

South Carolinian Pays Tribute To Baxter McLendon

The McLendon services will be held in the Methodist church tonight. Due to damage to the tent resulting from last night's storm.

The Reflector has received from Col. J. Preston Gibson of Bennettsville S. C. a letter paying high tribute to the character and work of Rev. Baxter McLendon, who is conducting evangelistic services in the tent here.

To the Editor of the Reflector: Sir—will you grant me short space in your paper to say something about Evangelist B. F. McLendon, who is now conducting a religious revival in your city?

You have a divinely called man in your city. Mack has most assuredly received a heavenly vision. He was reared a poor boy, his father being a tenant, his educational advantages were extremely limited.

Mack immediately entered Asbury College, in Kentucky, afterwards attended the Moody Institute in Chicago. I have heard many of the great evangelists of this age, and pronounce B. F. McLendon the equal of any preacher in the world today.

Mack is doing much charity work, supporting and educating orphans and preparing young men for the missionary field.

Respectfully J. Preston Gibson

ILLINOIS FARMERS IN FAVOR HOLDING BACK GRAIN CROPS

While Not In Favor of General Strike

Planters Feel Like Retention Will Do Good

NEEDS OF CREDIT SOURCE

REALIZED FULLY IN EVERY

SECTION OF THE COUNTRY

Secretary of Farm Bureau Federation

Realizes Seriousness of Present Conditions

Chicago, Nov. 17.—While not favoring a grain "strike" for any set price sentiment among organized farmers in the great agricultural states of the middle west runs strongly toward holding back grain as far as practicable for better prices, according to canvass made here.

Reports were received by secretaries of state farm bureau federations in Missouri, Minnesota, South Dakota, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin and Kentucky. In no cases did a state federation report it had advised a "strike".

Need of credit facilities to enable farmers to hold their wheat if they want to was pointed out from several states. One state secretary wrote he was using the present conditions as an argument in favor of the farmers getting into the big marketing game in such away that they will be able to finance it at the end of the season.

The attitude I have taken in the matter, wrote H. D. Lute of Lincoln, Neb., secretary of the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation, that it is wrong to set an arbitrary price of $3. a bushel and that it is hardly advisable to ask the farmers to hold their wheat unless we are in a position to help them on the financial and storage ends of the game.

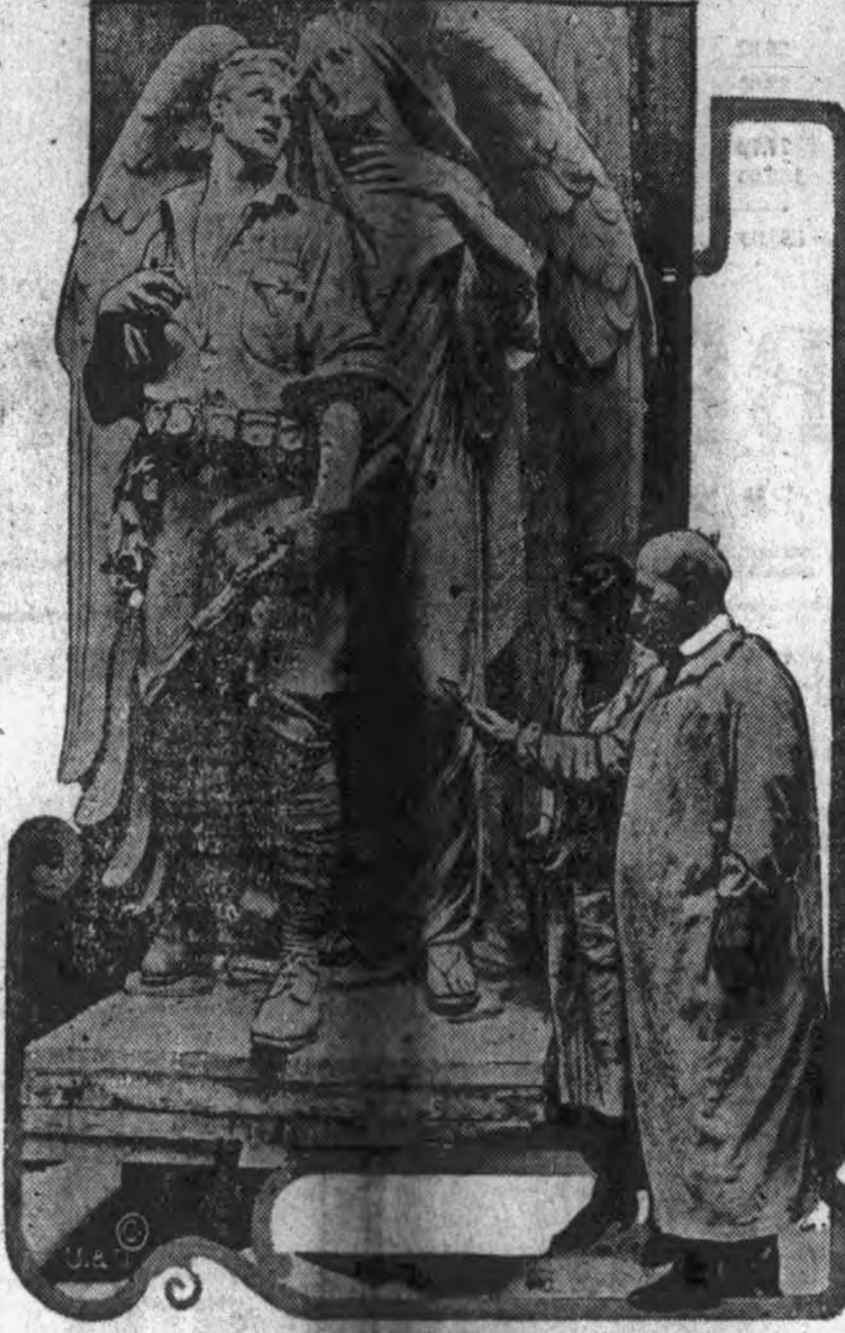

Writing that the South Dakota Farm Bureau Federation does not believe a "wheatstrike" necessary or desirable for the country, Secretary P. J. Crandall of Huson said, our method of handling the situation is to furnish farmers with accurate information regarding the wheat market to help them in determining what action is best for their needs.

PASTORS ARRANGE CONSUMPTION OF SPLENDID PROGRAM MEATS REDUCED IN FOR THANKSGIVING AMERICAN STATES

Greenville Ministers Decide That City Will Observe Day With Cyclone McLendon

The Greenville Pastor's Association met at the Chamber of Commerce on Monday afternoon and arranged the following program for Thanksgiving morning, in which it is desired that the citizens of Pitt county take an earnest part.

Mack will begin his service at the big tent promptly at 10 o'clock in the morning and will preach a special Thanksgiving sermon. Thanksgiving Day is the time set apart in North Carolina for making a great offering for the Orphanages of the state, each person being gasked to give to some Orphanage a day's wage.

The pastors agreed unanimously upon the following resolution; "the offering to be taken by the various churches represented, shall be made at this service, the members of each church contributing envelopes furnished by them next Sunday by the pastors, and the loose offering shall be divided equally amongst the orphanages represented by the churches in this movement.

If you are a Presbyterian, you will contribute to the orphanage at Barium Springs and write Presbyterian on your envelope, and so on, each church name being written on the envelope. The money not designated will be divided equally amongst all. Every penny will go to the orphanages.

A special committee of Messrs. Shambart, Turner and Scattergood will see to the peoples distribution of the funds

We want to make this service one to be remembered, because full of the spirit of Christ and the presence of the Holy Spirit. Plan to come and give.

Something, According to Swine Growers Association Has Effect of Great Change

Chicago, Nov. 17.—something has reduced the per capita consumption of meat in this country in the past year. W. J. Carmichael, secretary of the National swine growers association said here discussing the Eat More Meat movement he is endeavoring to set underway. He has called a meeting of livestock producers, livestock exchanges and packers for Chicago Dec. 2.

At this conference he proposes to enlist all interested in establishing a national organization to act as a clearing house for meat men's difficulties of this nature. Among these is what Mr. Carmichael terms unfair propaganda against meat.

Vegetarianism is making some headway in certain sections, Mr. Carmichael said, but a large part of the decrease in meat eating appear due to the use of meat substitutes. These have been encouraged by advertising. We dont object to people using substitutes, but we feel it very unfair for them to be led to do so, as in some cases by misleading comparisons with meat values.

Reports of working men receiving high wages developing into large meat eaters, Mr. Carmichael said held true in only some districts, such as Gary, Ind. Meat consumption for the country as a whole fell off 8 pounds per individual in the last year he said.

BUTLER POINTS OUT PRESENT DEFECT IN LEAGUE OF NATIONS

President of Columbia University Tells Connecticut Audiences of His Views

DECLARES REPUBLICANS WILL NOT FALL SHORT OF EXPECTATION OF PUBLIC

Says Republicans May Be Entrusted With the Greatest Responsibilities of Future

New London, Conn., Nov. 17.—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, President of Columbia University, New York, in an address here tonight pointed out what he called defects in the present League of Nations covenant and recommended adjustment of international difficulties through a tribunal patterned after but amplifying, that of the Hague.

A Republican administration headed by Mr. Harding, he said would not in any respect shrink its duty as one of the family of Nations, through it would not become a member of the existing League.

They are mistaken that think that the Republican party when again entrusted with the responsibility for the administration of the government will enter upon any backward path. He declared, the spirit of progress, of ambition to serve, of zeal to solve the great and vexatious problems which confront the people, are in full possession of the Republican party of 1920.

For one, I am confident that when the reins of government shall pass into the hands of the Republicans on March 4 next, the ripest wisdom, the widest experience and the best talent which the country affords will be called upon to assist in shaping those policies which shall hasten a solution of the people's problems and a meeting of the people's needs.

No party, no government, can accomplish the impossible but the Republican party may confidently be trusted to open in 1921 a new era in the history of our country and to make powerful and permanent contribution to the cause of international peace and concord and to the advancement of the world's satisfaction and happiness, without in any lessening the control of the American people over their own politics and acts, and without in any way bending or breaking the Constitution of the United States, the sheet anchor of our ship of state.

SKETCHES ACTIVITY OF FARMERS UNION FOR FUTURE WORK

Secretary of National Grande Outlines Working Features of His Organization

Chicago, Nov. 17.—Membership in the National Grande at approximately 750,000 S. J. Lowell of Fredonia, N. Y. master of the grange reports.

In this period of active organization of farmers, Mr. Lowell thus briefly sketches the activities of his society one of the oldest and best known of the farmers organization.

The first grange was organized on April 15, 1868, in Fredonia, N. Y. It is a secret order, similar to all secret orders in many respects, with ritual surpassed by none.

It is nonsectarian and non-political and is devoted wholly to agriculture and agricultural pursuits.

It has one distinction that in all its meetings it has what is known as the Lecturer's Hour. This hour is devoted to the going over of matters pertaining to far mlife, interspersed with music, recitations, etc., by the young people. It has done more than any other one thing to build up and streng then agricultural life. The grange is now organized in 33 states, which are chiefly in the north, as many of the southern states have no Granges. The largest grange state is New York.

SENATOR HARDING SPENDING TIME IN LONELY TERRITORY

President-elect Recuperating From Campaign Strani at Port Isabel Near Brownsville

HURRY OR WORRY SAID TO BE UNTHINKABLE IN THIS SECTION OF THE UNIVERSE

Years Ago This Section of Texas Was Visited By Large Vessels From Many Sections

Point Isabel, Tex. Nov. 17.—An out of the way place in this gulf coast resort where President-elect Harding is recuperating from the strain of the national campaign. For communication with the outside world it depends upon a narrow gauge railroad to Brownsville, and automobile road, a few telegraph and telephone lines and the big government wireless station through which came the first direct information on the Corpus Christi storm of September, 1919.

Though only 20 miles from the busy border the city of Brownsville, it is like passing into a different country to make this 20 mile trip. On the way lies a plantation set in the palm trees with thatched palm huts of Mexican laborers, which is more suggestive of the Philippines than anything elsewhere in the United States. Beyond the planted area great flats and some low rolling hills on which the sky reveals here and there the straight sentinel like Spanish dagger. Hurry or worry is unthinkable in the lazy and almost perpetual sunshine of this region.

On its outer edge lies Point Isabel, a fishing village, with the always picturesque complement of Mexican population to be found in this extreme corner of the United States. A long wooden pier runs out into the water like a finger and the town extends along the shore at right angles to the finger. Padre Island, a stripe of sand dunes with trees here and there, lies in front of Point Isabel, forming the lagoon which the town faces. To the north this slender island extends virtually unbroken for nearly 100 miles. Its Southern extremity reaches barely past Point Isabel's front door. The gulf surf comes in on the outside shore of the island affording year round bathing while the lagoon is a big lake, in some places several miles wide. The fishing is on both sides of the island. Red fish running up to 20 pounds and salt water trout which average three to six pounds are originally sought, but the varieties of big fish within fishermen's distance and almost endless wild turkeys and quail abound in the adjacent territory and javelin or wild hog are numerous. Then there are the Mexican lions, which are about the size of a large Newfoundland dog and which have fully as much courage as a jack rabbit. There are also leopards and cats and bobcats, jackrabbits and cotton tail rabbits.

Years ago Isabel was visited by many large vessels which served lower Texas and part of the northeastern section of Mexico. That was before railroads connected the two countries at Laredo and before the Rio Grande Valley, now famous for its truck gardens was connected with the more populous sections of Texas. When the St Louis Brownsville Mexico railroad was constructed from Houston to Brownsville water transportation was greatly curtailed until today it is almost negligible.

WIN DAND RAIN TRY THE TENT BUT IT STILL STANDS

Cyclone Mack can work as well as preach. Last night when the wind was blowing and the rains were falling, he Mr. Abernathy, and two colored men, worked until the early hours of the morning driving stakes and fastening ropes trying to hold the tent, which it seemed would fall in spite of all. Mack don't believe in giving up so he "sailed on" and this morning the tent is still standing and services will go on as usual.

THE TOBACCO FARMER

If the farmers of the Bright Tobacco Belt of the South do not want to face bankruptcy within the next year or two, they better inform themselves of the true conditions surrounding the production and consumption of their product, and crystallize themselves into an unbreakable organization of self-preservation. The preliminary work of organizing the tobacco growers is now in progress. The State Association is in the hands of eminently capable and trustworthy men, but after all, the ultimate success of the movement will depend largely on the spirit of co-operation and loyalty given it by the local organizations throughout the entire tobacco growing territory. Realizing fully that the material success and prosperity of every industry in the tobacco growing territory is almost entirely dependent on the success of the tobacco farmers, and that in order to act intelligently tobacco farmers should be thoroughly and correctly informed about every influence and condition affecting the tobacco industry I have taken up with some leading farmers and business men the matter of establishing a weekly newspaper devoted entirely to this question. It has been decided to lay the matter before the tobacco farmers of the Bright Tobacco Belt, and if sufficient encouragement is given, the publication of this weekly paper, "THE TOBACCO FARMER," will begin in Greenville, N. C., about the first of the new year. We therefore ask every tobacco farmer who is interested in this vital question, affecting as it does every man, woman and child in this wondrously great tobacco country, to fill out the coupon below and mail it to the undersigned at once.

The object of this paper is to gather and publish every particle of information that will be useful to the tobacco growers and help them to form correct ideas and conclusions about the tobacco business in its every detail, information that will enable them to know what to do, when to do it, and how to do it to protect themselves and avert disaster that now seems certain. It is intended that this publication shall be an open forum for the discussion of questions affecting the tobacco industry, and letters from farmers, tobacco dealers, warehousemen and business men will be published for the information and guidance of the tobacco farmers. We have assurance from Mr. O. L. Joyner, who is one of the best posted men in the State on the tobacco situation, especially as it relates to the tobacco farmer, that he will take an active part in the editorial management of this paper. It is our intention to make "THE TOBACCO FARMER" indispensable to every tobacco grower, and we hope every one of them will fill out the attached coupon and mail it at once.

U. S. LABOR BOARD CONDUCTS HEARING FOR INCREASED PAY

Chicago State Board Hears Complaints of Railroad Presidents For Short Lines

TRIALS OF FHEA DMEN BROUGHT OUT IN MANY COMPLAINTS OF FILES

Freight Outlook for Short Lines Explained as Particularly Bad Every Where

Chicago, Nov. 16.—The trials of railroad presidents who preside over the destinies of the country's short lines are coming to light in the hearing being here to more than 100 short lines whose employes have petitioned the United States Railway Labor Board for increased pay.

One Texas road, built primarily to open a short route to some mineral deposit bed, has to date the champion hard luck tale, according to W. G. W. Hanger, member of the board. The president of the lines explained he owned 41 miles of tract between two terminal cities. His fast passenger train covered the distance in two hours.

But between the two cities is a hard surfaced highway, and enterprising auto owners have opened a bus line. The highway, on a direct route, is little more than twenty miles long, compared to the railroad's 41. The auto bus covers the distance in 40 minutes, one hour and twenty minutes faster than the train. And charge the same fare.

The freight outlook he described as equally bad. A company operating motor trucks with two trailers to the truck hauls freight over the highway faster than the road can by train, delivers the goods at the merchants store door and charges the same tariff as the railroad. And on top of his motor troubles it is now estimated that the mineral deposits which furnish the main remaining source of revenue will be exhausted within three hours.

The president of an Alabama short line whose principal source of revenue is hauling ore to Birmingham furnace appeared to defend the company against six employes, all station agents, who had requested more money. Their present income is $95 a month.

The railroad president exhibited a personal knowledge of the affairs of each of his employes. One of the station agents he said, owned a country store a few rods from the railroad station and had run his telegraph wire into the store so he could handle his duties as dispatcher and operator while waiting on customers. A second was described as the wife of a prosperous farmer. She had her telegraph line in the farm kitchen, the president said. Of the six operators only one was located in town, and that was a village of 500 population. The president said his road paid no dividends and operated at a loss of $100,000 last year.

CLAREMONT MINE INCREASING DAILY COAL PRODUCTIONS

Mine Owned By North Dakota Down After Business In Interesting Kind of Way

Lemmon, S. D. Nov. 16.—The Claremont coal mine owned by the state of South Dakota, is now shipping two hundred tons daily. The produce is of the quality known as blue lignite.

The Claremont mine was purchased last summer to insure state institution against shortage of coal. Individuals may purchase coal at the mine.

The mine is located at Hayne's N. D. Just over the line from Lemmon. The original owners began the grading for a spur railroad from the mine to Lemmon. The state of South Dakota now building this railroad. It is estimated that when the line is finished the mine out put can be tripled.

NIGHT RIDING GETS SEVERE SETBACK IN ARKANSAS SECTION

Wave of Lawlessness Strongly Condemned By Members of American Cotton Organ

REPRESENTATIVES SAY

COMMUNITY IS GIVEN "BLACK EYE" BY RAIDS

Mass Meetings In A Number of Sections Discourage Movement to Great Extent

Little Rock, Ark. Nov. 16.—Responsible sentiment in this state is running strongly against night riding which has been undertaken in this and cotton growing states to prevent the ginning and marketing of cotton at the present low price. Representative planters, bankers and business men feel strongly that this lawlessness is giving the south a "black eye."

At a recent meeting of the Arkansas division of the American Cotton Association here night riding was condemned as an act of gross ignorance. Governor Brough has taken a vigorous stand against night riding and he has had further support among others from Claude Fitzpatrick, president of the Arkansas Bankers Association. All the forces of the state and local governments in Arkansas are now co-operating to prevent further lawlessness in the cotton centers.

This counter movement is believed to be doing much to stop the activities of night riders. Mass meetings have been held in many towns and the cooperation of the citizens has been professed officers in maintaining order.

Acts of violence for which night riders have been given credit in Arkansas has taken various forms. In addition to the burning of gins, warehouses and other property, farmers who attempted to market their cotton.

have been threatened with death or severe punishment, and in some cases have been badly maltreated. Negro families have been intimidated and driven from their homes because they sought employment or worked as cotton pickers. Hundreds of cotton gins in various sections of the state have been posted with warnings against continuing to buy and gin cotton, the threatened penalties for not heeding the warning including destruction of the plants and forfeiture of the lives of the owners.

In one county eight men now are waiting action of the grand jury on a charge of setting fire to a ginery and in another section of the state three white farmers have been sentenced to a years imprisonment and assessed heavy fines for intimidation of negro cotton pickers.

PROBATION OFFICER TELLS

TEACHERS OF SCHOOL LAWS

The following letter is being mailed to the teachers of the county by Mr. Futrell, Supt. Public Welfare, with reference to the Compulsory Attendance of the children between 8 and 14 years.

To the teachers of Pitt county.
In view of the fact that unusually favorable weather has prevailed this fall, and the farmers have had a reasonable time in which to house their crops, the children of compulsory school age have been excused from school for the immediate demands of the farm. In visits to various parts of the county I find the consensus of opinion of the farmers to be that the labor of the children is no longer needed to the extent of keeping them away from school.

Therefore, you will please announce to your school that after Monday, Nov. 22, children will not be excused from school for work on the farm. Give this announcement the widest publicity possible that all the children may be in school and the parents law abiding.

If, however, a child is absent from school you are to send notices of absence to the parents on Friday. The parent is supposed to send the child to school on Monday together with a valid excuse for the absent days. If the child does not come you are expected to get in personal touch with the parent. If your efforts fail, at the end of the second week, you are to send the names to this office for investigation and prosecution.

Yours respectfully

K. T. Futrell
Attendance Officer
