DEMOCRATS PROUD OVER EXPOSURE OF REPUBLICAN PLANS

Pittsburgh Speech Most Sensational in Annals of American Politics.

DECLARE COX ATTACK MOST IMPORTANT IN HISTORY OF COUNTRY

Republican Reaction From Charge Noted With Interest Everywhere.

Washington, Aug. 28.—Cox has "made good." Administration Democrats and even independents slapped one another on the shoulders with the above joyful exclamation this morning on reading the governor's Pittsburgh speech. Many Democrats were nervous with fear that the Governor had overstepped the line of safety in his allegation that Republicans were raising $15,000,000 to carry the election. But he showed $8,000,000 and he quoted from the Republican Bulletin "get the money."

Governor Cox's speech at Pittsburgh, a Republican stronghold, was unquestionably one of the most sensational political speeches ever delivered in this country. The audience, many of which were Republicans, is reported to have gone into a frenzy of emotion when the governor held before its eyes the Bulletin printed by the national Republican campaign committee containing the actual figures of assessment of 51 cities in 27 states. The governor read to his audience the endorsement by Senator Harding himself of this gigantic financial scheme to put Harding in the White House.

What every Democrat here, has been interested in observing is the character of the reaction of the Republican candidate and campaign managers to these grave charges. All Mr. Harding would say in reply when questioned was to shake his head. He, who had endorsed the scheme, could not plead ignorance of it. Chairman Will Hays said he would show that Democrats too were collecting a vast fund and we are not going to lie down to Governor Cox's insults.

Treasurer Upham of the Republican national campaign committee retorted that his committee had not received all that money. It was a joke some one had played on Cox.

The Republican managers have come forward with the apparent innocence of a babe and they say: "Well, suppose we are raising this gigantic sum you allege, you do not show we got it from sinister interests."

GOVERNOR COX MET BY MERRY CROWDS IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, Aug. 28.—Governor Cox was showered with flowers when he arrived at the Grand Central station for a two day's visit to New York. He shook hands with the engineer and train crew, and was greeted by an information reception from the immense crowd demanding a speech. He passed through the station, shaking hands and occasionally bowing right and left.

THROUGHS CROWDED N. Y. STATION ALL THROUGH MORNING

New York, Aug. 28.—Throongs crowded the Grand Central station here for the arrival of Governor Cox from New Haven. After luncheon Governor Cox will attend police games where he will make an address.

CITY OF VIENNA TO BECOME BIG AERIAL CENTER IN FUTURE

Colonel Barres Favors City as Geographical Center for Central Europe.

BRITISH COMPANIES ARRANGING FOR LINE BY WAY OF BRUSSELS

Offices Have Already Been Open in Vienna, in Readiness for Operation.

Vienna, Aug. 28.—If plans now making are carried out Vienna will become one of the great centers of European air navigation.

When soon after the conclusion of hostilities England, France and Italy prepared to gridle and criss-cross Europe with air routes, it looked as if Austria were to be left out altogether in favor of friendly countries, the lanes being laid out via Prague in the north and south over Italy, Laibach and Agram. With the arrival here of various missions and an understanding not only of the favorable geographical location of Vienna but also of its existing facilities, the scheme has been changed to center many of the lanes here.

It is understood that Colonel Barres, chief of Allied aviation control in Austria, takes this view and favors the use of the great Aspern aviation field as a central station. This field is only a few miles from Vienna and is abundant.

SAYS MANY EVILS ARE COMMENCED IN NAMING PRESIDENT

Special Report Considers Long Period Between Election Full of Evils. RECOMMENDS THAT USUAL PERIODS BE SHORTENED AT ONCE

St. Louis, Aug. 28.—The long period between the election of the President of the United States and his inauguration is "a serious evil fraught with much danger," according to the report of the Special Committee on the Change in date of the Presidential inauguration presented here today to the convention of the American Bar Association, in session here.

The report recommends that the period be shortened, and that the short term of the old congress be eliminated. It, however, does not suggest any other date for the inauguration, explaining that March 4, has been recognized by constitutional amendment as the date of inaugural. It adds: "The committee, however, is of the opinion that it is the duty of this association representing the great body of lawyers of the country to call the attention of congress to those provisions of the law and of the constitution which are fraught with serious danger and which are liable to bring humiliation and disaster to the republic."

It states that the period between election and inauguration is "liable to leave the administration in hands which have been discredited by a popular vote of want of confidence and that such a situation greatly weakens the prestige of the government both at home and abroad."

AMERICAN LEGION PLANS TO BELIEVE AFTER WAR EFFECT

Organization Will Try to Solve Mysterious Disappearance of Soldiers. MANY CURIOUS AND TOURING APPEALS REACH ORGANIZATION

New York, Aug. 28.—The American Legion is making an effort to mitigate a distressing phase of the aftermath of war, the 2,000 personal mysteries of the great struggle of men who classified in army and navy lists as "missing in action," "killed in battle" and "presumably dead." The work has been rewarded with some success, it is announced. In several instances the Legion Weekly has obtained for a mother more and clearer details of how her service son died, or put a wife in touch with the comrades of her husband, "missing in action."

Requests of relatives and friends of soldiers, sailors, marines, and military nurses about whose fate little is known, are being sent to newspapers throughout the country for publication. Results of this publicity are carefully tabulated at offices here.

All "buddies," officers, doctors, nurses or welfare workers, who know something of the person of whom information is sought, are invited to communicate with the friends or relatives. Each week a long list of "mysteries" are published in the Legion's organ and frequently a number of names of men and women who served in the war, but who failed to reach home, is sent to the newspapers.

The current result list of the Legion contains the following instances where desired information was furnished:

Mrs. Catherine Holbeck, of Allentown, Pa., asked for information concerning the circumstances surrounding the death of her son, Sergeant Joseph Holbeck of Company C, 100th Machine Gun Battalion, 28th Division, who died in a French hospital. The mother received a letter from Dr. Joseph Lintz, of New York who attended the dying soldier, giving details of his last hours.

Mrs. Lola Mason, of McRae, Ga., asked for information that would throw some light on the disappearance of her son, F. Mason, Jr., corporal, 83rd Company, Sixth Marines. The soldier wrote his mother that he would be home for Christmas 1918, but did not appear and nothing further was heard of him. Mrs. Mason reported that she received two letters, one from the son himself saying that he had recovered from a long illness.

POLISH ARTILLERY DESTROYS FLEEING COLUMNS OF REDS

Principal Columns of Retreating Soviet Forces Completely Decimated.

BOLSHEVIKI ATTACKS ARE REPULSED WITH DISASTROUS RESULT

Warsaw, Aug. 28.—The Polish artillery has decimated the principal column of the retreating Soviet forces on the northeastern front, and are catching the Bolsheviki at short range, according to an official statement issued here yesterday. Repeated Bolsheviki attacks in the Lemberg region have been repulsed. The situation of the northern front remains unchanged.

WILLING TO TRANSFER PEACE NEGOTIATIONS TO NEUTRAL COUNTRY

Paris, Aug. 28.—Willingness to transfer the Russo-Polish peace negotiations at Minsk to a neutral country was expressed in a wireless from Moscow, and was picked up at Eiffel tower station today. Details that the Soviet's offer could not be deciphered from the foreign office, has been announced.

Paris, Aug. 27.—The Poles continue to advance along the East Prussian frontier. Notwithstanding all their efforts the Red commanders have failed to instill in the Bolsheviki troops enough courage or energy to resist the Poles, who, after a few hours of almost desultory fighting took possession of the Ossovertz forts, opened a passage across the Bohr marshes and reached the Augustowo lakes east of the East Prussian frontier, thus gaining command of the whole of the southern side of that frontier as far as Augustowo.

The Reds, driven back on the line of Augustowo-Grodno, are in a good defensive position, on account of the forests and marshes which cover it. Consequently it is difficult for the Poles to attack frontally owing to the nature of the ground and the fact that the flanks of the enemy rest on the west on the German frontier and on the east, on the Neman.

IRISH CONTINUE TO TIE UP TRAFFIC IN NEW YORK HARBOR

Striking Longshoremen Elated Over Success in Tying Up City's Traffic.

SAY BRITISH MUST RELEASE M' SWENEY AND LET MANNIX LAND

New York, Aug. 28.—Elated by their tie-up of virtually every British ship in New York, 2,000 or more longshoremen who suddenly quit work today expect to spread their walkout to every port in the United States in the hope of forcing Great Britain to release from jail Terence MacSweney, the Mayor of Cork, and permit Archbishop Mannix to land on Irish soil. The women pickets who inspired the unexpected walkout of longshoremen, and the marine firemen, water tenders and others who joined them, feel the same way about it. They are not going back to work on British ships, they said, until Great Britain meets their wishes.

Irish sympathizers working on American, French and Belgian steamships also quit work during the whirlwind campaign the strikers waged along the North River this afternoon. Although not en masse, longshoremen of various nationalities rushed from the holds of vessels at the command of their Irish comrades. More than 200 negroes who were unloading the cargo of a Cunard liner fell into line with the speed of the historic "minute men" and received a big ovation from the other strikers.

SERIOUS RIOTING IS REPORTED IN IRELAND IS RESULT OF RAIDS

London, Aug. 28.—Cameron Highlander troops recently sent to Queens-town, Ireland, invaded stores and dwellings of Sinn Feiners there last night as reprisal for an attack upon them by a party Thursday. Much damage was done and serious rioting resulted. Street fighting continues.

START CAMPAIGNS FOR ABOLITION OF U. S. INCOME TAX

Americans in Brazil Begin Active Campaign for Immediate Exemption.

COMMITTEE WILL ASK FOR TOTAL EXEMPTION FOR ALL FOREIGNERS

Danger Than American May Relinquish Expressed in Report.

Rio De Janeiro, Aug. 28.—Americans residing in Brazil have begun, through the American Chamber of Commerce for Brazil, an active campaign for the abolition or reduction of the American income tax on citizens residing abroad. The Chamber has authorized a special committee to engage a prominent lawyer of Washington to bring before congress a bill drawn up by the Chamber dealing with the subject. The moral and financial support of all American chambers abroad and the foreign trade bodies in the United States is being solicited. Americans abroad are to be asked to urge their congressional representatives to make independent representations to congress.

The committee which had the matter in charge recommends that total exemption be asked for, principally for the reason that European countries do not tax their nationals engaged in business abroad, and that only total exemption will place the American on an equal footing with European competitors in developing American foreign trade.

The argument for exemption is based not only on the handicap in comparison with European competitors, but also on the political theory that taxation without representation is contrary to American ideals, the committee pointing out that Americans living abroad are unable to express their will concerning government policies, being virtually deprived of the right to vote.

It is also argued that Americans living abroad are involved in a greater amount of responsibility and effort for the good of American interests, incurring a greater financial burden than would be the case at home; that while the American at home receives preferential protection for his business through import taxation against foreign competition, the American abroad is subject to the customs and tax levied by his country of residence without any preferential protection.

Danger that Americans abroad relinquish their American citizenship and adopt that of the country where they deem an excessive and unjust tax, possibility of evading the tax and unfairness this creates, and hardship of the tax on Americans of moderate means are other reasons advanced why the income tax should be abolished.

HARDING DECLARES LEAGUE OF NATIONS IS DIRECT FAILURE.

Marion, Aug. 28.—Pronouncing the existing League of Nations as a definite and irreparable failure, Senator Harding today proposed, in a front porch speech to the Indiana Republican delegation a new effort to construct a world association on the frame work of the Hague tribunal clothed with such attribute of the League covenant as may be found safe and practicable. He pledged himself, if elected, to make immediate effort with the advice of the ablest men of both parties in revising the covenant to protect national aspirations.

SATURDAY, AUG. 28, 1920.

GLOOMY PREDICTIONS NOT REALIZED.

The memory of the public is notoriously short, but there are not many who will not recollect the pessimistic predictions that filled our periodicals last December, January and February. Europe was pictured on the verge of dissolution; France about to repudiate its obligations; Italy facing a revolution; Germany on the point of embracing bolshevism and setting up a soviet government; India in revolt, and the countries of the Far East functioning without any organized or stabilized governments. Men otherwise cautious in their statements declared that before six months untold millions in Europe would die of cold and starvation, while disease would ravage the entire world, including the United States.

Little, indeed, of this program of calamity has been realized. England, with after-war problems much greater than those of America, is back at work, sending out its manufactured goods to all corners of the earth in exchange for raw materials, lending money as of old and proving to the world that British credit and stability is as steady as Gibraltar itself. Belgium hums with industry; in many lines of business more than 90 per cent of per-war production is reported. France again proves the sterling character of the French people. With a dogged determination to make their country once more the garden spot it formerly was, they are reconstructing the devastated districts, replacing the peasants in their homes, rebuilding factories and mills and preparing a fiscal policy that will again provide a surplus of income over outgo.

Italy, in some respects the worst hit of all in that its economic condition before the war was so unsatisfactory, has confirmed the hopes of those who believed it would worry through the crisis without any fundamental changes. Perhaps the best of all is the showing made by the Bohemian people in their rewon country, Czecho-Slovakia. With a resolute determination bring about economic stability at any cost, the measures adopted by President Mazaryk and his advisers have proved their correctness and have benefited, by example, every new country in Europe.

Russia is difficult to analyze, but there can be no doubt that the recent offers of concessions from the soviet government in return for trade with the outside world indicate recognition on the part of Lenin and his associates that they cannot much longer continue present policies. It is true that in Poland they have created an ugly situation, doubtless through the very sort of nationalistic appeal they have heretofore pretended to despite, but if the mass of the Russian people are in favor of this latest adventure they have so far given no evidence of it. Economic laws operate in Russia as elsewhere in the national system that attempts to displace individual initiative with the power of the state will ultimately be its own undoing.

GERMANY FAVORING A SANE PROGRAM

Germany's big men have learned that wars don't pay. They have also learned that prosperity gained at the expense of others doesn't pay. The economic truth understood better in England than anywhere else in the world, that one nation cannot prosper without helping its neighbors, and that the adversity of one inevitably reflected on the others, is now clear to the German mind and they are acting on their new information without loss of time. An article recently appeared in the Paris Matin confirming in every respect the article from the London Times mentioned above. After describing the manner in which Germany's economic leaders have gained political control, the French writer goes on to say: "Their present program, which is very different from that plastered on the bill-boards in the pre-election campaign, is one of reconstruction. But their conception of reconstruction embraces all Europe and embodies a foreign policy every Frenchman should to the bottom. This policy is not a policy of revenge. In the minds of these industrial potentates the war was a mistake. They want to have Germany resume her progress without disturbing the rest of the world, and to have her do it through methods that succeeded so magnificently before 1914, namely, work and technically specialized intelligence."

Such a program as this contains nothing but benefit not for Germany alone, but for France and the rest of the world as well. Apropos of France, it is interesting to note that many of Germany's leaders, including Hugo Stinnes, believe that the future prosperity of Europe will be markedly advanced by a Franco-German solidarity of economic interests. That such a community of interests may be realized, once the superheated passions of war have been dissipated is early, possible. It is also interesting to note that in spite of predictions made during the war that Germany and Russia would cement their interests in a manner menacing to the rest of the world, the fact is that Germany now looks to France, England and America and is paying practically no attention to Russia. Those who have been distressed over the bad mess now existing in Poland because of their belief that Poland was a buffer between Europe and bolshevism might well give some thought to the possibility that Germany may eventually turn out to be the barrier between Europe and the destroyer.

BETTER CHILD WELFARE.

A striking development in the movement to obtain better conditions for children is described in the pamphlet just issued by the Children's Bureau of the U. S. Department of Labor, entitled "State Commissions for the Study and Revision of Child Welfare Laws."

It is 9 years, according to this pamphlet, since Ohio appointed the first commission to study conditions surrounding children in the State and to modify and revise the laws relating to children. Since that time 16 other States and the District of Columbia have officially recognized the importance of this work by appointing similar commissions, and altogether almost two-thirds of the States have now taken some definite action towards studying legislation as it affects children.

In almost every state where such commissions have been appointed a careful study of conditions in the state and of remedies that have proved successful in other states has preceded suggestions for new legislation or for the revision of existing laws, thus avoiding the danger of hasty and ill-considered action. At the same time a carefully planned educational campaign has been carried on to explain the child-welfare needs of the state and the purpose and scope of the proposed legislation.

The subjects covered include the safeguarding of health, school attendance, regulation of employment, protection against exploitation or corruption of morals, special provision and training of dependent and neglected children, methods of dealing with delinquent children and state supervision of agencies and institutions.

The pamphlet gives a summary of organization and plans of work for each of the States in which commissions have been appointed, and an outline for an index of existing legislation affecting child-welfare. It contains also a list of reports and articles relating to the work of the various commissions and a list of compilations and summaries of laws affecting children.
