked by its officers to formally put itself squarely behind President Wilson in his stand in the treaty controversy.

A resolution making such a declaration was prepared for presentation and Chairman Cummins, of the committee, predicted that it would be adopted. It is understood to be in general terms, endorsing the President's course without declaring specifically for unreserved ratification, but Mr. Cummins said the intention was to make its language so plain that there would be no doubt that the party stood "behind the President."

The announcement stirred up endless speculation when it was coupled with unverified reports that William Jennings Bryan would advocate a different course in his speech at the big Jackson day banquet to be held under the auspices of the committee tonight. No one professed to know Mr. Bryan's intentions, but many committeemen were turning over in their minds various fictions with any compromise that stories quoting him as advocating ratification could be secured.

Involved in the possibilities of the situation was another unknown quantity—the message which President Wilson is to send to his fellow Democrats at the banquet. It generally has been assumed that he will touch on the treaty, but there has been no information as to how far he may go or whether he will urge that ratification be made an active issue in the campaign.

Occupied with these reflections, the committee members apparently have possible candidates, several of whom given little attention to the subjects of will pronounce their views on public questions at tonight's banquet. On this subject also there has been hesitancy because of uncertainty over the intentions of Mr. Wilson and Mr. Bryan. Some committee members believe that a more positive declaration from one of both may come to light tonight.

Although San Francisco and Kansas City apparently were well in front tonight in the race for the convention, it was declared by the leaders that the matter was by no means settled and that there still was a chance for Chicago or St. Louis. The Chicago backers became very active late in the day and word came from St. Louis that its plans to capture the big meeting abandoned if a compromise solution were doned several days ago, might be resought.

EPISCOPALIANS ENDORSE EFFORT TO GET CHOWAN

At a meeting of the Vestry of St. Paul's church on Wednesday night, January the 7th the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved: That the Vestry of St. Paul's Episcopal church gives its hearty support to the effort to bring Chowan College to Greenville, N. C., and hereby appoints Mr. H. A. White, W. A. Bowen and G. H. Cox as a committee to cooperate with the Greenville Chamber of Commerce to this end.

QUESTION NO. 17.

What Pitt county newspaper has for thirty-eight years been extending a cordial welcome to all new comers who cast in their lot with us in becoming citizens and helping to build up the town, and has done its best to make them feel that this is truly "Our Greenville—Yours if You Come"? Ask E. B. Pickien.

Some of those new year resolutions already have been deferred to next year.

Don't worry over the future the census enumerator will count you "in" just as long as you hang around.

North Carolina newspaper men are holding their mid-winter convention in Greensboro today and tomorrow.

Even leap year hasn't affected the high cost of living, but in may be the year is over, particularly, with some men.

When all of that American whiskey arrives in Cuba there will be enough to intoxicate the whole country and make it an island of strong drink.

A few more quakes of the earth in Mexico probably will make some of the bandits come out and confess their sins against America. And they are many.

What about that clause in the constitution declaring beer in the same class with intoxicants? Truly, the announcement has hit the "wets" a death blow.

Reports say that Kentucky has joined Rhode Island in ratifying the suffrage amendment, which leads us just two steps nearer "petticoat" supremacy.

Berger's victory to congress will be little pleasure as long as people of his section make it necessary for police protection. It takes some of the spice of the victory.

The United States is leading in cotton consumption, so statements say, and what would be natural to hear that she will lead the world in production next year this time.

With an entire town reported destroyed by earthquakes in Mexico, it is only natural to expect that an innumerable number of America's persistent foes have been hurled into a region of continuous belligerency.

Those Republicans who banqueted in New York recently, and had "Americanism" as the principal theme of the evening, probably found the subject a difficult one to discuss if they view the term as Senators Borah and Lodge.

A statement to the government from Mexico says Americans recently murdered in that country are from Texas. Who cares where the men are from; what we want to know—who killed 'em.

GREENVILLE WANTS CHOWAN.

It is certainly gratifying to note the splendid spirit which religious, educational and business institutions of the city are displaying in convincing authorities of Chowan College that Greenville really wants the school and is desirous of doing everything possible in getting it established here. The spirit has not been confined to any individual organization, as we have seen it, but apparently is wide-spread, showing that the college is really wanted and would receive every advantage of the community if moved here.

The removal of Chowan College from Mifflinsboro to some other section offering greater advantages was announced sometime ago, and while Greenville voluntarily offered to do its best, in competing with offers from other cities under consideration, college officers really did not know how badly Greenville people wanted them and the school until right recently when practically every resource was thrown open, displaying in no uncertain terms that Greenville is ready and willing to stand by, and see the school placed upon one of the greatest business basis in its history.

Some time may be required, of course, in impressing Chowan that it is offering every advantage and opportunity of Pitt county's great resources, but the fact cannot be disputed that Greenville is the ideal location for an institution of the kind and offers as good educational advantages as any other section to be mentioned. There is practically everything required by an up-to-date school—railroad facilities, splendid geographical situation, county seat, excellent denominational backing, prosperous locality, and last, but not least, a spirit of thoughtfulness for educational work that cannot be surpassed anywhere.

Greenville people are ready and willing to pledge their support to the school in every way, and if Chowan officers are desirous of locating in a center with educational advantages already established, they must eventually recognize that Greenville is financially and morally capable of backing up every fact as set forth in recent offers. It is hoped the situation will be considered fully before a decision is rendered because Pitt county people feel that they want the school and are willing to give it every support in harmony with principles as already presented.

Wilmington claims to have erected more than a million dollars' worth of new buildings during the past year. The record is a splendid one alright, but Greenville is not lagging behind in the least.

Jack Dempsey has never been so forward as to declare himself an artist, but the way he has been smashing out half millions and quarter millions offerings in the ring causes one to believe that Jack have the talent obscured somewhere.

All this Red and Bolsheviki trouble this country is now experiencing, is what it gets for letting down the bars to immigrants of the most undesirable class. No man should be allowed to have any room in America unless he becomes an American citizen.

The Bryan League, resurrected a few days ago for the purpose of booming William Jennings Bryan for the presidency, has swung around in support of James W. Gerard. The change is so much out of the ordinary that we are wondering what William will propose as his next issue.

When those resolutions endorsing President Wilson's action in the interest of league of nations and the peace treaty are laid before the Democratic executive committee Senators Lodge and Borah will have something else to wrangle about, and of course delay will again be inevitable.

According to statements by S. Nuortva, a product of the Russian government, secret service-men of this country have been playing an interestingly crooked game with radicals and leaders planning to destroy the nation. And while, of course, there are very people who believe the statements, nevertheless, an investigation may bring forth a number of interesting facts.

The United States and Japan appear to be rather greedy over the export trade with India, for reports indicate that practically all trade with the country since the war has been carried on between the three powers. The idea is an excellent one and should prove profitable to all parties concerned as long as India continues interested.

the Bolsheviki government. When that happens what will the leaders of Bolshevism do? Russia is already looted and impoverished. There is little more to gain by holding the power in Russia. Their obvious aim is to find new worlds to conquer. There is great opportunity for them among the ignorant masses of China and India.

good has resulted. This has been apparent in probably two or more cases when the children were placed upon probation and lived up to every provision provided by the court. All off-cers connected with the public welfare movement in the county are doing everything possible in its interest, and it is evident that the future will be filled with unusually splendid work in every department.

C., and bounded on the North by Second street, on the East by the heirs of Caleb Worthington, on the South by the lands of Jesse Mumford and on the West by an alley, containing one half of an acre more or less, it being the same land upon which J. # Tax Notice!

To the Tax Payers of Pitt County:
The Legislature of North Carolina in session 1919 passed a law putting a penalty of one per cent on everybody who failed to pay their taxes before the first day of January 1920, and thereafter one per cent in addition for each month it was not paid. The Commissioners of Pitt County, realizing the fact that this was not generally known by the people, have arranged with me not to enforce this penalty until February 1st, 1920. Come in and pay your taxes at once as after that date, under the state law, I will be compelled to add the penalty to your taxes as stated above.

Yours truly,

MR. FARMER

Before making your plans for this year's crop it will pay you to investigate the good results from the use of Pamlico Fertilizers last year. We are prepared to furnish any material desired, at the right price. Ask G. W. Peed about the results.

Place your orders early with Local Agent Pamlico Chemical Co.

N. O. Warren

Fertilizer Prices REDUCED

Fertilize All Your Crops

More than ever before, it will pay to fertilize all crops heavily during 1920. The world is short on the two principal crops we produce, TOBACCO AND COTTON.

The best way to overcome the present labor scarcity is to make one acre produce as much as two acres have produced heretofore, and with fertilizer prices lower and Tobacco and Cotton prices higher than ever before it does not require any argument to induce our farmers to fertilize their crops better than ever during the year 1920.

We would suggest that you use only fertilizers which contain ONLY FOREIGN POTASH. It has been proven during the past year that potash produced in our western states has been injurious to crops in many instances, and it would be well to have your fertilizers made with the old and well tried EUROPEAN OR GERMAN POTASH AND KAINIT. We expect to use nothing except foreign potash this season for our tobacco goods, and are in position to use Kainit in all our Cotton goods.

We will be glad to have your orders in plenty time this year in order to avoid a rush at planting time.

BUSINESS CHANGES OCCUR IN THE TOWN OF AYDEN

Recent big business deals for the new year are not confined to Greenville. Over in our neighbor town, one of much interest and importance took place the first of the year when J. R. Smith & Bro., sold their large mercantile establishment in that town. Their hardware, furniture and grocery store was bought by A. L. Jackson, and their dry goods store by P. R. Taylor.

The Smith brothers began their mercantile life in Ayden in 1892 and rapidly built up a large and successful business. They were not only leading merchants, but were the town's most active citizens in promoting its moral, educational and commercial advancement. They retire from active mercantile business in order to give their time more fully to large manufacturing and farming enterprises in which they are engaged. At the same time they will retain their interest in the store of A. W. Ange & Co., in Winterville in which they are partners.

Don't forget that whatsoever a man seweth that will be also rip.

Why do similar opportunities make a hero of one man and a fool of another? The average man never casts his bread upon the waters until it becomes stale.

A great many men reason in a circle; that's why there is no end to their arguments.
