

PLAN TO DIRECTLY APPEAL TO WILSON REGARDING PRICES

Meeting of Agricultural Interest at Washington Decide Upon Course.

OVERMAN AND BRINSON AMONG THOSE PRESENT TO CONSIDER SITUATION

North Carolina and Georgia Senators Call at White House to Arrange Date

Washington, D. C., Oct. 12.—Steps to appeal directly to President Wilson against the currency deflation policy of the Treasury Department on the ground that farmers generally face heavy losses unless the downward trend of prices of farm products was checked were taken here today by a special meeting of agricultural interests called by the American Cotton Association.

Senator Overman, of North Carolina, and Harris, of Georgia, who are connected with the movement, called at the White House to prefer a request for the conference with Mr. Wilson and his cabinet and were told by Secretary Tumulty that they would receive an answer from the President tomorrow morning.

The Senators laid stress upon the necessity of prompt action, as the regular fall conference of the Federal Reserve Board and governors of the various reserve banks also is scheduled for tomorrow. The question of interest rates, it was said, would be considered at that conference and the agricultural representatives gathered here declared they wished to present their views on the whole question of crop financing before action was taken by the Federal authorities.

Speakers at the meeting before adoption of the resolution proposing to take the problem to the President personally repeatedly denounced the deflation policy of Secretary Houston. Farmers stood to lose billions unless the government acted to check the fall of prices, they declared, adding that in many cases market prices were now below the actual cost of growing. The result would be greatly decreased production next year, they said, if means to remedy the situation was not found.

A charge by former Senator Marion Butler, of North Carolina, that there was a "conspiracy" of officials to force down the price of agricultural products brought a protest from John J. McSwain, of South Carolina.

"I cannot believe one of them capable of conspiring to rob his fellow man," said Mr. McSwain, "I believe, however, they made an error of judgment. Let's reason with them and see where they have made a mistake."

J. J. Brown, agricultural commissioner of Georgia, and Senator E. D. Smith, of South Carolina, also protested against a statement by Mr. Butler that the country was about to face a panic as a result of the deflation policy. Senator Smith said there was a crisis but no panic.

CLEVELAND REVELS IN GLORY AS VICTORS OF FIRST WORLD'S SERIES

Cleveland, Oct. 13.—After forty-two years of striving, Cleveland today was actually the world's championship baseball city as resulted from victory of the Indians yesterday over Brooklyn, and the whole populace was trying to outdo itself in showing its appreciation by many big celebrations arranged in honor of the players and their prowess in winning the coveted title to be held during the next year. A big reception will be tendered players at Wade Park tonight. The entire city agrees that the best team won.

He is now in Washington, where he has been conferring with Under Secretary Davis of the state department. Senor Aramayo is a son of Bolivia's "bismuth king," now Bolivian minister to Paris. The son is owner and publisher of a daily newspaper in La Paz. He was born in England and was educated at Beaumont college and Oxford university.

DECLARES HARDING HAS TAKEN ELEVEN STANDS ON LEAGUE

Governor Cox Fires on "Vacillating Policy of Republican Opponent.

LaFayette, Ind., Oct. 12.—Governor Cox, in a busy tour today of Illinois and Indiana, hammered heavily upon the League of Nations pronouncements of himself and Senator Harding, picturing his Republican opponent as wiggling and wobbling. The Democratic candidate emphasized to sixteen audiences that he was for the league with "whole heart and soul."

Centering his assault upon Senator Harding's league statement today, Governor Cox declared it "vacillating" the eleventh position assumed by the Senator and at the heels of a "tempest" aroused by Mr. Harding's Des Moines speech. That the Senator's proposal for a new association of nations was held by former President Taft to be impractical also was stressed by the Democratic nominee.

Referring to today's statement by Senator Harding, Governor Cox, to an audience of several thousand persons here tonight on the courthouse piazza, closing his strenuous day of league preachments said:

"The vacillating attitude of Senator Harding justifies neither the American people, nor the nations of the world, in taking him seriously. It is apparent that he hasn't a single deep-seated conviction upon the subject and that he wobbles about from one day to the other in the aimless hope that this group or that group of voters can be pleased. It is the most pitiable spectacle in the political history of America. I can understand why the sentiment of wiggling and wobbling has been emblazoned over the billboards of America with the picture of the Senator. The candidate of the Senatorial Oligarchy has a monopoly on that process, and he ought to be privileged to advertise it."

TILT TAKES PLACE AT CONFERENCE TO TALK FARM CREDIT

Overman and Others to Call on Houston Regarding the Situation.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Senator Lee S. Overman and Representative S. M. Brinson, of the third congressional district, are here attending a meeting of the farmers' organization of the country in an effort to induce the government to remove the restrictions on credits on farm products. J. S. Wannamaker, president of the American Cotton Association, who issued the call for the meeting which held two sessions today, was appointed chairman of a committee to see Secretary of the Treasury Houston tomorrow. Besides Senator Overman and Mr. Brinson on this committee there are Senators Hoke Smith and Harris, of Georgia, and Smith and Dial, of South Carolina, and Representative Lee, of Georgia. An effort was made by the committee to make an appointment to see the President, but it could not be arranged.

The meeting spent most of the day in general discussion. Former Senator Marion Butler was at the meeting and made a sharp attack on the Democratic administration. He charged that the Federal Reserve system was of Republican origin and whatever of good there was in it was Republican, and that the Wilson administration was wholly to blame for sudden deflation and the sen-

FAILURE OF HOME LIFE RESPONSIBLE FOR SOCIAL CRIME

Chicago Ministers Tells Tokio S. S. Convention of World Conditions.

CHARGES MINISTERS OF THE WORLD WITH PROMOTING TROUBLE

Disruption of Family Union Caused by Failure to Worship at Home.

Tokio, Oct. 13.—Failure of home life and not the failure of the church was held to be responsible for the "social unrest, the sin and crime and shame that abounds on every hand," by the Rev. W. E. Biederwolf, D. D., of Chicago in an address before the World's Sunday School congress here tonight. The speaker charged that "25 percent of the ministers of America do not themselves maintain family worship in their own homes."

"A wise teacher of ancient times gave me a single domestic grace and I will turn it into a hundred public virtues," declared Dr. Biederwolf, and I wonder, if we were to attempt to write the story of the deplorable legacy to which we have fallen heir if it would not be to tell the history of fallen altars and desecrated shrine and, to no little extent, of an apostate clergy. A missionary who had been absent from America for 25 years, said when he came back on a furlough: 'When I wet away almost every Christian home had its family altar; now I find it is the exception and not the rule.'

The causes for the decadence of family worship were set forth by the speaker as follows: "1. The quickening-

BALKAN POPULACE REGARDS DISEASE AS CAUSE OF FATE

Peasantry So Superstitious that Conditions Are Not Fully Realized.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Oct. 13.—Disease in the Balkans is looked upon by the people as a result of fate. The peasantry has been educated in superstitions rather than in the laws of sanitation. They are opposed to the killing of mosquitoes, rats, flies and vermin, believing that they are a part of life. They know nothing about the carriers of disease. The importance of protecting their food supplies from winged insects has not been impressed upon them. Little or no attempt is made to drain mosquito pools or marshes, so that the Balkan states claim the distinction of having some of the worst malarial sections on earth.

The peasant has little faith in medical science. "How can a bug give us typhus?" they ask. "Every living thing harbors insects. Why not man? If th' good God sends us disease and misfortune, we believe that he knows best."

In most districts in the Balkans the houses of the rural population are small and poorly constructed. Many of them are built of mud and straw and have no provision for sanitation or ventilation. The only air admitted to the homes is obtained through accidental imperfections in construction. A few of the houses have two stories, the lower floor being occupied by the horses and cattle, the upper by the family. In such houses as these families live crowded together under the most unhygienic conditions.

Years pass without a doctor entering the huts. Disease goes untreated. In the country districts dentistry is virtually unknown.

Bolsheviki Forces Sign Peace Treaty In Riga Conference

Armistice to Become Effective Midnight of October 18th--Great Crowds Greet Announcement of Agreement of Preliminary Peace Terms--Action Ends Baltic Trouble for Present.

COUNTESS DU JUGLART

Consuelo Morgan, daughter of H. H. Morgan, United States trade commissioner to Belgium, who was married in Paris recently to Count Jean de Maupas du Juglart. The countess, who is seventeen, is well known in New York and Washington society circles.

Riga, Oct. 12.—A preliminary peace treaty and armistice was signed by the Polish and Russian Soviet peace delegates here at 7:10 o'clock tonight.

The armistice actually becomes effective at midnight October 18, that is, 144 hours from midnight tonight.

The announcement that peace was to be signed brought great crowds to the square surrounding the Blackhead House. M. Joffe and the Bolshevik delegation entered the hall first and were followed by M. Dombaki and the Polish delegation. About two hundred persons including the entire diplomatic body and prominent Lettish officials, crowded the small room, many of them standing.

The head of the Soviet delegation described the Riga peace as "a peace without victors and without vanquished" in a brief address before the signature of the treaty. That describes the Riga agreement accurately as it appeared to disinterested on-lookers. "It was a peace of give and take, which those who have followed the course of events fear will not be very popular either with the Bolsheviks or the Poles."

But it is undoubtedly a triumph for the two chairman who made it, and the spirit of conciliation with which they handled the explosive questions that disrupted the Minsk conference is likely to win for them the gratitude of a war exhausted world.

The Riga armistice will put the Bolsheviks at peace with all their Baltic neighbors within 144 hours from midnight tonight and leave the Wrangel movement as the only great military operation against the Soviets.

MUTT AND JEFF TO SHOW IN CITY FOR SINGLE NIGHT ONLY

Popular Musical Comedy to Appear at White's Theatre During Tonight.

Those two exemplars of joy, happiness, screams, fun and laughter, "Mutt and Jeff" are soon to be in our midst again which should be, by the way, welcome news to the million admirers of the famous Bud Fisher comic. This year Manager Gus Hill who foresaw their possibilities upon the stage, has surrounded them with an entirely new vehicle entitled, "Mutt and Jeff at the Races" and which is to be the attraction at White's theatre tonight. For these uproarious acts these kings of humor, hilarity and mirth will engage in a series of adventures, feuds, surprises and complications certain to arouse the risibilities of even the staid old Sphinx. And when one can accomplish a herculean task like this the fact is worth while chronicling. Music that should more than charm the savage beast, comedy that should find its way into the blood, and jingles that should make the rafters ring with euphonious echoes are a few of the good things promised. At any rate "Mutt and Jeff" whose popularity like the proverbial brook seems to go on forever—should more than "realign up" this season. In fact, with their present vehicle—they should literally triumph.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Six months of private operation of railroad cost tax payers more than two thirds as much as two years and two months of federal control, Interstate Commerce Commissioner Wooley declared in an address here today. Between March 1st and September 1st as a result of guaranteed income the roads cost tax payers $634,000,000, due largely to strikes and freight congestion.

HOPEFUL WILSON WILL HEAR REPRESENTATIVE INTERESTS FOR SOUTH

COX SCORES LODGE IN ADDRESS BEFORE INDIANA AUDIENCE

Tells of Correspondence Between Wilson and Taft About the League.

EXPLAINS MEMORANDUM PRESERVED BY WILSON AT THE WHITE HOUSE

Said It Merely Contained Cables While League Was Being Drafted.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 12.—(Cox—About 1,500)—Cable correspondence between President Wilson and former President Taft in 1919, during drafting of the League of Nations covenant at Paris, was made public here tonight by Governor Cox, of Ohio, democratic presidential candidate, together with a statement by the candidate criticizing severely Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, and other league opponents.

Mr. Taft, the correspondence detailed sought and had cable communication with President Wilson, submitting numerous suggestions for changes in the tentative league draft and advising the President regarding its presentation to the Senate.

Governor Cox's statement, issued prior to his departure to make addresses tomorrow at Springfield and East St. Louis, Ill., and St. Louis, Missouri, said that he published the Taft-Wilson correspondence—a White House memorandum—because of "the equivocal position ex-President Taft and other friends of the League now occupy in their support of the candidate of the league destructionists. The correspondence, Governor Cox said, "initiated by him (Mr. Taft) as a result of his study of the draft agreement," and quoted Mr. Taft's "own words, when sincerity of mind and intelligence were not beclouded by the partisan prejudice of a political campaign."

The White House memorandum, containing of the cables exchanged by President Wilson and Mr. Taft stated, that in "every instance" the President followed Mr. Taft's suggestions, and Governor Cox's statement declared that "every suggestion of Mr. Taft was followed literally." The corresponding indicated that Mr. Taft's suggestions dealt principally with protecting the Monroe Doctrine, and dealing with American domestic questions, withdrawal from the League, unanimous league decisions and disarmament. The correspondence made public contained two cablegrams from the President to Mr. Taft and several from Mr. Taft to the executive, including one in which A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard University joined.

The White House memorandum quoted at length league amendments to show adoption of Mr. Taft's suggestions.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 13, 1920.

As a propounder of questions that go straight to work Governor Cox is an expert.

One really optimistic man is worth a dozen pessimists, even if he cannot talk as much.

The increased charges on express shipment that has recently gone into effect does not carry with it any promise of better service.

The man, though he may have money, who is looked upon as being no good to his community, is not envied even by the ordinary honest laborer.

Now that the world baseball championship is settled for a year, the sports will get agitated over the fall football games.

One effect that will probably result from the lowering of wages and reduction of force by some of the large enterprises, is that employes will have more regard for rendering efficient service if they expect to hold their jobs.

The Norfolk and Western railroad has posted notice of 20 per cent reduction in wages to laborers and helpers in the shops on its system, the new wage scale to become effective the 16th of this month. It is understood a similar reduction will reach mechanics in a short while.

This may be called a heartless statement, but Greenville has not yet reached the stage where the town would not be benefitted by a few funerals. While a town always wants more citizens, there are some who are not worth the space they occupy and are a hindrance rather than a help to their community. Greenville has some of that class.

We hear of no movement yet toward opening transportation on Tar river to make connection at Washington with the new boat line between New Bern and Baltimore. It is something that should be done, as it would save to Greenville thousands of dollars annually in freight charges. Congress will not continue appropriating money to keep Tar river open for navigation if it is not utilized.

PRODUCTION, WAGES AND PROFITS.

The manner in which international interests and all social interests are allied and are reflected in the exchanges is illustrated by the effect of the British coal strike upon New York exchange. Messrs. S. Montague & Co., London brokers, state in their weekly circular letter that the fact that a strike was imminent caused a demand to spring up in London for New York funds from neighboring countries accustomed to rely upon England for coal, but who wished to make arrangements to buy coal in America. The London Times commented upon the circumstances as follows:

A moment's consideration of what this means to the community at large is seriously worth while. This emergency demand for dollars has inevitably forced down sterling exchange on New York, with the result that, quite apart from all the loss that would be incurred to our industries by a coal stoppage, the mere threat is causing us to pay more pounds sterling for the vast amount of wheat, cotton, and other prime necessities that we import from America. In other words, as wages can be measured only by their purchasing value, those responsible for the strike movement have already set in motion a force for lessening the value of wages. It is a truism, but one that cannot too often be repeated, that the primary need be lastingly improved, and not merely met by rises in wages offset by corresponding reductions in their relative purchasing power, is an increase in production. How utterly useless is an increased distribution of currency unattended by increased production (i. e.) real wealth may be seen from present-day events in Russia. It is understood that within Soviet Russia 3,000,000,000 doubles (the former value of the rouble was 50 cents) in notes are printed daily, or a sum equal, at the gold par of exchange, to 2 per head for every man, woman and child in that country. But the inevitable effect has been to drive down the real value of the currency to near vanishing point. For instance, it requires today about 15,000 paper roubles to purchase goods in England of the value of $1, and it would require an amount of something like 2,000,000 Soviet roubles for the Russian workman to live on moderate comfort.

Every day that passes makes one day less that registration books will be open for the November election. The books will close Saturday evening, Oct. 23rd, and those who fail to register by that time will lose the privilege of voting on Nov. 2nd. If you are not registered attend to it at once. The men especially are urged to register their respective precincts.

Senator Spencer seems to persist in telling that President Wilson promised to send United States troops to Roumania and Serbia, though the latter told him the statement was false, and even after one of the official stenographers produced his copy of the president's utterances which show that he said no such things as charged. If the senator wants to go on in the face of this and brand himself as a liar, he does so from choice.

TURN BACK.

Turn back the clock and let us sit
And watch the memories dance a bit,
The fragrant hosts of dreams that come
When all the brazen trumpets are dumb
And Autumn in her gown of light Sits mooning in the misty night.
Turn back the clock, and let the morn
Wait on the blowing of the horn.
We shall not lose or miss a thing,
We shall have heard the elfkins sing,
We shall have witnessed on the hill
The pixies in their weird quadrille;
We shall have known the magic note
That gurgles in the woodcock's throat, Seen smoke wreaths o'er the fields that lie
In harvest shocks, with pumpkins by The unhusked sheaves where field mice gloat.
Turn back the clock and let's away
To Autumn dreams of yesterday,
When popcorn was the king of life,
And cider, sparkling amber-fair,
Made music of the daily strife
And laughter of ten care.

BRIDGE CLUB.

Miss Hennie Whichard was hostess to her bridge club last evening. The library in which the tables were arranged was decorated with cut flowers.
Mrs. D. E. Taylor making the top score was awarded a card table cover. The consolation prize, a basket filled with candies was awarded to Mrs. Alex Blow and Mrs. J. F. Lynch, of Duke, who presented the guests' prize, a beautiful glass basket. At the conclusion of the games a salad course was served. Mesdames Lina Baker and J.
F. Lynch were guests of the club.

ROUND TABLE MEETS

Mrs. D. J. Whichard was hostess to the Round Table Tuesday afternoon. A good crowd gathered as usual when it meets there. The club business was easily dispatched, reports heard, committees named, but when "Citizenship" was brought up, the club en masse began to sit up and take notice. The discussion grew lively, it was general until the president, once more rapped order and took the floor. She said in part, that while she had always been opposed to suffrage, no what this great and serious responsibility had been thrust upon women, it behooved every woman to shoulder it as loyally faithfully and heroically as she had all others. The state and the nation demand it. The well being of humanity demands it. Clean government demands it.

We must not shirk. The ladies felt almost like they had been to a political meeting.
The discussion lasted so late that the literary program was postponed until next meeting.

The club regrets exceedingly to lose Mrs. Moore who will soon move to Richmond, but welcomes with genuine pleasure Mrs. C. J. Ellen to membership, and Mrs. J. B. Turner and Miss Jamie Bryan as guests.
The hostess assisted by Mrs. Baker served an elaborate salad course.

RECEIVES INJURIES WHILE WALKING IN HER SLEEP

Miss Maude Blow Fulford had a narrow escape on Monday night, when she jumped from the top of the stairs to the hall, while walking in her sleep.
Miss Fulford said that she was dreaming that she was jumping from the bed and having reached the steps in her sleep, jumped, thinking it was the bed.
In the fall her head and back received injuries from which she has suffered much pain. The reports from her bedside today state that she is much better, and hopes are expressed for her early recovery. She has been walking in her sleep for quite awhile, but this is the first time in which she has received injuries.

"WHAT'S YOUR HURRY?"
BREEZY NEW PICTURE WITH WALLACE REID

Star Finds Lots of Thrills in Motor Truck in Latest Auto Romance.

That there are thrills concealed in the prosaic motor truck, as well as in the graceful lines of the racing automobile is proven by Wallace Reid's latest picture, "What's Your Hurry?" which will be on view at White's Theatre Thursday.

As "Dusty" Rhoades, auto racer, the breezy star wins a speedy tussle on the track, but fails to impress Patrick Mac-Murrain, whom "Dusty" hopes to have as a father-in-law. Pat is the manufacturer of Pakro trucks. "Dusty" tries to demonstrate his worth as publicity man for the Pakro, but only succeeds in getting more deeply "in wrong."
However, when a big irrigation dam threatens to yield under the strain of a raging storm and to bring disaster upon the valley below, "Dusty" not only shows his own mettle but also brings Pakro trucks to the fore.

"What's Your Hurry?" is the work of Byron Morgan, who also wrote "The Roaring Road" and "Excuse My Dust." Lois Wilson was never more charming as the leading woman, and Charles Ogle and Clarence Burton are also in the cast. The picture, which is a Paramount, was directed by Sam Wood.

CHAMPIONSHIP OF NEW YORK RACES TO BE ANNOUNCED

Champions of Horse Races to be Decided Upon at Kenilworth Course.

New York, Oct. 12.—Regardless of weather and track conditions the equine championship of America will be decided tomorrow afternoon at the Kenilworth Park race-course, Windsor, Canada. Man O'War, the greatest three-year-old of the year and Sir Barton, the best four-year-old now in training, will meet in a match race at one mile and a quarter at weight for age. Man O'War's impost will be 120 pounds while Sir Barton will carry 126 pounds.

These two great thoroughbreds will race for the biggest stake ever given for a race in Ameri. Chief owner Orpen of the Kenilworth track is giving a purse of $75,000 and in addition a $5,000 gold cup. Should either horse fail to appear because of injury or accident the other will be awarded the gold cup, without any purse, for galloping the full distance around the track.

Samuel D. Riddle, of Philadelphia who owns Man O'War, Commander J. K. L. Ross, of Canada, Sir Barton's owner and A. M. Orpen representing the Kenilworth Jockey Club, met at the Havre de Grace race track in the stand during the race while the Kenilworth Jockey Club will have Francis Nelson representing it. Mr. Nelson was specially appointed steward by the Canadian Racing Association.

This match has been talked of for month by followers of racing both in Canada and the United States and several times it was thought that a three cornered race between these two great colts and Exterminator, a five-year-old gelding owned by Willis Sharpe Kilmer of Binghamton, N. Y., would be arranged. Mr. Kilmer, however, desired a distance of a mile and a half or over and the triangular race was abandoned.

Considerable disappointment was felt among the followers of racing in the United States that such an event could not be secured for any of the New York Maryland or Kentucky tracks. The liberality of the Canadian promoter

SERVICE

Today the progressive business house realizes that its success is dependent upon the progress and welfare of the community which it serves

Success in business is service, and success means to give as well as to take. Efficient merchandising, therefore, intends to give as well as to take.

A store of high character, therefore, that serves its community from a standpoint of service must naturally give to its customers reductions in prices in keeping with the decline of the market.

Our prices have been materially reduced for the past thirty days and it will be the aim and policy of this business to continue further reductions from time to time in order to co-operate with our friends and render--SERVICE.

To visit our store in Ayden is to really know the big way in which this idea is being developed. It consists of:

- To Render Efficient Service
 - To Offer Only the Best Merchandise
 - To Maintain Right Prices
 - One price to all

BRINSON DECIDEDLY OUT WITH BUTLER

sational slump in the prices of farm products.

While Mr. Butler was speaking Congressman Brinson entered the meeting. Butler had made the same sort of speech at Clinton, Sampson county, a short time ago and Brinson missed the opportunity to get in a reply. Today he jumped on Butler with both feet. He asked Butler why it was that if the Republicans claimed the Federal Reserve system, they voted against the law almost to a man when it was passed by a Democratic Congress. Brinson told Butler that it was not the Democratic administration that was to blame for deflation and the slump in farm prices, but the low value of foreign exchange and the inability of European countries to get credit in the American markets, due to refusal of the Republican Senate to ratify the peace treaty. The debate between Butler and Brinson greatly enlivened the meeting.

FAILURE OF HOME

LIFE RESPONSIBLE

FOR SOCIAL CRIME

ing of a man's natural tendency to skepticism, so largely induced in this day by subtle and sometimes open attack on the fundamentals of his faith in press, in university and infrequently in pulpit. The first point at which spiritual decay manifests is invariably in the neglect of family worship, if indeed it even so much as held a place in the life of the home.

"2. The nervous, feverish rush of modern life as evidenced by the inordinate absorption in material interests. Modern life is a dash through a crowd. A man hardly has time to stop and tie his shoe-string. It is a race to keep pace with steam and electricity.

"3. The disruption of the family union." The latter was caused said Dr. Biederwolf, "first, by the prevailing method of education which practically removes boys and girls from immediate and continuous parental influence in spiritual things for a period running between the ages of seven and 21 and second, by the excessive pursuit of pleasure.

"Legitimate as this desire is, when all one's pleasures are found outside the home circle the family life from the standpoint just now under consideration must consequently suffer," he concluded.

Other speakers at the congress were the Rev. John T. Farris, D. D., of Philadelphia, who discussed possible co-operation between secular and religious educational agencies and the Rev. W. Miller, D. D., of Philadelphia who spoke on the community as a social center and its responsibility in guiding the religious education of youth.

Gentry & Gorman

Gorman's sold 289,940 pounds Monday and Tuesday's sale. The prices on a whole were stronger than last week, some grades five to ten dollars higher; yet the grades which have no competition, while higher were very irregular and required judgment and nerve to sell. Gormans is about full today, having fully two thirds of what is in town, the sales at the other houses are very small, so all sales will be finished today. We look for smaller sales until we have a season and believe prices will be stronger. Drive to Gorman's and you will get the top of the market. We protect each and every lot sold on our floor.
