DECLARES SCHOOL BUDGETS OF NATION NEED AN INCREASE

Analysis of Public School Statistics Shows Inadequate Funds in Evidence.

RECOMMENDS INCREASE IN TEACHERS SALARIES IN EVERY COMMUNITY

Report of Russel Sage Foundation Gives Conditions in Prevalence Everywhere

New York, Sept. 25.—School budgets in American cities should be twice as large as before the war according to an analysis of public school statistics just given out by the Russell Sage Foundation.

These findings are made public in a volume entitled "Trends of School Costs." The author is Dr. W. Randolph Burgess, assistant director of the department of education of the Russell Sage Foundation.

Dr. Burgess compares the salaries paid to teachers with those paid to laborers and artisans for 80 years and finds that the wages paid to young women teachers in country schools have increased from $2.50 a week in 1841 to $17.50 now, an increase of 600 percent.

PRESIDENT WILSON SAYS HE WILL NOT ANNUL PEACE PACT

Makes Public His Refusal to Follow Directions of Merchant Marine Act.

Washington, Sept. 24.—President Wilson has declined to take steps toward termination of certain commercial treaties as directed by congress in the Merchant Marine Act, holding that "such a course would be wholly irreconcilable with the historical respect which the United States has shown for its international engagements."

Formal announcement of the President's decision and the reasons impelling it was made today at the State Department. The Merchant Marine Act, as approved by the President on the closing day of the last session of congress, directed the executive within ninety days to prove notice to foreign nations of the intentions of the United States to terminate any sections of existing commercial treaties which restrict the right of the American government to impose discriminatory charges on shipping in foreign bottoms.

The President in declining to comply with the directions of the act, the State Department's announcement said, also held that congress exceeded its authority in giving such directions.

CHARGES GOV. COX GOT CONTRIBUTION DURING YEAR 1918

George Lockwood, Republican Editor, Volunteers Lead for Committee.

DEMOCRATIC MEMBERS DEMAND EARLY PROBE OF IMPLIED CHARGES

Lockwood Declares Cox Got Check for $5,000 from Metal Company.

Washington, Sept. 24.—An implied charge that Governor Cox, Democratic presidential candidate, had received in 1918 a concealed campaign contribution of $5,000 from the Dayton (Ohio) Metal Products Company today sent the Senate campaign investigating committee off on a wholly new track.

A demand of Democratic members of the committee, immediate inquiry was ordered, although the Ohio state campaign, it was agreed, was outside the committee's jurisdiction.

The direct charge was made. Citing as his authority an examiner for a house aircraft investigation committee, however, George B. Lockwood, editor of the National Republican, volunteered the statement as a "lead which the committee might follow that a certain check drawn by the Metal Products Company June 29, 1918, was to 'pay a personal note of James M. Cox.'"

"The effort was to make it appear that this was an obligation that Mr. Cox had entered into with the City National Bank of Dayton sometime before," Lockwood said, "but it appears to me, from all the circumstances, that it must have been a contribution from this corporation to Mr. Cox's campaign fund."

ASKS AMERICA TO PUT MORE STAMPS ON FUTURE LETTER

Failure of Americans to Put on Proper Postage Troubles Argentina.

Buenos Aires, Aug. 25.—Failure of the majority of North American manufacturing and exporting concerns to place sufficient postage on the letters they send to Argentina is one of the details which is tending to cause an unfavorable opinion here of American business methods, says the bulletin of the United States Chamber of Commerce in Argentina.

The bulletin is convinced that at least 25 percent of the letters sent here from the United States bear a two-cent stamp instead of the five cent postage required. This means that the recipients not only are obliged to pay the additional three cents but a fine imposed by the Argentine postoffice regulations equivalent to the deficiency, or a total of six cents.

The bulletin also comments upon "the lack of even rudimentary knowledge of geography" shown by some American concerns in addressing letters. It cites the instance of an important letter addressed by the Chamber of Commerce of one of the largest American cities to the Stock Exchange in "Buenos Aires, Brazil." The ignorance displayed of the location of a city of nearly 2,000,000 population is "to say the least not especially flattering to our Argentine friends, who are very proud of Buenos Aires as being the metropolis of South America."

FRENCH TERRITORY EXPANDS RAPIDLY IN LAST FEW YEARS

Unusual Progress in Commerce and Natural Resources Shown in Report.

New York, Sept. 25.—Unusual progress in the development of commerce and natural resources in the French colonial possessions and dependencies has brought them wealth ranking next to that of the British colonial empire, according to a survey made public here by the French commission. The French colonies, with an estimated population of 50,000,000 have an area of 4,000,000 square miles.

Total exports from the colonies in 1917, with the exception of Algeria and Tunis were valued at approximately 1,108,000,000 francs. Since 1914 exports in the various possessions increased from 25 to 100 percent. The increases are attributed to the thrift of natives following the war's ending.

Total Algerian exports in 1919 were more than 1,334,000,000 francs an increase of about 558 millions over 1918. The port of Algiers alone handled exports approximating 475,158,000 francs an increase of 200,822,000 francs, according to estimates. Chief imports were cotton, clothing and linen, skins, coal, sugar and coffee.

National roads in Algeria have a length of 3,310 miles, while 2,208 miles of railway were open for traffic in January 1919.

Tunis, essentially an agricultural country had bumper grain crops in 1919, as follows: Wheat, 6,500,553 bushels; barley, 5,428,223 bushels; oats, 344,722 bushels. The cork industry is important, cork trees covering more than 600,000 acres. The annual mineral production averages in value more than 30,000,000 francs.

The spring estimate of 1920 harvest in the French zone of Morocco valued the crops at 1,000,000,000 francs, and it was expected there would be a large surplus for export, the survey states. Exports to France in 1918 were valued at 82,062,880 francs, the imports at 155,224,925 francs.

The French possession in India consists of five separate colonies with an aggregate area of 1,900 square miles. Rice, sugar, cotton, cocoa, coffee and ground nuts are grown.

FIRST PREMIUM CORN ON EXHIBIT REFLECTOR OFFICE

Mr. W. O. Briley, of Greenville Route 4, visited the Reflector office yesterday with two ears of corn and two apples which had won first premiums at the Pitt county fair. The corn was as pretty as ever seen, every grain being almost the same size and perfect in shape. The premium for the corn was $2 and for the apples $3. Mr. Briley is one of Pitt's most progressive farmers, and his exhibits at the fair deserve the highest praises.

INTERESTING RACE FEATURES CLOSING OF COUNTY'S FAIR

Horse Racing Yesterday Witnessed by Hundreds Visitors From Afar.

GREENVILLE HORSES WIN FIRST MONEY IN BOTH RACES OF DAY

Five Heats Necessary to Determine Winner in First Race of Afternoon.

Final horse racing at the Pitt County Fair yesterday afternoon proved a directly pleasing conclusion to activities for the week, for both races were contested in a stubborn, persistent way, keeping interest at proper height until the last horse had passed under the wire. Hundreds of spectators, including visitors from many territories, witnessed the last track event of Pitt county's first exposition, and as on preceding days the horses appeared at their very best and swung around the track in a particularly interesting manner in every heat.

In the first race, a 2:30 pace, "Susan Boyd," driven by Roberts of Greenville won out in probably one of the most stubbornly contested races of the entire week, winning four straight heats after taking third and fourth places. "Tony Mack," driven by Johnson of Greenville, put up a splendid exhibition for honors of this particular race, making it a close second in the last stages, threatening to pass under the wire first quite a number of times. There were six entrants, but the first and second horses featured prominently from the very start.

The second contest, a 2:22 trot, "Leola McKinney," driven by Douglas of Darlington, S. C., won out in three successive heats, closely followed by "Bond Issue," driven by Becker of Tarboro, Silky Nan, driven by Rogers of Roland, and "Cochato Watts," driven by Moore of Dillon, S. C. The three last horses winning second money. This race also stood out prominently as one of the best of the week, for it proved a neck to neck contest, all horses passing under the wire in a fast, spirited way.

First Race, 2:30 Pace.

R. G., driven by Swert of Fayetteville 3-5-3-3; Fenwick Belle, driven by Daugherty of Fayetteville, 2-4-4-3; Prince B, driven by Douglas of Darlington, S. Silky Nan, driven by Rogers of Roland, N. C., 2-3-4; Cochato Watts, driven by Moore of Dillon, S. C., 4-2-3; Bond Issue, driven by Becker of Tarboro, 3-4-2; Leola McKinney, driven by Douglas of Darlington, S. C., 1-1-1. Time 2:17. Purse $400.

MR. KRAUSE A GREAT BOOSTER OF HIS HOME TOWN

Mr. Ben Krause, the owner of Krause's Greater Shows which has been in our city this week, as the midway for the Pitt County Fair, is an fine a gentlemen as ever visited our city. Mr. Krause thinks Greenville a mighty fine little town, but he is a great booster of his own home town Punta Gorda, Florida. He is an advertisement for the town which gave him birth, which is a mighty fine trait in any man, and he extends the people of Greenville a cordial invitation to visit Punta Gorda.

Mr. Krause is a member of the Chamber of Commerce of his home town, and he stated this morning that they believed in boosting one's home town. A motto which every one should adopt. Krause's Greater Shows will be open again this afternoon and tonight at the fair grounds, and will leave tomorrow. It is a fine show, and as clean one as ever visited Greenville.

Mrs. W. B. Wilson and Miss Nona Blow left this morning for a visit in Nashville.

EUROPEAN WRITERS APPEAL TO COLLEAGUES IN U. S.

In response to an appeal from a group of European Jewish writers and artists, the J. L. Peretz Writers' Association of New York has started a drive for $100,000 with which to relieve the hardships which members of those professions are now suffering throughout Eastern Europe. The group making the appeal included such prominent men as Dr. Eliaser, David Bergelson, Dr. Cherikover, Aaronson, painter; Chaikov, sculptor, Latsky, writer; Kalmanowitz, philologist; Epstein, sculptor; Quilko, poet; Rubek, painter, and Shtiff, critic.

Dr. Eliaser, better known under his pen name of Baal-Machshovath, worded the appeal as follows:

"A large number of well-known Jewish literary men lived in Ukraina during the hardest and bloodiest period of her development. In less than two years, governmental authority changed no less than sixteen times and these changes quite apart from all other troubles were generally accompanied by Jewish massacres on a large scale. Massacres which reminded one of the days of Chmelnitzki and by far exceeded the period of Gontha.

"As long as there was the slightest possibility of laboring and creating in a Jewish cultural direction, our literary forces patiently bore the burdens which the time and conditions imposed upon them and although they did not deceive themselves and fully realized what slight cultural gains could be achieved in such an impossible atmosphere they nevertheless exerted themselves to enrich through their labors the existing Jewish culture.

"We have now reached the point where the strongest and most patient have lost their courage. One may openly admit that under the present existing circumstances any spiritual activity is well nigh impossible. The moment has come when together with a handful of literary men who stood for so many years at the head Jewish creative art in Russia, all cultural activities are about to disappear. Nothing but complete cessation is before us."

Additional aid to this group will doubtless result from the recent meeting of all the Jewish writers and news paper men of New York City, where everyone present pledged one fourth of a week's income for the relief of his colleagues in the Ukraine and elsewhere.

MORE IN SORROW THAN ANGER.

When Bill Hart or Tom Mix or Harry Carey have ramped through four and a half reels, rustling cattle, holding up trains and robbing stage coaches, one may see the redeemed bad man ride into the sunset across the Mexican border while a kind hearted sheriff waves a friendly farewell from the distance. They get away with it in the films. But—

In the days when a cowpuncher earned $30 a month instead of being paid $1,000 a week, and when he manured his malls by scraping the sand out of the bake oven, it was different. If a careless stranger slaughtered somebody else's beef, the owner and his friends unannouncedly escorted said stranger beneath a stout cottonwood tree and moved the ground from under him. They took these steps more in sorrow than in anger, for hanging the rustler did not resurrect the dead steer.

Neither rustler nor human nature has changed much since those days. Now the rustlers run off with dollars instead of cows. They work with oil stock prospectuses, promises of fifty per cent dividends and assurances of enormous price advances instead of by blotting brands and stampedes. Sooner or later most of them run foul of the law are captured or chased across the border. But if they have taken your money, putting them in the big stone house at Atlanta or Leavenworth won't bring your dollars back.

If one lets dollars run loose, the rustlers are mighty likely to get at least some of them. The one safe plan is to put them where the rustlers cannot get them. So long as you keep your dollars corralled in Liberty Bonds and government savings securities they are many of the investors to whom he promised 50 per cent profits in three months have received neither money nor profit. Putting Ponzi in jail did not get their money back but putting their money into Liberty Bonds would have kept them from losing it.

THE TIRED WORKING MAN.

The Public Health Service, together with others in this country and abroad, has found that in the industries of this country there is a waste of human energy beyond all comparison with that of raw materials, or power.

The waste is due to the traditional belief on the part of employers that a man's man or a woman is a woman and that work is work, and to letting it go at that.

A man is not a mere man, but an accumulation of strength and energy, like the heat units in coal that can be reduced to definite analysis. Man power is subjected to more variations and influences than are common to any raw material or mechanical force. It is the costliest ingredient entering into manufacture.

But to conserve it for the benefit of industry isn't the primary purpose in the federal health service's excursions into industrial hygiene. Its sole intent is to promote the public health.

"We are not pro-industry or pro-labor or pro anything else except good health," declared a Public Health official. "We go into manufacturing plants and study processes, from the engineering as well as the medical point of view because whatever measures we propose for the safeguarding of the health of workers in industry must harmonize with profitable operations, for the employer and the employe. It is merely conservation."

SLAVE LABOR IN FREE RUSSIA.

Russia, hailed as the country where the worker was to be really free, has come to what is practically slavery. With the downfall of Russia industry, which began with the idle days of "workers' control" of factories has come an insistence on the rule that all human effort is the property of the state. These are the conditions disclosed by the preliminary study of labor conditions in Soviet Russia made by the International Labor Office of the League of Nations.

At the outset, Lenin and Trotzky said to the workers, in effect: "You do the work. Without you there would be no production. Therefore the factories are yours. Take them and run them. Sell what you produce and keep the money. Goodbye, good luck and God bless you."

Simple enough when one comes to think of it. The great trouble with it is that it didn't seem to work. Workers' control and nationalization meant just one thing to the workers, and that was the possession of the factory by the workers. Chaos followed and every where there were conflicts.

Seyppthoff, director of Textile Industries, is quoted as saying: "The workmen were unable to understand anything except that the revolution gave them the right to do as they pleased. The output went down to forty per cent and chaos in the government ensued."

PROHIBITION AND THE GERMAN ELEMENT

Prohibition laws are disregarded to an astonishing degree in the larger cities of the country, particularly in those with a large foreign-born population, according to a published statement of the Prohibition Bureau of the Internal Revenue Department.

The German-born population with its beer-drinking habits would unduly swell the ranks of prohibition law-breakers but such is not the case, according to Major Dalrymple who is in charge of prohibition enforcement in the Chicago district.

Major Dalrymple states:

"I frankly admit that in the city of Milwaukee, for instance, which comparatively has the largest German population in my district, not a single German has been arrested for violating the Prohibition laws. A few cases have occurred in Chicago, but they are of a subordinate nature. In any case the Germans furnish the smallest percentage of all of the offenders against Prohibition."

NO DECREASE IN NORWEGIAN LANGUAGE PRESS

At a recent meeting of the Norwegian Language Press Association in Duluth, Minn., it was reported that not a single Norwegian Language publication in America had been suspended since the beginning of the war. In spite of prejudice created against foreign language publications in general during the past few years the Norwegian language press, it was pointed out, has held its own. Not only have publications been maintained intact, but many of them have increased their circulation. There are upward of 100 publications in the Norwegian language in the United States. Of these about thirty are daily, semi-weekly newspapers of extensive circulation in their respective localities.

The largest and most influential of these papers is the Skandinaven of Chicago, which is one of the largest foreign language newspaper properties in America. It was founded by the late John Anderson in 1860, has been daily, Sunday and semi-weekly edition and is most extensively circulated in the middle west and north western states. In policy the paper has always been Republican with a Progressive leaning. It has always been loyal American and is regarded as one of the best mediums for the dissemination of sound Americanism among the sturdy immigrants from Norway. Mr. Anderson, belonged to the group of pioneer immigrants of whom United States Senator Kanute Nelson is one.

MARSHALS BALL

The marshals ball, the social event of the Pitt County Fair, and which closed the fair last evening, was a great success and largely attended. Over one hundred couples from different sections of the state participated. Forbes and Morton's large new warehouse in which the ball took place was beautifully decorated with flags and other appropriate decorations.

The grand march began at 9:30 o'clock led by Chief Marshal J. B. Kittrell and Miss Elizabeth Hinton, of Elizabeth City. Engagement cards were given out in time for making the dances, then the dancing took place according to program. The first favor dance was the presentation of badges. All the marshals, with their partners, forming two lines, the marshals giving the ladies their badges, and the ladies accepting them by kneeling.

The second was the presentation of fans and parasols. Twenty-five ladies lined on one side and seventy-five men on the other. The ladies were given a fan and parasol and asked to select a partner, give the parasol to another, and the fan to another. The partner did the dancing, while the ones with the parasol and fan accompanied them. Much merriment was caused by the men with the parasols and fans trying to keep up with the dancers. The third was the presentation of lemons and dolls. All couples danced with the exception of four. The ladies not dancing were given a lemon, and were told to get rid of it by presenting same to some lady dancing, and she was to take her partner. This continued through the entire dance, and the lemons were kept moving, as the last ones to receive them were to be penalized. At the end of the dance the four ladies holding the lemons were presented dolls.

The music which was furnished by the Pied Piper orchestra was one of the most attractive features of the dance. The orchestra is one of the best on the road and their playing and singing in addition to their many little stunts, are attracting wide attention. They have appeared here several times, and have pleased the Greenville dancers each time.

The marshals ball will long be remembered by the large crowd attending, and the many dancers which participated.

DECLARES SCHOOLS BUDGETS OF NATION NEED AN INCREASE

 Percentage increases in salary nearly twice as great as artisans and laborers, Dr. Burgess finds; but in spite of the increases the average pay of teachers has never risen as high as wages paid to such artisans as blacksmiths, carpenters and painters.
 "During the five years since 1915 the salaries of teachers have increased on the average of 45 percent as compared with a 100 percent increase in the wages of laborers and artisans," says a summary of the report. "This lag in teachers' salaries behind the general rise in prices has wiped out all the gain that was made since the time of the Civil War. A comparison of teachers' salaries and the cost

W. B. WILSON, JR., BECOMES ASSISTANT TO AMERICAN CONSUL IN SHANGHAI

Mr. W. B. Wilson, Jr., has received another promotion in the government service that not only brings distinguished honor to him, but also much pleasure to his host of friends at home who have watched his career with gratification. When the United States entered the world war, Mr. Wilson had five brothers, all younger than he, in some branch of the army service. He had previously made application for military service, but owing to defective eyes had been rejected. When others were volunteering and being drafted for service in the world war, Mr. Wilson was so imbued with the spirit of patriotism that he could not rest under the chafing for service. He again made application to both the army and navy, only to be declined, when as a last resort he turned to the merchant marine where he was accepted. In this service he won his way to rapid promotion and had reached the rank of assistant paymaster before the armistice was signed.

In the meantime Mr. Wilson stood a competitive examination for a position with the Shipping Board of the government, and passed with such a high mark that he was made the personal representative of the board to visit foreign ports in connection with this government's trade relations. His record in this has been prominent, and has taken him to various countries of the world. The last few months he has been in the Orient, and showed such marked capability that while in Shanghai, China, he was tendered the position of assistant to the American Consul there, which place he has accepted and will be located in Shanghai.

His five brothers are all in the regular army holding high rank.

Rev. and Mrs. F. H. Scattergood and Rev. S. K. Phillips have returned from Granville county where they have been attending the presbytery at Geneva church.

LAST DAY OF FAIR ATTENDED BY MANY SPECIAL FEATURES

 Amusements have been of the very highest class, creditably presented, while exhibits will no doubt have a tendency of producing a keener spirit of competition among county people. The exposition, therefore, has been a decided success, and deserves the commendation of the entire community.

FAMOUS NOVEL IS PICTURIZED FOR

ELSIE FERGUSON
 Mrs. Humphrey Ward's Great Story "Lady Rose's Daughter" Star's Vehicle.

Elsie Ferguson's latest appealing Paramount picture, "Lady Rose's Daughter" which will be shown at White's theatre beginning next Thursday is a superb picturization of Mrs. Humphrey Ward's celebrated novel of the same name which scored a world success several years ago.

The story, which is regarded as one of the best ever written by Mrs. Ward, was first published as a serial in Harper's Magazine and later it appeared in book form. It was dramatised by George Fleming and produced in London. Under the management of Chas. Frohman, "Lady Rose's Daughter" was presented with enormous success at the Empire Theatre in New York, with Fay Davis in the title role.

The heroine of the story is Julie Le Breton, an orphan girl who is born out of wedlock. Her misfortune is continually thrown into her face and she has an interesting love affair. The story treats of heredity in an entertaining manner and in its development, Elsie Ferguson plays three roles, those of the grandmother, other and daughter.

The screen adaptation was made by Burns Mantle and the director was Hugh Ford. David Powell, Holmes E. Herbert and Ida Waterman have important parts. The photography was the work of Arthur Miller.
