PRESIDENT WILSON ASKS MANDATE FOR ARMENIAN PEOPLE

President's Request Fails to Produce Comment in House or Senate.

ISSUE PRESENTED TO FOREIGN COMMITTEE

Senator Harding, Republican, Opposed to Taking Mandatory Power.

Washington, May 24.—Authority to accept for the United States a mandate over Armenia was asked of congress today by President Wilson. The executive said he was conscious that he was urging "a very critical choice," but that he did so "in the earnest belief that it will be the wish of the people of the United States that this should be done."

The President's message was read in both the House and Senate, but was discussed in neither. Each house referred it to its committee on foreign relations and there was no indication when either committee would take it up. Some Republican leaders in the senate predicted privately that the message would lie in the senate committee indefinitely.

Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the Republican leader and chairman of the Senate committee, had no comment to make on the executive's recommendations. In the past, however, he has declared emphatically his opposition to a mandate.

Senator Harding, Republican, of Ohio, chairman of the committee which investigated Armenian affairs, said he would never consent to taking a mandate over Armenia and added that he did not think the Senate would consent.

"The foreign relations," he said, "was almost unanimous against a mandate, Democrats, as well as Republicans, opposing such a step."

Senator Harding is the author of the resolution recently adopted by the Senate congratulating the Armenian people on the recognition of their independence and asking the President to send a warship and American marines to Baku. President Wilson referred to this resolution in his message today but Senators pointed out that this measure was adopted as a substitute for one by Senator Williams, Democrat, Mississippi, proposing that the United States become the mandatory for Armenians.

The President in his message informed the Senate that he had accepted the invitation of the allied supreme council that he undertake "to arbitrate the very difficult questions of the boundary between Turkey and Armenia," saying he had thought it his duty "to accept this difficult and delicate task."

Provisions for mandates over former subject peoples is made in the treaty of Versailles and it is set forth that such mandates shall be executed under the League of Nations, but since the United States is not a member of the league, administration officials said if congress decided that the United States should act for Armenia the treaty provisions would be waived in this case.

The question of a mandate over Armenia was discussed at length in the report of the American mission to Armenia, headed by Major-General Harbord which recently was presented to the Senate. General Harbord estimated that acceptance of the mandate would necessitate the presence of 50,000 American troops there. Other estimates, however, have placed it at less once the Turkish army had been demobilized in accordance with the terms of the Turkish treaty.

AUSTIN WRITES TO PARENTS OF TIMES IN KENTUCKY FORT

RECEIVES PROMOTION TO A REAL CORPORAL

Says Some of Greenville Boys Ought to Undergo Military Training Awhile.

The following letter from Mr. Waldo Austin, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Austin, who is in the U. S. Army, will be read with interest by his many friends in this city.

30th, Recruit Company, G. S. L. Fort Thomas, Kentucky.

For the last week I have been as fit as a fiddle. This is our big month for discharging men, and last week I made up the papers for ten men, all by myself. My colleague has been relieved, and I was put in charge of the whole works, and it has kept me working long after closing hours, to keep up in the days work. I am almost thru for the month now, outside of making the pay rolls and monthly reports, and today I had the first opportunity to view the surroundings in which I have been working. My desk is one mass of papers of all descriptions, and the desks and tables are here and there, wherever I moved them in order to obtain sufficient light for my work. One typewriter is upside down in one corner of the office, awaiting repairs. It seems that it was not capable of undergoing the pressure I was forcing on it. No wonder the Captain threw up his hands in despair when he came in this morning to sign papers. He thinks it is remarkable that I don't get lost in my own mess. Well, I have been lost for a good while now. But it makes me

COUNTRY DERIVES OVER $50,000,000 YEARLY ON STOCKS

Revenue Licenses and Stock Transaction Yield Large Government Sum.

New York, May 25.—The government derives more than $50,000,000 annually in revenue brokers' licenses and stock transactions in New York, says William H. Edwards, Collector of Internal Revenue for this district. Six thousand stock brokers, he said, pay a license tax of $50 and in addition a special tax of $100 or $150 according to the salable value of their seats on local exchanges.

Of the 4,000 commission brokers, those who are members of an exchange where produce or other wares are traded in pay a yearly tax of $50. A two cent tax on shares traded in on the Stock Exchange nets the government several thousand dollars daily. Unlisted corporations have a home office in the United States are subject to the original issue tax of 5 cents a share on all stocks valued at $100 or fraction thereof.

The monthly sale of documentary stamps average $3,000,000 more than half of which is in stamps of $1,000 denomination, or approximately 1,500 $1,000 stamps sales for stock transactions, Mr. Edwards said. To supply the demand a reserve supply of stamps valued at $10,000,000 always is maintained in the Custom House vaults.

MURRY ADVOCATES CHRISTIAN'S FAITH FOR WORLD'S ILLS

President Columbia University Tells Presbyterians Reason for Belief.

SELFISH AMBITIONS CAUSE SOCIAL UNREST

Pendulum of Progress Should Swing Backward Toward Sanity and Control.

Philadelphia, May 25.—Christian faith as a cure for the world's ills was advocated by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, in an address to commissioners of the Presbyterian General Assembly today.

"Every conceivable explanation of the unrest, dissatisfaction and disorder that prevail throughout the world has been proposed except the one that is deepest and most important," he said. "Having come to feel himself quite superior to all that has gone before, and being, without faith in anything, that lies beyond, man has tended to become an extreme egoist. The wisdom, the justice, the morality of an act or policy are now tested solely by its immediate result, and these results are increasingly measured in terms of the material and emotional satisfaction of the moment."

"In a world so constituted and so motivated, and unrest, dissatisfaction and disorders are necessary. Set free a million or a thousand million human wills to work each for the accomplishment of its own immediate material satisfaction and nothing but unrest, dissatisfaction and disorder is possible."

"What appears to have happened is that in setting free the individual human being from these external restraints and compulsion which con-

SWEDISH ATHLETE MEETS SAME FATE OF JAMES THORPE

Second Competitor to Thorpe in Olympic Contest Also Barred from Games

Antwerp, May 25.—Wislander, the all around Swedish athlete who was second to Thorpe in the 1912 Olympic games as individual champion, has met with the same fate as Thorpe's disbarment from competition in the 1920 Olympiad, for his refusal to accept the prizes won by Thorpe but awarded to Wislander when Thorpe was declared an athlete who attended the Olympic professional, according to Swedish Wislander has steadily declined to accept the medals and statuettes on Thorpe's, by right of victory and these awards still are in the hands of the 1912 committee at Stockholm.

For refusing to accept the committee's rulings, Wislander has been barred from Olympic competitions.

DIRECTED TO TOWN PUMP FOR THE BEST DRINK

Two ladies recently anted to a neat by town and after driving around a bit, either from force of habit or to keep up with the fad, concluded they must have a cold drink. Hailing a pedestrian going by one of them asked "Can you tell us where is the best place in town to get a drink?" "Town pump is the best place I know; its right over there," pointing as he replied "Nothing the matter with that answer, either."

The cold spell in May seems disposed to cover the whole month.

ONLY THREE CASES IN CIVIL SESSIONS OF COURT MONDAY

Two Cases Finally Disposed of the Third Issue Being Deferred.

WINSLOW WINS OUT IN SUIT OVER SIX MULES

Divorce Proceedings of Arey Gray vs. Clarence Gray Concluded.

There were only three cases disposed of in the first day's session of the civil term of Pitt county superior court which convened in this city yesterday morning with Judge George W. Connor, of Wilson, presiding, but it is expected that several other matters would also have been concluded during the day's activities had it not been for the absence of witnesses which have been handicapping the court's progress since the first week's session here last week. Only two of the actions taken yesterday were given final consideration, decree in the third issue being withheld until the defendant appears in his interest.

In the case of O. H. Hathaway vs. J. E. Winslow, of this city, in which the plaintiff was suing for $600 for six mules placed in the possession of the defense for sale to pay up an indebtedness of $338.36, the court returned a decision declaring that the defendant was not indebted to the plaintiff because the mules were in bad condition when turned over to Mr. Winslow for disposition.

Facts involved in the issue prior to the proceedings yesterday showed that Mr. Hathaway was unable to pay for the mules purchased from the defendant, and when approached by Mr. Arthur Winslow, representing the defense requesting payment, the mules were

HITCHCOCK TELLS OF EXPENDITURES IN WOOD CAMPAIGN

Says Largest Sum During Campaign Was Spent in State of New Jersey.

Washington, May 24.—Frank H. Hitchcock, one of Major General Leonard Wood's campaign managers, told a senate investigating committee today that so far as he knew the largest sum spent in and state by the Wood organization was $15,000 in New Jersey. He added that next largest was $12,500 in Maryland.

Mr. Hitchcock said that in New York, "as in a number of other states," the Wood supporters "financed their own campaign in their own way," without asking assistance from the Wood organization.

Before Mr. Hitchcock was called, Chairman Kenyon explained the purposes of the inquiry.

"There is no intention," he said, to aid or injure any of the various candidates for the presidency in any party. The question of the source of contributions to presidential campaigns and expenditures of such contributions is perfectly legitimate subject of inquiry by congress.

"We appreciate that this is a busy time for managers and shall try to accommodate them in every way consistent with finishing the inquiry at an early date."

Hamilton Kane, Republican national committeeman in New Jersey, took charge of the Wood expenditures in that state, the witness testified, adding that all of the money used in the state was accounted for under the direct primary law.

Mr. Hitchcock said he could not give details as to campaign contributions, as it had been understood when he joined the Wood organization that he was not to assist in the financing work.

SAYS LIVING COST TO BE UNAFFECTED BY HIGHER RATES

Spokesman for Carriers Express This Opinion in Freight Rate Hearing

GOOD TRANSPORTATION SERVICE WOULD RESULT

Willard Says Requested Increases Would Reduce High Cost of Living

Washington, May 24.—Belief that advances in freight rates to provide the more than a billion dollars additional revenue asked by the nation's railroads would not increase the cost of living, was expressed by spokesmen for the carriers in opening their case today before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

"Nothing that I know of," said Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, "would reduce the cost of living so much as the prompt and speedy transportation of goods." He added that the revenues asked as necessary to provide the 6 per cent return guaranteed by the government in the transportation act would enable the carriers to purchase sufficient equipment to move commodities now unable to reach a market.

Frederick Strauss, of New York, also appearing for the railroads, declared that a 50 or 60 per cent increase in freight rates would have no appreciable effect on the present movement of bringing down living costs.

Questioning of Howard Elliott, of the general rate committee of the Association of Railway Executives, who presented introductory testimony for the carriers as a whole, developed that the additional billion dollars requested is not regarded by the railroads as covering wage increase estimated at more

WEST VIRGINIA TO TAKE PICK OUT OF PRESIDENTIAL RING

Four Candidates and Complete State Ticket Presented Voters Today.

Charleston, W. Va., May 25. Names of four candidates for President and complete state and county tickets were presented to West Virginia voters when they went to the polls today for the statewide primary. The election was conducted under the double election board law, and it was expected that results would be known soon after the polls closed, except in those mountain counties with which communication is difficult.

The presidential candidates on the tickets were all in the Republican column. They were Louis Adam Baird, of Parkersburg, W. Va.; United States Senator Howard Sutherland, of Elkins, W. Va.; William Grant Webster, of New York, and Major General Leonard Wood. No candidates were listed on the Democratic ticket, but it was expected that many Democrats would indicate their preference by writing in the names of their favorites.

All candidates for delegates to the National Convention are required under the law to say whether they will support the popular choice of the primary election. Of the 25 candidates for delegate at large all but one have declared they will obey the mandate of the voters of his party. Nineteen candidates for delegate at large are Republicans.

Three Republicans are seeking the nomination for governor—Fred Paul Grosscup, of Charleston; Ephraim F. Morgan, of Fairmont, and Samuel B. Montgomery, of Kingwood. The Democratic candidates are Arthur B. Koomts and Adam B. Littlepage, both of Charleston.

COTTEN PRESENTS SPLENDID ACCOUNT OF LIFE IN NAPLES

Captain Lyman Cotten Writes Parents Here of Life Along Mediterranean

COMMANDS BATTLESHIP ALONG TURKISH COAST

Vivid Narrative of Activities and Conditions of Foreign Nations.

Pitt county is always glad to hear from her sons who have gone out into the world and made a success. Therefore, the following letter from Captain Lyman A. Cotten, U. S. N., who has command of the Flagship Galveston, which is now in Turkish waters on the Mediterranean, will be read with interest. Capt. Cotten is the son of Colonel and Mrs. R. R. Cotten, of Cottontale, and the letter was written to them from Constantinople.

My Dear Father and Mother: I have sent you several post cards and one letter since I sailed, but will try now to write you of some of the wonderfully interesting things I have been doing. When I reached Naples I found I had to wait a week for a steamer so I went sight seeing, I had seen Pompeii but I went again and enjoyed it very much. Then went in an automobile over the mountains where the scenery was superb and where whole valleys were filled with oranges and lemons, on to Amalfi, famous as one of the beauty spots of the world. It is indeed a perfect jewel set on a high cliff above orange and lemon groves, flowers and shrubbery, overlooking a sea so blue that it has to be seen to be comprehended. From there I returned to Naples by the famous and beautiful Sorrento-Amalfi drive along the cliffs overlooking the sea. I cannot begin to tell you how superb it was.

It being Holy Week, on Good Friday morning I went up to Rome and began sight seeing. I was so fortunate as to meet some of the passengers I had travelled over with, and they had an American friend who had lived long in Rome and they invited me to go along, which was very fortunate as their friend knew where to go, how to go and what to see and spoke Italian as well as English.

That afternoon (Good Friday) we went to the Sacred Steps up which Our Saviour is supposed to have walked to his trial before Pontius Pilate. They were brought to Rome hundreds of years ago from Jerusalem. Up these steps (about fifty) hundreds of people were going on their knees, saying a prayer on each step, and at the top kissing the image of Christ. Some of them were almost overcome with emotion and it was very interesting and impressive.

Then we took in several of the important churches saving St. Peter's for Easter. About six-thirty we reached the church of the Sacred Cross of Jerusalem where took place the procession of penitents, and the showing to the people of the fragments of the real cross on which Christ was crucified. I had a good place and saw it all well.

On Saturday I went through the old Roman Forum, the Coliseum, some old Pagan Temples and a number of beautiful churches and by night I was so tired I thought I would never get rested.

Next morning (Easter) bright and early I went to St. Peter's, the largest and probably the handsomest church in the world. It came fully up to my expectations. Beautiful, restful grand and impressive. Again I was fortunate. High Mass was celebrated by Cardinal Merry del Val, the Papal secretary of state and known the world over as a shrewd diplomat and skilled in the art of church statesmanship. As he came in he passed but a few feet from where I stood. Tall, handsome, intellectual looking but rather cruel looking, he made an impressive picture in his scarlet robe and hat, accompanied by flunkies, priests, and choristers—about a hundred in all, wearing their gorgeous Easter vest.

OUR MEXICAN TRADE.

The trade of the United States with Mexico has been "heading for" the $300,000,000 line in the fiscal year 1920, which ends with next month. Our trade with Mexico, even during the disturbed period since the resignation of President Diaz in 1911 has shown remarkable gains. It totaled, says a statement by the National City Bank of New York, $115,000,000 in 1910; dropped to $110,000,000 in 1915; then, despite the continued disturbances since that date, advanced to $191,000,000 in 1917, $245,000,000 in 1918, and $278,000,000 in 1919, while the March figures, the latest received, indicate a total of over $300,000,000 in the fiscal year ending with June 1920. Whether recent events in Mexico will prevent its reaching that high water mark of $300,000,000 for the current fiscal year cannot now be foretold. It is a fact, however, that the sales by the United States to our 15,000,000 neighbors in Mexico in the calendar year 1919 were more than to the 300,000,000 inhabitants of India or the 400,000,000 of China. Our imports from Mexico in the calendar year 1919 were $148,926,000; exports to Mexico $131,452,000.

What are the articles forming this large and rapidly increasing trade with our neighbors at the South, separated from the United States by only an imaginary line or at the best a comparatively narrow stream of water? On the import side, sisal (a substitute for hemp) $40,000,000, crude petroleum $26,000,000, copper $20,000,000, raw cotton $10,000,000, hides $10,000,000, coffee $5,500,000, lead $5,000,000, hahogany, india-rubber, and sundry other tropical products about $500,000 each. On the export side, manufactures form a very large percentage of the sales, including iron pipes over $7,000,000, cotton cloths $6,500,000, flour $5,000,000, sugar $2,500,000, automobiles $2,350,000, lard $2,200,000, shoes $2,000,000, lumber $1,200,000, automobile tires nearly $1,000,000, eggs $787,000, dyestuffs $715,000, canned salmon $703,000, cotton knit goods $675,000, paper $568,000, paraffin $504,000, railway $497,000, cement $495,000, ploughs $481,000 galvanized iron $464,000, steel rails $461,000, typewriters $422,000, and structural iron $401,000, while the hundreds of other articles ranging below those above enumerated made a total of exports to Mexico in the calendar year 1919, to which the above figures relate, of $131,452,000 against $97,989,000 in the calendar year 1918.

Quite naturally the United States supplies a large proportion of the imports of Mexico, lying just alongside as she does, and takes a corresponding proportion of her exports. Even prior to the war we were supplying about one-half of Mexico's imports while our European friends were supplying the other half. With the circumstances of the war, their facilities for supplying the class of merchandise required by Mexico were naturally minimized and as a result the United States is now supplying about 85 per cent of the merchandise imported into Mexico and taking about 90 per cent of her exports.

ABOLISH CHILD LABOR.

To abolish child labor not merely by prohibiting employment, but by providing suitable education is the aim of the Stay-in-School campaign now being carried on or just completed in 20 states in co-operation with the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor. The campaign is to be followed in the fall by a Back-to-School drive in order to round up the children who fail to report at the opening of school, since the influence of vacation work in leading to permanent withdrawal from school has been strikingly shown.

An encouraging feature of the campaign is that 6 of the States taking part in it are among the 10 in which more than 20 per cent of all the children between 10 and 15 years of age are regularly engaged in agricultural work. Rural child labor, which involves three-fourths of all the child workers in the country, is the most difficult form of child exploitation to reach. It is subject to no legal regulation except through school attendance laws, and are, as a rule, inadequate and poorly enforced. In 3 of the 6 states taking part in the Stay-in-School campaign, the percentage of illiterates over 10 years of age represents more than one-fifth of the total population. The other 3 states have illiteracy rates considerably higher than the country as a whole.

The campaign is being carried on in accordance with local needs and resources. Moving pictures and slides are being utilized in some places to show the harmful effects of too early work and the advantages of schooling. Posters and leaflets urging children to make wider use of the vocational courses offered in local schools are being distributed. Leaders in vocational guidance and placement work are giving talks to seventh and eighth grade pupils on the advantages which school training gives when the boy or girl enters the working world. A ruler, called A Rule for School, showing children why for the sake of their future have at least enough education to enter a skilled occupation, is being furnished local committees by the Children's Bureau.

The 20 states carrying on campaigns are Alabama, Arkansas, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Iowa, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Mississippi, Montana, Nevada, New Jersey, North Dakota, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas, and Wisconsin.

SAYS LIVING COST TO BE UNAFFECTED BY HIGHER RATES

More than a billion dollars annually included in demands presented to the railroad labor board.

Mr. Willard made the initial presentation of testimony for the Eastern groups of railroads, who are asking an increase of 30.4 per cent in rates to produce about $550,000,000 added revenue.

Mr. Strauss contended for higher rates as necessary to bolster up the weakened market for railway securities. Unless the carriers can complete with other industries as a profitable investment, he asserted, government ownership is the only alternative to keep the transportation system of the country going.

Opposition to any rate increases was expressed by S. H. Cowan, representing the Texas Cattle Growers' Association. Cattlemen are against any raise in rates for profits, he declared, adding that if the roads could not support themselves it was their own misfortune.

Cross-examination of the carriers witnesses was conducted at length by representatives of the shippers. Mr. Willard, in reply to questions said there now were some 10,000 more men employed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad than before federal control, but explained that this was mainly due to the change from a piece basis work in the shops to the day system.

AUSTIN WRITES TO PARENTS OF TIMES IN KENTUCKY PORT

I feel good to hear him say that my work is all he could wish, and I take pride in doing things exactly as they should be done. I have only been here about two months and a half, and am catching on fairly well. But I have even more than mere words of commendation. On the lucky day of the 13th of this month, I was promoted to the grade of Corporal. Today I received my warrant from headquarters, which resembles a diploma from High School. In addition to this, I wear two chevrons on my right sleeve, and $3.00 more added to my salary.

I am very enthusiastic over the army. Am happy and in good spirits always, and am having lots of fun and visa versa. But it's all in a days work, and has never done any of the boys any harm. The army beans, slum, corned Willie, and spuds are sure taking the wrinkles out of my stomach, and this, along with regular hours and plenty of exercise, is keeping me in the best of health. It would do some of the boys in Greenville worlds of good to come in and have their back bone straightened, and to have their skin stuffed with muscle instead of mush and sawdust. The country round about is beautiful. Everything is green, and the river winds among the hills like a shining serpent. Those queer looking Mississippi River boats are continually steaming up and down the river, their stern wheels showing in the water high into the air. This week is athletic week, and we are having all sorts of sports. Racing, hurdling, walking, jumping, horsemanship, gun practice, shot put, throwing the discus, hurling the javelin, pole vaulting, wrestling and boxing. Moving picture cameramen are here taking snaps of the doings, and ever time we turn a corner, there stands a cameraman grinding our "mugs" into celluloid pictures for the amusement of every one but ourselves. The boys play lots of funny pranks on them, though. Instead of registering sweet and sickly smiles, or saluting, they cover their faces, or stand and gaze with mouth wide open until the camera ceases to click. Believe me, the outsiders are going to get some eye openers when these pictures are circulated. A bunch of college Sophs have nothing on us when it comes to pranks, and when it comes down to business and drill. I don't think there is another post to compare with ours. Anyway, the moving picture men say so. Last night my company was the host for the weekly "hop" and although it rained during yesterday afternoon, we had an unusually large crowd. The 30th is the favorite company in this vicinity, and the people treat us royal. The Rotary Club of Cincinnati invites ten men each week to their weekly banquet at the Sinton Hotel, and speaking of "chow" they have everything from turkey to the finger bowls. Last Sunday night we entertained them at a smoker, which we held in our recreation room in the barracks. You see, it goes to build up a friendly spirit among the citizens around us. Nor are we the only ones who have friendly gatherings. Each company has its guardian in the form of some men's club close by. It is getting on towards bed time now, so I must close, best regards to all the neighbors and friends.

Tute tyranny, he has also been set free from those internal restraints and compulsions which distinguish liberty from license.

"The pendulum has swung too far. The time has come, the time is indeed already past, when the pendulum should begin its swing backward toward the middle point of wisdom, of sanity, of self-control and of steady progress. He is to be found the religious obligation and the religious opportunity of the American nation in this year of grace.

"There can be no more cure for the world's ills and no abatement of the world's discourses until faith and the rule of everlasting principle are again restored and made supreme in the life men and of nation. This cannot be done by exhortation or by preaching alone. It must be done also by teaching; careful, systematic, rational teaching that will show the simplest language that the uneducated can understand what are the essentials of a permanent and lofty morality, of a stable and just, social industrial order, and of a secure and sublime religious faith. "The school, the family, the church are three cooperating educational agencies, each of which has its weight of responsibility to bear.

It Was the South, Not the North,

Who killed cock robin and let the female of the species into politics anyway?

Where does the blame lie for letting woman get the very first whiff of the political banquet of her lords and masters? If that first taste of the intoxicating beverage of political freedom had only been kept away from women, who knows but they might have gone right on doing the family wash forever and left all the dirty political linen to the men.

The West got too fresh, that's what happened. Ssh! Don't be too rapid—it wasn't the west—it was—Kentucky.

In "My Old Kentucky Home, Far Away" there were some Americans who believed in the constitutional right of American citizens not to be taxed without representation. These men saw that widows were paying a school tax, and hadn't even a word to say about building a little red schoolhouse, nor how many days a year it should be in operation after it was built, nor what, nor whether, their children should study.

Yours to serve,
BIGGS T. CANNON.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

To the Democratic voters of the Fifth Judicial District:

I have entered the Primary for the office of Judge in this District.

I have practiced law for the past 18 years, during which time I have assisted in the prosecution of the Federal docket for about 7 years. Since entering my name for the Judgeship I have resigned the office of Assistant U. S. attorney.

Before beginning the practice of the law I had fourteen years experience in business, beginning life as bank bookkeeper at the age of 16 years.

I shall not make a canvass of the district for the Judgeship. My conception of the duties and responsibilities of the high office of judge is such that in my view a canvass, and the methods of the political campaign, usual and perfectly proper for other offices—purely political, tend to cheapen and lower its tone. I would rather lose the nomination and never hold the office than lower it a hair's breadth from the high plane of honor and dignity on which our fathers have played and kept it in North Carolina.

I shall appreciate the support of all democrats in the district; and if by their sufferages I should be elevated to the Superior Court bench, I assure them that its high traditions shall be upheld, and in the administration of the office justice shall be meted out to all men alike.

This April 28th, 1920.

PEOPLE HELPED WASHINGTON

Supplied Ammunition With Which Continental Army Forced British to Evacuate Boston—Islands Discovered as Result of Shipwreck.

Washington, D. C.—The Bermuda Islands suggest the adventures of Robinson Crusoe in their colonization and present in their later chronology a curious parallel to United States history, with the events consistently predicted by a number of years.

With this statement the National Geographic society prefaces a bulletin on the Bermudas, a principal group of the British West Indies, which some Englishmen suggest should be ceded to the United States in part payment of the American war loans to Great Britain.

"The Robinson Crusoe comparison obtrudes because the islands were discovered and later settled as the direct result of shipwrecks, and the settlers had to build themselves a bark to set sail again," the bulletin continues.

"As for the anticipation of American history, on a miniature scale, it may be noted that the colonization took place seven years before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth, Mass.; that witches were burned, Quakers were persecuted and miscreants were ducked before similar occurrences are recorded in New England, and that slavery was abolished in 1834. The Bermudians protested long before 1776 against the mother country's rule, until the island prisons were over full, but relief came, by their case, not through a declaration of freedom but by the accession of Cromwell.

Helped to Start Revolution.
"But the essential point of contact of the American with the Bermudian arises from the all-but-forgotten fact that while the immortal Lafayette gallantly helped the colonies conclude their war of independence, the Bermudians supplied the ammunition to begin it.

"So acute was the need for powder in 1775 that George Washington wrote to the governor of Rhode Island that 'no quantity of powder, however small, is beneath notice.' Learning that there was a store in Bermuda, and that the islanders were anxious to have the embargo lifted upon shipment of food supplies from the colonies, Washington addressed a letter to the people of the island, who had shown themselves sympathetic with the American Revolution, promising them ample supply of provisions and every other mark of affection and friendship which the grateful citizens of a free country can bestow upon its brethren and benefactors if they would make this ammunition available for the Continental army.

"It so happened that the powder had been procured before the letter was delivered, and with it the Continental army compelled the British to evacuate Boston.

Stops that Eternal Rub

RUBBING and scrubbing on a miserable old wash board is what makes women look old and have rheumatism.

Why do you do it? You can wash clothes much easier, cheaper and quicker in the easy Clean Easy Way. Just half a bar of Clean Easy soap—a tub and a stick are all you need. In ten minutes the washing's done and you haven't even done a single distasteful thing!

That's the way other women keep young and beautiful and still do the washing.

They simply soak the clothes over-night. Cut up ½ bar of Clean Easy Naphtholeine Wash Soap into 4½ gallons of water. Boil; let the soap dissolve; put in the clothes and stir for ten minutes. Rinse, blue and dry and the whole week's washing is done—better than if you had scrubbed for hours.

Good health, youth and beauty come with the easy Clean Easy way of washing. Try it once and you'll be convinced. Ask your grocer today. Notice how different Clean Easy looks from other soaps.

MR. AND MRS. S. B. UNDERWOOD ENTERTAIN

On a recent afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Underwood entertained at their home on Eight street the nearly one hundred members of Mr. Underwood's class at Jarvis Memorial Sunday school, made up of young ladies from the Training School. The guests were greeted by the host and hostess and Mr. J. H. Ross, Superintendent of the Sunday School. Punch was served by Misses Goldie Lister and Bertha Palmer, and Master Sam Underwood, Jr.

An observation and memory test was conducted, producing merriment. The prize was won by Miss Helen Stewart, with Miss Alice Best as a close second. The presentation speech was made by Mr. Ross. The Victrola furnished music in the library, while a merry group gathered round the piano in the parlor and engaged in group and individual singing.

Ice cream and cake were served by members of the Training School faculty, and Mrs. H. E. Austin and Miss Lil Wilson. Toasts to the teacher of the class and the superintendent of the Sunday school were offered, and the ladies took their leave after a very enjoyable afternoon.

WILSON SURPRISE WEDDING.

A surprise marriage recently took place in Wilson when Miss Annie Peacock, of Smithfield, became the bride of Arthur Saunders Chesson, Wednesday, accompanied by Mrs. L. W. Cherry, of Greenville, Miss Peacock, went to Wilson, presumably to see the ball game. They were met at the station in Wilson by Mr. Chesson and from there went to the Methodist parsonage where Rev. C. J. Harrel, pastor of the church, performed the wedding ceremony. The bride was attractively gowned in a pretty suit of navy blue with accessories to match. They left shortly after the ceremony for a wedding trip to Cuba.—Greensboro News.

COLORED BAPTIST CHURCH HAD BIG RALLY SUNDAY

On Sunday Sycamore Hill Baptist church, colored, had an all day rally at all the services for the purpose of raising funds to apply on the debt incident to the building of their new church. The amount raised during the rally Sunday was $2360.87, which speaks well for these people. This leaves them with only about $3,000 more to pay on the $15,000 for their new building.

REAL SOUTH NOT OPPOSED TO SUFFRAGE.

Mrs. Josephus Daniels of North Carolina, wife of the Secretary of the Navy, says it will be a pity if the men of her state do not ratify the Federal Suffrage Amendment, as it would be the first break in their reputation for giving women what they want.

"No class of women has ever been considered more of the clinging vine than the women of the south," said Mrs. Daniels. "No class of women has ever been more protected, yet in times of national stress, southern women always have risen to the occasion and proved themselves more than equal to their responsibilities."

COME ALONG, LADIES!

"I am convinced that it is the part of wisdom for the Democratic party in North Carolina to accept woman suffrage gracefully. Woman suffrage is inevitable. He is a deaf man who does not hear the swish of its skirts. He is a blind man who does not see its legions advancing."

"Gentlemen of Tarhella! Let's be good sports and join lustily in the chorus, 'Come along, ladies.' Some time ago I definitely decided to advise the general assembly in the special session in July to ratify the Federal Amendment. It is the sensible and the graceful thing to do."—T. W. BECKETT, Governor of North Carolina.

PROMINENT DEMOCRATS WANT WOMEN'S VOTES COUNTED IN.

"The Republicans are committed to the principle (of woman suffrage). The Democrats are committed to the principle. It is just a question now of the method by which you get it. You cannot prevent giving women the right to vote. It is too late now for any man, belonging to either party, to doubt the wisdom of women voting."

Senator Pollock of South Carolina.

"When we see the steady progress the woman suffrage movement has made, that man is judicially blinded who does not see that continued opposition is arguing against an accomplished fact. The movement on behalf of suffrage is like an elemental force of nature. It moves irresistibly."

Chief Justice Walter Clark of North Carolina.

"I am strongly in favor of prompt ratification of the Federal Suffrage Amendment and I hope that a sufficient number of state legislatures will be called in special session to insure the ratification of the amendment so that the women of our country, in every state, may be able to participate as voters in the presidential election of 1920."—Homer S. Cummings, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

ments. The singing and chanting was very pretty, but the church itself was the most impressive thing to me. Next day I went to the Vatican Museum and Art Gallery and the Sistine Chapel, and saw some of the world's most famous objects of art. That afternoon I had to return to Naples as my steamer was scheduled to sail the next day. In the Grand Hotel, where I stayed while in Rome I met a large number of friends, all by chance. Mr. and Mrs. Van Roger, great friends of ours out in Japan. He is the Dutch Minister to Italy now. Then Countess Campitelli who was Sallie's school friend, Eleanor Terry, also a lady friend of mine from New York and a man whom I have known for years and who was with us in Peking.

I have never seen such sights as I saw in a social way at the Grand Hotel. Women supposed to be leaders, made up with paint and powder until they looked like circus clowns, with dresses to their knees and backs almost bare of clothing. I have always thought the dress and deportment of the women of a country was the reflex of the real worth of that country. If I am right, Italy is staggering on the brink and I hear that Paris is worse, and Vienna almost unbelievable. The war does not seem to have purged their souls but rather the opposite. Enough of moralizing.

My ship was delayed another day and when I got on it I found it to be dirtiest and most disagreeable ship in which I have ever sailed. The passenger list as variegated as can be imagined. Almost every nation was represented, all bound for the Near East on some mission, good or bad. There were several English speaking passengers among them, strangely enough were two men born and raised within a few miles of Cottendale. One a Mr. Dorich, of Goldsboro, and the other a Mr. Beaman, of Speight's Bridge, about ten miles from Farmville. They are tobacco men and live out here though coming from America now.

We stopped one day at Messala, that was destroyed by an earthquake several years ago. Then a sail of twenty-four hours and we were among the Ionian Islands, famed in song and story. On by the home of Homer, under a blue sky and a blue sea, then through the Gulf of Cornith and on to Piraeus the port of Athens. We remained there thirty hours and due to my uniform I was allowed to go ashore where I had a most interesting experience. We arrived Saturday and the next day was their Easter, due to the fact that the Greeks still use the old calendar. Thus I had the unique experience of spending Easter of the same year, both in Rome and in Athens. At midnight of Saturday the Greeks have a big ceremony of the Resurrection of Our Saviour and I was determined to see as much of it as possible. I stopped at a hotel near the Royal Palace, and by eleven o'clock at night the streets were filled with marching soldiers and many people. Soon after eleven I started toward the Cathedral to see what I could see. Soldiers under arms lined each curb. Soon one attempted to stop me, but presuming on my uniform and my ignorance of the Greek language I kept on. Soon the side walks were so crowded that I could proceed with difficulty, so I broke through the ranks and into the street between the soldiers. Again they attempted to stop me but I ignored them what could a poor soldier do to one having as much gold braid on as I had, and speaking no Greek? I now had a clear street that had been freshly covered with coarse sand. Soon I reached the Cathedral Square and saw in the center a small stand with a cordon of soldiers around it, except where my street entered. There were probably thirty people on the stand. I stopped near by but inside the line and waited. The square was packed with people as were windows, balconies and side streets. About 11:45 a Greek officer came over, saluted and in French invited me to the stand. I went of course. At about one minute of midnight there was a fanfare of trumpets and the procession was coming from the Palace. First came the Bishop of the Greek church, other bishops and priests, cabinet members and as the band played the national air the King arrived with mounted and gaily uniformed escort. He came upon the stand after the bishop and others, passed by a few feet from me and stopped about six feet away. The Cathedral bells chimed the hour of midnight, the bishop started a chant, and in the twinkling of an eye I was in fairy land. Every one had lighted a long candle which he held aloft. The square, the streets, the windows, the balconies, the royal stand, and even the Cathedral tower were a blaze of scintillating lights. Only the King and I had no candle, but the bishop had three, which made up for our lack. The King was in the uniform of a general, his attendants were in court costume, while the bishop and priests were in gowns of barbaric splendor. It was beautiful beyond words. The bishop conducted the service assisted by the priests and a small choir. It lasted only fifteen or twenty minutes. As the benediction was pronounced, the Cathedral chimed rang out merrily and every one turned to every one else and said in Greek "Christ is risen" and shook hands or kissed each cheek of some one. The trumpets sounded again, the band played the national air, the King returned to his palace and left me dreaming of a scene of beauty and solemnity, and wondering how it happened that I so fortunate as to be there and see it. It is bad luck for a candle to go out before its bearer gets home, and for half an hour the streets were bright with bobbing lights. It was all so beautiful. The Catholic had all been fasting, so now they go to feasting, but I went back to my hotel to ponder over this scene of beauty and to sleep. The King is a large, handsome man of about twenty-eight years, blonde, wears a monocle, and during the ceremony looked bored. On Saturday afternoon I visited the Stadium, the Temple of Zeus, Adrian's Gate, Darian's Theatre, and the Acropolis. All beautiful and impressive but nothing was so beautiful as the scene in front of the Cathedral at midnight.

Tomorrow I expect to reach Constantinople and hope to settle down to work promptly. How everything is to be settled out here, no man can say, but I hope to do my duty.

With my best love to you both, and all the family.
Your devoted son,
LYMAN A. COTTEN.

ONLY THREE CASES IN CIVIL SESSIONS OF COURT MONDAY

returned to their former owner without direction or authority for their disposition. Mr. Winslow kept the animals in his stables for a period of 90 days, according to evidence submitted in the proceedings, and when Hathaway requested $600 in payment for them, it was refused, the defendant contending that the animals were in had condition when he accepted them, and that the time and feed required during the ninety days added to the original price of the mules when purchased from him left Mr. Hathaway indebted to him instead.

Mr. Arthur Winslow was the principal witness for the defense, as it was principally through him that the transaction occurred in its early stages. His testimony confirmed that of the former witness for the defense, and the court's verdict naturally came about following a long drawn out controversy between legal representatives employed on both sides.

In the divorce proceedings of Aray Gray vs. Clarence Gray, the court returned a decision of absolute divorce, as evidence presented by the plaintiff sufficiently justified the existing bonds of matrimony being annulled.

No decree was returned in the case of Luther Tripp vs. John Harris, in which the plaintiff requested the nullification of the bonds of matrimony existing between his 13 year old daughter Rubelle Tripp and the defendant, claiming that her age justified such proceedings. Harris and the young woman were married in December, without consent of the parent, and consequently immediate action to nullify the bonds of matrimony was begun. The case will be settled when the defendant appears for hearing, which probably will be during present term.

Mr. J. L. Horton, of Farmville, is in Greenville today, attending this session of superior court.

Philadelphia, May 25.—A bequest of $1,000 by Benjamin Franklin to the City of Philadelphia in 1760 to be used after 100 years "to make living in town more convenient and render it more agreeable to strangers," is to be applied by the Board of City Trusts to the ererection of public comfort stations. The bequest now amounts to $66,323 while a similar legacy from John Scott of $3,000 in 1816 has increased to $14,085.

The Board decided to apply both funds for the purpose stated, upon recommendation of Mayor Moore.
