

BOLSHEVIK FORCES PUSHING CAMPAIGN IN EVERY SECTION

Absence of Strict Immigration Laws Making It Easy for Countries to Spread Propoganda

CENTRAL EUROPE MAKES GREAT EFFORT TO REACH ALL COUNTRIES IN WORLD

Brazilian Diplomat Says National Constitution Makes Brazil Safe From Campaigns

The Hague, Nov. 16.—(Absence) in peace times, of any strict control of immigration in most South American countries makes it particularly easy.

Recent investigations by the correspondent in several countries of Central Europe have indicated that a continuous effort is being made through use of a courier and propaganda system that includes perhaps 25,000 Moscow paid workers to spread the doctrine of Bolshevism throughout the world.

South and Central America are considered by the Bolsheviki not only as excellent fields for local "missionary work" along the lines of strikes and political unrest, but also as advanced field bases for promoting Bolshevism in North America, where stricter immigration laws prevail.

At Lisbon and the Spanish ports, the Moscow government has established courier bureaus, particularly designed to handle agitators and propoganda en route to Brazil, Argentine, Chile, etc., and one of the four sub-bureaus directing the entire world force of agitators is understood to be located either in Mexico or in one of the South American countries.

"So far as Brazil is concerned," a Brazilian diplomatist said, "the national constitution seems to prevent any serious efforts on this side of the Atlantic to weed out undesirable immigrants. In peace times, the country is free for every one, and we need immigrants, for our population is small compared with our huge area. Undesirables, such as Bolsheviki agitators, should be handled and jailed on arrival."

While South American officials in Europe are quite familiar with the fact that the soviet government is making a determined effort to spread its doctrine to South America, the view was expressed by one of them that Bolshevism cannot thrive in agricultural countries, where private ownership of land is essential.

THIRTEEN NATIONS TO COMMEMORATE DISCOVERY STRAIT

Countries Accept Invitation From Chile to Celebrate Discovery Strait of Magellan

SHEA WILL REPRESENT UNITED STATES WHILE FESTIVITY CONTINUES

In Punta Arenas Festivities Will Include Unveiling Monument to Ferdinand Magellan

Santiago, Dec. 4.—Thirteen countries have accepted the invitation of the Chilean government to send representatives to participate in the festivities early in December commemorating the 400th anniversary of the discovery of the strait of Magellan.

The Spanish government will be represented by the Infante Don Fernando of Baviera, cousin of King Alfonso, and a suite of 20 persons.

Joseph H. Shea, United States ambassador to Chile, will represent the American government with the rank of special ambassador. In addition the United States cruisers Des Moines and Dolphin, under command of Rear Admiral Bryan, will form part of the naval pageant.

Great Britain will be represented by its minister in Chile, J. T. C. Vaughan, with the rank of special ambassador and likewise, it is stated, will send a naval representation.

Argentina, Brazil and Portugal will send special ambassadors as well as naval units. Venezuela, Panama, Uruguay, Salvador and Costa Rica will be represented.

An extensive social program has been arranged for the Spanish celebration during their stay in Santiago and Valparaiso, including a banquet by President Sanfuentes, receptions by various scientific societies and special exercises at the university of Chile.

In Punta Arenas, the festivities will include the unveiling of a monument to Ferdinand Magellan, the Portuguese explorer, who 400 years ago discovered the pas connecting the Atlantic and Pacific oceans; inauguration of port works and other public projects among many social entertainments.

The austral region of Chile was opened to civilization in 1843 when the government incorporated within its frontier what is now known as the territory of Magellanes comprising 192,000 square kilometres, part of which extends into northern Terra delion of 34,000 of which 22,500 live in Punta Arenas, center of the cattle raising and meat packing industries of the country, a prominent port and home of many millionaires.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Munford, Jr., have returned from their bridal tour of northern cities.

WILSON PROBABLY TO BE PRESENT AT OPENING CONGRESS

Chief Executive's Improvement in Health is Such That He Could Do so Without Injury

WHITE HOUSE MAKES NO ANNOUNCEMENTS ABOUT WHAT MAY BE EXPECTED

Not Believed Decision Will Be Made Known to Public Before Next Monday or Tuesday

Washington, Dec. 3.—President Wilson was represented today as being "strongly desirous" of appearing in person before Congress next week to deliver what will be his last annual message to that body. He has not yet, however, made known his plans.

Both Secretary Tumulty and Rear Admiral Grayson, the President's physician, profess complete ignorance of Mr. Wilson's decision and it is not expected that he will make it known until just before congress is ready to receive the executive's message next Tuesday.

Those in close touch with the President have stated that his health has improved so rapidly in the last few weeks that there was no doubt of his ability to go before congress, if he desired to do so. Mr. Wilson ceased using his wheel chair more than a week ago and it was said that he would be able to go to the capitol without the aid of either his wheel chair or a cane.

Senate and House leaders have sought information from the White House as to whether the President will receive this year the committee usually appointed at the opening day of congress formally to notify him that the legislative body was in session and ready to receive communications from the executive, but as yet no reply has been given.

ARMENIAN WOMEN PREFER REMAINING IN TURK'S HAREM

Women Find Young Men Do Not Care to be Married to Families at Home

Samsoun, Asia Minor, Nov. 8.—Entente and American officials and relief workers entrusted with the task of restoring Armenian girls and women to their families have found that many of the girls who in the war were forcibly taken into harems and became the involuntary wives of the Turks and Arabs preferred to continue as Turkish wives and were unwilling to leave their husbands.

They feared the hardships of life among fellow countrymen who knew of their servitude. Some of the girls became attached to their foreign husbands and said they liked the life to which they had fallen. Where the girls had children the problem was doubly hard.

The lot of some of the educated women and girls was much more pitiable than that of those who had enjoyed no advantages. American women relief workers found one case in Central Turkey especially perplexing. A girl who was graduated from one of the American mission colleges was taken captive in the early part of the war. A prominent Turkish official whose only wife had recently died took the Armenian girl into his home. His mother and children became much attached to the girl, whose superior education made her an important member of the community.

Mr. O. L. Joyner returned last night from Lumberton.

OPPOSE RETURN OF KING CONSTANTINE TO GREEK THRONE

Allies Plan to Take Stern Measures if Former Greek King Should Be Enthroned

PLAN TO WARN GREEKS THEY MUST CONFORM TO PROVISIONS OF ALLIES

Premiers, However, Have Not Agreed What Stand They Will Take if King is Returned

London, Dec. 3.—The allied supreme council today publicly announced it would withdraw financial support from Greece should former King Constantine be returned in the plebiscite of Sunday and considered territorial reprisals should he be enthroned.

Briefly summarized, the position of the allies is that they want to warn the Greeks that their government must conform to a great extent, to the wishes of the allies, and that if the summonitions in yesterday's note and today's statement relative to withdrawal of financial support are ineffective, the allies are prepared to take even sterner measures, which were discussed today.

As the Sevres treaty has not been ratified it is within the power of the allies to modify it, and they are keeping this fact to the fore in regard to Smyrna. The wish was expressed not to go so far as to threaten the Greeks, before the plebiscite, with retaining part of the territory allotted them under the Sevres treaty.

While the premiers are in accord that the sternest measures should be taken if Constantine is returned, they have not agreed on what stand to take if the Greeks choose Prince George for their king.

EXPECT CONGRESS WILL ACT QUICKLY IN AIDING FARMER

Southern Senators Promise Support in Reviving War Finance Corporation, It is Said

Washington, Dec. 3.—Revival of the War Finance corporation with either Eugene F. Meyer of New York or Angus W. McLean of North Carolina as managing director, will be urged upon the administration in a resolution to be presented to congress when it meets here Monday.

The movement will have practically the solid support of the senators and members of the House from the west and from the south. While at this time there is no insurgency, save in the revolting attitude of some senators to the present policy of Secretary Houston, it is the old combination of the west and the south joining hands to avert a critical situation in their respective sections of the nation.

Solid support of the southern senators was promised in a conference held this morning in the office of Senator Kenneth McKellar, attended by Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia; Pat Harrison of Mississippi and Shields of Tennessee. At the same time this group was in conference Secretary Houston and W. P. G. Harding, governor of the Federal Reserve board, were before the joint agricultural committee of congress testifying that in their judgment revival of the War Finance corporation, is not a feasible solution of the direct problem confronting wheat and cotton growers and affecting the business of the south and west.

GERMAN CUSTOMS SLIGHTLY CHANGED BY LATE DISORDER

Old, Rich, Prospered German Aristocracy Holds Its Own Through Periods of Unrest

Halle, Germany, Nov. 15.—The old, rich, propertied German aristocracy has held its own through war and revolution here as perhaps in no other part of the new republic. Great estates and numberless tenants, huge factories and famous salt mines, kept the pre-war customs and conditions virtually unchanged.

Only the flaming posters of Bolshevism and the placards calling "young communists" to meetings indicate that the spirit of unrest is working for the overthrow of the old order. The very fact that conditions here as much the same as they were before the war apparently has contributed to the intensity with which the radicals have begun their campaign for a "dictatorship of the proletariat."

The shops are filled with select foods and fine clothes, but the prices are very high, and wages still are low. The shopkeepers say their trade is almost entirely with the rich, old families, and the farmers who have won prosperity through the changes following the war—the high price of farm produce and the depreciation of the mark, which has permitted many to pay mortgages once considered an everlasting obligation. Day laborers, factory workers and the tenants have no money for luxuries and barely enough to buy necessities.

German communists refer to Halle as "the Red Heart of Germany," and say the issue between the bourgeoisie and the proletariat is here more clearly drawn than in even the more conservative sections of Russia. The local communist organization is frankly committed to "ruthlessness" and is energetically and openly seeking recruits against the day the "revolution" shall break.

There have been clashes between radicals and conservatives already, and the River Saale, a narrow stream which flows placidly between high rock cliffs on top of which stand crumbling ruins of 15th century castles, has a down victims of knife and gun. One of these was a high army officer.

COTTON PLANTERS IN MEETING HERE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Present Conditions Discussed by Prominent Members of American Cotton Association

STATE PRESIDENT AND SECRETARY PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS OF MEETING

Mr. Calvin Tucker of Grifton Elected President of County Cotton Organization

The cause for which cotton planters of the South are fighting was given gratifying impetus at the court house in this city yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the American Cotton association in which conditions were discussed at length by prominent members of the organization, officers for the county elected and several other matters pertaining to present state of affairs settled in minds of the planters in an interesting and satisfactory way.

In the election of officers to preside over the county organization for the ensuing year, Mr. Calvin Tucker of Grifton was chosen president; W. E. Proctor of Grimesland vice president; W. B. Pace of Greenville, secretary and treasurer.

The keynote of practically the entire meeting was an urgent request that all farmers make every effort to better protect their cotton. It was urged that the crop be removed from the fields so it would not be ruined by heavy rainfalls, and that every bale be held after creditors had been satisfied. Looking after these things, it was stated, would have much to do with the future, and the planter would be in better position to meet the demand when prices became better.

Mr. Tomlinson dwelled at length upon present conditions, predicting unbroken demand and better prices. He presented in a brief way the acute situation apparently prevailing throughout the South, attributing low prices not so much to lack of demand as to unsettled conditions of the market, social unrest, labor troubles and world markets generally. He said that demand for cotton must necessarily be an actuality, that the world was not over supplied and that gradual adjustments must bring about a change for the better. Great stress was laid upon the necessity for organized effort to protect the farmer, continued co-operation to this end being urged.

In his address Mr. Swain stressed the great good to be derived from cotton storage warehouses, showing that they have proved an invaluable asset to every community in which they have been established, and that farmers have been enabled to protect their product much better than ever before. He urged that Pitt county people consider the warehouse project in a serious way and exert every influence in getting them built wherever available.

More than usual interest was in evidence throughout the meeting and as each section of the county was represented in a gratifying manner, it is believed much good will result from the meeting, especially in bringing the planter to realizing the importance of preserving his crop.

It is highly important to do your Christmas shopping early. So get at it.

Looks like the woman who uses her stocking as a safe deposit vault is on the safe side during the days of daring bandits and shaky banks.

The best way to forget much complaint of hard times is to go to work and produce. Conditions should improve considerably.

Disputes may occur, dissention may arise, but with the league at the helm the future certainly looks considerably brighter to those who have been skeptical of its existence.

Bandits are becoming so reckless in their dealings with the banks that it must give officials in all important institutions more than usual uneasiness concerning their safety. Almost daily news reports bring intelligence

There are people who go around with the idea that they expect to do something next year, or some other time. Better it would be to take advantage of the present opportunity and accomplish something today, keeping this up as each day comes around, and next year will take care of itself.

By purchasing several Red Cross tuberculosis Christmas stamps you will be doing your part in alleviating human suffering in many parts of the world. If you haven't already bought yours do it now, and be consoled in the fact of doing your part by civilization.

of another daring robbery, and the public everywhere is confronted with the seriousness of increasing lawlessness. Something must be done, and to be on the safe side it might be advisable for cashiers and bank messengers to arm themselves to meet such unexpected happenings.

In addition to doing your Christmas shopping early, parcels that are to be sent away should be mailed early. It is also important to pack and wrap parcels securely, and write on them your name and address as well as the person to whom it is going. Do not wait until Christmas gets so near as to put you in a rush.

The devil always has his agents around doing his work and some of them are now watching and enticing young men who made professions in the McLendon meetings in the hope of getting the chance of saying, "I told you so". Those who are doing this might take warning from the verse of Scripture recorded in Matthew 18:6.

The league of nations appears to be functioning satisfactorily regardless of predictions of failure by certain American irreconcilables. The way in which it disposed of the Armenian situation shows conclusively that it means business and will be instrumental in accomplishing much in restoring the world to a state of peace.

With the exception of the rains during the last few weeks, this has been an ideal fall for harvesting crops. Notwithstanding this there yet remains much cotton in the fields unpicked, some places looking like there had been no picking at all. The price of cotton being so low and the cost of picking it so high there has not been much incentive to the farmer to get it housed. Yet being left in the fields subjects it to danger, especially by the recent hard beating rains.

STATE FIRE RECORD

According to official reports filed in the State Insurance Department, North Carolina had four fires last month in the $50,000 class to-wit: Store buildings at Castalla, $100,000; fertilizer factory near Red Springs $50,000; saw and planing mills near Wilmington $50,000; hotel at Lake Junaluska $75,000; a total damage of $275,000.

Aside from these fires, every one of which had practically no protection against fire, the record for October is good, the towns showing up fine for the protective value of the fire departments. Asheville had 7 fires, the damage being only $1,795. Of this two were auto explosions on the street entailing $1,550 of the total loss. A wonderfully good record. Wilmington with 12 fires reports only 2,384 damage; Raleigh comes next with 10 fires with $2,750 damage; Winston-Salem reports 10 fires with damage of $8,485. Wilson had only one fire with damage of $1,300.

These forty fires in five leading cities where millions of dollars worth of buildings and contents were endangered, were so well handled by the fire department, that the aggregated loss was only $18,204, a good portion of which will be made good by insurance.

On the other hand Commissioner Young cites as a reason for insistence by his department of a continual warfare against carelessness with fire, the fact that every one of these fires resulted from inattention to ordinary safety rules or criminal carelessness. Causes of fire reported by fire chiefs of these 5 towns were as follows: Hot stove pipe 2; hot stove 1; oil stove explosion 2; defective wiring 2; short circuit 3; defective flue 3; lamp explosion 2; auto explosion 2; lighting fire with kerosene 1; hot ashes 1; smoking in bed 2; waste under counter of store 1; children playing with matches 2; cigarettes thrown from 2nd story in shingle porch 2; sparks from friction of machinery 2; sparks from chimney on shingle roof 14.

Farmers who think seriously of what the American Cotton association is doing to better conditions throughout the South are the ones that will eventually benefit from campaigns now in progress in every small town and city of the country. The situation is such at this time that stringent action is necessary, therefore, it is highly important that large organizations endeavoring to improve future conditions should be accorded hearty support by every planter, regardless of financial standing. As long as there is demand for any product there must necessarily be a good market with fair prices, and it is unreasonable to believe that organizing the farmer is not going to have desired effect. It is up to the farmer himself, who, with support of business and professional men, will soon find himself hoeing a decidedly easier row.

That program of reform promised the Mexican government by General Obregon, newly elected president, has plenty room for accomplishing great good in that country. Mexican disorder has held attention of the world for a number of years, and it is pleasing indeed to learn that after years of struggle its people are realizing the futility of belligerency. No country can progress in an economic and industrial way when its resources are destroyed in useless warfare. Mexico has had ample time to learn this lesson and it is not surprising its people are ready to lay down arms and return to fields of labor.

Tomorrow will be the first Sunday after the close of the McLendon evangelistic campaign in Greenville. The many pledges to reconsecration and promises of more faithful attendance upon church services that were made during the meeting should bear expression in larger numbers in the Sunday schools tomorrow, and the pastors of the churches should have many less empty pews to preach to. The good influence of the great revival will be lost unless it is expressed in the lives of the members of the churches.

Proposed reduction in cotton and tobacco acreage for next year should have much to do with prices in the future. Both are world commodities, at least they are considered so, and there is little reason to expect demand is going to decrease. Cotton particularly is of vital interest to every country of the globe, and if prices are not good as they should be now it is reasonable to believe they will improve when the consumer realizes what decreased production will mean.

Some people seem to overlook the fact that there is an ordinance forbidding chickens being allowed to run at large and trespass upon the premises of neighbors. If any chicken owners are arrested and fined for violating this ordinance, they will have only themselves to blame for it. Better keep the chickens confined at home and not allow them to run out.

Gentry & Gorman

The sales have been running bad for us for the past three weeks. We have not had a first sale sign up since Nov. 16th. We sold this week 577,758 pounds. For the month of November 2,215,798 lbs. and to date 6,768,372 pounds. The market has sold to date 21,297,000 lbs. Prices have been irregular and weak all the week; however, our sale showed more strength Friday and our customers were better satisfied than any day this week. We had a few loads of good and fine tobacco and this sold well, we attach a few sales that will give you some idea of these sales. We have 2nd sale Monday, 1st sale Tuesday, 3rd sale Wednesday, 2nd sale Thursday and 1st sale Friday. A few sales made Friday:
