Party Emerges from Dinner With Defiant Show of Militancy in Evidence.

BRYAN AND WILSON MAY SOON SETTLE TROUBLES

Presence of Many Women in Banquet Hall Inspires "New Era" for Women

Washington, Jan. 10.—The fortunes of the treaty of Versailles became even more unsettled today when on top of President Wilson's Jackson day pronouncement for taking the question to the people in the political campaign, William Jennings Bryan's opposition to such a course, Democratic and Republican friends of the treaty in the senate renewed determinedly their effort to secure a compromise ratification.

Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, the acting Democratic leader, said he did not regard the President's declaration as calculated to cut off any reasonable compromise and predicted ratification before the campaign was under way. The mild reservation group of Republicans took much the same view, and the group of Democrats who have been urgent in their demand for a compromise, declared their position was in no way altered.

Discussion of compromise reservations accordingly went forward as actively as before, a conference being arranged on the Republican side to take up in detail the set of reservations submitted recently by Senator Kendrick, of Wyoming, and other Democrats. It was said a counter-proposal might be drawn up within a few days, and all of the parties to the negotiations seemed hopeful that an agreement ultimately would be reached.

Among the treaty's irreconcilable foes, however, the President's stand and the statement last night of Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the Republican Senate leader, that he would "most cordially welcome" the treaty as a political issue, were hailed as having definitely put the question into the campaign. This group consistently has predicted failure for the compromise negotiations and they were more positive today than ever that there would be no agreement.

In announcing that the compromise plans would go ahead, Senator Hitchcock said that, of course, the Democrats could not agree to any compromise vitally impairing the treaty, and that there would be a endeavor to work out such reservations, as the President could accept. Some other Democrats were not so emphatic on that point, however, declaring privately that they would take the best compromise they could get and then put the responsibility straight up to the White House.

The speech of Mr. Bryan at the Jackson Day banquet here, which in addition to opposing any effort to carry the treaty into the campaign advocated a speedy compromise, was put into the senate record today by Senator McCormick, Republican, Illinois, after the President's letter announcing his stand had been presented by Senator Hitchcock. Senator McCormick requested that the two "be printed in juxtaposition, in view of reports that they are agreed on the treaty."

MOVEMENT TO GET CHOWAN COLLEGE IS GIVEN IMPETUS

Two Sites and $7000 Cash Raised at Chamber Commerce Meet Last Night.

SOLICITING COMMITTEES OUT ON STREETS TODAY

People Contributing Freely to Movement Reported at Noon Hour Today.

Greenville's chances of getting Chowan College established within its borders were given a great boost forward at a special meeting of the chamber of commerce last night in which two sites were offered and $7000 cash raised to present in favor of getting the college located here if it is to be moved from Murfreesboro as recently announced by trustees, providing competitive cities in Eastern Carolina will present appropriate inducements. The meeting was one of three which has been conducted during the present week in regards to getting the school located here, and the attendance and interest prevailing throughout the occurrence showed in a convincing manner that citizens of the city really are desirous of having the college here and are going to do everything possible with this end in view.

In addition to the committee recently appointed for selection of appropriate sites, the meeting last night resulted in the appointment of twenty influential representative business and (Continued on page five.)

DRAINAGE SOURCES TO HOLD MEETING IN LOCALITY SOON

Reclamation of Swamps to be Discussed in Washington at Meeting Soon

The State of North Carolina is the Pioneer of the southeastern States in the matter of drainage and reclamation of the swamp and overflowed areas. It was the first of these states to enact practical drainage laws which have stood the test of the higher courts in every detail. Virginia, Georgia, Florida, and South Carolina have all enacted drainage laws similar to those of North Carolina.

During the war, drainage work in this and other southeastern States almost ceased, due to the great diversion of capital to the purchase of government securities, scarcity of labor and machinery, etc. The past six months to a year, however, has witnessed a resumption of this work, and already many districts in the Piedmont and Coastal Plain regions are either in the process of organization, or the work of dredging is in actual progress.

With the enactment of the State law for the re-valuation of all real property in North Carolina, it is more desirable than ever, from the standpoint of the individual citizen, that all his lands should be brought to their highest productive value, so as to yield a return commensurate with their taxable values. For this reason, the drainage and reclamation of these lands is of vital interest to a large body of our citizens.

The object of the reclamation of swamp and overflowed lands is threefold: 1. To increase the healthfulness of the section of country in which the swamps or overflowed lands exist. 2. To make a non-producing area productive, and thus add to the revenue of the owner and of the state, 3 to facilitate intercourse between communities adjacent to these swamp areas by the constructing of roads, which always follows the drainage of any swamp area. In short, the big idea is to render these areas, with their great potential value as agricultural lands, healthful and desirable from the standpoint of the resident or the settler.

SEVEN LINERS ARE ALLOTTED IN SOUTH AMERICA SHIPPING

United States Allots Seven Fast Liners to Shipping in Argentina.

AMERICAN SHIPPERS ARE DELIGHTED IN CHANGES

Cable Communications With United States Are Also Improved Lately.

Buenos Aires, Jan. 10.—American business men in Argentina received with pleasure the announcement that the United States Shipping Board had allotted seven of its fast passenger liners for service between New York and South American ports including Buenos Aires. They have felt that they have been struggling against a handicap owing to slow mail communication and passenger transportation between the United States and this country.

If the Americans here wanted to send a letter to the United States he knew that in the past it would require at least 30 days for the letter to reach New York and that frequently it would require 40. To send a representative to the United States on a business mission would require three months before the agent could return to Buenos Aires.

Meantime the American's chance of doing business has fallen into the hands of a European competitor who could communicate with his principals by mail within three weeks. Fast steamships have been arriving here from European ports almost twice a week while the mail from the United States came mostly by slow freight steamers.

One of the difficulties of which the Americans here complained was the delay in receiving bills of lading for goods sent from the United States to Argentina. This was due to the fact that the bills could not be sent on the steamer which carried the goods and there were few fast steamers which could bring them here at the time the goods arrived.

When the bill of lading was sent on slow ships the goods were held in the custom house here until she arrived.

On the other hand bills of lading on goods shipped from England came through on fast steamers which often (Continued on page five.)

BRONZE HORSES IN PLACE AGAIN NEAR GREAT CATHEDRAL

Adornment of St. Mark Returned to Facade After Absence in Rome.

Venice, Jan. 10.—The four bronze horses which adorned the facade of St. Mark's cathedral have again been put in place after an absence of more than two years due to their transfer to Rome where they had been kept to avoid capture by the Austrians or destruction by air bombs.

The horses are regarded as the finest specimens of ancient bronzes and, according to tradition, graced the triumphal arch of Nero. In the reign of Constantine, they were taken by that emperor to Constantinople. There they stood until 1204 when they were brought to Venice and placed on St. Mark's cathedral. There the horses remained for almost six centuries.

Napoleon, after he had conquered Venice, took them to Paris to adorn the arch of Triumph in the Place du Carrousel. After his defeat at Waterloo they were returned to their original place in St. Marks, where they remained undisturbed for a century.

The horses stand five feet in height and are the only ones in existence representing an ancient chariot quadriga.

BIRTH RESTRICTION DRAWN CLOSER BY BIG CITY INTEREST

System of Taking Foot-Print of Children Adopted by Nursery Club.

TO PREVENT CHILDREN HAVING WRONG PARENTS

Hospital Finds System Advisable in Order to Distinguish Right Children.

New York, Jan. 10.—A system of taking foot-prints of children has been adopted in the New York Nursery and Child's Hospital to prevent infants born there from going to the wrong mothers. Its adoption was due to the fact that a soldier's wife who recently gave birth to a baby in that hospital at first denied that the child was hers. The young mother, who had been reading stories of accidental substitution of children at hospitals and similar public institutions, declined to nurse the baby.

"We brought all the proofs we could muster," explained the superintendent, "but the mother persisted in her hallucination. She became hysterical with grief and fright. Finally, I brought her our records which showed that only a little colored baby and her own had had been born in the hospital that day. That convinced her, but just think of what would have happened to that poor woman if other white babies had been born here on the same day."

In order to avoid a similar experience the superintendent engaged a fingerprint expert to instruct the head nurse in trying the system on nine babies. "We found we couldn't get good prints of their hands," said the official. "Their feet, however, came out beautifully, and for greater security the mother is finger-printed also."

Very young babies, it was said, may look just alike but their feet are quite dissimilar. One child, the superintendent declared, will have a perfectly formed miniature pedal extremity, another's will print mostly vague criss-cross lines and still another will look like "an egg and five toothpicks."

Under the present system, which has been in operation nearly six months, the child's foot is inked and stamped on the hospital chart of the mother. Although he may not resemble any one in the family and though no one can (Continued on page five.)

The fight for inducing the board of trustees of Chowan College to establish that institution in this city, if moved from Murfreesboro as recently announced, will be continued by Greenville until a final decision has been rendered in the issue, according to a decision of the chamber of commerce, which has been in three successive sessions this week for the purpose of giving the site committee ample opportunity of presenting its accomplishments as to possible sites, and the prospect of making the city's offer participation final, further than one time anticipated. Up to this time, however, no information has been given to the public regarding the chamber's participation in the fight, further than to assure everyone that nothing is being left undone which will have the slightest effect in detracting from present chances of getting the institution located here.

DEMOCRATS TURN TO FUTURE FIRED BY GREATER VIGOR

Senate Activities of Recent Date Make Ratification Possible Soon.

RATIFICATION POSSIBLE PROBABLY NEXT SUMMER

Discussion of Compromise Goes Forward Under Republican Interference.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—The militancy of Andrew Jackson had a new birth last night when more than sixteen hundred of the nation's Democrats gathered in two banquet halls for the quadrennial love feast of the party, an event that nominally attracts not more than five hundred. Today the party leaders are appraising last night's events. They are dissecting the Wilson and Bryan speeches and guessing that the divergent opinions of the two statesmen are not beyond hope of reconciliation.

Jackson Day dinners who have been coming to Washington a half century are gratified that in no period of the party's history has the interest in party success been so pronounced. The presence in the two banquet rooms of nearly five hundred women, the "new era" that was launched for women when Mrs. Peter Olsson spoke last night and the single note of confidence that marked the reception accorded the message from President Wilson are view today as most favorable signs pointing to a Democratic victory this year.

The women from the "Golden West" that part of the country which saved the day in 1816, were in the majority and their presence and their plea won the day for San Francisco and smoothed out the lines in the faces of the old timers who have been "viewing with alarm" the entry of women into the political world.

Suffrage for North Carolina was a fact yesterday for the first time rather than a fond hope. Miss Mary Owen Graham, president of Peace Institute and associate member of the National Committee voted. She cast North Carolina's ballot for San Francisco as the convention and San Francisco won with hands down. It was National Committeeman McLean's prerogative but he delegated the honor to Miss Graham.

The prevailing opinion in Democratic circles today, coming from the councils of the leaders held with Chairman Homer Cummins, is that the Bryan attitude on the treaty will be "threshed out" all right before the convention meets in San Francisco. Mr. Bryan's idea that the treaty ought not to go to the people is in accord with a view held by many Democratic Senators, who want to find the quickest way to an honorable peace.

The President told his fellow-Democrats that the treaty, as written at Versailles, must be accepted without "changes which alter its meaning" or make another treaty with Germany. The "interpretative" changes he referred to are the ones which Senator Hitchcock enumerated at Charlotte and the ones which he feels will not "alter its meaning."

LENINE IMPLORES FOLKS TO RESTRAIN REVOLUTION

Rome, Jan. 9.—The Epoca says that Nicolai Lenine has written another letter to directors of the socialist party imploring them not to precipitate any revolutionary movement, which in present conditions, would have no probability of success. Lenine adds that the revolution in Italy now would have grave repercussions in the Russian-Soviet republic which is about to negotiate with Bourgeois powers for acknowledgment of present state of affairs in Russia.

QUESTION NO. 19.

What Pitt county newspaper has for thirty-eight years been the staunch friend of the farmer, has advocated every movement that looked to the improvement of educational and social conditions in the way of better rural schools, rural mails, better roads, more intensive cultivation of lands, making their home supplies, in fact such things as have come about in making this the best agricultural county in the state? Ask any one of a thousand farmers.

Herbert Hoover used a new kind of twist when he turned Oliver Twist down.

Women in service of the press generally leave unmistakable signs of "impressions" behind them.

Mexico may not be classed with Algerents, but even then, she certainly does her share of scrapping.

Geneva dispatches say the revolution in Bulgaria is spreading. It's to be hoped the spread won't cover much territory.

People who get the gall and wormwood out of life may have the pleasure of tasting better things before they pass away.

The Flume question has been taken again by allied statesmen, so reports say: just as if the question is going to be settled right away.

Intense excitement and panics reign in Mexico as a result of earthquakes, so late news reports say. We are wondering what prevailed before the earthquake.

Gerard evidently favors Herbert Hoover for the next presidential candidate of the United States, and even at that he has picked a mighty good man to lead off with.

Every time the power plant in this city decides to take a short rest spell—it might not know it—but practically every branch of industry gets a short season from work, too.

The way real estate is changing hands causes one to believe the doctrine of the land sales companies is going to prove true. At least, no more land is being made.

The way Josephus Daniels scores "hyphenated politics" causes one to believe the secretary of the navy has been dealing with a few members of the "gang" since going to Washington.

There appears to be a vast difference between food administrators and food distributors. Consider Hoover for instance. People knocked and banged him unmercifully during the war, but after he began sending foodstuffs over to suffering Europe sentiment changed and crystallized in his favor. Curious old world, anyhow.

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

It's only perfectly natural that President Wilson should desire to have the main issues of the league of nations placed before the American people in the coming presidential election, for in fairness to himself and the people whom he has been chosen to serve, the president feels he would not be doing the masses full justice if they were not given an opportunity of intelligently judging the alliance in its true light. The position taken by the senate has been enough to justify such action if nothing more, and it is a conceded fact that no true-blooded, liberty-loving American citizen can disagree with the chief executive in his attitude when his every effort has been directed in the nation's interest.

There are many people, of course, who will readily agree with many of the senators that the question should be settled in the senate, but since that body has shown itself so incapable of reaching any definite decision concerning proposed reservations, it is only natural that it should be turned over to the people. The senate majority, naturally, has been the direct cause of so much procrastination in concluding the peace treaty, without proposed reservations, but that fact is not an extenuation for the selfish, malicious motive which has retarded the hands of progress and placed the league of nations where it is today.

It must be admitted that interest from either party has not been quite as keen as that exhibited by the president throughout the recent fight. It could not have been so because members of the senate, while fully informed concerning the issue, have not felt the impulse of true greatness behind the league of nations, which eventually will play such an important part in international intercourse. It is this fact that has prevented desired action all along, and although no single person can be blamed the responsibility, as the president has said, rests solely upon shoulders of the republican party.

The interpretation of terms of peace with Germany are unmistakable. No one can read the document and admit that its true significance is clothed by equivocal statements. And the league of nations, as an alliance between chief nations of the world, must necessarily be as essential to America as the treaty itself, in which is contained everything protecting the interests of allied nations engaged in the awful carnage which destroyed the main resources of Europe and threatened this nation through radical elements as it has never been approached before.

There is no alternative. The treaty of Versailles cannot be rewritten, its provisions cannot be repeated and prove satisfactory, and as there is only one infallible guide to settling the question, reservations must be omitted and the league of nations must be incorporated to complete the alliance between all parties concerned. The question, without reservation, now rests with the American people and not with the republican party, and whether the issue is carried into the presidential campaign or not the great masses of American people will never be led to believe that President Wilson has not done everything in their interest and in the interest of the principles of democracy which he has sustained so steadfastly and unerringly during his administration.

ROUNDING UP THE REDS.

The following clipping from the New York Times regarding the quickness which radicals have been rounded up in this country will be read with interest, particularly so, since many of the campaign conducted by the department of justice occurred in the nation's metropolis where operations were very extensive and appalling at times. Says The Times:

"If some or any of us, impatient for the swift confusion of the Reds, have ever questioned the alacrity, resolute will, and fruitful, intelligent vigor of the department of justice in hunting down those enemies of the United States, the questioners and the doubters have now cause to approve and applaud. The agents of the department have planned with shrewdness and a large wisdom, and carried out with extraordinary success, the nabbing of nearly four thousand radicals Communist and Communist Laborites, differentiated by name alone, all working for the destruction of the government of the United States, and the establishing in its place of the Soviet State that has brought so much happiness and prosperity to Russia.

"These enormities of proletarian autocracy and the knocking in the head of the 'bourgeoisie'—which Americans are—have been gathered from many towns and cities. All over the country these devisers of social and economic ruin were found; and this 'raid' is only a beginning. It is to be followed by others. Without notice and without interruption the department will pursue and seize the conspirators against our government. Some 60,000 Bolsheviks' names are recorded in the department. Its future activities should be far-reaching and beneficent.

"It deserves praise for its work. These Communists are continuing here the pernicious labors of Lenin and Trotsky. Some of them are making mischief, or trying to make it, in certain American labor organizations. One of their principles and hopes is agitation among the negroes, regarded as victims of 'economic bondage' and material for proletarian propaganda. These Communists are a pernicious gang. In many languages they are denouncing the blockade of Russia and doing the bidding of their brother Reds in Russia.

"The more of these dangerous anarchists are arrested, the more of them are sent back to Europe, the better for the United States. Let us hope that the department of labor will have no compassion for such of them as deserve deportation and are not, as most of them are not, American citizens."

A woman who becomes a man's fifth wife, and he an undertaker addicted to burying people, as did an Indiana woman, takes a short chance on matrimony. And she soon reached the end of it.

In explaining how packers of the nation reached an agreement in settling recent disturbances, Attorney-General Palmer failed to tell us exactly how many firms were guilty of profiteering.

It is gratifying to note that Mr. Morehead has decided not to contest the recent election in which Clyde Hoey beat him out for congressional honors. The fact is, he probably did the best thing, after all.

Thousands of aged men of the nation may permit their memory to slip a cog in politics, but not so with William Jennings Bryan. The old boy has a way of backing up things in his brain peculiarly surprising and discomforting at times.

The way the "Snake Hollow" section of Pennsylvania has become wealthy through discovery of natural gas wells makes us wish we had some kind of a hollow for reptiles down in this territory and that they were filed with natural gas instead of snakes.

When the Democratic party gets through endorsing President Wilson's action in the peace treaty and league of nations little room will be left for further comment, unless of course, opposition would like to question the advisability of such a decided attitude.

More than ever before, it will pay to fertilize all crops heavily during 1920. The world is short on the two principal crops we produce, TOBACCO AND COTTON.

The best way to overcome the present labor scarcity is to make one acre produce as much as two acres have produced heretofore, and with fertilizer prices lower and Tobacco and Cotton prices higher than ever before it does not require any argument to induce our farmers to fertilize their crops better than ever during the year 1920.

We would suggest that you use only fertilizers which contain ONLY FOREIGN POTASH. It has been proven during the past year that potash produced in our western states has been injurious to crops in many instances, and it would be well to have your fertilizers made with the old and well tried EUROPEAN OR GERMAN POTASH AND KAINIT. We expect to use nothing except foreign potash this season for our tobacco goods, and are in position to use Kainit in all our Cotton goods.

We will be glad to have your orders in plenty time this year in order to avoid a rush at planting time.

Tax Notice!

To the Tax Payers of Pitt County:
 The Legislature of North Carolina in session 1919 passed a law putting a penalty of one per cent on everybody who failed to pay their taxes before the first day of January 1920, and thereafter one per cent in addition for each month it was not paid. The Commissioners of Pitt County, realizing the fact that this was not generally known by the people, have arranged with me not to enforce this penalty until February 1st, 1920. Come in and pay your taxes at once as after that date, under the state law, I will be compelled to add the penalty to your taxes as stated above.

Yours truly,

E. R. Dudley

LODGE IS FEARFUL WILSON'S MESSAGE ENDS RATIFICATION

Thinks It is Now Impossible to Ratify Treaty at Any Early Period.

Washington, Jan. 9.—Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, declared in a statement tonight that he feared President Wilson's Jackson day message had made impossible the hope "that in the Senate we might have come together and ratified the treaty protected by the principles set forth in the fourteen reservations."

"The President has made his position very plain," said the Senator. "He rejects absolutely the reservations adopted by a decisive majority of the Senate. He says we must take the treaty without any change which alters its meaning, or leave it. He will permit interpretations, whatever that may mean, expressing its undoubted meaning, when there is hardly a line of it which has not been questioned and given many meanings. This permission is valueless. He stands as he has always stood, for the treaty just as it is."

"The issue is clearly drawn. The reservations intended solely to protect the United States in its sovereignty and independence are discarded by the President. The President places himself squarely in behalf of internationalism against Americanism."

"I had hoped that in the Senate we might have come together and ratified the treaty, protected by the principles set forth in the fourteen reservations. The President, I fear, has made this hope impossible. If it is impossible, then we must bear the delay inseparable from the President's attitude and appeal to the people, which, I, for one, shall most cordially welcome."

GREENVILLE IS TO HAVE FINE CHANCE GETTING COLLEGE

commerce in every movement yet taken in the issue, and it is generally a conceded fact that after the site committees have completed their work Greenville will be among the first of Eastern Carolina cities to receive earnest consideration by the college directors in a meeting of the board of trustees to be conducted in Ahoskie January 14. When advantages and offers of competitive cities will be considered.
It is rumored that one or two localities already have become discouraged in securing the college being to aged in securing the college owing to ing about its removal, Rocky Mount was the first city to take this step, and although the fight had been continued determinedly for several days by the chamber of commerce in that place, it was decided to let the matter drop because of lack of sufficient assurance that the institution really would be moved in the required sum were raised. Greenville, however, did not go into the fight to drop out before the final decision is sounded, and consequently, members of the chamber of commerce are becoming more sanguine and optimistic every day, as reports from the site committees become more favorable, giving almost definite assurance that Chowan cannot help realizing that every advantage of a thriving and prosperous community is being offered it.

As stated recently, nothing of any definite nature has been given out by the chamber of commerce regarding Greenville's participation, but it is assured by leading members that nothing is being left undone that will in the slightest degree detract from chances in securing the desired acquisition. A report of the site committee may be rendered at almost any time, and it is believed then every person in the city will be given an opportunity of contributing towards making Greenville the leading educational center of Eastern Carolina.

MRS. E. B. FICKLEN ENTERTAINS WOMAN'S CLUB

A very delightful and informal "tea" was given Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. B. Ficklen to the members of the Woman's Club.

This annual "first meeting" has become the club family social, and no more pleasant occasion is enjoyed by the club members during the year.

The beautiful home famed for its hospitality, radiated holiday cheers the Christmas decorations being still in place.

Mrs. Ficklen and Miss MacFadyen, President of the Club, received the guest at the door, and after cordial words of greeting directed them to the parlor or library. In the library the officers of the club received the visitors and served them tea and sandwiches, and in the parlor the chairman of committees did the honors. Guests passed from room to room, greeting friends, becoming acquainted with new members and having an altogether good, chatty time, such as women-love to indulge in. This was purely a social meeting. No business ever being discussed, but the words "Chowan College" were often heard, indicating the interest of the club warden in the endeavor to bring this popular girls school to Greenville, and the interest of club women is as good as a promise to help in any undertaking.
