

U. S. LABOR BOARD CONDUCTS HEARING FOR INCREASED PAY

Chicago State Board Hears Complaints of Railroad Presidents For Short Lines... TRIALS OF FRAUDS BROUGHT OUT IN MANY COMPLAINTS OF FILES... Freight Outlook for Short Lines Explained as Particular Bad Every Where

Chicago, Nov. 16.—The trials of railroad presidents who preside over the destinies of the country's short lines are coming to light in the hearing being held here by more than 100 short lines whose employes have petitioned the United States Railway Labor Board for increased pay.

One Texas road, built primarily to open a short route to some mineral deposit bed, has to date the champion hard luck tale, according to W. G. W. Hanger, member of the board. The president of the lines explained he owned 41 miles of tract between two terminal cities. His fast passenger train covered the distance in two hours.

But between the two cities is a hard surfaced highway, and enterprising owners have opened a bus line. The highway, on a direct route, is little more than twenty miles long, compared to the railroad's 41. The auto bus covers the distance in 40 minutes, one hour and twenty minutes faster than the train. And charge the same fare.

The freight outlook he described as equally bad. A company operating motor trucks with two trailers to the truck hauls freight over the highway faster than the road can by train, delivers the goods at the merchants store door and charges the same tariff as the railroad. And on top of his motor troubles it is now estimated that the mineral deposits which furnish the main remaining source of revenue will be exhausted within three hours.

The president of an Alabama short line whose principal source of revenue shuffling ore to Birmingham furnace apparatus to defend the company against six employes, all station agents, who had requested more money. Their present income is $95 a month.

The railroad president exhibited a personal knowledge of the affairs of each of his employes. One of the station agents he said, owned a country store a few rods from the railroad station and had run his telegraph wire into the store so he could handle his duties as dispatcher and operator while waiting for customers. A second was described as the wife of a prosperous farmer. She had her telegraph line in the farm kitchen, the president said. Of the six operators only one was located in town, and that was a village of 500 population. The president said his road paid no dividends and operated at a loss of $100,000 last year.

SEND OUT NOTICES THAT PROHIBITION WILL HOLD 2 YEARS

Chairman of Prohibition in Illinois Guarantees Enforcement of Law in State

Chicago, Nov. 16.—Notices that prohibition will continue in operation for the next two years at least for the purpose of guaranteeing a continuation of a bone dry congress two years hence, is given by Virgil G. Hinshaw, chairman of the Prohibition national committee here at national headquarters. We have a missing still, Mr. Hinshaw said, if any one of the major temperance organizations were to stop now it would give a chance to the wet to come back and possibly pass a beer and wine amendment to the Volstead law.

LAWSON CONCERT GREATLY ENJOYED BY LOCAL PEOPLE

Performances of Kasper Lawson Heard By Splendid Audience at The Training School "SONG FROM INDIA" WAS PROBABLY MOST ENJOYED PART OF EVENING SONGS

The concert at the Training School last night given by the soprano singer, Francesca Kasper Lawson, was exceedingly enjoyable, both musicians and to the general public, from the first of the classical airs to the final number an aria from "Romeo and Juliette". The singer has a voice of sweetness and flexibility, and she took her high notes well. She is a woman of charming personality and has pleasing stage manner. Her description of the songs and her comments on the music and the composers aided the public in their appreciation of the songs.

Perhaps the favorite number of the program was "Song from India" which she sang with a richness and with resonance that brought out the strange beauty of the Russian music. The Norwegian Echo Song as was sung by Jenny Lind, was lovely and the singer managed the echoes wonderfully well, bringing out the lights and shades beautifully. The French song, "Twilight", by Massenet, was the favorite of some in the audience. "The Lark now Leaves His Waternest" was the most brilliant among the American songs. The Negro Melodies took well with the audience, and she was recalled time and again after singing these. She played her own accompaniments for these.

Miss Lois Gorrell, of the piano department of The Training School played the accompaniments. The sympathetic playing, as she followed the mood of each song and of the singers aided greatly in the interpretation.

The public is indebted to the Training School for a delightful evening of song.

CLAREMONT MINE INCREASING DAILY COAL PRODUCTIONS

Mine Owned By North Dakota Down After Business In Interesting Kind of Way

Lemmon, S. D., Nov. 16.—The Claremont coal mine owned by the state of South Dakota, is now shipping two hundred tons daily. The produce is of the quality known as blue lignite.

The Claremont mine was purchased last summer to insure state institution against shortage of coal. Fuel is furnished to the state normal school at Spearfish, the penitentiary at Sioux Falls, the school for blind at Gary, the school for deaf at Sioux Falls, the soldiers home at Hot Springs, and other state institutions.

Individuals may purchase coal at the mine.

The mine is located at Hayne's N. D. Just over the line from Lemmon. The original owners began the grading for a spur railroad from the mine to Lemmon. The state of South Dakota now building this railroad. It is estimated that when the line is finished the mine output can be tripled.

Cyclone McLendon In Splendid Sermon To Large Audience On Last Friday Afternoon, At Tent

The following sermon was preached by Mr. McLendon last Friday afternoon:

Mr. McLendon said in part: I want you to note the harmony of these beautiful Christian experience. Read verily and see the multitude, He went up into the mountain; and when he was set, His disciples came unto Him. Just one thought I want you to note in reading this verse. That the attitude of the Saviour thought in the presence of that great multitude was most informal. Jesus was the most unceremonious and unworshipful. People the ventional preacher thea tever lived. Jesus was always springing some innovation on those old mildewed scribes and Pharisees.

There are two classes in the church today. The ruts and the Anti-ruts I guess the most numerous class is the latter. The fellow who is scared to death if you mention an invocation. This stricken, and that there was no one was the bunch that Jesus was always getting in behind. He never sought to appear dignified. In this the minister upon God's mercy. This is what I call must stand perpendicular, place his right foot forward and throw his shoulders back and look dignified. Multitudes judge a minister by his appearance in this regard. We have known ministers to look dignified until good people were mortified, no one seemed to be edified; God was not glorified and friends became horrified.

Although in the presence of that multitude the Saviour was seated on hillside, and delivered the greatest discourse that ever fell on mortal ears. We have had our logical Finneys, and eloquent Talmadges and pleading Moodys Wesleyes and witty Jones and reasoning Whitfields, but the greatest sermon that ever fell on mortal ears was preached by Jesus as he sat on the side of the mountain.

The book says, he opened his mouth and taught them saying, "You will not that although in the presence of that vast multitude He addressed himself to the disciples. All His sermons as this entire book, were addressed to the people of God and to the church. Which is said to the sinner is rather incidental. The divine method of saving the world is through and by the churches. Judgment must begin at the house of God. When Zion travels sons and daughters will be born. If we could get the church out of her negative, non committal, half-hearted indifferent luke warm state, and get her fired and filled with the Holy Ghost it would be easy to sweep the city for God. You have to turn Yerkes telescope on the average church member to see if any difference between him and the outsider. It is hard to reach the world when church members are walking like the world and talking like the world and getting their pleasures where the world gets its pleasures. It is not more new members we need, but the old bunch stewed over.

The third verse says, Blessed are the poor in spirit; for theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven. Why did Jesus address the poor in spirit first? Why did he not say, blessed are they that hunger and thirst? I think the answer lies in the fact that this poverty of spirit is the first step toward the Kingdom. Being poor in spirit has no reference to melancholia and being dispirited and dejected. Being poor in spirit is the opposite of the mountain; and when he was set, His disciples came unto Him. Just as good as you are, I am good enough. It has no reference to being down in the mouth or long faced. It is a soul awakened to see its real inwardness, its lost condition and utter helplessness and unworthiness. People the greatest barrier between saving men to day is the self sufficiency. Most men if not all of us have held to exalted opinion of our selves. We had so many splendid traits of character, so many virtues commedable qualities so many virtues and good works until we scarcely realize that we were hoboes and poverty if you mention an invocation. This stricken, and that there was no one was the bunch that Jesus was always getting in behind. He never sought to appear dignified. In this the minister upon God's mercy. This is what I call must stand perpendicular, place his right foot forward and throw his shoulders back and look dignified. Multitudes judge a minister by his appearance in this regard. We have known ministers to look dignified until good people were mortified, no one seemed to be edified; God was not glorified and friends became horrified.

When men come to feel that they are lost, and wholly depending on the mercy of God there is hope and not until then. Men who believe themselves to be in the enjoyment of perfect health can see no need of calling a physician or taking medicine. Rejoice when I meet men who think they are too great minners to be saved. I like to recommend them to a Christ that they could not keep in the dirt. Have a Christ that gives every man outside of hell a chance no matter how bad he is.

We started across an immense paved court to the royal entrance. There was a fanfare of trumpets and two bodies of house hold troops stood at attention. The royal colors were displayed with uncovered heads we passed on to the stone staircase which for the occasion was laid with a heavy red plush carpeting. Along each side were stationed guards of ancient looking halberds.

We were ushered into a large rotunda. Our hats were left on a table. Then we turned to the right mounted a few more stairs and come into another long room with lofty windows along one side. Between the windows were niches in which stood knights in armor (without the knights of course). Along the other side of this long room or passage there was a row of beautiful marble pillars and beyond them a large room. At the end of the corridor stood nine chamberlains, rather guest nobles, resplendent in rich dress and ablaze with orders on their breasts:

Suddenly folding doors opened as if by unseen hands and I walked into the presence of the only despotic monarch left in this world. And as if befitting the reputation of an envoy from the greatest republic on earth, he was dressed very simple in a long frock coat.

The Prince D, who is at the head of the foreign office, presented me and retired to the rear of the room while I read to the King as etiquette requires, my brief speech and he replied in Siamese in like manner.

When this ceremony was done he smiled and we sat down and had our little talk, for the King, you should know, spoke perfect english. He is short of stature like all Siamese is quite plump, and impresses one as being a real chap.

PAGEANT ATTENDS INTRODUCTION TO THE KING OF SIAM

United States Minister Writes of Occurrences in the Royal Palace

In That District Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 16.—A colorful pageant attends the presentation of a foreign diplomat to the King of Siam. According to a letter received here from G. W. P. NIGHT RIDING GETS SEVERE SETBACK IN ARKANSAS SECTION

Wave of Lawlessness Strongly Condemned By Members of American Cotton Organ

REPRESENTATIVES SAY COMMUNITY IS GIVEN "BLACK EYE" BY RAIDS Mass Meetings In A Number of Sections Discourage Movement to Great Extent

Little Rock, Ark. Nov. 16.—Responsible sentiment in this state is running strongly against night riding which has been undertaken in this and cotton growing states to prevent the ginning and marketing of cotton at the present low price. Representative planters, bankers and business men feel strongly that this lawlessness is giving the south a "black eye."

At a recent meeting of the Arkansas division of the American Cotton Association here night riding was condemned as an act of gross ignorance. Governor Brough has taken a vigorous stand against night riding and he has had further support among others from Claude Fitzpatrick, president of the Arkansas Bankers Association. All the forces of the state and local governments in Arkansas are now co-operating to prevent further lawlessness in the cotton centers.

This counter movement is believed to be doing much to stop the activities of night riders. Mass meetings have been held in many towns and the cooperation of the citizens has been preferred officers in maintaining order.

Acts of violence for which night riders have been given credit in Arkansas has taken various forms. In addition to the burning of gins, warehouses and other property, farmers who attempted to market their cotton.

have been threatened with death or severe punishment, and in some cases have been badly maltreated. Negro families have been intimidated and driven from their homes because they sought employment or worked as cotton pickers. Hundreds of cotton gins in various sections of the state have been posted with warnings against continuing to buy and gin cotton, the threatened penalties for not heeding the warning including destruction of the plants and forfeiture of the lives of the owners.

In one county eight men now are waiting action of the grand jury on a charge of setting fire to a ginery and in another section of the state three white farmers have been sentenced to a years imprisonment and assessed heavy fines for intimidation of negro cotton pickers.

TO ASK CONGRESS FOR PROTECTION OF NATIONAL FORESTS

Bill Will be Introduced at December Session Asking Better Program Against Fires

COOPERATION BETWEEN GOVERNMENT STATE AND OWNER TO BE OUTLINED

Provisions will Also be Made for Production and Requirements of Entire Territory

Washington, Nov. 15.—When Congress convenes in December a bill will be introduced for a national forest program including better fire protection for the forests. "This step, following an agreement by all the industries interested, marks the first united move in this direction in this country," says Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry Association, which announces the outline of features to be embodied in the proposed legislation. The plan calls for national appropriations of at least $11,000,000 a year.

The provisions of the proposed measure are two-fold—for a considerable extension of direct federal activity in forest ownership and production, and for the development with federal aid and encouragement of systematic policies in the several forested states to bring about adequate forest production and reproduction.

The program provides specifically, through cooperation between the government, the states and owners of timberlands, for adequate protection against forest fires, for reforestation of denuded lands, for obtaining essential information in regard to timber and timberlands, for extension of the National forests and for other steps essential to continue forest production on lands chiefly suitable for this purpose. The following legislation is proposed.

Authorizing the Secretary of Agriculture, after consulting appropriate local agencies, to approve and adequate policy for each state, covering fire protection, reforestation, cutting and removing of timber crops. Not less than $1,000,000 annually available for such cooperation with states.

A survey of forest resources, forest production and forest requirements of the nation.

Provision for study of forest taxation to assist states in devising tax law which will encourage the conservation and growing of timber, also of method of insuring against forest losses by fire.

UNUSUAL TYPE OF LIFE SAVING BOAT ADOPTED BY DUTCH

Sailors Along Stormy Coast to Use Boat that Operates by Sucking Water in and Out

Hook of Holland, Nov. 15.—An unusual type of life boat which operates by sucking water up from the ocean and blowing back again, and so obtaining a speed of nine miles an hour, has been adopted in stormy waters along the Dutch coast here.

The boat has a hole in the bottom, through which the water is drawn by an intake pipe which leads to a powerful centrifugal pump operated by a 140 horse power steam engine. The water is then forced backward into the sea through two outlet pipes opening at the bottom of the craft.

The boat is controlled by shutting off either wholly or in part, one or the other of those outlet pipes. If one end shut off it goes to starboard, if the other is it goes to port. If both are shut off, and the water diverted harmlessly over the sides while the suction goes on at the intake, it is claimed the boat rests almost still in the stormiest of seas, the suction holding it firmly on the water.

BIG GROWTH IN TRADE

Trade of the United States with its non-contiguous territories will make a new high record in the calendar year 1920. In fact, says a statement by the National City Bank of New York, the trade with our noncontiguous territories in the eight months ending with August on the current year was greater than in complete calendar year preceding. This term includes, of course the Philippines Islands, the Hawaiian Islands, Alaska, Porto Rico, the total trade with noncontiguous territory in the eight months ending August 1920 was $806,000,000 against $533,000,000 in the full calendar year 1919, and $230,000,000 in the full calendar year immediately preceding the war, 1913. In the single month of August, 1920, the latest for which we have figures, the total was $110,000,000 against $50,000,000 in August of the preceding year, an while it is scarcely probable that this monthly record will continue during the remaining four months of the year it is quite apparent that the trade with the territories in question will in the full calendar year 1920 exceed $800,000,000 against $533,000,000 in the full calendar year 1919.

Sugar, coconut oil, and the copra from which it is produced, fruits coffee, fish hemp, tobacco, copper, and furs are principal articles forming the $390,000,000 worth of imports from the non contiguous territories, and manufactures and foodstuffs the chief exports thereto. From the Philippines we have drawn in the eight months of 1920 for which figures are available $75,000,000 worth of merchandise, including $14,000,000 worth of manila hemp, nearly $20,000,000 worth of coconut oil, $7,000,000 worth of cigars and cigarettes and $28,000,000 worth of sugar against $8,000,000 worth of sugar imported in the corresponding month of 1919. From the Hawaiian Islands the principal imports in the eight months of 1920 are $131,000,000, worth of sugar against $64,000,000 worth in the same month of the preceding year, and over $10,000,000 worth of canned pineapples against $5,000,000 worth in the same months of the preceding year. From Porto Rico the chief imports are sugar $113,000,000 against $43,000,000 in the same months of last year, 2 1-2 million dollars worth of fruits and nuts against 1 3-4 million dollars in the same month of last year, and $20,000,000 worth of tobacco and cigars, against less than $8,000,000 worth in the same months of last year. From Alaska the chief imports are canned salmon 9 1-2 million dollar worth against 8 1-3 million dollars worth in the corresponding month of 1919, copper 9 1-2 million dollars worth against 5 1-3 million dollars worth in the same months of last year, and furs 3,000,000 worth against 1 1-4 million dollars in the corresponding months of last year.

MRS. W. T. LIPSCOMB, JR. ENTERTAINS BRIDGE CLUB
Announces engagement of Miss Nelle White to Mr. W. W. Lee

Mrs. Will Lipscomb Jr. was hostess to the Young Matron's Club Monday afternoon at three o'clock.
Mrs. J. P. Minugh of New York was an honored guest and a table of rook was included in the afternoon game.
Six tables were placed in the living room and hall, and after several progressions were enjoyed, the hostess gave her guests a great surprise by announcing the engagement of Miss Nell'e White to Mr. William Westfall Lee, the wedding to occur in January.
A tempting salad course was served hot coffee and biscuits, and heart shaped sandwiches bore beautifully tinted cards of a bride and groom. These brought forth a burst of joyous exclamations, and the guests simultaneously joined in the chorus from Lohengrin cheerin gthe bride to-be.

Mrs. Lipscomb then asked her guests to join her in toasting dear Nelle, to wish that the grand old wedding bell might ring her wealth, health, happiness, everything fine, bliss joy and for ever Love Divine.
Each one happily responded with their good wishes, and pink rose petals cases filled with rice were passed and showered upon the bride elect.

An exquisite corsage of pink roses was presented to Miss White, a gift from the groom. Mrs. Lipscomb presented her with a lovely piece of lingerie, and Mrs. Minugh with two hand made linen handkerchiefs.

The Club prize for highest score fell to Mrs. J. E. Gorman and Lawrence Carr.

This announcement is received with unusual interest, as Miss White and Mr. Lee are not only popular with the younger set but number their friends throughout North Carolina and Virginia. Mr. Lee's home is in South Boston, Va. but he resided here two winters. He is now located at Rocky Mount where he is engaged in the tobacco business.

Miss White is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert White, possessing a beautiful character and charm and loved and admired by all with whom she has ever come in contact.

THE DOT RED CROSS

By Clifford Leon Sherman

The first visible evidence of the ruthlessness came the next morning. The first word on land she found the rail crowded with passengers who were at a mass of wreckage, which told the story of a torpedoed ship. The captain ordered men-out in a small boat to search, but they were as they were rowing back to the transport, one of the sailors
