RAILWAY LEADERS TO SUBMIT AWARD FOR REFERENDUM

$600,000,000 Wage Award to be Submitted to Nation's Railway Workers

RAILROADS WANT RATE INCREASE 18 PER CENT

This Amount Found Necessary to Meet Addition to Increased Payrolls.

Chicago, July 20. — Whether the spectre of a nation-wide railway strike has been laid by the $600,000,000 wage increase granted today to more than 1,800,000 railroad employes ought remained undecided.

Brotherhood officials, after all day conferences, made no attempt to conceal their disappointment that they did not get all of the billion dollar increase they asked. The belief grew, however, in the absence of any talk of an immediate strike, that the union officials would submit the award, probably without recommendation to a referendum of the men. A decision on this point was promised tomorrow by W. G. Lee, of Cleveland, grand president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

Railroad representatives accepted the award philosophically and immediately set about plans for passing the $600,000,000 addition to their wage budget along to the ultimate consumer—in this case the man who pays the freight. Armed with reliable advance knowledge as to what the award would provide, the railroads had their figures ready. Judge R. M. Barton, chairman of the United States Railway Labor Board, had already handed down his decision when E. T. Whiter, representing the more than 400 railroad laborers, announced that the roads would need an increase of 18 per cent in freight rates to meet the wage boost. The Interstate Commerce Commission will be asked to spread the increase over both freight and passenger rates.

The $600,000,000 award represents a 21 per cent increase in the pay of railroad men. For the first time in history the roads' payrolls this year will pass the three billion mark. Mr. Whiter estimated the 1920 payrolls at $3,344,000,000, more than double the $1,468,576,394 paid in 1916.

The board's award was made retroactive to May 1, with provision that back pay for three months falls due August 1, when $150,000,000 is to be distributed in addition to the regular pay. Yard service engineers, firemen and helpers, who received an hourly increase of 18 cents will get the biggest back pay checks, their three months' award totaling $110.16.

In its decision, the board followed the broad general policy laid down by the Lane Commission, appointed in 1918, that the man who received the least should get the most.

The one notable exception to this general rule was the ward service men, whose 18 cents an hour increase topped all others. Here, the board explained, the deciding factors were the extreme hazard to life and limb and degree of skill required.

WHITE SUCCEEDS CUMMINGS AS DEMOCRATIC CHAIRMAN

Columbus, July 21.—Chairman White, Treasurer Marsh and other members of the Democratic committee are remaining here today after yesterday's meeting to meet with Cox and map out further organization details, including special campaign committees, location of several major headquarters and arrangements for notification ceremonies and finances. White, former Ohio congressman, succeeds Homer Cummings as the national chairman.

BRYAN FAVORED AS FUTURE LEADER OF PROHIBITION PARTY

Opening of Convention Brings Talk of His Nomination for Presidency.

GREAT COMMONER STANDS CHIEF OF PARTY FAVOR

Many Believe Election Possible With Other Parties Still Silent.

Lincoln, Neb., July 21.—Prohibitionists meeting here tomorrow in William Jennings Bryan's home town or their national convention chiefly favor Bryan for their presidential nominee, Virgil G. Hinshaw, chairman of the prohibition national committee, said today.

"Judging from communications coming to the Prohibition National Committee from all parts of the country Mr. Bryan stands chief in the affections of members of the Prohibition Party," said Mr. Hinshaw. "With the two old parties standing silent many believe he could be elected as president on the prohibition tickets."

Reviewing other possibilities for the prohibition nomination the party chairman said that Daniel A. Poling of Boston stood next to Bryan. Mr. Poling is associate president of the World's Christian Endeavor societies and was the keynote speaker at the 1916 prohibition convention. Mr. Hinshaw characterized him as a marvelous campaigner.

"Others mentioned by various contingents as possible candidates," said Mr. Hinshaw, "include Dr. D. Leigh Colvin, of New York, for 16 years president of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association; Clinton N. Howard, Rochester, N. Y., a well known chautauque speaker; Robert H. Patton, of Springfield, Ill., chairman of the Ill.

GEORGIA TOBACCO BRINGS HIGH PRICE IN OPENING SALES

Mr. F. D. Foxhall Reports Good Increase at South Carolina Opening.

Mr. F. D. Foxhall, who has just returned from South Carolina tobacco markets, this morning stated that practically all grades of bright leaf sold at the opening sales in South Carolina averaged over 45 per cent higher than last year, and that there is every indication that sales this year will be more favorable than one time anticipated.

The opinion of several hundred tobaccoists attending the opening sales, he said, conceded good prices for better grades on practically every market in this section of the country, but the outlook for common grades was rather discouraging. The entire sales in South Carolina including all grades, averaged 18 cents over 13 cents at the opening last year, and this fact, tobaccoists believed, indicated excellent prices for good grades of bright leaf on Eastern Carolina markets, although a continuance of low prices for common tobacco is expected.

Vidalia, Ga., July 20.—Expectations of higher prices for leaf tobacco this season were realized today with the opening of the tobacco markets of Georgia, the golden weed selling over $6 per hundred pounds higher than on the initial day last year. The average today was $27.30 per hundred pounds against $21 the preceding season.

The quality of the offerings is some better than last year's crop, with prices varying from 5 cents to 60 cents per pound for the lowest to the best grades.

FIRST BANK IN PITT COUNTY GROWS TO STRONGEST OF SECTION

The above picture will no doubt bring back memories of long ago to the older residents of Greenville, showing the first bank in Pitt County, located in Greenville on Evans street, which was established in 1891, and owned by W. S. Rawls and R. A. Tyson, and known as the Tyson and Rawls Bank. W. S. Rawls was president, R. A. Tyson, cashier; J. L. Little, assistant cashier and J. C. Tyson teller. The bank grew and prospered for several years, but the failing health of the president caused it to change hands, and in 1896, the name was changed to the Bank of Greenville, with R. L. Davis, president; J. L. Little, cashier, and J. C. Tyson, teller. It continued under this management a number of years, and then merged in 1912, with the National Bank of Greenville, which has grown to be one of the largest and strongest banks in Eastern North Carolina.

DEMOCRATS BENT ON WINNING HOUSE IN NEXT ELECTION

North Carolina or Georgia Will Get Speakership It is Believed.

Washington, July 21.—Georgia or North Carolina may furnish the next speaker of the National House of Representatives in the event of Democratic success in November.

It is more than an even bet, Democratic members of the House today, that either Claude Kitchin, of the Tar Heel State, or Judge Charles R. Crisp, of the Third Georgia District, may be chosen next March if the Democrats organize the lower branch of congress.

Democratic success is confidently expected by party men here and not in the stereotyped manner of stage politicians who pay no heed to the straws in the wind. The Cox-Roosevelt ticket, the chieftains declare, has struck a popular chord and this is sure to win out over the Republican senatorial oligarchy personified in Candidate Harding.

"There are more than one hundred Districts in the United States now held by the Republicans that we expect to overturn this fall," Representative Edward W. Pou, member of the Democratic Congressional campaign committee, said today. "We consider these districts not only debatable ground but we believe that we are going to win them."

"Of course," he added, "there are some Democratic Districts in which the situation looks dark now. It may be that in a few of them we will lose because of local conditions. In larger measure, however, especially where the issues of the party are the main concern of the voters, we are going to win."

The prospect of Democratic success is alluring, so much so that Democratic members of congress are doping out the committee assignments they expect to receive. On of the members doing a little figuring today found out that Representatives Gordon Lee, of Georgia will be chairman of the Agriculture Committee of the House should he return next March. This committee, under the Cox program of having a real "dirt farmer" as head of the Agricultural Department, promises to be one of the most important of the

Sir Auckland Geddes Tells Asheville Assemblage of Future Requirements

Asheville, N. C., July 21.—The making of international relations of the future is largely in the hands of the newspapermen of America and the British Empire, Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador to the United States, declared today in an address at the annual meeting of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association.

The hope of mankind that the last great war has been fought Sir Auckland said, could be turned by the newspaper writers of the English speaking world either to cruel mockery or advance toward realization.

Mutual understanding between the British commonwealth of nations and the United States matters more to the English speaking people and to the world than anything else at the present time, Sir Auckland declared, because without understanding there can be no friendship and without friendship there can be no co-operation.

"Would it be in your interest, would it be less costly for you to effect the expansion of your foreign trade, in late teeth of British opposition?" asked the Ambassador. "Would it pay you if you effected it in reasonable co-operation with us? Would it cost you less to build a navy commensurate to your needs in opposition to us or more in agreement with us? Would it help you to find difficulties largely of your

BOATS READY FOR FOURTH RACE OFF SANDY HOOK TODAY

Sir Thomas Lipton's Challenger Won Out by Close Margin in Race Tuesday.

Sandy Hook, July 21.—A dead calm prevailed along the racing line this morning when crews of the Shamrock and Resolute prepared to make sail for today's contest. It looked at an early hour as if the contest might be postponed.

The Shamrock IV, British challenger for the America's cup, sailed home wing and wing to her second victory over the defender Resolute today and placed herself within striking distance of the coveted trophy. Tomorrow's meet—if she wins it—will clinch the series for Shamrock IV, while Resolute must take three straight to keep the famous cup on this side of the Atlantic.

Today's race, the first of three starts in which both yachts crossed the finish line, saw the trim hull of Sir Thomas Lipton's challenger and her vast spread of white canvass always in the lead, save for a brief period at the start when her balloon jib top-sail fouled as it was broken out, and Resolute forged temporarily into first place.

The thrills were saved for the last 12 miles of the 30-mile triangular sail. Both boats had tared along in vagrant breeze, Shamrock steadily drawing away from her glistening white pursuer until the challenger came within about two miles of the second mark. There she caught a freshening northwester, and spurted up, breaking out her balloon jib top-sail and spinaker as she rounded the stake for a wing and wing run home before the breeze.

PROHIBITION PARTY OPENS CONVENTION IN NEBRASKA TODAY

Thirteenth Annual Convention Devotes Opening to Jubilation Over Success.

OPENING ADDRESS MADE BY CHAIRMAN HINSHAW

Party Chairman Outlines Work After Calling Convention to Order.

Lincoln, Neb., July 21.—The prohibition party opened its thirteenth annual convention today and is prepared to devote much of the three days sessions to jubiliations over the downfall of John Barleycorn. Indications are that such matters as nominees and platform planks would give way for at least two days for the jubilee. William Jennings Bryan is apparently the favorite for the presidential nominee, but friends here, claiming to speak for Bryan, reiterate the previous statements that he would not accept the nomination.

Lincolnton, Neb., July 21.—Calling the thirteenth quadrennial convention of the Prohibition Party to order this morning, Virgil G. Hinshaw, chairman of the prohibition national committee, told the delegates they had come together to "select a burial lot for John Barleycorn." The other political parties, he said, "out of respect to John's relatives have voted that he shall lie in state for another four years to be viewed by the American people."

"The Democratic platform is silent, the Republican platform is silent," the prohibition national chairman continued. "Harding owns brewery stock, he is not a prohibitionist at heart. Cox is wet. The future is before us, the campaign is upon us."

"We want to do the wisest thing, the best thing for the prohibition movement and for the country. It was our fervent wish that every political party would this year fall in line with the constitution of the United States, with the congress of the United States, with the Supreme Court of the United States and recognize openly and avowedly the settlement of this question. The other parties have failed. What shall we do?"

Turning to measures other than prohibition which the party had championed, Chairman Hinshaw said, "As we assemble here for the thirteenth time in fifty-one years we do so with a realization that we have had part in more than one battle and for the solution of more than one problem. While we have been a party with an eye single to the solution of one great problem we have at the same time at the solution and reached the solution of many problems."

"For example, we stood for woman suffrage in 1872, which was forty years before the Progressive Party was born and forty years before any other party assumed the same position. We advocated civil service reform the same year and thus preceded the Democrats by four years and the Republicans by twelve years. We championed the direct election of U. S. Senators in 1872. The Republican Party never championed that issue and the Democratic Party not until 1900 or twenty-eight years thereafter."

"We favored two-cent letter postage in 1872 and thus beat every other political party to that proposition by the space of sixteen years. We stood for international arbitration in 1876; the Republican party did not advocate it until 1904, or twenty-eight years thereafter and the Progressive Party not until 1912, or thirty-six years thereafter. We opposed lotteries and gambling in 1876; no other opposed such in platform or in convention."

"We went after the land grabbers and speculators in 1876 and thus beat the Republican Party to it by eight years and the Progressive Party by thirty-eight years. We have opposed polygamy since 1876; the Democratic Party never opposed that institution in national platform of convention. We have opposed the white slave traffic since 1876

WEDNESDAY, JULY 21, 1920

That Woman in Baltimore who found out that her husband was here legitimate father must have felt too embarrassed to consider the relation of their children's children.

Governor Cox may be pussy footing on the league of nations question, as Harding would have us believe, but he isn't suppressed by the narrowness of his platform.

Mexico wanted to start a revolution, but for some unknown reason it has made little progress. Mexico isn't contented unless in a state of ferment and disorder, and revolutions are only ordinary occurrences, in some districts.

Sir Thomas Lipton and the Sharrock appear to be winning out more through politeness than any other one thing, but before the race is over things may be so hot that even Sir Thomas may become confused long enough to remember that something more than good manners is required to win a boat race.

Labor leaders who felt somewhat pessimistic concerning outcome of the wage increase are probably now convinced that they got everything coming to them. That six million dollars distributed among the workmen is a desirable increase, and if there is any kick coming the railroader out to kick himself for being so inordinate.

but even at that suffrage will not be defeated. The thirty-seventh state is sure to come after awhile, so suffrage leaders say, and as they speak from a feminine point of view, it won't do to argue the matter at all.

Suffrage forces of this state have calmed slightly at this time, but consider the month of August and the stirring scenes to feature of special of the state legislature. The idea of revaluing women is somewhat new in this country, but its coming about so gradually that it is almost imperceptible to those not acquainted with conditions as they really are. North Carolina and Tennessee may fail to ratify.

A report by a German sub-committee investigating facts connected with the recent war show that President Wilson made peace overtures possible shortly before the period of unrestricted U-boat warfare, but that Germany underestimated America's resources and failed to take advantage of the opportunity. This single instance shows convincingly that the president did everything possible to avoid the conflict with Germany, but that his decision to carry on unrestricted warfare on the high seas made endurance impossible. There are many other incidents connected with the war that would tell more plainly than words of the president's admirable consideration of conditions throughout the entire conflict, so it is natural that the world should look upon him as one of the greatest statesmen living. Republicans may scold his name at every opportunity, but when history comes to be history in America, then, and then alone will the name of Wilson pass from memory.

NOT PUSSY FOOTING EXACTLY.

Governor Cox has firmly declined to gratify Senator Harding's desire to familiarize himself with his position on foreign affairs, so it is expected that the versatile Republican candidate will now have the pleasure of talking about something else of which he has no knowledge. Governor Cox has made it indisputably plain that he supports practically every ideal as set forth in the Democratic platform, and that anything which he might have to say regarding the campaign would not make the public any wiser concerning his intentions. Harding should be convinced by this time that there will be no pussy footing on the part of the Democrats in a single matter of public interest, and if he has awakened to this fact it is certainly time that he should get a perfectly clear conception of the situation.

The Democratic nominee represents Democracy in its every phase, in fact, it is possible that he goes a little beyond the platform in his ideals, for his purpose is firm, convincing and impartial, and probably comes nearer demanding the attention of the American people than ever before set forth by any candidate for the same office. Senator Harding's criticism, therefore, may be considered completely out of order, for foreign policies are not as interesting to the general run of American people as those applicable to developments at home. The truth is the Republicans have mistaken the governor's silence, and find it more ominous to the future than they would have it. For that reason, if for no other, the endeavor to draw him out is not having the desired effect, for the Democratic platform sets forth party principles, plainly and unequivocally, and as Governor Cox abides faithfully by its provisions, persons desiring to know what he stands for and supports have no further to go.

Senator Harding sees fit to attack President Wilson's peace treaty policy, but like several other things he has taken upon himself, the issue is going to prove of greater magnitude than he expected. President Wilson has forgotten more policy than Harding will ever know, so what's the idea of calling back old remembrances.

If Harding isn't satisfied with the Democratic foreign policy, he might make another of his own. There's plenty of room for improvement.

MOB VIOLENCE.

Mob violence is assuming such serious proportions in this state that it has become a matter of unusual consideration to those who look upon such occurrence with proper disfavor. Several instances have recently occurred in which state laws were defied by infuriated persons desiring to avenge the wrong committees against opposite races, and the state as a result must suffer the ignominy and shame of their action. There are too many people forgetful of the right of every person to receive consideration before tribunals of justice, and who take upon themselves the responsibility of another's life, North Carolina is not the state inhabited by the same class of people, for the world is full of them, and only the strong, relentless bonds of the law restrains the constant desire to avenge a wrong by forms of barbarism instead of those of an enlightened citizenship. It is a pity that the state should at his time be forced to endure such conditions as those reported from other communities, but it is same to say that public officials will not rest until the law has been fully satisfied that the wrong has been made right in every way possible. Every citizen should co-operate with authorities in discouraging mob violence, for in this way only will the country be made a safe place in which to live.

ALICE BRADY, REALART STAR, AS MARY MORTON IN SINNERS "Sinners" is the Foretell Story of a Country Girl's Uphill Figh in the Big City.

Mary Horton had come to the city to find work, but it seemed that every one was in league against her—her search was in vain. She was at her wit's end when she chanced to meet Hilda West, a girl from her own home town and whose name was now never mentioned back in Great Falls. She was the sort of a person "genteel" folks like to forget.

But it was through one of Hilda's "gentlemen" friend that Mary eventually secured the position as secretary to a certain Don Carroll, an artist and a "prince of good fellows." One day the model costume for Don's just completed "Summer Girl," tempted Mary with its alluring frills so she put it on and posed before the mirror. With a guilty start she realized that someone had entered the studio and was gazing at her. Turning, she saw Carroll seemingly enrapt. Slowly he came toward her, saying, "Keep the things on, little one. They're very becoming." For a moment Mary was tempted to take him at his word, but she realized that it would place her in a very embarrassing position. With a bewildered little laugh she attempted to pass, but—Don reaching out quickly caught her to him, and kissed her rapturously.
 This is one of the many big climaxes in "Sinners," which is the attraction at White's theatre tonight.

The bride and groom accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Tyre, and Mr. Fields, of Farmville motored over to Greenville and went immediately to the home of Mrs. Moye where they were married. Rev. S. K. Phillips, pastor of the Presbyterian church performed the ceremony. The bride wore a handsome gown of white Georgette Crepe. Her only ornament was a beautiful string of pearls, a gift of the groom. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Parker left for Farmville where they will make their home. Mrs. Parker is one of Farmville's most popular young ladies. She is the daughter of Mrs. Josephine Flynn and a niece of Messrs. A. J. and Moses Moye, of Farmville. She is an efficient trained nurse having received her training in Washington, N. GREENVILLE DROPS FIRST CONTEST TO TARBORO TUESDAY

Visitors Win Out by Fast Fielding and Opportune Hitting, by Score of 6 to 2.

Greenville dropped its first game of the last half of the season to Tarboro at the Fair Grounds in this city yesterday afternoon by the score of 6 to 2. The contest was decidedly slow and uninteresting as the wet condition of the diamond from the heavy rainfall during the morning and night before occasioned no little difficulty in handling the ball and caused the pitchers of both clubs unusual wildness throughout the entire game.

The double-header which was to have been played between the two clubs yesterday evening was postponed on account of the condition of the diamond, but it is the purpose of the management to call the two games this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock unless further rainfall eliminates the possibility of such action. Both teams were in prime condition for the double game yesterday, but the balls were in such condition at times that playing in the single game was awkward, and devoid of the usual life and energy on Greenville's part.

Tarboro evidently started off with the firm intention of claiming the game by all means, and by taking advantage of an error in the first inning Sheppard's occasional wildness and timely work with the willow, a definite lead was piled up in the first and second innings which the locals found impossible to overcome during the remainder of the game. The visitors played in airtight form, and handled the sphere errorlessly throughout the entire game regardless of its slippery and evasive condition. This fact, coupled with ability to hit with men on bases was chiefly responsible for Greenville's first defeat of the last half.

Greenville played good ball, with the exception of three rather costly errors that helped the visitors considerably in gaining the early lead. Runners were sent to the third corner repeatedly, in fact the bases were filled several times, but hits were absolutely out of question at such stages, the sides being retired in an unusually hopeless way. Sheppard pitched his usual steady game, allowing only nine hits, but those were gotten at opportune moments and resulted in runs. Tarboro probably saved the day in the second inning by replacing LaJeskie with Roth, a southpaw, who handled the situation in a pretty good way.

Tarboro started scoring in the first inning on a free pass to McArthur, followed by a safe hit by Lancaster; Bird doubled, scoring McArthur; Shirley bunted, scoring Lancaster; Llewelyn singled, scoring Bird. In the second inning Wilson started things off with a single, later stealing second; Wilson scored on wild throw home. McArthur singled; Lancaster hit safely; Shirley hit, scoring McArthur. The final tally of the game was added in the sixth on safe hit by Wilson, who later scored on a single by Gray.

Greenville did its only scoring in the second and seventh innings. Burle started the ball rolling with a single; Drescher was given free pass to first, as was Banks. Ellis was given free trip to first, forcing in Burle, and Edwards retired the side after breaking his bat in a vain attempt to knock the sphere away. In the seventh Massey hit for two bases, scoring Stringfield.

WASHINGTON FORFEITED CONTEST WITH PINETOPS

Washington, July 20.—The Washington-Pinetops game was this afternoon forfeited to the local club in the last half of the seventh inning following Pinetops refusal to play over a decision rendered by the umpire giving the locals the advantage of a pitcher's balk, and subsequent run. The score was 1 to 1 when the game was interrupted, but upon Pinetops' refusal to resume playing after being allowed a reasonable length of time, the umpire ruled a 9 to 0 forfeit.

 own creation or reactions to your actions in Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, in India and in every land in which the British flag flies as well as in every land in which the British trader does business and the British banks have branches? Would it harm you to find friends there and have to meet only the sort of competition that exists between rival concerns of the same nationality? On the other side would it help you if Britain to develop cotton growing on a great scale in her African territories because of a sense of instability created by a feeling of American lack of friendliness? Would it help you toward a solution of your problems in the Pacific if Australia were to become hostile to your interests?

"On the other side would it help us to be unfriendly to you? Again on the lowest basis would it pay us? The answer in every case is no."

"Then we have the great political and socio-economic problems which require solution—problems as wide as the world and as deep as the human heart. Will they be helped if you and we are unfriendly and bickering with one another? Will it help you or us if large areas of the world lapse from civilization to semi-civilization because you and we fail to co-operate with one another and with the nations whose social existence is threatened with economic chaos."

ing about the same as last year. All the big tobacco companies are represented on the Georgia markets, together with many independent buyers.

Farmers generally are well pleased with the prices paid for the initial offerings and prospects are for a good season.

The Georgia tobacco belt has come into being during the past several years, the golden weed being introduced extensively in sections where boll weevil made cotton growing unprofitable. Each year has shown a steady growth in the acreage planted and with farmers gradually learning the delicate art of raising the weed, still further growth will occur. The land is well suited for tobacco and the quality compares favorably with that in South Carolina and North Carolina.

The markets in South Carolina also opened today, with an increase in average price reported. As was the case in Georgia, tobacco men from all over the Eastern United States attended the opening sales to see "how it was going to sell." Among them are many from North Carolina markets, especially from Rocky Mount, Wilson, Kinston and Greenville.

Punch!

It is the man with punch and vigor who accomplishes the big things in life. Sound health gives him a force that sweeps all before it.

Back of his health is regular functioning of the physical organs; sound lungs, a good heart—regular bowel action.

Nujol will give you punch by keeping the poisonous food waste moving from your body—and by an entirely new principle.

Instead of forcing or irritating the system, it simply softens the food waste. This enables the many tiny muscles in the walls of the intestines, contracting and expanding in their normal way, to squeeze the food waste along so that it passes naturally out of the system.

Nujol thus prevents constipation because it helps Nature maintain easy, thorough bowel movements at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world.

Nujol is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. Try it.

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only, bearing Nujol trade mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, New York, for booklet, "Thirty Feet of Danger".
