Republican Candidate Declares that He Stands Pat With Borah and Johnson.

APPROVES ADDRESSES DELIVERED BY FIERY ADHERENTS OF PARTY

Candidate Will Speak in Fremont, Ohio, at Unveiling of Monument.

Marion, Ohio, Oct. 3.—Reports of a break between Senator Harding and leading irreconcilables over the treaty issue again were denied tonight by the Republican presidential nominee, who said he had received detailed information of public speeches by irreconcilable Senators and found them no lack of harmony with his own views.

"I approve what Senator Borah has said in his public addresses," said Senator Harding. "He will continue to make speeches for the Republican ticket and I am sure I shall approve also what he says to the voters in the future."

"I have just received a full stenographic report of the address of Senator Johnson made at Los Angeles, September 25. It dissipates, conclusively any notion that Senator Johnson is out of harmony with the platform and the candidate."

"Senator Johnson repeatedly quoted from the League of Nations address which I delivered on August 28, giving his unqualified approval of it. His speech, with this generous endorsement of the party's platform and my own interpretation of it, brings no surprise to me. More than that, it adds to my confidence that when we have recorded America against the menace which we were being led in for, we are going to be able to have America agree on a program which shall hold us forever free and still play our part in expressing the new conscience of the world."

Tomorrow Senator Harding will motor to Fremont, Ohio, to speak at the unveiling of a soldier memorial near the home of President Rutherford B. Hayes. Original announcement of plans for the celebration contemplated the attendance also of Governor Cox, the Democratic nominee, but the information at Harding headquarters tonight was that he would not be present.

One of the Senator's longest campaign trips, taking him to Des Moines, Omaha, Kansas City and Oklahoma City, will begin on Wednesday. St. Joseph, Mo., was added to the itinerary today, a day meeting having been arranged there for Friday, October 8.

COX DELIVERS SHORT

ADDRESS TO WOMEN IN HIS HOME CITY TODAY

Dayton, Oct. 4.—Although supposed to be resting for two days after his eleven thousand mile western trip, Governor Cox today continued his plea for the League of Nations in an address before a body of women. The governor gave many reasons why women should support the league, declaring that they were chief sufferers during the war. He reiterated that the league would stop wages and not encourage them as Republican opponents have changed.

PRESIDENT WRIGHT DELIVERS OPENING MESSAGE TO PUPILS

Training School Head Speaks at First Y. W. C. A. Services of Session.

The first Y. W. C. A. service each year is one of the special features of the opening of the Training School. President Wright last evening delivered the message. He made a strong, impressive talk that was especially appropriate to young women entering upon a year of training for leadership. He drew a comparison between the glory and prosperity of Solomon's age and this telling the story of the subsequent fall of the king down of Israel and analyzing the causes. He called attention to similar dangers today, if we are led away from high ideals by material prosperity. He asked the pertinent question, "Have we gone back in the last five years?"

He declared that he believes America is the chosen nation today as Israel was then; because our form of government throws the responsibility on all the citizenship; although this gives the greatest freedom, it makes the government problem an individual one as well. The hope of the nation and of the world is in enlightenment of all the people, the training in right ideals, so that they will have the right ideas of their relationship to other people, this nation other nations, and the world. Other nations have paid a heavy price for wrong ideas. Payment will be exacted of us also if we follow any but true ideals.

This is a crucial time in the history of the world, a time of new things and new ideals, and the future depends upon the way the people adjust themselves to these things. There is danger of having the "flying attitude" towards life that has come in with the flying machine.

At the close the president impressed upon the young women the new responsibilities that have come upon them and the importance of their getting the best possible out of school and church. The entire school attended the service. The three hundred young women made an impressive group. All seemed deeply interested in the work of the Young Women's Christian Association.

SEES DEMAND FOR IMPROVING SILVER CURRENCY SYSTEM

Findlay Shirras Declares Times Are Propitious for Such Movement.

SAYS GOLD STANDARD HAS BEEN EFFECTIVE IN SEVERAL SECTIONS

Director of Statistics in India Advocates Agreement of Governments.

London, Oct. 4.—The times are propitious for improving the currency systems of those silver countries not possessing the gold standard, asserts Findlay Shirras, Director of Statistics in India, in a paper which has been issued by the League of Nations in connection with the International Financial conference held at Brussels this month.

Mr. Shirras declares that the advantages of the adoption of the gold standard as a system of currency have been incontestably proved in the case of India, especially between the years 1898 and 1917.

The statistician points out that an agreement between governments regarding the purchase and sale of silver might lead to a steadying of the market and prevent speculation. "During the war," he says, "when the Allied governments purchased silver jointly, competition was to a considerable extent, so far as the governments were concerned, restricted and the benefits of concerted action were clear."

PITT REPUBLICANS NAME CANDIDATES FOR NEXT ELECTION

C. A. Reynolds, of Winston, Addresses Adherents in Convention Saturday

The address of C. A. Reynolds, of Winston, proved the outstanding feature of the Republican county convention conducted in this city last Saturday afternoon at which a complete county ticket was nominated and other matters pertaining to the campaign definitely outlined for future activity. Only a small crowd of party adherents attended the convention, but right much interest was manifested particularly in the selection of candidates.

The following ticket was nominated: For the state senate, J. E. Sawyer, of Ayden; for House of Representatives, J. W. Mope, of Farmville and W. H. McCotter, of Grifton; for Sheriff, Levy Stokes, of Ayden; candidates for treasurer and register of deeds were not nominated, but will be supplied within a few days; for county commissioners, Sam Harris, Exum Dall, W. E. Smith and T. J. Stawell. Candidate for minor offices were not placed in nomination during the day, but it was understood that they will be supplied in time for the election.

Mr. Reynolds dwelled upon national conditions in his address, lauding the efforts of national figures, particularly their desire to bring about more consistent action in every community. He touched lightly upon conditions now in existence in this state, supporting principles which have already been enunciated by national political leaders and declaring that it is up to every member of the party to firmly support these principles. Conditions generally affecting the world in an economic way were discussed at length, showing the necessity for direct co-operation from every source.

AUTOCRATIC POWER HAS BEEN GRANTED BASEBALL OFFICES

National Commission Takes Action to Prevent Probable Scandal.

ALL CONTESTANTS IN NATIONAL SERIES TO PAY BIG GUARANTEE

Other Safeguards Taken to Prevent Unfairness in Concluding Games.

New York, Oct. 4.—Powers and authority that are virtually autocratic are invested in the National Baseball commission for the conduct of the world's series in order that the big games that annually wind up the season shall be kept, as far as possible, free from scandal. All the important details of the series as well as the minor ones are arranged by the commission, leaving to the playing clubs only those arrangements that affect the actual playing of the games on their respective home grounds.

During the recent grand jury investigation of baseball in Chicago the world's series of 1919 was mentioned in several instances, but the rules and regulations governing the big games disclose the fact that safeguards are so thrown about the world's series as to make it exceedingly dangerous to tamper with or endeavor to influence anything but an honest decision in the games.

Three days before the beginning of the series each year the owners of the

BAPTIST MINISTER DECIDES TO ACCEPT RICHMOND CHARGE

Rev. W. H. Moore Gives Notice of Resignation for First of November.

It was published some days ago that Brainbridge Street Baptist church in Richmond had extended a call to Rev. W. H. Moore, pastor of Memorial Baptist church here.

It is recalled that early in July Mr. Moore, who had been pastor of the local church for more than three years, gave notice that he would resign the first of October. Returning from his vacation covering a month of August, the church by unanimous vote requested him not to resign as he had given notice to do, and his reply to this was a withdrawal of the notice.

At the conclusion of the service yesterday morning Mr. Moore, after having conferred over the matter with the board of deacons, told the church of his receiving the call from Richmond, and requested that he be released from the pastorate here in time for him to take charge of the new field the first of November. He stated in this connection that this had been the happiest pastorate of his ministerial life so far, that he loved every member of the local church, that he had been supported loyally by the church, but for several months he honestly felt that the climax of his work here had been reached, and being unable to throw off this impression over which he had prayed much, he felt that it would be best for the church and for himself that he go elsewhere. The change to the Richmond church means no more to him materially than he has received from the local church, but the field there being larger brings a corresponding opportunity for larger service and usefulness.

The church with reluctance voted to grant the request that Mr. Moore be released, as they realized that it was severing a most pleasant relation of pastor and church. His labors here have endeared him to the church and people of the community, and all regret that he is to leave Greenville.

DISCUSS WAVE OF LAWLESSNESS NOW IN SWAY IN TOWN

Citizens in Mass Meeting Here Last Night Pledge to Stand Behind Officers.

A very determined group of representative citizens of Greenville met in the Methodist church last night at 9:45 to discuss the wave of lawlessness that in the opinion of many has been sweeping over the community, and to take steps to encourage the officers in charge of the enforcement of the law. Some pretty plain talk was indulged in and it was the general opinion that some things have taken place in official circles recently that could not be condemned too severely. Even graver steps than mere condemnation were considered.

Entire sympathy with the sheriff and his deputies and the mayor and police of the town of Greenville was expressed. Drunkenness was condemned, especially in high places. The meeting placed itself squarely behind the efforts to break up the liquor traffic and other forms of lawlessness.

The meeting culminated in the following resolution, unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, We view with increasing alarm a growing spirit of disregard for law and authority in our community, and believe the very foundations upon which we have builded our institutions of government are being weakened and jeopardized by this increasing disregard for law and order in our country; now therefore be it

"Resolved, By the citizens of this community in mass meeting assembled: That we condemn the frequent recurrence of drunkenness in high places as well as in the humbler walks of life, and take this opportunity of expressing our disappointment and condemnation of drunkenness in all men in all walks of life.

"Be it further resolved, That we heartily commend the effort and diligence of all officers and public officials in enforcing the law of the land, and assure the Mayor of Greenville and the police and the sheriff of Pitt County and his deputies that we stand back of them with our full moral support and approval in their efforts for a full, strong, and rigid enforcement of the law.

SUPREME COURT TO RESUME HEARINGS IN CAPITAL TODAY

Crowded Docket Greets Re-convening of High Court for Regular Term.

FURTHER ATTACKS ON PROHIBITION ISSUES ARE TO BE TAKEN UP

First Case to be Argued Will be that of Lehigh Valley Railroad.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The United States supreme court reconvened today for its regular term to find a docket crowded with important cases. Besides half a dozen anti-trust suits, matters, pending included further attacks on the prohibition amendment, suits to test the constitutionality of the anti-profiteering section of the Food Control Act and of the Federal Farm Loan Act, appeals in the Newberry election case and many others.

With the federal suffrage amendment ratified and proclaimed since the court adjourned early in the summer, court officials expect that cases designed to test the constitutionality of that amendment also will reach the court during the present session.

The first case to be argued at this term will be government appeals in the dissolution suit against the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, part of the alleged anthracite coal trust. This case is set for tomorrow. By agreement of counsel argument of the other five anti-trust suits will be postponed temporarily. These suits are those against the Eastman Kodak Company, the Associated Mill Posters and Distributors of the United States and Canada; American Can Company, Southern Pacific Company and the Keystone Watch Case Company.

The prohibition amendment will reach the court again through petitions asking for a re-consideration of the decision of last June 7 sustaining the amendment and portions of the enforcement act, rendered in appeals of Christian Fiegenspan, brewer of Newark, N. J., and George C. Dempsey, a Boston liquor wholesaler. A decision on these petitions is expected within a few weeks. A number of other cases involving interpretations of the enforcement act still are pending and further decisions amplifying the court's original opinion are looked for at this term.

POLICE BUSY IN N. Y.

New York, Oct. 4.—Investigation of the recent Wall street explosion was renewed with vigor today following the arrest in Pittsburgh yesterday of Floreen Zelanaka of this city. Zelanaka was arrested in a hotel room with a suit case full of dynamite after alleged to have told a man that he intended to do better job than was done last time. Investigation here shows that he left his room an hour before the explosion. The room was also found to contain lots of radical literature.

FOREIGN COMMERCE IN 1920 WILL APPROXIMATE $14,000,000,000.

The foreign trade of the United States in the calendar year 1920 will approximate $14,000,000,000 against $11,000,000,000 in 1919, $9,000,000,000 in 1918 and 1917, slightly less than $8,000,000,000 in 1916, a little more than $5,000,000,000 in 1915, and $4,277,000,000 in 1913, the calendar year immediately preceding the war, these figures being in very round terms.

The expectation, says The National City Bank of New York in discussing this wonderful growth of United States foreign commerce down to the present moment, that we should witness a fall off in our foreign trade after the termination of the war has not been realized. Both imports and exports continue to grow, and the total on both sides of the ledger will be bigger in the calendar year 1920 than in any year since the beginning of the war and several times as much as in any year prior to the war. The biggest imports in any calendar year prior to the war were a little less than $2,000,000,000, and will total $6,000,000,000 in the calendar year 1920 while exports, which never exceeded 2.2 billion dollars prior to the war, will be over $8,000,000,000 in 1920.

In certain details, however, the trade record during and since the war shows remarkable changes. We have large importers of certain manufacturing materials and very large exporters of manufacturers. We have also increased greatly our importations of certain foodstuffs, but, on the other hand, have greatly reduced our exports of food; though in that other agricultural product, manufacturing material, our exports show material increases. The imports, big as they are, are about equally divided between the three great groups, food, manufacturing material, and manufactures, while on the export side, good forms about one-fourth of the total, manufacturing material another fourth, and manufactures the half of the grand total.

Speaking in very round terms, it has been asserted, continued the statement, that manufacturing exports in the calendar year 1920 will be over $2,000,000,000 in the year prior to the war, approximately $420,000,000 in 1919, a little less than $750,000,000 in 1918, and $420,000,000 in 1917.

that New York exchange in Buenos Aires shot up to a premium of 10 to 20 per cent. The latter part of August the government gave some relief to the situation by resuming the sale of drafts for specific trade payments, reserving the right to examine the books of applicants for first-hand knowledge of the purpose that is served. One shipment of over a million of gold from Buenos Aires has also been reported. These sales appear to have so restricted as to have met the needs in only a small degree, as New York exchange is still worth about $1.18 at Buenos Aires, against the normal price of about $1.03. This rate is operating to the injury of American trade in that quarter.

The Argentine situation should improve in the early winter, when the new wool clip will be ready for market and the grain crops are harvested, but in view of the fact that last spring clip of wool in the United States is still mainly in the hands of growers the prospects for selling wool in this country are not bright.

BORROWING TO PAY OLD DEBTS.

We are in receipt of an inquiry from a correspondent as to the merit of a suggestion that the obligations aggregating $10,000,000,000 owing by nations of Europe to the government of the United States be put into the form of bonds of varying maturities and sold to the investing public of this country, thus providing funds with which to reduce the outstanding public debt of the United States government and particularly for the purpose of relieving the banks of their holdings of Liberty Bonds and of loans secured by such bonds.

The inquiry quotes a newspaper editorial as saying that the "recent over-subscription of such new securities as Armour & Co., General Motors and Swiss and French governments" indicates that the proposed offering would be quickly absorbed.

Answering the inquiry we would say that the total of the Armour, General Motors and Swiss government flotations referred to was $29,000,000 and the rate of interest at which the notes were floated was approximately 8 per cent. The fact that the market was able to absorb these issues does not prove its ability to take $10,000,000,000.

Unless the foreign bonds were guaranteed by the United States government they could not be sold, even in small offerings, except at interest rates very much higher than are now running to the United States government, which at this time would be a great hardship to the debtor countries.

The proposition offers no relief. It would dip out of the same pool into which it would pour. It proposes the expenditure of great amount of labor and money to induce the American people to take up a new issue of bonds to pay off an old issue which they now hold. There is no new money in sight anywhere except the current accumulations, and they might be as well applied in payment of the old bonds direct as for the purchase of new ones.

As a matter of fact, current earnings are being so applied. The amount of Liberty Bonds and of loans secured by them in the hands of banks is being reduced, but all of the current earnings of the country cannot be so applied. Such issues as the Armour offerings referred to are necessary to the expansion of the industries. Indeed, the purpose of the Armour issue was to reduce the company's borrowings at banks, and the capital thus provided accomplished as much in liquidating the credit situation as though it had been applied on the government debt.

STORE ENTERED BY UNKNOWN

PARTIES SATURDAY NIGHT

L. A. Mayo's store at Mayo's X roads, two miles north of Greenville, was broken into Saturday night by robbers. They entered through the rear door by breaking lock off with heavy hammer and bar. Considerable damage was done to the safe in trying to get into it, but they did not succeed owing to its being burglar proof. About three dollars in pennies were taken out of the cash drawer which is left open every night when the money is taken out to keep it from being broken into. The damage to stock of goods was small, as they seemed to be in search of money principally.

PUBLIC WARNED AGAINST

ACCEPTING $10 BILLS

CONVERTED INTO $20'S

Banks of the city are warning people of this section to be on guard against the acceptance of ten dollar bills which have been skillfully converted into twenties by a change in the first figures on each bill and painted so thoroughly and accurately that the defacement is hardly discernible upon casual observation. The first of these bills was passed at the Sanitary Barber Shop in this city Saturday night during the rush, and is so perfect in appearance that it could be passed almost any time without being detected. Police are on the lookout for the originators of the scheme, and if they should be apprehended prosecution will be most severe.

NATIONAL HEALTH CRUSADE STARTED

Free Public Clinics Being Established in Many Cities for the Osteopathic Treatment of the Poor.

A country-wide crusade for better health has just been started by the American Osteopathic Association. Free public clinics are being established in cities in all the states for the osteopathic treatment of the poor. Free lectures on the prevention of disease are being given in various community centers. "Better Babies" conferences are being held by the women osteopathic physicians for the benefit of mothers and infants.

Osteopathic hospitals have been built in several cities recently and a number of others are projected for the immediate future.

The osteopathic colleges report a large increase in the number of matriculants, enlargement of faculties, and a still higher standard of entrance and curriculum requirements.

Great industrial plants, mills, factories, and large commercial houses are installing osteopathic departments for the purpose of keeping their workers fit, decreasing absences due to sickness and increasing the output by raising the physical efficiency. Several railroad companies have also added osteopathic specialists to their staff of physicians who restore injured employees to active service.

Accident insurance companies have discovered that injured men whom they care for under the Workmen's Compensation Act and employers' liability contracts are in many cases returned to wage earning very much sooner under osteopathic treatment than heretofore. This has resulted in a number of the greatest insurance companies installing osteopathic specialists in their offices in various cities to care for these cases.

Laws regulating the practice of osteopathy have now been passed in every state in the Union. This means that osteopathy is now standardized and regulated by law in a manner analogous to that by which the practice of medicine is controlled. Unqualified, incompetent and illegal practitioners of osteopathy are therefore now barred from practice by law and the public is just as well protected from injury by unqualified osteopaths as it is saved from harm by unregistered medical doctors. No osteopath can practice in any state in the Union now without being legally registered by the state.

Educational standards in osteopathic colleges have been raised to the level of medical standards and are enforced most rigidly. There are only seven osteopathic colleges in the world, and they are all members of the Associated Colleges of Osteopathy. This organization compels absolute uniformity of entrance requirements and a minimum curriculum of study hours and subjects equal to that of medical schools. The length of the course of study in osteopathic colleges is four years and no person can enter without a high school education. These colleges are located in Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, Kansas City, Des Moines, Kirksville, Mo., and Los Angeles.

Large general surgical and obstetrical hospitals are maintained in conjunction with osteopathic colleges, the largest being in Kirksville, Chicago, Des Moines, and Philadelphia. It is only a matter of time when hospitals will be added to the equipment of the other colleges.

Osteopathic colleges are chartered educational institutions, authorized by the states to confer degrees. They are not conducted for the purpose of profit, but entirely from the educational standpoint.

Osteopathy, then, is a school of practice, the basic principle of which is the mechanical adjustment of the body. This is so simple that it is difficult to see why there should be any misunderstanding regarding it. Osteopaths are mechanical physicians, or mechanicalians of the human body. As the spine is the central support of the structure of the body and as it contains the spinal cord which is the main cable of nerves extending from the brain through the whole length of the trunk, the adjustment of the spine is necessarily the most important part of the work of the osteopath. Surgery being mechanical, is of course embraced within the scope of osteopathy although body adjustment by the hands of the osteopath saves the patient from a very large percentage of avoidable operations.

Nothing which is scientifically true regarding the human body as taught by the older schools of practice is denied in the teachings of osteopathy. Osteopathy is not a system of negation, of attack or criticism of other schools of practice. It is not destructive. It is constructive. There are plenty of sects and cults based primarily upon denial or denunciation of others. Osteopathy is not of these. There is no instrument of precision used in diagnosis in the old schools, which is not utilized by the osteopaths. Osteopathy is necessarily based upon anatomy, physiology, chemistry and the other fundamental sciences underlying all teaching of the art of healing. These sciences all existed within the medical fold before osteopathy was born.

While it is true that nothing which has been proven to be scientifically correct is denied in the tenets of osteopathy it is also true that the mechanical adjustment of the body is such a natural procedure and brings about such remarkable results, that the osteopath has no need for the administration of drugs internally for the treatment of disease.

Potter's Materia Medica says that there is no statement more scientifically proven than the one that the human body contains within itself every substance necessary for the treatment of disease. With such an admission by an authority on drugs, the osteopath has no need to look elsewhere for his remedies. The next proposition is how to make these substances available. Science teaches that the body is the most perfect machine known. Hence osteopathy concludes that a perfect machine with all the substances necessary present, needs only perfect adjustment in order to maintain perfect functioning, which is health.

AMERICAN SLOGAN MEETS DISFAVOR IN EUROPEAN CIRCLES

Church Secretary Declares "America First" is Regarded as Selfishness.

New York, Oct. 4.—The slogan "America First" is unpopular among Europeans who deem it an expression of selfishness, according to the Rev. Charles S. Macfarland, General Secretary of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America who has just returned from a series of religious conferences in Switzerland and a speaking tour of Western European cities.

"For an American to be in Europe at Europe at this time is humiliating and sometimes almost disheartening," said Dr. Macfarland. "I found the people there confused. They do not know what to make of America's present aloofness; it seems to them such a sharp contrast to our attitude during the war. I found the people of Europe industriously working at the problems of reconstruction. While their economic needs are great, one of their greatest needs at the present time is that of moral support.

"The American nation and the American people on the whole have not as yet suffered irretrievably in the estimation of Europeans," continued Dr. Macfarland. "They still believe in us and look to us for help. But thoughtful Europeans are disturbed about one phrase which frequently re-echoes across the sea—"America First." To them it sounds like the words that used to come from across the Rhine, "Deutschland uber alles"—not with the same aggressiveness, but with something of the same selfishness."

 He recalled that an American Commission on International Exchange in 1903 had pointed out that a steady demand on the part of the governments for the silver which they actually needed from year to year would tend to steady its price. He also recalled that Mexican commission had suggested that the Bank of England and Bank of France act for their governments in making silver purchases.

Mr. Shirras ascribed the fluctuations in the price of silver in the last few years to a decline in production and a great demand for coinage owing to the war. Asia, he said, had enjoyed prosperity by exporting its products during the war and India and China had taken payment by importing precious metals notably, silver.

 contesting clubs are obliged each to deposit with the National commission a certified check for $10,000 as a guarantee of good faith, to play out the schedule so arranged by the commission and to abide by the rules and regulations promulgated by the commission.

While it is well known that under the present rules the championship shall go to the club first winning five games out of nine, the National commission has the right to terminate the series at any time it deems the interest of baseball demands it and to declare one of the clubs the winner of the championship regardless of previous performances.

Another safeguard is the provision that prohibits either club participating in the world's series from giving to any of its players a bonus or prize, and any player released by either of the clubs to any other club in the league is prohibited from sharing in the receipts either as a present or reward from his former teammates, the releasing club or any of its officials.
