DESIRE INCREASED INTRASTATE RATES ON ALL RAILROADS

Increases To Correspond With Those Asked For By Commerce Commission
ADVANCE PROVIDES NO ADDITIONAL INCOMES
Application to State Commission Being Prepared For Early Consideration

Washington, Aug. 1.—Rate increases granted the railroads by the Interstate Commerce Commission are designed to give the carriers an annual net operating income of $1,134,000,000, or $241,000,000 more than the standard return allowed by the government and based on the average of the three-year period immediately preceding Federal control.

This sum is $34,000,000 more than the roads made in their record year of 1916, but is $99,000,000 less than the total of $1,233,000,000 net operating income which they sought in presenting their applications to the commission.

Rate experts of the carriers will set to work tomorrow on the tremendous task of preparing the new tariff which it is planned to file in time for the increased rates—freight, passengers and Pullman—to become effective on September 1. On that date the Government guarantee of the standard return of $893,000,000 annually will expire under a provision of the transportation act limiting this guarantee to six months after the carriers were returned to have the control.

Experts of the commission and the carriers also will undertake to figure the actual money return which will accrue to the roads from the rate increases granted, which are about 33 per cent on freight rates 20 per cent on passenger, excess baggage and milk rates, and 30 per cent on charges for space in sleeping and parlor cars.

The actual increased amount to be received by the roads has been thoroughly estimated at $1,500,000,000, but until the new tariffs are put into operation the exact amount is problematical. With passenger fares increased one fifth and Pullman charges advanced one half, passenger travel probably will be reduced.

Based on the present passenger traffic, these increases are expected to yield the roads a return of $277,000,000, all of which was sought to help absorb the wage advance to railroad workers which the railroad labor board has informed the commission will work out at $618,900,000, instead of the $600,000,000 first estimated. The carriers have figured the increase at $625,000,000, but for the purposes of the rate case the commission said the board's figures.

ESTABLISH OFFICE FOR REGISTRATION OF PEACE PARLEYS

League of Nations To Open Office in London in Accordance With Terms

London, Aug. 2.—Sir James Eric Drummond, Secretary-General of the League of Nations has just notified the members of the League of Nations that an office for the registration and publication of treaties has been set up in accordance with the terms of the memorandum approved by the Council of the League at its meeting in Rome in May. A statement issued from the Secretary-General's office says:

"Article 18 of the Covenant of the League of Nations reads: 'Every treaty or international engagement entered into hereafter by any member of the League shall be forthwith registered with the Secretariat and shall as soon as possible be published by it. No such treaty or international engagement shall be binding until so registered.'

"And the Council of the League of Nations declared in its memorandum of May 19, 1920: 'Publicity has for a long time been considered as a source of moral strength in the administration of national law. It should equally strengthen the laws and engagements which exist between nations. It will promote public control. It will awaken public interest. It will remove causes for distrust and conflict. Publicity alone will enable the League of Nations to extend a moral sanction to the contractual obligations of its members. It will, moreover, contribute to the formation of a clear and indisputable system of international law.'

"A treaty will have legal existence after it has been presented for registration by the parties concerned, to whom a certificate of registration will be delivered. 'In addition, in a second register, a page will be reserved for each treaty. All relevant information will be entered therein signatures and ratifications by the parties and if necessary, subsequent accessions, or withdrawals. 'Certified extracts from this register may be delivered to states, tribunals or individuals concerned.

"The traffic in the city and county, too, is being kept well in hand at this time, and while reports from some sections convey the impression that 'monkey rum' continues to flow freely, it is not believed that it is out of ordinary proportions. Sheriff Dudley and deputies are covering the entire county in a pleasing way, and it is expected that the traffic will receive quite a setback within the next several weeks.

"The chairman of the Senate investigating committee, Mr. Kenyon, said the pre-convention disclosures made through the committee, and the fact that it was instructed by congress also to investigate presidential campaigns, will make the political managers careful of their expenditures and no disbursement which might cause unfavorable comment, even from opponents, will be made.

"I don't mean to say that anyone is afraid of the committee," said Senator Kenyon, "but the politicians realize that their expenditures are going to be scrutinized carefully and consequently they are going to cut out many of the usual items."

Senator Reed said economy would be forced on the political directors because they would not have so many large subscriptions as heretofore.

"Big business doesn't like to be publicly mixed in politics and many of the customary large subscriptions will be cut down," he added.

Senator Spencer also expressed belief that there would be considerable thrift in campaigns but, declared it would never go so far "as to eliminate the usual trumpet blare.

"There is no question, however, that the campaigns this year are going to be handled on a very careful financial basis," he said.

RAILWAY QUESTION IN IRELAND CAUSES UNUSUAL CONCERN

Practically No Civil Law Is In Force South of Boyne River at the Present.

BRITISH TROOPS ARE HEAVILY REINFORCED
Sinn Feiners Clear Country Of Barracks in Intensive Campaigning

Dublin, August 2.—The Irish railway situation apparently has resolved itself into a contest between the government and Sinn Fein, and all the moves on each side are calculated from that point of view.

If there is to be a general stoppage of all traffic each side is determined to make the other responsible for it, and there will be an argument as to whether it is a strike or a lockout. The government has been accumulating transport, and has no difficulty in conveying any quantity of guns and munitions to any part of Ireland. It has therefore not chosen to force the pace by tendering munitions for the Irish goods train which on the refusal of the railway men to handle them would have meant depriving Ireland of many of the necessities of life.

The trouble which has occurred has been solely on the passenger trains and has been mainly concerned with the carriage of small parties of policemen or of troops who are being used as supplementary to the public. At first when the railwaymen refused to carry them the soldiers of police took it calmly and returned to their barracks. Later on the government issued an order that

NEGRO NABBED FOR HAVING TOO MUCH WHISKEY ON HAND

Police Raid Home of Leon Patrick and Secure Three Gallons of Rum

Leon Patrick, colored, was yesterday afternoon placed under arrest by Officers Wooten and Jones following a raid of his home on Ketchikan street in which three gallons of whiskey were found stored away for traffic use, it is alleged. Patrick was later released under bond of $200. He will be given a preliminary hearing in county court probably today.

The police have suspected Patrick of being associated with the whiskey traffic in this city for several months, and while they had observed his movements closely, no evidence against him was secured until the raid yesterday. Information concerning the special supply of whiskey came through an indirect source but was convincing enough to justify an immediate investigation, which resulted in the location of the whiskey following a short and effective search.

The traffic in the city and county, too, is being kept well in hand at this time, and while reports from some sections convey the impression that "monkey rum" continues to flow freely, it is not believed that it is out of ordinary proportions. Sheriff Dudley and deputies are covering the entire county in a pleasing way, and it is expected that the traffic will receive quite a setback within the next several weeks.

AMERICA ALLOTTED FOUR SHIPS FROM THE GERMAN NAVY

Four of Five Famous Warships To Arrive In This Country Within The Week

BOATS AMONG THOSE IN FIGHT AT JUTLAND
The Frankfort Was Among the First Warships Used By Huns in World War

Washington, August 2.—Four of the five German warships allocated to the United States for experimental purpose were in the thick of the fighting at the battle of Jutland, according to naval intelligence records here. The vessels are due at New York from Brest, France, this week and under a clause of the peace treaty they must be destroyed within one year after their arrival.

The light cruiser Frankfort, now a wreck in machinery and being towed to the United States by the transport Hancock, was the first ship in the German battle line when it collided with the British grand fleet, while the 22,000 ton dreadnaught Ostfriesland was the ninth ship in the line, immediately in the rear of the flagship of the German commander in chief, Admiral Scheer.

Of the three destroyers, all of which are being towed over as a result of their submergence with the German fleet at Scapa Flow, the G-102 and the V-43 were in the forefront of the fighting throughout the Jutland engagement.

THRIFT PLAN WILL FEATURE IN FIGHT FOR PRESIDENCY

Campaign This Year Will Be Strictly on The Basis Of Thrift

Chicago, August 2.—Presidential campaign this year are going to be run on a thrift basis, in the opinion of several members of the Senate committee which has been investigating pre-convention expenditures of the various candidates who sought nomination by one or the other of the major parties.

Senators Kenyon Rep. of Iowa, Reed Dem. of Missouri and Spencer Rep. of Missouri all declare that the campaigns this year will be conducted with more care and consideration for the financial end than ever before.

The chairman of the Senate investigating committee, Mr. Kenyon, said the pre-convention disclosures made through the committee, and the fact that it was instructed by congress also to investigate presidential campaigns, will make the political managers careful of their expenditures and no disbursement which might cause unfavorable comment, even from opponents, will be made.

"I don't mean to say that anyone is afraid of the committee," said Senator Kenyon, "but the politicians realize that their expenditures are going to be scrutinized carefully and consequently they are going to cut out many of the usual items."

Senator Reed said economy would be forced on the political directors because they would not have so many large subscriptions as heretofore.

"Big business doesn't like to be publicly mixed in politics and many of the customary large subscriptions will be cut down," he added.

Senator Spencer also expressed belief that there would be considerable thrift in campaigns but, declared it would never go so far "as to eliminate the usual trumpet blare.

"There is no question, however, that the campaigns this year are going to be handled on a very careful financial basis," he said.

ONE OF PRINCIPALS IN TRIPLE TRAGEDY

Jean Odiseos, a young Greek, is believed to have killed his sister, Katherine Odiseos, and her lover, Thomas Apostolos, and then killed himself in an apartment house in Washington City Sunday night, July 25. The police have been unable to find a motive for the triple killing. The theory that Jean Odiseos was after money, has been abandoned. Odiseos and his sister were residents of Greenville.

CARL HAND KILLED IN ATTEMPTING TO SHOOT WHITE MAN

Herman Moore Shoots Negro Just in Time to Protect His Own Life

The coroner's jury investigating the killing of Carl Hand, colored, by Herman Moore, white, at Smith's store, near this city yesterday evening, this morning returned a verdict declaring the negro came to his death from shotgun wounds at the hands of Herman Moore, who was perfectly justified in his action in self defense.

Examination of the negro's body showed that Moore fired only one time, the entire load of shot taking effect in the head and practically tearing the top of the skull to pieces.

The shooting occurred at the good roads camp, in the northeastern outskirts of the city about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, according to evidence submitted at the investigation this morning, and resulted from an exchange of profanity between Moore and Hand about an hour before the shooting really took place. Mr. Moore was standing in front of Smith's store preparing to crank his car when Hand approached. The negro asked him "Why the hell he didn't crank it?" Mr. Moore told him that it was none of his business, with an accompanying expletive that seemed to incite the negro to greater belligerency.

Hand walked away several feet, telling Mr. Moore that he would see him later, uttering several threats at the time. A short time later Hand was placed under a $200 peace bond, but instead of making him peaceful the action precipitated renewed action. Hand made his appearance on the porch of a house only a short distance from the store shortly after and shook his fist at the crowd gathered in front of the store.

Sometime later he drove up in front of the store with a horse and buggy, pulled his gun in preparation for shooting Mr. Moore. But before he had time to fire, Moore took the offensive and shot just in time to save himself. There were a number of witnesses to the shooting, and those testifying at the coroner's inquest proved conclusively that the negro showed a spirit of malignancy that would have probably resulted in the death of Mr. Moore had he not shot in time to save himself.

Hand, who was about 25 years of age, was employed by the road force in the construction of the hard-surfaced highway from this city to Farmville. He bore the reputation of being extremely violent and abusive, having led a rather reckless life before coming to Greenville. Mr. Moore, who is about 25 years of age, is one of Pitt county's substantial young farmers, and bears the reputation of being quiet and orderly.

TENSE SITUATIONS IN IRELAND CAUSE GRAVEST CONCERN

Situation Has Resolved Itself Into Fight With the Sinn Fein Faction

GOVERNMENT FAILS TO ACCOMPLISH ANYTHING
Greatest Trouble Experienced In The Regular Passenger Train Service.

Dublin, August 2.—Fears that the Irish situation, which is daily growing more tense may burst into a general conflagration at any moment are expressed in responsible quarters here. At the present there is practically no civil law south of the Boyne river, except that administered by republican courts.

It is estimated there are between 60,000 and 80,000 fully equipped British soldiers in Ireland and they are being reinforced daily by men arriving from across the channel. As a result, there are more frequent and more stubborn battles between the troops and the republican volunteers who far a time had things much their own way. There have also been more arrests for carrying arms and seditious literature as reports to court martials show. It is expected the number of these arrests will increase if the government succeed in carrying its "drastic measures" in the house of common next week.

Reprisals by policemen and soldiers on village suspected of harboring men responsible for attacks against the armed forces of the crown are also expected here, the police being particularly aroused over the attacks made on their fellow members. In the meantime, the Sinn Feiners in carrying on their campaign have nearly cleared the country of barracks. They are now turning their attention to country houses where a military force might be housed, and a number of these have been burned during the last ten days.

Attacks on a coast guard station for the purpose of capturing explosives have been stopped, it having been established that this practice was imperiling the lives of seamen, who could not be warned of marine dangers except by these guards. Homes of coast guard are not immune, however, and a number of these have lately received attention in fact it is commented, nothing in Ireland is safe at present that might either be used against the republican movement or that might assist it.

ARMED BANDITS ROB CONGREGATION OF $400 COLLECTED FOR POOR

GREENVILLE REFUSES TO PLAY TARBORO CLUB AFTERNOON'S GAME?

A telephone message received from Tarboro this afternoon stated that the managers of the Greenville baseball club absolutely refused to play Tarboro in the game scheduled for today. No explanation was given for the action in the phone message, but it is expected that Tarboro refused to go into the field without eliminating number of league players from their lineup. These players, it is said, are not eligible for this league, and Greenville's protest, therefore, is well founded and justifiable.

AN UNPRECEDENTED SITUATION

The unfitness of silver as a monetary standard has again been demonstrated by the recent unprecedented movements in the price of that metal says an article on "The Silver Situation" in the August issue of the Commerce monthly, published by the National Bank of Commerce in New York. Within a year silver quotations have fluctuated more than 100 per cent in the London market and 70 per cent in the New York market, the bank states.

In some countries, the article continues, the high price of silver led to the melting and sale of hoards of silver accumulated during the war, and even the melting and sale of coins still in circulation. Some countries in order to retain their small change were forced to lessen the amount of silver in their subsidiary coinage or to substitute coins of base metal for silver. As a result of these developments the demand for the metal for coinage purposes slackened, and today the dependence of the world on silver for coins is less widespread than it was.

The bank emphasizes as an important factor in the high price of silver the decline in production, particularly in Mexico, where, largely because of the political disturbances, the output fell from seventy-one million ounces in 1913 to 28,000,000 ounces in 1914, only to fluctuate between the latter figure, and 63,000,000 ounces in 1919. There is no evidence, the bank says, that the mines in Mexico are becoming naturally less productive, and "there is every reason to believe that the Mexican output, once the political atmosphere has cleared, will be at least as large as before."

FITNESS OF CHILDREN

The preliminary report of the permanent committee on Standards of Physical Fitness for Children Entering Employment, appointed by the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor, is announced.

The report consists of two parts—General Recommendations and Minimum Standards of Physical Fitness for Children Entering and Working in Industry. The general recommendations advocate a minimum age of 16 years for entrance into industry on the ground that the period of pubescence, not completed in the majority of cases until the 16th year, is a time of special strain for the child. No child, according to the recommendations, should be allowed to go to work until he has had a complete physical examination, and has been declared physically fit for the particular occupation which he is about to take up. A reexamination of children when changing occupations and periodical examinations for all working children are deemed necessary. The need of special study by local administrative and medical officers of occupations in which children are likely to be employed is pointed out; and further scientific study of the effect of different kinds of work on the physique of boys and girls in their teens is declared to be essential. The fields which in the opinion of the Committee are in need of special research are listed.

The necessity for further study, the committee states, is urgent. However, on the basis of scientific studies already made and the experience acquired in administering child labor laws prescribing physical requirements now in force in a few States, it is possible to formulate certain tentative standards. These it is expected will aid materially in safeguarding children from the evil results of premature and unsuitable work.

The suggested standards cover normal development, indicate what constitutes sound health and physical fitness for specific occupation.

COMPARISON OF GRADE FIGURES

It is now possible, with the complete figures of the total trade of the United States in the fiscal year 1920, to compare the trade of the first fiscal year following the war with that of the last fiscal year preceding the war. These figures, says the National City Bank of New York, which presents this analysis of the foreign trade at the present time, compared with that of the fiscal year 1914 which ended just before the outbreak of the war, indicate tremendous gains, though it must be remembered that in nearly all cases a considerable part of the gains are due to higher prices. In practically all instances, however, there is a large advance in the quantity of the merchandise both imported and exported.

Imports as a whole, adds the Bank's statement, which stand at $5,230,000,000 for the fiscal year 1920, show an increase of 177 per cent over the fiscal year 1914, when they were $1,894,000,000. Exports, which stand at $8,111,000,000 show an increase of 243 per cent over 1914, when they stood at $2,363,000,000. Of domestic exports only, excluding the foreign merchandise re-exported, the total stands in 1920 at $7,950,000,000 or 241 per cent over 1914, when the total was $2,330,000,000. Re-exportation of foreign merchandise shows large gains, the total for 1920 standing at $100,000,000, against $35,000,000 in 1914.

Manufacturing material showed the largest increase on the import side, and food and manufactures the big increases on the export side. The value of the raw manufacturing material imported jumped from $634,000,000 in 1914 to $2,160,000,000 in 1920, an increase of 241 per cent. This increase occurred in many lines of articles, but especially in India rubber, raw silk, raw cotton, wool, silks, fibers, rubber, hides, and skins, tobacco, tin, copper, and gums, the quantity, measured in pounds, increased a little less than 50 per cent when comparing the 1920 imports with those of 1914, while the total value of the same articles increased to a much greater extent.

These increases in manufacturing material are in many cases extremely large, and illustrative of the great activity of the manufacturing industries of the country. Raw cotton, for example, imported in 1920 shows a total of slightly more than 340 million pounds against 123 million pounds in 1914; wool shows a total for 1920 of approximately 420 million pounds as against 238 million in 1914, and raw silk, despite the very high prices of 1920, which are three times as much as in 1914, aggregated in the fiscal year 1920 forty six million pounds, stated in round terms, again 29 million in 1914, while the unexampled demand of the people of the United States for silk and silk and silk goods are evidenced by the fact that the sum paid for raw silk imported in round terms $430,000,000 against $98,000,000 in 1914.

WHERE DOES BEAUTY GO?

What Becomes of White Hands?

Most women lose their youth and beauty because of too much hard work. The old-fashioned wash tub has ruined many white hands and made lines of pain and weariness come into many smooth faces.

There is absolutely no need for this. You can do your laundry at less cost—and practically without wetting your hands. Simply use Clean Easy Naphtholene Wash Soap, the wonderful labor saver that has made so many women happy.

Here's all you have to do: Soak your clothes over night. Shave 1/2 bar of Clean Easy into 4 1/2 gallons of water. Bring to boil and let the Clean Easy chips dissolve. Put in the clothes and stir for ten minutes with a stick. Rinse, blue and dry. Your week's washing is finished, clean, pure and wholesome; much better than you could have done it by rubbing and scrubbing for hours!

Clean Easy does not hurt the clothes. It simply attacks the dirt, grime and grease, loosening it, dissolving it and absorbing it in the boiling water that kills all germs.

Isn't that the best way you ever heard of for washing clothes? Isn't it the easiest, quickest and most economical? Just try it once and you'll be convinced.

Order Clean Easy from your grocer. Notice how different it is—and how different it works!

What Is the best Occupation For Your Daughter

A man in the employ of the U. S. Government, whose two daughters have made telephone operating their profession, said: "If I had ten daughters, I would want all of them to be telephone operators. Aside from the fact that they work under the direct supervision of women only and that every provision is made for their comfort, the training they receive is a great developer of tact, resourcefulness and initiative."

Telephone operating is more than a job. It is a young woman's profession and the work is essentially a woman's work. At the present time it offers unusual opportunities for advancement.

In most young women's professions months of preliminary training are necessary at the learner's expense. But in telephone operating the beginner pays nothing for her training. On the contrary, she is placed on the pay-roll as soon as she begins the brief course of instruction. Her salary is increased at the completion of this course and thereafter at regular and frequent intervals.

Some of the features of the work are: Good salaries from the start; permanent positions; regular and frequent increases; special opportunities for promotion; high grade, cleanly work; congenial and carefully chosen associates; light and airy central offices; comfortable recreation rooms; annual vacations with pay, and sick benefits and pensions without cost.

If you have a daughter who would like to apply for a position as telephone operator, or know of another young woman who may be interested, we shall be glad to see her and talk the matter over in detail.

The Range Beautiful

The strikingly beautiful outlines of the Copper-Clad Range stops every woman. As she looks and admires she finds that it is true beauty—the beauty of simple elegance and perfect proportions—of fine finish—the thoroughbred of the Range World.

Look for hinges on the above—two only on the oven door and they are long and smooth. There are 6 other doors yet not a hinge in sight, not a catch, nor hook nor latch. Built like fine automobiles, the hinges are all inside.

"Copper-Clad" Means

Pure Sheet Copper is placed BETWEEN the sweaty asbestos and range body. To place it elsewhere would be like climbing on top of a roof to get out of the wet.

This Set of Elegant ALUMINUM WARE Free If You Buy A Copper-Clad Range This Week

"Free" means that this ware does not cost Copper-Clad buyers a single penny. It is a reward for buying while the Crank is here and is offered by him to justify you in attending this sale.

This ware is very substantial and just the kind that you would select if buying for your own use. The 7-in-1 convertible cooker takes the place of seven different vessels, as shown by figures 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7. You can use this utensil in some form every day.

Free to every Copper-Clad buyer during this sale. Come—See the Asbestos Sweat

Copper-Clad Week, This and Next Week August 2 to 14

No matter whether you want a range now or next year or any other time, it will pay you to come to see the Copper-Clad Crank make the Asbestos Sweat.

He takes any piece of Asbestos, puts it between two iron plates— heats it—and shows you the sweat. You can roll it up in drops with your finger.

Every good range must be lined with asbestos to cage and hold the heat around the oven and keep down fuel cost. Every time the range cools off, the asbestos takes moisture out of the fresh air circulating through the range like a blotter takes up water. When you fire up, this moisture is driven by the heat to the outside against the cold range body and starts Sweat-Rust on the inside where you can't get at it even though you know it rusts. Sweat-Rust ruins thousands and thousands of otherwise good ranges every year. When the body is gone, the range is done for.

The Copper-Clad Idea is "Pure Sheet Copper Between the Asbestos and Range Body"

Copper never rusts. It may tarnish but it will last centuries. There are Copper Domes that have been defying the elements for hundreds of years. So, when we say a "Copper-Clad can't rust out," we mean that the copper lining overcomes all internal rust. Your greasy rag will keep the outside free of rust—and there are no fussy ornaments full of rivets and bolts to skin your hands. The Copper-Clad wipes clean like a dish.

If these things are so—you should know it. Not by hearsay—but by the evidence of your own eyes. Remember, this Copper-Clad Crank is here to tell—to show—to explain. He delights in it. You won't "bother" him by asking questions. He has oodles of time to answer and he is here to "Show You."

In a small town garage

near Greenville the writer noticed a much delapidated 1911 model automobile on which there was a placard reading—

ONLY $275—THIS WON'T LAST LONG

And it so aptly depicts the true side of false economy that it suggested this advertisement.

If every half shoddy suit marked $25 and $30 had a true inscription labeled on its lapel it would sound much the same as the above and would serve as an automatic stop in the sale of undesirable merchandise to the unsuspecting public.

This store would welcome a move of this sort—for we haven't a suit in the store that "won't last a good long while even tho' our prices this month don't look very healthy."

THE DOT RED CROSS By Clifford Leon Sherman

Mildred and her friend strolled off through the beautiful grounds that gave no hint that there was a war going on any place in the world. The garden was beautiful and joined on to a natural park. There was a little lake and swans were swimming lazily along. Mildred's friend caught sight of a uniform near the lake and moved nearer. Then she noticed that the wearer was bandaged around the head and was sure it was the patient she wished to see. She called Mildred's attention to the silent figure. Mildred took one look at the broad back and began to tremble like a leaf.

RAILWAY QUESTION IN IRELAND CAUSES UNUSUAL CONCERN

The soldiers or police should sit tight in the railway carriages and insist on being carried. They were also directed to present themselves at the next train starting for their destination.

Hence a series of spasmodic holds up of trains all over the country which cannot be relieved till the police decide to withdraw. Wherever the police insist on being carried the trains cease to run beyond that station, and the railwaymen responsible are dismissed. But the passenger trains which do not stop at that station are unaffected, and run through as usual. On the Midland line, this has meant that trains from Dublin cannot get past Athlone and Castlereagh, while trains up to Dublin still run.

The driver fireman and guard starting from Dublin convey their tips as far as the point where the police want to get on. They refuse to go any further, and there is a regular daily list of dismissals.

How small on the whole is the trouble so far may be estimated from the fact that the total dismissals after three weeks or a month's conflict is less than 60 on all the lines in Ireland. Business has suffered but slightly. The situation may be relieved any day by a decision of the government to send their men by motor. That would be hailed however, as a victory for Sinn Fein.

The Frankfurt, flagship of Rear Admiral Brodicker, was hit four times, but with a small calibre shell in each instance and stayed in the fight to the finish. The third cruiser behind her was sunk at the opening of the engagement. The Frankfurt, which has a speed of 28 knots, is believed to have participated also in raids on the British coast.

Although she was well up in line and her 12-inch guns worked throughout contact with the British fleet, the dreadnaught Ostfriesland, flagship of Vice-Admiral Schmidt, commanding commanding battle squadron No. 1, escaped without a major blow, but was damaged later by hitting a mine during the withdrawal to Wilhelmshaven.

Of the two destroyers, the G-102 was with the scouting forces, close to the Frankfurt, at the opening of the battle. She took part in the destroyer attack on the British battle cruiser divisions at 4:30 p. m., and later in the general engagement with the British destroyers sent out to cover the battle cruisers. The V-102 also was in the thick of the fight and was included in the flotilla that launched the destroyer attack under cover of which the German fleet began its withdrawal. The third destroyer in the group, the S-122, is believed to have been completed at the close of the war.

The warships will be opened to public inspection shortly after their arrival at New York and the Navy Department now is considering plans to send them to other ports. As only the Ostfriesland is able to proceed under her own power, however, she may be the only one of the group sent on an exhibition tour. The three destroyers are scheduled to go to Norfolk in two weeks.

GREENVILLE MOTOR CO. SELLS TO THE SAM WHITE MOTOR CO.

The Greenville Motor company this morning changed hands and will in the future be known as the Sam White Motor company. For several years the Greenville Motor company, under the management of Mr. H. C. Sugg, has been doing a wonderful business, and in passing into the hands of Mr. White it goes to another live wire in the business world.

Mr. Sugg will keep the Cole agency, but the Chevrolet car will be sold by Mr. White in connection with the other agencies which he now handles—the Dort and Chalmers.

Mr. Charles White will have charge of the new branch of the business. It has not been ascertained what Mr. Sugg expects to do, but in all probability he will remain in the automobile business, as he retains the Cole agency.

MARRIED MEN AND SINGLE MEN ARE TO CROSS BATS ON LOCAL DIAMOND TOMORROW

Wanted—an umpire to handle the game between the fortunate—single bliss—and the unfortunate—hen-pecked—tomorrow afternoon on the local baseball diamond. Only one requirement is made the applicant must either be a "widower or a widow." Neither single nor married men will be accepted, as it is against the laws of the constitution. The game was scheduled for last Friday, but as an umpire was missing, the players decided that they would postpone the game until tomorrow. The proceeds will go to the local baseball club and an interesting game is promised to those who attend. Remember the date—Tuesday, August 3, at 4 o'clock.

GREENVILLE LOSES SATURDAY'S GAME TO SCOTLAND NECK

A Series of Wild Throws Coupled With Errors Proved Disastrous for Greenville

The Scotland Neck Hyphens made it two games out of six from Greenville last week by taking Saturday's contest by the score of 2 to 1. The game was without a doubt one of the fastest staged in Scotland Neck this season as both clubs fought stubbornly for victory throughout the entire contest, and it is quite probable that extra innings would have been inevitable had not two errors, coupled with a series of wild throws, giving the Hyphens the decisive run in the ninth.

The game was in no way different from others of the series. Both clubs vied hard and determinedly for honors of the day from the first inning until the last, and it really looked as if the hyphenated crew was doomed to give the visitors the fifth victory of the week. However, luck swerved around so suddenly against the visitors that the game was won, over and recorded before the hysterical, bellowing crowd of rooters from various sections of the country really realized what had happened and were able to give vent to their restrained ecstasy in terms decidedly unmistakable.

In the fatal ninth Ellis fumbled a hot liner for a second or so, then threw wild to first base. After the runner reached third, Barnes got an opportunity of a decidedly stiff grounder, and hardly before anyone knew what had happened, the ball passed by Massey at the first corner and the runner had romped home with the winning tally. The game up to that minute had been a complete battle with both clubs showing excellent form, but like all other last minute events, the situation was completely beyond the control of the visitors and the wildness in the last moment was as unexpected as it was disastrous.

Greenville goes to Tarboro for three games today and as the Tarborians have established an unusually good reputation in recent games against the strong Washington aggregation, it is more than probable that Greenville will find them decidedly difficult to handle. Both clubs are determined to make the best of the last half of the season, but as Greenville is occupying the top of the standing of the clubs column, it is certain that every game will be contested for in an unusually satisfying way. Tarboro's successive victories over Washington, however, causes one to believe that she really intends to take Greenville's place at the top of the column if possible, but the fact that Greenville is so confident of holding its position as Tarboro is of taking it, assures everyone of something decidedly interesting.
