ROOSEVELT NAMED AS RUNNING MATE FOR GOVERNOR COX

Convention Names Assistant Secretary of Navy Vice-President by Acclamation.

CONVENTION ADJOURNS WITH BUSINESS ENDED

Robinson Will Head Committee to Notify Governor Cox of Nomination

San Francisco, July 6.—Franklin Roosevelt, of New York, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, was nominated for vice president today by the Democratic national convention and became the running mate of Governor James M. Cox, of Ohio, Democratic nominee for president.

The first cries of "Cox and Roosevelt" rang through the convention hall and were mixed with shouts of the vote of acclamation, by which he was nominated without a ballot.

Despite disinclination of the Tammany organization to accept him, Roosevelt's name went over with a band wagon movement during which all other candidates were withdrawn.

James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, was withdrawn early by former Governor Dunne; Governor Stewart, of Montana, and former Governor Hawley, of Idaho, were withdrawn, and Major General L. D. Tyson of Tennessee, in person, announced he would not be a contender, as did David R. Francis, of Missouri. Nomination of W. T. Vaughn, of Oregon, who had received the state primary endorsement, was changed into a second for the successful nominee.

Bainbridge Colby, Secretary of State, who was endorsed as a candidate and refused to allow his name to be used, finally was urged to consent if he should be "drafted." As it turned out the Tammany crowd decided to accept Roosevelt, who brought to the ticket the participation of an administration man and Mr. Colby's name was not considered further.

Mr. Roosevelt was placed in nomination by Timothy L. Ansherry, a former representative from Ohio, who sat as a Cox delegate in the District of Columbia delegation. Seconds sprang from all parts of the convention hall, and although Roosevelt was not formally nominated until well after the business of nomination was taken up, there was never any doubt about it and never at any time was there any opposition. The seconding of his nomination by Governor Smith, of New York, from the Tammany delegation, clinched it.

Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, permanent chairman of the convention, was appointed chairman of the committee to notify Governor Cox of his nomination and Chairman Homer S. Cummings, of the Democratic committee, was appointed chairman of the committee to notify Mr. Roosevelt.

After its tumultuous session of 44 ballots the convention re-assembled at night to finish its work. There was at first a delay utilized by the Cox managers to hear from the Governor about his wishes on the Vice-Presidential nomination. E. H. Moore, of Youngstown, Ohio, who managed the Governor's fight, let it be known that Cox was willing to leave the selection

BICKETT CALLS SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE

Raleigh, July 7.—Governor Bickett today called a special session of the legislature for August 10 to act on the State Tax Commission report concerning the revaluation of property. Ratification of the suffrage amendment was not mentioned, but it is expected the question will come up for consideration during the session.

GOV. BICKETT CALLS SPECIAL SESSION OF COUNCIL FOR TODAY

Raleigh, July 6.—After a conference with the State Tax Commission yesterday, Governor T. W. Bickett issued a call to the Council of State to meet in his office this morning at 11 o'clock to consider the call for a special session of the General Assembly to enact tax legislation predicated upon the recommendations of the Tax Commission under the Revaluation Act of 1919, and to pass upon the Suffrage Amendment to the Federal Constitution.

No exact date has been fixed for the convening of the legislature, but it is very likely that July 27 will be the day named. The conference this morning will fix upon the date, and concur in the issuance of the call, as is required by the State constitution. Nothing has been given out officially as to the date the call will carry.

Excellent progress has been made on the work of checking the tax questionnaires sent out by the Tax Commission, and the Commission believes that it will be in readiness within three weeks to present to the legislature the total figures for real and personal property values in the State, upon which will be predicated the laws fixing tax rate for the coming year.

The special session is limited by the constitution to 20 days, and if it is called for the 27th, will adjourn August 16, or if the call is deferred to August 2nd, as is possible, it will adjourn August 22nd.

The constitution requires that a call for special session must be made 20 days before the body convenes. Governor Bickett believes that both the revaluation and the suffrage ratification can be disposed of within the constitutional limits.

SAYS MILLIONS OF PEOPLE ARE LIVING IN MALARIA ZONES

Crippling and Deadly Influence of Disease Reported by Health Department

New York, July 7.—Eight hundred million people living in the world's "malaria zone," which practically coincides with the tropical and semi-tropical regions of the earth, are subject to the "crippling and deadly influence of that disease," according to George E. Vincent, president of the Rockefeller Foundation. Residents of the southern part of the United States, Mexico, Central America, the West Indies, and the northern part of South America are included in this "malaria belt" said Mr. Vincent, who today issued the second of a series of reviews on the Foundation's work against malaria and hookworm for the year 1919.

Practical methods for fighting malaria, as used by the Foundation's sanitarians, include elimination of the germ carrying anopheles mosquito by preventing its breeding, the screening of houses against this mosquito, and the use of quinine to sterilize the blood of human malaria carriers.

"Public funds are a necessity in the control of malaria as well as hookworm," the review continues, "and are now being appropriated faster than sanitarians can be found to do the work."

"Hookworm control has proved a most successful means of convincing communities that health is a purchasable thing, and during 1919 control measures were carried on in 25 different states and countries, with a general tendency toward a reduction in the prevalence and intensity of the infection, more efficient and more widespread sanitation, and the education of communities in the possibilities of general health policies."

Mrs. A. L. Stroud and daughters Misses Margaret and Edna Claire, left yesterday for Beaufort where they will spend the summer.

Mr. Carlton Arthur, of Bedford City, Va., is visiting relatives in the city. Miss Novella Mayo returned yesterday from Greensboro and Madison.

AMERICAN FORCED TO FLEE FOR LIFE IN RUSSIAN CENTER

Bolsheviki Authorities Arrest Engineer for Telling the Plain Truth.

FATE OF AMERICAN HAS NOT YET BEEN LEARNED

Chairman of Industry for Soviets Tells of Conditions Prior to Arrest.

London, July 7.—Royal C. Keely, an American engineer, recently arrested by Bolsheviki authorities as he was about to leave Russia where he had executed an industrial commission for the Soviet government, incurred the displeasure of the Soviets because he "told the truth, plain and unvarnished," Nicholas Isnard, chairman of the All Russian Central Council of Trade and Industry, said upon his arrival here. Isnard fled from Russia where, he declared, "the misery and dislocation of life is complete."

The fate of the American has not been learned. According to Isnard, Keely went to Russia in September, 1919, at the invitation of the Bolsheviki government, and as an expert on technical and industrial organization was asked to make a complete report to the soviet government, "on ways and means to have the Russian industrial situation."

"On his arrival in Russia, Keely was received with great honors and exceptional facilities were afforded him to travel all over the country," Isnard said. "He visited the industrial concerns of Petrograd and Moscow, travelled to the great textile center of Ivanovo-Voznesensk, and to the coal mines of the Donetz, and completed his trip by a tour in the Urais."

"Upon his return to Moscow in January, 1920, Keely was lodged in the (Continued page three.)"

DUNN BOY SCOUTS ON CAMPING TRIP TO CHICOD CREEK

Thirty-Four Boys Spend Night in Greenville, Continuing Trip Today.

Thirty-four Boy Scouts from Dunn, under the direction of Rev. J. M. Daniels, a former pastor of the Jarvis Memorial Methodist church of this city, stopped over in Greenville late yesterday afternoon, spent the night in Forbes & Morton's warehouse and continued their trip to Chicod Creek, this county, at an early hour this morning for an extensive camping trip.

The boys enjoyed themselves to no little extent while here last night, by getting a good view of the city, partaking of refreshments, and diversions such as they liked best. They left Dunn yesterday morning, arriving in Greenville shortly before dusk, and immediately arranged for getting a comfortable night's rest before resuming the journey this morning.

Mr. Daniels stated that Chicod creek had been selected for a camping trip because it afforded everything necessary for giving the boys exactly what they wanted in the way of freedom and a good time. Boating, fishing and other forms of recreation are as acceptable on Chicod Creek as any other section of the country, and the boys were anticipating an eventful trip in every way. It was not stated how long the Scouts would remain in the Grimesland district, but it is expected that they will remain there three or four days, if not a week.

Mr. J. N. Gorman and family are spending the summer at Buckroe Beach, Va.

PRESIDENT WILSON GIVES APPROVAL IN SELECTION OF COX

Republicans to Get Little Encouragement from Dissatisfied Element.

CHOICE OF ROOSEVELT ADDS NEEDED IMPETUS

Campaigners Will Now Try to Prove that Cox Was Wilson's Choice.

Washington, July 6.—If everybody else in the Democratic party is as well satisfied with the selection of Governor James M. Cox as the Presidential nominee as President Wilson is, the Republican party will get little encouragement from the looked for disgruntled element.

It will only be a matter of time before the Republican dogsters will be seriously engaged in an effort to prove to the country that Governor Cox has been the Wilson choice all along and that the forty-four ballots at San Francisco were ninety-nine tenths camouflage.

It is absolutely necessary that they prove this. In informing the country at the outset that the President was in complete control of the convention and would order the delegates around a little more sternly than Penrose did at Chicago, they eliminated everybody but the candidate in favor at the White House.

McAdoo, of course, led all the names. He was the President's son-in-law and his nomination would mean the perpetuation of all the Wilson policies, the majority of which have been exceedingly distasteful to the Republicans. When came along the story that the night before Carter Glass and Bainbridge Colby started to the coast the President and McAdoo had engaged in a family feud and political quarrel. (Continued on page four.)

SPLENDID HERD OF BUFFALOES FOUND IN NATIONAL PARK

Animal Thought to be on Increase Instead of Decrease as Supposed.

Yellowstone, Park, Wyo., July 7. Convincing evidence that the wild buffalo of Yellowstone National Park, the last surviving remnant of the great herd which once reamed the western plains are on the increase, instead of dying out, as was feared, has been obtained in the discovery of a new group in the southeast portion of the park. About 15 animals were observed, evidently a part of the old herd, which it is thought so large that some of its members were forced to break away and seek new pasturage.

Definite information has been obtained by park authorities that there are now more than 100 of the wild buffalo in the park. Formerly there were only about half that number.

When discovered, the new herd was within five miles of one of the largest hotels in the park and a snapshot was obtained of one of the animals, a fine bull, probably the first photograph ever taken of a wild buffalo.

Ordinarily the wild buffalo never seen by tourist and only rarely by park authorities, even by the rangers who patrol most remote sections. The appearance of the new herd close to the main lines of travel was before the season opened and the animals apparently had been lured down from the mountain fastnesses by the abundance of spring grass on the lower levels. They disappeared into untraveled country as soon as automobiles became frequent along the highways.

Forty eight calves have been added this year to the tame buffalo herd of the park, which now has a population of 500. Part of the tame herd has been placed in corral at Mammoth Hot Springs for the benefit of visitors.

PRESIDENT HALL CALLS FOR SPECIAL MEETING OF BASEBALL ENTHUSIASTS

Mr. W. Hall, president of the Greenville baseball club, has called for a special meeting of baseball supporters of the city to be conducted in the Chamber of Commerce rooms tonight at 8 o'clock. The purpose of the meeting will be to discuss several matters of importance relative to Greenville's continued participation in the Eastern Carolina league and to fully prepare to become a more serious contender for the pennant.

It is urged that every person interested in Greenville's showing during the remainder of the season attend the meeting. There will be no requests for monetary support, as the meeting will be held solely to discuss future conditions and prepare in a more definite way for the club's success. There are a number of matters to be considered before the club is fully capable of more seriously contending for honors in the last half of the series and consequently discussion will be confined principally to this single issue.

It is urged that every person attend the meeting and assist as far as possible in making Greenville ball club one of the best in the league. This can be done only in one way, that is, through the cooperative spirit of home people, and for that reason it is absolutely necessary that a good crowd be present.

There will be a special meeting of Hope Fire Company tonight at 8 o'clock to discuss matters of entering the races at the State Firemen's tournament. Every member is urged to be present. D. D. Overton, chief, C. B. Whickard, Secretary.

BOARD GIVES FINAL CANVASS OF VOTE OF LAST PRIMARY

County Board of Elections Finishes Count With Slight Change in Vote.

An official canvass of the county vote in the second primary last Saturday was completed by the County Board of Elections this morning, and while the reports vary little from those first compiled by this paper Saturday night, the total vote shows that in one or two instances the early returns gave a shortage of several votes. This fact, however, does not change the standing of contestants in any way as all won out by a splendid majority, leaving little room for dissatisfaction over closeness of the entire vote.

The complete report of each candidate as compiled by the board follows: Gardner, 1480; Morrison, 1457; Durham, 1685; Cook, 949; Stacy, 1689; Long, 1006; Everett, 1398; Outlaw, 1223; Smith, 907; Hardee, 1883.

There was little difficulty incurred by the Board of Elections in completing its report in the second primary as practically every count was completed at a late hour Saturday night, and immediately forwarded to this city. Each report showed conclusively that the vote was not as heavy as in many sections in the first primary, and that a majority of Page supporters voted for Morrison for governor. There was only slight change in other cases with the exception of Outlaw for the state senate and Smith for county commissioner, both getting a majority of votes of the third contestants in the first primary, while their opponents showed only slight increases.

It is generally conceded that the county primary was conducted in a more spirited manner than in many years, for the elimination of candidates in the first primary instilled greater animation into the second campaign and caused contestants to battle more determinedly and stubbornly than every for the victory.

COX NOT IN FAVOR OF WAGING BATTLES ON FRONT PORCHES

In Fact, the Democratic Nominee Prefers Speaking Tour to the Front Porch

DEFIANT PLANS AWAIT ARRIVAL OF DELEGATES

Telegrams of Congratulation Pouring in From All Sections of Country

Dayton, Ohio, July 6.—In a telegram to the Democratic National Convention accepting the Presidential nomination and thanking the delegates for their support, Governor James M. Cox today intimated he is ready to make an intensive speaking campaign in every state.

His close friends said he will urge his political advisers against a "front porch" campaign such as Senator Harding, the Republican Presidential nominee, expects to make at his home in Marion.

The Governor said, however, that no plans have been formulated and the campaign will not be discussed officially until Democratic National Committee members and other party leaders return from San Francisco. Although he said he had not yet considered the matter, he indicated he had no intention of resigning as Governor of Ohio in order to devote all of his time to the campaign. He pointed out that Senator Harding had announced he would not resign from the Senate.

Governor Cox spent the day receiving old friends at his home, Trails End, near Dayton, and in his office at his newspaper, The Dayton News.

Middletown, Ohio, to make a brief address to friends and neighbors of his youthful days when he was a newsboy, printer's devil, school teacher and reporter in that city.

Hundreds of telegrams, including congratulations from President Wilson and Senator Harding, were received during the day, but it was a physical impossibility for the Democratic nominee to answer many of them. Several volunteer clerks were kept busy opening them.

The Ohio Governor spent all of yesterday afternoon and last night listening to reports of progress of the convention. He received the first news of his nomination from the Associated Press here in his newspaper office. Together with Mrs. Cox and a few close friends and his newspaper associates he had been watching the reports, closely since the opening of the convention last week.

When the flash came announcing his nomination the Governor sat for a minute as though stunned.

Then he crossed the room and kissed his wife. His next act was to go to the composing room of his newspaper and shake hands with his printers. Later he walked several blocks to the home of his closest personal friend, John A. McMahon, 87, dean of Dayton attorneys, to whom he wished personally to break the news.

After a light breakfast the governor visited the grave of his mother for a few minutes. She died at the age of 85 several years ago, after living to see him inaugurated governor for a first term.

Plans were being made by the Dayton Chamber of Commerce for a jollification in Dayton at a later date, probably July 15th.

When the news announcing the nomination of their fellow townsman was received most Daytonians were in bed. They received their first news of the nomination this morning.

JERRY LANGLEY ARRESTED FOR SELLING MONKEY RUM

Jerry Langley, colored storekeeper of this city, was last night placed under arrest by Policeman Brewer, Wooten and Deputy Sheriff Jackson following a raid on the store in which 3 gallons of monkey rum were found secreted away in a supposedly safe place. Langley was arrested some time ago for participation in the whiskey traffic, getting off with a light sentence, but it is expected that he will not get off easily this time as the second offense calls for severe punishment.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 7, 1920.

Home folks may feel like honoring Harding, the Republican presidential choice, but that's more than most people feel like doing.

Fattening cows on sawdust, as proposed by a professor of a Wisconsin college, is something like giving chickens a kind of powder to produce two eggs per day.

If primaries were like conventions the plan would be abolished immediately. It is fortunate that conventions years instead of months intervene between such conclaves.

Though it is a time when it costs much to build, you can go on hardily a street in this town without seeing new buildings going up or remodeling of old ones. This bids truly to be a great building year for Greenville, and the scarcity of houses to be greatly relieved.

Something that Greenville very much needs is a union passenger station. For years this question has come up occasionally, but so far no real positive action has been taken in the matters. Now the subject is being talked again in some circles, and it should develop to the point of action. Greenville has strong business organizations—Chamber of Commerce, Merchants Association and Rotary—and if these will get together behind this need, as they can, it will not be long coming. The union depot will not be a reality until the people go right after it. The town can have what it wants through concerted action.

Nobody expected Senator Reed to like the outcome of the convention, and no one cares in the least what he says about it. Such a Republican ally in abusing everything Democratic, as his utterances have proven him to be, ought to have excluded him from a seat in the party council. He got just what he deserved.

It is to be regretted that America will not be represented at the conference of the Allies to be conducted in Spa within the next several days, for such a meetings really seem incomplete without an American official sitting at the head of the table. The meetings are of more than general interest to the entire world, and the fact that American has not yet been represented indicates indescribable loss on its part. The election in November will bring people face to face with this problem, but it is not expected that the conference will feature in the absence of our delegates again.

Newspapers of the country are fortunate that political conventions and primaries do not occur very often. The suspense is not at all out of the ordinary, but my, the sleepless hours for the unfortunate editor without assistants.

The fellows who have traveled all the way to San Francisco, and seen the wonderful improved roads of California, are getting their eyes opened to what we can do down here in North Carolina where we are just making a start on real road building.

Kentucky placed the first woman for presidential nomination at the convention, but the idea was so entirely new and out of the ordinary that delegates were defeated in their purpose even before a good beginning could be made. Conditions, however, may change after woman has been enfranchised, and the idea of a woman distating to the country from the White House won't be such a strange one after all.

William Jennings Bryan thinks the convention locked horns, particularly Wall street, the White House and the wet element. In fact, the Nebraskan thinks everything but the good presided over the convention because he failed to put any of his plans in action. He was a peculiar way of looking at things lately, but constant defeat in politics is enough to make the beset become pessimistic after enduring so much.

The McAdoo boom blossomed forth in an interesting way during early stages of the San Francisco convention, but it failed to expand sufficiently for his nomination. In fact, the latter part of the convention was surprising in many ways, for he quick manner in which Cox supporters put him in the lead showed conclusively that he would be nominated, even before the final ballots.

Both the great political parties of the nation have announced their platforms and nominated their tickets for the November election, and will go before the people for their support of the issues outlined. The vague and dodging attitude of the Republicans in their platform, as compared with the frank and clean cut stand for something in the Democratic declaration of principles, should readily convince each and every thinking person which party he should vote for.

Senator Reed, of Nebraska, who was refused a seat in the Democratic convention, has again seen fit to attack the League of Nations, and goes so far as to brand it as a "league of treason." The senator has been a relentless persecutor of league supporters for some time, and it is possible that humiliation over refusal of a seat in the convention will cause him to redouble his efforts to bring about its defeat. The convention, however, approved the issue, so for the time being what Senator Reed may think and do will be a matter of little consequence to the American people as a whole.

Cameron Morrison won out for gubernatorial honors of the state by a comfortable majority, according to reports until the present time. Heriot Clarkson, his campaign manager, claimed the state would be carried by ten thousand majority, and while the estimate no doubt was conservative before the election, it will probably miss the mark by a thousand votes at least. The campaign was an interesting one, and shows that Morrison was considerably stronger in some localities than many persons expected. Both sides made a mighty good fight, so it is up to the people now to stand behind the winner to do everything possible to make the Old North State go forward at every opportunity.

The Republican nominee for the presidency may be able to dodge certain issues connected with his own personal campaign, but he certainly can't evade the fact of Democratic supremacy in platforms. The Democrats gave the public something constructive and dependable, and there is no comparison with the things put out at the Chicago convention. The public has already distinguished the incomparable features, and the vote in November will speak its sentiment in a more impressive way than expressions at this time when Republicans are confident of victory without any cause whatever.

While the march of progress is onward and old things must give place to new, it is not without a touch of sadness in witnessing the passing of old landmarks around which cling the memories of early years. In a street building three brothers now living in Greenville first saw the light of this world, the years of their birth being 1859, 1862 and 1872, and the removal of the old home that faithfully sheltered them in youth brings a feeling akin to the passing of an old friend. It is but a picture of life—we serve our day and generation and pass on.

The Democrats were absolutely right in not including any prohibition plank in the platform, for prohibition now is law, and rests solely with the courts for its enforcement. The amendment is a part of our national constitution and there is no real reason for its adoption by Democrats under such conditions. Mr. Bryan had some conceivable motive in exerting his influence for a "bone dry plank" but it is a matter of surprise that a man so well informed regarding national questions should have desired such action by the party which he represents. Whiskey has had its day in this country, and certainly the resurrection of John Barleycorn can not be anticipated by anyone unless a part of the constitution is annulled. That is possible, is possible, of course, but hardly probable.

Do Yours Look Like These?

Ruddy-cheeked, vigorous, healthy youngsters — sickness never troubles them. Their glowing health is a joy to everyone.

Nourishing food keeps their little bodies sturdy and strong, but the waste product of this food is dangerous, if not gotten rid of thoroughly and effectively.

Nujol is particularly valuable for relieving constipation in children as well as in grown-ups, as it does not upset the stomach, cause diarrhoea or form a habit.

Nujol works on an entirely new principle.

Instead of forcing or irritating the system, it simply softens the food waste. This enables the many tiny muscles in the walls of the intestines, contracting and expanding in their normal way, to squeeze the food waste along so that it passes naturally out of the system.

Nujol thus prevents constipation because it helps Nature maintain easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world.

Nujol is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. Try it.

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only, bearing Nujol Trade Mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, New York, for booklet "Thirty Feet of Danger".

SAM PEYTON INSTANTLY

KILLED BY EUGENE GARDNER

Sam Peyton, colored, about 20 years of age, was shot and instantly killed
by Eugene Gardner, also colored, following an altercation occurring at the plant of the Ayden Veneer Company shortly before closing hours yesterday afternoon. The coroner's jury this morning conducted an investigation
over the body of the dead man, later rendering a decision of "justifiable homicide."

According to the facts presented at the inquest, the shooting resulted from a dispute occurring between Peyton and Gardner over their duties at the Veneer plant. In course of the argument the contestants became so provoked that Peyton walked a few paces away from Gardner and began hurling brickbats at him. Gardner, it seems resented the action and instead of refraining, pulled a pistol from his pocket, and fired upon his adversary, who staggered backwards several feet
and dropped to the ground dead.

Gardner is about 16 years of age,
and was employed in the same department of the Veneer plant as Peyton.
Both had worked together in complete harmony until a change in position brought about the dispute.

TARBORO DEFEATS GREENVILLE CLUB IN GAME TUESDAY

Costly Errors Again Prove Serious to Greenville, Tarboro Winning
by Score 2 to 1.

In possibly one of the fastest and most stubbornly fought games staged on the Tarboro diamond this season Greenville yesterday afternoon lost out to Tarboro by the score of 2 to 1. The contest was closely contested from the first inning until the final frame, but Greenville's inability to hit opportunely mixed with several costly errors decided the game in Tarboro's favor.

Sheppard pitched another great game for Greenville and would have won out easily over the Tarboro aggregation had he received even ordinary support from his teammates. As it were however, errors were made behind him in critical frames, and resulted in Tarboro's only two runners romping around the bases. It is possible he never appeared at better advantage than in this game, for regardless of costly errors and inevitable hard luck he pitched spiritedly every inning and proved absolutely invincible when hits would have counted for runs. It was a matter of handle the man at bat or let him threaten the home plate, so making the best of a bad situation, Sheppard settled down and failed to yield only three well scattered hits, which would never have been productive of runs had not errors and wild throws followed in rapid succession in the infield.

The Tarboro club played its usual splendid game, fielding excellently every inning and at no time leaving an opening for an advantage to the visitors. Champion pitched a fairly good game and while he yielded a greater number of hits than his opponent, fast fielding on the part of teammates prevented the visitors succeeding in getting only one tally, although runners reached second and third bases several times during the game. Inopportune hitting by Greenville at such stages proved one of the most costly features of the game, for Tarboro's small lead could have easily been offset by timely work with the willow.

The contest, regardless of its many disappointing features, was without a doubt one of the best played in Tarboro during the current season, as the visitors played fast and interesting even though the unfortunate plays in early parts of the game proved deci-dely costly and inauspicious. Virtually every inning was contested determinedly, but after the serious mistakes in the field luck appeared relentless, failing to give the slightest kind of advantage.

Tarboro will play the second game of the series in Greenville this afternoon and it is expected the locals will show up in decidedly better form both at the bat and in the field. Tarboro is rapidly climbing toward the top in standing of the clubs and probably will be a more determined contender than in the game yesterday. Both clubs, it is assured, will put forth every effort to capture the game, and as a sequence, an unusually good game is expected.
