

SAYS BUSINESS OF AMERICA MUST BE ON HIGHER PLANES

Must Purge Itself of Own Misdemeanors Before it Can Exert Influence.

INORDINATE PROFITS CAUSE OF UNREST IN MANY GOOD SECTIONS

John H. DeFrees Tells American Bankers of conditions Facing the Public.

Washington, Oct. 21.—America's business must purge itself of its own "misdemeanors" before it can hope to exert the fullest influence in the affairs of the nation, Joseph H. DeFrees, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, declared in an address today before the American Bankers' Association.

"One of the most fruitful sources of the unrest in this country at the present time," said Mr. DeFrees, "is the belief on the part of a great number that business in many instances is securing an inordinate profit. It is the theme of the agitator, and is used as justification for various unfair exactions which are put upon business. We are quite ready to complain in the public interest, about excess profit taxes and inadequate production for a fair wage. Let us do all we can to correct our own misdemeanors and then our voice of protest will have a larger influence in correcting those of others."

Mr. DeFrees told the delegates that business should adopt an "advisory" position rather than a dictatorial attitude in dealing with the government. He said most members of congress were willing to receive information gathered by organizations which had made a study of particular questions, but that they deeply resented action by anybody which savored of a demand. The average legislator, he said, will no longer yield to demands, but is anxious to render a service where he is shown that beneficial results may be obtained.

"Few legislators will heed such demands," he added, "because it is vicious in principle. It has come to be recognized that such threats have little effect at election time. With proper publicity more votes will be changed in opposition to the man who yields to threats than will be changed in his favor by his cowardly action."

Mr. DeFrees said he saw hope in the growing ability of American business men to organize in the mood of helpfulness as well as in sympathy with the public interest. He believed that this development might in the future provide a solvent for the troubles confronting the nation.

NATION'S BANKERS OPPOSE PORTION OF M'FADDEN'S ISSUE

Believe Tax Upon Gold Industry Would Retard Development in Many Ways.

Washington, Oct. 21.—The McFadden bill proposing tax on gold used in industry and the arts to be paid in turn to the mining companies, was opposed in a report submitted today to the American Bankers' Association by a special committee, of which George M. Reynolds, of Chicago, is chairman. The committee held that the withdrawal for industrial purposes last year of $22,000,000 of gold from the country's monetary stock was not a national emergency calling for special treatment of the gold mining industry so as to stimulate the gold output.

"Diminished gold production in periods of high prices and high costs tends to reduce price and costs again," said the report, which declared that the offer of a premium on gold would lead the world to assume that the United States was in danger of going on a paper money basis and that its dollar was not as good as gold.

With the price of gold fixed, the committee conceded that many companies had found operations unprofitable because of present high costs, but it said the fixed price in "periods of adversity, depression and falling prices brings to the gold miner, as to no one else, increased profits."

Credit deflation, the committee held, will cure the present situation of the gold miner.

"The best banking opinion of the country," continued the report, "look forward to a progressive and far-reaching contraction of our credit fabric and regards it as the only alternative to such a disastrous disruption of the credit system as Japan has recently seen."

"The proper course to take in not by artificial methods to seek to expand the gold basis of our credit system, but rather to contract the superstructure of credit to a point where it can be safely maintained under conditions of a normal distribution of the world's gold supply."

Cox Asks Elihu Root To Retract Statement Against League Issues

Denies Root's Assertion That He Demanded League of Nations "Just As Mr. Wilson Negotiated It--Will accept Helpful Reservations.

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 20.—Governor Cox, of Ohio, today sent a telegram to Elihu Root, asking him to "correct" what the Democratic candidate declared was a "false" statement in Mr. Root's address yesterday regarding the Governor's position upon the League of Nations issue. The Governor denied Mr. Root's statement that he demands the league "just as Mr. Wilson negotiated it," and called upon Mr. Root for a retraction.

In making public his telegram to Mr. Root, Governor Cox issued a statement declaring that Mr. Root and thirty other prominent Republicans signing the recent statement in behalf of Senator Harding, the Republican nominee, were "attempting to deceive the voters because they are permitting their partisanship to rise above their patriotism and trusting perhaps that the last wobble of Senator Harding may be in their direction."

Governor Cox re-stated his proposal to accept any reservations "helpful" to the league and contended, therefore, that Mr. Root had made a statement "which the records show is false."

The governor's telegram follows: "Elihu Root, New York City:

"I have before me a quotation from your address on the League of Nations delivered in New York City, October 19, which reads: 'Mr. Cox declared that he will insist upon the treaty just as Mr. Wilson negotiated it.' I am addressing you most respectfully with recognition of your integrity of purpose and the signal service which you have rendered as a public man, mindful of the fact that you may have fallen into error through ignorance of the situation owing to your absence from the United States during a part of the Presidential campaign. Your statement, however, is not in keeping with the facts which you are assumed to know by perusal of the daily papers. I have invariably stated in my addresses, and re-state here, my whole-hearted desire to make the United States a member of the League of Nations, and that, to secure that consummation of the purpose of America when she entered the war, I will accept reservations that will clarify, that will be helpful, that will re-assure the American people; and that, as a matter of good faith, will clearly state to our associates in the league that congress and congress alone has the right to declare war, and that our constitution sets up limits in legislation or treaty-making beyond which we cannot go."

"I have stated further that I will accept reservations from any source which are offered in sincerity and with a desire to be helpful. I have also stated that if I am elected President, my election can be construed only as a mandate of the American people; and that to secure ratification of the treaty and the league I would sit down with the members of the United States Senate; I would confer with Mr. Wilson, and with you, Mr. Root, as well as with Judge Taft and all others who have a sincere purpose and whose service in the past equips them especially as advisers in this work."

HARDING OFFERING REWARD FOR PROOF OF INCONSISTENCY

Candidate Denies Any Inconsistency on His Part on League Question.

Jackson, O., Oct. 20.—Replying to Governor Cox's charges of inconsistency on the League of Nations issue, Senator Harding offered in a speech here today to "give a reward" to anyone who would produce specific evidence of a change of position since he accepted the Republican nomination for the presidency.

Mr. Harding also asserted that if he had no specific plan for a world association, the same was true of Governor Cox, who had told the people what reservation to the Versailles covenant he was willing to take.

"I do not believe in very much of the President's league," said the Republican nominee. "And if the Democratic candidate wants to regard this as my thirteenth change, I give him notice that I have one more yet to give him, because you know, I am entitled to fourteen."

"But as a matter of fact, I will give a reward to any one in America who can take my utterances on world politics, from my speech of acceptance down to the speech I am making at this hour, and point out any inconsistency or change of position."

"I have said from the beginning that we would not have the Wilson covenant and I say that to you now. But I have said repeatedly that America will gladly play her part in a suitable association of nations which does not involve the surrender of American sovereignty which is built upon the ideals of justice rather than force; and I say that again."

ful of the fact that you may have fallen into error through ignorance of the situation owing to your absence from the United States during a part of the Presidential campaign. Your statement, however, is not in keeping with the facts which you are assumed to know by perusal of the daily papers. I have invariably stated in my addresses, and re-state here, my whole-hearted desire to make the United States a member of the League of Nations, and that, to secure that consummation of the purpose of America when she entered the war, I will accept reservations that will clarify, that will be helpful, that will re-assure the American people; and that, as a matter of good faith, will clearly state to our associates in the league that congress and congress alone has the right to declare war, and that our constitution sets up limits in legislation or treaty-making beyond which we cannot go."

"I have stated further that I will accept reservations from any source which are offered in sincerity and with a desire to be helpful. CITIES OF EUROPE AHEAD OF AMERICA IN SANITARY WAYS

Manager of Anti-Litter Bureau Makes Report Upon Conditions of Country.

New York, Oct. 21.—The large cities of Europe in the point of cleanliness and tidiness of streets are far ahead of New York, Chicago, Cincinnati and many cities in America, says Clyde A. Copson, manager of the Anti-Litter Bureau of the Merchant's Association, who has just returned from a trip of observation in Europe.

"In some sections of New York," he said, "I can see more street litter in one square block than in any one city I visited abroad. Paris and London are models of cleanliness and comparatively free of street litter of any description. This is due to the fact that the people abroad are more tidy than we who live in America."

"The city of New York countenances conditions that none of the cities which I visited would tolerate for a moment."

Mr. Copson said that London has the organized Street Cleaning Department in Europe, Glasgow, the poorest, and Paris has the best garbage disposal system.

Referring to taxicab drivers and all chauffeurs abroad, Mr. Copson's statement said that they "seem to know their business and when in trouble, or about to run down a pedestrian, they apply the brakes instead of tooting horns. The chauffeurs in New York do just the opposite, hence the greater number of accidents and noises."

THRIFT CAMPAIGNS ARE PROPOSED FOR COUNTRY FAMILIES

Bankers Association Believes Three Years Campaign Would be Wise.

Washington, Oct. 21.—A three-year thrift campaign to reach every family in the country that has no bank account was proposed to the American Bankers' Association today by its committee on Public and Private Thrift. As a part of the campaign, government officials would be called upon to practice utmost economy so as to reduce the expenditures of the federal government.

"The recent orgy of extravagance," declared the committee's report, "has indicated very clearly the need for more popular realization of the need for saving when and as the opportunity presents itself. The time is at hand when thrift and saving will be regarded as not only possibilities, but actual necessities."

Small savers are to be the chief source in financing the normal growth of commerce and industry, the report said, adding that present tax policies offer a serious check to increased investment by holders of large wealth.

"Not only must the lesson be taught to the individual citizen and especially to the wage earner who has not yet found a place to begin," said the report, "but our government officials must also be impressed with a similar idea because of their example to the citizen and also because of its demand upon the people's savings for purposes which too often are neither wise nor economically handled."

"The tax burden upon industry and commerce and upon the billions of savings which would otherwise be used to finance new industry and new commerce beyond all reason and in excess of the public need."

GOVERNOR COX HITS CRITICS OF ARTICLE TEN OF THE LEAGUE

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 21.—Governor Cox attacked critics of Article Ten in speeches here today. He said a nation wide program of misrepresentation against Article Ten had been in circulation. He declared that congress only and not the league of nations has authority to declare war and that the league's councils decision must be unanimous and merely advisory.

CYCLONE MACK TO BEGIN MEETING IN GREENVILLE SOON

Noted Minister Has Eventful Career as Propounder of the Doctrine.

REV. S. K. PHILLIPS IN DESCRIPTION OF GREAT WORK DONE IN SERVICE

Tells of Way in Which Revival Campaigns Are Conducted in Every City.

Dear Mr. Editor:

Approaching events, especially when they point to matters of great importance in a community, always awaken in us an element of expectancy, and we naturally value all the information we can get concerning them. Often if we have the right information, we are saved the bias of an opinion based on ignorance, and are able to put ourselves in line for a great blessing. Because this is true, I feel that I should like to give to our people thru your columns, the information which I have about the coming of "Cyclone Mack," to Greenville.

For at least three years the name of Mr. McLendon, the evangelist, has been quite prominent in our state, and a unanimous invitation having been extended to him to come to Greenville for one of his Evangelistic Campaigns, a committee of us, composed of one preacher, three business men and a Ford, went to New Bern on Tuesday to hear him, meet him, and talk with him concerning his plans for our city.

We met the evangelist at his tent, before his afternoon service, and our untried opinion, especially after we had heard him preach, was that he is a man whom God is using in a most wonderful way to bring to men and women what they need to know, to live as God would have them live. We found Mr. Carrol, who is Mr. McLendon's manager, at the home of the chief of police where he was being entertained, and I asked him to tell me his impressions of the New Bern meeting, from the standpoint of a chief of police, knowing the conditions in the town. He said, "not only is Mr. McLendon the greatest Gospel preacher I have ever heard, but I can honestly say that this meeting has reached every part of our city in a way I had never dreamed of, and I intend to come to Greenville to hear him preach."

Of course one sermon is not always sufficient upon which to base an opinion, but after talking with Mr. McLendon and then seeing him at work, I felt that he has the sweet spirit of Wilbur Chapman, the wit of Sam Jones, and the fire of Billy Sunday, and we all know that these men were supreme in their spheres.

We met the other members of Mr. McLendon team of workers, and our verdict is that he has gathered about him a corps of earnest Christians who are the very best that can be secured in their line.

The tent is a very large one, and seats comfortably 2400 people, with room for a large choir, under the leadership of Mr. Carrol and a pianist who is a real artist. I do not want to leave the impression that these workers depend upon their organization for their results, for none of us got this impression; on the other hand, we felt that they have simply done their best to be efficient themselves, and look to God to bless their efforts.

I feel confident therefore, that with our churches united, if we follow this man who can only work in the way that God has taught him to work, we are going to have a better city to live in, more heaven in our hearts, more heaven in our homes, and more heaven upon our streets.

The meeting begins on Sunday, Oct. 21st, and continues for four weeks. We cannot claim to love our city, unless we love it in a spiritual way.

Sincerely yours, S. K. PHILLIPS.

REFUSES TO ABANDON SELF-GOVERNMENT FOR HIGHER PRINCIPLES

Condemns Invasion of One Branch of Government by Some Other Faction.

Middlesboro, Ky., Oct. 20.—Invasion by one branch of the government of the powers and duties of another branch was denounced by Governor Calvin Coolidge, republican vice-presidential nominee, in an address he delivered here tonight. The Governor asserted that "before the war, as after the war, the executive invaded directly and indirectly the properly independent functions of the legislative branch of the government."

"We refuse to abandon one jot or tittle of self-government," he said. "We will not permit those we put into power, whether a man or a group or a party, to continue a course which, we apprehended, will gradually sap our civic strength and ultimately destroy our free institutions. We will not allow ambition to assume control of our liberties. We propose to prevent class creation whether of wealth or of labor, mal-administration which wrecks injustice, enactment of laws which are not for the promotion of the general welfare, expediency in the determination of our policies, extravagance which dissipates our savings and burdensome debt."

"We emphatically condemn invasion by one branch of the government of the powers and duties of another branch. We will repudiate those who make solemn promises in our name, which they neglect or refuse to observe and who seek to commit us to adventure upon uncharted seas without counsel with others equally responsible to us, and which our common sense warns us to be perilous to our existence."

URGES CONTINUED DEVELOPMENTS IN AMERICAN MARINE

Calvin Coolidge, Republican Nominee, Urges Greater Attention in Future.

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 20.—The upbuilding of the American merchant marine and "an ample navy for our needs" were urged by Governor Calvin Coolidge of Massachusetts, Republican candidate for vice-president, in an address here tonight. He attacked the building and sales methods of the Shipping Board and the Democratic administration of the Navy Department, although adding that he was inclined to believe that Secretary Daniels was "the victim of an unworkable system which he did not originate."

"We have no desire for special privilege," said Governor Coolidge. "Freedom to sail the seas, freedom in trade, like treatment, these are the things for which we stand, these are the things we shall have. We established in 1812, when we were weak, equality of right in the use of the seas. We reasserted that right in 1917—only, however, after repeated and humiliating violation."

PRINCIPLES OF FINANCING.

The underlying principles of all commodity financing are distinctly similar, and, while the trend of the times is in the direction of parallelism in both theory and practice, the discussion will be limited to the theory and practice of financing in so far as it relates to the production, movement and the final disposition of grain and cotton, together with some suggestions that have grown out of certain developments in our own locality in the production and marketing of fruits and nuts.

Broadly speaking, advances to the grain farmers are made by local banks, by local grain buyers on guaranteed minimums, and by representatives of line elevators and milling concerns.

Again speaking broadly, the parallels for cotton are the advances made by the local store-keeper, and banks, and by the so-called cotton broker on a guarantee, of credits for the grower, as well as similar advances made by representatives of large cotton merchants and sometimes representatives of mills.

These advances for grain and cotton are often made under agreements which call for the delivery of the crop at the time of the harvest at the then market for the grade and quality, but with a guaranteed minimum price. From the time when either grain or cotton is harvested until the crop reaches the mill, the financial operations are definitely similar, although they may vary somewhat in detail.

To be sure, the facilities established and machinery set up for the physical handling of grain are much more modern and, proportionately, very much more ample and complete than in the case of cotton. This situation renders the financing of the movement of grain much more satisfactory and safe, from the standpoint of the banker, than in the case of the cotton. The difference lies principally in the disproportionately greater growth of the elevator and warehouse service for grain as compared with the comparatively inadequate warehouse facilities and service provided for cotton.

From the banker's standpoint, advances for the movement of the grain are, generally speaking, much better secured, so far as the bulk of the total movement is concerned, than in the case of the cotton, although the actual financing machinery used for the different segments of the movement of both commodities to final manufacture or disposition are identical in principle.

UNIVERSITY OVERCROWDED.

A story of overcrowded and almost impossible living conditions at the University of North Carolina and of pressing needs to handle the present students and those coming in the future has been unfolded by President H. W. Chase in a preliminary survey of the university.

"With dormitories built to accommodate 400 students and actually housing 738, not counting students in private rooms; with a dining hall for 540 actually feeding 725; with only 19 class rooms available, not counting the professional and scientific buildings which cannot be used for other purposes; and with the faculty teaching all the students it can teach, the present situation is one that cannot possibly last," says President Chase.

As immediate relief, says the president, the university must quadruple its dormitory space, quadruple its feeding arrangements, treble its teaching and office space, more than double its faculty and office force, and increase its salaries in accordance with standards at other institutions.

Registration figures show that in 1870 when the university re-opened after the civil war it had 171 students. Eleven years later, in 1880, it had 200. Another 10 years and it had 521 in 1900. Another 10 years and it had 821 in 1910. Another 10 years and it had 1,406 in 1920. Figuring on the number of high school graduates, which from the four year schools has jumped 400 per cent in the past 5 years, President Chase can see no place where the university or any other college in the state can take care of them.

The Tar Heel, the student newspaper, devoted almost its entire last issue to describing how students lived at Chapel Hill. It prints a picture of a wood house in the back yard of a citizen of Chapel Hill which has been fitted over to take care of six students. "This is the only dormitory that has been provided since 1913," says the Tar Heel.

In the college dormitories four students have to live in many rooms. They find bed space by piling one bed upon another, double-decker style. A Tar Heel cartoonist drew a picture of a dormitory room, with beds piled high, with trunks stacked on each other, and with a student on the floor calling to his room-mate in the top bed, "hurry up, Bill, it will be my turn to sleep in a minute."

"When the university is overwhelmed by its very success," says President Chase, "when it is crowded beyond its capacity, no longer capable of opening its doors to the youth of the state who ask admittance, on fire with a passion for service that must of necessity be repressed and restrained, what is the answer of any man who believes it is the duty of the state to educate its youth?"

Only those people whose names are on the registration books before sunset Saturday evening can vote in the election on the second day of November. The time left is short, only two days, and those who have not registered should do so at once.

Elmer Root makes the statement that President Wilson kept America out of the league of nations. How the Republicans do twist things.

Do a little canvassing and see if any of your neighbors have failed to register. If any one found whose names are not on the books get them to hurry to the registrar.

CHEAPER MEAT ANIMALS.

Meat animals have been selling by farmers for a whole year ending with September, 1920, at prices that were lower than they were in the preceding year by 14 per cent. The fall in prices, compared with the former years, began in September, 1919. These statements are based on prices ascertained by the Bureau of Crop Estimates, United States department of agriculture.

Prices of these animals were gradually increasing to the calendar year 1914, but they fell 8 per cent in 1915, followed by a gain of 17 per cent in 1916, of 49 per cent in 1917, when the peak of grain was reached of 17 per cent in 1918, and of less than 1 per cent in 1919. Now, for the last 4 months of 1919 and for 1920 to September, there has been a recession of price movement with a drop of 14 per cent.

You will not hear any better speeches during this campaign that those delivered in Greenville yesterday afternoon by Mrs. T. P. Harrison and Senator Lee S. Overman. Such speeches held the closest attention of the large audience and were frequently applauded.

In this pretty weather farmers should get as much of their cotton picked out as possible, even if they do not care to gin it soon. Opening freely as the bolls are now, damage will result if the cotton stays in the field through bad weather that may come soon.

Five reasons for saving hay, too, and an abundance of it could be cut in Pitt county. But unless many of the farmers have changed, they prefer to buy western grown hay at high prices rather than cut it on their own farms.

Any one who does not register fails to perform a duty of citizenship.

SENATOR SIMMONS TO SPEAK IN GREENVILLE WEDNESDAY, OCT. 27

Senator F. M. Simmons will address the Democratic voters of Pitt county at the court house in this city Wednesday, Oct. 27th. As he is one of North Carolina's leading statesmen it is expected that the speaking will be largely attended and that the campaign will be given an unusual impetus.

To the voters:

The covenant of the League of Nations, it is admitted, is a real issue in the coming election. It seems that a very great number of voters have not read the covenant, and therefore are unacquainted with its provisions. Believing an understanding of it by the voters to be very important it will be my pleasure and is my purpose to be in the court house each Monday and Thursday evening, until the election, from 7:30 to 9 o'clock to study and discuss the covenant of the League of Nations with the voters who will attend such meetings.

On Sunday, Rev. Jas. E. Holder, minister in charge of the colored Episcopal Mission on Bonner's Lane, will preach a special sermon on "The churching of the Dead," in an effort to bring the people back or up to a correct understanding of the significance of the Burial service, which seems in large measure to be lost under the weight of other things. At night he will deliver an illustrated sermon, a thing unusual in Greenville, but doing wonderful good in other places. The public is cordially invited to both services.

SAYS WORKING MAN OUGHT TO SUPPORT SAVING'S SYSTEM

Worcester Man Believes Average Man Would Save if He Understood Outcome

Washington, Oct. 20.—The working man will support a savings system which includes retention of a part of his weekly wages from his pay envelope if the system is understood thoroughly by him, John F. Tinsley, manager of a loom works, at Worcester, Mass., today told the American Bankers' Association. He urged adoption of such a plan throughout the country.

Mr. Tinsley's recommendation was based on the successful operation of such a saving system among hundreds of employes in the Worcester mill, which has become known as the Worcester Industrial Savings plan. In brief, the plan consists of having the workers sign cards, authorizing the weekly deduction from their wages and designating the bank in which they wish the money deposited, and of organizing shop committees to encourage thrift. Weekly deductions may be increased or decreased by notifying the shop foreman, and each week a statement is placed in the pay envelope showing the weekly and gross deposits.

"Of the upwards of 5,000 subscribers in Worcester," said Mr. Tinsley, "only 150, or three percent, have dropped out."

Four conditions were named by Mr. Tinsley as necessary for the successful operation of the plan: The system itself must be simple, flexible and easily understandable; the management must energetically support the savings idea; the foremen must be thorough believers in it and the organization for introducing it must be enthusiastically in favor of the savings idea.

The experience at Worcester, Mr. Tinsley declared, was that the foreign-born employes "as a general rule support the plan better than do the English speaking."

Camel CIGARETTES

Winston-Salem, N.C. Monday

Dear Pete:—

Get you a house and let you'd stay in W-S a month if you ever got to know folks here like I have. Between business and Reynolds factories and a bully time—well, my date book has been bubbling over! And, I'm still running into facts that would stagger even your imagination, old football, with all your kick!

Pete, take it straight from government figures direct to you, that every work day in the week R. S. Reynolds Tobacco Co. buys from our "Uncle Sam" enough revenue stamps to pay for a duplicate of the handsome new Winston-Salem post office building! Ever hear of such a thing?

And, if you want to get an eyefull of an army of more than 15,000 people, be down in the Reynolds factory district when the whistles blow! Never saw such a cigarette firing up time in my life! Looks like more folks than you ever saw at a Princeton-Yale football game!

Pete, every time you light a Camel in the future, call back on what I've slipped you about Camels—absolutely, the greatest cigarette at any price—for quality, for refreshing flavor, for mellow mild body, for freedom from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or odor! It's worth the busiest smoker's time to compare Camels with any cigarette in the world! CAMELS are simply a revelation! You know that!

I'll spill you a lot more just as quick as I get a whack at you across the dinner table!

I'll open my eyes in Atlanta tomorrow! In the meantime here's a wad of best wishes I have in stock!

Yours Shorty.

Gentry & Gorman

All sales will finish today by dinner.

Gormans sold Wednesday 65,254 pounds.

All grades showed an advance, meaty medium and fine grades much higher than at any time this season. We look for light sales until we get rain enough to stop cotton picking.

We advisecloser grading. Many are tying up and not grading at all.

This leaves the colors mixed and effects the prices greatly. Throw out the green and black leaves and get your colors together. It is but little trouble or expense to you, but will pay you handsomely. Don't try to get rid of your tobacco too fast. Keep off the market when they are flooded. Drive to Gorman's and you will go home with the top of the market. We will protect you.
