

Three Sermons To Bring McLendon Meeting To Close

Three Big Services at the tent Tomorrow at 11:00 A. M., 3:00 and 7:30 Evening. IT IS EXPECTED THAT THE LAST DAY OF REVIVAL WILL BE BANNER ONE At the Night Services Mack Will Bid Farewell to People of This Section

Evangelist McLendon gave another especially strong sermon last night, his subject being "Sinning Against the Holy Ghost". He said there are various opinions as to what the unpardonable sin is. He had carefully and prayerfully studied God's word and sought all other help on this subject, and he came to the belief that the sin against the Holy Ghost is the continued rejection of God's offer of forgiveness. Man, though time and again entreated once too often says so to God, and when the Holy Spirit is withdrawn from his his doom is sealed and he is lost. There were several professions at the close of the sermon.

Tomorrow will be the last day of the meeting and the campaign which began four weeks ago will close with the services Sunday night. Three services will be held tomorrow, at 11:00 A. M., 3:00 and 7:30 P. M. The subject of the morning sermon will be "Let us run the race", for the afternoon, "The harvest is past", for the evening "And he said tomorrow". It is hoped to make this closing day the greatest of the campaign in winning souls to Christ. "Mack" has preached the Gospel plainly and with force during these four weeks here. He has not failed to disclose the whole counsel of God and has fearlessly denounced sin in all its forms. Not only has he been faithful to bring sinners to repentance and confession, but with equal emphasis has urged church members to more consecrated lives and more faithfulness in attendance at prayer meetings and Sunday services. He wanted to see all people lead clean, upright lives and love God with all their hearts.

Mr. McLendon and all of the faithful calaboners in his party have made thousands of friends among the people of Pitt county during their stay here. The meeting has been a great blessing to the town and all the surrounding country and only eternity can measure the good that has been accomplished. Mack and his party will leave Monday morning for their respective homes and will be separated for two months, as he will hold no meetings in December or January. His engagement is in Asheville beginning the first Monday in February and his party will rejoin him there.

Below we give a synopsis of his sermon last night on "Sinning Against the Holy Ghost is not one glaring act but the constant repetition of the same thing".

Wherefore I say unto you, all manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men, but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men, and whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of Man it shall be forgiven him, but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost it shall not be forgiven him neither in this world, neither in the world to come—Matthew 22:31-32.

I would like to know where you universalists get any ground to stand on there. I would believe God before any universalist that ever walked the black dirt. The Pharisees said that Jesus was in co-operation with the devil, and not only did they make that charge, but they said that he was a devil. They told him he did what he did through Beelzebub, the prince of devils. Jesus said unto them, "Then why I sit, if I am in league with the devil tell me how it is that I am trying to overthrow the works of the devil?" Then he pointed out to a house and said, "I that house is divided, it will fall. Now, he says, if what you say is true I would not be working to destroy the works of the devil but I would be trying to overthrow the works of God. After that they never tried to answer his argument.

There are several theories about sinning against the Holy Ghost. One is that this sin could only have been committed by people who saw Jesus Christ in the flesh when he was here in this world two thousand years ago. A second class think it could have been committed since then, but at rare intervals. Then there is a large class of men who think they have committed it, and the ygo about looking like weeping willow, and are perfectly useless to themselves or the community in which they live. Now with all these discordant views and opinions, I have not the slightest doubt crowds of people who are walking these streets every day come under the head of many messages. Their consciences as at ease, they are never down cast, depressed, or gloomy, they eat three meals a day and nothing seems to disturb them, they sleep as sound as a babe. Life seems to be all pleasure and song.

I have studied this question a great deal. I have read sermons—Torry Chapman, A. B. Earle, Talmadge Spurgeon, Scoville—and I have heard every sermon that I have had an opportunity of listening to, and I have read every thing the Bible has taught on this subject. Yet with all my study of this subject I do not say that my views are infallible, I will try to ask and answer a few questions.

First, what is sinning against the Holy Ghost? It is not murder, adultery, swearing, drunkenness, but I believe it is continual and final rejection of Jesus Christ. It is no special form of sin. It might be lying, or drunkenness, or lust; and any one of these becomes unpardonable if God keeps calling on you to forsake these sins and you keep on refusing to do so. I believe the time will come when the Spirit will withdraw and will let you alone, and God will never ask you again to forsake it. Listen people. The day is coming when God will ask you to forsake sin for the last time. Do not think that glancing against the Holy Ghost is one glaring thing but it is the constant and continual repetition of the thing. God is calling you to give up sin tonight and every time you hear the call and resist the call then you become stronger in your power to resist.

The people two thousand years ago refused to recognize Jesus Christ as their saviour or acknowledge Him as their Lord and King until their hatred culminated in His Crucifixion. It made no difference how many funeral processions he stopped and how many people he raised from the dead or what kind of sermon he preached or truths he taught or miracles he performed it was all the same to the heavy faced sleepy-eyed crowd. They cried away with him. He is an imposter. He is not the Son of God! People it is the way today. No matter how many truths are flashed on you, no matter

THANKSGIVING DAY GREATLY ENJOYED BY TYSON FAMILY

Decendents of Early Tyson Settlers In Pitt County Have Great Re-union

Thanksgiving Day was a great day with about two hundred descendants of the early Tyson settlers in Pitt county, when they gathered on the grounds at Tyson's church, about nine miles west of Greenville. It was appropriate that this spot should be chosen for this first gathering. This was in the midst of the Tyson settlements more than two hundred years ago. Much land was taken up by Cornelius Tyson and his holdings were several thousand acres. There the Tysons multiplied and making other settlements increased their holdings by other thousands of acres and some time in those days a church was built on Tyson land and became known as Tyson's church. Records of the Kehukee Association show that there was a church near Contentnea creek admitted to the Association in 1783. Whether that was this church is not known, but when this church was built and organized dates beyond present remembrance and traditions of the Tysons. It is known that it was there long antedating the fifties and then as a "free church," that is all denominations held services there. But there were church feeling and disputes and about 1854 the Disciples built Antioch church, (now in Farmville) and left Tyson's. Other denominations continued to occupy it a number of years. About 1870, deeds having been given for an acre of land a little west and on the opposite side of the road to the Methodists, they built a church and left old Tyson's which since has become to be considered only as a Primitive Baptist church. The present

PLANS NOW BEING MADE FOR RELIEF WORK IN RUSSIA

American Friend's Service Committee Announces it is Beginning Relief Work

Philadelphia, Nov. 26.—The American Friends Service Committee has announced that it is beginning relief work in Russia. It has just been notified that Miss Anna J. Haines, of Moorestown, N. J., an experienced worker who spent several years in Russia in relief work under the governments of the Emperor and Kerensky, will soon arrive in Reval. She plans to go to Moscow where she will co-operate with Arthur J. Watts, an English Friend, who has been working in Russia for the past six months.

Miss Haines will take $100,000 worth of supplies, mostly medical, into Russia and she and her assistants will direct their distribution. The committee says the Friends will have complete control of all supplies sent to Russia and will allot them to institutions and the most needy of the civilian population. They will begin by distributing condensed milk, cod liver oil, chocolate, soap, shoes, stockings and woolen goods, in addition to medical supplies.

Russia's greatest need today is reported to be for medical and sanitary supplies and clothing. The people of the agricultural districts are in want only of the medicines. Hospitals in Russia are said to have had no other for five years and when operations are performed the patients are strapped to the operating tables.

Owing to the complete breakdown of the transport system in Russia, the greatest suffering was reported to the Friends to exist in large cities like Moscow and Petrograd, where a huge industrial population cannot obtain supplies. In those cities the distress is reported to be acute. Petrograd has lost 50 per cent of its population within the past four months.

Local Ministers Deny False Statement Against McLendon

Under the following headlines "One sinner accused by preacher. Hush money fills collection plate the following statement is made in the Washington Daily News of Nov. 1920 and hundreds of other papers, north and south. We do not offer any explanations as to why such a statement should have been made; but we have seen it with our own eyes and handled it with our hands, and here it goes:

Washington, N. C. Nov. 19.—Captain George T. Leach of this city, well known throughout all eastern North Carolina, returned from the McLendon revival meeting at Greenville today with an interesting story of an event which is said to have happened during the services. Captain Leach says that after two or three hymns had been sung, McLendon rose in the pulpit and addressed the congregation. He said that he had been making an investigation of conditions in Greenville and had made an important discovery that very same day. There was a man in the congregation he said, who was not living an upright life. This man had not been true to his family or to his religion. Furthermore, the preacher stated that he was going to put that man to a test. If he deposited $10. in the collection plate when it was passed around it would be taken as a sign of repentance. If he failed to put in the $10. "Mack" said he would publicly announce the man's name immediately afterwards.

Captain Leach says that the collection plate was passed in the midst of tense silence. When all the plates had been handed in, it was found that they contained 75 ten dollar bills and four notes, asking "Mack" for God's sake keep quiet and they would pay him $10. in the morning. We, the ministers of the Churches of Greenville, North Carolina, hereby wish to state that the above item which has been scattered all over the country, is absolutely without the foundation of fact; and the citizens of our city join us in refuting its words and in supporting our brother, "Mack" is a courageous, red blooded preacher of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, and we are glad to advertise him and our city for God and righteousness, as we send out this statement.

POSTMASTER NO MARKSMAN BUT HE GETS THE GAME

Postmaster D. J. Whichard almost had a side show on the A. C. L. train on which he was returning home Thanksgiving eve from Whichard where he spent Thanksgiving with his cousin, E. B. Whichard, and put in part of the day hunting. Laying his gun from which was suspended a large string of game across two seats caught the eye of some of the passengers and fully half of those in the coach moved up to look in this seat and admire the "big catch."

Friends today have been quizzing him with "How many birds did you kill Thursday," and the standing reply was "I brought in nineteen birds and to speak for itself the reply did not answer the "killing" question, for he is known to the poorest shot in seventeen states and that a bird before his gun is in no more danger than if a blank shell was fired at him. "Well, you see," he explained to the doubting Thomases, "I know who to select for a hunting companion, for when a bird gets up before Ernest Whichard there is not the ghost of a chance of its whistling "Bob White" any more. Some shot? Yes siree, and when he pulls the trigger they fall in singles, in doubles, and even sometimes in triples. And when it comes to a Thanksgiving dinner spread he sets before you baking possum, barbecued pig, old ham, turkey and all the side dishes that Delmonico could not surpass."

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 27.—Monumental posts are soon to be erected in eighteen counties in Central Illinois to mark the road traveled by Abraham Lincoln in 1847 when he was most actively engaged in the practice of law.

In those days, Lincoln and other lawyers of the vicinity traveled with the court, then Judge David Davis, over what was known the eighth Judicial Circuit. Horses and buggies were used it taking some time more than a day to travel from one court to another. The monuments will be erected on the county lines and boulder markers will also be erected in each county seat where Judge Davis held court. The work has been promoted by an organization formed for the purpose called the Lincoln Circuit Marking Association.

New York, Nov. 27.—Presidents of life insurance companies in virtually every state of the union and Canada will meet in this city on December 9 and 10 to discuss the necessity for nation-wide application of economy and thrift in the home, in business, in industry and in the government, it was announced today by the Association of Life Insurance Presidents. The conference will form part of the proceedings of the fourteenth annual convention of the Association. Companies having in force more than 95 per cent of the 60,000,000 insurance policies issued on American lives have signified an intention to send representatives to the convention. The convention will mark the seventy-fifth year of American life insurance. "In giving due attention to the 75-year span which American life insurance has achieved," says the announcement, "the convention will consider the extent to which that institution has simulated individual and national thrift in this country, with a view to developing means of using it as a savings agency at a time when the people must economize in order to succeed." From Geneva comes the announcement that the delegates at the League of Nations are unanimous in the idea that the United States must come into the League on her own terms, and that the nations will never agree to the foundation of a new league. At the same time announcement is made from Washington that President-elect Harding has sent an emissary to Europe to invite other nations to send delegates here to a conference to be called soon after his inauguration with a view of getting up a new league looks very much like somebody is going to experience a fall down.

Talk about being talked about that's Greenville. Everybody who comes this way adds a voice to it.

The cotton farmers, the tobacco farmers and the wheat farmers are all in the same class so far as being victims of low prices for their products.

The way the farmers have been rushing their tobacco to market recently indicates that they have little faith that there will be any price advance of consequence.

Three Sermons To Be Preached Sun,

There are pumpkins, it seems you are beyond revival here in destiny tolling many souls. I believe you men are listening to sermons during this time. I used to think that only panders sponsors of revivals. But Jesus was talk the scribes and Pharisees were the men who copied and the Pharisees religious people external ly the world has ever known. Any man or woman can commit this sin that passes God Almighty's offer of mercy. You see Jesus Christ up and says "No" to may be down in the quagmires of filth or you may be the highest toned cleanest clearest cut gentleman in Greenville. You may stand on the street and defend this great campaign that is standing for God and decency, you may be a church member and be as orthodox as a Luther or Wesley, but let Jesus try to get you to walk up publicly and accept him as your Lord and master and King and you say no to every call. And he will keep on asking you there will come a time when he will ask you for the last time and he will pass you up for time and eternity. People you can miss your chance. There are men in hell today who never intended to be there. There are women in hell who never expected to be there. There is such a thing as passing the dead line. But this people hath a revolting and a rebellious heart they are revolted and gone. The time comes when you people may pray to no avail because God says, Pray not thou for this people, neither intercession to me for I will not hear thee". In the first chapter of Proverbs we read where God stretched out His hand and called and man refused then we read of where man called and God refused. There is God's calls and man's refusal and man's call and God's refusal.

How does sinning against the Holy Ghost manifest itself? Several ways but only in two, because I think all others are offshots.

First bitter malignity. There is no man they would say meaning more scurrilous, more disparaging thing than they would about me. It almost gives them brain fever to hear of the success of this meeting. They knock and criticize and try to make you believe it is what I preach. No poor miserable satillites of the devil. God's Spirit has left them and they are to be pitied. God has called them and called them and some of them will not come around this tabernacle, they are resisting every attempt on God's part to keep them out of hell.

Second, indifference. The one who has committed it has no feeling on the subject no fears on the subject no troubles on the subject, has no idea that he has committed this sin, but is perfectly calm and easy. The warning of Sinai do not effect him, Christ's claims do not move him. He can eat three meals a day sleep sound as a babe at night. Life is all pleasure and song. He is not, as many suppose for fear he has committed this sin, full of gloom and fearful forebodings lest it be too late for him to be saved. We often find people with the death struggle in their breast and the rattle in the throat and he cold dew on the brow and the world sifting out from under the feet, and the spirit of pur 'du map' pur' du map' shroud almost shaking over them and yet without fear. Then we find many church members and others who have been church members for years in this indifferent state. They seem to have no solicitude for a dying world. They do not weep over the unconverted. They are not infatuated with the business of being he medium between the lost soul and the seeking Christ. They never warn the sinner, as though they feel for them at all. Here the evangelist recited a poem.

church was built in 1871. Then here was an ideal spot for the gathering of the Tysons and their kindred. And a great day it was. With a bright autumn sun shedding its gentle warmth, the yellow falling leaves and the old church built of native pine, unpainted but showing few signs of decay, surrounded by forest, with these scores of Tyson blood about it, made a scene interesting and impressive. It was a reminder of days past when such large crowds attended the great meetings held here. But there was one striking change. The autos, unknown in these past times, were everywhere evident with just enough of the horse and buggy to emphasize the contrast. And the old well, of the old "oaken bucket" was a memory too, for the modern pump gave drink to the thirsty. But it was the old "Tyson's" the Tyson's as of yore with new generations risen up to call it "blessed" for its blessed memories and history. Many came many miles and from other counties.

Shortly before noon, all gathered in the house. G. T. Tyson, leader of the movement for Tyson reunions, was master of ceremonies. Rev. W. M. Monees, of Wilson, Primitive Baptist minister, was present and led with prayer, following with a very appropriate short address for the occasion. G. T. Tyson then made a talk on Tysons. He gave much information relative to the Tyson settlement and progress. Being an enthusiastic Tyson, he has studied their careers with great interest and just pride. Yet he is unable to trace an unbroken record from the first Cornelius. But it is tradition and undisputed that Cornelius was the original ancestor of the Tysons about Tyson's church and that he is a direct descendant. The name Moses has been very popular and this has been a stumbling block in the Tyson genealogy. The Tysons have been humble citizens ever ready to answer any and every call to duty, serving in peace and in war where duty demanded. But they have not been so ambitious as to make sacrifices for ambition's sake. Therefore their descendants point with pride unmingled with boasting to their long and unsullied record of great and good citizenship, that citizenship which has been content to do its duty, caring not for the honors and ambitions which lure to other fields. He gave many illustrations of types of good citizenship which have ever been characteristic of the Tysons. Upon closing he called upon J. D. Cox, of Winterville, who tracing directly to the original Tysons through a Tyson grandmother, also gave illustrations of Tyson characteristics and by records showed Tyson descent in many families. He went back into history and defended some Tysons from what might be construed as reflecting upon early patriotism. He also dwelt upon the good citizenship of the Tysons as shown by their works, being builders, makers and sustainers of that which best goes to make a country and that country great.

Mr. Tyson then called upon Henry T. King. He responded by telling of his Tyson blood through a grandmother of more than a hundred years ago. He too held up the record as worthy of study and emulation, the Tysons being those who sought not honors but sought to do their duty as duty demanded, and still demands. He told of his research and findings a confusion of names, their repetition and how genealogists were baffled by such means. He too was troubled in distinguishing which Moses was the Moses to make the race descent. He told something of the traditional history of the church and his recollections.

Some others called upon failed to respond and after the benediction by Rev. Mr. Monees, adjournment was had to the grounds, where a most beautiful and splendid dinner was spread—a Tyson dinner—and enjoyed it to the utmost of their capacity. Pictures were made of those present and of the church. And after some time spent talking of things past, present and future making this an annual Thanksgiving event, all departed, with memories of a great day, happy gathering and interesting occasion.

MANY PRESIDENTS OF LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES MEET

The consideration of taxation and its relation to notional development will occupy a prominent place on the program, the effect of present taxes on business generally, and on life insurance in particular, being discussed.

The Association announces that, "although chided for indulging in additional extravagance," the American people bought in 1919, $8,600,000,000 of additional life insurance and that this was 67 per cent more than the amount purchased in 1918, which was itself a record year.

It stated also that 202 American life insurance companies have returned to their policyholders during the five to 73 years of their operations, a total of $11,000,000,000. These companies now stand obligated to make future payments to policyholders and beneficiaries aggregating more than $3,000,000,000. To guarantee these payments as they become due, the insurance companies are maintaining reserves aggregating $6,000,000,000. These figures are given by the Association to show that "life insurance has had unparalleled development in the adds that "today there is more family protection outstanding in this country than in all the rest of the world."

The National Convention of Insurance Commissioners will meet in New York the same week as the Life Presidents, the date of the Commissioner's sessions being December 6, 7, 8. The Association of Life Insurance Counsel will also meet that week in New York, its dates being December 7 and 8.
