WILSON MAY URGE STATE TO SUPPORT WOMAN SUFFRAGE

Reports Say President Will Ask Legislature to Ratify Amendment.

THIRTY-SEVEN STATES BE NECESSARY NOW

Tennessee Legislature to Meet one Day Earlier Than North Carolina.

Washington, July 8.—Governor Bickett's call to the North Carolina solons to meet the day after the Tennessee legislators are to assemble hasn't changed the hopes of suffrage leaders with respect to action by North Carolina and it is "full steam ahead," all the time.

For the past twenty-four hours there have been quite a number of formal and informal conferences in which the North Carolina situation was the chief topic of conversation. Over at the White House is a list of the members of the Tar Heel general assembly, accompanied by the political and suffrage classification of each member.

To these, according to information furnished this correspondent tonight a message is going from President Woodrow Wilson. The President may communicate en bloc or he may address an appeal to each legislator. Cabinet members have a list very much like the one at the White House and it is not violating any secret to say that one is being prepared for Governor "Jimmy" Cox, the standard bearer of Democracy's flag in the coming elections.

The suit brought in the District of Columbia yesterday against the Secretary of State and Attorney General Palmer is nothing, more or less than another attempt to delay the proclamation of ratification. It is not unlike the suits against the bone dry amendment and as it will eventually wind up in the United States Supreme Court, its fate is pretty well predestined.

Its most immediate effect, say the suffragists, is that it will make it necessary for them to have two more states—at least, it will be the practical thing to secure ratification by two more, making thirty-seven in all. It is this situation that still gives to North Carolina at least half of the center of the stage as far as Democracy's audience is concerned. Reports persistently fly about the capital that the Governor of Vermont, having made a compact with the Republican nominee for the presidency, is to "duck out" of his own domain and leave the affairs of state in the hands of the lieutenant governor. The minute this happens, Republicans say, the acting governor will call the legislature together and the thing will be done.

Governor Clement is, like Governor Bickett, opposed to woman suffrage and it is modern history that he has taken a solemn oath not to convene his lawmakers together for the purpose of giving woman the ballot. The national situation, however, has appealed to him and the well advertised "coup" seems to be aimed at squaring his private oath with his public duty.

Rumblings in the Tennessee circles of Washington emit ominous things about the situation there and it looks as if the Tennessee governor is considerably more perplexed than Governor Bickett, since the Tar Heel governor, in his executive discretion, gave him twenty-four hours start and never said a word about beating him to the finish.

Quite a party of people of this section went to Middlesex today to attend a celebration at the Free Will Baptist Orphan Home located there.

Hay rides, or rather truck rides, are popular with the young folks these nights.

HARDING ASSURED OF PROGRESSIVE SUPPORT IN COMING CAMPAIGN

Marion, Ohio, July 8.—Assurances that the national Republican ticket would have the united support of Progressive leaders prominent in the 1912 campaign were given to Senator Harding, the Republican presidential nominee, today by Walter F. Brown, of Toledo, prominent Ohio Progressive.

In a conference of nearly an hour the Senator and Mr. Brown discussed plans for the campaign and especially the part the Progressives would take in it.

"Without exception the old Roosevelt leaders are supporting Senator Harding and Governor Coolidge," said Mr. Brown to the newspaper correspondents.

"I might interject the remark that this is what Mr. Brown came to tell me about," said Senator Harding.

Mr. Brown said he told the Senator of a private dinner given in New York last Thursday and attended by prominent Progressives during which a resolution was adopted endorsing the Harding-Coolidge ticket.

Senator Harding for the most part spent another quiet though busy day devoting most of his time to the preparation of his speech of acceptance.

Will H. Hays, chairman of the national Republican committee, will reach Marion Saturday.

Senator Harding was today advised that two additional baby boys had become namesakes of his. One is the son of F. A. Leberman, a newspaper man of Harrisburg, Ill., and the other a son of P. F. Callahan, of Marion.

ATTORNEY CLAIMS MURDER PLOT WAS HEARD OVER PHONE

Preliminary Hearing in Murder Case of Mrs. Snow Brings Out Facts.

Washington, July 8.—Preliminary hearing of Chester A. Snow, a millionaire patent attorney of this city, and two others who are charged with a conspiracy to murder Mrs. Addis Hubbard Snow, divorced wife of the attorney, was opened today in federal police court.

Henry E. Davis, counsel for Mrs. Snow, testified that he had listened in on a telephone conversation between Mrs. Sna P. Acker, a private detective, and Snow, during which the latter, Davis declared, agreed to plans for "doing away" with Mrs. Snow.

Davis told the court that on July 5 he was summoned to Mrs. Snow's home and that later Mrs. Acker arrived and told them she had come "to disclose the most horrible plot I ever knew."

She said, according to Davis' testimony, that she had been employed by Snow at first to involve Mrs. Snow by trailing her, shadowing her and being in company with her to get "something on her."

When nothing came of this, Davis quoted Mrs. Acker as saying Snow proposed to Mrs. Acker to get rid of Mrs. Snow—to get her out of the way by any means she might. Mrs. Acker's plan, as Davis testified Mrs. Acker explained it to them, was to take Mrs. Snow in an automobile and administer poison or a sufficiently powerful drug and to have the automobile turned over in a ditch in such a way as to appear as if Mrs. Snow's death was an accident.

Hugh Milton Langdon has been arrested in the case with Mrs. Acker, on the charge that he was to have driven the automobile.

The southern section of the county had a nice rain yesterday afternoon, but only a little fall in this immediate section.

SAYS COMMITTEE ORDER THREATENS MANY INDUSTRIES

Representatives of Industries Ask Commission to Modify Priority Order.

MANY SPEAKERS ENTER VIGOROUS PROTESTS

No Indication, However that Commission Will Give Request Attention.

Washington, D. C., July 9.—Declaring their business to be threatened with distraction, representatives of nearly a dozen industries today asked the Interstate Commerce Commission to revoke or modify its order requiring railroads to accord preference to coal mines east of the Mississippi river in the assignment of open top cars.

Speaker after speaker at the commission's open hearing on the order declared his business would be forced to close down and his employes thrown out of work unless the order was rescinded or modified. There were no indications, however, that the commission would make any change in the order, which was issued two weeks ago for the purpose of relieving coal shortages throughout the eastern states.

Industries protesting against the order included those manufacturing and dealing in crushed stone, cement, sand and gravel and lime and also general building contractors.

Preceding testimony of their representatives, the commission heard Daniel Willard, chairman of the Advisory Committee of the Association of Railway Executives, who declared that priority of service favoring the more essential commodities was necessary to relieve the present freight congestion. No suggestion for the modification of (Continued on page six.)

BOSTON DEVELOPS IN PLEASING FORM IN PAST 10 YEARS

Compilation of Last Census Gives City a Population of 1,500,000.

Boston, July 8.—A compilation of 1920 census returns covering what is generally known as Greater Boston shows that the population of Boston and its suburbs has now reached almost exactly 1,500,000. Unlike most of the larger cities of the country Boston has annexed very little of the territory immediately adjoining and has a total area of only 47.8 square miles, as compared with 287 square miles in Greater New York.

The Boston metropolitan district, covering an area within a 15-mile radius from the state house, includes 26 cities and towns in addition to Boston proper. The 1920 population of all of these except Watertown has been announced and the total is 732,541 for the suburbs. Watertown's population as recorded by the state census of 1915 was 16,515, a gain of 3,640 over 1910. If it made a similar gain in the last five years, it would now have 20,155 inhabitants. This, added to the other suburbs and to the 747,923 population of Boston, would make a total of 1,500,619.

The percentage of growth of most of the suburbs has been much greater in the last decade than that of Boston itself, due chiefly to the fact that a far larger number of people whose daily business is in this city have found it more agreeable to establish their homes outside the city limits. The great majority of the suburban population is made up of people whose work or business is in Boston.

COMMITTEE READY TO BEGIN INQUIRY AT ST. LOUIS, MO.

Campaign Expenditures of Palmer Will Come up for Consideration Today

NEGRO COMMITTEEMAN FROM GEORGIA SPEAKS

Johnson Says Republican Negro Voters in Georgia Have Disappeared.

Chicago, Ill., July 8.—The Senate committee investigating pre-convention campaign expenditures of candidates left tonight for St. Louis, where it will resume its hearings tomorrow. Expenditures in behalf of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, who was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President, are scheduled for investigation at tomorrow's session and nearly a score of witnesses, including E. F. Goltra, Democratic National committeeman, and Joseph T. Davis, both of St. Louis have been subpoenaed.

Reports that Goltra paid $3,000 to delegates for expenses to the State convention, which was responsible for the ousting of Senator Reed from his national convention seat, were said by committee members to be one subject which will be investigated.

Press despatches from San Francisco today showed that Goltra and Davis are still there, but Senator Kenyon said the committee would begin its inquiry into Mr. Palmer's campaign regardless of whether Goltra and Davis are present.

The committee today finished its hearings in Chicago with the testimony of Henry Lincoln Johnson, Georgia negro, alleged to have received $9,000 Lowden money, who declared supporters of Major General Leonard Wood (Continued on page six.)

LEHMANN RETIRES AS NATIONAL HEAD ENDEAVOR SOCIETY

Leader of Religious Organization to Venture Into Farm in Florida.

New Orleans, July 9.—Karl Lehmann, nationally known because of his work during the last dozen years in the interest of the Christian Endeavor movement, and for the last five years general secretary of the organization in the southern states, retired today, announcing his intention of taking up farming in Lake County, Florida, and assisting in the work of an agricultural school at Montverde. Mr. Lehmann's final official act was to render to the all-south christian endeavor convention in session here, his report on the five year campaign for christian endeavor organization in the south.

The report showed the organization during that period of 2,506 new societies in the 12 southern states with 250,000 young people added to the roll and the establishment of a sectional organization periodical. Three field secretaries have been employed for work in the south and a field secretary for the endeavor societies in China, the southern young people supporting them on a budget of $8,000. The societies, in addition, have contributed $27,422 to denominational missions in the south.

Charles F. Evans, of Lexington, Ky., is expected to succeed Mr. Lehmann as general secretary during the next year. The employment of additional field secretaries also was expected. Lawrence C. Little having been selected for work in Kentucky and Tennessee, Frank P. Wilson for Virginia and North Carolina and Samuel W. Denby for South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Alabama.

SAYS COX STRONGEST CANDIDATE DEMOCRATS HAD AT SAN FRANCISCO

Washington, July 8.—"Governor Cox is a million votes stronger than any candidate the Democrats had at San Francisco," Representative Claude Kitchin told the News and Observer correspondent today.

Mr. Kitchin believes the Ohian will make a fine race and bring all the so-called warring factions in the party back into line. The former majority leader in an admirer of the Cox way of doing things, having served in Congress with him.

"I believe the Democrats are going to carry the house by a good majority this time," Mr. Kitchin said, "and it will be in harmony with the Cox program. Having served in congress (himself, he knows something of legislative procedure and I look for great teamwork."

Former Governor W. W. Kitchin, who is here today on his way to New York state with his brother, expects to see Governor Cox get a great many wet Republican votes. "And he won't lose many of the dry Democrats because he stands for law enforcement," the ex-Governor said.

Neither of the Kitchins expect Cox to initiate any legislation favorable to the wets. He is satisfactory to the damp group chiefly because they are confident he will veto any measure modifying the present laws.

Governor Kitchin will spend some time with Representative Kitchin and Mrs. Kitchin at the summer home of Paul Garrett, on Lake Cayuga. They left Washington tonight and will be gone two months or longer.

MANY WORLD WAR VETERANS RUNNING FARMS IN JERSEY

Number of Modest Little Farms Now Operated by War Sufferers.

New York, July 9.—A number of modest little farms operated by veterans of the world war who have recovered from shell shock, gas or wounds, now dot the states of New Jersey, Connecticut and New York. The owners of these farms, most of them graduates of the New York State school of agriculture at Farmingdale, L. I., have been "rehabilitated" and are now making good as food producers with the same enthusiasm that took them over the top in France.

The transformation of most of these former soldiers who selected farming from among the subjects offered by the Federal Board for Vocational Training in many cases has been a complete metamorphosis of railroad brakemen, plumbers, policemen, mechanics and laborers. One recent graduate of the school was a bartender before the war and today he owns a thoroughly up-to-date place near Toms River, N. J.

According to A. A. Johnson, director of the school, there were 76 federal board men enrolled in June and a number of these have since graduated. Director Johnson was lavish in his praise of what the soldier farmers are accomplishing, declaring that not only were they doing their full share in the economic program of their country but "in a good many cases, considerably more than others less handicapped by wounds." He said they were about equally divided as farm tractor mechanics, general farmers, poultry raisers and hog breeders.

Archie A. Stone, former member of the Minnesota legislature, who is in charge of the work for the government, and has studied the results of the farm vocational training plan, said that it is producing results of a definite and permanent character. The students may have both theory and practice at Farmingdale 306 days in the year.

LEAGUE DIRECTORS OUTLINE PLAN FOR LAST HALF SERIES

Several Matters of Importance Discussed at Meeting Here Last Night.

SECOND SERIES TO OPEN NEXT MONDAY EVENING

Clubs Hiring Professional Players Hereafter Will be Heavily Fined.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Eastern Carolina Baseball association conducted in the chamber of commerce rooms in this city last night several matters of direct importance to the association were taken up which no doubt will mean much in making the last half of the series of greater interest to people in all six towns of the league who have been following interestedly the splendid showing made by each club.

Virtually every town of the league was well represented last night, in fact practically all club managers and presidents were present and participated actively in the number of discussions relative to provisions for the last half of the season which opens next Monday. There were numerous complaints presented, ranging from the hiring of players to promiscuous betting on games, but the directors handled the situation in a decidedly pleasing way and evinced a willingness of giving every town everything coming to it. This spirit on the part of the directors apparently eliminated arguments planned by those contending for supremacy without a cause, and as a result the meeting was brought to a conclusion with managers and presidents firmly convinced that the remainder of the season will be more favorable to all parties than ever before.

Probably the most important matter taken up was that of hiring players. Several clubs have intentionally and unintentionally violated the by laws in a number of instances, and complaints have been so numerous of late that the issue figured largely in discussion of the evening. The directors adopted a new section of the by laws regarding professional players, declaring that any club knowingly or unknowingly playing men with professional records would be fined $100 for the first offense, $200 for second offense, $500 for the third and disfranchisement for the fourth. It was also provided that games in which professional men are used will be forfeited to the opposing clubs, and that under no conditions will this decision be subject to change.

Committees were appointed to inspect all score books of the league next Saturday and declare the winners of the first series. It was also decided to open the second series Monday, and that Tarboro and Williamston should play off their protested game Saturday at Tarboro. This game was recently thrown out by the directors, and consequently necessitated the playing of another to decide the winner.

As a measure to protect all clubs from unfairness during the championship series a ruling was provided, declaring that no player will be allowed to take part in the series unless he has been with the club ten days prior to the series. This eliminated the probability of any single club being treated unfairly, and since the provisions will be strictly enforced it is confidently believed by many of the directors that not a single club will risk the responsibility of violating the ruling.

There are at this time seven players under protest in the entire league, five members of the Washington club, and two playing with Scotland Neck-Hobgood. The records of these men received attention and if they are found to be ineligible they will be laid off immediately.

The directors also adopted resolutions against betting on games and offering players money for winning games, for it was claimed that such action eventually will have a demoralizing effect throughout the entire league and cause the players to work more from selfish standpoint than from a desire to their best for the team which they serve.

FRIDAY, JULY 9TH, 1920.

Charlotte goes after sweet things, too. The city is to get large candy factory.

That fellow who regained his speech after being dumb for three years must have been so surprised at his new power of articulation that he nearly lost track of speech again.

Greenville has one of the most staunch-hearted set of baseball supporters anywhere in the country, for whether the team loses or wins the usual good crowd is present, hoping that luck will change after a while. This has proven true in number of cases, and it is just the kind of spirit that causes the boys to put out the very best in them. The pennant will be won in a determined way because of such loyalty, and whether we win or lose, no one can say the people have not supported the club as they should have.

Reports from agricultural departments of the country indicate that cotton crops are making excellent progress and are expected to experience much better growth than during the past several weeks. Good weather and plenty of rain works wonders with all kind of plants, so it is natural to expect that the production this year will be much better than one time expected.

McAdoo may have been defeated by convention delegates from Georgia, as some like to claim, but even at that they have nothing to crow about. Mr. McAdoo wasn't defeated, in fact, he had no desire for the nomination and felt greatly relieved in learning that Cox had won the victory. Georgia may have done its part against him, but it only rendered an unintentional favor.

Senator Harding, Republican nominee of the Republican party, will soon have his speech of acceptance ready for presenting to the party, so we are told, but if it's to be as broad and instructive as the platform we haven't any desire to hear it. The platform, in itself, is sufficiently out of harmony with present day ideals of government, and as the address no doubt will embrace many of the platform features it will prove about as interesting to the public as the platform itself. The candidate fits the platform admirably, the platform fits the party, but they both fail to fit the people.

Strikes occurring in the United States during 1919 numbered 3,374, according to reports recently presented by the Department of Labor. The figures show that 37 more labor conflicts were reported than in 1918, and it is expected that both will be much larger than for the present year unless the country becomes more seriously affected with social unrest during remainder of the year. Labor conditions last year were probably more destructive to industry than in many past years, due to unrest following the termination of the war. The situation is not at all pleasing now, but readjustment will come about naturally within the next several months and the country will be completely free of strikes and lockouts and other labor disorders.

WORLD-LOOKING FOR STEEL

Upon the United States rests the responsibility of making up the tremendous world-wide shortage of iron and steel caused by the war, says Herbert P. Powell, vice-president of the National Bank of Commerce in New York. In an article on "The International Market for Iron and Steel" which appears in the July issue of Commerce Monthly, that bank's magazine of commerce and finance.

Mr. Howell points out that the vast quantities of iron and steel used in the making of war munitions have left the world with a four years' accumulation of needs for such metals for industrial uses. Great Britain alone of the European producing countries today is capable of competition with this country in supplying this demand.

"The world is short of iron and steel," Mr. Howell says. "The United States, Great Britain and Germany produce 80 per cent. or more of the total iron and steel output of the world, while Belgium is a considerable factor in the international market. The war had varying effects on the industries of these three European countries. The case of Germany is clear. As a producer of iron and steel for the international market, that country need not be reckoned with at present. French production is dependent on German coal, and lack of fuel and industrial disorganization have thus far kept it much below the pre-war level. The Belgian industry shows encouraging features and exports are increasing, but domestic demand is heavy and the amount Belgium can export will not greatly affect the international market in the immediate future.

Governor Bickett has issued a call for a special session of the state legislature for August 10th, to discuss a new tax rate and the reversion act. He made no reference to woman suffrage for some unknown reason, but it is certain that the amendment will be considered before the convention concludes. The governor appears disinclined to either favor or disfavor the enfranchisement of women of the state, and if we are to judge by his message to the people in calling the special session of the assembly, he will have very little to do with action taken in the matter. In other words, he appears to be "on the fence" and leaves it entirely with the legislature, therefore, it is presumable that a long, bitter fight will ensue before any definite action will occur. Women of the state have employed every means at their command for recognition and it is certain they will receive excellent representation at the special session.

Governor Cox, Democratic nominee for the presidency, has informed members of the Louisiana legislature that no time should be lost in ratifying the woman suffrage amendment as the state owes it to the country as well as to the Democratic party. Woman suffrage has received an influential champion in Governor Cox and one who will mean much in final issues of the party. In fact, President Wilson and Governor Cox are probably two of the most faithful and ardent supporters for the enfranchisement of woman in this country, and it is certain that what they have to say will count much in final issues attending ratification of the amendment. Suffrage has been attacked from every side, but it still has a number of supporters who will use every influence in its final success.

Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, says that support of the Republican party "with a candidate standing fore-square upon the platform" is the only choice left "those who believe in safeguarding, protecting and preserving our Americanism." He certainly has a peculiar conception of Americanism if he thinks it is expressed by the Republican platform and candidate and needs to be taught the true principles as expressed by the Democrats. As this will be impossible, there is nothing to do but let the old boy jog along in the same rut, oblivious of the really great things in life.

Chairman Hays may be slightly disappointed in the selection of Cox by the Democrats, but he has plenty of time to recover. Getting a definite line on votes in Ohio was more difficult than he expected, but still he can't expect to be favored always. People have a choice of their own.

GREENVILLE WINS FROM WASHINGTON IN SPIRITED FORM

Locals Hit "Lefty" Wilson Almost at Will, Winning Contest by Score of 8 to 4.

Playing to a more direct advantage than in many days Greenville yesterday afternoon defeated Washington at the fair grounds in the city by the score of 8 to 4. The exhibition in many ways was entirely different from others staged on the local diamond recently for Greenville played fast and interesting in every inning, absolutely refusing to let the visitors gain any definite headway after the second inning. Every play was contested in a stubborn, insistent way, and even though the last part of the conflict was played in a slow, drizzling rain, both clubs battled determinedly and made every opportunity for securing an additional run count.

Jones, a new acquisition to the Greenville club, pitched in a smooth, easy way throughout the entire game, allowing the visitors only six hits which were well scattered after the first inning when Washington scored part of its runs by hitting opportunely. He pitched in an excellent way in pinches and held the visitors close to bases at critical stages of the game. The entire club rendered excellent support, in fact, far better than has been accorded any pitcher during the past several days, and this fact coupled with opportune batting was chiefly responsible for the victory.

"Lefty" Wilson, a choice product of Carolina, appeared on the mound for Washington, and while he started off in fairly good form, the locals found him in the second frame and hit the sphere at will. Six runners were sent around the home circuit in that frame and two others in the fifth and sixth. Wilson, however, was relieved by Persons in the fourth inning who pitched in good form, succeeding in preventing the locals from bunching hits when they would have counted for runs after the sixth inning.

Greenville scored its six runs in the second inning when Massey lined the sphere out for three bases; Duncan hit for one base, scoring Massey. Rodden found his way to first on a scratch hit, Duncan going to second; Jones was given base on balls; Ellis doubled, scoring Duncan and Rodden; Wrenn singled, scoring Jones and Ellis; Stringfield hit for two bases, scoring Wrenn. Two runs were added in the fifth when Massey hit safely, Duncan repeating, Massey going to second, Rodden sacrificed, Massey scoring; Kittrell singled, scoring Duncan.

Washington scored two runs in the first inning by bunching hits. Another tally was added in the fifth when Lewis hit for three bases, scoring Wilson, getting out himself at the plate in trying to stretch a good base hit to a home run. Person hit for three bases in the sixth inning, later scoring on sacrifice play.

AMUZU PARK QUITE A POPULAR PLACE.

Quite a number of people attended the square dance at Amuzu Park last evening. The old time fiddlers were at their best and as a result the dancers enjoyed one of the most pleasant evenings of quite a while.

The boating and bathing come in also for they showed an equal amount of pleasure to the patrons. The popularity of the place is widely spreading as is shown by the crowds now attending. It is the place to cool off and at which to get refreshed after or during such days as we are now having.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH NOTES

I wish to inform the people of Greenville. That in accordance with the conditions found here. That many have been misled by a previous inspector, who went out, and licensed privies which would permit flies to enter in to the privy fifth.

A sanitary privy is one that is built so well that flies cannot enter beneath the seat. Well fitted seat lids. Hinged on with two hinges. Made of old rubber belting or automobile tire casing, every crack and crevice chinked, or in some way stopped so as to exclude the flies and light from beneath the seat. A 4 inch vent pipe is required to comply with the specifications. Go over the privies and put them in a sanitary, fly proof condition, or there will be hundreds of indictments for maintaining an insanitary privy. A very careful examination of your privy will convince you that it is not a fly proof privy. Don't be caught napping by a state sanitary inspector after this notice or it will be costly sleep. Better do the repairs to the privy, then take your nap.

The state board of health stands willing and ready to furnish bulletins and any information desired free. Don't plead ignorance.

The committee was questioning Johnson about lynchings in the South. "They don't lynch men for belonging to the Republican party, do they?" asked Senator Kenyon.
