Polish Forces Sternly Resist Attacking Forces in Northeast District, Said

POLISH TROOPS FIGHT DESPERATELY ON LINE NEAR BREST-LITOVSK

Bolsheviki Troops Gain Definite Foothold in Bug River Vicinity, Reported

LONDON, Aug. 7.—The Russian Bolsheviki armies hammering at the Polish lines northeast and east of Warsaw seem to have encountered stern resistance. With the exception of the area around Brest-Litovsk, no new advances by the Soviet troops have been reported and even there they have been limited by the desperate fighting of the Polish troops.

Washington, Aug. 7.—Soviet Russia has followed up its success against Poland with a thrust into Southwestern Asia, and its forces already are threatening the Persian capital of Teheran. This rather unexpected move by the Bolsheviki is believed by some officials and diplomats here to be directed against British and French interests in the near East and Asia.

News of the Soviet army's advance south and west of the Caspian Sea was conveyed today in official dispatches from John L. Caldwell, American minister to Persia, and the American consul at Tabriz. The minister asked permission of the State Department to remove the American legation from Teheran in view of the preparations of the Persian government to evacuate the capital, while the consul asked authority to move from Tabriz.

Official observers here conceded that the opening of a new theatre of warfare by the Bolsheviki had complicated an already grave situation in Europe and the Near East. They also were of the opinion that this latest development would serve to hasten a decision by the allied governments as to general measures to be taken to check the Soviet menace.

Officials Study Situation The Polish situation engaged the attention of officials of the American government today more closely than it probably has at any time, and during the day Secretary Colby and Under-Secretary Davis had an hour's conference with President Wilson at the White House.

Dublin, Aug. 6.—Besides their resolutions acknowledging allegiance to Dail Eirrean and their sympathy with the Easter Week rebellion, the new Irish Local Councils are giving many evidences of an advanced Sinn Fein attitude. At Cavan they have decided to cut off the water supply to the military and police barracks.

AUSTRIA FLOODED WITH CHEAP 'COIN' IN MANY SECTIONS

Bartering Continues Without Interruption Throughout Former Monarchy

WIENNA, Austria, Aug. 7.—Only Americans of a generation ago who traded farm products at the crossroads store for everything from shoes to sugar can realize the extent of bartering in Austria today. With the country flooded with cheap money, the peasants' stockings and bank accounts fat with currency and legislation impending for a compulsory levy on fortunes, the paper crown virtually is spurned by those who produce the necessities of life.

For eggs or butter, cheese or white flour, fat geese and ducks, pork products and all the things that the Austrian city dweller must do without the peasant wants something more valuable than the paper constantly turned out by the Austro-Hungarian bank. Prodigious offers of crowns fall where a linen shirt, silk stockings—even much darned—rugs, musical instruments, shoes and such things bring results. The story of how the bourgeoisie and poor nobility of Vienna have parted with the wardrobes and furniture, their pianos and carpets, for food has been often told. Now everyone is getting back to first principles in trade.

Visiting a retired officer in his little country place the correspondent saw it work. The officer could not pay 500 crowns a pair for gloves for a wife and three daughters. But he had three roebuck hides from animals he had shot this season. He exchanged them for two dressed hides. The village glover made them into gloves faking in payment elder, mutton and some veal from the little farm.

Then came the problem of stockings, almost unobtainable in Austria. There were 11 sheep grazing on the place. Sheared they yielded enough wool to exchange for yarn sufficient to knit the family hosiery for the coming winter.

The apple crop of this tiny estate has been mortgaged for grain to a neighbor who has no fruit and the miller will take his pay in toll. The host who entertained in the little cottage now his home, filled with American and English periodicals, once trod the quarter deck of his own cruiser.

SENATOR ROBINSON NOTIFIES GOV. COX OF HIS NOMINATION

Senator From Arkansas Opens Government Officials Plan Simplification of Prohibition Enforcement

HAILS COX AS PARTY'S GREATEST CANDIDATE

Declares That Treaty Should Be Ratified With League Of Nations

DAYTON, O., Aug. 7.—Hailed as a candidate in whose selection "neither midnight combinations nor plutocratic cabals were instrumental," Governor James M. Cox was formally notified today by Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, chairman of the notification committee, that he had been chosen by the Democratic National Convention as the party's presidential nominee.

"The convention reached its decision through the exercise of untrammelled judgment by the delegates without inducement or coercion from political bosses," the senator said. "The honor and responsibility attending this nomination came to you because your position respecting campaign issues is known to be in harmony with the platform adopted and because the record of your public service demonstrates rare leadership."

Senator Robinson outlined the progressive legislative measures in which he said Governor Cox had secured against opposition. Of the budget system, included in the list he said:

"The measure has proved so satisfactory that the Republican nominee (Continued on Page 4)

ROOSEVELT SENDS GREETINGS TO THE NAVY DEPARTMENT

Vice-Presidential Nominee Of Democratic Party Bids Navy Farewell

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic vice-presidential nominee, today concluded his duties as Assistant Secretary of the Navy and left for Dayton, O., where he attended the notification ceremonies of Governor Cox, the Democratic presidential nominee.

Before leaving the department in which he had served for nearly eight years, Mr. Roosevelt held an informal reception at which he greeted officers and civilian employes. Later, Secretary Daniels, on behalf of the employes of the navy yards and stations and the Navy Department, presented the retiring officer with a silver loving cup.

Mr. Roosevelt bade the officers and men of the navy adieu farwell in the following message sent by the day radio to all ships: "Before leaving the service on August 9, I want to convey very simply to the men of the Navy my deep feeling at this separation after nearly 8 years. I am honestly proud of the American navy. I am happy, too, in the privilege of this association with it. No organized body of men in the nation is cleaner, more honorable, or more imbued with true patriotism."

WHOLESALE TRADE TO BE ELIMINATED IN WHISKEY SALES

Government Officials Plan Simplification of Prohibition Enforcement

RESTRICTIONS TO BE 'RIGIDLY' ENFORCED

Commissioner Kramer Declares Subterfuge Must Be Completely Stopped.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Elimination by the government of the wholesale liquor dealer as a means of simplifying prohibition enforcement appeared as a possibility last night with the announcement by Prohibition Commissioner Kramer that the issue of wholesale permits in the future would be "rigidly restricted."

Mr. Kramer declared that the whole traffic presented the greatest problem with which enforcement officers were confronted. Wholesale dealers, he asserted, resorted to subterfuge which perplexed government agents and which made the dry law difficult to enforce. This phase of prohibition enforcement was said to have developed consideration by officials of the Internal Revenue Bureau of a plan by which the quantity dealer would be taken out of business entirely and the liquor transfer made direct from bonded warehouse warehouses to retailer and consumer.

Although no decision has been reached and none probably will be immediately, the approaching period when wholesale licenses are renewed for the next calendar year is expected to bring the question to a head.

W. H. WOOLARD IS ACTIVE OFFICER AT LOCAL B. & T. CO.

Greenville Banking & Trust Co., Creates Office Active Vice-President

In order to take care of the enormous volume of business which the bank is now handling, the directors of the Greenville Banking & Trust company at a recent meeting created the office of active Vice-President and have elected to this position, Mr. W. H. Woolard, who is well and favorably known to the banking public of this State.

Mr. Woolard began his banking career many years ago as cashier of the Bethel Banking & Trust company, of Bethel, N. C., where he made an enviable reputation as a banker. He was later appointed by the Corporation Commission of this State as assistant bank examiner and he filled this office very acceptably for some time. His duties as bank examiner kept him from home and family a great part of his time and for this reason he felt it his duty to resign in order that he might be with his family. He was then elected as credit manager for the Pamlico Chemical Co., of Washington, N. C., a large fertilizer company affiliated with the Royster Guano company.

The bank considers itself fortunate in securing the additional services of Mr. Woolard who will act as executive vice-president. He will enter upon his new duties about August 20 and will be glad to meet his friends and the banking public and will be glad to have them call on him for any assistance that he may be able to render.

The election of Mr. Woolard as active vice-president does not in any way interfere with the duties of the present active officers and employes of the bank.

The directors also announce that an additional teller will soon be added, making three in all, and some changes will be made in the interior of the building whereby more space will be available to take care of increased business.

Great Throng Of Democrats Go To Dayton

JAMES M. COX

Democratic Nominee for the Presidency Who Today Was Notified of His Nomination in Appropriate Ceremonies in Dayton, Attended by Thousands of Democrats From Every Section of the Country.

MURDERS HUSBAND YEARS AGO, WOMAN IS NOT TO BE TRIED

Madame Huchez, Self-Confessed Slayer, Free Under French Code Law

BAYEUX, Calvados, France, July 21.—By Mail—Self-confessed slayer of her husband, whom she admitted having killed fifteen years ago, Madame Huchez walked away from the local court house a free woman, the police commissioner powerless under the law, to arrest and arraign her.

Madame Huchez and her husband in 1905 jointly kept the Inn of the Golden Lion on the outskirts of this town. Their marital life was unhappy, violent quarrels often breaking the monotony of long periods of sulkiness and mutual silence. Then one day Monsieur Huchez disappeared. Madame explained that he had abandoned her and eloped to America with another woman. She sold the Inn six months later and left the town.

A vicious horse lashed out with both heels in the stable of the 'Golden Lion' a few days ago. The kicking animal uncovered the broken planks of his stall, a rusty old trunk. It contained the skeleton of a man.

The police, remembering the disappearance of the former landlord, set out to find Madame Huchez, whom they promptly located at Grenoble. At their invitation she returned to Bayeux.

Cool and collected, she accused two former stable hands of having murdered her husband. Both had since died. Encouraged, and wishing to press her success, she linked the name of one Montroy as an accessory after the fact. He is still living and was immediately summoned. He admitted digging a hole beneath the floor of the stable and having placed therein, at Madame Huchez's request, a large trunk which the landlady told him contained silverware and linen that she wished not to include in the impending sale of the Inn.

Madame Huchez broke down confessed. The police took her at once before the local judge. He immediately discharged her from custody.

COX LAUDS LEAGUE WHEN NOTIFIED OF NOMINATION TODAY

The Democratic Candidate For Presidency Makes Speech Of Acceptance

DECLARES LEAGUE FORMS ISSUE BETWEEN PARTIES

Says First Duty of Administration Will Be Ratification Of The Treaty

DAYTON, O., Aug. 7.—National Democracy today took upon itself the battle gauge with its Republican opponents for America's greatest political prize, the presidency. With today's formal notification and acceptance by Governor Cox, of the Democratic nomination, the national campaign was on between the two dominant parties. Democratic legions by the thousands joined in the ceremony, all states being represented in the day's program which culminated in the Governor's speech of acceptance.

Dayton declared a complete holiday, and throngs traveled to the fair grounds. Marching delegations paraded the streets with blaring bands long before one o'clock, the hour set for the ceremonies.

DAYTON, O., Aug. 7.—Peace for America and the world by this nation's entrance into the League of Nations with "interpretations" not disturbing its vital principle was pronounced today by Governor James M. Cox, the democratic presidential standard bearer, as his paramount policy.

In his address here accepting the democratic nomination, Gov. Cox militantly championed the League as proposed by President Wilson, with interpretations insuring good faith and understanding, and denounced what he termed the dishonorable proposal from Senator Harding, his republican opponent, for a "separate peace with Germany."

League or no League, the democratic nominee declared, is the issue between the two parties—"the supreme issue of the century," he said.

"The question is," Gov. Cox declared, "whether we shall or shall not join in this practical and humane movement. President Wilson entered the League in our name, Senator Harding, as the republican candidate for the presidency, proposes in plain words that we remain out of it. As the democratic candidate, I favor going in."

"The first duty of the new administration will be ratification of the treaty," Gov. Cox said, predicting that friends of the League would rally to elect a Senate with the requisite majority for ratification.

Gov. Cox said the "interpretations" should state "our interpretation of the covenant as a matter of good faith to our associates and as a precaution against any misunderstanding in the future." Assailing the Lodge reservations as emasculating, Gov. Cox suggested two specific "interpretations," as outlined several months ago in a newspaper article. One declared America's continuance in the League should depend upon the League's being only as an agency for world peace; the other stated the understanding that this nation could act only within the Constitution, declared unalterable by any treaty.

A Polish counter-offensive resulted in the Reds being pushed back over a forty-five mile front. Another drive like this and the Bolsheviks will feel like the tide of victory is really changing after all.

Reports still inform us that the high cost of living is expected to take a gradual drop at an early date, but as such information has been continuing regularly for the past several months, it is easily conceivable what the result will be.

A Wilmington writer declares that honey is flowing freely in that section of the country. So with this good information on hand, it is easy to see that we can all sweeten up after the campaign without going to much trouble about it.

The thrift habit is being preached in many sections of the State, but it looks like the more people preach the doctrine the more men and women are inclined to curtail production. Maybe if some of the thrift habit was cut out and replaced with actual production, the country might be in much better condition shortly.

If Senator Harding doesn't leave the front porch today they are liable to do something in Dayton that will make him wish he had. The fact is, his campaign is just a little too slow for the times, and he would probably get about as good results at the back door as the front, as far as the general run of people is concerned.

Governor Cox thinks that former president William Howard Taft would be an important factor in the suffrage fight, and is exerting every possible energy to get the gentleman more intensely interested. Mr. Taft, it is believed, cannot refuse to use his influence in this great issue, and should he do so it is easily believable that his work will show great results at the conclusion of the campaign.

Dayton, O., today will be one of the most of the prominent places in the entire country as its people will have the pleasure of seeing their distinguished governor become an avowed candidate for the nomination of the presidency on the Democratic ticket. It is possible that a greater honor might be bestowed upon a reason, but in America being a president is about the best that anyone could ask for. Ohio has given many political leaders to the party, but in Governor Cox, it has given its very best.

The strike and subsequent rioting in Denver, Colorado, goes to show that labor unrest in this country is still a matter to be considered, and while it is true improvements have been noted in many vicinities, it is nevertheless plain that the situation everywhere must be handled with discretion, impressing the working man with the necessity of keeping at work and refraining from retarding production. Conditions at their best are far from being normal, so it is up to the people to do everything possible in bringing about an improvement.

Representative Crisp, anti-suffrage leader of the legislature, appears to think that suffrage is going to be defeated in this State. While, of course, he may be correct in his conclusion, it is probable that he has made a mistake and summed up the situation in a different way from that of many members of the same body. Woman suffrage is of greater interest than the representative thinks, and the work now in progress in virtually every section of the state is going to bring greater results than any one would suppose. The day of woman's enfranchisement is drawing nearer and nearer, and whether North Carolina ratifies or not, some other state will and the suffrage amendment will become a part of the national constitution.

A STAUNCH TREATY SUPPORTER

Those Republican senators who found so much pleasure in opposing the ratification of the treaty of peace and the League of Nations may not be so much elated now that Governor Cox has come out and made both issues the most prominent feature of his notification address. The Democratic candidate for the presidency believes as do all other staunch-hearted Americans that the treaty should not be on an open issue with Germany at this time and that it should have been settled long ago. This opinion is not confined to a majority of the people, but to practically every man and woman who are looking to the future, and have confidence in America's prospects for greater commercial development along practically every line of industry. They all think alike, and heartily agree that President Wilson was right when he declared that the Senate interfered at a time when the country would suffer irreparable losses from its action.

In his support of the peace treaty today, Governor Cox showed plainly indeed that it is not a question of time involved in a decision in the matter, but that every American should concentrate his energy in seeing to it that this efforts count for its early success. He spoke plainly concerning the matter, and made it quite evident that America's participation in the League meant more than any one at this time can possibly conceive. President Wilson's belief that it is one of the greatest documents in the annals of the world's history, were expressed by the presidential candidate in a strong and appealing way, and there is little doubt but that his message will carry with it the great influence of both his career and personality.

The Democrats will exert every possible influence in bringing the treaty and league issue to a final completion during the coming campaign, and they will do just that regardless of the strong opposition which may be incurred from other sources. America has astonished the entire world in its delay to attend to these important matters, and the sooner they are closed permanently the better off the country will be. Just a few other supporters like Governor Cox and his followers would mean much to eventual success, but those who have followed the campaign from its inception are confident that the future will witness American participation in the League of Nations and their final ratification of the treaty.

What Is the best Occupation For Your Daughter

A man in the employ of the U. S. Government, whose two daughters have made telephone operating their profession, said: "If I had ten daughters, I would want all of them to be telephone operators. Aside from the fact that they work under the direct supervision of women only and that every provision is made for their comfort, the training they receive is a great developer of tact, resourcefulness and initiative."

Telephone operating is more than a job. It is a young woman's profession and the work is essentially a woman's work. At the present time it offers unusual opportunities for advancement.

In most young women's professions months of preliminary training are necessary at the learner's expense. But in telephone operating the beginner pays nothing for her training. On the contrary, she is placed on the pay-roll as soon as she begins the brief course of instruction. Her salary is increased at the completion of this course and thereafter at regular and frequent intervals.

Some of the features of the work are: Good salaries from the start; permanent positions; regular and frequent increases; special opportunities for promotion; high grade, cleanly work; congenial and carefully chosen associates; light and airy central offices; comfortable recreation rooms; annual vacations with pay, and sick benefits and pensions without cost.

If you have a daughter who would like to apply for a position as telephone operator, or know of another young woman who may be interested, we shall be glad to see her and talk the matter over in detail.

Call Chief Operator.

CHARLIE ADAMS' MINSTREL

PLEASES LARGE AUDIENCE

The Charlie Adams Minstrel, which stopped over in Greenville last evening on its way to New York—?—where it goes to fill an engagement of several months, gave an interesting and varied program at White's Theater for the benefit of the base ball club here, and it was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. Mr. Adams was the very personification of grace, and presided over his black-faced comedians—?—in a charming manner. The singing was exceptionally good and the jokes and clog dancing will long be remembered by the large audience.

Mr. Adams is to be congratulated upon the success of his minstrel, and as a result about one hundred dollars were added to the baseball fund.

GREENVILLE DROPS FRIDAY'S CONTEST TO PINETOPS CLUB

Hefty Organization Wins Out Over Locals in One-Sided Game, 7 to 3.

Pinetops showed up in surprising form in this city yesterday afternoon, and as a result, won out from Greenville by the score of 7 to 3 in a decidedly one-sided contest which featured in several costly errors and the inability of the locals to hit at opportune moments. The exhibition was by no means similar to the one of the day before in which the locals took Tarboro in tow, for animation was lacking from the first inning, and that fact showed conclusively that the boys really had a day off, regardless of their desire to win.

The hefty organization from Pinetops probably showed better form than in several days, for the worked effectively with the willow, and fielded in a way that assured victory from the first inning. The entire club played consistently and determinedly, and at no time permitted an opportunity for a timely play to slip by them. The field work was considerably superior to Greenville's in many ways, and was more responsible for the victory than any other single feature connected with the game.

The first part of the game was contested by both clubs in a fairly satisfactory and interesting way, but in last stages, Pinetops commenced hitting the ball in a quick and entertaining way for the fielders, and before those in the grandstand really discovered what had happened Pinetops showed the winning runners across the rubber and had the game completely clinched. Greenville several times got runners on bases, but in only three instances did they successfully circle the home circuit. Inability to hit was more responsible for the loss than any other feature, for with men on bases, timely hits were absolutely impossible.

Both clubs were greatly handicapped because of the wet condition of the diamond from a heavy rainfall during the morning and afternoon, and playing at times was very difficult indeed. Pinetops, however, handled the wet balls considerably better than the locals, and for that reason gained a direct advantage, particularly in the final innings.

Pinetops will play a double-header with Greenville here this afternoon, and if the diamond should be in proper condition it is expected that fans will be given two of the best games of the season. The "hefty" organization is playing a mighty good game, and promises to give Greenville a decidedly stiff run for the last half of the series. It is expected a good crowd will attend both games, owing to the interest manifested in Greenville's excellent chance for capturing the honors of the last half.

No room for doubt was left as to the Governor's position on the League as the pre-eminent political battleground. As on other subjects, he stated his position squarely.

"We are in a time which calls for straight thinking, straight talking and straight acting," he said. "It is no time for wobbling."

In position, the League question led the candidate's address to it he devoted three thousand words of the 10,000-odd total.

has declared for a similar system of coordinating national income and expenditures."

The democratic platform was "clear and unmistakable" in its meaning as to the League of Nations, the senator said, while the Republican platform on the subject was "beyond the power of the human mind to analyze or understand" and susceptible of various constructions.

"We believe," he continued, "that the treaty should be ratified and that this country should cooperate with the League of Nations for the preservation of world peace."

The republican nominee has declared for defeat of the treaty and the rejection of the League. He has made clear that it is no longer a controversy about reservations. It is proposed to restore peace by act of Congress instead of by treaty and to leave unsettled all the vexed and difficult questions growing out of the war. It is proposed to place Germany on an equal footing with our government in the negotiation of the treaty, to leave her at liberty to reject our just demands and to attempt to impose upon us unreasonable conditions.

At another point Senator Robinson said it was reported by the press that the republican nominees had agreed in conference "to base their campaign primarily on the necessity of wresting the government from what they term 'personal control' and restoring 'party control.' This implies that other features of the Chicago platform are to be subordinated to the false issue based on prejudice and misrepresentation that President Wilson performs the role of dictator."
