

SIMMONS PAYS SPLENDID TRIBUTE TO WILSON IN POLITICAL SPEECH HERE

SPLENDID RECORD OF STATE EXTOLLED IN PLEASING WAY

Senior North Carolina Senator Warmed Up G. O. P.'s Here Last Night. NATIONAL ISSUES ALSO DISCUSSED AT LENGTH ALSO REPUBLICAN PLAN Urged Voters to Support League of Nations and Observe National Honor.

To a court house comfortably filled with people, a good number of women also being present, Hon. F. M. Simmons, of New Bern, North Carolina's senior United States senator, in a two hours' speech last night gave his hearers an exposition of Democratic principles and the issues at stake in the present campaign that they can never forget. He spoke as one having authority, for having had a considerable hand in getting through legislation affecting the welfare of the nation, and being fresh from the scenes of conflict he knew whereof he spoke, his utterances being emphasized with his usual zeal and eloquence.

After a brief introduction by Mr. S. J. Everett, Senator Simmons first gave a synopsis of North Carolina's glorious achievements during the last twenty years of Democratic administration in which the state had come from the lowest depths of degradation left upon it by preceding Republican misrule to the highest rank in integrity and progress. Wherever he has mingled with leading men of other states and the topic of conversation turned to North Carolina he was often asked if the great things heard about the wonderful advancement of this state were true, and he was proud that he could invariably answer they were. North Carolina is now regarded as one of the best and most progressive states in this great American union, and this has been achieved under the wise government given the people by the Democratic party.

But now the Republicans come along, said the senator, and want the people of this good state to turn the Democratic party out and put them back in. Do they say this on the record of their party? Not at all, for they hang their own heads in shame whenever the Republican party record is discussed. Are they asking it on the record of the Democratic party? No, for though this party under the immense task of readjustment may have made some mistakes, their record was unassailable. All the Republicans can do is to criticize and whimper as is their custom in every campaign.

Senator Simmons said there were so many things to talk about, and perhaps the people expected him to devote himself mainly to national issues, that he could not give much time to discussing topics in the state campaign. He would leave the state matters to Cam Morrison, candidate for governor, and if Cam had not already been around this way he would come and tell the people a plenty. He did, however, give a brief clear construction of the justice of the revaluation act passed by the last legislature, and the income tax that is to be voted as an amendment to the constitution. To illustrate the latter he said that taxing the earnings of a man upon the labor of his body and brain, and not taxing the income a man gets from the investment of his money, looks like placing a higher value on the dollar than on the man. This is what has been going on in the past, and to correct this injustice is the purpose of the income tax amendment.

GERMANY TO FIGHT STRIKE IN NATION WITH RED CROSSES

"Red Cross of Industry" Organization Assumes Form in Many Sections.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS ENLISTED IN PLAN TO END GENERAL STRIKES

Organization Operates in Number of Communities Threatened by Disruption.

Stuttgart, Oct. 28.—German industrial leaders believe they have found an effective weapon for fighting general strikes in the Technische Nothilfe, known in Germany and Denmark as the "Red Cross of industry." As evidence they point to the fact that the organization crushed a general strike in the state of Wuertemberg in five days when that state was menaced with a complete paralysis of all industrial activity.

The Technische Nothilfe was organized at Stuttgart about a year ago and is operating under the direction of the Minister of the Interior. In normal times only a skeleton office is maintained which occupies itself with preparations for an emergency. Wuertemberg is divided into 100 sub-districts each of which has a leader whose duty is to prepare a list of volunteers able in emergency to operate all the essential industries of the community. The head offices in the city are furnished with a complete list of such volunteers. The active technical emergency managers of essential industries usually are named as chiefs for those industries and they presumably are non-union men. Among the volunteers listed are university students, engineers, professors in the Polytechnic Institute and unskilled workmen from every class of society.

The central organization makes provision for bedding, foodstuffs and army kitchens for the volunteers who camp by their jobs. Each volunteer is informed in advance where to report and upon notification of a strike proceeds to that post where the Technische Nothilfe has delivered supplies considered sufficient for the duration of the strike. It is claimed that in a very short time the central offices thus can furnish an operating force for each industry.

The general strike here was called as a protest against the ten percent tax on workmen's wages. It was arranged by the communists but adhered by the majority socialists, the more conservative labor elements and trade unions. Distribution of food ceased and gas, electric and water service was abandoned. The community was confronted with possible chaos when the Technische Nothilfe stepped in, assumed control and manned every essential post, vacated by the strikers, including the highly technical positions.

RAIL SERVICES IN BALKAN STATES IN UNUSUAL CONDITION

High Prices and Unemployment Interrupts Work at Colleges.

Bucharest, Rumania, Oct. 28.—If Americans feel that the subways, railroads and trolley cars are crowded, conditions in Rumania and other parts of the Balkans are worse. Railroads traffic today in Rumania is so great that passengers ride on the roofs of every train by the hundreds. When the tops of the train are crowded that they can hold no more, the passengers cling to the running boards, ride on the bumpers and even on the underframeworks of the car. The fare is the same whether the passenger rides in a compartment or on the roof of the car. Accidents are frequent. Often when a car has entered a tunnel a number of passengers have been swept off the roof to their death.

The congested traffic is due to the small numbers of locomotives and coaches available and to insufficient trackage.

Most of the country's rolling stock was carried off by the Germans or destroyed. Some of the locomotives and cars have been replaced, but the number is far from adequate. A large American locomotive concern has contracted to send a number of engines here, taking in payment a quantity of oil.

There are at present less than 3,000 locomotives in Rumania, including the newly-acquired provinces of Transylvania and Bessaraba. About half this number are in order. Most of them are of German or Hungarian construction. There is such a shortage of passenger coaches that box cars often are used for the conveyance of the public.

The total trackage in Greater Rumania is about 10,500 miles. This has to serve an area of nearly 300,000 square miles and a population of 18,000,000. Many of the steel rails are almost entirely worn out and the road beds are in need of major repairs. Rumanian railway officials say that American railroad men and engineers would do well to investigate business prospects in Rumania. Railroads must be constructed and others double-tracked. The country will require an enormous quantity of railroad supplies to re-equip and construct the lines that suffered during the war. Bridges also must be built, canals cut and harbors extended.

URGES TESTING OF RAILWAY ACT FOR REASONABLE TIME

Alfred Thom Tells Boston Chamber Commerce of Demands of Future.

SAYS TRANSPORTATION ACT VITALLY AFFECTS NATIONAL RAIL SYSTEM

Says Act is Founded on Recognition of Private Ownership to Public.

Boston, Oct. 28.—Declaring a new conception exists as to the relationship transportation bears to the public welfare, Alfred P. Tom, of Washington, D. C., general counsel for the Association of Railway Executives in a speech here tonight urged that adequate opportunity be allowed for the testing of the efficacy of the Transportation Act and the new regulatory policy over the carriers which it prescribes.

Addressing the annual dinner of the Massachusetts State Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Tom declared that a new constructive transportation policy outlined in the act calling for the preservation "in full vigor" of both rail and water transportation has now begun in earnest. This policy, he said, superseded the "positive and restrictive governmental policy of regulation" of former years through which a condition of transportation was reached constituting "one of the economic tragedies of history."

The Transportation Act, he said, is founded in part on recognition that private ownership and operation is in the public interest to be preferred to government ownership and operation and that it is more equitable to distribute the cost of supporting it among the persons who use it in proportion to their use than to impose it on all the people irrespective of their use by levying it as an universal tax.

The Act also recognizes he said the principle that the proper financial credit of the railroads is primarily and principally a matter of public, and only in a minor degree of private, concern.

Mr. Tom said that not only is the Transportation act now on trial, but also the Interstate Commerce Commission, organized labor, the various state commissions and the carriers themselves.

"The powers conferred upon the Interstate Commerce mission by this act are so enormous and far reaching, that it will become largely responsible for the success or failure of the system of regulation," he said.

"The labor unions are on trial, because the government itself has created an official agency for the fair and equitable adjustment of grievances and controversies as to wages and living conditions and if, in defiance of the conclusions thus officially reached, the labor organizations, contrary to public opinion, interrupt the orderly and continuous movement of interstate commerce upon which the welfare of the whole public depends, they can not expect to be sustained by the people to whose will at last, all must bow.

"The carriers are on trial, because an effort has been made to extend to them help of a substantial character in the performance of their public opinion will hold them to a strict accountability for the fidelity and efficiency with which these duties are performed."

PRES. WILSON APPEALS TO AMERICAN TO STAND BACK OF LEAGUE ISSUES

SIR JOHN ANDERSON

Sir John Anderson, the undersecretary for Ireland, who has been aiding in trying to solve the Irish question.

HARD TIMES PLAY BIG PART IN PLANS OF GERMAN PEOPLE

Trolley Service and Railroads in Deplorable State Almost Everywhere.

Berlin, Oct. 28.—Hard times in Germany, marked by high prices and depreciated money values, unemployment and industrial reorganization, have forced readjustments in universities and public and private schools, which, the newspapers say, will mean that many professors, lecturers and private instructors either will be thrown out of work or compelled by low salaries to seek employment in other countries. A number already have gone to Mexico and South America and it is reported scores have made arrangements to leave.

In some papers it is suggested that "perhaps the hard times are not alone responsible for the attitude the professors have assumed for it is known they are keenly sensible of the outrageous times and their loss of dignity" under the republic.

The difficulties of the situation have increased by the advent of hundreds of teachers formerly employed in the province of Posen. Regret is expressed that in Posen 15,000 children of German parentage will be without German instruction and that these probably in a short time will become Polish.

DECLARES NATION MUST SUCCEED IN ITS MORAL ISSUES

President Addresses Pro-League Delegation from Wheel Chair at Home.

SAYS COUNTRY MUST COMPLETE JOB WHICH OUR SOLDIERS BEGUN

Declares Imperialism is Not Dead and League is Only Preventative.

Washington, Oct. 27.—President Wilson, in his first speech since he was taken ill more than a year ago, called on his "fellow countrymen" today to endorse the League of Nations, and summoned them to "the concert of peace and the completion of the great moral achievement" on their part, which he said the world war represented.

Speaking from his wheel chair to a delegation of pro-league Republicans and Independents, who called at the White House, the President declared that "the great moral influence" of the United States would be "absolutely thrown away" if the nation did "not complete the task which our soldiers and sailors so seriously undertook to execute."

The American people, Mr. Wilson said, "should not be deceived into supposing that imperialistic schemes ended with the defeat of Germany." He declared there were other nations which were likely to be powerfully moved or were already moved "by commercial jealousy, by the desire to dominate and to have their own way in politics and in enterprise," and that it was "necessary to apprise them that the world would be united against as it was against Germany, if they attempted any similar thing."

The President read his address from a manuscript. His visitors declared in a formal statement after leaving the White House that it was evident he was "voicing the profoundest emotions of his heart" and that more than once "his voice choked," especially when he referred "to the soldier boys and the mothers of those who had fallen in battle."

"The whole occasion was inexpressibly solemn and tender," said the statement, adding that the deputation felt that it was "nothing less than tragic" that the President had been brought "to such a stricken physical condition as the result of his indefatigable labors for his country and for humanity."

"They felt," concluded the statement, "that this might be the President's final appeal to the conscience of his countrymen in the supreme moral decision that they are called upon to make."

Mr. Wilson received his visitors, fifteen in all, including two women, in a small room off his study near the entrance to the White House.

He remained in his wheel chair throughout the reception, which lasted forty minutes. Afterwards Rear Admiral Grayson, his physician, indicated that he had shown no physical ill effects, saying he had come through "in exceptionally fine form."

After the delegation was greeted by the President, Dr. Hamilton Holt of New York, its spokesman, delivered a brief address, declaring that the League of Nations transcended party politics and was "the greatest moral issue that has confronted the American people in this generation." He added that the delegation represented "a vast number of other Republicans throughout the United States who are ready to put patriotism above party in the present critical hour," to the end that "our boys whose blood hallows the fields of France will not have died in vain."

WORLD'S ZINC SUPPLY.

At present the world's chief source of zinc is the United States, which gained supremacy in the zinc industry when the war eliminated Germany and Belgium from this field, it is declared by the National Bank of Commerce in New York, in the November number of its magazine, Commerce Monthly.

The United States had little export trade in this metal until the war forced foreign consumers to turn to American markets, the bank points out, but its trade is now in excess of that of any other nation and probably will remain so because of the continuing incapacity of the former producing countries to supply the market. The United States exported 100,232 tons of zinc in the first eight months of this year, according to the bank, or nearly ten times the normal annual amount exported before the war.

"Belgium and Germany used to supply most of the international demand," says Commerce Monthly, "but these countries are not now able to produce zinc to compete with the American product. In 1918 Belgium exported 104,513 short tons of spelter, or over nine times as much as did the United States. Although many of the zinc plants operated in Belgium, others were completely dismantled. There has been a loss, moreover, through the disorganization of the skilled laboring force as a consequence of the war. At the same time there is a serious shortage of fuel and of zinc ore.

"Unlike the Belgians the Germans smelted principally from domestic ore. Present fuel and labor conditions, however, are not favorable for extensive zinc production in Germany. Although the ore is found in nearly every country in the world, the deposits in the United States and Germany alone of the chief smelting countries are sufficient for domestic requirements. Australia, the third largest producer of zinc ore and concentrates, has but a small smelter capacity and consequently has been Europe's chief source for foreign ore."

ARMY SENDS SOLDIERS TO COLLEGE.

The chance for a thorough college education will soon be open to qualified soldiers of the United States army. From the first grade to the final collegiate degree, the way is being paved by the War Department, with the cooperation of numerous educational institutions, for a complete training in all academics and in many technical courses.

By the autumn of 1921 it will be possible for more than 100 qualified soldiers to lay aside their uniforms and enroll as students in as many colleges throughout the country.

While this project is an entirely new departure for the military establishment, it is the result of a definitely conceived plan to make the army an organization of the fullest educational opportunity and to offer soldiers the same chance for mental improvement which they might secure in civil life.

The present educational and vocational program of the army, which has been in operation for more than a year, includes elementary and secondary subjects and it is now possible for the soldier to obtain the equivalent of a high school education. The arrangement which has been made by the War Department and various educational institutions throughout the country will enable soldiers to continue their education with a minimum expense to themselves.

While the project is still in a formative stage, a sufficient number of colleges have offered scholarships to insure full opportunity for every soldier who desires these educational advantages. From thirty-eight institutions have come assurances that tuition and other assistance will be given students, fifty-two colleges have signified their ability to grant tuition or a reduction in fees, while seventy-four institutions still have the matter under advisement and several declare that they will make every effort to further the War Department's plan.

SYNOPSIS OF "A DARK LANTERN"

The story of "A Dark Lantern" concerns Katherine Dereham (Alice Brady), a fun-loving English girl, who, while visiting in Argovinia before the war with her aunt and uncle, Lord and Lady Peterborough, is presented to Prince Anton of Argovinia, a handsome young heart-breaker, who is engaged to Princess Margaretha. She returns to England to find her father, Col. Dereham, a dope fiend, very ill and under the care of a Dr. Garth Vincent. From the first she resents the brusque manner of Dr. Vincent, and is piqued because he ignores her completely. His very indifference interests her, because being ignored is a new sensation to the petted girl.
The Prince goes to England to visit and is the chief guest at a reception at the residence of the Countess of Peterborough. Katherine with the understanding that they will meet in Rome in June, however, the war prevents the trip, Katherine spending her time with the Red Cross. After the war Katherine goes to Rome, for a rest, and the Prince having the same inspiration, they are given an opportunity to renew their acquaintance. He implores her to become hismorganatic wife, but she is heart-broken that he should suggest it, though she believes herself in love with him.
Returning home, she is severely ill for a long time, and is put under Dr. Vincent's care, much to her displeasure. Yet when she is convalescent she is unhappy because she realizes it marks the end of Dr. Vincent's visit. Going to the seashore, she again meets Prince Anton; who tells her his wife will get a divorce in a year and again pleads for her to consider him. But now she realizes that she loves Dr. Vincent, although he has never seemed even mildly interested in her. Dr. Vincent also chances to be at the seashore and Katherine goes to him and urges him to take her to his country home. Anton follows her there and accuses her, but she is rescued by Dr. Vincent, who realizes at last that he loves her, too.

AMERICA'S FOREIGN TRADE

Lack of an adequate American cable system is a handicap to this country's foreign trade which must be removed if we are to maintain our position in the commercial world, the National Bank of Commerce in New York declares.

In the November issue of its magazine, Commerce Monthly, the bank shows that at present American exporters are dependent for communication on commercial rivals abroad, more than half the existing cables being controlled by Great Britain alone. The spending of thousands of millions of dollars on our merchant marine and other trade organized under such conditions, it holds, is a doubtful prospect.

Until some effective international agreement for the neutralization of the world's cable system has been reached, the pressing need of American commerce is the extension of American cable facilities," Commerce Monthly says. "Without such a system American foreign trade is faced with the difficulties inseparable from doing business over a system largely owned and managed by the commercial rivals of the United States.

"Apart from the general circumstances which have increased the interdependence between business and the cables all over the world, the United States has a very special interest in the present situation, primarily as the result of an enormous increase in its foreign trade. In consequence foreign market conditions have become of added importance not only to those who are actively engaged in dealing abroad, but also to a large proportion of the business community whose interests are affected less obviously, but none the less surely, by conditions elsewhere.

"The present system of international communications, largely cable, while comprehensive and efficient, has been built primarily on the basis of connecting the commercial world with the old world centers of finance, commerce and industry. National interests and prestige, competitive enterprise and local influence have governed location.

OVER 4000 WOMEN OF GASTON COUNTY PREPARE TO VOTE

Report of Registration Shows
That 4,000 Have Registered for Election.

Lexington, Oct. 26.—Four thousand or more women of Davidson county have their names on the registration books, according to estimates made here by political observers in receipt of information from various precincts in the county. This is perhaps at least a thousand more than the most conservative onlooker would have prophesied a week before the books closed and double the number expected at the beginning of registration.

Suffrage at first was undoubtedly not popular in this county but it appears that it has been generally accepted and the women will accompany their husbands and brothers to the polls in great numbers next Tuesday. Both parties made strong drives to register all women of their party sympathy and both met with success, the Democrats making their greatest spurt in the closing days.

As a result of the heavy registration throughout the county the Democrats are hopeful of winning back the county offices now held by Republicans throughout, as well as a member of the legislature. Another thing that has heartened the Democrats is the turn taken by the revaluation issue. It is now demonstrated that a great many taxpayers in the county, perhaps a goodly majority, will pay less taxes than last year. Many farmers in particular who had been told they would pay more taxes now find that they were misinformed. The Republican campaign in the county has laid special emphasis on revaluation and the Democrats say they have plunged the opposition's big gun.

ROADS AND HEALTH.

In speaking of the movement for a state system of intra-hard surfaced highways for North Carolina, to be so built and so constructed as to interconnect and inter-join every county seat with every other county seat and principal town, Col. Kirkpatrick, chairman of the Citizens Highway Association, stated that such a system of modern highways could be built and maintained without any great burden to the taxpayers of the Commonwealth.

Col. Kirkpatrick said that the tax values on all assessable properties of the State under the re-valuation act was approximately $3,500,000,000. By levying one million assessable values of the property of the State we could obtain an annual income of $3,500,000. The proposed levy of one mill for North Carolina seems infinitesimal for the taxpayer of North Carolina to pay when States like Florida is proposing five cents, Kentucky five cents, Virginia seven cents and Minnesota five cents. It is estimated that the farmers, the merchants and other citizens of the State pay an annual Mud Tax of $100,000,000 annually.

That 3-4 of this one mill would yield annually under the present assessment $2,500,000, which said sum, would be sufficient to meet the annual principal account of a $50,000,000 Bond Issue, said bonds being serial bonds and payable in twenty annual installments, and that the remaining 1-4 mill or $1,000,000 plus the automobile tax would prove a sufficient sum to meet the annual interest account on the said $50,000,000 bond issue. Assuming that the $50,000,000 was issued at one time, which would not be the case, as the bonds ought not to be issued and the money ought not to be expended as material and men could be secured to do the work, and consistent with sound economic business principals; that after the paying of the first years account there would be an automatic saving on the interest account of $125,000.00, that by levying one half of one cent tax on gasoline and other volatile oils (excluding kerosene, which is the poor man's friend) that the sum derived from the tax on gasoline as above mentioned together with the saving of the $125,000.00 annually on the interest account, that there would be given an ample revenue which to provide a permanent maintenance fund for all hard surfaced highways constructed by the state under this program.

Col. Kirkpatrick further stated that if North Carolina expected to compete commercially, agriculturally and economically with her sister, states that the citizens of the commonwealth must put North Carolina on a competitive basis so that our state could be in a position to offer the same advantages by the means of good roads and hard-surfaced highways that the other states were offering to new capital.

BARNETT TERRIBLY SHOCKED AT THINGS DISCLOSED IN HAITI

Washington, Oct. 27. — Brigadier General Geo. Barnett, former commandant of marine corps told the naval court of inquiry that he was "terribly shocked" by conditions in Haiti as disclosed at the trial of two privates last year. He said the "existing state of minds" made it possible for any one to be killed. He also stated that 2,250 natives were killed and that the previous announcement placing the number at 3,000 was erroneous. The casualty record office said only a few had fallen in action with marines or native troops.

SAYS LABOR, CHURCHES AND WOMEN IN FAVOR OF LEAGUE

Kenova, W. Va., Oct. 26.—Governor Cox, of Ohio, closed his West Virginia campaign tour here today with another appeal for the League of Nations and a statement that the churches, labor and women were together in the movement, which he said, was "sweeping the country."

In this connection the Democratic Presidential candidate called attention to statements a year ago of former President Taft which, the governor said prophesied his present view of the situation.

The Cost of Roofing

Figure the cost of roofing by its cost per square service and by its price per roll. The kind of roofing that you want is the kind that's easiest to lay, that lasts the longest and takes the least labor to keep in repair. That roofing is Ru-ber-oid.

RU-BER-OID ROOFING

has been manufactured for more than a quarter century by The Standard Paint Company. It was the first prepared roofing on the market. It has hosts of enthusiastic friends in nearly every country in the world: farmers, manufacturers, railroadmen, plantation owners, men who own smelters and chemical works; they have all tested it thoroughly under actual working conditions and have found that it equalled (and in great many cases excelled) their expectations.

But remember—you cannot find long-lasting roofing by going to the roofing of cheap material that just like Ru-ber-oid! But you will not see like Ru-ber-oid! So don't be influenced by "looks" or "feel" but buy the roofing that you know is going to give you honest service for the money that you pay.

Phone numbers for complete and prices. We have districts of Ru-ber-oid ready to serve you.

There is but one Ru-ber-oid. Look for the Magic Blue Logo.

Shorty runs into Teebo!

Dear PETE.

Atlanta, Ga. Wednesday.

Checked up our old dormitory pal "Snapper" Teebo this morning, waiting on an appointment down Peachtree Street. "Snapper" wanted to know a book full about my visit to the Camel factories. "Tell us, old apple seed," says Snapper, "you're on the inside!" "Snap" still has that mighty annoying way of saying, "But that doesn't surprise me!" Some day I'll soak him—maybe that will be a surprise!

Anyhow—when I explained about the millions of Camels R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. made daily what does the old bird sputter but: "Why, Shorty, they'd have to make that many to supply the demand! Camels have the quality smokers want! And, they have the most wonderful mellow mild body and the most refreshing flavor ever created in a cigarette! Of course they make Camels by millions; of course they buy enough revenue stamps from 'Uncle Sam' every work day to build a duplicate of the Winston-Salem post office! Why not? Smokers will have Camels!"

But "Snap" finally got to spilling some real nobby Camel selling stuff! "Shorty," says he, "write the Reynolds folks for me that I travel and talk some with the world in a year's time. And I want to put it on record that in all the times I've pulled Camels out of my pocket to supply somebody's shortage I've heard enough good things said about 'em to fill a volume—'That's my brand', 'Camels are a wonderful cigarette', 'Like getting money from home', etc!"

And, Shorty, what's the answer? Why—Camels quality and Camels blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos meet the universal taste! That's it! Get me right, boy! They all open their shutters for Camels! You'll find that all over the nation! And, that's the hole story, old golf ball! Pete, you pet phonograph, did you ever hear a better record?

Sincerely
Shorty.

ALBANIA DISTRICT AT LAST FREE FROM FOREIGN SOLDIERS

Withdrawal of Italian Troops
Concludes Hostilities in Avolona.

DESIRES FOR LIBERTY
PARTICULARLY QUICK AND HOPEFUL TODAY

Never Before Has There Been Such Tranquility Throughout the Country.

Scutari, Albania, Oct. 27.—With the withdrawal of Italian troops from Avolona and the cessation of hostile incursions by the Serbs and Montenegrins, Albania is free of foreign occupation for the first time in her turbulent history. Albanians feel that they have at last reached the goal of their national independence. Their undying love of liberty, which has persisted through all their centuries of struggle against Turk and Christian, is particularly quick and hopeful today. The people hope that the great Powers will protect them from future designs on the part of selfish foreign countries.

Perhaps never before was there such a state of tranquility within the borders of the little Albanian state. In the streets of Scutari one sees the Albanian colors displayed for the first time, and listens to patriotic demonstrations by local groups of citizens and societies. Enthusiasm and patriotic fervor are at a high pitch. Even the native tribes, who usually are engaged in factional combat among themselves, are living in a state of peace. This peace is based upon nothing more than a word of honor given with the approval of the people between two or more chiefs.

The Albanian's word, which he calls "bessa," is absolutely binding. It is customary for families within a tribe, for tribes and for large groups of tribes to arrange between themselves a "bessa," that is an agreement by which all matters of personal vengeance are suspended for a given length of time.

Except in a few communities in the South, the Albanians live in tribal organizations. In scattered communities in the mountains, where each man defends his home and his rights with his rifle, which he never lays down when out of doors. They are governed by a sort of common law, which is known as the Law of Lek. Lek was a more or less traditional law-giver of the once powerful family of Dukadjini.

URGES SUPPORT OF DEMOCRATS LINED UP BEHIND LEAGUE

Governor Cox Leads for Election of Candidates Supporting League.

REITERATES STATEMENT OF THIS PLAN TO MAKE AGREEMENT ON LEAGUE

Characterizes Harding as One of Conspirators Who Strangled Issue.

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 26.—Special pleas for election of Senatorial candidates favoring the League of Nations were made by Governor Cox today in a tri-State tour touching West Virginia and Kentucky and closing tonight with an address here, where he began his career as a newspaper reporter twenty-five years ago.

The Democratic Presidential candidate, reiterating that he would construe his election—in which he expressed utmost confidence—as a positive mandate for American entrance into the league, asked support for Democratic candidates here in Ohio and in Kentucky also whom, he said, stood "four-square" upon the league issue.

"Don't tie my hands by electing a hostile Senator," he urged, reiterating statements made in his formal announcement yesterday that he believed he would "reach an agreement with the Senate regarding the league."

"I have found that America is not so much concerned in the words we use in keeping our pledge," said the governor, "as it is that the meaning be clear and that the only possible step now available be taken to keep wars from being in the future."

Governor Cox also continued his attack upon Senator Harding, his Republican opponent, as a "conspirator" against the league by virtue of the Senator's signature to the "round robin."

"I think you will agree," said the governor, "that a conspiracy was formed in the Senate to strangle the League of Nations to death. Now we are asked to upset the conspiracy and the Senatorial crowd proposes as the official upsetter, a member of the conspirators himself. When a case is tried in court the man under charge never sits in the judge's chair, and he never sits in the jury box, and the American people, in their desire to overturn this base conspiracy, are not going to designate one of the conspirators himself to carry out the job."

SAYS BIG EASTERN STATES CERTAIN TO SUPPORT GOV. COX

George White Says Victory Is Coming So Fast It Can be Almost Seen.

New York, Oct. 26.—In a statement made public here tonight, George White, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, declared that "victory is coming our way so fast now that we cannot only feel it and hear it, but we can see it."

Mr. White's statement, in part follows:

"Developments of the past two days insure that the Democrats will carry New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island. New Hampshire we already have. The Democratic tide has struck the East and has demolished the false barriers erected by Republican propaganda and money."

"There has been almost a revolution going on in the states I mentioned during the last two days. Awakened finally to the methods of the Republican managers, the people of these states have been coming to the Democratic support in such numbers that I am advised tonight that the Republican state leaders confess their inability to prevent a stampede."

HARVARD UNIT HAS COMPLETED WORK IN DEVESTATED AREA

Construction Unit Returns to America After Doing Splendid Work.

Paris, Oct. 27.—The Harvard reconstruction unit which came to France in July has completed its work in the devastated regions and many of its members have returned to America. Considerable work was accomplished by the organization which consisted of 25 persons. The American architects planned an entirely new town to take the place of Boureilles and a new site has been selected. This plan was drawn up by Hale Walker of Carthage, O., George Lee of Boston and Prentiss French of Williamstown, Mass. The new town plan has received the enthusiastic approval of the mayor.

Simmons Pays Wilson Tribute

the most prominent issues between the two parties. With the exception of the league of nations the issues are practically the same as in the campaign of 1912, when the rank and file of the Republican party deserted their leaders because the latter could not be trusted and William H. Taft was overwhelmingly defeated by Woodrow Wilson, the greatest statesman America has produced. The same condition exists now, and while the result may not be so overwhelming as eight years ago, the defeat that Jimmie Cox is going to give Senator Harding, the weakest and poorest excuse for a candidate the Republicans have ever put on their ticket, will be overwhelming enough.

Senator Simmons was strong in his arraignment of the Republicans for being a party in the interest of a few holders of wealth and against the masses. The short comings of the party since gaining power in the last congress, and its utter failure to carry out the boasted promise of war tax reductions, were forcefully denounced. In referring modestly to his own part in legislation shaping the finances of the country when he was chairman of the senate finance committee, he digressed to pay a handsome compliment to Congressman Claude Kitchin, his co-laborer and declared that the people should keep this great man in congress just as long as he is able to serve them.

The last point elaborated by Senator Simmons was the league of nations. He said the Republicans were at heart not against this league, and when called into council by President Wilson during its preparation they heartily favored it, but upon the president's return from France they saw his ascending popularity among all the other great nations of the earth, and the hold he had upon the esteem of the people at home, and realizing if the treaty was adopted it would mean no other chance for Republican rule in twenty years and putting partisanship above patriotism they set about by means of falsehood and every method of infamy to destroy this great man and bury his influence. But "truth crushed to earth will rise again," and the people of America will on next Tuesday express their rebuke of this infamy.

Senator Simmons closed his thrilling speech with a magnificent tribute to President Wilson which is given below in full.

I believe with all my soul that right is eternal and that truth crushed to earth will rise again. It has been said that the history of the world is but the history of the great men who have lived in it and it may be said with truth that the history of the United States for the last eight years has been largely a history of Woodrow Wilson.

We saw him for the first time as a national figure when he was called to take charge of the affairs of the great State of New Jersey, which had become the nest and breeding ground of the trusts, with a mandate to drive out these predatory combinations which were exploiting its people and undermining the foundations of their government.

We saw him throw down the gauntlet of battle, heard his defiant challenge, saw him as he rushed to the charge, heard the shouts of execration and rage as the massed columns of snidicated privilege bore down upon him; saw him as he emerged triumphantly from the conflict, his great task accomplished; saw the reign of plutocracy overthrown and popular government re-established.

When the great war came and the world rocked with the tremor of impending wreck, we saw him proclaimed the chief advisor and spokesman of the allied nations; saw the morale of the armies and peoples of our adversaries shattered and the thrones of their autocratic rulers shaken by his preachments of democracy and the rule of the people in his great pronouncements of the war purposes and aims of the allied and associated nations; saw him as President and Commander-in-Chief of our armies and navy as with incredible speed he organized and mobilized our marvelous resources and at the critical moment throw our marshalled strength into the conflict and snatch victory out of defeat.

When the great conflict had ended we saw him cross the waters with heart centered on a righteous settlement and an enduring peace; saw him take his place in the councils of the nations with the mightiest men and rulers of the earth; saw him rise and tower above them all in intellectual power and moral grandeur; saw him through the power of his master mind shape the thought and purposes of Europe as he had shaped those of his own country; saw the ideals and aspirations for democracy and human brotherhood proclaimed in the bill of rights and constitution of our own country engrafted and guaranteed in a world covenant of peace and good will to men on earth.

We saw him when he returned bearing in triumph that great magna charta of Christian civilization, saw the demon of discord raise its horrid head, saw politics supplant patriotism, saw partisan criticism crystallize into opposition, opposition into conspiracy and conspiracy into misrepresentation, culminating in premeditated murder of the League and attempted assassination of the character of its chief architect.

We saw him though weak and worn with his long labors rush to the defense of the cause so dear to his heart as the father goes to the defense of his imperilled offspring; saw him as he bared his breast to his enemies undaunted by the shafts of envy, hatred and malice; saw him as with the power of irresistible logic he pressed his adversaries to the wall, demolished their contentions and exposed their hypocrisy; saw the people rally to his standard, saw the enemy give ground and break, him tear down the temple of mammon which they had erected and dedicated to the service of plutocracy; saw him build upon its ruins a temple of law dedicated to the principles of justice and equal opportunity; saw him open the flood-gates and let the stagnant waters of reaction and standpatism run to waste, saw him relay the foundations of national progress and blaze the way for a broader and more enduring prosperity in which all might equally share.

As God liveth and reigneth, it is not dead and he is not dead. Though he will pass away as all men must, it is not in the power of mortal man to extinguish the light he has shed upon the earth. They who have plotted his ruin will die miserably and the memory of their treachery will alone remain, but Woodrow Wilson will live—live in the hearts and minds of men with everwaxing fame as long as the ideals and aspirations which he wrote into that great document shall move and inspire the souls and consciences of the children of men. And the League of Peace, that great magna charta of Christian civilization, though murdered and buried, is not dead. Like Lazarus, it will rise again at the sound of the Master's voice and warm with its rays and lighten with its effulgence the hearts and souls of peace-loving and God-fearing men and women throughout the world to the last hour of time.

THE DOT RED CROSS
By Clifford Leon Sherman
The first visible evidence of the ruthlessness came the next morning. When Mildred went on deck she found the rail crowded with passengers who were gazing at a mass of wreckage, which told the story of a torpedoed ship. The captain ordered men out in a small boat to search, but they were un-successful. As they were rowing back to the transport, one of the sailors picked up a...

Gentry & Gorman

Gormans sold 107,628 pounds Wednesday. Prices were good with us, yet on a whole there was a weakening on the better grades. This was caused by one of the buyers who came on strong Friday, Monday and Tuesday buying but little on Wednesday's sale. We attach some sales made Wednesday which will give you an idea of our prices. We have a house about two thirds full today but as the other sales are small, there will be no block as all sales will finish.

The market will sell Tuesday, this is election day but we will sell as usual.
