

Fool Excuses Of Backsliders Keep Them Out Heaven

Mr. McLendon Describes Some of Them Who cherish Pleasurable Sins

EVANGELIST SAYS THE YARE SLAVES TO MONEY AND THAT THEY HAVENT THE SAND

South Carolina Cyclone Tries to Wake up the Sleeping Church Members

Evangelist B. F. McLendon returned from his home in Bennettsville, S. C. yesterday evening intine to preach at the service last night, and while depressed with the realization that his aged mother is nearing the end and cannot live but a few more days at most, he preached with his usual vigor and earnestness. He stated that it was his mother's earnest request that he return to Greenville even if she was nearing the end, and as his presence in the meeting might mean winning many souls to Christ.

In the absence of the evangelist the service yesterday afternoon was again conducted by Mrs. Steidley, and she made another delightful talk. She presents the gospel so plainly and so beautifully that the people hear her gladly.

The preliminary service last night was a real innovation that the large audience fully appreciated. It was High School night, all the choir stand being filled by the faculty and pupils of the school who gave the song service, with a program of recitations, but over-riding their school yells and tribute to Greenville and every member of the McLendon party characterized in song. The school reflected much credit upon itself and the community.

Mack's Sermon last night was from the text "Ye would not come to me that ye might have life". The toll of many things, pride, seeking pleasure, the love of money, especially the love of sin and having some sin they were not willing to surrender—that was keeping people from coming to Christ an being saved. He urged all to make a full and complete surrender to Christ, believing and having faith in Him, and live the holy life that is worth while in this world and make eternal happiness sure. There were a number of professions when the invitation was given at the close of the sermon.

There will be the usual two services today, at 3:00 and 7:30 o'clock.

Tomorrow there will be three services. At 10 o'clock in the morning Mr. McLendon will deliver a special Thanksgiving sermon, and at that time the Thanksgiving offering for the orphans will be made. Envelopes have been provided so that members of the different churches and their friends may contribute to the orphanage of their choice and the loose collection outside of envelopes will be divided between the churches having orphanages. There should be a large attendance at this union service and the orphans generously remembered. Mack will preach again at both 3 and 7:30 o'clock. Let tomorrow be made the greatest day of the evangelistic campaign here.

"Ye will not come to me that ye might have life." These words of Jesus Christ as recorded in John 5:40 Mack said last night he considers the saddest of the Lord's utterances.

After the tremendous sacrifice made for the salvation of humanity to have it all rejected by vast numbers of men was enough to break the heart of the Son of God.

The antonement said Mack, covers every man he be high or low. And all banker of bootblack if ever saved must come to Christ in the same way though the blood. God has arranged no special plan for any man or set of men.

Mack said that he would note a few of the "fool excuses" men and women give for not coming to Christ.

They cherish sin that they are not willing to give up. Slavery to money and pleasure blind them. They are hindered by pride—the fear of man. They have not the "sand" because it

ENGLISH BISHOPS FINDING IT HARD TO MEET EXPENSES

Bishops Say That They Are Worse Off Than When They Received Pay As Curates

London, Nov. 24.—High dignitaries of the English church are finding difficulty in making their official stipends meet the high cost of living.

Dr. Wintington, the bishop of London has leased his town mansion in St. James Square and announces that he is quite prepared to give up Fulham Palace, his magnificent official residence. The bishops' stipend is $10,000 a year. Being a man of simple habits, he does not spend $10,000 a year on himself, yet he is often heard to say that he is worse off now than when he was a curate.

The Archbishop of York and primate of England, Cosmo Gordon Lang, declares that it is quite impossible for him to maintain his home, Bishopthorpe Palace, and entertain his clergy adequately, on his official income of $9,000 a year, although he is a bachelor, says the Evening Standard.

The Bishop of Winchester, with 6,500 annual income, is in a similar plight. He has to maintain Farnham Castle, the largest bishop's palace in this country, with a deer park which is one of the sights of England.

The Bishop of Lichfield definitely announces that he is about to change his palace for a small house. He states that although the yearly income of his is $4,200, the necessary official charges leave him only $1,500 for the upkeep of the palace, which really requires $2,000 per year.

The Bishop of Worcester, who draw $3,000, is also considering the advisability of leasing his vast palace, Hartlebury Castle, to take a more modest dwelling.

AUSTRIAN FINANCES ARE GOING FROM BAD TO WORSE

Vienna, Nov. 24.—Austria's finances go from bad to worse. The government admits an estimated deficit this year of about 13,000,000,000 crowns but, allied investigators, and some newspapers place it nearer 20,000,000,000. The total indebtedness of the country is placed at approximately 80,000,000,000. Thirty three percent of the Austro-Hungarian bank circulation or about 23,000,000,000 crowns is now within the republic. The note circulation has increased four fold since April last.

FOR CALIFORNIA SURPLUS OF MILK LARGE NUMBER OF ALIENS NOW BOUND CANNED AND FRESH NOW IN AMERICA

Went to Europe to Fight For Their Native Countries Are Now Returning to America On Account of Such a Surplus Prices Should Be Lower Than At Present

Chicago, Nov. 24.—Larger numbers of immigrants from Europe are going to California, according to W. J. Black, passenger traffic manager of the Santa Fe System. He said they are mostly aliens who returned to Europe to fight for their native countries.

The California bound immigrants are chiefly French, Italians and Greek who are very good agriculturalists and find in the vineyards and orchards of California the best opportunity for their abilities, Mr. Black said.

Now that the war is over most of them are coming back and they are furnishing California with the largest stream of immigration I think it has ever had. This has been going on some six months and increasing slowly. I believe they average between 600 and 750 a month.

The immigrant trains that used to be run to Chicago before the war have not been resumed, Mr. Black said. One reason he said was that there were not enough immigrants to justify them, and another reason was that the Pullman tourist car was taking their place.

From information gathered from rail roads here it does not appear that many immigrants coming west are settling on farms. Some plans are being considered by roads, F. W. Halligan, assistant to the supervisor of agriculture of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, reported, for assisting immigrants with funds to locate on favorable lands in the northeast. It requires some money however for the immigrant to establish himself on his own land, and the observation at several railroads is that as a general thing immigrants arriving here are not so "overly burdened."

ITALIANS PREPARE TO EQUIP EMIGRANT NEW MODES OF LIFE

Organize a Syndicate Which Will look After the Best Interest of The Emigrant

Rome, Nov. 24.—A syndicate with a capital of 3,500,000 lire has been organized here to promote emigration and to assist the Italian emigrants in their enterprises in which they may engage in other countries. It is intended also to make a study of the opportunities offered by the foreign countries to Italian immigrants and to protect them in their efforts to find new homes and means of livelihood outside of Italy.

The syndicate includes in its membership some of the most important Italian banks, steamship companies and representatives of workmen's organizations, both socialist and Catholic.

In order to equip the emigrants for new modes of life in foreign countries special schools have been founded to teach them to read and write and to train them for trades or for farm work.

It is understood here that Brazil is the country having the greatest need for workers but the Brazil requires, no so many individual immigrants as it needs entire families to populate the immense extent of land. Further more, Italian emigration to Brazil is held some what in check by the belief that large capital would be needed to cut the forests from the land which the Brazilian government desires to populate. It is pointed out that the syndicate now organized may furnish some of the capital required for that purpose.

NOW FACING THIRD WINTER AND A LARGE NUMBER CALL TO US TO HELP THEM

Twenty Three Millions Must Be Raised Without Delay In Order to Save Them

To the Publishers, "The Literary Digest", New York City, Gentlemen:

In our several discussions of last summer, I urge you to make an independent investigation of the whole problem of American charitable relief in Europe, and of the work then carried on by my colleagues and myself in support, direct and indirect, of more than 3,500,000 waif undernourished and orphaned children.

Now that your treasurer has returned from Europe, I venture again to bring the matter to your attention.

As the representative of the United States Government and with a liberal appropriation from Congress, I administered measures of economic relief to Europe from soon after the Armistice until the summer of 1919, when our governmental intervention we ceased. As one of the measures inaugurated during that first winter, we cared for some 6,000,000 waif, undernourished, sick, and orphaned children. Conditions were improved easily in the year of 1920, but there still remained more than 3,500,000 children so pitifully in need that America could not desert them. In every country in the areas of destitution we have developed Local Committees aggregating over one hundred thousand volunteers, to carry on the work of distribution, while local charity, municipalities, and their governments provide not only all local expenditure, but also such local supplies as are available. My colleagues and myself had hoped to return to our own personal avocations, but could not conscientiously do so. With remainders of various funds, and with the help of contributions from racial organizations in this county, in addition to cooperation with the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, and later with the friends' Service Committee (Quakers) who went in Germany, we organized on a voluntary basis the administration and distribution of child care in the most distressed areas. In this the Y. W. C. A. provided an efficient and devoted group of young women. During this period, happily, the RedCross and other organizations carried medical and general attention to some additional 100,000 children. That there have been a few deaths from starvation and cold among the children has been due solely to America's charity and American backing.

We now face the third winter, and although it has been possible with recuperation of last harvest to retire from some countries their children in the care of capable committees which we organized and trained, yet other areas are in even worse condition, and some 3,500,000 children again call to the heart and resources of America for their daily supplies of milk, fats, clothing, that are not available in their own countries and that are vital to their survival and to the rebuilding of their physical well-being.

Our resources will be exhausted in January. We ask other American organizations to lift the further responsibility of this work from our shoulders, but so far none of them has felt able to assume the gigantic task. We must not step aside and permit the specter of death in the form of hunger and cold to haunt these helpless ones this winter, yet we cannot continue without help. No one knows better than I do the many home burdens of our own people but I believe that we can care for our own and still protect these forlorn victims of war. Upon their development will depend much of Europe's stability

TAX COLLECTORS PLACE HIGH TAXES ON ALL ARTICLES

Sugar is Taxed Ten Cents a Pound in Turkey And Automobiles Taxed $225

New York, Nov. 24.—Turkish tax collectors spare nothing from levies except school books, and the assessments run so high that 10 cents a pound is exacted on all sugar while a tax of $200, recently was demanded on an automobile that sells for $395 in the United States.

These untrifled tax collectors have hoisted the rates to such an altitude that the Near East Relief injected a protest, its headquarters here was informed in a letter from one of their workers in Samsoun, Armenia, about 300 miles from Constantinople.

Liquor, blighted by prohibition since October 1 is taxed a certain sum per bottle, irrespective of quality, the letter said. The best-time limit for exporting all intoxicants from the country (the Kemal government will confiscate the balance of stocks.)

For thirty years special taxation has been exercised to fill a swamp that has caused malaria to blossom and flourish constantly, but, the writer said, these hundreds of thousand of Turkish pounds have filled official pockets while the marsh still remains unfilled. The Near East Relief has a hospital only a mile away, and has persistently requested that this plague spot be removed.

Dr. K. J. Marden, head of the Near East Hospital at Marsovan, has performed many minor operations to remove tattoo marks from Armenian girls, continued the letter.

 Moscow

RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT

ATTEMPTING TO SEND

AGITATORS TO THE U. S.

Wartime Passport Regulations Considerably Modified for
 The Foreigners

The Hague, Nov. 23.—American diplomatic officials abroad who are in possession of evidence of propaganda schemes originating in Moscow are opposed to any attempt to abandon the United States passport and visa system now in operation. This is because they are convinced that the Russian Soviet government has been attempting to send hundreds of dangerous agitators to the United States.

Wartime passport regulations have been considerably modified, both for Americans and foreigners seeking American visas, in the past few months and every attempt will be made, it was said, to make travel as easy as possible abroad next summer. But in face of the evidence which has accumulated during the past few months indicate a determined effort by the Bolshevik government to spread its jurisdiction to America, the diplomatic officials do not wish to surrender their most potent safeguard against its passport control.

"So far as the would be emigrant is concerned, One American official said, things have been just so simplified for him that in ten minutes time providing his own government considers him a worthy subject and has so evidenced this by giving him a passport, he can answer all the questions we want to know about him. If he is satisfactory he can get his visa the same day and be on his way to the United States speedily.

The American travelling abroad will get all the assistance possible to give him. If he frets because of the necessity of securing visa from various other consulates if he wishes to visit several countries and passes to front-tier inspections he must remember that perhaps the man who sat next to him in the railway car was a Bolshevik or an anarchist, en route some place with a bomb, who might be stopped at the frontier before he could throw the bomb.

American coming abroad will save themselves much difficulty if, just as they go on the bank before leaving to get a letter of credit, they will secure a foreign consulates in America visas permitting them to enter all the countries they wish to visit.

While most of the Bolshevik agents enroute to America seek to get through on false seaman's certificates or by other surreptitious means, according to American officials here, there are a number of nifty ones who appear at American passport bureaus, from time to time, and request legitimate visas.

PLACES BLAME ON TRADES UNION FOR HOUSE SHORTAGES

London, Nov. 23.—Dr. Christopher Addison, Minister of Health, blames the trades union in part for the shortage of houses in England. In an article in the Times he points out that there has been a great shrinkage of bricklayers, carpenters, masons and other branches of the building trades and says there are now not enough men in these trades to do the work. Yet he adds, there are thousands outside of the trades who are unemployed but if an attempt were made to use them in building houses "we are faced with the trade union bar". The unions contend that their numbers are unduly inflated now, the unemployment among them will be even greater than ever when the present demand for houses has been satisfied.

Admitting this Dr. Addison asks:
 In the face of national demand for houses, in the face of the widespread of unemployment among ex-service men and others, can any trade union maintain its restrictions? Can one class one trade, permanently stand in the path of the community and in its own class interest bar the way to progress, prosperity, and resettlement? The state which will submit to such action is saddling itself with a sectional tyranny.

ROUSE-COX

Beautiful Wedding Synchronized in Winterville today

St. Luke's church in Winterville was scene of a beautiful wedding this afternoon, when Miss Oliveria Cox became bride of Mr. T. W. Rouse of Greenville. The church was tastefully decorated with white chrysanthemums and potted plants. Mrs. C. J. Cox Jr. of Wilson presided at the organ and prior to the entrance of the bridal party rendered a musical program. She played Lohengrin's as the processional. Traumatic during the ceremony and Mendelessom wedding march for the recessional.

Miss Jeannette Cox' sister of the bride, as maid of honor, attended in Peach color satin trimmed in silver lace, black picture hat and wearing a corsage of pink roses was the first of the bridal party enter. She was followed by the bride who entered with her uncle Mr. J. D. Cox, of Winterville, who gave her in marriage. She was attired in a beautiful navy blue velvet suit trimmed with brown beaver with accessories to match. She carried a shower of bride's roses and valley lilies. Her only ornament was a handsome string of pearls, a gift of the groom. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, and brother, Mr. G. A. Rouse of Farmville, N. C. Rev. Ch. Bascom, the brides pastor performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Rouse is the third daughter of Dr. B. T. Cox, of Winterville and a graduate in music of North Carolina College for women. Since graduation she has taught music one year and for the past two years has been a resident of Greenville, N. C. working in the office of Mr. H. A. White. During her stay here she has won a host of friends and is admired by all with whom she comes in contact.

The groom is the son of Mrs. A. N. Rouse, of Nashville, N. C. and for two years has been associated with the Greenville Publishing Co. He is a splendid business man and popular in the business circles of the city.

Immediately after the ceremony they motored to Greenville where they boarded the Norfolk and Southern for northern cities.

After their return they will make their home with Mrs. T. M. Hooker on Evans Street.

Among the out of town guests were Mrs. H. M. Rouse, of Goldsboro, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Rouse of Farmville and Miss Pauline Rouse of Nashville.

ALLEN-JENKINS

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Jenkins was scene of a beautiful wedding last evening at eight o'clock when their daughter, Miss Lucy Jenkins became the bride of Mr. James Allen in the presence of many friends. The bride was dressed in a blue tricotine coat-suit with hat and gloves to match, descended the stairs and was met in the living room by the groom. To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Mrs. Leon Tyson, sister of the bride, they entered the parlor where they were met by Rev. Shamhart of the Christian church, who spoke the impressive words that made them one. During the ceremony Humoresque was softly played. Immediately after the ceremony, amid showers of good wishes and hastily good byes the happy couple left for the home of the groom near Greenville.

Mrs. Allen is an attractive and accomplished young lady, being a graduate of the E. C. T. S. and having taught in several sections of the state. Mr. Allen is the son of the late Mr. Thomas Allen, and is one of Pitt county's most promising young farmers. Their many presents show the popularity and the esteem in which both were held.

WEDNESDAY EVENING NOV. 24

Thanksgiving Day tomorrow.

All the stores and business houses will be closed tomorrow.

The tobacco market will have no more sales until Monday.

Attend the union Thanksgiving service in the tent at 10 o'clock tomorrow and make a liberal donation to the orphans.

Plenty of hunters will be after the hunters tomorrow.

Here is hoping everybody will enjoy a good Thanksgiving dinner tomorrow.

There will be some big races at the fair grounds tomorrow morning.

Keep your eye on Reflector advertisements and you will catch the bargains the merchants are offering.

The Reflector feels grateful enough for the blessings of the past year to observe Thanksgiving tomorrow. There will be no paper.

Instead of the United States getting in the League of Nations, there is intimation that there may soon be an alliance among several European nations in the commercial line against this country with the view of cutting us off from foreign trade. America may yet have to repent the folly of the past year.

Tomorrow is Thanksgiving Day. Surely every heart has abundant cause to return thanks to Almighty God for His blessings during the past year. Let us in some expression of gratitude to the giver of all good. It is well that one day in the year should be set apart for this purpose, for the Nation that forgets there is a God who rules the world and holds the destiny of all men in His hands is not worthy to exist. Remember to lift your heart in Thanksgiving to this God tomorrow.

A DAY FOR THE ORPHANS

A philosopher in distinguishing between man and the other animals says man is the animal who laughs. That is a distinction, but that is not the distinction. Man is the animal that shows an unselfish interest in others. He is the builder of hospitals, of orphan asylums, of museums, libraries, parks, play grounds homes for the disabled, and such things for others than himself. He establishes relief funds for sufferers after the earthquake, or the war or fire. The Red Cross the Knights of Columbus, the Jewish Relief and similar institutions.

It is these traits of helpfulness that characterize us as different from other animals.

North Carolina should respond liberally to the call for the maintenance of the orphans which is now before us. A day's income is suggested. What is a day--one day? We think nothing of day off to go fishing, or to sit around town, or idle away in any other manner. A day as most of us measure it is a trivial contribution. But what will it do for children who by force of circumstances are dependent on the generosity of others. What is a boy or girl worth to the state, or to us as sympathetic individuals? What is a day's work worth in any other form as compared with what it will do under such circumstances as help to care for a child? What will you do personally about it? Consider the purpose that the amount involved and then take a look into your pocket and see if you cannot pay this little debt to humanity and this little investment in the welfare of the future of the state.

HERBERT HOOVER MAKES AN APPEAL FOR RELIEF FUNDS

(Continued from page one.) In the next generation, and it is for us to say whether they are to survive or be left to die or become unfit for a useful part in the future. This is a charge upon the American heart, and America cannot fail in her solicitude for these little ones.

Twenty-three million dollars must be raised without delay, and remembering the new heart you put into the Commission for relief in Belgium in the dark hours of 1916, I come to you again.

Yours faithfully

FOOL EXCUSES OF BACKSLIDERS KEEP THEM FROM HEAVEN

takes bravery to come out on Christ's side and stay there.

The they frequently wait for feeling feeling is alright, said Mack, but you must not put the cart before the horse feeling is a result of believing and comes only after you have become a Christian and know the old account is settled.

God says that a course of salvation is through facts, through faith to feelings. The devil a saint would be once in a while and he keeps the sinner in custody by preaching to him that he must start with feeling and through faith to get the facts.

Mack says he knows there is a devil first, because the Bible says so and in the second place because he has done business with him. And the world is full of the foot prints of the devil just as God Almighty.

Some of Mack's observations in the course of his sermon were:

In many of the fine mansions there is a skeleton in the closet. Ofttimes a man puts on a smile and hides a broken heart.

You don't expect to have the feeling of a Christian before you become a Christian.

Many will not sacrifice a crooked business nor a crooked price of an honest business.

The slavery of money is as complete and as degrading as is the slave of strong drink.

The reason that some men in this town are not Christians is because they haven't anything for a backbone except a cotton string with two or three ribs tied to it.

We are turning religion into an ethical code and ritual.

Men have big ideas in business but they are dwarfed when applied to church enterprise.

A man is known by the company he keeps out of.

Camel

CIGARETTES

Moose Head Lake, Maine.

Pete, here's word from the woods!

Certainly slipped on not tipping you that Mr. Bacon invited me to join his shooting party up here. Arrived at his Northeast Carry Camp at sunset yesterday. And a riot started before we squared up to the venison steak! Listen, old bull pup, my tales short!

Bleak Nixon, head guide, while unpacking, made the terrible discovery that ALL the Camel cigarettes had been swiped in transit! NEVER heard such a howl as the whole outfit set up! Nixon swore in Indian-plus-canuck! Just wouldn't be pacified! Bleak's been rooting for Camels since November 1915. Says there never was such smoothness, or refreshing flavor, or mild body in a cigarette as Camels provide! (Pete, Bleak is o.k. on that). While the row was on what does Nixon do but hop into his canoe and disappear into the depths of the night!

About three this morning there was a roar such as no man ever heard in the wild woods! It was Nixon yelling like a double-decked bull moose! That bird had crossed the lake, picked up a trail and beat it to a little way-back store where he got the boss out of bed and made him come across with all the Camels he had! The storekeeper kicked like a handfull of aces—but, Bleak always gets what he goes after! It's the nerve, old tooth! And, now we're all filled with the mien of human kindness and Camel contentment! We'll get game!

Peter, think of digging up a bunch of Camels in the depths of Maine's densest woods! And, that's the way it is all over the U.S.A! You're never out of luck when you smoke Camels! Pete, old hub, I've spoke—as the cook puts it!

Back in New York—will—soon!!!

SOME SALES MADE TUESDAY

The sales blocked again Tuesday. Very little tobacco came in last night and this morning and it looks now that we will finish our sales today. We sold yesterday 4,220 pounds for $65,595.61 average a fraction over 28 cents for entire sale. At times it was necessary for the house to buy hearty to sustain prices.

We believe the market will open stronger Monday as it will by that time get all tobacco worked and be in grand shape. Drive to Gorman's and you will go home with the top of the market. We look for small sales next week. We have 3rd mon. 2 Tues. 1st Wed
