THE REPARATION COMMISSION NOW BEFORE SENATE

Leaders of Both Parties Are Seeking Advice of the President.

HOPES EXPRESSED THAT NO DEADLOCK WILL OCCUR

Modification of the Shantung Reservations Agreed to by the Senate.

Washington, March 6.—Still hoping that the peace treaty may be saved from another deadlock, democratic senators sought today to lay directly before President Wilson the latest proposals discussed as a possible compromise basis on article ten.

While reconsideration of the Republican reservations proceeded in the senate, Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, the administration leader, is understood to have written the President asking that he see administration senators and give them his views as to whether he would accept the compromise proposals now under consideration.

The senate today had before it the reservation dealing with the activities of the reparation commission insofar as it related to export trade between the United States and Germany. The reservation follows:

"The United States understands that the reparation commission will regulate or interfere with exports from the United States to Germany or from Germany to the United States only when the United States by act or joint resolution of congress approves such regulation or interference."

The modification of the Shantung reservations, so as to eliminate reference to Japan and China by name, was agreed to by the Senate yesterday with little debate and by a majority of 60 to 2, and the reservation was readopted 48 to 21 with ten Democrats voting for it. Last November the vote had been 53 to 41, only five Democrats being counted in the majority.

On adoption of Senator Walsh's change in the league representation reservation, eight Republicans voted with the Democrats in the affirmative and the result was a majority of 37 to 32. The vote on final adoption of the revised reservation was 55 to 14, all of the opposition coming from Democrats while 17 Democrats voted for adoption.

MAN WHO ATTEMPTED SUICIDE IS CAUGHT

The following is taken from the News and Observer:

Mr. Smith is the same man that left owing so many people in Greenville, and who wrote the letter to Mr. M. B. Bryan, stating that he was going to commit suicide, the same which was published in this paper.

Kinston, March 5.—S. J. Smith is enroute here from Belmont, some miles from Charlotte, in custody of an officer. Smith is charged with embezzlement of $1,000 to $2,000 from several former employers and others. About January 1, he wrote newspapers in this State that he would commit suicide on January 3. According to the sheriff's office here, he caught a train for the west. After determining that Smith did not commit suicide the authorities trailed him across the country to the Rockies and back again to a point near the line between the Carolinas where he was located.

Smith's wife and four children left here last night on tickets reading to Greensboro. They were shadowed. Smith, the sheriff states, was in custody before they arrived at Greensboro, however.

TWO MEN KILLED WHEN A. C. L. TRAIN LEAVES THE TRACK

Engineer Robert Wilson and Negro Fireman Killed When Train Derailed

Rocky Mount, March 5.—Engineer Robert Wilson, of Rocky Mount, and George Kent, his negro fireman, were killed and fifteen passengers were badly shaken up and suffered minor injuries, when the Havana Special of the Atlantic Coast Line, known as train No. 80, northbound, was derailed two miles south of Lucama this afternoon. The cause of the derailment has not been determined. Eight cars left the track and the small and baggage cars were thrown from the right of way.

Physicians and nurses were sent by special train from Wilson to the scene of the wreck and fifteen passengers applied for first aid treatment, all suffering from minor scratches and bruises, but none was seriously hurt, according to reports brought to this city. All the injured continued their journey northward on another train which was derailed via Smithfield and Goldsboro to Rocky Mount.

The train was running about eight hours late, it is said, when the derailment occurred. The negro fireman was instantly killed, but Engineer Wilson lived about two hours after being taken from the wreckage.

Besides the engine, the baggage car, postal storage car, negro coach, day coach, diner and several Pullmans left the rails. The road will be blocked for about twelve hours, railway officials said. Wreckers from Rocky Mount and Florence, S. C., are at the scene of the accident clearing up the wreck.

YOUNG'S THIRD LINK IN CHAIN OF STORES OPENED IN CITY

Merchants of 35 Years Experience Open for Business in Greenville Today

Messrs. Young of Wilson and Farmville, opened up the third link of stores in their chain in this city today. It was announced through the columns of our paper several days ago that this store would open for business today, so at an early hour people were waiting for the doors to open so they could have the opportunity of buying at this record breaking low price sale. One of the most up-to-date lines ever displayed, in this city, was shown and the articles were priced exactly as Mr. Young had them listed. Dresses, beautiful in pattern and handsome in quality were sold for less than the material can be bought for. Ladies found bargains from every corner in the store, but the men also found bargains, and as a result many purchases, as they could not turn down such bargains. Sugar was given to all who purchased a certain amount.

Messrs. Young are some of the best known and most reliable merchants of our State. They have thirty-five years of successful business to back them in Wilson, and have reached out to Farmville and Greenville. The business will be a permanent thing in this city, but Mr. Young has stated that he will have special sale days, and on next Saturday he expects to put on one of the largest and most high price smashing sales ever conducted in our city.

Mr. W. B. Young is manager of this branch of the business and has already arrived. During his few days stay, he has won a host of friends, in the business circles by his clean-cut business deals, and his earnest desire to help Pitt county.

This business is going to mean a great deal to the future of Greenville and it behooves the citizens to give Messrs. Young a cordial welcome. Watch this paper for the announcement of their regular sale days, it will pay you to do so.

BLIZZARD SLOWLY CREEPING TOWARD EASTERN COAST

Weather Bureau Says Storm Will Reach the East During Night.

LIGHT SNOW IS TO FOLLOW RAIN

All Shipping Receives Warning of the Northwest Storm.

Washington, March 6.—The March blizzard, which overspread the middle west yesterday with snow and low temperatures, will reach the Atlantic coast tonight, the weather bureau predicted today. The strength of the blizzard, it was said, had been disseminated in part and although the rain falling along the eastern seaboard today will turn to snow, the fall will be light. It will be followed by much colder weather.

Snow as far south as northern Alabama and unusually low temperatures over the entire south was forecast. Below freezing weather was said to be in store for interior Georgia and another frost was forecast for Florida.

Advisory storm warnings were ordered changed to northwest at 11 a. m. Atlantic coast Jacksonville to Portsmouth, N. H., and at 4 p. m. from Portland to East port by the weather bureau. Strong northwest winds tonight continuing Saturday from the Virginia Capes northward were forecast.

Snows and rains were general east of the Mississippi river today, and it is much colder in the south except the Carolinas and southern Florida, with freezing temperature to the middle gulf coast.

With the exception of local snows tonight in New York and New England fair weather will prevail tonight and Saturday east of the Mississippi river with low temperatures. There will be a cold wave in the Atlantic states and western New York.

COLLEGE DEGREES HAVE CASH VALUE FOR YOUNG WOMEN

As a Result All Schools Are Being Bombarded With Applications.

London, March 6.—The young women of this country who desire to enter the well-paid professions have suddenly come to the decision that there is cash value in a university degree. As a result the women's colleges at Oxford and Cambridge are being bombarded with applications for admission. Somerville and Lady Margaret's at Oxford, and Newham and Girton at Cambridge, cannot begin to accommodate all those who wish admission. It is stated.

This growing popularity of the woman's college is said to be due largely to the number of excellent positions which have recently been secured by university women. Despite previous prejudices employers have discovered that a modern university education is a business asset. One commercial man recently stated publicly.

"The Oxford woman writes a good clear letter and has more common sense than a score of ordinary clerks. And what is more, in these days she is not afraid of work."

The university women are also finding employment in all sorts of welfare work, and as inspectors in establishments where women are employed. Offers of work as inspectors are being received from America. It is stated, and good salaries are offered.

It certainly did blow up some cold!

THE GOVERNMENT OF AUSTRIA RAISES PRICE OF FLOUR

Neighboring Countries Have Failed to Live Up to Agreements.

GOVERNMENT REFUSES TO BEAR BURDEN OF LOSS

In January the Treasury Was Paying 260 Crowns to a Dollar.

Vienna, March 5.—The Austrian government has refused longer to bear the burden of the loss of about 13,000,000 crowns a week to cover the difference between the purchase and selling price of cereals and, consequently has raised the price of bread and flour.

This problem of providing bread and flour at prices which the people can afford has been made much more difficult by the constantly declining exchange value of the crown. In the latter part of January the treasury was paying 260 crowns to a dollar while the private trades as high as 300 were paid for a dollar.

The real problem has been made worse by the failure of neighboring countries to live up to agreements and contracts. For months Jugo-Slavia has had some 3,000,000 real dollars of Austrian money which was given to pay for stipulated food supplies. In not one week, it is said, has more than a small percentage of the agreed-upon amount of foodstuffs been delivered, although, according to allied investigators, there is a food surplus in Jugo-Slavia.

Neither the pressure of the entente, the representations of the sub-commission of the Reparations Commission, nor the visit of Chancellor Renner to Prague has brought Czech-Slovakia to the fulfillment of her coal agreements. The proportion of the agreed upon coal deliveries from that country has been negligible and is regarded as the principal factor in Austria's present plight.

REV. S. K. PHILLIPS ANNOUNCES HIS MARCH SUBJECTS

Entertained the Officers of His Church at Dinner Last Evening.

The officers of the Presbyterian church were the guests of their pastor last evening at dinner. The pastor and his official board have arranged a plan by which one of the number entertains the others at dinner, once a month, for the purpose of closer fellowship. Mr. C. L. Porter started "the ball to rolling," and the next gathering will be with Mr. C. W. Harvey, sometime this month. These men have also perfected an organization through which they plan to entertain all the men of their church at least once a quarter, and it is rumored that a big "fish-fry" is being planned soon. Mr. Phillips has issued a card, announcing that he will preach on the following subjects at the morning services through March: March 7th, "Money, the Acid Test," March 14th, "God the Owner, Man the Steward," March 21st, "Why a Separated Portion," March 28th, "What Is My Separated Portion." Every member of the church and congregation has been especially requested to attend these preaching services, and the public are also most cordially invited to be present.

Put yourself in the church going-class tomorrow.

The opening of the store of the Young Mercantile Co. today was the sensation among shoppers. The new firm made an auspicious beginning here.

FOREIGN MINISTER REPEATS EX-KAISER NOT BE DELIVERED

Says Holland Cannot Give Up Ex-Kaiser for Trial to the Allies.

The Hague, March 5.—The Dutch government for the second time has refused the demand of the allies to deliver the former German emperor for trial.

In the note, which went forward today, the government, while the appreciating the motives actuating the allies, declares its inability to change its previous decisions. It says it is not forgetful of the inhuman acts committed during the war, but since Holland is not a party to the Versailles treaty, the queen's government finds itself in a different position from other power with regard to these acts.

"Since the government's supreme duty is to respect the constitutional laws of the kingdom," the note continues, "it can only emphasize that it would be committing an act contrary to law and justice and incompatible with the national honor if it consented to violate these laws by abolishing the rights according to a fugitive finding himself on Dutch territory."

Protesting that this attitude does not put Holland outside the community of nations, the note declares Holland is fully conscious of the duties the presence of the former emperor places on the Netherlands government with regard to the country's own interests as well as international security. The note protests that contrary to the impression derived from the allied note, the Dutch government from the beginning has observed the obligations entailed by these duties.

The government, the note says, will continue to do so, being able in the exercise of Dutch sovereignty to take on the spot all precautionary measures deemed requisite to subject the freedom of the former emperor to necessary limitations.

The Netherlands government says it is anxious to place these declarations on record in the most forceful manner, and in conclusion declares it to be its opinion that these declarations, which prove that the government realizes the dangers which the powers dread, will dispel their apprehension. The note is signed by Jonkheer Van Karnebeek, Dutch foreign minister.

LOCAL BASKET BALL TEAM WINS GAME VS. ELIZABETH CITY

First Game in Championship Series Won by Local Basketball Team.

BOTH SIDES PLAYED WITH MUCH INTEREST

Will Play Vs. Winner of Rocky Mount Game on Next Friday Night.

Greenville took one step nearer the Eastern Carolina championship last night when it defeated the Elizabeth City High School by the score of 26 to 10. The game was characterized by the excellent team work and passing of the local lads. Luck seemed to be against the locals in a lot of the goal shooting. The Elizabeth City team played under disadvantage in that the court which they are accustomed to play on is only about one half as large as the court which they played on last night. Again the visiting team had to come to Greenville by way of the Norfolk Southern, and were about three hours late. This worked against them. But it was very evident to the spectators that the local team has the better of the two teams, and that the best team won. The locals presented a somewhat changed lineup last night. Barber played left Guard in the place of Gaskins, and played an excellent game. Although he is not credited with a single field goal, yet his work on the defensive was of such a high order as to call for very favorable comment from all the spectators. West also played a very good game at the other guard position. While shot one very difficult goal, and also led his team in scoring, securing five field goals. Brown, M., and Hadley at Forward positions played their usual good games. For Elizabeth City Modlin's playing at Right Forward was the feature of the game. The team as a whole also put up an excellent piece of team work at times, but was unable to play consistently.

By winning from Elizabeth City last night Greenville is now eligible to play the winner of the Rocky Mount-Wilmington game. Up to the time of going to press, Coach J. H. Rose had not received any word as to who was the winner in that combination but he will doubtless hear some time today, and announcement will be made in this paper on Monday. Greenville will play the winner at Forbes and Morton's warehouse next Friday night at 8 o'clock.

It is very evident to the team that the people of the town are solidly behind the team, and to this due in no small measure the success of the team. The team is now sending out a call for every one of its supporters to be on hand next Friday night. This will be the biggest game of the season. Wilmington has not tasted defeat this season, and if she comes here next Friday night expects to have everything their own way.

The local team is determined to put up the greatest scrap of the year. They are going to work every day next week. They are going to show the Wilmington team a thing or two, even if they do refuse to be from Missouri. The expense of the game next Friday night will be very heavy, and consequently the school athletic association will need more than the usual amount of money to come out even.

The line-up:

Elizabeth City Position Greenville

Modlin R. F. Hadley

Modlin L. F. Brown, M.

McMullin G. White

Jones R. G. West

Seyfert L. G. Barber

Summary:

Field goals: White 5, Brown, M. 4, Hadley 3, Modlin 2, West 1, Lamb 1, McMullin 1, Jones.

Referee: Kennedy. Time of halves 20 minutes.

SATURDAY, MAR. 6, 1920.

The reported drop of a cent a pound for sugar has not affected the price to the consumer.

So many people who take a job these days seem to think they are just to fill it and not do any work.

Marion Butler has again taken the reins of the Republican wagon in North Carolina and will do the driving.

Former Secretary McAdoo says the tax burden is to high and is seriously effecting business. Right you are, Mr. McAdoo.

The Republicans in congress charge that President Wilson and Attorney General Palmer are responsible for the high price of sugar. That is some sweet talk for you.

Some people make themselves of very little consequence in this world because they choose that way, when at the same time they are surrounded with every opportunity to do better.

A FINE INSURANCE RECORD.

State Commissioner of Insurance, James R. Young, makes estimates that the 62 life insurance companies doing business in North Carolina "wrote" $236,176,000 in business during the year 1919, and this would be an increase of 290 per cent over the business of 1918. But this, he submits, "is but one instance of the many which shows the State's wonderful progress in all industrial, agricultural and other business lines." The 290 per cent increase indicated places the State's life insurance investment with that of the State's foremost in that endeavor. North Carolina's investment in life insurance when Commissioner Young was inducted into office 20 years ago, was $15, ahead of that figure. The best part 000,000, and it is now $221,000,000 of the whole thing is that much of this money represents home enterprise, being invested in home incorporated and home managed companies.—Charlotte Observer.

WHERE THE ROAD HOG IS UNKNOWN.

We wonder if it is too much to hope that with the coming of another season of automobile travel the North Carolina public may witness a developed spirit of respect to the common rights of travelers on the highway? The disdain in which the laws of the road have been held by many drivers is a matter that has excited comment by all people who have regard for their own safety and the safety of other shares of highway privileges. It has been remarked that in rare cases do some people slow down for passing. It is the common experience of automobilists to be crowded into the ditch by the "road hog." Little attention is paid to signaling. The general policy has been to let "the other fellow" look out for himself. We have sometimes believed that it might be a good thing for the legislature to wipe all automobile statutes from the books and leave the public to run on a system of honor and respect of common rights. It seems impossible to enforce respect for the laws. Their very existence appears to encourage a disposition to ignore them.

Perhaps if the recklessly inclined might feel that no restraint by law is upon them, they might be disposed to exercise the common instincts of sanity and safety. It is the "rock hog" that makes automobiling in this state a risky and disagreeable thing for the general public. It is the man who has no respect for the law or for the rights of others that takes the joy out of the life of the automobile traveler.

These thoughts have been inspired into activity by the talk brought back from Florida by Mr. Frank B. Alexander, a Charlotte man who belongs to the class of safety-first auto drivers, and who has had occasion to note the excellent observance of the rules of the road by travelers in that State. Night traffic there is made safe by the exercise of ordinary intelligence on part of drivers. Lights are invariably dimmed a full half-mile before point of passing, and speed is slowed down. In daylight, the turn-out is made at slackened speed within the full limit of safety, and it is not uncommon to hear an exchange of "thank you" on part of passing travelers. No under-age driver is ever seen at the wheel. Autos may make any speed they desire on clear stretches of road, but they never pass without slowing down to "control." Recklessness on the highway, such as is of daily occurrence on the roads of North Carolina, would throw the traveling public of Florida into a panic. The "road hog" is an unknown institution in that State, and the contrasted safety and pleasure of automobiling in Florida with the risks and dangers of automobiling in a section where the "road hog" speeds his reckless way, should only serve to bring that detested individual into greater disrepute if such a thing were possible.—Charlotte Observer.

MR. EVERETT ANNOUNCES FOR SENATE.

To the Democratic voters of Pitt County: Subject to your action in the primary held on the first Saturday in June, I hereby announce myself candidate for the State Senate from Pitt county. If elected, it is my purpose to propose and advocate a law, which with reasonable adjustments, would reduce the tax rate in an inverse ratio to the increase in the valuation of property through the new tax law. In other words, if property has been increased four times the old total valuation through the new act, with necessary adjustment, I should favor fixing a rate of one-fourth of the old rate. It is both unjust and unwise to increase property valuations without similarly decreasing the rate and thereby encourage honest listing, enlarged volume and a still lower rate. I would favor such laws as would tend to stabilize our great cotton interest. Cotton is a Southern monopoly and we are unable to get certain national laws protecting it, but by joint action of the several Southern States, we could establish laws necessary to protect rules and charges in its sale, storage and transportation. There is nothing so essential to the whole business prosperity of our section of the State as a profitable price for cotton.

It would be equally my purpose to promote by just legislation, the interest of our tobacco and agricultural enterprises. The proper development of our people and resources, depend largely upon good schools and a just and serviceable road system, and I would favor such legislation as would properly encourage these but would not favor plans for large expenditures as we must look forward to a fairer ratio of service for the amount of labor and a more reasonable charge for building materials. Our State has made wonderful strides during the last few years, especially our own county, and if honored by the people of Pitt county, it will be my purpose, so far as I am able, to promote our entire interest and especially Pitt county, which has matchless possibilities. Beyond adjustments to changed conditions and what is necessary to our growth and permanent progress, I would not favor new laws, especially experiments and radical politics.

CHANGE IN PRESIDENT OF A. C. REALTY COMPANY

The last number of "The Ginger Jar," the little paper issued by the Atlantic Coast Realty Company, announces that Mr. J. W. Ferrell retires as president of the company and is succeeded in that office by Mr. E. V. Ferrell. By resigning as president Mr. J. W. Ferrell does not disassociate himself with the company, but continues as chairman of the board and treasurer. Both these gentlemen have been connected with the company since it had its first beginning in Greenville ten years, and have helped to make it the best known real estate selling concern in the whole southland.

The Hon. W. C. Dowd, Ex-Speaker of the House of Representatives and Editor of The Charlotte News, Powerfully Presents Candidacy of Hon. Cameron Morrison for Governor.

The early history of Cameron Morrison is one of struggle with difficulties that were hard to overcome. He was born in Richmond county in 1869, and his youth was spent during a period in which an education was not easily obtained by any save those of wealth. The free schools of the country community in which his parents lived were open for only a month or two during each year, and the best Cam could do was to attend one of these schools in a log school house for a brief period each year. His father was a carpenter, and a man of great industry; but in those days wages were low and work not easily obtained.

At about eight years of age, after the death of his mother, he was placed under the tutelage of M. C. McCaskill, a noble old Scotchman, who ran a little school at Ellerbe Springs in Richmond county. Board was obtained for him at a nearby home, where he helped about the house and on the farm during the hours when he was not in school. At the end of the first year McCaskill moved his school to the old Terry school house near Roberdel factory in Richmond county. Board was secured for young Morrison with a farmer named C. P. Dawkins, who lived about two miles distant from the school. Cam worked on the Dawkins farm at odd times. After a year at this school it became necessary for him to go to work. His father was struggling to support three other small children in addition to Cam. Work was obtained in Wolf Pit township, in a country commissary and on a farm. This continued for a year or two, the boy earning his support.

Then for four years, with one year intervening in which he clerked in a grocery store, he attended school in the town of Rockingham, having the great pleasure for the first time in several years of boarding at the same place with his father. He was a hard student and at the end of that period his teacher, the late William Carroll, declared him to be well prepared for college. A college career was impossible. It was absolutely necessary for young Morrison to go to work and help his father take care of the other three children. All who knew the struggling youth knew that he would have worked his way through college but for the necessity of helping to support the family.

Denied his cherished ambition to go to college, young Morrison went to work. During the next four or five years he worked at different jobs, and all the while studied with great avidity. Among other things, he worked as a clerk in the office of the register of deeds for a year at a salary of $30 per month. At other times he taught in the free schools at $40 per month. Young Morrison's father was, during this period, a Republican. He had been a brave Confederate soldier, and during the days of Yanc he was a Democrat, and helped to redeem the State; but like a great many good men have done, he fell out with the Democratic party over some local matter, and became a Republican. Thus, as young Morrison approached manhood, he was under Republican environments. In 1890, and before he was 21 years of age, he joined his father in a local political fight and went to Raleigh as a delegate to a Republican State convention. He returned home and shortly thereafter informed his father that he could not be a Republican; that if the Republican party ever got in power in North Carolina they would ruin the State. The elder Morrison was at that time postmaster of Rockingham, and Cam was working with him in the post office for his board and clothes. He was at the same time studying law and was about ready to go to law school. He had hoped that his father would help him, but Cam's change of politics, of which he had notified his father, caused a temporary but bitter breach between them. Upon his father's declining to do anything for him, he left the postoffice and secured a position as teacher in a public school, and made sufficient money to attend the law school of Judge Dick in Greensboro. He studied law under Judge Dick for twelve months. A few months after Cam was 21 years of age, he publicly announced that he was a Democrat. This was before he obtained his license to practice law. Young Morrison was licensed to practice law in February, 1892, and immediately opened an office in Rockingham. His knowledge of the law, combined with unusual abilities as an advocate, quickly obtained for him high rank at the bar. These qualities were supplemented by literary attainments that were a surprise to those who did not know him intimately. These were the result of a wide reading that had been carried on privately by young Morrison through the years of struggle.

The bar of that time in Richmond county was unusually able one, composed of Major John D. Shaw, Hon. James T. Fessenden, Franklin McNeill, the youngest Shaws, Judge Walter H. Neaf, P. C. Guthrie and others.

Morrison was not only a powerful advocate and a legal lawyer without superior in his county, but his general ability was such that his services were sought by the larger business interests of his county by many of which he was retained as general counsel.

Morrison's natural love for the public service manifested itself early. In the spring of 1892, in the Democratic convention, he made his first Democratic speech. This speech was made under dramatic circumstances. The whole county knew the struggle Cam was having of account of his father's resentment at his course. He commenced his speech by a quotation from Demosthenes: "Man is born not unto his parents alone, but unto God and his country as well." Richmond county was at that time overwhelmingly Republican.

In the campaign which followed, young Morrison canvassed the county. His speeches marked him as a young political leader of great ability.

The campaign of 1892 and 1894 have been largely forgotten, but they were bitter and dangerous struggles in the eastern section of the State. Richmond county was overwhelmingly Republican. The Democrats were trying to prevent the negroes from moving under the technicalities of the Payne election law. If it could be enforced, the negroes could be prevented from voting, and the county could be carried Democratic. The Populist revolt commenced in 1892 and this increased the difficulties. Young Morrison was threatened with violence time and again in both campaigns. In 1894 he not only spoke all over Richmond county but in surrounding counties, and in Richmond county came near being killed in Beaver Dam township, where he challenged over 200 negroes for illegal registration and prevented them from voting. On the night of the election he and a Republican leader had a desperate encounter over Morrison's campaign speeches. They fought fiercely. Both were good men physically, and they fought till both had to be put to bed. The times were dangerous and Morrison, lived for years in constant danger of personal violence. In 1896 he was a candidate for the State Senate. He canvassed that entire section of the State for the party, but went down in defeat as all other Democrats did that year in his district. The Unionists had the State from '94 to '98, and during that period conditions became intolerable in the State.

In Richmond county they were desperately bad. There were forty negroes in office in the county, thirteen negro justices of the peace, a negro on the county board of education, and two on each township school board. The juries were full of negroes. Lawlessness was widespread throughout the entire Eastern part of the State. Morrison commenced to organize the white people with the utmost care. He was made chairman of the Democratic executive committee of Richmond county in 1898 and proceeded early to organize each precinct in the county, which then included the present county of Scotland, and was seventy miles long. Mr. Morrison mercilessly denounced the wrongs and malfeasances of the county officials. In the midst of the violence and danger of the times Morrison lived in constant danger of deadly encounters with the desperate negro leaders of that day. Finally in defense, not for aggression, as he is largely supposed, Morrison had been made supremely happy by the fact that his father had quit the Republican party and joined him. From that day the elder Morrison became a power in the fight for Democracy and white supremacy. In this campaign young Morrison's speeches were powerful in their denunciation of Republican misrule, yet so convincing and appealing that hundreds of Republicans joined the Democratic party and put on white supremacy buttons. At one speaking at Ellerbe Springs one hundred and thirty-five Republicans the Democratic party. On Saturday before the election there was in Rockingham probably the most spectacular Red Shirt parade that ever took place in the State. The parade was headed by the elder Morrison and another Confederate soldier bearing a banner with the inscription "The Whites Will Rule the Land Or Die." The Republicans realized that they were in a death grapple, and every known means of intimidation was employed. Governor Russell had issued a proclamation denouncing the Red Shirts of Richmond and Halifax counties, and ordering them to subside, and threatening those two counties with martial law. This was followed by a great meeting at Rockingham, at which young Morrison denounced and defied Russell, and his threats. At the meeting at Rockingham on Saturday before the election, Mr. Morrison and Senator Tillman of South Carolina made speeches that stirred the people as they had never been stirred before. The county was carried by a majority of over a thousand.

A few mornings after the election the Raleigh News and Observer declared that "The spirit manifested in Richmond county that the whites would rule the land or die spread to adjoining counties, finally permeated the whole East, carried thirty counties, and saved the State for Democracy."

COMMENDABLE CO-OPERATION.

The article appearing below, taken from the Wilson, (N. C.) Times should prove interesting to every member of our company: "The Atlantic Coast Realty Company, who has done a tremendous business in Wilson and Wilson county in the last few years, gave example this morning of a most commendable spirit of co-operation with the public authorities in this county. This company, at great expense to itself, had subdivided and developed certain property in North Wilson for Mr. W. E. Smith, to offer the same for sale at auction today. When this organization reached town this morning, their first inquiry was as to the condition of the influenza epidemic in the county, and upon being told that the epidemic was serious in its nature, they sought the advice of the Health Department to ascertain whether, in the opinion of the Health Department, any ill effect to the health of the community might result from the holding of their outdoor sale, advertised for this morning. Dr. Smith, health officer, said that, in his opinion, the danger of out-door sales was very small compared with indoor gatherings and meetings, but there was a remote danger that a gathering at an outdoor sale would tend to spread the influenza epidemic. The Atlantic Coast Realty Company, desiring at all times to co-operate with the properly constituted authorities of the community, immediately called off the sale that they had advertised for today, notwithstanding that they had spent a large amount of money in developing and advertising the property, and bringing their force of twenty-five or thirty men here to conduct the sale. We feel that this action on the part of the Atlantic Coast Realty Company is most commendable, and we unreservedly commend them to the public spirit thus manifested."

GLAD TO TESTIFY
Says Watoga Lady, "As To What Cardui Has Done For Me, So As To Help Others."

Watoga, W. Va.—Mrs. S. W. Gladwell, of this town, says: "When about 15 years of age, I suffered greatly... Sometimes would go a month or two, and I had terrible headache, backache, and bearing-down pains, and would just drag and had no appetite. Then... it would last... two weeks, and was so weakening and my health was awful.
My mother bought me a bottle of Cardui, and I began to improve after taking the first bottle, so kept it up till I took three... I gained, and was well and strong, and I owe it all to Cardui.
I am married now and have 3 children... Have never had to have a doctor for female trouble, and just resort to Cardui if I need a tonic. I am glad to testify to what it has done for me, so as to help others."
If you are nervous or weak, have headaches, backaches, or any of the other ailments so common to women, why not give Cardui a trial? Recommended by many physicians. In use over 40 years. Begin taking Cardui today. It may be the very medicine you need.

Madrid, Feb. 16.—Spain has had not less than eight new governments with 50 ministerial changes in less than two years. Last year, alone saw four changes in cabinet with 44 ministerial changes. Virtually every one of those changes was due to the military juntas or as they are called "Consultative Committees".

These juntas were originally formed to fight favoritism and injustice in the army, the chief grievance of the members being that places on the General staff were allotted to favorites of the government of the day. One of the first actions of the juntas, which are presided over by the colonels, the highest ranking officers who are allowed to join, was to decide that none of the members should allow their names to be placed in nomination for places on the General Staff.

The result would have been that after the deaths or retirement of the present members there would be no officers to form the staff. But 23 officers refused to be bound by this decision, with the result that they were haled before the courts of honor and their resignations from the army insisted upon. Governments, under pressure from the Liberal, Socialist and other progressive elements in the Cortes, have promised to revoke these decisions of the courts of honor, but found it difficult to do so for the juntas threatened to withdraw their support from the government, in other words, should an emergency arise such as a revolution or social war, the army would be leaderless.

Thus the juntas, became a political force which opposed radical legislation and other wise interfered in affairs of state. They are really a great fraternal society, the members of which accept orders only from the presiding colonels in all affairs of the army, ignoring those of King, generals and government.

London, March 5.—A new company has been formed to arrange the manufacture of American goods in Great Britain for British and empire markets. It is stated by the American Chamber of Commerce in London.

With the growth of the movement for preferential tariffs and other preferential arrangements among the countries making up the British Empire, many American manufacturers already have considered it desirable to establish factories in Canada. The new company is working, however, on the presumption that the advantages of a factory in Great Britain are greater.

The American Chamber understands that the new company will encourage and assist American manufacturers of successful commodities to establish plants in Great Britain, but where the American manufacturer is not interested in doing so and is willing to sell his manufacturing rights, the new company will undertake to find British or French manufacturers who will take over these rights. Similarly it will introduce into America goods which have proved successful in Great Britain or France.

The new company is understood to have received many inquiries from manufacturers on both sides of the Atlantic who are anxious to have their goods produced in the other country. The function of the new company is to bring such manufacturers together, its profits arising out of a percentage of the royalty or a lump payable for the patent or the process.

Copenhagen, March 6.—The Prussian authorities when compelled to evacuate Schleswig in preparation for the plebiscite there "tried to grab whatever could be grabbed up to the last minute". H. P. Hanssen, minister from Schleswig to Denmark, told The Associated Press correspondent.

"As late as January 17, they sold the victory memorials on the Dybboel Hills and on the island of Als to a new German company in Kiel. (Dybboel was a famous battlefield of Denmark's war with Austria and Germany in 1864). Not only the Dybboel memorial erected above the two Danish trenches there, but the ground itself was sold to a private company," declared the minister.

"This is a case of the sale of Prussian state property, which is absolutely forbidden by the conditions of the armistice of November 11, 1918. I have protested against the sale to the representatives of the allied and associated powers, and we sincerely hope that they will aid us in our endeavors to take away from the Prussians their last foothold on the Hills of Dybboel."

The enormous Danish flag, the gift of Danish-born Americans, was hoisted on the fortifications of Dybboel on the day when the first plebiscite was held to decide whether Schleswig should remain German or be restored to Denmark.

A 'Cord Tire' Storage Battery Guaranteed Two Years

Most automobile starting batteries are not guaranteed at all. The Philadelphia Diamond Grid Battery with the Philco Slotted Retainer is guaranteed for two years.

Like the cord tire, it not only lasts longer but all during its life can be depended upon for more reliable service. Two exclusive, patented features are: the Diamond Grid and the Philco Slotted Retainer.

1. The Diamond Grid, "built like a bridge," gives the strength to resist strain of sudden discharge and to withstand the rough jolting of hard service.
2. The Philco Retainer is a sheet of hard rubber closely perforated with long, narrow slots, placed against each positive plate, to prevent active material from falling off the plates; this adds at least 25 per cent to the life of the battery.

To you, as a motorist, these features mean not only longer life secured by a Two-Year Guarantee from the manufacturer, but more snappy starting, more reliable lighting and fewer repair bills. We repair and recharge all makes of batteries.
