

SPECIAL SERMON FOR MEN AND BOYS IN TENT TONIGHT

Sunday Proved a Big Day in Spite of Rain and Each Service Largely Attended

Though Sunday was a day of most inclement weather with much rain falling until late in the afternoon, it proved to be the greatest day of the McLendon evangelistic campaign

And "Mack" delivered three great sermons on Sunday, sermons that were heart reaching and stirred people as never before.

Wherever "Cyclone Mack" has held meetings at some time during the campaign he gave a special sermon to men and a special sermon to women.

At last night's service Mrs. Stiedley, who left this morning for Raleigh where she is now making her home, said a brief farewell to the people

Sunday night being the last service to a mixed congregation, Mr. McLendon also took occasion to express his personal feeling toward the people of Greenville and Pitt county.

Mr. McLendon is exceedingly fortunate in having the faithful corps of workers he has selected to accompany him in his campaigns.

OLD TRANSPORTS WITH THIRTY YEARS RECORD TO BE SOLD

Bids Now Being Received by the Army Transport Service for Their Sale

Philadelphia, Nov. 29.—Coincident with the delivery from the Hog Island shipyard of three of the eleven army transports comes the announcement from the army transport service of the proposed sale of the oldtime transports Meade, Crook, Kilpatrick and Warren, vessels which have served the Navy with excellent records for thirty years or more.

The Hog Island News, the official organ of the Hog Island shipyard, says, while no official announcement has been made, it is understood the transport being built for the Government by the American International Shipbuilding Corporation will replace the craft offered for sale.

THREE IMPORTANT QUESTIONS BEFORE LEAGUE ASSEMBLY

Committee of Assembly Now in Conflict Over Matter of Control of Natural Resources

Geneva, Nov. 28.—The question whether or not countries shall be allowed to control and dispose at will of their natural resources is the subject of a sharp conflict in a committee of the assembly.

One of the strongest opponents of the resolution is Sir George E. Foster, of Canada, who has taken the same attitude as N. W. Rowell, also of Canada, who served notice on the assembly in an impressive speech recently that any attempt to exercise such control would be regarded as interference in internal affairs to which Canada would never submit.

Buffalo, Nov. 27.—Co-operative societies to meet the high cost of living by control of commodities for import and export will be established in Palestine and important key industries will be organized there if plans suggested to the American Zionist organization in their convention here today are adopted.

The committee on Palestine announced that it had worked out plans for a co-operative import and export company and for a wholesale co-operative society for that country.

CARGO CARRIERS CONVERTED INTO TANK STEAMERS

Their Need for the Oil and Molasses Carrying Trade Causes the Change

Philadelphia, Nov. 29.—A scarcity of tank steamers in the oil and molasses carrying trade has resulted in the conversion of seven of the Hog Island cargo carriers to tankers.

The five other vessels which are being converted into tank steamers for the oil trade are the Manatway, Catshoula, Castena, Carrabulle, and Casimir.

"Tall, short. See this man is tall; this man is short. I write the words on the blackboard. Tall that is for this man. Short—that is for this one."

The class shuffles its feet, squirms in its chairs and laboriously pencils the queer looking words in note books.

Philadelphia, Nov. 29.—A scarcity of tank steamers in the oil and molasses carrying trade has resulted in the conversion of seven of the Hog Island cargo carriers to tankers.

Many fires were suppressed in their early stages, and in these cases there was clear evidence of incendiarism in the finding of rags soaked in paraffin and empty petrol cans and bolt cutters left behind.

TWO WAREHOUSES FIRED SATURDAY BY INCENDIARIES

Fifteen Warehouses in Liverpool Were Fired by Incendiaries on Saturday

Liverpool, Nov. 28.—Fifteen warehouses in Liverpool and Bootle, a suburb, principally cotton warehouses in Liverpool were set on fire last night.

Some shooting occurred after the outbreak of the flames. Constables on the scene were fired at and bullets passed through the clothing of some of them but none were injured.

Flames Spread Quickly

"Owing to the inflammable nature of the contents of the warehouses, flames quickly gained a strong hold, and by one o'clock in the morning the whole sky was lit up.

Three youths, watching the suspicious movements of two men at the cotton warehouse in Parliament street, warned the police, who challenged the suspects.

It appears that for each building marked for destruction there were allotted gangs numbering from four to five men, one of whom stood sentry while the others cut the locks and applied the inflammables.

THE DOT RED CROSS
By Clifford Leon Sherman

I learned once that our heroine did occasionally get peeved about being waited on so much. She was growing up to be quite a girl, and her mother used to let her go out to walk on pleasant afternoons in a private park, where she was allowed to play in a very ladylike manner. But she confessed to me one day that the whole proceeding bored her. "I wouldn't mind coming out to play at all," she said, "but every time there is the least cloud in the sky I have to be followed by a footman with an umbrella." (78)

JUDGE HORTON MAKES

SPLENDID IMPRESSION

Fayetteville, Nov. 29.—A one week term of Cumberland superior court for the trial of criminal cases adjourned at noon today, after Judge J. Loyed Horton had cleaned up a docket of 105 cases in five and half days. Judge Horton is filling out the unexpired term of Judge Guion and is perhaps the youngest jurist in the State, but the record he made here in the dispatch of business is one of the most remarkable achieved by any superior court judge in the Cumberland court. This will be the last, as it was the first court to be held here by Judge Horton, and the Cumberland Bar met at the close of the session and passed strong resolutions of commendation and appreciation of his work as a presiding officer.

REV. B. F. MCLENDON CONDUCTS SERVICES

Rev. B. F. McLendon conducted the services at the morning assembly hour at the Training school. He told the story of the woman who touched Christ and was healed, and made a stirring talk, appealing to the young women to reach out and touch Christ. At the close he gave the invitation for those who wished to touch Christ for those who wished to touch Christ to come forward and a great many responded to the call.

 way, in totally inadequate amounts and in sizes too small for modern structure. Palestine is a limestone country, yet lime is produced there under very primitive conditions and in insufficient quantities. Although large quantities of raw material for the manufacture of cement are to be found in the proposed homeland, cement is today imported and the price was declared by the committee to be prohibitive.

Exorbitant prices are said to be demanded for building iron, small castings and sheet work and the supply was pronounced almost negligible.

The transportation system is confined to the coastal plain with a spur to Jerusalem, but the majority of the existing Jewish colonies were said by the Committee on Palestine to be not directly served by this system. For a long time to come, the committee said, the industrial fuel of Palestine will be oil and gasoline. Without these the wheels of industry would not turn; yet the price was called prohibitive. A serious shortage of homes and buildings was reported and the existing accommodations were declared to be insufficient even for the small influx of refugees and immigrants.

The committee at the same time will take up the general question in the form of arms and the control of mandates. This committee which is known as number 6, has recommended that the United States be invited to cooperate unofficially in the study of the question of disarmament.

Still another important matter on the program of the council for tomorrow is the election of a successor to Sir Rignald Tower as high commissioner at Danzig. The council may also finally decide what reply shall be made to the German protest against approval of the results of the Eupen-Malmedy Plebiscite. Germany contends that the Belgian troops of occupation exerted pressure on the population.

With respect to mandates, most of the delegates are very reserved regarding the hearing th position of the United States would have in the matter of the exploitation of the Mesopotamian oil fields upon the settlement of the mandate question by the assembly.

MRS. STIEDLEY ADDRESSES STUDENTS OF TRAINING SCHOOL

Mrs. Stiedley made a heart to heart talk to the girls at the Training school Sunday evening, on the subject: "As a man thinketh in his heart so is it." Some people think, as long as the outer side is alright they can think evil thoughts, but you can't hide from God. When evil thoughts come turn to God and he will quiet them.

Mrs. Stiedley has been holding Bible study classes at the Training school during her stay in Greenville and much good has been derived from her teaching.

CONVICT CAMP
The Convict Camp has been used and the convicts during the entire fiscal year in permanent bridge construction. During this period two permanent re-inforced concrete bridges, with concrete floors have been constructed entirely by convict labor. During this period the work done by the convicts has shown a net profit to the County of $14,000.00 being on the actual cost to the County of constructing Ballards Bridge, and Adams Bridge by convicts, under the direction of the Engineer for the Highway Commission and Superintendent of the Camp, as against the cost of building the same two steel and concrete bridges by contract prices based on the contract price for Seafleton Bridge, built by contract by the Joint Counties of Greene and Pitt.

PERMANENT BRIDGES BY CONTRACT

Five steel and concrete bridges have been contracted for during the fiscal year, three of which are completed, nearly, and two others in a state of construction, viz:

Greenville, River Bridge, contract price based on final estimate and settlement, $30,161.64.
Pillsboro Bridge, contract price, unit price, $15,700.07.
Cotton, Bridge, Farmville to Falkland Road, contract price, unit prices, $3,275.00

Penny Hill Bridge, contract unit price, $4,252.40.
Blakely Bridge across Grindle Green, contract price, unit price, $4,924.98.
All the above bridges will be completed within 60 days.
This report submitted this 24th day November, 1920.

COLE'S

ORIGINAL

is absolutely air-tight and will stay air-tight. That is why it is guaranteed to hold fire for 36 hours without attention.

And remember, every Cole's Hot Blast Heater is guaranteed to consume one-third less fuel than any underdraft stove of the same size. This means money in your pocket.

Let us tell you more about this remarkable heater.

Quinn - Miller

Gentry & Gorman

The market today opened very weak on all tobaccos under twenty dollars. The good and fine tobacco is selling well. We see no cause for the decline except tight money and until the independents are able to secure loans on the tobacco already bought by them, we see no chance of an improvement in prices. From our conversation with bankers in Richmond we see no chance for easier money until after the first of the year.

We believe the salvation of our Tobacco Farmer is to hold what he has until after Christmas; cut the next crop at least half of what he had this year and cultivate and handle what he plants making good and fine tobacco. There is more money in three acres of good tobacco than in twenty of medium and common.
