

CYCLONE MACK IN SPLENDID SERMON ON SIN LAST NIGHT

Evangelist Delivers Stirring Sermon on "A Man Sins Because He Wants to" SERVICES WILL BE RESUMED AT TENT TODAY AFTER BEING HELD AT CHURCH

"Mack" preached another strong sermon in the Methodist Church last night. Before announcing his text he began by taking an inventory of his audience by ascertaining the number of people from the country and from other towns, and comparing them with the number of Greenville people.

The collections are not amounting to the sum which they should, and Mr. McLendon stated that if they did not improve in a few days that he expects to give the amount himself, and thus stop the nightly collections.

Sin is a matter of choice with the individual, Evangelist McLendon pointed out in his sermon last night cited the numerous instances in which the Scriptures enjoin a sinner to come to Christ.

If you are a gazing, stinking monkey run artist, Mack said it is because you want to be. If you go home staggering to your wife with your breath smelling like a cross between a pole cat and a horse carcass, it is because you want to do it.

When Jesus Christ was on earth He so many times gave this invitation to this old world: Come, and after he went up to heaven He looked down on his servant John when He was on the side of patmos and said:

The Spirit and the Bible say come and let him that thirst say come, let him that is athirst come and whosoever will let him take the water of life freely.

Here the Lord is giving his last invitation: and you see here, it is making God out a liar for any of you to say I cannot be a Christian, and I won't hear God libeled without a protest.

That marvelous book, "Twice born Man" was written by an English novelist, and is really a story of the work of the salvation army in the slums of the great city of London.

One of the chapters is entitled the Lowest of the Low, and that is the name given to the man whose story is told in the chapter. May I describe it? His mother was a drunkard, his father was dead. When he was a baby his mother used to take him to the public house and to keep him quite she would

NOTED LISBON MAN SAID TO BE INMATE OF COUNTY HOME

City Papers Given Prominence to Condition of Dr. Jose de Arriaga Author and Critic

Lisbon, Nov. 18.—The newspaper, seculo, says that Dr. Jose de Arriaga, a university man, historian, critic and savant and brother of the late President Manuel de Arriaga, is an inmate of the Lisbon poor house, in ill health and penniless.

Dr. Jose de Arriaga resided for a long time in Brazil where he collected notes on Brazilian life and literature. It was after his return to Portugal when he was arranging with an editor for the publication of a book on Brazil that he was taken ill and, after a struggle against adversity, was obliged from utter lack of resources to take refuge in the poorhouse.

He is a direct descendant of King Alfonso III, of Portugal in the 17th generation and of King Ramiro II of Leon and Castella and the 25th grandson of Hugh Capet, Duke of France and Count of Paris and Orleans.

His brother, the late President, died a poor man partly because of his inflexible republican opinions which led him to refuse, at one time, to serve as tutor to the sons of the then King of Portugal. For his ardent efforts to establish a republic, the Portuguese feel that they owe a debt of gratitude to President de Arriaga.

POLAND ENLARGED BY RUSSIAN PEACE TREATY.

Berlin, Nov. 18.—Poland by virtue of the Peace Treaty with Russia is enlarged by the addition of 52,000 English square miles with 4,000,000 inhabitants, according to the estimate of the Polish delegation.

According to the peace treaty of Versailles, Poland measured 36,500 English square miles and had a population of 24,000,000.

LUMBERTON BAR LIKES JUDGE J. LLOYD HORTON

Lumberton, Nov. 18.—Resolutions highly commending Judge J. Lloyd Horton, who held his first term of court here after his appointment by Governor Bickett were adopted by the Robeson Bar Association. The lawyers are unanimously of the opinion that the new judge of the fifth district has begun his career quite auspiciously.

Geneva, Nov. 18.—An increasing number of funeral processions going across the border into Germany recently aroused the suspicion of custom officials, who halted one of them that proved to be a smuggler's parade. The casket was a false bottomed affair and a figure in the coffin was stuffed with gold, silver and other contraband. Four mourning relatives, pretending to be mutes, were said by the police to be known smugglers.

AMERICAN FLYERS PLAY BIG PART IN POLISH ACTIVITIES

Airmen Have Had Many Changes to Bomb Trains of Bolshevik General in Warsaw Region

REFUSED TO BOMB TRAIN BECAUSE THE YKNEW WIFE AND BABY WERE ABOARD IT

Presence of General Buddenny's Family Saved Him From Many Times Getting Killed

Warsaw, Nov. 18.—American fliers composing the Kosciusko squadron of the Polish army have had many opportunities to bomb the train of six cars which General Buddenny, the bolshevik cavalry leader, used as headquarters at the front, but they always refused to do so because they knew his wife and baby lived on board the train. On several occasions when the Buddenny special was located by the Americans, they knew pretty well that the cavalry commander was at his traveling home for a visit with his wife and youngster but they always let pass the chance to do him or his train damage.

It was reported some time ago that Buddenny had been wounded by a bomb dropped by one of the American fliers while he was engaged in one of his spectacular raids on the southern Polish front before the armistice was declared.

It was also said that he had taken up arms against the reds and that he might join forces with General Wrangel.

General Buddenny is a Kuban cossack and was a Sergeant in the old imperial Russian army. He has been seen many times from the air by the Americans and is described as a short, stocky man with quite an intelligent countenance despite the wild, outdoor life he has led for years.

His dress was picturesque, consisting most of the time of a black cossack hat, khaki tunic, black trousers with bright blue stripes and high black boots. He is an excellent horseman and often led his troops into battle against the Poles.

AMERICAN HEALTH FORCES AT WORK IN PARIS, FRANCE

Rockefeller Foundation Movement Presents County With Tuberculosis Fighting System

Paris, Nov. 18.—The Rockefeller Foundation which has been assisting France in its fight against tuberculosis for the last three years, has turned over to her complete control of France, an elaborate anti-tuberculosis organization which has been developed in the department Eure-et-Loir, at a cost of 4,000,000 francs.

The organization, the most complete for its purpose in France, consists of 24 dispensaries, four complete isolation services, a departmental sanatorium and a modern departmental laboratory. In addition to this, the Rockefeller Foundation has started among the children of the department an organization known as the Modern Health Crusaders, a system of child education and having for its object the prevention of tuberculosis by the thorough teaching of hygiene.

Although it will not be possible to duplicate the Eure-et-Loir system, it will be used by the other departments of France as a general model. The Rockefeller Foundation is assisting the French people in their campaign against consumption in 38 of the 87 departments and work probably will continue for the next 15 months or two years.

AUSTRIAN BOOM IN FIANGES BAFFLES STOCK EXCHANGES

Autumn Boom Proves Paradox of Central Europe Particularly to National Bankers

PEOPLE EVERYWHERE CALL IT A "MISERY BOOM OWING TO EFFECTS ON EXCHANGES

Stock Exchanges No Longer Prove Barometer to Conditions Throughout the Country

Vienna, Nov. 18.—One of the financial paradoxes of Central Europe has been a boom this autumn on the Vienna stock exchange. Speculation has been on a tremendous scale and stock prices have risen by leaps and bounds. Advances of several hundred points in a single stock occurred in one day's trading. Lucky speculators made millions of kronen from a shoe-string investment.

But Austrians all speak of this boom as the "misery boom" for its basis is the unfavorable state of the kronen exchange, and the rise in prices was a measure of the depressed economic state of the country.

The "misery boom" on the stock exchange was accompanied by conditions of destitution in the city and country which are unprecedented at that season of the year.

It is hard even for the people of Vienna to realize their plight and to picture what the winter has in store for them. The American visitor, particularly if he is armed with dollars, finds an air of surface prosperity about the city. But those who looked beyond the merely superficial learned that the "misery boom" on the stock exchange was merely a gay trapping behind which stalked a gaunt skeleton.

The boom is an economic phenomenon which is well worth study, for it explains much of the paradoxical condition that exists throughout the warring countries of Europe. An Austrian financial authority, the correspondent of the London Financial News, explained it by saying that the sole factor in it was the exchange rate of the kronen. When hope was abandoned

MOROCCO WRITER SAYS HE REACHED CITY OF SECRETS

Times Correspondent Claims Honor of First Visiting Secret City of The Island

London, Nov. 18.—The Morocco correspondent of The Times claims to be "almost with certainty" the only living European who has hitherto visited Sheshawan, the "mysterious" secret Moroccan inland city which is officially stated to be occupied by a Spanish expeditionary force.

Sheshawan, or more correctly, Sheshanon, he writes, is a small town of a few thousand inhabitants situated in the tribeland of the Beni Zejel, about 40 miles to the south of Tetuan. The Times man says he visited it in Moorish disguise in 1888 and only escaped with difficulty.

He adds that the town is small, built along a sort of terrace on the high mountain side, and is renowned for its springs and streams. With the exception of its picturesque situation among mountains, its aloofness, and its surrounding gardens, Sheshanon presents no very particular features.

Its inhabitants are poor. Their industries are the making of furniture in painted wood—brackets and tables—and the weaving of woolen stuffs. They are renowned for their meanness, and a native proverb states: "If you see a Moielem merchant from Fez weeping, it is only a Moor of Sheshanon who could have got the better of him."

AUSTRALIAN SAYS BROWN BREAD MAY BE SUITABLE NOW

Declares Bread Line Ought to Cause People to Realize Conditions in Ascendancy

Adelaide, Australia, Nov. 18.—Dr. Hargreaves, a distinguished Australian chemist, declared at a conference of master bakers here that the nations which eat bread were getting close to the border line of neuritis. He advocated brown bread, saying that modern science demanded that wheat should be milled whole.

He said that, undoubtedly, campaigns in favor of whole meal bread will be shortly launched in the United States and England, and it behooved Australia to take prompt action.

The members of the conference agreed with the doctor's observations, but said that Australians, with the exception of cranks and dyspeptics, refused to eat brown bread.

OBTAINING SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR SPLENDID MONUMENT.

Paris, Nov. 18.—General Mangin is organizing the task of obtaining subscriptions for a magnificent monument to the American volunteers who fought with the French army, to be set up shortly in the Place des Etats-Unis. The monument is to be by the well-known French sculptor, Boucher, and will cost $100,000. No foreign subscription will be accepted; all donations must come from French sources.

Once a year a military ceremony will be held before the statue and after a funeral march has been played, the officers in command will read out of a golden book the names of the dead volunteers. To each name the response will be given: "Dead on the field of honor." The "Last Post" will march past the statue and present arms.

THE GRAVE DIGGERS FOR NORTH CAROLINA'S BABIES.

The October issue of the North Carolina Health Bulletin which discusses the prevention of typhoid, diphtheria, whooping cough, measles, and colitis is just off the press. It is edited by the Bureau of Epidemiology. Four diseases which take such a heavy toll from infants are vividly presented by spaces labeled whooping cough, measles, diphtheria and colitis. The first in 1918 dug 775 graves, the second 373, third 252, and the fourth, colitis, the Master Grave Digger, dug 1,914. Then below the champion killers are two groups of children: the one anaemic, ragged, dirty, and ill-fed, begging the hosts of light on the opposite side, a group of beauties fed on pure milk and taught by an enlightened public opinion. "The spirit of two communities" it is labeled. And below: "Which spirit has yours?"

LABOR FEDERATION TO END MENACE OF RADICAL ELEMENT

Plans Direct Steps to Eliminate Radicalism Control of Labor Body in America

EMPLOYMENT DANGERS TO ALSO BE GIVEN CAREFUL CONSIDERATION BY BOARD

Direct Action Toward Closer Cooperation Between Capital and Labor Is Probable

Washington, Nov. 18.—Direct steps to eliminate radicalism from any control in organized labor and to meet the menace of increasing unemployment are being taken by the American Federation of Labor through its executive council in session here.

Already a decisive victory over radical elements within the organization has been achieved at one point and the far reaching nature of the conference of the council for a week past dealing with economic problems appeared to night foreshadow some action looking to a closer cooperation between labor and capital to meet unemployment.

Conservative leaders in the federation have pounded away on the radical question for several months, insisting on a more determined stand by the controlling body, but reports of increasing unemployment have now brought that subject into a position of equal importance.

Although leaders were reticent to day, it developed that there was a feeling among certain members of the council that it should deal emphatically with the attempts of radicals to be born from within. They were said to feel that conservatism must characterize labor's leadership.

This sentiment was based on two promises: first, that organized labor cannot hope to exert great power in ensuing years if its foundations are weakened by the permeation of certain radical doctrines; and second, that the next administration will be conservative. As to the latter, it was said in some quarters labor could gain little from the new Congress unless it established policies of a conservative nature.

In the re-organization of the committee to unionize the steel workers, the conservative element showed its strength. It eliminated from the committee John J. Fitzpatrick, chairman, and William Z. Foster, secretary, both of whom participated in the direction of the steel strike last winter, around which clustered inimate and outspoken radicalism. Fitzpatrick was replaced by M. F. Tight, a recognized conservative in labor policies, and Foster gave place to J. G. Brown, also a known conservative.

President Gompers, of the Federation has declared against the unrestricted admission of radicals from Europe on several occasions and the federation itself is having no intercourse with foreign labor groups of radical turn. Federation leaders expect to go before Congressional committees at every opportunity to check the rush of immigrants from radical section of Europe and Asia. Increased restrictions will be urged, it was said.

The Department of Labor made public today statistics showing that during October there were decreases in the number of employees in ten industrial plants as compared with October a year ago, while only four plants had enlarged payrolls. Although the number of reporting concerns was small, officials accepted the figures as indicating the trend.

BANKERS' CO-OPERATION NEEDED

Greater co-operation between farmers and bankers so that the business of producing farm products can be financed along the same lines as the business of manufacturing and selling merchandise of all kinds will cut the cost of food production and increase farm profits, asserts George A. Woodford in an article on "The Relation of Banking to the business of farming," in the current, November issue of Farm Mechanics magazine.

"In the fifty years from 1840 to 1890 the development of farm machinery enabled four men to do the work that required fourteen," says Mr. Woodford. To day we are faced with the problem of so equipping the farms of the nation that one man can produce as much as the four men in 1890 or the fourteen in 1840.

More than that we want to reduce the day's work of that one man to a normal length, eliminate the unnecessary drudgery and afford him the conveniences and pleasure that have made city life attractive.

And still more we must enable him to get greater production from the land that he now farms, for little new land is available, and the ever increasing demands of the nation's population must be taken care of by better use of the land we now have.

Certainly—it is being done on many farms; modern methods, material and machinery that will accomplish this are now available. Tried and have proven they stand ready to help the farmer produce bigger and better crops in less time with less work at less expense.

Farm life without the drudgery, farm life without all modern conveniences farm life that is more attractive, interesting and profitable is within our reach.

Present day methods of farming with power enables one man in ten hour day to plow ten to twelve acres cultivate fourteen to twenty, disc, drill or harvest thirty five to forty acres, and do all other field work proportionately as fast. They enable him to do his own shelling and separating, to fill his silo and handle other such jobs quickly and economically. They reduce to a minimum—in fact, on many farms have eliminated—the expense and work of feeding and caring horses.

Berlin, Nov. 18.—Deputy Schlittenbauer, a member of the economic commission of the Bavarian Diet, suggests that participation of American capital in the Ruhr district should be invited in order to circumvent any French attempt at occupying this region.

He proposes that this insubordinate industrial district should be organized into a single economic unit, in which American capital should be given a 25 per cent interest. Such American holdings, he states, would suffice to head off any French invasion.

Cyclone Mack Hits at Sin

dip her fingers in the glass of gin and rub it across his lips, so that before he could walk he had a taste for strong drink. When he was but a little boy he was a staggering drunk on the Sts. of London. Besides him being a drunk and he was a thief. He was all that was bad. He was one of these shivering dirty creatures that creep along the streets of the great city with naked feet, clothes in rags and the rain wetting his hair. A little pale, blue-lipped shivering child, more like a homeless dog than a motherless boy.

In his young man hood he became a soldier in the British army, and while there he broke the laws of the army and was sentenced to prison. When he came out of prison, he was discharged from the army in disgrace; and then he drifted into the very lowest depths of iniquity of sin. Finally when he could bear his burden no longer he came to the Salvation Army hall to listen to the hymns. He heard the testimonies, and he listened to the officers who stood on the platform asking poor lost men and women to turn to Jesus. One night in the midst of a great crowd of fallen men like him self he arose and staggered to the penitent form. Dropping on his knees he buried his face in his hands and said:

"God be merciful to me a sinner, and quick as a flash he was changed.

Now if you were born that way bred that way, cursed that way, poisoned that way, handicapped that way, by your parents' sins you will not be held responsible for what your mother and father did. Probably you have been born wrong, but thank God you can be born again and born right, and this time with the devil out of you. Don't say you can not be a christian. You won't be damned because you are a sinner. If you are shut out from that world of light, it is because you are fool enough to refuse God's remedy. There is no sin, however big, that will keep you out of heaven if you repent, and there is no sin however small that will keep you out of hell if you do not repent. You do not go to hell because you do not repent. You lie if you say you want to be a Christian and can not. Saying that God is making demands on me that I can not fulfill—that He knows are impossible. If He were doing that He would be a devil instead of a loving father, and I'll not stand here and hear God lied on without a protest. Whosoever will let him come. If you are not in the slough of despondency it is because you are contented to stay there; if you are a bad man it is because you are contented to stay a bad man. Brother if your breath is not as lovely as the air of a spring morning or the perfume of the roses in June, or as fresh as the lily in April, or as pure as the dew drop, it is because you are content to let the devil crush you, sin despoil you and the world damn you. If you have the soul to assert your manhood there is no power in earth or hell that can keep you from Jesus Christ.

Whosoever will, Gypsy Smith beautifully illustrates this whosoever will by a story of himself when he was a little boy. His people were moving from one camping ground to another and he cut across the country to save distance. He came to an orchard where there were some fine Victoria plums. He was in the top of a tree helping himself and filling his pockets when a big broad-shouldered, red faced, farmer appeared on the scene and gave him a pressing invitation to come down. What do you want Sir? he asked in the most bland and innocent tones, as if he had never known the taste of plums. If you will come down, he said I'll tell you. He said he was not used to climbing up or down and he said he had to come down because he could not stay in a plum tree forever, because his good friend showed no disposition to go. The farmer conveyed to him the intelligence that he would await until he was ready to come down. Gypsy said he did not thank him for his courtesy, Gypsy was not like Zaccheus of old, he did not make haste to come down, neither did he do it joyfully. He said when he did get to the ground that this good friend got him by the ear and he said there was a good deal of congratulation in his grip. He pulled me over rapidly and unceremoniously to another tree. Do you see that tree? he said "Yes sir." Do you see that board? "Yes sir." Can you read it, "No sir." Well I will be so as to read it for you. Whosoever is found trespassing on this ground will be punished. Gypsy says from that day to this he has never wanted any one to explain to him what whosoever means. He said this memorable occasion fixed the meaning of the word indelibly in his mind forever. He said the irate farmer led him to the gate and threw an old boot at him and for got to take his foot out.

Now salvation depends upon the will I am afraid we have emphasized the word "Whosoever" without emphasizing the word will, because salvation depends upon the will.

Repentance is an act of the will and not of the emotions. It is not sentiment, sanctimoniousness, blowing your nose, wiping your eyes, saying "Come to Jesus".

It is the response of the enlightened, redeemed man to call on God. The will of the soul. It is the moral awakening. Repentance is simply renouncing sin. Turning around from darkness to light from wrong to right, from the power of Satan to God. This is giving up sin in your heart, purpose, intention desire resolving that you will give up every evil thing, and do it now.

AUSTRIAN BOOM IN FINANCES

BAFFELES STOC KECHANGE

that the depreciated krone would ever reach its former standard of value, the argument was advanced that the value of the properties listed on the stock exchange had not decreased and that in the future they would pay the same dividends as in peace times. Therefore, it was argued that their stocks must be worth today as much as they were before the war. Continuing the correspondent said:

"The stock exchange is no longer a barometer which indicates 'fair' when the condition is favorable and industrial life is prosperous. Today the situation is reversed. Stock prices rise when the weather is foul, when the krone drops, when it becomes evident that foreign countries will not assist us and prop up our exchange by granting us credits.

"If anywhere on the foreign horizon a serious hope should appear, a slump on the Vienna stock exchange would be inevitable. Even a rise in the krone to 5 centimes would entail a violent fall in stock prices."

MISS LILLIE HALE AND MR. H. H. HILTON MARRIED

Miss Lillie Hale who for several months has been a clerk in the Greenville Post Office, left Saturday morning to spend a few days with her mother in Louisburg. A letter dated 15th which she wrote to Postmaster D. J. Whichard, announces that she was married Sunday to Mr. H. H. Hilton. This comes as a surprise to many friends here, in fact, the bride admits it was sooner than they expected at the time of her going home.

Miss Hale, came from Louisburg to Greenville about two years ago to take a position in the local telephone exchange, where she served acceptably until early this year when she exchanged it for the post office. She made a host of friends here and they all extend her best wishes for a happy wedded life.

"The Ladies Store"

Shorty drops in on New York!

Here we are, PETE!

New York, Wednesday

Camped once more in the plumb centre of our old stamping grounds—rubbing elbows with the roaring racket and running flush into more electric displays, blazing posters and swashing signs that sound the joys of Camel cigarettes than you'd ever believe could be jammed into one town! When I hit Broadway this p.m. I figured "Camel City" had been transplanted right up here!

It seems like all New Yorkers have adopted Camels as their own personal brand! And, PETE, since this is the original speed town, its only what you expect when you see 'em carry a package of Camels in each car pocket! If their right hand is busy they dig out their left hand deck—they just won't lose time getting a Camel lighted! That's the gait, old thoroughbred!

And, Peter, the New Yorker has his own A-1 pet reason why he's so keen for Camels! For instance, Doc Marshall will bet his car on Camels for quality against any cigarette in the world! Bill James says to me: "Shorty, there never was mild, mellow body like Camels!" And, as for Dan Boggs—he spills it that Camels are the only cigarette free from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or cigarette odor! Frank Frazer will tell you it's Camels wonderful Turkish & Domestic blend! And, ALL of them are right!

And, PETE, old proof-of-the-pudding—you tell 'em that Missouri hasn't anything on little old New York when it comes to that "show me" stuff on cigarettes—or anything else!

Sincerely Shorty.

SENATOR HARDING SPENDING TIME IN LONELY TERRITORY

President-elect Recovering From Campaign Strain at Port Isabel Near Brownsville

HURRY OR WORRY SAID TO BE UNTHINKABLE IN THIS SECTION OF THE UNIVERSE

Years Ago This Section of Texas Was Visited By Large Vessels From Many Sections

Point Isabel, Tex. Nov 17.— An out-of the way place in this gulf coast resort where President-elect Harding is recovering from the strain of the national campaign. For communication with the outside world it depends upon a narrow gauge railroad, to Brownsville, and automobile road, a few telegraph and telephone lines and the big government wireless station through which came the first direct information on the Corpus Christi storm of September, 1919.

Though only 20 miles from the busy border the city of Brownsville, it is like passing into a different country to make this 20 mile trip. On the way lies a plantation set in the palm trees with thatched palm huts of Mexican laborers, which is more suggestive of the Philippines than anything elsewhere in the United States. Beyond the planted area great flats and some low rolling hills on which the sky reveals here and there the straight sentinel like Spanish dagger. Hurry or worry is unthinkable in the lazy and almost perpetual sunshine of this region.

On its outer edge lies Point Isabel, a fishing village, with the always picturesque complement of Mexican population to be found in this extreme corner of the United States. A long wooden pier runs out into the water like a finger and the town extends along the shore at right angles to the finger. Padre Island, a stripe of sand dunes with trees here and there, lies in front of Point Isabel, forming the lagoon which the town faces. To the North this slender Island extends virtually unbroken for nearly 100 miles. Its Southern extremity reaches barely past Point Isabel's front door. The gulf surf comes in on the outside shore of the Island affording year round bathing while the lagoon is a big lake, in some places several miles wide. The fishing is on both sides of the Island. Red fish running up to 20 pounds and salt water trout which average three to six pounds are originally sought, but the varieties of big fish within fishermen's distance and almost endless Wild turkeys and quail abound in the adjacent territory and javelin or wild hog are numerous. Then there are the Mexican lions, which are about the size of a large Newfoundland dog and which have fully as much courage as a jackrabbit. There are also leopards and cats and bobcats, jackrabbits and cotton tail rabbits.
