Warsaw, Aug. 19.—Russian troops have evacuated Brest Litvsk and are 120 miles east of Warsaw, according to advices. Polish successes have been reported on all fronts of the southern sector and are pouring in in such great numbers that it is proving a great problem to take care of them.

Paris, Aug. 19.—Lukow, forty miles southeast of Warsaw, has been captured by the poles, says a Warsaw correspondent to the Excelsior. He says the Bolshevik right wing is in a bad condition.

IMPORTANT CONSEQUENCES EXPECTED FROM POLISH OFFENSIVE NEAR WARSAW

Paris, Aug. 19.—The Polish counter attack was exceedingly daring, the Excelsior's Warsaw correspondent says, and consisted of concentrating heavy columns and delivering surprise attacks against the Bolshevik flank. It is asserted the very important consequences are expected.

COX ELATED OVER DISTINCT VICTORY IN SUFFRAGE ISSUE

Democratic Leader Predicts Decided Victory for the Democrats.

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 18.—Governor Cox and his aides joined today in hailing Tennessee's ratification of the woman suffrage amendment. That the enfranchisement of women would help the Democratic presidential and also local tickets was predicted universally by the governor's advisers, who said that they believed a great majority of women stand with Governor Cox on the League of Nations issue.

Governor Cox, upon receipt of the news from Tennessee, issued a formal statement declaring that "the mothers of America would stay the hand of war" and also that the ratification was a promise of performance of Democratic platform pledges. The text of his statement said: "The civilization of the world is saved. The mothers of America will stay the hand of war and repudiate those who trifle with a great principle. The action of the Tennessee legislature has another significance. It is an earnest of the Democratic policy to pay its platform obligations."

SENATOR HARDING AT HOME TO MEMBERS OF STATE LEGISLATURE

Marion, Aug. 19.—Senator Harding is at home today to members and former members of the Ohio legislature. Party government is expected to be the topic of his address, and it is understood that he would reply to Democratic criticisms and to Governor Cox's charges of Republican "senate oligarchy." It is understood also that "one man government" will be attacked.

PLANS TO OPPOSE PROHIBITION BILL AT BUENOS AIRES

President Irigoyen's Administration Declares Issue With Measure.

AMERICAN SALESMEN TO BE EXCLUDED BY IMPORTANT MEASURE

President Feels That Argentina Is Not Ready for Strict Prohibition.

Buenos Aires, Aug. 19.—President Irigoyen's administration has just announced through Finance Minister Salaberry that it will oppose the prohibition bill recently introduced into the Chamber of Deputies. Nevertheless, an official move in favor of the restriction of the liquor traffic is seen in the terms of the reciprocal commercial travelers' treaty recently agreed upon between United States Ambassador Stimson and the President.

This treaty, which will probably be drawn up and signed in Washington during Ambassador Stimson's visit there on leave, will provide for a single Federal license for American salesmen in Argentina, instead of licenses for each province, but will exclude them from selling alcoholic beverages under it. The prohibitive clause was requested by President Irigoyen, it is learned. It was accepted by the United States government notwithstanding the fact that no such clause appears in other commercial travelers' treaties negotiated by the United States. The American policy of uniformity for treaties of this sort has thus been waived.

AMERICAN FRIENDS FEEDING CHILDREN IN GERMAN SECTION

Some Over $1,500,000 Worth of Foods Have Already Sent to Country.

Philadelphia, Aug. 19.—The American Friends Service Committee, Philadelphia, has arranged to make shipments of food for the child feeding work in Germany in sufficient quantities to last until the end of the year.

Recently there have been shipped from New York 240 tons of cocoa, 317 1-2 tons of lard and 14,320 cases of condensed milk.

In addition to this, there were shipped 31 barrels of cod liver oil for hospital use in combating rickets, the disease of children so common there because of under-nutrition. Dried peas and dried beans used in the good ration are already stored in warehouses in Hamburg to be drawn as needed: 880 tons of rice have been purchased and will be delivered at Hamburg soon. The remaining articles of the ration, flour and sugar, will be supplied in the future by the German government.

The value of these goods is about $1,500,000 and it is expected it will be sufficient to provide a supplementary meal for about 500,000 children per day until January. This number is slightly less than the friends fed during the spring months of this year.

The original plan was to close the child-feeding operations on August 21 but the food situation was found to be so acute and the harvest poor that another year's program was prepared.

THINKS RUSSIA HAS OVERESTIMATED ITS EXPORT RESOURCES

Former Member of Russian Duma Says Raw Material Estimate too Large.

REVIVAL OF RUSSIAN TRADE IS NOT LOOKED FOR IN NEAR FUTURE

Revival of Trade Will Not be Established Until Normal Life is Possible.

Constantinople, Aug. 19.—Russia's ability to export raw materials in the near future has been greatly overestimated by foreign countries in the opinion of Colonel B. Englehard, formerly a member of the Russian Duma and a student of economic conditions in Russia before and after the revolution. In a talk with The Associated Press correspondent he said that foreigners seem to fail to realize the collapse of the Russian transportation systems, reduced manpower and run-down condition of the Russian farm lands.

This comment was evoked by reports of the negotiations of Russian economic agents with Premier Lloyd George in London and the announcement that United States had lifted prohibitions upon American trade with Soviet Russia.

Colonel Englehard is confident that Russia will again play an important role in European markets but, he said, "the revival of Russian trade will not come until there shall be established a normal state of life when men shall renounce attempts of establishing immediately the paradise of communism."

BETTER TIMES ARE HAILED BY PEOPLE IN KIEL DISTRICT

Passage of Unusual Number of Ships Taken as Sign of Prosperity.

Hamburg, Aug. 19.—In one day last week 22 steamers passed Cuxhaven on the way to Hamburg or to enter the Kiel Canal. This was the largest number of ships to come into the Elbe in 24 hours since the early days of the war, and the event was hailed with intense satisfaction here as a sign of better times. Five years ago it was a dull day when only a score of vessels arrived. The Hamburg-American line alone usually had from 25 to 30 big ships in port and the harbor was so crowded with shipping that the problem of docking often became acute.

In those days few flags other than those of the German companies were seen in the harbor. Today Hamburg is literally under foreign colors. Shipping companies of all the principal nations have set up offices here and the formerly powerful German lines, having lost their ships, are acting now only as agents. American, British, Japanese, French, Italian, Spanish, Dutch and Brazilian companies display their advertisements in the shipping papers. Advertisements of German concerns are so few that one must search for them.

There is some life again in the harbor but the ships are nearly all foreign. One passes long rows of splendidly equipped docks and warehouses, once a hive of industry but now empty and still.

BOARD OF HEALTH ANNOUNCES CHANGE OF OFFICE FORCE

Miss Nancye Coward Resigns as Assistant to be Succeeded by Miss Exum.

VACCINATION WILL BE GIVEN TWICE WEEKLY

Miss Nancye Coward, the efficient assistant of Dr. Chester, the Pitt county health officer, has resigned, the resignation to take effect September 15th, in favor of Miss Rosa Exum who was associated with the health department for several months during the summer of 1918.

Miss Coward, since becoming connected with the health department has endeared herself to the people of the county, and it is with a great deal of regret that they learn of her resignation. She has made a splendid assistant and has done all possible to better the health conditions of this community.

Miss Exum needs no introduction to the people of Greenville and Pitt county, as she has always made her home here. She is well known throughout the county having taught in different sections. For the past year she has been connected with the county, holding a position in the county commissioners' office. She is thoroughly capable of holding this new position and will make an excellent assistant in the health office.

After September 1, all vaccinations will be given on Wednesday's and Saturdays only, from the office. This includes all vaccinations and the people of the county should take note of the fact that these are the only two days, as it will save both time and trouble to themselves and the health department. The vaccinations are absolutely free, and the splendid results which have been obtained in this county and state as well as other states, are proof enough of their real value.

SPECIAL ORDER TO PREVAIL IN HOUSE ON SUFFRAGE ISSUE

Resolution to Ratify Suffrage Amendment to Come Up at 11:30 Today.

SUFFRAGISTS PREPARE FOR BITTER STRUGGLE AGAINST OPPOSITION

Tuesday's Struggle Flared Up Briefly in Senate in Yesterday's Session.

Raleigh, Aug. 19.—North Carolina House defeated suffrage today seventy-one to forty-one.

Raleigh, Aug. 18.—Agreement upon a special order fixing today for bringing the suffrage fight up in the lower branch of the General Assembly was reached at yesterday's session.

The battle will get under way with an effort on the anti to get considered first the Republican resolution to ratify the amendment. This move will be resisted bitterly by the suffragists who want to force a vote on the resolution of Representative Harry P. Grier, to reject the amendment.

The situation in the House brightened a great deal yesterday with the news from Tennessee. Suffrage forces were confident that it is now possible for the original resolution of ratification to be passed by placing it on the calendar for consideration ahead of the rejection and ratification resolutions the Constitutional Amendments committee yesterday agreed to report without prejudice.

Tuesday's bitter fight over ratification flared up for a moment in the Senate yesterday morning immediately after it convened when Senator Teague, who did not vote the previous afternoon, asked that he be recorded as voting against the resolution to postpone action until January. The President ordered that the Senator's vote be recorded and the vote stood 25 against and 24 for the resolution.

Senator Warren arose to declare that Senator Hawkins, who was absent, be entered in the journal as he would have voted—affirmatively—had he been present.

SUFFRAGE OPONENTS PLAN TO SAVE SOUTH FROM SUFFRAGE BILLS

Nashville, Aug. 19.—Announcement that suffrage opponents would hold a mass meeting tonight to discuss steps to save the south from federal suffrage force bills is taken to indicate that Speaker Walker would not attempt today to force reconsideration of the action of the Tennessee House in ratifying the suffrage amendment. Senator Underwood of Alabama, and Former Governor Pleasant of Louisiana have been invited to address the meeting.

GOVERNOR COX AGAIN LAUNCHES ATTACK ON REPUBLICAN FACTION

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 19.—Governor Cox, in addressing a public gathering here today said that national and international financial and economic readjustment as well as the high cost of living was bound up in the success of the league of nations. He charged the Republican "senate oligarchy" with responsibility for delay in economic progress and belated reduction in the high cost of living. He said that the tide of moral thought is flowing against the Republicans and reiterated charges of reaction against Republican leaders.

THURSDAY, AUG. 19, 1920.

It was not so surprising that Tennessee should ratify the suffrage amendment, for being a real representative of Democracy, it was only a matter of course that ratification became possible.

A statement says North Carolina is rich, and in looking around and considering its unlimited resources one is naturally convinced that the fact is true beyond doubt.

Senator Harding may have his most important speech in store for the future, but even then it's hard to believe that it will be so vitally interesting after all.

Senator Harding says now that if he is elected he will actively participate in bringing peace to the entire world. Since he has such a constructive platform it is certain that he will make great progress.

Reports indicate that a drop in the price of men's clothing may be expected within the next several weeks, but as other reports of the kind have been in circulation from time to time it is hardly probably the last will receive much attention.

The Mexican question in Mexico is small indeed in comparison to the woman suffrage question in the state of Tennessee and North Carolina just at this time, for with one state postponing action and the other in favor of ratification the situation has taken on such an interesting aspect that even the disinterested are finding it mighty hard to keep from evincing a desire to see the issue finally concluded. The Tennessee legislature has practically decided the matter in the woman's favor, and if the action should hold good seventeen million women will become legal voters in the United States. It is hardly probable, however, that the decision will be changed to any great degree, and if it should not be the future will be filled with unusual activities for the moral uplift of government by women who for years have taken active interest in national affairs.

A NEW IDEA IN CAROLINA.

With wage increases to employees in industries so frequent these days, an item telling of a raise in wages to a group of employees in a North Carolina mill would under ordinary circumstances be of little public interest.

But the report of the wage increase to 3,000 employees of the Durham hosiery mills arrests attention because the employees granted the increase themselves and what is of more importance because they were in a position to grant the increase themselves.

This was because there is a system of industrial democracy in the Durham mills, and the employees have a voice in the management. They are represented by a congress, which acts for them much after the manner in which a legislative body acts for a state, and it was this congress of representatives that ordered the increase in wages.

The introduction of industrial democracy into a factory is undoubtedly something new, and it is an experiment well worth watching. The insistent demand from employees of large concerns for a larger voice in the management especially in those matters that pertain to their own connection with the enterprise, is stimulating much thought on the part of many progressive employers, for they recognize that as a higher standard of intelligence comes to prevail among employees, they are not going to remain content with the old plan of accepting dictation in all matters from above.

Various plans have been formulated for meeting the changing conditions, but we believe the industrial democracy plan in the Durham mills is the most far-reaching scheme to allow employees to participate in the management of the industry that has yet been tried out.

The plan is all the more significant because it is force in an industry owned by General Julian S. Carr, perhaps the foremost industrial leader of North Carolina. General Carr is the controlling factor in many hosiery mills in his state. When such a successful and far-seeing captain of industry as General Carr recognizes the principle of industrial democracy to the extent of trying it out in one of his great factories, it marks a departure from old methods that is epochal.—Houston Post Industrial development and a winning ball team has placed Greenville in a position where it can look to the outside world without fear of being overdone in the least. The fact is Greenville is rapidly developing into one of the liveliest and most progressive cities of the Eastern section of the state, and is now just beginning to impress the outside world with the fact. Improvements upon every hand are noticeable, and this fact suggests the probability of continued development in the future.

The sympathy of the United States for Poland shows conclusively that this country is not going to stand by and see demoralizing ideals corrupt a small nation that would live according to higher forms of government. Moral aid, as promised by the Allies, will place the Polish people in a position to defend their rights more determinedly, believing in the sincerity of nations that would see the entire world upon a higher plane of government. Poland has battled against the Bolshevik hordes in a way that has won genuine admiration in virtually every section and the fact that the moral aid of the Allies will mean much to the future successes will no doubt prove a great inspiration to the troops which at one time seemed completely outdone. The Russians so far have received decided discouragement, and the Poles are so successfully repulsing the attacks that the future is a matter of considerable speculation.

If the Republican party gets anything at all out of Senator Harding's speaking campaign it will be considerably more than they received out of the front porch affair. The fact is, the Republican candidate is not attractive enough to impress the public seriously with his mission, and for that reason it is hardly probable that the most important part of his campaigning will be more than people expected it. The Democrats are naturally realizing greater support than expected out of the Republican's lack of popularity, and it is perfectly reasonable to believe that a greater following will be gained within the next several days than in the past. The Democratic candidate really has something worth while to tell the people, and when a man has that he's sure to win regardless of all kind of opposition.

GREENVILLE TAKES WEDNESDAY'S GAME FROM THE HYPHENS

Sheppard Pitches Great Game, Allowing Three Hits, Winning by Score 4 to 2.

CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES REALLY OPENED WITH THE GAME YESTERDAY

Opening Game Here Tuesday Thrown Out by Agreement of Both Clubs.

The opening of the championship series of the Eastern Carolina league really take place until the game Scotland Neck yesterday afternoon when Greenville again proved victorious by the score of 4 to 2. The game here Tuesday was thrown out, by mutual consent of both clubs on account of some dissatisfaction over decisions of the umpire in the ninth inning, and for that reason Greenville yesterday afternoon agreed to Scotland Neck's request that it be thrown out completely with the season really opening with Wednesday's game.

The game yesterday, however, failed to prove any direct change from the one of the day before with exception that the Hyphens appeared to find everything of a satisfactory nature and played from inning to inning in an attempt to overcome the definite lead which Greenville piled up in the first part of the contest, and continued to add to until the eighth inning when the final runner of the game was shoved across the rubber. Both clubs handled the ball fast and effectively, but the champions of the last half proved decidedly more capable of handling the willow at propitious moments and consequently were enabled to win without any serious opposition.

Sheppard pitched probably one of the best games of the season for Greenville, allowing the Hyphens only three hits, and pitching in excellent form particularly in pinches. Johnson, who formerly has had mighty good luck against Greenville, appeared on the mound for Scotland Neck, and while he pitched a mighty good game in pinches Greenville found him for six hits that netted four runs without any trouble. Johnson failed completely to prevent hits when they resulted in runs, with exception of one or two instances when single runners reached second and third bases. Both hurlers, however, worked in mighty good form, and staged a battle that proved decidedly interesting throughout the game.

Frazier, Massey, Duncan, Sheppard did the stick work for Greenville, Massey and Frazier being credited with two hits each out of four times at bat, the former with a double. Pitt, Wood and Minton succeeded in getting one hit each for the Hyphens which netted the only two runs of the game. Both clubs failed to hit above the average, for the pitchers settled down to business in a determined way several times and positively refused to yield anything at all in the shape of a timely bingle.

The second game of the championship series will be staged in Greenville this afternoon. Interest has become rather tense just at this time, and it is expected that hundreds of people from the surrounding sections will be in attendance, including a goodly number from the Scotland Neck-Hobgood territory. The work of both club has proved highly interesting during the entire season, and the fact that they proved themselves champions of the league simply through hard and consistent playing will be a big drawing card for the championship games.

Since alcoholic liquors can no longer be legally exported from the United States, American salesmen naturally will not be affected by the clause, but its significance lies with Argentina in that it establishes a precedent in the direction of prohibition. It is pointed out that if this treaty with the United States is ratified, other nations who may desire also to negotiate a treaty with Argentina providing for a single Federal salesman's license would, by virtue of this precedent, have to accept a similar clause against the sale of intoxicating liquors. Otherwise their salesmen must continue to pay a separate license in each of the 14 provinces. These vary and run as high as a thousand pesos.

While President Irigoyen is known to be strongly in sympathy with restricting the liquor traffic, it is said, that he feels that Argentina is not yet ready for total prohibition. One entire province, Mendoza, thrives upon the wine industry, and the use of light natives wines, especially in the rural districts, is almost general.

The introduction of the prohibition measure in congress was followed by a strong protest from the Mendoza wine growers. They were sold by Minister Salaberry that, "although he had not consulted President Irigoyen on the subject, he could assure them that the executive power of the nation will not approve this reform, and if it is necessary, will oppose against it all the legal resources upon which it can lay hand." Meantime the wine growers have organized a "junket" for congressmen to the wine growing district

THINKS RUSSIA HAS UNDERESTIMATED ITS EXPORT RESOURCES

"It should be borne in mind that European Russia has been greatly reduced in size," said Colonel Englehard. "Formerly it had over 5,000,000 square kilometers of land and 157,000 inhabitants. Poland, Finland, a great part of the Caucasus—and several Baltic provinces, with about 50,000,000 inhabitants and about 1,250,000 square kilometers of land have detached themselves. The greater part of these detached territories ordinarily had a notable surplus of grain and other farm products which constituted the major part of Russia's exports."
"In 1913, the last year when conditions were normal in Russia, exports were valued at 1,500,000,000 gold rubles, or $750,000,000. The greatest single item in the export list was grain. The total grain exports were 12,870,000 tons, valued at $325,000,000. European Russia used to harvest 58,500,000 tons of grain annually. With its reduced area, with the breaking up of big estates, lack of machinery and ruin wrought by continuous war in many of its most fertile areas it may be affirmed the grain harvest of the soviet republic will scarcely reach 31,500,000 tons annually. One cannot count on any considerable exportation of grain from soviet Russia in the immediate future. So far as Siberia and the provinces in Central Asia are concerned they need to produce 800 pounds of grain for each inhabitant. The civil war must have reduced the normal very considerably and it is doubtful whether any considerable quantity of grain can be exported from Siberia."

Many ships that used to make Hamburg a thriving commercial center, trade has died away and the great market places on the waterfront are practically deserted. Before the war Hamburg had become one of Europe's chief coffee markets. Now only a few sacks of that staple find their way here.
While Hamburg was losing its glory as a port, death was taking a heavy toll of the so-called "royal heads" of the big German companies, including Albert Ballin, president of the Hamburg-American line and the brothers Adolph and Edward Woermann, who guided the affairs of the great Woermann Indian and African lines. "Africa House," the scene of their labors, was the nerve center of Germany's vast colonial trade. It stands today a silent memorial of German imperialism.

It is realized that Hamburg faces a long up-hill struggle to regain its pre-war prestige. A well-known banker told the correspondent he believed Hamburg had irretrievably lost its financial power and would never again enjoy the independent position it had in the past.
