

Mack Preaches Two Strong Sermons On Thanksgiving Day

Greenville observed Thanksgiving day in a way which will long be remembered. Every store and place of business was closed and the day passed as quietly as if it had been Sunday.

The evangelist whose heart is full of love for his fellowmen, explained in a forceful and convincing manner the importance of love in this sinful world.

Mr. Carroll delighted the large audience with a solo "Will the circle be unbroken?" Mr. Carroll is a musical director of real ability.

Sunday will be the closing day of the revival and will be the big day at the tent. Three big sermons are scheduled for that day and it is being looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure by God's people.

Below we give a synopsis of the sermon on love, by Mr. McLendon.

I am going to preach to you on the first seven verse of the 13th chapter of Paul's first letter to the Corinthians. You notice that I use the word divine love instead of charity.

Men with hearts full of selfishness are building great hopes for time and eternity upon the fact that they have given so much to the poor and various charitable institutions.

But vindictive religion at the cost of our lives will profit nothing if we have not divine love. The most grievous suffering, the most costly sacrifices will not recommend us to God.

ments hesitation the decision fails.

The greatest of these is love. Paul begins by contrasting love with other things that men in those days thought much of. First he contrasts it with the gift of tongue.

The second thing that Paul contrasts with love is gift of prophecy. He describes this gift in the very highest form of its manifestation.

The third thing that Paul contrasts with love is faith, miracle working faith, in the highest conceivable form.

Then Paul contrasts magnificent giving. Though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, why is love greater than charity.

He says, if I give my body to be burned and have not love, it profiteth me nothing. Should we sacrifice our lives for the faith of the gospel and be burnt to death in maintaining its truth.

But vindictive religion at the cost of our lives will profit nothing if we have not divine love. The most grievous suffering, the most costly sacrifices will not recommend us to God.

Love has fifteen marks which are never wanting where love exists. The first mark of love is suffers long.

Wages Campaign For Protection Of R R Crossings

Association of State Railway and Utility Commission to Wage Campaign

SPECIAL COMMITTEE WILL INVESTIGATE SUBJECT AT AN EARLY DATE

Recommends That Warning Signs be Placed in The Highways

Washington, Nov. 26.—A campaign for the passage of laws in all states requiring better protection of railroad grades crossings is to be carried on by members of the Association of State Railway and Utility Commissions.

A special committee appointed to investigate the whole subject said the elimination of all grade crossings in the United States would probably cost as much as all the railroads are worth.

Railroad companies should be required to maintain within the limits of their rights of way proper cautionary signs to be equipped with red lights at night where necessary.

Other provisions of the proposed law includes:

Crossing flagmen to use during the day a uniform disk 16 inches in diameter painted white with a black border and the word stop painted there on in black letters about five inches high.

Railroad property at grade crossings to be maintained free from obstructions to vision, and highway approaches to be graded so as to permit free passage of vehicles.

Automobile drivers to come to full stop at crossings not protected by gates or a flagman.

Wheat Board Pays Final Dividend Of 18 cents a Bushel

Winnipeg, Manitoba, Nov. 24.—A final dividend of 18 cents a bushel will be paid the farmers by the Canadian Wheat Board.

This payment will bring the 1919 price, based on Northern wheat in storage at Fort William, to $2.63 a bushel or an average price throughout the year of $2.50 at points of shipment in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

The board has already distributed $38,000,000 on interim dividends and payment of the remainder of 28,000,000 is expected to be completed before the first of the year.

never wanting where love exists. The first mark of love is suffers long. Not in a hurry, calm suffers long, beareth all things, hopeth all things meek and quite spirit.

SECRETARY COLBY SETS FORTH POSITION OF THE UNITED STATES IN NOTE

Question of Mesopotamian Petroleum Are Now Being Discussed

Washington, Nov. 26.—The American government has informed Great Britain politely, but firmly, that it does not propose to be excluded from participation in the rights and privileges secured under mandates provided in the treaties of peace.

The position of the United States is set forth in a note by secretary Colby to Earl Curzon, the British Secretary of State for foreign affairs and the specific question discussed is that of the Mesopotamian petroleum fields.

The American note takes issue with what is described the British position that mandate agreement and treaties are to be considered only by states that are members of the League of Nations.

Mr. Colby says in this note that the American government accepts the statement of the British government that it has refrained from exploiting and "welcomes your pledges" that it is far from the intention of Great Britain to establish any kind of monopoly or preferred position in its own interests.

"I need hardly refer again," Mr. Colby continues, "to the fact that the government of the United States has consistently urged that it is of the utmost importance to the future peace of the world that alien territory transferred as a result of the war with the Central Powers should be held and administered in accordance with the principles of justice and equity."

Students Observe Thanksgiving Day Training School

Day Was Full of Joy and Happiness For Every Student At the Training School

Thanksgiving Day at the Training School was a full and happy day for the students. Their day began at 7:15 with a Thanksgiving prayer service conducted by the Y. W. C. A.

The dinner at one o'clock was an enjoyable occasion, not only because of the excellent Thanksgiving dinner, but because of the toasts and fun.

The Junior team, with two members of the faculty as sponsors, had a special table also. The families of the faculty members and officers were apart of the Training school family dinner.

Miss Josie Dorsett, president of the senior class, was toast mistress. The toasts were responded to as follows:

Our Refectory, Miss Lottie Lee Blanchard; Student Government, Miss Ruth Poindexter; "The and Now", Thanksgiving long ago and this one, Miss Anabel Wood; Our Future A Class president, To the losing team, Miss Emily Langley; to the winning team, Miss Gladys Monroe; To the Senior Miss Leon Meadows, Junior, Miss Blanche Croom.

During the afternoon the girls were free to do as they pleased. The Poe Literary Society at six o'clock presented to the school scenes from "Twelfth Night." This was a charming performance. Costumes for the principal characters were from a costumer, and were very handsome and effective.

Miss Helen Bahnsen, as Viola, was lovely and did remarkable acting. Miss Annie Laurie Bacon was a beautiful Olivia. Miss Pattie Hunter took the part of the Duke. Miss Nell Pappindick was a delightful jester.

The black back ground was used as it was in Shakespeare's day. The performance lasted about an hour.

In the evening most of students attended services at the tent. Work was resumed this morning as usual.

Supt. E. C. Brooks Extols Record Of State's Schools

Says That Within Five Years That Elementary Schools Will Be Rated Best in U. S.

S. B. UNDERWOOD MAKES SPLENDID TALK ALONG LINES OF EDUCATION

7,627 Teachers Attended Summer School During Last Semester of 1920

Ashville, Nov. 26.—Elementary schools, portrayed by Dr. Frank P. Beachman as the nursery of illiteracy in North Carolina are already being improved and within five years they will be rated as the best in the United States.

The biggest progressive educational program in the history of North Carolina has already been started and well under way, said Dr. Brooks.

"During the last summer training courses, 7,627 teachers were in attendance, he continued. That number of teachers a record breaking attendance for North Carolina, lasted four six to eight weeks and resulted in 5,577 teachers raising the value of their teaching certificates.

"We plan to strengthen this work this year and every year after 1920. With this plan in view we believe that every unprepared teacher in North Carolina will have been eliminated before five years elapse.

Dr. Brooks followed on the program an address made by R. H. Wright president of the commission, which authorized the educational survey of North Carolina. Mr. Wright's address was a continuation of the report made at a previous assembly meeting by Dr. Frank P. Bachman, of the general education board who had declared that the elementary schools of the State represent a cradle of illiteracy.

Dr. Bachman had furnished facts and figures showing that North Carolina is far behind other States in its educational program and pictured chaotic conditions in the State schools.

Dr. Wright in continuing the report of the findings of the survey board, as left off by Dr. Bachman, undertook to tell of the spirit in mind and facts that prompt the school officials to call for the educational survey.

"We wanted to find out the actual conditions in North Carolina, find out just what was wrong, so that we could start to work rebuilding knowing just what the defects were," he pointed out.

"We have completed this survey and now plan to eliminate the bad educational phases and strengthen the good one."

Dr. Brooks emphasized that fact that North Carolina already has started on school improvement work as advised in the report. As an example he stressed the work already begun in improving the teachers training facilities, the increasing numbers of teachers trained only last summer.

"In order to accomplish this work, we have already mapped out plans whereby we believe we can get the State to set aside a $1,000,000 special school building fund. This money, it is planned will be loaned by the State to the various counties, interest free, for the expense purpose of building one standard high school each," he concluded.

Unless school teachers immediately check and turn into the right channels the emotion of the average school child the now threatened radical world upheaval will materialize within another generation and the whole foundation of education will be torn down, members of the North Carolina Teacher's Assembly were warned tonight at a meeting held in the First Baptist Church.

The warning came from two different men, S. B. Underwood, president of the assembly, and from Dr. Edwin Mims, professor of English, Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn., and a former president of the assembly. Both warnings were made keynote of two separate addresses, Mr. Underwood said. (Continued on page two.)

ing his warning when making the annual president's address and Dr. Mims, his, in addressing the body on the subject "The New Challenge."

While all teachers knew that the theme of tonight's meeting was to be one in which they were to be inspired, to speak it is safe to say that none realized for just what fight they were to be inspired. Both speakers led up to their point by explaining the duties of a successful teacher, that of directing the mind of the child of the next generation. They were made to feel the duty that rests upon their shoulders, that of keeping the world on its centuries old track of graded improvement, by teaching the successes and failures of past generations, so that the future generation will know in just what path to follow in order to reach that final promised land of a so-called millennium.

The first baking proves it

SHE had sworn never to bake another cake. Her cook book was filled with recipes, and her kitchen shelves, loaded with half emptied cans of baking powder, told of fruitless efforts to bake a cake that would really rise. She simply lacked the "knack."

But one day this earnest wife and mother learned of Ballard Self-Rising Flour.

She purchased a sack—mixed her batter in a jiffy—put it in the oven and, lo and behold! the cake she baked was so light, so rich and delicious her own mother couldn't have bettered it!

Baking is sure and easy when you use Ballard Self-Rising Flour. It is made of finest winter wheat, rolled four times and sifted through silk until it's as pure and clean as it can be. It contains soda, salt and phosphate in correct proportions—all you need to do is add shortening and milk or water to make delicious biscuits, rolls and cake—quickly and economically!

Ask your grocer for the best self-rising flour he has—

It's Ballard

Note: We guarantee Ballard Self-Rising Flour to be made out of Obelisk Flour. Do not use soda, salt, phosphate or sour milk.
