

Teachers School Observes Ending Of World's War

Students of Training School Observe Armistice Day By Appropriate Exercises

COLONEL RODMAN SPEAKS ON PART WHICH AMERICA PLAYED IN THE CONFLICT

Washington Man Gives Vivid Description of Conditions in Paris During War

Armistice day was celebrated at the Training School this morning by a appropriate and extremely interesting exercises.

Col. W. C. Rodman, of Battery B. 113th Artillery, was the speaker of the occasion and made a thrilling account of his experiences on Armistice Day in the days immediately preceding and following. The meaning of this day, the significance of it, is clearer to those who heard Col. Rodman than it was before.

The two literary societies of the Training School planned the program for the occasion and invited as their guests the members of the American Legion, the Boy Scouts and the High School as well as the general public. Each of these attended in a body.

Prof. C. W. Wilson in the absence of Pres. Wright, presided over the exercises. F. H. Scattergood conducted the religious services reading an appropriate Scripture Lesson and leading in prayer.

The exercises began with the singing of "God of Our Fathers". After the prayer, all joined in singing "My Country 'Tis of Thee". Then professor Wilson turned the meeting over to Dr. Laughlinhouse, who in a most gracious manner introduced Col. Rodman. He said that in his mind the eleventh of November ranked with December 25, Good Friday, and Easter Sunday as days to be celebrated.

He further said that he knew of no class of people to whom the celebration of this day should mean more to than to young women who are to become teachers. He introduced Col. Rodman as one who was in the thickest of the fight, who knew all the disappointment, the discomforts, and sacrifices, one who left home and gave all he had to help bring Peace on Earth Good Will to Men.

Then followed the splendid speech by Col. Rodman. He took his audience with him step by step through the Miel Drive, the Argonne Forest, and into the Metz Section, showing how his battery was in the thick of the fighting. He told of their equipment when they started out, and what they were reduced to before they stopped fighting, and showed by way of contrast the difference after the armistice was signed. He said that he would like to have been in three places on that memorable day either at the front, in Paris or at home, to see how the people took the news. He was off on leave and was in Nice. He described the scenes in that city. He was in Paris on the following day they celebrated the return of their lost colonies, Alsace and Lorraine.

He stopped in Paris on his way to Nice so had an excellent opportunity to see the contrast there.

We who are alive today will perhaps never live to see the full fruition of the victory won under the leadership of our country. He spoke with pride of the part America took in the war, modestly making a claim except that she did her part. He said that he was proud of the fact that America was a unit in the service of God and humanity, there was a North, South East, or West but all were one. On the day the Armistice was signed Woodrow Wilson was the greatest man in the world to the people of France. He closed by expressing hope that the day would always be celebrated as it should.

The exercises closed with the singing of the "Star Spang's Banner".

Do not miss McLendon's sermon on the story of his life and conversion in the big tent tonight.

More Evidence of Alleged Graft In Affairs of Board

Benson and Other Members of United States Shipping Board to Testify in Probe

New York, Nov. 11.—Additional evidence of alleged irregularities and mismanagement in the affairs of the United States Shipping Board were introduced here today before the Congressional committee investigating the affairs of the board by J. F. Richardson, assistant secretary and statistician of the committee, in concluding his direct testimony. The investigation is based largely upon the report submitted by Mr. Richardson and A. M. Fisher, secretary and statistician of the committee after a years work.

At the conclusion of today's session Chairman Walsh, announced that commander A. B. Clements, executive assistant to Admiral Benson, chairman of the shipping board would be a witness tomorrow morning. Chairman Walsh read a telegram from Admiral Benson, which stated that the board would not object to Commander Clements testifying and that the records, officers and employees of the board were at the disposal of the committee at any time of place the committee desired.

Chairman Walsh said Admiral Benson and other officials of the board as well as Charles M. Schwab and Charles E. Piez, former heads of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, may be asked to appear before the committee. The hearings will be continued in New York for two weeks and then it is likely said Chairman Walsh that the committee will go to Philadelphia and Washington to continue its work.

Cross-examination by Representative Henry T. Steele of Mr. Richardson took up a considerable part of the afternoon session. Characterizing the witness' previous testimony as a general indictment, Mr. Steele sought to bring out specific instances of alleged political influence, favoritism, etc.

First Convention Road Commission Meets In Denver

First annual Session of Highway Commission Convene With 100 In Attendance

TWELVE WESTERN STATES ASKED FOR CONGRESSIONAL AID FOR HARD SURFACES

Representatives of Governors of Most Western States Present Side of Question

Denver, Colo., Nov. 11.—The initial convention of the National Park to Park Highway Association, with nearly 100 delegates in attendance, opened here today with a program calling for congressional aid for the 12 most westerly states in raising $100,000,000 for hard surfacing the 5,000 miles of dirt roads that serve as connecting links to form the National Park to Park Highway. The convention will last three days.

Stephen T. Mather, director of the National Park Service officials of the American Automobile Association, the Rotarians, Optimists and other western organizations, are participating. The National Park to Park Highway Association will be put on a permanent organization basis, and state and local branches formed in 12 states 100 cities of the west.

Congress will be memorialized to make this a federal highway, roughly enclosing nine western states, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, California, Arizona, and New Mexico and connecting 11 National parks.

Representatives of the governors of these states, as well as Utah, Nevada and Texas, are attending the conference, which marks the close of the official tour depicting this American motor way, with the start and finish in Denver. The trip required 76 days, noon and night meetings being held (Continued on page eight.)

Say Cooking Art Is Rapidly Passing Away From Paris

Pessimists Declare That No More Old Time Way of Cooking To Be Found

Paris, Nov. 11.—The art of cooking in France and the excellence of the pastries are passing, say some pessimists.

Apprentices, said speakers at the recent convention of pastry makers, can no longer be found and the art of pastry making is dead or will soon be. This is said also to be the case with cooks. Those who worked for years step by step to the rank of chef are reported extinct. Brilliant Savarin, whose Physiology of Taste a century ago, put cookery on the plane of an art and whose descriptions were almost as satisfying as the food itself, did not foresee the war with its social and economic changes.

Travelers from other countries may not all agree that France's reputed supremacy in the kitchen is in danger but disconsolate makers of cakes and sauces seem convinced that even when the days of gray bread and yellow fat, stringy, frozen meat are over there will not be a real revival of the "lost art of the pot and pan."

Vienna, Nov. 11.—Cultivators of the garden plot allotments on government land near this city are agitating to secure title to their holdings. There are about 60,000 of these plots, each of about 500 square feet on the slopes of the Great Vienna forest and the cultivators have organized to get title and permission to build huts.

While expressing its sympathy with them the government officials replied to a great demonstration held the other day that they were opening up the whole question of the land expropriation, a delicate issue between the two dominant parties, and one on which the demonstrators themselves are divided when it comes to applying it to private estates.

Seamen Planning To Take Ballots On New Members

Federation of Workers Would Determine Desirability of Affiliating Four Unions

THREE UNIONS TAKING BALLOT FOR OR AGAINST SEPARATE AMALGAMATION

The Single Transport Workers Union Would Include Dockers and Canal Workers

London, Nov. 11.—A ballot will be taken within the next few weeks to decide whether all the workers who are affiliated with the transport Workers Federation, except the seaman, shall be drawn together in one big union.

The three unions of seamen are taking a ballot for or against a separate amalgamation. Leaders of the federation have told the Daily Mail that the scheme for a single union will be adopted sooner or later.

When this comes about the new rank with the National Union of Railwaymen and for the first time the Triple Alliance (miners, railway men and transport workers) will consist of three solidly organized bodies each with a central executive possessing full authority, subject to the decisions of the national delegate conferences to act on behalf of the whole organization.

The newspaper points out that it does not follow that the suggested consolidation of power would increase the danger of a combined strike which would hold up all the vital services of the country. If a great industrial crisis affecting the whole Alliance did reach a final stage of deadlock, a joint stoppage would undoubtedly be facilitated. On the other hand experience of the working of the Alliance in the few years of its existence has shown that the greater the power wielded the greater in the sense of responsibility created on both sides engaged in a dispute, says the paper.

Jews Emigrating Toward Palestine In Great Numbers

Central And Eastern Europe Trying Hard to Conform With Regular Regulations

Vienna, Nov. 11.—Emigration of Jews to Palestine is increasing rapidly in Central and Eastern Europe, and the new Palestine immigration regulations would allow of a controlled immigration of 17,000 Zionist organization interview.

Mr. Landmann who is now in Vienna on a special mission in connection with Jewish emigrants to Palestine, said the selection of emigrants is being made by the Zionist Organization which has established Palestine offices in the important Jewish centers. Preference is given to young people, strong in body and determined in spirit, who have had actual experience in agriculture or other manual work and know Hebrew.

Several thousands of such pioneers known by the Hebrew name of Chaitam have already left and others are waiting in the large centers until proper arrangements for their transport can be made and until new openings for employment in Palestine are reported.

One of the features of the pioneers movement is that it includes a fair proportion of girls of well to do families who have decided to devote their lives to the new Palestine. They act as land girls and take care of the domestic arrangements in the Jewish colonies.

City of Warsaw Mourns Death of Poland's Heroine

Funeral of Sergeant Sophie Plockweitz Draws Hundreds of Interested People

Warsaw, Nov. 11.—All Warsaw turned for the funeral the other day of Sergeant Sophie Plockowicz, a member of Poland's Women Battalion, who was called here "the heroine of Plock". She died from wounds inflicted with a Russian sword and the "Nabaja" or Cossack's whip which she received at Plock during the drive against Warsaw. As a final tribute the American nurses who attended her in the hospital and the entire personnel of the American Red Cross in Warsaw went to her funeral.

All Warsaw knew her story and there were many moist eyes that gazed at the plain white painted pine board coffin containing the girl-soldier as it was borne through the streets on the shoulders of her fighting comrades, all girls from the Women's Battalion.

Sergeant Sophie was a veteran of Poland's great war, which in the mind of most Poles began when the world war ended in November, 1918. She was 22 years of age and was one of the original members of the Women's Battalion which was formed late in 1918 for the purpose of defending Lemberg against the Ukrainians. She was wounded three times, first at Lemberg again at Vilna and last while leading her company against the Russians at Plock.

She typified the spirit of Poland today. There are 600 like her in the Women's Battalion. Officers in the army from Pilsudski down admit that the mere existence of this battalion exercised a wonderful effect upon the popular imagination, upon recruiting and even upon the soldiers in the recent heavy fighting.

The age limits for privates in the battalion are 17 and 33. Most of the women who have joined are of humble origin, and come from semi-stagnant industrial centers such as Lodz. The economic problem has had something to do with their continued existence as soldiers but they have shown great enthusiasm and bravery. They have had many casualties.

Cyclone Mack Is Still Attracting Big Crowds Daily

McLendon's Meeting Patronized In Usual Way By Hundreds of People of Country

LAST NIGHT'S SERVICES OF UNUSUAL INTEREST IN EVERY PATHWAY OF LIFE

Mack Touches up Preachers Who Do Nothing More Than Set people to Think Seriously

Baxter McLendon the evangelist is making a record in Greenville that is unparalleled. Never before have so many people gathered under the roof as have assembled at the tent since his meeting began. More than 3000 people have been present every night and with favorable weather conditions the attendance will increase from now on. For weeks prior to his coming to this city the people have been reading about his wonderful meetings in other places especially his last meeting at Raleigh, where nearly 600 members were added to the churches as a result of the meeting. Many of these were among the best people of the community. Men of Education and ability who have been giving their lives to observing the devil, were wonderfully converted and consecrated their talents to God and his church. Young men just launching out in life and old men going down the evening side of life, confessed their sins and lined up with the church for God and the right.

What the evangelist did in other places will doubtless be done in this city, for Greenville people are for the most a God fearing people and whenever duty is placed before them clearly and forcefully, they always respond. Of course it will not be McLendon and his helpers who will bring about these results, except as co-partners with the powers of heaven and the Christians of earth. Often the preacher does no more than set the people to thinking and then to action. Even people who do not admire his language and methods will take a positive stand for God before the meeting closes.

Fourteen years ago McLendon was a man of the world, well schooled in the ways of sin but God laid hold upon him, changed his heart, fired his soul filled his mouth and sent him forth to fight sin and the devil and bring on the saving power of Jesus. Naturally he is unlike the preacher, reared amid Christian surroundings and shielded from the evils of the world. Many of his expressions have been unconsciously brought over from his old life. They are a part of the man and to many they add attractiveness to his preaching. One thing certain McLendon knows what a damnable thing sin is—he knows it from experience and because he knows it he hates the devil as perhaps few men hate him and wherever he goes he puts Mr. Devil on the run.

Whatever people may think about the evangelist at first, they soon come to admire him and few evangelists of the present day have so large a personal following.

In all the towns where he preaches, scores of people attach themselves to him. So deeply does he stir them and so mightily does he grip them they travel for miles to hear him again. They like him because he is different; because he is so honest and so intensely earnest. They see him wearing out his life by this terrific preaching and pleading. They see that it is not of himself but of them and of Christ he is thinking that he puts a low value upon his own life compared to the value of human souls. In his preaching he is passionate at times cyclonic; it is almost impossible to resist him.

The evangelist said last night in part: "I have not come here to preach to you people of a dead Jew in the tomb of Joseph of Arimathea, but a living reigning Christ, that they couldn't sweep in the dirt. A Christ that sits at the right hand of God tonight that can save to the uttermost from whence he will come to judge the living."

RED CROSS PLAYS SPLENDID PART IN WORLD ACTIVITIES

Summary of Organization Shows There
Are 3,502 Chapters Active In Entire World
FIFTY—SEVEN CHAPTERS
DOING WONDERFUL WORK
IN MANY FOREIGN LANDS

Washington, Nov. 11.—There are today 3,502 American Red Cross chapters, 3,502 of which are in this country and 57 in foreign territory and American possessions outside continental United States, according to a summary of localized Red Cross work just compiled at National Headquarters. In American territory overseas the Canal Zone, Guam, Hawaii, Philippine Islands, Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands there are eight Red Cross chapters; in foreign territory Asia, Central and South America and Europe there are forty nine.

A summary provides the first complete picture of the home town projects of service which are the concern of Red Cross chapters.

In performance of the duties undertaken during the war in behalf of service men and their families, 2,521 chapters are still engaged in completing some for the war job, such as ministering to men in the army and navy and Public Health Hospitals and aiding the disabled men who are receiving vocational training. Home service for the families of these men did not cease with the signing of the armistice but has been continued and extended to civilian families as well, and is now being undertaken by 629 chapters while 273 others have applied for authority to carry such work on a part time basis.

The Health Service, a new project of the Red Cross, has already effected the establishment of Health Centers in 126 chapters while in 429 other chapters various other forms of health activities are being undertaken. Classes in First Aid form a part of the programs of 290 chapters; instruction in Life-saving is given seventy five chapters. Health information Service is conducted by seventy five chapters, 118 have a general information and 219 a combined general and health information service.

Recognizing the value of the work of the public health nurse in disease preventive work, 713 Red Cross chapters are today employing 950 public health nurses. Under the direction of nursing Service classes in home hygiene and care of sick are held in 1,006 chapters and instruction in Nutrition

TO COMMEMORATE BIG SCULLING RACE IN PENNSYLVANIA

Vesper Boat Club to Commemorate Notable Victory Won By John B. Kelly With Scull

Philadelphia, Nov. 10.—Local oarsmen have taken the initiative to hold a world's sculling title race yearly to commemorate the recent victory of John B. Kelly of the Vesper Boat Club in single sculls at the Olympics.

A petition has been addressed by the Schuylkill navy, an organization of local rowing clubs to those interested in amateur rowing as follows:

"The recent victory of John B. Kelly we believe, is the only victory ever recorded that may be truly be considered as representing the world's championship in amateur single sculls.

"Heretofore, the winning of the diamond sculls at the Henley has carried with it the nearest approach to such a title, but due to the fact any sculler, no matter how valid his personal qualifications, may have his entry refused by the Henley stewards this event may well be considered as a closed local or at least an invitation event.

ayntahcolonel, 911ttj- aroid harodni an

"In his recent victories John B. Kelly defeated not only the recent winner of the diamond sculls, but the pick of all the amateur single scullers from all nations of the world.

"Now, therefore that this victory may be commemorated for all time that lacking for clean amateur scullers from all parts of the world to compete for this noble title, it is proposed to present a gold cup to be known as the Philadelphia Challenge Cup, for the World's Championship Amateur Single Sculls, this cup to pass from one champion to the next under terms to be set forth in a deed of gift to be drawn up by the committee appointed by the committee of the Schuylkill Navy and executed by that committee representing the individual subscribers, c

Dear Old Boy Pete:

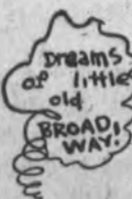

Dallas, Texas, Sunday.

This corner of the U.S. mainland is so wonderful in its bigness and bustle I guess I go mouth wide open and eyes staring! Why, Pete, Texans don't talk in miles—it doesn't mean anything! They'll tell you that this place, or that, is an all day trip, or two days and a night distant, etc! And, old yardstick, you've got the feet, just let it sink in deep that Texas is not only over 800 miles wide but it is our fifth state in population!

Heard a bird in the Adolphus hotel say that when he comes off the west border he figures he's close home to Baltimore when he's across the Lone Star state! Say, try that jump between Texarkana and El Paso! Some jaunt!

Pete, everything grows big down here—business as well as folks' hearts! I like the way they never forget! Here I was walking on Main Street yesterday when a fine a type of man as ever wore one of those broad Texas smiles came up to me. "How are you, lieutenant," says he. "maybe you'll call back that day at Camp Dick when I brought over a bunch of Camels for the boys," he continued. Right there a camel conference started!

Golly, Pete, this party coins camel compliments faster than the mint makes money! "Lieutenant," says he, "I know when I'm set! I've smoked Cigarettes for five years! (Now LISTEN, PETER!) I know Camels and I know their marvellous mild, mellow body and refreshing flavor and wonderful Turkish and Domestic blend! A million Camels wouldn't tire a smoker's taste!" Pete, that's some testifying!

Between you and me, I'll be gazing at tall buildings and things around 43rd & Broadway—New York—about the hour this note hits Boston's Back Bay! Write me at the same old stand!

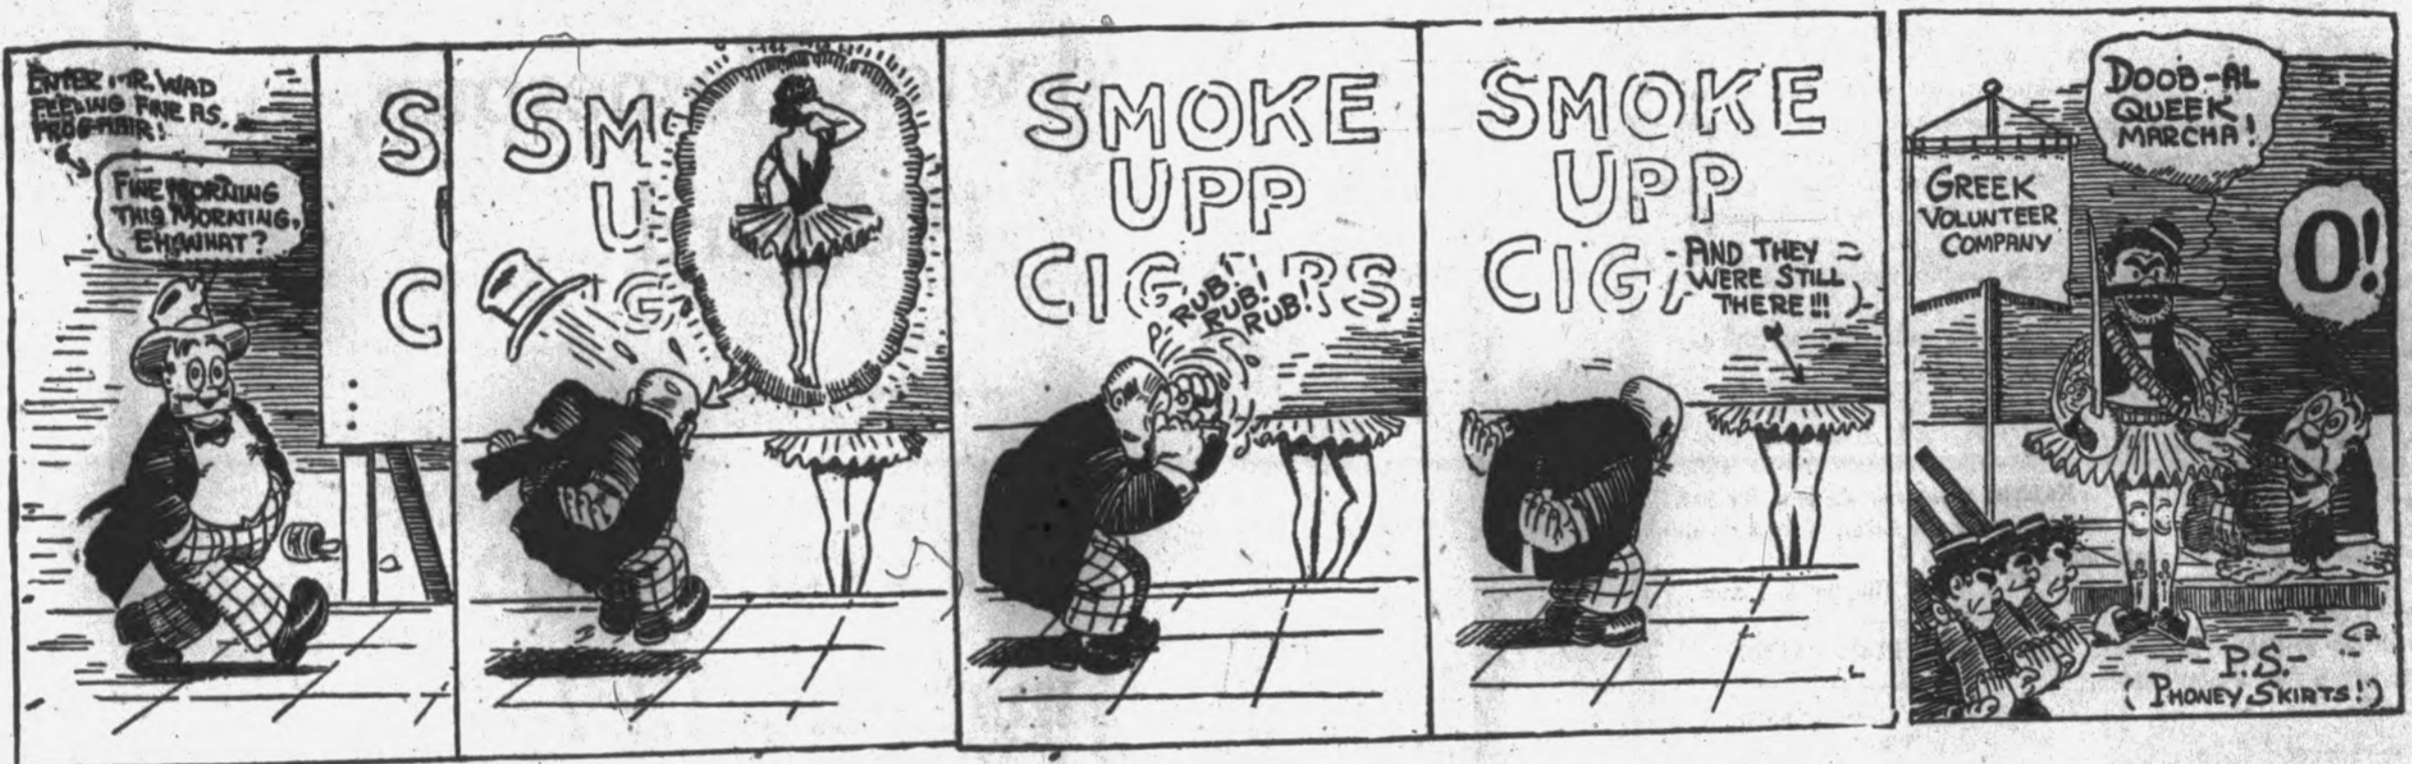

Sincerely
Shorty.

PRESIDENT CANCELS LICENSE ON SUGAR

Press dispatches from Washington report that President Wilson on Nov. 4 issued through Acting Secretary of State Norman H. Davis a proclamation cancelling licenses on the distribution and manufacture of sugar and its by-products. The regulation issued under the license system were also withdrawn by the President.

He said that this action was taken because of the changed situation in the war with Germany growing out of the armistice and also because of the approaching expiration of his authority under the law.

The proclamation issued at the State Department is dated November 4, but it was signed by the President on Oct. 30. It relinquishes Federal control of the sugar industry under the law passed on August 10, 1917.

Whereas, a changed situation has been brought about by present armistice in the war between the United States and Germany says the proclamation, and by the approaching expiration of the powers granted to the President by an act of Congress entitled an act to provide for the national welfare by continuing the United States Sugar Equalization Board until Dec. 31, 1920, and for other purposes approved by the President on the 31st day of December, 1919.

"Now therefore, I Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, by virtue of the powers conferred upon me by said act of Congress hereby find and determine and by this proclamation to announce that it is no longer essential in order to carry into effect the purpose of the act that the importation, manufacture, storing, or distribution of certain necessities be subject to license, to the extent here in after specified.

Licenses heretofore required for the importation, manufacture, storage or distribution of sugar, or any product or by-product are hereby canceled, effective November, 15 with respect to the following:

"All persons firms corporations or associations engaged in the business of importing manufacturing, storing or distributing sugar, or any product or by-product of the foregoing named necessities.

Regulations issued under the said act covering licenses so dealing in these commodities are hereby canceled effective November, 15, 1920.

FRANCE

Paris correspondents advise under date of October 22 that the dry conditions which prevails throughout the beet region of France for several months were terminated on Last Sunday by generous rains which continued for several days. The hard condition of the soil, which has been complained of continually ever since the opening of the campaign, as interfering seriously with the beet pulling has been relieved by these rains and pleasant weather which has since prevailed has permitted beet pulling to be renewed under the most favorable conditions. While reports regarding the beet yields are as usual contradictory there is general agreement that the roots are exceptionally rich in sugar with few impurities so that the factories are securing good results.

The market was a little firmer early in the week of October, 22. Later renewed offering from the factories and intermediaries who wished to limit their losses appeared and the advanced was lost. At the close of the market was firmer on account of the new buying to satisfy immediate needs previously covered by purchases of white domestic sugars which have failed to arrive due to the tardiness of certain factories in getting under way.

On the whole consumption is very light, especially by manufacturers candy makers are offering their customers small lots of American granulated for prompt shipment from the warehouses in Paris at 340 francs per 100 kilos, including taxes (0.90c per lb. at current exchanges).

A writer in Le Temps says the Journal des Fabricants, estimates the consumption of sugar in France for twelve months ending October 1, 1921 at 75,000 tons maximum, as compared with the 850,000 tons during the current year. The writer believes that the current domestic crop will be about 275,000 tons and that 75,000 tons can be imported from the French colonies. At the opening of the year on October 1, 1920 the visible stocks are estimated at 70,000 tons and the invisible stocks at 100,000 tons. He believes that this supply equals probable requirements up to the end of March, 1921. They total 520,000 tons including 100,000 tons for Morocco, Algeria and other countries.

CLEAN UP YOUR LOTS ADVICE OF THE HEALTH OFFICE

The vacant lot, when covered with weeds, tin cans, old newspapers and junk of all kinds, as many lots are in Greenville is a menace and disgrace to the town. In addition to the above named conditions, many back lots are covered with old worn out buggies, wagons, automobiles, and empty goods boxes. Ninety percent of the vacant lots in Greenville are in some manner or another a disgrace to the town.

Have you forgotten that the unattractive lot belongs to you, or is it that you do not take pride enough in your home town to help to make it an attractive place in which to live? Make an inventory of your property in Greenville and see if one of these lots don't belong to you.

Many out of town people visiting Greenville go away and criticize our good town because they see so many eye-sore places caused by nothing more or less than the fact already mentioned. Have you one time stopped to think that the ugly unattractive appearance of your vacant lot is charged up against the whole town. Again an unattractive vacant lot is a detriment to all neighboring property. Property owner in neighborhoods where such condition exist are penny wise and pound foolish when they do not put an end to this sad state of affairs. It costs you real money when you want to sell your property, as well as the reputation of Greenville.

So there is work for every body to do

It will be good for what ails you. A little touch here and a big touch there will transform that disgraceful lot into a beautiful one. Get busy and clean up that vacant lot.

Cyclone Mack Drawing Crowds

We should realize that the hour is come, that the crisis is here. I believe that you are in a crisis here in Greenville today, such as you have never seen in all your lives. I believe that God will manifest himself in this town and the crowd will be swept in to the Kingdom. If right and decency and truth triumph, there will be such a God sent, heaven borne regeneration time as you have never seen, but if hell and the devil triumph, this will be a good town to get out of. God pity that bunch that looks on the churches as an end instead of the means to the end. The churches are not dropped down on the corners to entertain people. They are not mutual congratulatory societies, and social endeavors. God Almighty never intended his church to be a third rate amusement bureau. You are not in the church to keep a little space seventeen inches square warm; you are in the church to battle for Jesus Christ and if you are not doing that, you are a curse instead of a blessing.

Here the evangelist told about his experience as a pastor, about an old money-bag that did not claim to have religion and no one accused him of having it but he insisted on running things, and believed strictly in the minority rule. He wanted the preacher to walk as he said walk, talk as he said talk. He insisted on raising all the tunes and his voice was a cross between a cane mill and a goose cackling a fiddle playing and a jack-ass braying.

"As long as I preached 'Little William gone to heaven, moonshine on your mother's grave, and tell aunt drsbeL ase shrddrdrdrdrdrdrdrdrdrdr Maria I'll be there, I was a great preacher to that mildewed bunch but when I preached the plain Bible truths they broke the speed limit to the presiding elder. I dont believe in beating the air. I'll tell you we preachers have got to get down to business and specify every sin and sinner. Three fourths of the preaching does not evict one motion for good, or bring one shadow of condemnation. The trouble with much of the preaching today is that it is too nice, too pretty, too dainty and it does not kill.

You've got to shell the woods for God and give the devil the best run for his money he ever hear of. My hearts cry tonight is back to the Bible. It finds an echo in my heart and I cry "Yess Lord back to the Bible, back to the upernaturally away with the sickly, sentimental trash that we see all about us these days, back from this high toned kid gloved devil concocted today; back from these darning starch withering wordly embellishments and human reasoning that has been instituted in place of the Holy Ghost, and let us have that old time ear unstopping limb straightening jaw unlocking tounge untying tounge emptying power. Let us have the supernatural that glorifies God. A power that empties the sepulches, breaks the chain takes off the fetters and let the captives go free. A power that will give us an old time revival and that will make the liar a truthful man and the drunkard a sober man and the debauch a clean man.

"I plead for an old time God-sent heaven borne revival that makes the loosetongued, lantern jawed gossip shut her mouth.
