FEARLESS AIRMEN MAKE NEW RECORD IN DROP TO EARTH

Dayton Flyers Go Up 20,600 Feet, One Dropping in Great Parachute

NARROWLY ESCAPE DEATH IN DESCENT

Washington, Aug. 12.—Army aviators have long since ceased to get many thrills out of routine or even "stunt" flying, it is said, but an exception should be made in the case of two sergeants who recently set out to break the world's altitude record for a parachute jump at McCook field, Dayton, O., according to an Air Service announcement. The men were Sergeants Stroug B. Madan and Ralph Bottrell.

The sergeants, without intimating the nature of their objective, took the air in a Le Pere two-seated plane with Madan as the pilot and Bottrell wearing a standard army parachute of the double-pack type. After flying for an hour the plane had reached an altitude of 20,600 feet and Sergeant Bottrell started to climb out of the cockpit to make his jump.

The release ring of his parachute, however, accidentally caught on the fuselage of the plane and the parachute opened prematurely, dragging the sergeant out over the tail of the machine. Bottrell's arm struck the rudder of the plane as he went by, tearing some ligaments of his arm and ripping off a sleeve of his fur-lined flying coat. A strap of his harness at the same time caught the rudder and tore it from the plane. The parachute itself was damaged but opened as the sergeant cleared the machine and started his long descent.

Sergeant Bottrell lost considerable blood from his injured arm during the drop, but made a safe landing in a plowed field and received medical attention in time to prevent any serious result from his injury. Meantime, Sergeant Madan, in a rudderless airplane 20,000 feet in the air, was having troubles of his own.

TEN SCHOLARSHIPS TO BE AWARDED TO STUDENTS IN PARIS

Party of Young Americans in Berlin to Assist in Y. M. C. A. Endeavors.

NUMBER OF STUDENTS SERVED DURING WAR

Russians Found in Pitiable Condition With Assistance Very Necessary.

Berlin, Aug. 12.—A party of young Americans, all Rhodes scholars, has arrived here from Oxford University to assist in the Y. M. C. A. relief work in connection with the repatriation of Russian prisoners of war.

They will be assigned to various prison camps throughout Germany where 175,000 Russians are awaiting ships to take them home. About 25,000 already have been sent from Stettin to Narva but there are so few ships available it may be months before the last of them can be embarked. Meantime the Russians are suffering severe privations.

Almost without exception the American students served during the war with the American Expeditionary Forces or were associated with relief work in Europe. Their leader is Francis P. Miller, of Lexington, Va., a graduate of Washington and Lee University. Other members of the party are David M. Amacker, Lake Providence, La., and...

W. L. BROWN DIES SUDDENLY AT HOME IN CHARLOTTE, N. C.

Remains of Former Pitt County Man to Be Interred Here This Afternoon.

The many friends of Mr. W. L. Brown, who formally lived in this city, but who has for the past few years made his home in Raleigh, will be grieved to hear of his sudden death in Charlotte yesterday, where he was visiting. Up until a short while before his death he seemed to be enjoying good health, and it is thought that his death was due to acute indigestion.

Wyatt Livingston Brown was born in Greenville Oct. 10, 1855, being a son of the late Dr. William Brown. In his early manhood he married Miss Hattie Lloyd, of Tarboro, who died several years ago.

For many years he was a merchant and insurance agent in this city, giving this work up eight years ago when he went to Raleigh to accept a position with the Revenue Department. After his visit in Charlotte he intended to come back to this city to make his home having accepted the position as supervisor of tobacco sales. Mr. Brown numbered his friends by the score and was admired by all with whom he came in contact.

He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. W. L. Jenkins, of Charlotte, one son, Mr. W. L. Brown, of Charlotte, four brothers, Messrs. Wiley, James, W. B. and Dr. Zeno Brown, all of this city, and one sister, Mrs. L. V. Morrill, of Snow Hill.

The remains arrived this afternoon on the 5:40 train the interment following in Cherry Hill cemetery. He was buried with Masonic honors. The sympathy of the entire community goes to the grief-stricken family.

SINN FEIN FACTION REFUSES TO CARRY OUT COURT ORDERS

Councils in Ireland Decline to Collect Court Awards to Claimants.

COURTS AWARD OVER $5,000,000 IN TAXES

Relatives of Those Maliciously Injured Are Without Assistance.

Dublin, Aug. 12.—The sums awarded by the courts to the victims of "malicious injuries" in Ireland now aggregate nearly $5,000,000. They are payable out of local taxes and it is the duty of the new local Sinn Fein councils to levy and collect the money. This they refuse to do and, so far, the relatives of the murdered policemen and others, as well as the owners of destroyed property, are unable to obtain payment. Even if the Sinn Fein Councils were willing to assist the claimants, however, the sum is so great that it is said it would prove "intolerable to the overburdened taxpayers."

The largest taxpayers are Unionists who do not relish the prospect of having to pay for the outrages of men with whom they have not the smallest sympathy. There has, therefore, been started an agitation for relieving citizens of the burden of these charges. The argument is that these outrages were undoubted acts of war. They

CLARK SPEAKS AT OPENING OF ANNUAL FIREMEN MEETING

Mayor of Greenville Delivers Responsive Address at Fayetteville Meeting

Fayetteville, Aug. 11.—The thirty-third convention of the North Carolina Fireman's Association was formally called to order this morning at 11 o'clock at the LaFayette Theater by President James D. McNeill, after the band had rendered "America." Rev. W. V. McRae, pastor of Hay Street Methodist church and chaplain of the local fire company, offered prayer.

"My comrades from all over North Carolina, the people of Fayetteville give you a most hearty welcome. We are glad to have you with us and we hope you will make yourselves at home," said President McNeill, and Mayor Williams was called upon to deliver the address of welcome.

Mayor Clark Responds. Mayor Gallatin Roberts of Asheville was on the program to deliver the response to the address of welcome but on account of the fact that he is president of the North Carolina Association of Municipalities which is meeting today in Raleigh he was unable to be present to speak here today. However Mayor Clark of Greenville delivered a warm and hearty response. It would have been hard for Mayor Roberts or anyone else to have beaten it. "Real firemen are born and not made," he said, "because the spirit that makes a man stay up all night to save the home from destruction, to save the life of every man, woman and child is born in him just as in the soldier who goes out in the field of battle to fight for his country and his cause. Kingston won first prizes of the tournament races.

TAX BILL PASSES HOUSE FOLLOWING SLIGHT VARIATION

Receives Minor Amendment on Its Way Through the Lower House.

ONLY THREE MEMBERS OF DEMOCRATIC PARTY PRESENTED OPPOSITION

Republicans Voted for Adoption of the Herring Substitute Issues.

With only three of the twenty-three negative votes cast by members of the majority party, the bill submitting the tax amendments to the voters at the November elections passed the House on second reading yesterday after all amendments and substitutes, save a minor one offered by Bryant, of Durham, had been defeated by an overwhelming five voice vote.

The minority substitute was offered by Representative Herring, of Sampson, and its virtues unfolded in a lengthy speech to which Republican State Chairman Frank Dinnery and John J. Parker, Republican candidate for governor, were interested listeners.

Briefly, the amendment does these things: Provides for a limitation of 7 cents on the $100 property valuation, a graduated tax on all incomes not to exceed 6 per cent, strikes out the requirement that a voter shall have paid his poll tax before casting his ballot, changes the qualification of a voter from two years' residence in the State and six months in the county to one year's residence in the State and four months in the voting precinct and eliminates the "stand or fall together" feature from the Grandfather clause.

The three Democrats voting against the bill submitting the amendment were Brown and Galloway, of Pitt, and Shaw, of Scotland. The Republicans voted for the adoption of the Herring substitute, which would have classified property subject to taxation, and voted almost solidly against the committee bill. The Bryant amendment, adopted with practically no dissent, makes it possible for additional taxes for special purposes by special or general act of the General Assembly. The original bill, by implication, left approval of additional taxes for local purposes to a general act.

Minority leader Williams' amendment, also defeated, was an assault on what he chose to term tautology. The adoption of the Bryant amendment, he insisted, was a repetition of the committee phraseology dealing with the special purpose section of the amending bill. Governor Doughton, plotting the bill, was of the opinion that the committee's version was constitutionally good English and the House accepted the governor's idea about the matter.

THURSDAY, AUG. 12, 1920.

Senator Harding's "front porch" address to be delivered to Republican editors of Ohio will be about as enlightening as several others which he has delivered recently. The scribes will be given something to think about for the simple reason that they will have so many indefinite expressions to deal with.

It looks like all public organizations are coming out in the interest of woman suffrage, and this lends additional strength to the fact that suffrage is a deserved right in every vicinity where women are taking an active part in moulding public sentiment. They deserve everything coming to them and their enfranchisement will be nothing more than public recognition of their worth.

Prohibitionists have notified Dr. Aaron Watkins of his selection as their candidate for the presidency, so now that notification ceremonies are over with all political parties it is quite natural to suppose that the future will be filled with intensive campaigning. The Democrats have the advantage, however, for they have a sound-constructive platform upon which to work, and that in itself embodies every feature requisite for final success.

That Polish counter offensive may not sound so awful to readers over in the country, but it may prove decidedly disastrous to Bolshevik forces for which it is planned. This probably will be the last stand before the fall of the capitol city, and it may be readily surmised that it will be a determined one. The country is faced by a serious situation, and unless assistance is given within a short time its integrity will mean very little to its destructed homes and lost lives.

The Tennessee legislature is planning to bring about joint action on the suffrage question with opposing elements of the body, and if this should be accomplished, it is possible the issue will be completed much earlier than people expected. Tennessee like North Carolina begins to realize that woman suffrage is becoming to be of a more directly important nature than ever, and it is believed that this fact is going to have much to do with last minute efforts. Both states are face to face with one of the greatest issues of many years, for it involves questions of nation-wide importance and of interest to almost every person keeping in close touch with national developments. For that reason it may be assumed that action will be featured by careful consideration of legislators in every branch.

President Herrera of Guatemala has issued a circular letter asking all civil and military officials to refrain from interfering in the approaching election in that country further than seeing that order is maintained. The purpose of the request, so it is understood, is to give every voter of the country a chance to express himself as he would, and to protect all from molestation from sources that have been giving the country much trouble in this direction for the past several years. The president's action is exactly what has been needed for sometime, and if officials see to it that his instructions are carried out there is little reason to believe that the election will not see even a greater success than was expected time anticipated. Other countries could no doubt experience good results if they would adopt the same measures, and it is certain that no harm would be done.

BRING BACK THE MINUTE MAN!

A call to the country for "new minute men" in the United States is being made. An article which in this connection suggested that with the memory of the fine work done by the Four Minute Men during the war impetus should be given a movement to provide such volunteer patriots in "discussing the gravest of the domestic problems that now confront the people of the United States, the problem of an unrest that cannot be ignored, a radicalism fed from many sources," recently appeared in the Evening World, New York.

The article in question urges the organization first of such Minute Men and then arrangements for addresses by them in all sections and on all possible occasions which shall be "constructive" in the sense of seeking by direct means to counteract the effect upon men's minds of constant sinister suggestions that they can get what they are struggling for only by "smashing things." The article continues: "For every agitator who mounts a soapbox to attack the government and the laws of the United States there should be another speaker on another soapbox explaining why the working man's best guarantee of getting his due without destroying the source of the hoped-for benefits is still the Constitution of these same United States."

"Harmonizing with this suggestion of the Evening World is a "Four Minute Speech for the American Legion," written by Dr. Curran Pope, of Louisville, and headed a "100 Per Cent Americanism," in which Dr. Pope in his closing paragraph says, in part:

"We come to plead for help for the American Legion; for the soldiers who have upheld all of these principles of Americanism, for the boys who stood in the trenches under the rain of molten iron or breasted the storm of modern gun fire. They saved the day. They fought while we worked. We honor them and we wish to help them help themselves for they represent the backbone of this and all other civilized countries. They stand for God, your country, and my country, for our constitution and 100 per cent Americanism. . . . Let us then aid this Legion, who is standing unsullied and unstained, avoiding the pitfalls of politics and demagogues while upholding all these tenets that make life worth living, while inculcating and supporting an Americanism of purest ray serene."

Secretary Daniels says he hopes North Carolina will ratify the suffrage amendment so that the honor of ratification will be claimed unconditionally by the Democrats. Failure of the state to ratify, he says, would give the Republican party greater chance than ever to claim the issue, and for that reason if for no other it is imperative that the Democrats accept the honor while they have it within easy grasp. Mr. Daniels is entirely right about the matter, for it is plain that the Republicans are making every effort to get on better terms with the women, although Senator Harding at first was rather undecided just what to do. The attitude has changed, however, and at this time nothing is being left undone that will in any way prevent the party from bringing about ratification if such is possible. Suffrage members believe that the Democrats are for them, and if they should be given the vote in North Carolina, then it is quite sure their future influence will be in behalf of the party that helped them realize the ambition.

Governor Bickett's report to the senate that state property has almost trebled in value under the revaluation act goes to show that the chief executive knew exactly what he was doing when impressing the people with the necessity of tax reforms. His report conveyed the fact that total valuations amounted to $3,129,705,051 against $1,009,120,389 over that of last year. The figures show conclusively that the state has realized an amazing increase in values, and that counties that failed to assess certain properties were faced with the fact that a report must come regardless of position or person. The revaluation measure is without a doubt one of the greatest forms of legislation that has been introduced in this state in many years, for it treats every person alike by equalizing taxation and lifting the burden off any particularly set of people. It is possible that never was a fairer proposition presented to the people, and those who were instrumental in its passage deserve the gratitude of every appreciative person of the state.

Firestone

Why did sales of Firestone 3 1/2-inch tires increase 96% the first six months of this year?

The motoring public found in the product exactly what it demanded—a balanced tire—uniform service.

You, multiplied by thousands, getting your most miles per dollar expended for tires, demonstrated the efficiency of the balanced 3 1/2—the Firestone.

Firestone built a single plant (Plant No. 2) to specialize in tires for small cars and got results which have been passed on to you at low cost—most miles per dollar.

It is more than thickness of tread, the mystery of rubber compounding, the size of the breaker strip, the number of plies of fabric, the heavy cushion or the greater air displacement that has put greater tire mileage—more economy—more comfort at your call.

It is the balanced co-ordination of all parts of the Firestone 3 1/2 by specialists who have given eighteen years' study and practice to tire needs. Ask your dealer.

Thursday P.M.

Dear Pete:

Just flew into Pittsburg to close that N & P purchase while I was waiting for the contract to be signed who ambles in to the G.M.'s office but President Holt! Asked me if I had a cigarette. Slipped him my "Camel Garage." Remember, he hit the "straight" boys when I met him last year?

Pete, you ought to hear Mr. Holt talk Camels! Gee, I thought I was some Camel speaker. But he went right to the seat with the subject. Say, if I could have shorthanded that line of super-stuff I'd have the job writing Camel ads by noon today!

"Reynolds ought to get a dollar for every Camel Cigarette," Mr. Holt declared. "Why, my boy, Camels are simply wonderful," he added. "Don't ever let anybody talk about mild cigarettes compared with Camels! I know! (Get that, Pete). I've proved it to a hundred smokers that Camels are the mellowest and most refreshing cigarette in the world." Etc, Etc.

Pete, Camels won Mr. Holt like they won me—on their quality! After hearing him cut loose, I felt like saying: "you tell it, old parcel post, I can't express it!"

Pete, I'm hatching an idea about Camels. I'll spill it your direction next time I write! It's what York State folks call a "pip-ing!" And it's ripe!

Yours till the next fire-up.

GREENVILLE TAKES TWO GAMES FROM WASHINGTON CLUB

Locals Win Both Games of a Double Header from Washington During Yesterday.

Greenville considerably increased its hold on the first half of the series by taking both games of a double header from Washington yesterday, the first game resulting in a score of 10 to 4, the last by the score of 6 to 2. The games were an entire change from any others which the locals have played on the Washington diamond this season, for Washington was completely outclassed in both games, and at no time seriously threatened to overcome the definite lead while the locals piled up in early stages of both contests.

The two victories were decidedly the most notable of the entire season, for they proved directly retaliatory for the stinging defeat administered by Washington to the locals in the fifth of July games, and consequently brought with them possibly greater elation and satisfaction than any single game connected with the last half of the series. According to Washington's view of the situation they were completely outclassed in both games by the determined visitors and at no time had a peep in on the fast way in which the sphere was handled. In fact, it is believed that Greenville put up two of the best games of the year, for they batted effectively and spiritedly and caused Washington to use every pitcher on the team in an effort to momentarily stop the slaughter, but without success, for the willow was used freely when needed, and runners therefore were sent across the rubber without any great trouble.

To eliminate the usual unpleasant features connected with two such exciting games, Greenville merely proved its superiority over Washington by fast and snappy playing regardless of constant and almost intolerable decisions of the umpire, who seemed disposed to resent the disastrous work of the visitors through personal favoritism for Washington. Greenville ignored this feature as much as possible and pounded pitcher after pitcher in the first game until Washington had completely exhausted its supply. The best Washington had was batted unmercifully, even Manning, who before yesterday proved himself almost invincible to Greenville. The entire Greenville club never worked to better advantage, and it is certain never at a time when two victories meant quite so much in the interest of winning the final games of the last half of the series. The club seemed to have luck at every turn of the game, which combined with fast work in the field and at the bat made victory unusually easy.

Smith and Thompson pitched a splendid game for Greenville, Smith retiring in an early stage of the game on account of being hit by a pitched ball. Sheppard and Orr pitched in good form in the evening's contest, Sheppard being relieved in the first inning on account of a dispute with the umpire.

THE FIRST GAME.

There were a number of features connected with the first game which would have brought gladness to the hearts of hundreds of Greenville fans if they had seen them. In fact, the game was merely a reversed repetition of the fifth of July exhibition in Washington, which is easily recalled. Greenville played considerably better ball than was expected and by hitting at a rate that would have done credit to leaguers, easily piled up a score which Washington at no time threatened to overcome. The scoring was done in the third, fourth, fifth seventh, eighth and ninth innings by splendid work with the willow on the part of Frazier, Ellis, Massey, Wrenn, Berhle, Duncan and Stringfield, Frazier and Ellis getting four hits each out of five times at bat. Massey and Wrenn secured two each, the number for the game totalling fifteen. Jeannette, Person, Folles, Stewart, Lewis and Kornegay did the hitting for Washington, being credited with one hit each.

Both clubs had three errors credited to them for the game, but playing on both sides was fast and interesting, with the exception of Washington's inability to curb the furious batting spirit of the visitors who played from inning to inning with renewed vigor with the willow causing the local club to use every pitcher available during the game. Runners were sent across the rubber almost at will and every-

WILLIAMSTON CREDITED TWO FROM TARBORO

Williamston, Aug. 11.—Williamston was credited with two games from Tarboro today, the first game resulting in a score of 2 to 1, the last game being forfeited in the sixth inning with the score standing 0 to 0 on account of an argument by the visitors with the umpire. The usual length of time was given for the game to be resumed, the visitors refused, the forfeit by the umpire following almost immediately.

Nothing Washington did to check the victorious tide failed almost completely.

SECOND GAME.

While the second game was in no way a repetition of the first it proved conclusively, however, that Greenville meant to win and did win regardless of Washington's slight improvement over the morning's contest. The ball was again hit almost at will Greenville being credited with ten hits, Washington with 8. Massey's home run in the seventh inning was the outstanding feature of the game for Greenville, so far as batting is concerned, but the remainder of the team also hit hard and effectively and did its best to improve the batting record. Massey and Duncan led in batting, getting two hits each out of four times at bat. Stringfield, Wrenn, Ellis, Frazier, Dennehey and Orr followed with singles, making the total quite pleasing.

SCOTLAND NECK HYPHENS FIND PINETOPS EASY

Pinetops, Aug. 11.—The Scotland Neck-Hobgood aggregation found Pinetops decidedly easy here today, winning out by the score of 11 to 5. The game featured in heavy hitting by both clubs, but more so on the parts of the visitors who succeeded in hitting at opportune moments.

WASHINGTON PEOPLE SHOW SPLENDID BASEBALL SPIRIT

Fans from this city who attended the ball game in Washington yesterday report a pleasant trip and kind and considerate treatment by Washington people. The games, it is said, were of the best of the season for the simple reason the Washington people were disposed to be friendly and refrained from anything that would have marred the visitors' trip in any way. Washington is setting a mighty fine example for the entire league, and it is to be hoped that every town will endeavor to perpetuate the splendid spirit displayed toward Greenville.

A SPORTING TOWN.

The Staff refers to Greenville. The fans have won the plaudits of all baseball players. Win or lose the fans are game, and instead of moping in defeat are right back on the morrow with rings on their fingers and bells on their toes, rooting like they received a princely salary for cheering the boys to victory. This gladdens the hearts of the players, who do their best day in and day out. Some towns are not so appreciative of their base ball representatives. They expect them to win every game, and perchance should they lose one crepe is flung from every door. The rooters sit down by the river of Babylon and refuse to root or sing a poem of victory.

The Staff makes no bones about it—it likes the style of Greenville rooters.

From the German government each receives a small monthly allowance which is insufficient to provide even the necessities of life."
 Officers at the Wuelzburg camp receive monthly 135 marks, which is about $3.10. For the one meager daily meal they get at the camp 53 marks is deducted. Out of what is left they must try to buy clothes and other essentials. Such a thing, for example, as dental attention is wholly beyond their means. Some have sold their last shirts to pay for shoe repairs. Shoes are their crying need and the prisoners hardly take a step without calculating the wear on their soles. Efforts made by relief workers to induce them to take up some form of athletics brought the reply, "We would but it would be too hard on our clothes and shoes."

 were of the same class and motivated by the same purpose as the rebellion of Easter week. Some of the judges who made the awards have endorsed this view from the bench.
 The British government paid out of the Imperial Exchequer for the damage done in Easter Week. They appropriated $15,000,000 out of which the mined portions of the city of Dublin are being rebuilt. They are now being asked by resolutions of the Grand Juries of Irish counties, which consist almost entirely of Unionists, to follow the Easter Week precedent and to pay out Imperial funds for the damage now frequently being done to life and property.
 The government has been quite willing to pay for the damage done by the soldiers and police in the cases of retaliation that have occurred in Thurles and Fermoy, but they are unwilling, it is reported, to pay for the damage done by their opponents. Meanwhile, the victims are left without compensation.
