BIG LABOR LEADER TELLS WORKERS TO TAKE GOVERNMENT

John Fitzpatrick, of Chicago, Addresses Convention of Labor Party. DEFINITE STEP TOWARD FORMING THIRD PARTY President of Federation Wants Workers to Do as Russians Have Done.

Chicago, July 11.—Amalgamation of the committee of 48 and labor party of the United States with a common platform and common presidential ticket will be recommended to the two conventions tomorrow, it was decided tonight by their conference committees. After several hours discussion the conferees adopted three resolutions recommending combining of the two groups, and then took up discussion of a name for the new party.

John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor, a keynote speaker, brought the convention to the highest enthusiasm with a plea that the day would come when the working people of the United States would get together and do a job as the workers of Russia have done.

The biggest demonstration of the day was accorded this reference, delegates stamped and whistled and when one called for "three cheers for Soviet Russia," they were given.

Fitzpatrick declared there was nothing to prevent the "hand and brain workers taking the government out of the hands of—not Americans, but international financial pirates," and advised all the minority groups to unite on one ticket.

In opening the convention, Max Haynes, chairman of the Labor party's national committee, declared that "every political group assembled in this city agrees in substance to the platform," which the Labor party had formulated last November.

This statement brought forth prolonged applause, in which delegates wearing badges of the single, taxers, forty eights, and other elements attending the convention, joined.

The November Labor platform declared for nationalization of all essential industries, abolition of the United States Senate and of injunction power of judges in labor disputes, declared for the Plumb plan, high income taxes, world-wide disarmament, a national budget and limitation of the United States Supreme Court's power to veto legislation.

Deaths occurred shortly before 9 o'clock from acute intestinal inflammation. She passed away quietly in the presence only of her lady in waiting.

Her nephew, the Duke of Atha, at whose residence she died, was in France, and the other members of the family were absent.

Eugenie Marie de Montijo, former Empress of France, was born in Granada, Andalusia, Spain, May 5, 1833. She was the second daughter of Count Manuel Fernandez de Montijo, Duke of Penedera, and Maria Manuela Kirkpatrick, of Closeburn, Dumfriesshire, Scotland.

Her maternal grandfather was William Kirkpatrick, United States consul at Malaga, who was a native of Scotland, but a naturalized American.

LENINE SEEKING TO ESTABLISH SOVIET RULE THRU BRITAIN

Russian Soviet Would Start Nation Off on Jolly Period of Revolution. FREEDOM OF PRESS AND PEOPLE BE SWEEPED AWAY Winston Churchill Tells of Position Taken by Russian in His Deviltry.

London, July 11.—The Russia Soviet government, through Nikolai Lenin, seeks "to start the British nation off on that same career of revolutionary violence which has made Russia such a jolly place to live in." Winston Churchill, Minister of War, declared in an article published in the Evening News, answering a report by a British labor delegation which visited Russia and a letter directed to the British people by Lenin.

Should the Soviet system be established in England the War Minister believes that not only would freedom of the press and freedom of thought be swept away but the English labor leaders themselves would "share the fate of Kerensky, the Menshevik and social revolutionaries in Russia."

The War Minister charged Lenin with having ruined his own country and said it was natural he should wish "to have all other nations reduced to the same level of misery, in order that his own carnage may be covered in the general chaos," wrote Mr. Churchill.

Russia was on the threshold of victory, after all her struggles she was within reach of the goal. The German sent in Lenin, as poison gas sent in sealed cylinder and he robbed her of (Continued on page four.)

FORMER EMPRESS OF FRANCE PASSES AWAY AT MADRID

Empress Eugenia Passes Away While on Visit to Spanish Capitol.

Madrid, July 11.—Former Empress Eugenie, of France, died here this morning.

Death occurred shortly before 9 o'clock from acute intestinal inflammation. She passed away quietly in the presence only of her lady in waiting.

Her nephew, the Duke of Atha, at whose residence she died, was in France, and the other members of the family were absent.

Eugenie Marie de Montijo, former Empress of France, was born in Granada, Andalusia, Spain, May 5, 1833. She was the second daughter of Count Manuel Fernandez de Montijo, Duke of Penedera, and Maria Manuela Kirkpatrick, of Closeburn, Dumfriesshire, Scotland.

Her maternal grandfather was William Kirkpatrick, United States consul at Malaga, who was a native of Scotland, but a naturalized American.

The former Empress was educated in France, Spain and England, and traveled extensively with her mother on the European continent. She met her husband, Emperor Napoleon III, first in 1851, and married him in Notre Dame Cathedral, Paris, January 30, 1853.

Princ Napoleon, her only son, who was the Prince Imperial, was born March 16, 1856. The Empress had great influence over her husband, and on several occasions acted as regent during the absence of the Emperor when he was traveling or was with his army in the field.

STATE RENT LAWS NOT EFFECTIVE IN CITY OF NEW YORK

Recently Enacted Laws Fail to Deter Profiteering Landlords from Gouging. DIVERSE METHODS USED TO CIRCUMVENT LAWS Constant Flood of Complaints Received at City Offices Almost Daily.

New York June 11.—The new state rent laws are ineffective and have not deterred profiteering landlords from continuing rent gouging assaults on thousands of tenants in New York City, according to Leo Kenneth Mayer, chief council for the Mayor's Committee on rent profiteering.

The landlords are adopting diverse methods to circumvent the new laws, Mr. Mayer declared and have been successful to a certain extent.

The three chief dodges employed by the landlords as outlined by Council Mayer are to: Notify tenants that their leases will not be renewed unless they are willing to pay exorbitant rentals. If they refuse to meet this increase the tenants are then ousted by due process of the law.

Notify the tenants that the premises have been sold on the co-operative plan but offer to sell them the apartment, if they will pay the exorbitant sum asked.

Show a higher valuation on their property by inter-transfer of property through alleged sales and thus be able to extract a higher rental.

The first method, according to Mr. Mayer, is the most popular but is rather (Continued on page four.)

COX SAYS HE WILL SELECT TILLER OF SOIL FOR AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT

Dayton, O., July 12.—A real dirt farmer will be the next Secretary of Agriculture, if the Democratic party is successful at the November election according to statement made today by Governor Cox, the Democratic presidential nominee. His promise to appoint a real farmer as head of the nation's farming activities, providing he is elected, were made to a delegation of governors neighbor farmers who called at his home at Trull's End.

He said: "If elected President, I will select a dirt farmer as Secretary of Agriculture, a man who has tilled the soil himself and made a successful business of farming, in the doing of which he has demonstrated his efficiency as a business man."

Former Congressman T. T. Ansherry, of Washington, arrived this morning from San Francisco and gave the presidential nominee first hand details of the convention activities, which resulted in his selection to lead the party.

Mr. Ansherry told the governor that the credit for his victory goes to E. H. Moore, of Youngstown, his pre-convention manager.

Mr. Ansherry told newspaper representatives that the contest at San Francisco was between McAdoo, Palmer and Cox, and not between the administration and Cox. No announcement as to discussion of campaign plans was made.

In the afternoon the governor and Mrs. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Ansherry motored to the nominee's boyhood home at Jacksonburg.

The governor will go to Columbus tomorrow to resume work at the executive office. A reception is planned for him at the capital. In the afternoon Franklin D. Roosevelt, his runningmate, will stop over for a few hours on his return from San Francisco for a conference.

TWO NEGROES HURT IN DISORDER HERE SATURDAY EVENING

Louis Hopkins Shot in Raid Made by Police in Mill Town District. THAD GORHAM INJURED BY UNKNOWN ASSAILANT Gorham Shot by Assailant Before Raid of Police in Mill District.

Louis Hopkins, colored, is today in a hospital suffering painful injuries, and two other negroes, Will Brown and an unknown party, are at large as a result of a raid made by the police on an automobile in which the three were suspected of bringing whiskey into this immediate section on Saturday night.

Will Brown left this city Friday A. M. in a Ford car, after telling a negro woman that he was going for whiskey. The police having suspected him for quite awhile, waited Friday and Saturday for his return. On Saturday night they went into the "Mill Town" section to arrest a negro by the name of Elias King, who had broken into a freight car and stole a case of Salmon. On their return, and as they neared Fourteenth street, the police party which was composed of Chief of Police Jones, Officers Stokes, Wooten and Deputy Sheriff Williams heard a Ford car, and recognized the same as the one driven by Brown. They demanded that the car, which had the three negroes on the front seat and what looked to be boxes of whiskey in the rear, to halt. Instead of halting the car went faster. The officers thinking the only way to stop the car would be to puncture the tires proceeded (Continued on page four.)

Conditions Described as "A Lamentable Picture Which Should Cause Pity." Geneva, July 12.—The condition of the hospitals in Hungary is described as "a lamentable picture which should command universal attention and great pity" in a report to the International Committee of the Red Cross here.

After a recent trip across Hungary, Captain Burnier of Geneva, delegate of the International committee told of conditions as he found them in the various towns.

"At Szolnok," Captain Burnier said, "the epidemic hospital has been completely ravaged by the Rumanians. There is not even glass in the windows. The Comit Hospital is absolutely without medicine, the sick are not even anesthetized for operations."

"At Debreczen the childrens' deaf and dumb asylum totally lacks linen and shoes. The children of the municipal asylum are dressed in paper clothes. There are 80 beds for 120 children and many 13 months old babies weigh only 4 kilograms about nine pounds. The town hospital which has 400 beds has not linen, no blankets, no medicines. There were left only two half spoons of surgical thread with which to sew wounds. The maternity hospital and Gynecological Clinic have nothing at all."

"At Nyireghaza the Comit hospital has no linen for the sick, no medicine, no comforts to wrap babies in. The bandages and dressings must be used over and over again." Similar conditions were reported in several other places.

"The penury increases daily and no effort until now has been sufficient to re-establish a normal situation," Captain Burnier added.

"Such is the lamentable picture which presents itself at this hour and which should command universal attention on the great pity of the hospitals of Hungary."

LANDIS QUIET AFTER TURMOIL FOLLOWING IN WAKE OF BIG STRIKE

Landis, July 11.—Subbatical calm pervaded the village today yesterday's dramatic whirlwind, culminating in an hour of about the plainest talking that has ever been done by a Governor of North Carolina, when he laid down the law about bothering people who wanted to work and told the assembled multitude that picketing had to be stopped if it took every available soldier in the State to do it.

The citizenry took the Governor's statements home with them and pondered them deeply, and the overwhelming sentiment in the town is with him against the tactics of the comparatively few strikers who have kept the village in a turmoil ever since the mills started back to work ten days after four week's idleness. The general sentiment is that there will be no more picketing, and that the irconcilable element among the strikers will go away.

Yesterday was the first time that Landis had ever looked upon a Governor in the flesh. The town has been here a long time, sitting calmly beside the main line of the Southern Railway, watching its great limited trains thunder through, hearing some times that such and such a train carried such and such a President, or some other of the far off tribe of the great of the land. But none of these have ever noticed Landis until the Governor rolled into town yesterday morning at 9 o'clock.

All day long, while the Governor was closeted with representatives of the various warring elements concerned in the dissension grow-out of the strike. Taking at first hand what he wanted to know, lit the groups of citizens strolled past the hotel where the conferences were in progress, and from their midst one could hear such remarks as, "Have you seen him yet?" and "What does he look like—So and So said he spoke to him when he got here."

Anyhow the Governor owned the town after he got here, but no man ever owned a town with so little consciousness of proprietorship. He had right serious business in hand, and set about it right seriously. Whatever of self-consciousness any of the sundry delegations that came to see him, awed as they were by the fact that they were speaking with the Chief Executive of the State, he put away with a few pleasant words, and then got down to what he was after.

With the close of the services, a reception lasting nearly thirty minutes during which members of the congregation filed past the pulpit and shook hands with Senator and Mrs. Harding as well as Mr. Hays, followed Rev. Mr. McAfee stood beside the Senator and introduced the members of the congregation. In many instances particularly with the older members this was unnecessary, however, as the Senator recognized them and exchanged some recollections of the past he shook their hands. A large crowd greeted him as he left the church to enter his automobile.

"It has been inevitable, of course, that we have discussed some phases of the political situation during our visit," Mr. Hays said. "I can only say that every day more and more I congratulate the party and the country on Senator Harding's nomination."

Aside from conferences scheduled for tomorrow, Senator Harding announced tonight that he would see no callers from then until he had completed his speech of acceptance, adding that only one conference instead of two with newspaper correspondents would be held daily during that time. He said he hoped to finish his speech this week.

Assurance that he would receive the support of the large negro population in Illinois were today received by Senator Harding in a letter from Col. R. S. Abbott, of Chicago, publisher of a newspaper for negroes. A similar letter was also received from John W. Thompson, chairman of the executive committee of the New York State Republican council, a negro voters organization.

The proposed "front porch" campaign policy was one thing understood have been discussed at the conference today Mr. Hays, was understood to have told the Senator that many persons all over the country are urging a modification of the plan.

Members of the Eastern Carolina Tobacco association will meet in Wilson Tuesday, July 13, for the purpose of discussing an opening date for the markets in this section of the state. Mr. J. Frank Brinkley, of the local Tobacco Board of Trade, stated that it was quite probable the opening would occur either August 31 or September 1.

REPUBLICANS TALK OVER PARTY ISSUES AT HARDING'S HOME

Harry Daugherty and Hays Talk Over Campaign Issues With Nominee. SENATOR AND HIS WIFE ATTEND CHURCH SERVICE Republican Chairman Leaves Harding Home for Trip to New York.

Marion, Ohio, July 11.—Senator Harding, the Republican choice for the presidency, spent a busy day today, attending church services in the morning with Mrs. Harding and later discussing campaign plans at length with Will H. Hays, chairman of the national committee, and Harry Mr. Daugherty of Columbus, Ohio, manager of the Senator's pre-convention campaign.

Mr. Hays later left for New York, where he will spend the week conferring with Republican leaders.

This was the first time Mr. Hays has seen the Republican nominee since the latter's return home from Washington and they took advantage of the opportunity to discuss general campaign matters.

Mr. Hays arrived in Marion early before the Senator had arisen. Joined by Mr. Hays, Senator and Mrs. Harding attended services at the Trinity Baptist church.

With the close of the services, a reception lasting nearly thirty minutes during which members of the congregation filed past the pulpit and shook hands with Senator and Mrs. Harding as well as Mr. Hays, followed Rev. Mr. McAfee stood beside the Senator and introduced the members of the congregation. MONDAY, JULY 12, 1920.

The proposal constitutional amendment making divorce impossible sounds interesting, but it never will get through the senate in recognizable form.

That third party in the course of foundation in Chicago may succeed in getting a pretty good start, but it would be a pity to say what the end will be.

The Republican form of "preserved nationality" may appeal to many followers of the party, but it leaves a mighty disagreeable taste to those who appreciate a different way of preserving nationality.

The annual prevalence of blockading whiskey in Roberson county has caused the board of county commissioners to declare that all persons hereafter convicted with connection with the traffic will be punished to the full limit of the law. It is quite evident there are a number of other counties of the state would find it advisable to follow the example, for the traffic has become so wide-spread and demoralized in its proportions that the country is about as seriously affected as if there were no prohibition laws restricting the use of the beverage. There are many counties in the Eastern section of the state subject to the illicit traffic and unless immediate action is taken in the matter it is quite easy to surmise what the final conclusion to a deplorable situation will be. County commissioners and city authorities must more directly assert their authority, otherwise there is little chance of any decided improvement.

Both party candidates for the presidency favor woman suffrage, according to the latest reports issued from suffrage headquarters, but Senator Harding, so it is said, is more evasive concerning the principal issues than Governor Cox, so quite naturally the women are decidedly in greater favor of the Democratic position. The records of each candidate show that Harding is "varied, evasive and non-committal" regarding the issue, while Cox directly expresses his conviction, showing conclusively that he is a willing supporter, ready to exert every influence for woman's enfranchisement. The comparison is similar to the position of the candidates in other issues also, and points out in an interesting way that Cox stands firmly for the things which he thinks are best for the country. This fact certainly will mean something in November, for people approve of honest dealings in every matter of public interest and certainly will support the candidate expressing their ideals.

The position taken by Governor Bickett in the strike at Landis proves that he means to do everything possible for the laboring element, but that he also intends to do the best by every interest concerned. He investigated the strike and found that it was unjustified and without just cause and declared that people of the little town would have the protection of the state. The inalienable right of the working man is probably more directly recognized

CHILDREN LEAVING SCHOOL FOR WORK.

"What next?" Is the question that thousands of bewildered children have been asking during the past week as the school doors closed behind them for the last time. An army of over 1,000,000 children between 14 and 16 years old, says the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor, marches out of the schools each year to become wage earners. In a pamphlet entitled "Advising Children in Their Choice of Occupation and Supervising the Working Child" the Bureau tells what happens to these children and offers suggestions for helping them get the proper start in life.

Only a few children, according to the pamphlet, receive any help from their parents in finding suitable openings because parents do not know what opportunities are open to boys and girls, how to go about finding them, or what is the best thing for a child to do. The children begin an aimless search, making the rounds of factories, shops, and offices and answering advertisements. More than nine-tenths of them go into "blind-alley" jobs that require no skill and offer no opportunity to get ahead. Many drift from job to job, and become incapable of steady work. Some find work for which they are physically unfitted, sometimes to the permanent injury of their health. Some are without any employment for a time, since in many states the law does not require a child under 16 to have a job before he is excused from school.

These conditions, the bulletin points out, call for some organization in the schools, or in connection with the schools, to tell children what and where the jobs are, and what training and ability are required to fill them. While most vocational guidance and placement work in this country has been started by private organizations, it has been taken over in a number of cities by the schools. England's experience with her juvenile-labor exchanges shows that the most successful work is done in close co-operation with the school. In Austria where vocational guidance is now receiving special attention a careful study is being made of how to link up the work with the school system.

In school placement bureaus the child applying for work may be reached before leaving school and in many cases persuaded to remain, or provided with a scholarship to enable him to do so. In one city from 25 to 30 per cent of the children who come to the placement bureau are returned to school. The placement bureau in this school is a connecting link between the school room and the industrial or business world. It keeps in close touch with local industries and opportunities and helps to make school work more practical.

The placement bureau endeavors to place the child in work for which he seems best fitted and which offers the most promising future, even if that means persuading him and his parents to give up a job that offers a higher wage at the beginning. It attempts to keep in constant touch with the child after he has gone to work in order to learn whether he has been suitably placed and to help him adjust himself. Although no general schemes have so far been devised in this country for supervising the child at work, the requirements in some states that a child must secure a new employment certificate each time he changes his job offers opportunity for effective supervision.

Today more than ever before. Wages have been raised in proportion to the advance in the cost of living, and nothing but personal grievances, such as precipitated the disorders in Landis, can possibly be the cause of prolonged strikes. The country is face to face with too many distressing situations to endure the continued abuse of the laboring element when there is no just cause for such, and it is certainly proper that the state give every protection to the disturbed section and bring the strikers face to face with the fact that it is the right of every man to work, free from annoyance or molestation, or any kind and that any state is justified in using the utmost of its power in bringing about recognition of this fact.

Senator Borah of Idaho has been preserving unusual silence regarding the League of Nations for the past several days, but the position taken by the Democratic convention has been sufficiently effective to draw another statement from him. He thinks that "international courtesy" dwelt upon in the Democratic platform would prevent the United States, if a member of the League of Nations, from making any decision for itself on a question on the rights of small nations or self-determination of peoples even if the deliberations of the supreme court did not forbid such action. This assertion proves conclusively that Senator Borah believes in continued interference in small questions, but since his opposition to this promise is not as violent as against Article Ten it is natural to presume he will soon become consoled with the idea that there are enough things here in America to trouble about instead of meddling with determinations of smaller countries.

ed to shoot, and the occupants of the car returned the fire. Lewis Hopkins jumped from the car, and was injured on the back of the head. It was not ascertained whether he was hurt by the fall or by a stray bullet. Will Brown made his escape in the car, while the other negro who had also jumped from the car, made good his getaway. A few minutes prior to the raid on three negroes, in the Ford, a fight took place in the Mill section on account of a difference between two negroes and Thad Gorham was shot. He is also in a hospital.

The many friends of Dr. and Mrs. E. P. Spence regret to learn of the serious illness of their son, Eborn Hardy, 1 1/2 years old and who has been ill for sometime with pneumonia and is now in a critical condition. The sympathy of their many friends goes out to them and a speedy recovery is hoped for by all.

the victory she had all but won and which she might have shared with us. "A million Germans, released by his act of treachery, were let loose on the French and British fronts and nearly that number of British and French soldiers are dead or mutilated in consequence. In stead of victory he gave Russia shame and immeasurable disaster. "Lenine, destroyed the Russia republic. He dissolved the Russian Parliament. He had the bulk of its members hunted down and killed. He has robbed his country of victory, peace and freedom; and what has he given them in exchange? "Russia" the great food producing center of the world, wracked with famine; the towns depopulated to half their numbers; the workmen scattered, destroyed and the rest cowed or demoralized; hundreds of thousands of people driven to the woods and mountains to form "Green Guards" like Rob-in Hood in the Middle ages; the railways of which the whole economic civilization of these great regions depend sinking hopelessly in to absolute stagnation.

one year to legally evict his tenant. The cooperative selling plan, he declared, was one of the new inventions of the landlords to exploit the tenant. The transferring of property on the pretense of making a bona fide sale and thus increasing the valuation of the premises is one of the latest dodges, Mr. Mayer explained. By this method the landlord "sells" to a relative or business partner, then "buys" the property back again and thus runs up the valuation, which will command a higher rental under the state law. The entire legal staff of the rent committee has been placed at the disposal of tenants in their fight against the inclined to be fair are meeting their tenants in the offices of the committee and are arranging new leases with their tenants on definite terms. The rent committee which has been in operation for 15 months, handled more than 80,000 cases of which 62,000 have been settled in and out of court. Of the remaining cases 8,000 are listed as hopeless and no settlement is possible. There is a constant flood of complaint into the committee's office.

GREENVILLE DROPS SATURDAY'S GAME TO SCOTLAND NECK

Hyphens Top Off First Half of Series by Winning Game by the Score of 9 to 0.

The Scotland Neck Hyphens topped off the first half of the series of the Eastern Carolina League at the fair grounds in this city by taking Saturday afternoon's contest from Greenville by the score of 9 to 0. The game started off in a fairly fast and interesting way, but the visitors gained a definite lead in the fourth and fifth inning which the locals found it impossible to overcome during the remainder of the game. It was simply too much of Scotland Neck during the entire game for they played fast and consistently in the field, and made practically every opportunity for scoring count. Greenville, on the other hand, played poorly, probably more so than any other game in this city during the season, and at no time evinced the slightest inclination of overcoming the definite lead which the visitors succeeded in piling up in the fourth and fifth innings. Errors were not solely responsible for the loss of the game as on previous occasions of the kind, for hits were an impossibility at favorable moments and counted more to the Hyphens' interest than any other single feature.

Hancock, a new acquisition to the Greenville pitching staff, started the game off in fairly good form, but found it impossible to curb the batting spirit of the visitors at critical stages. In fact, hits were available at such moments, and as they were well placed and clean out of immediate reach of the outfielder it was naturally an easy matter for the visitors to send runners down the home circuit almost at will. Hancock, it is true, received poor support in the first part of the game, but he proved ineffective in heavy batting rallies, the visitors succeeding in getting fifteen hits off his delivery.

Johnson pitched an unusually good game for the visitors, to tell the truth, he probably held Greenville better on home grounds than any other twirler of the season, for he only allowed four well scattered hits and proved almost invincible even in the lucky seventh. He was given splendid support by teammates, and retaliated in a way that proved disastrous for Greenville and a big day for the Hyphens.

The last half of the series will be ushered in this afternoon with Washington scheduled for three games in Greenville. The new schedule provides for three game scheduled throughout the remainder of the season, and it is expected that much more interest will be created by three successive games than the broken way in which the games occurred in the first half of the series. It is expected that the three games with Washington will be of more than usual interest as Greenville will have several new players in the field and Washington, quite naturally, will do everything possible to show its superiority.
