PRESIDENT WILSON AND GOVERNOR COX TALK OVER LEAGUE

Both Party Leaders in Complete Agreement Regarding Important Issue.

STATEMENTS DECLARE SOLIDARITY IN PARTY

President Says Cox Will Have Vigorous Support of an United Party.

Washington, July 18.—The party of Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson, and Woodrow Wilson reconsecrated itself today to the promotion of universal democracy when its present leader and its chosen standard bearer in the coming campaign met and resolved that "the faith shall be kept."

Out of the conference this morning between the President and governor James M. Cox, the Democratic Presidential nominee, came a renewed determination to carry to the people of the United States the League of Nations as the chief campaign issue. The nominee made it known, in a statement issued just after the conference, that he will endeavor with all his strength to make good the promises of this nation respecting international problems, "the honor of the nation and to secure the peace of the world."

Three ringing statements from the conferees of the day, the President, Governor Cox, and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic nominee for Vice-President, completely punctured the bubble of dissension which Republicans had been blowing with great gusto for the past few days. The statements were entertained by Democrats as to complete harmony between the President and Governor Cox now and during the campaign.

What President Wilson fought for in Europe and what the Republican controlled Senate of the United States slaughtered twice in the two last sessions of Congress, Governor Cox and Mr. Roosevelt will fight for before the American people during the ninety days immediately following the acceptance speech of the former. This will be made in the early days of August and will reveal just the nature of offensive which the Democratic candidates will wage. Certain it is, from the statements today, that the Versailles pact, without emasculatory reservations will be carried to that "solemn referendum" of which the President spoke of in his Jackson Day address last January.

Governor Cox arrived at the White House for the conference with the President shortly after 10 o'clock this morning, and he was again the target for a battery of camera men. Although there were many out to watch his arrival at the executive offices this morning, there was no demonstration. There was a mixture of Sabbath silence and curious expectancy about the comparatively large crowd that lined Pennsylvania and Executive avenues to get a glimpse of the candidate.

The conference lasted for an hour after which the Governor saw and shook hands with Alabama's great stump speaker, Senator-Elect Tom Heflin, and thereafter discussed the recent convention and the party platform with Senator Carter Glass before engaging in another quizzing party with the largest group of Washington correspondents assembled at the White House in a long time.

THAD GORHAM DIES IN RALEIGH HOSPITAL

Thad Gorham, Col., who a few nights ago was shot in an affray by an unknown party in this city, died yesterday in a hospital in Raleigh, where he was carried immediately after he was shot.

News was received later that Lewis Hopkins, who was shot in a raid on an automobile the same night, was also dead. He was taken to the same hospital in Raleigh.

Mr. Harry Smith, of Weldon, spent Saturday night and Sunday here.

UNION SHOP PLAN TO COMBAT PRICES IN GARMENT TRADE

Profiteering in Women's Garments to be Fought Vigorously by Trade.

New York, July 19.—Profiteering in the women's garment industry will be fought with union owned shops, factories and stores by the international ladies' garment workers' union.

This became known here today when officials of the union announced that it has a committee at work laying the foundation for the first group of union owned factories, which are expected to be in operation by next Spring.

There factories are to be established, according to Benjamin Schlesinger, international president, to demonstrate that the workers can be paid first class wages, work less hours and enjoy better working conditions than they are now getting and reap a "reasonable profit" from their product and still sell at considerable under the regular market price.

The union proposes to sell its output to consumers through their own stores. The first group of six factories will be established in New York, together with a number of union stores, union officials said. Others will be located in Chicago and Philadelphia.

Ample funds for the factories have been provided by the international union, Mr. Schlesinger said, and later as more money is needed "union shop and factory assessments" will be levied to finance the project until it is put on a paying basis.

"We expect to be turning out medium and high price garments for the spring trade," A Baroff, secretary of the union said. "The first factories will probably employ about 1,000 workers to be selected by the union." They will pay higher wages than are paid by employers in the garment industry and a seven-hour work day will be in effect, he added. The workers now work an eight hour day with a half holiday on Saturday.

The local unions of the Ladies' Garment workers, according to Mr. Baroff are also taking steps on their own initiative to defeat the high cost of living by establishing cooperative restaurants and stores. A number of stores have been started in New York and a restaurant is being operated by unions in Philadelphia, he said.

AMERICAN DEAD TO BE CONCENTRATED IN FENCH CENTER

Heroic Dead of 27th and 30th Divisions to be Placed in three Cemeteries.

MANY CAROLINIANS IN NUMBER OF HONORED

Large Cemeteries Are Established to Take Care of Honored Heroes.

New York, July 19.—Concentration of the heroic dead of the 27th and 30th Divisions of the American Expeditionary Force in three cemeteries in France is suggested in letters received here today from Major General John F. O'Ryan, formerly acting commander of the 27th Division.

The 27th was composed mainly of men from the New York state National Guard. The men of the 30th Division came mostly from North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee.

General O'Ryan accompanied by Colonel J. Mayhew, Wainwright, and Captain George B. Gibbons, have been overseas for the last two months obtaining historical data in connection with the operations of the 27th Division and to investigate the condition of (Continued page two.)

COOLIDGE RESTING SEVERAL DAYS ON HIS FATHER'S FARM

Republican Vice-Presidential Nominee Seeks Quiet of Home Life.

Plymouth, Vt., July 19.—Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts, Republican nominee for vice-president is "on rest," with Mrs. Coolidge and their two sons John and Calvin, he is on his father's farm in the hills of Vermont. He finds the best way to rest is to rise early and help his father do the farm work.

The farm, a hilly one situated at the top of Plymouth notch, consists of over 200 acres, partly wooded and partly cultivated.

Long meadows of hay and oats are banked with fruit trees, heavily laden with sweet Vermont apples and juicy plums.

The farm house, sandwiched between the Plymouth Cheese factory and the home of Governor Coolidge's aunt, Mrs. J. J. Wilder, is a cozy New England home, white with swinging green blinds.

Reputable tea tao tao tao tao tao tao The Governor has risen at 6 o'clock every morning since his arrival on his 48th birthday, July 4. He usually puts on his grandfather's togs, consisting of an old flannel shirt, denim trousers and old fashioned cowhide boots, made at the Plymouth tannery in 1885.

He recites with interest the history of the boots. They were made for his grandfather when he was elected to the Legislature at Montpelier in 1858 and he wore them continually throughout the session. Governor Coolidge wears them now when he "tinkers" around the farm.

A frock which the governor wears when he works in the fields, is a relic of his grandfather's days. It is of denim and slides over the head like an army shirt and is not unlike the frocks worn by artists. In it, the governor portrays an entirely different man from the one who sits in the Boston capitol, immaculately attired.

By way of adding to his hearty appetite for the splendid country cooking prepared by his father's housekeeper, the governor frequently goes into the meadows before the mist has cleared and mows a good sized corner of the field before the breakfast bell rings. He says it is much more invigorating than golf and fully as remunerative although he humorously adds that "some chaps make more at golf than they would at farming."

PITT CROPS MAKE UNUSUAL PROGRESS IN LAST FEW DAYS

Crops in Eastern Carolina Show Remarkable Progress in Past Month.

TOBACCO CROP SHOWS INCREASED ACREAGE

Eighty Per Cent of Full Crop Gives Prospect of Unusual Prosperity.

(By FRANK PARKER.)

The crops of this section of North Carolina have improved remarkably even though they are still late, after the late winter and discouraging weather conditions during the spring. The June crop conditions improved seven per cent as the weather was very favorable excepting for some spotted hail hit sections. The crop forecast is favorable at present as announced by the state's Co-operative Crop Reporting Service at Raleigh, N. C.

Pitt county has 42,450 acres of corn or 99 per cent compared with last year, averaging 89 per cent in condition. The tobacco crop averages 74 per cent in condition. The acres are estimated to be 90 per cent of the 1919 crop, and cotton is reported to be 23,740 acres, or 96 per cent of 1919 and condition 72 per cent.

The North Carolina corn acreage this year is four per cent below last year's and indicates 89 per cent of a full crop prospect. The forecasted fifty-seven million bushels production is three per cent better than was made last fall. The present farm price is (Continued page four.)

EARLY FORMATION COMMUNIST PARTY TALKED IN BRITAIN

National Convention of Industrial Organizations to Organize Soon.

London, July 19.—An attempt will be made to form a Communist party in England August 1, at a national convention of "left wing" socialist and industrial organizations. Socialist bodies of the extreme left have been holding "unity conferences" intermittently for several months with that end in view.

The invitations to the convention point out that three points are considered cardinal by the promoters, the dictatorship of the proletariat, the soviet system, and adhesion to the third international.

The direct promoters of the convention are the British Socialist party, the anti-war majority section of which was once the Social Democratic party; the Workers' Socialist Federation, composed of Miss Sylvia Pankhurst's followers; and the Communist Unity group of the Socialist Labor party. The Socialist Labor party has not signified its intention to participate in the convention.

A great deal of discussion has arisen over the attitude the powerful Labor party may take toward the convention. The British Socialist Party is affiliated with the Labor party, but the Workers' Socialist Federation and the Communist Unity group have refused to be connected with it, and the Labor party itself so far has made no official pronouncement concerning the proposed convention.

There is a difference of opinion among the political groups as to whether the convention will succeed in forming a Communist party with a following sufficiently large to give it any considerable influence, but it is considered virtually certain that as a result of the convention there will be a big readjustment and re-grouping of socialist bodies to correspond to irreconcilable differences of policy.

LIPTON PLANS TO REMOVE BURTON FROM COMMAND OF THE CHALLENGER SHAMROCK

Sandy Hook, July 19.—Speculation today centered upon successor to Captain Burton whom Sir Thomas Lipton plans to remove as skipper of the Shamrock. Burton is still in command but the announcement that he will be succeeded is expected at any time. Captain Turner, sailing master of the Shamrock, was discussed as the new skipper, as well as several others. The race tomorrow will be over thirty miles, triangular course.

When the Lipton seventy-footer is found at the starting line for Tuesday's race, either Col. Neill or Designer Nicholson will probably be in command Sir Thomas' choice for skipper of the challenger is Mr. Nicholson, who not only designed, but built the Shamrock as well, and is also a yachtsman of ability, as shown in his contests in England. Whether Captain Burton and his wife, who sails on the challenger as the sloop's timekeeper, will remain on board the Shamrock after the wheel has been taken from the Gosport skipper, is not known, but the belief on Sir Thomas' steam yacht tonight was that Mr. Burton would not care to sail on the challenger under the circumstances.

The removal of a captain from a cup yacht during the progress of an America's cup match is believed to be without precedent in the history of cup racing.

Sir Thomas would not talk of Captain Burton's removal other than to say tonight when asked about the last two races that things were not going as satisfactory as they might. Sir Thomas continues to say that he is more than satisfied with the design and sailing ability of his latest challenger.

That things were not going well in the handling of the Shamrock in the last two races were not concealed either on board Sir Thomas Lipton's steam yacht, where Sir Thomas associates and friends watch the races, or on the tender Killarney, where officers and crew of the challenger are housed.

MILWAUKEE PLANS TO BECOME OCEAN SEAPORT SHORTLY

Passage of Measure to Open Great Lakes to Find City Fully Prepared.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 19.—Passage of the measure to open the Great Lakes Waterways to ocean navigation will find Milwaukee prepared to become an ocean port, according to Phil A. Grau, business manager of the Milwaukee Association of Commerce.

"No change in the improvement program for the Milwaukee Harbor will be necessary to prepare for ocean tonnage," Mr. Grau said. "For nine years, or since the organization of the Milwaukee Harbor commission, the harbor improvement schedule has been such as meets all requirements for every variety of ocean tonnage. Milwaukee commerce and industry long has seen that the opening of the Great Lake Waterways to ocean navigation is one of the inevitable matters of the future, however distant.

"Milwaukee already is favored with one of the best harbors in existence, designed on lines that meet all requirements for ocean tonnage. Shippers save much time through the terminal service, and much transfer expense. The differential on coal alone in the Milwaukee harbor is about five cents per ton.

"Milwaukee, like many other lake ports, already has marine interest equal to most of the ocean ports as regards both facilities and tonnage handling.

"If foreign shipments from the Great Lakes region could be started by water instead of being jammed through railroad traffic to reach seaboard, 30 to 40 per cent of the present traffic load

DEMOCRATS PLAN TO MAKE LEAGUE AN UNUSUAL ISSUE

Party of Jefferson, Jackson and Wilson Reconsecrates Itself to Work.

LEADERS AGAIN PLAN FOR SOLEMN COMPACT

Republican Bubble Punctured by Harmony Evident in Sunday Conference.

Washington, July 17.—Complete arrangement on the league of nations question and unity in their party's cause was declared today by President Wilson and Governor Cox, of Ohio, Democratic presidential candidate, after a conference at the White House. Meeting for the first time since the San Francisco convention, the President and the governor, together with Franklin D. Roosevelt, the vice presidential nominee, spent an hour on the south portico of the executive mansion discussing the league of nations and other issues. All three afterwards issued formal statements voicing solidarity of purpose. None made any reference to recently published reports that the chief executive and the presidential candidate were far apart on the league issue.

The President declared that he and governor Cox "were absolutely as one with regard to the one great issue of the league of nations" and that the nominee is ready to be the champion of the honor of the nation and the secure peace of the world. The party's choice, the President added, "will have the vigorous support of an absolutely united party and I am confident of an absolutely united nation."

Governor Cox declared in his statement that he and Mr. Wilson "were agreed as to the meaning and significance of the party platform and the duty of the party in the face of threatened had faith to the world in the name of America." He declared that he would give all his strength to the promise made by President Wilson to those who sacrifice in the great war.

Mr. Roosevelt's statement spoke of the "splendid accord" of the President and Governor Cox and expressed the wish that every American could have witnessed their conference. After the conference, the three party leaders had luncheon at the White House, and Governor Cox and Mr. Roosevelt later conferred with several party leaders before leaving at 4:30 o'clock for Columbus, where they will arrive early tomorrow to meet Chairman Cummins of the Democratic national committee and attend the full committee meeting Tuesday.

The conference on the White House portico held at 10:30 this morning was said by Governor Cox to have been devoted principally to discussion of the league of nations. The statement issued by the President follows:

"The interview was in every respect most satisfactory and gratifying. I know what Gov. Cox has let the whole world know in his speeches, that he and I were absolutely as one, with regard to the great issue of the league of nations and that he is ready to be the champion in every respect of the honor of the nation and to secure peace of the world. Governor Cox will have the vigorous support of an absolutely united party and, I am confident, also of an absolutely united nation."

The following cases were tried in Mayor's court this morning. James Williams, assault, $20 and costs. Julius King and Bertha King, assault, $5 and costs. Mary Mitchell and Quincy Hooker, disorderly conduct $20 each and costs.

Miss Lillie Tucker, of Washington, D. C. has arrived to attend the Tucker-Gaynor wedding.

Miss Pink Manning is spending a few days in Richmond with her sister, Miss Rose Manning who is taking treatment in one of the hospitals in that city.

MONDAY, JULY 19, 1920.

The third party appears to be making little progress, but it's probably hoping for better things after the campaign.

Harding is running his campaign by the front porch method, while Cox is waiting until after the campaign to consider the front porch, and recover from his bout with the Republicans.

Corn "licker" and "monkey run" be keeping up the price of corn, sugar and molasses in this part of the country, but what in the world is causing such a rapid advance in the price of rouge, face powder and other requisites of the lady's toilet. It is certainly not quality, so the only conclusion is that the girls are using it so extensively that manufacturers are having a difficult time to meet demands. Every thing's good in the right place, but too much is too much, as paused to tell us, moderation is the only thing to save for early decline in prices.

The party of "Forty-eight," the assemblage that promised so much at its recent conference, has failed completely to measure up to ideals of its followers, and there is everything in evidence to believe that the forty will get disgusted very soon and leave the eight with the burden to carry. There is not so very much invested, however, so it is not to believe the eight will get through without experiencing the dissension that split and apparently good little party into several separate parts.

Charlotte found room for bitter complaint in its first census count, but it has nothing to say now that the report only gives it an increase of twenty. Something must have happened to reduce the population while the government was making the first count, or it is possible that the poll had a "house cleaning" of undesirable before the second round. In either case, however, Charlotte has enough people to console it for several years to come, so after all, the kick doesn't men very much.

Senator Harding's keynote speech has just received its final polishing, so the public may be expecting something unusually brilliant. However, if it is based upon the Republican platform his brilliancy will lose some of its luster by not dealing with public questions more plainly and emphatically. The nominee and the platform compare favorably for the future fight of the party, but it is easy to see what the eventual outcome will be.

Greenville has one of the best sets of sports of any other town in the state, for the baseball club receives support whether winning or losing. The club made a rather poor showing during the first half of the series, but supporters stood behind it so firmly and faithfully that today the club leads the league for the last half of the season. Consistency in anything proves a winning feature, and if Greenville should win the last half of the series, it may be said to the credit of the sport-loving public that they supported the club in such a way that any appreciable bunch of players couldn't help from winning.

Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain says that the conference between Allied chiefs and representatives of Germany is the beginning of "big things" for the entire world, as the Germans were impressed by the seriousness of the allied representatives, and the allies in turn were outspokenly impressed with the manner in which the German delegation conducted its business and then consented to the fair and impartial demands of those who suffered most during the war. Mr. Lloyd George declared that he regretted the absence of American more than any other feature connected with the conference, for they would have brought to it a viewpoint free from European rivalries and features that caused the conference great trouble throughout the entire session. America's disinterestedness, he declared, and her spirit of fair play would have been an immense advantage to all parties concerned, for decisions would have had more weight, each country would have been more firmly convinced of complete justice, and all parties concerned would have been more fully satisfied with the outcome. The meeting, however, was a decided success, and there is considerable speculation as to what action Germany will take in its future intercourse with nations of the world.

AN IMPORTANT CONFERENCE.

The conference in Washington City today between President Wilson, Governor Cox and Franklin D. Roosevelt probably will mark one of the greatest eras in the annals of the country, as the president is fully familiar with all important questions of interest to the American people and will be able to give the nominees a clear understanding of certain facts relative to the future requirements of the country. His keen intellect has clearly defined the most pressing problems confronting the world today, and it is safe to say he will leave nothing untold while Governor Cox, as his successor, should be fully acquainted with. Governor Cox, as he has explained, will listen attentively to what the president has to say, for he recognizes the great ability of the man who has directed America's destiny so unswervingly for the past several years, and will accept every statement in a sincere way, realizing that the president is still vitally concerned about the future and the great work before the Democratic party. The outcome of the conference probably will never be known, but it is certainly believable that Governor Cox and his running mate will feel more capable of accepting the highest office which the party could possibly confer upon them.

Thousands of people met Governor Cox on his arrival in Washington yesterday, and if the cordial welcome Washington accorded him counts for anything, it is quite evident that he is going to have a mighty good pull "with the majority" in November. The public generally expresses its favor of a political candidate by vigorous welcomes, therefore, it is easily surmised just how America feels about the selection.

One of the planks of the new party provides for free speech. It is certainly fortunate that this provision was throughout of, for if there's one thing the American people like it's freedom in the use of the one of the greatest languages on earth. Restraining speech would be nothing more than eventual death in the estimation of American women for this is one thing they won't endure at any cost. So it is fortunate that the new party happened to mention its provisions.

Mexicans have been warned by the American government not to shoot across the border, but as similar warnings in the past were disregarded it is highly probable that the Mexicans will pay very little attention to the last message. They evidently think that the mixed factionalism of the country will prevent any drastic action on the part of America, but this government has long since lost patience and will no longer submit to any act not in accordance with international intercourse.

AMERICAN DEAD TO BE CONCENTRATED IN FRENCH CENTER

cemetaries in which the dead of the division are buried.
"To my mind the sentimental side of the cemetery proposition is quite clear," said General O'Ryan. "I think that the 27th and 30th Divisions should have three cemetaries, the first Lijssenhoeke (at Remy Siding near Poperinghe); the second at Bony, on the Somme, in the vicinity of the famous Hindenburg line; the third at St. Souplet on the Le Selle River, France and that the remains of all men who lost their lives in connection with, that is in the engagements leading up to or resulting from the Flanders operations, should be transferred to Remy. In like manner all deaths connected with, the Battle of the Hindenburg Line, to Bony and all related to the Battle of the Le Selle River to St. Souplet. As remains are transferred they should be reinterred by companies and regiments, so far as possible, but no attempt made to disturb existing remains in the three cemetaries named. If the families of our dead could know what we know of this whole thing, 90 per cent would favor this plan.
"Large cemetaries are already established at the localities mentioned and most of the 1968 dead of the 27th Division and 1,269 dead of the 30th Division have been collected there from the smaller plots where they were first buried. The thought set forth is to effect a further concentration of remains now at smaller burial places as Abele, Doloy, St. Emil's, Guillemon Farm, Busigny or elsewhere, to the three principal cemetaries named. All of these were found to be maintained in excellent condition by caretakers of our own of the British Graves Services.

If you lived next door to a Scenic Railroad you would never need go without a thrill—it's another case of "the schoolmaster's daughter always having her lesson."

By the same line of logic, the young men in Greenville and vicinity should be the best dressed men in the state, for no other city of like size in America can boast of better natural advantages so far as men's clothing is concerned.

Take this stock as it stands and it would do a land office business in a Fifth Avenue location.

Take our values and transplant them in Chicago and the news of their fairness would loop the loop in a fortnight.

Why man alive, if you live here in Greenville you own the world, so to speak. So what more can you ask.

GREENVILLE WINS FROM WILLIAMSTON IN 12 INNING GAME

Locals Win Out After Battling for 12 Consecutive Innings; Score 1 to 0.

By taking Saturday afternoon's 12 inning contest from Williamston by the score of 1 to 0 Greenville without a doubt completed one of the best records yet established by any baseball club throughout this section of the country, in fact, even in the big leagues. Out of the six games played last week Greenville won from and tied for the remaining two in twelve and thirteen inning contests. The first three games with Washington terminated with Greenville claiming the honor of winning two and tying for the third, were similar to those with Washington, with exception that they were more stubbornly contested and required more innings to win. The first game was brought to a conclusion in the eleventh inning on account of darkness with the score standing 3 to 3. The second game continued for twelve consecutive innings, Greenville scoring the only three runs of the game in the twelfth frame. In the third game Greenville won by the score of 1 to 0 after battling for twelve innings before the tide of battle could be changed in its favor.

To sum the entire week's activities up in a nutshell, Greenville won two straight from Williamston and Washington. Combining the thirteen inning contest played with Washington with the three in Williamston, the club played forty-eight innings without having only five scores made against it. Two of the hardest fought games of the season were taken after hard work, and the record is one that stands out distinctly as a challenge to any club playing professional ball in this section of the country. Both Williamston and Washington have strengthened considerably since the first of the season, and the first games last week of the first half may be considered pretty fair examples of the work to feature the remainder of the season, as every club will contest every inch of ground in a stubborn and insistent way, vying for the honors of the last half.

It is possible that the Saturday's game with Williamston may be considered one of the fastest played in the league during the entire season, for each club contested inning after inning in a way that would have done credit to veterans of the big league. Barnes for Greenville and Cox and Carroll for Williamston pitched probably more effectively than ever before, and only until the last inning, did either club seriously threaten the home circuit, Greenville taking advantage of the moment by a squeeze play between Barnes and Duncan, the latter scoring on a successful bunt. The play was pulled off so suddenly that the runner was almost in home before the bunt was placed in the field, but it happened to be a good one, and the runner landed across the rubber with time to spare.

The exhibition was an errorless one for Greenville, in fact, the club played one of the cleanest games of the year, and fielded the sphere in a way that brought gladness to the hearts of the Greenville fans who rushed the fury of the elements, and some the anger of mighty good wives, just to see Greenville take the last crack against Williamston. They saw everything expected and more too, for the way "Sacks" Barnes performed on the mound caused the situation to look rather gloomy to Williamston from the beginning. Barnes pitched in a slow, easy way throughout the entire game, and tightened up in a noticeably effective way every time the opponents got a man nearer home than he liked. Williamston only had one error credited to it for the game, but this did not prove very costly.

WASHINGTON DEFEATS HYPHENS IN FAST GAME

Washington, July 17.—Washington defeated the Scotland Neck hyphens here this afternoon by the score of 4 to 3. The game was featured by home runs by Spencer for the home club and by Crumpler for the visitors.

PINETOPS BEATS TARBORO IN INTERESTING GAME

Pinetops, July 17.—Pinetops defeated Tarboro here this afternoon by the score of 4 to 2. The game featured as the third played under the management of George Rivard for Pinetops, and showed quite an improvement for the locals both in the field and at the bat.

Greenville and Tarboro will begin a three-game series in this city today, and as Tarboro is one of the most stubborn contenders for the last half in the league it is generally conceded that the games will be of more than usual interest. Greenville is determined to make the week equally as good as that just past, and while some mighty good playing must be pulled off before this can be accomplished, practically ever member of the club is determined to do his best, so it is possible that the determination may be crowned with success after all. It is expected the attendances this week will be the largest of the year, as the splendid record established by the locals has created renewed interest in the game and even the rejected and pessimistic have come out admitting that the boys really are playing ball now.

PIT CROPS MAKE UNUSUAL PROGRESS IN LAST FEW DAYS

 $2.27 per bushel or 32 cents more than a year ago. The United States average is slightly increased from last year but the present condition of the crop forecasts five per cent less production. The state's cotton crop acreage is perhaps increased slightly with a 74 per cent condition. This was nine per cent lower than it was a year ago. The improvement during June was four per cent. The half swept section around Lenoir county, suffered heavily. The South's crop showed one per cent increased acreage, 71 per cent condition, the same as last year, but the crop approved during June from the lowest condition on record to the extent of over eight per cent. The present condition is slightly above the ten year average.

The Tobacco crop that put us to the front and brought so much wealth into northern and eastern Carolina is increased five to six per cent in acreage with a condition of 80 per cent of a full crop. This means that we have a good crop prospect and if prices hold up, we will have another high rank in the crop's value. Perhaps we may yet convince Kentucky of the importance of the crop in this state, since we are increasing the last year's acreage which surpassed her's. The value of last year's sales were certified to by western buyers as aggregating more than those of our rival. Our certified producers' sales amounted to fourteen millions of pounds more than the production that was officially estimated. A dollar bill last season bought just two pounds of leaf.

SINGLE MEN CHALLENGE

MARRIED MEN FOR GAME

Unmarried men of Greenville this morning issued a defiant challenge to their married brethren for a ball game here next Friday evening for the benefit of the Greenville baseball club, so it is expected that Greenville will have the opportunity of seeing some of its old material action in event the married men feel an aggressive as the single ones. Con Lanier probably will do the mound work for the young men, while either Bart James or Rev. James Turner will be on the firing line for those bound up tightly by the bonds of matrimony. The game will be interesting, if not fast, those who attend may be assured of pleasant past time as well as during their part in behalf of the Greenville league team.
