Evidence To Sustain Charges By Governor Cox

MOORE PRESENTS MUCH EVIDENCE TO SUSTAIN GOV. COX

Personal Representative of Nominee Causes Stormy Session in Probe. GREAT PORTION OF INFORMATION FROM DEMOCRAT CHAIRMAN Senatorial Traditions Strained to Breaking Point in Many Instances.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Edmund H. Moore, as personal representative of Governor Cox, today presented to the Senate committee investigating campaign expenditures part of the documents and information upon which the Democratic Presidential candidate based his charge of a Republican plan to raise a campaign fund of $15,000,000.

Sensational traditions as to courtesy were strained to the breaking point on several occasions as Republicans and Democratic members wrangled over the value of the evidence and at one stage just before adjournment Mr. Moore started to leave the stand, exclaiming that Senator Spencer, Republican, of Missouri, had intimidated forgery by questioning the authority of a circular letter which he had offered as furnishing a lead to further information.

The exchange was the climax of several similar occurrences and not even Chairman Kenyon's plaint that he "could not keep peace in Missouri," served to settle the atmosphere.

Considerable of Mr. Moore's late testimony consisted of information gleaned from telegrams received from Democratic state chairmen in western states. He told Senator Kenyon he had sent for some of this information and that other parts of it had been volunteered.

THOUSANDS OF MINERS IDLE IN COAL MINES IN ALABAMA TERRITORY

Birmingham, Sept. 8.—Thousands were idle in Alabama mines today while conciliators endeavored to halt the strike which began at midnight. Both sides admitted that the situation was grave.

REPORTS INDICATE DISASTROUS LOSSES FROM QUAKE IN ROME

Rome, Sept. 6.—As reports come in the extent of yesterday's earthquake disaster seems growing and scores are believed to have lost their lives in North Florence, where many structures collapsed and no tidings from many populous towns had been received.

Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines has been appointed chief of the inland and coastwise waterways service of the war department, an entirely new bureau created by a recent act of congress.

SMALL NUMBER OF CASES FEATURE IN TUESDAY'S COURT

Three liquor Cases Among Those Receiving Final Disposition During Day

Yesterday proved another decidedly busy day in the criminal term of county court and while not as many cases were disposed as on the day before the day's work was very satisfactory and resulted in the disposal of a number of charges that have been pending final consideration for some time.

Judge Wooten and Solicitor Hines were possibly as busy in the session yesterday as in that day before when so many cases were handled, and the wheel of justice was kept grinding with only occasional interruptions throughout the day.

Map Used by General Pershing Among Features at the National Museum

Washington, Sept. 8.—One of the interesting exhibits of the thousands in the world war collection now being gathered at the National Museum is the "Order of Battle" map used by General Pershing in directing the movements of the American forces in France.

The map was brought to Washington and installed in the museum by the sergeant and three enlisted men of the headquarters staff who kept it correct and guarded it throughout the war.

IRISH CRIMES BILL PROVIDES GREATER POWER FOR COURTS

Most Important Feature Gives Power to Try Cases Without Any Jury.

CRIMINAL MATTERS IN SINN FEIN COURT HANDLED BY POLICE

Officials Take Names of Those Engaged in Promoting Old Legislation.

Dublin, Sept. 8.—One important provision of the Irish Crimes bill which was put into effect this month is that which gives power to try civil actions without a jury.

The proceedings in criminal matters of Sinn Fein courts are already being dealt with by the police. When the Sinn Fein arrest a man on a charge of theft or burglary or anything else else the police treat the Sinn Fein's action as a breach of the liberty of the subject who should be only triable by a lawful court.

The civil trials by the Sinn Feiners are more difficult to deal with, for they can be argued to be merely arbitrations by consent of the parties.

ORDER OF BATTLE AMONG COLLECTION TAKEN BY MUSEUM

Washington, Sept. 8.—One of the interesting exhibits of the thousands in the world war collection now being gathered at the National Museum is the "Order of Battle" map used by General Pershing in directing the movements of the American forces in France.

The map was brought to Washington and installed in the museum by the sergeant and three enlisted men of the headquarters staff who kept it correct and guarded it throughout the war.

The maps shows in a vivid fashion the exact situation at the hour the armistice was signed with reference to the strength and location of all divisions, both enemy and allied, on the western front, the correct battalions, the names and location of commanding officers and locations of headquarters and army boundaries.

WISCONSIN LEADS ALL OTHER STATES IN UNIFORM LAWS

E. A. Gilmore Tells of Uniform Acts Adopted Lately by the State.

WAS FIRST STATE TO ENACT UNIFORM MARRIAGE RULINGS

More Laws Dealing With Divorce and Marriage Proposed Than Any Other

Chicago, Sept. 8.—Wisconsin leads the states in the number of uniform acts that it has adopted as put forth by the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State laws, according to a summary by E. A. Gilmore, of Madison, Wis., secretary of the conference.

Of 30 uniform acts submitted by the Commissioners, Wisconsin has adopted 21. Massachusetts stands next with 12. Wisconsin is also the first state to enact all the legislation relative to marriage and divorce drawn by the commissioners.

The uniform law which has been most favored is the negotiable instruments act. This has been adopted in all jurisdictions except Georgia and Porto Rico.

Two proposed uniform acts have not yet been adopted by any state. They are the table of weights and measures and the insurance policies act.

500,000 PERSONS ATTEND INDUSTRIAL WORKMAN'S PICNIC

Pittsburg Concerns Give Employees Picnics Throughout Entire Summer.

Pittsburg, Sept. 8.—More than 500,000 persons have this year attended the picnics given by industrial concerns in Pittsburg to their employees, according to the estimates of amusement park managers and a number of the most important are yet to be held.

Arrangements for these great gatherings of workmen and their families are on a colossal scale and carried out by an efficient organization of trained engineers and office men.

At one industrial picnic held here recently three tons of beef and four tons of boiled ham were required for the sandwiches. Five thousand loaves of bread were used, three men working fifty hours to cut it to size.

LOCAL MARKET TO RE-OPEN FOR SALE THURSDAY MORNING

Mass Meeting at Court House Attended by Record-Breaking Crowd.

FARMERS WILL HOLD CROP UNTIL PRICES GET MORE FAVORABLE

Committee to Confer With Federal Reserve Banks for Independent Buyers

Thousands of tobacco growers from virtually every district in this section of the state thronged the streets in this city today impatiently awaiting the drafting of resolutions by a committee appointed at a mass meeting during the morning, and when at last after moments filled with suspense and uncertainty the report was read from the portico of the court house, unrestrained cheering burst from hundreds of throats as the surging mob unanimously adopted the resolutions without a single dissenting voice.

An amendment to the resolutions which will govern the tobacco industry in this immediate section of the state in the future provided for the re-opening of the Greenville market tomorrow morning, for receiving such offerings as the farmer may present and to give prices a chance of developing.

The main provision of the resolution, however, stipulated that the farmer should hold his crop until prices become more normal and gradual readjustment occurred. It was advised that the crop be carefully laid away in the packhouse, preserved in the best of condition and offered for final disposition when the serious situation prevailing in this section of the state becomes favorable.

An amendment part of the resolutions also provided for the appointment of a committee to confer with officials of the Federal Reserve banking system for the purpose of creating additional funds for loans to independent buyers operating on the Eastern market, so that such persons might be able to buy up immense quantities of bright leaf, hold until prices adjusted themselves, and at the same time gradually relieve the insolvent farmer of debts which have been piling up throughout the year.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 8, 1920

THE SUFFRAGE ISSUE.

The ratification of the Nineteenth amendment places in the hands of the Anti-Saloon League a new weapon for law-enforcement. Any man who thinks that the women of this country are not against blind tigers and blockaders needs to think over again. Anti-Saloon League officials have known for years that the women were their strong est allies. The liquor organizations have known the same thing, and it is a matter of record that for fifteen years, as organizations, they have been fighting the enfranchisement of women.

In this nation today there is a fight to the finish to decide whether the Christian citizens and the loyal Americans shall rule this country or whether the friends of lawlessness and anarchy shall dictate its policy, and this conflict is manifested in the violations of the prohibition laws at this time. Prohibition has certainly made good in North Carolina for twelve years and in the nation for twelve months, but today we face a condition that is alarming. There are few, if any, counties in the state where liquor is not made and sold in spite of the law. The very fact that it cannot be legally secured for beverage purposes and that those who want it to drink will pay fabulous prices makes the lawless class take more chances in making and disposing of it; and therefore the need of greater vigilance on the part of officers and citizens.

I believe it is a fact that there are more people engaged in the illicit manufacture of liquor today in North Carolina than ever before but that they do it on a much smaller scale and that, therefore, there is not as much liquor manufactured contrary to law as heretofore. I believe, too, that since the enactment of the Volstead Act and the appointment of federal prohibition agents, many sheriffs and other state officers in this state are resting on their oars, hoping that the hard job of executing the law will be done by the federal government. I do not hesitate to say that there are sheriffs and other police officers in this state who have been making child's play of law-enforcement and who will never do any better until there is a demand from the citizens of their locality.

The general assembly of 1919, in enacting a law fixing the duties of sheriffs, deputies, and other police officers touching enforcement, said:

"Section 1. It shall be the duty of the sheriff of each county in the state and of the police of each incorporated city or town in the state, to search for and seize any distillery or apparatus used for the manufacture of intoxicating liquors in violation of the laws of North Carolina, and to deliver the same, with any materials used for making such liquors, found on the premises, to the board of county commissioners, who shall confiscate the same.

"Sec. 2. That it shall be the duty of said officers to seize and then and there destroy any and all liquors which may be found at such distillery, and to arrest and hold for trial all persons found on said premises engaged in distilling or aiding or abetting in the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors."

This law makes it clearly the duty of the officers of this state to "search for and seized" distilleries and arrest parties operating them and the people of every county must demand this at the hands of their county officers. The people must also give assistance to the officers. They must be the eyes and the ears for the officers and report all who are suspected of violating the law to the proper officials. Until such cooperation comes, we will not get our best results.

Now is the time for the citizens throughout the state to quiz their nominees on this question and to support, at the ballot box, men for congress who will stand by the Volstead Act and allow no modification of the definition of intoxicating liquor that will permit the sale of beer and wine; to support sheriffs and other police officers who will promise to "search for and seize" the distilleries and arrest the liquor makers; to support solicitors, judges, etc., who will give a square deal to the prohibition laws, that is, honest prosecution and adequate punishment. The Christian citizen must make good at the ballot box.

FOREIGN TRADE STATISTICS.

Complete official statistics covering the foreign commerce of the United States during the calendar years 1918 and 1919 are contained in a volume known as "Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States," just published by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce.

This document is the government's annual itemized statement of the articles of merchandise exported and imported. It shows in detail the classes of goods shipped to and received from each country and the value thereof.

With its aid the manufacturer, exporter, or student of foreign commerce can ascertain the importance of any country as an established market for a wide range of American products. Sources of foreign goods are disclosed in the same way.

The publication also covers imports and exports of gold and silver, number and tonnage of vessels entered and cleared, in transit and transshipment trade and other associated subjects.

Copies are sold by the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., at $1.25 each.

MOORE-LEGGETT.

Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, in the Episcopal church of Tarboro, Miss Ellen Baker Leggett, of that city and Mr. Harry Moore, of Scotland Neck were quietly married by Rev. Bertram E. Brown, the bride's pastor. Only the members of the bride's family and a few intimate friends were present. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Moore came to Greenville and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Starkey.

Mrs. Moore is the pretty and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Leggett, of Tarboro. Mr. Moore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Zeno Moore, of Whitakers. He spent his boyhood days in Greenville, and is well known by many people of this city. He is a young man of sterling character and popular in the business circles of the state. After their visit here they will go to Scotland Neck where they will make their future home.

MRS. S. T. WHITE ENTERTAINS

On Tuesday at her beautiful home on Dickinson avenue, Mrs. S. T. White entertained at a four course bridge luncheon complimentary to the members of the bridge club. The house was bower of asters, zenias and potted plants. The tables were decorated with bud vases containing asters, and covers were laid for sixteen. Several interesting games were enjoyed. Mrs. Louis Gaylord making the top score was presented a quart of sweet pickle peaches. The table prizes were pint jars of marmalade, peach preserves, chow-chow and pickles and were won by Mesdames Ned Laughinghouse, H. H. Phillips, of Tarboro, N. W. Outlaw and F. J. Forbes. The out of town guests who enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. White were Mesdames Layden Blount, of Bethel, and H. H. Phillips, of Tarboro.

It was one of the most delightful luncheons ever given in this city, and was thoroughly enjoyed by each guest present.

CARD CLUB.

Miss Pattie Wooten was hostess to her bridge club yesterday. The house was decorated with cut flowers and the tables for the games were arranged in the library. Mrs. S. L. Bridgers making the top score was presented a box of hand-made handkerchiefs. At the conclusion of the games a salad course was served.

There's Local Color In These Fall Suits

at $45, $50 and $60.

You can tell that every suit in this stock was picked purposely for Greenville men—because they look it.

Take this slate gray for instance—doesn't it put you in mind of a certain real estate man?

Here's a blue pin stripe that looks all the world like a young Greenville man whose business is banking.

And this brown overplaid you see hits a well known grocer to a T—even tho' its color is Coffee.

It doesn't make any difference what business you are in—we have made it our business to match it. There is a Fall suit here for every local man—
When are you coming to see yours?

LOVE'S DAY.

Dawn and the day's beginning,
And happy thoughts of you—
You with your rare charms winning
Love that is strong and true.

Noontime, and the sunshine flowing
And love's eternal flame,
Warm in my fond heart glowing,
Since you in splendor came.

Twilight and calmer motion,
And firm attachment sweet,
With understood devotion
And staid contented feet.

Night, and the darkness creeping,
Finding us hand-in-hand
Fast in our final sleeping,
To wake in the Promised Land!

MR. AND MRS. S. T. WHITE ENTERTAIN

In Honor of Mr. Charlie White's 21st Birthday.

Last evening at their home on Dickinson avenue, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. White entertained twenty guests at a bridge party in honor of their son, Mr. Charles White, who on yesterday reached his twenty-first birthday. The home was artistically decorated with cut flowers, potted plants and with its shaded lights presented such a beautiful scene that the guests felt as if they were really in fairy land. Upon arrival they were given a most cordial welcome by Mr. and Mrs. S. T. White, Mr. Charles White and Miss Ernestine Forbes, and shown into the library and where the tables were arranged for the games. One each table was a bud vase containing a flower, appropriate place cards and salted nuts. Mr. Olthos Joyner making the top score, for the ladies, was presented a large package of cigarettes, and Miss Ernestine Forbes making the top score, for the ladies, was presented a beautiful piece of silk lingerie. Mr. Charles White was given a white jersey silk shirt. At the conclusion of the games a salad course was served, after which the birthday cake, decorated with twenty-one tapers was rolled in on the tea cart. Each guest was asked to cut and Miss Novella Moye cut the ring, thus signifying that she would be the next bride. Before departing, an ice course was served, after which the men enjoyed a smoke.

Those enjoying the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. White were as follows: Miss Ernestine Forbes, Mr. Charles White; Miss Rubelle Forbes, Mr. David Moore; Miss Frances Whedbee, Mr. Olthos Joyner; Miss Ruth Andrews, Mr. Richard King; Miss Ada James, Mr. William White; Miss Josephine Skinner, Mr. Dick Gorman; Miss Nell White, Capt. C. B. Wilson, of Washington; Miss Novella Moye, Mr. Ficklen Arthur; Miss Edith Lee, Mr. D. J. Whichard, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stokes, of Lynchburg, Va. It was a delightful party and each guest reluctantly departed, wishing Mr. White many happy returns of the day.

MARGARET LOOMIS IS LEADING WOMAN IN NEW WASHBURN FILM

Popular Screen Actress Has Splendid Role in "What Happened to Jones."

Margaret Loomis, one of the most popular leading women on the screen, plays opposite Bryant Washburn in "What Happened to Jones," the Paramount Artercraft comedy drama which will be shown at White's Theatre tonight. The play was adapted from the famous George Broadhurst comedy success which convulsed Broadway for months.

Miss Loomis came to the screen after great success as a leading dancer with Ruth St. Denis. She has appeared since leaving the vaudeville stage in many Paramount Artercraft productions. "Modesty," in "Every-woman" and the feminine lead in "The Sins of St. Anthony" are her offerings of recent months. Her success was instantaneous

She is pretty and has a fascinating personality that "gets across" in a wonderful manner. Manager White is glad of the opportunity to again present Miss Loomis to his patrons.

"What Happened to Jones," an uproarious farce of bootlegging and reform in a dry town, was directed by James Cruze. The scenario was written by Elmer Harris. The supporting cast includes J. Maurice Foster, Frank Jonasson, Lillian Lighton, Caroline Rankin and Richard Cummings.
