

New Commissioners Sworn Into Office In City Yesterday

Several Changes Take Place in County Administration at Beginning of New Fiscal Year... DR. W. W. DAWSON CHOSEN AS CHAIRMAN OF BOARD SUCCEEDING S. T. WHITE... N. W. JACKSON ELECTED COUNTY AUDITOR AND ATTORNEY J. B. JAMES COUNTY ATTORNEY

The beginning of a new fiscal year in Pitt county witnessed a number of important changes in administration at the regular monthly meeting of the board of commissioners yesterday, and as affairs of government really swung into being at the morning session, later being turned over to three new and two old members of the board, virtually every office coming under jurisdiction of the board underwent a change of more than ordinary interest to the public.

Immediately after Clerk of Court J. F. Harrington had inducted new members into office at the beginning of the afternoon session, the board got down to business in an earnest way, resulting in the election of Dr. W. W. Dawson of Grifton as chairman, one of the 150 members of the old board who won out in the last primary.

Members of the new board who are to preside over the county's destinies for the present term are Dr. W. W. Dawson, Grifton; H. V. Stator, Bethel; S. M. Crisp, Falkland; J. B. Hardee, Greenville, and J. W. Holmes of Farmville.

Swearing in of township constables, sheriff, register of deeds and other officials coming under jurisdiction of the commissioners occupied greater part of the remainder of the session, and as a result no actual business pertaining to county affairs was taken up for consideration.

Under administration of former Chairman S. T. White the old board of commissioners accomplished many commendable changes in conditions throughout many parts of the county, being instrumental in changes of legislation and public improvements that stand out prominently in the county's past period of progress.

SEVERAL ACTIONS FEATURE OPENING OF COUNTY COURT

Docket Probably One of the Heaviest in Several Sessions, Result of Greater Lawlessness

The opening of Pitt county court, with jury, yesterday morning panned out exactly like officials expected. It was a busy session, similar to practically all terms of court in this county for the past several months.

The docket is congested probably more so than in any other session during the year. Not that court has not been in session from time to time to dispose of the actions, but because lawlessness is on the increase instead of a decrease, as some appear to think.

Probably the most important cases considered yesterday was that of several persons from various parts of the county charged with refusing to dip their cattle as directed by government legislation.

Robert Isom, John Dancy, Willis Cartwright, Alfred Wiggins, Sam Moore, and Willie Reveas, all colored, pleaded guilty of rolling their ivories for monetary consideration and were fined $10 and one sixth of cost, each.

Jim Brown, colored, was found guilty of assault with deadly weapon upon Roy Smith and Richard Peed, in the Ayden territory, judgment being withheld for consideration.

EMPHASIZES NEED FOR FAR SIGHT IN INTERNAL AFFAIRS

Annual Report of Department of Interior Stresses Necessity of Such in Government

LACK OF DEFINITE AIM HAS SERIOUSLY AFFECTED ADMINISTRATION ACTION

Secretary Payne Criticizes Uncertainty Surrounding Congressional Activities

Washington, Dec. 6.—Need of a far sighted government policy with respect to many of the country's internal affairs is emphasized in the annual report of Secretary Payne, made public today at the interior department.

While Mr. Payne criticized the uncertainty which he said surrounded many activities, he commended as a strong constructive step the action of congress in making possible the "superpower survey" of the region between Boston and Washington with a view to the development of a unified system of power generation and distribution.

On the subject of Alaska, the Secretary said the primal problem was transportation and advocated the operation of a government owned steamship line in order to insure development.

HEALTH SITUATION IN NAVY SPLENDID DURING LAST YEAR

Annual Report of Surgeon General Notes Improvement Regardless Recruit Influx

Washington, Dec. 6.—Despite the influx of recruits health conditions in the navy during the last year were good, Surgeon General Braisted said in his annual report made public today.

The death rate of the navy, the report showed, was 5.90 per 1,000 in the last year while for the year 1918, with the thousands of wartime enlistments, the death rate reached 18.47 per thousand.

The naval medical corps like other branches of the services has suffered from the competition with private business and, the surgeon general added, has not been able to counteract "the reaction against military pursuits" in keeping its rolls filled.

The dental corps likewise suffered losses from its ranks, members of the corps being unwilling to refuse alluring prospects of greater remuneration in private life.

Bolivian Liberals in Chile Form Committee Organized for Maintaining High Ideals

Valparaiso, Dec. 7.—More than 100 citizens of Bolivia either have been reported or are unable to enter that country as the result of the revolution there last July, according to a manifesto issued by Bolivian political exiles here.

Included in the list of those barred from entering Bolivia are: Ignacio Calderon, for many years Bolivian minister at Washington; Ismael Vasquez, vice president of the republic; the Bolivian ministers to Japan, Venezuela, Ecuador and Colombia; Jose M. Gutierrez, consul general at New York; Alberto Palacios, consul at San Francisco; the ministers of foreign relations and war, army officers, senators, deputies and a long list of public functionaries under the old regime.

The manifesto asserts that these men are denied the political rights by the "situation of forces now reigning in Bolivia and by the violent rupture of constitutional order."

The Bolivian liberals residing in Chile have formed a committee to reorganize their party for the avowed purpose of maintaining high national ideals.

FIRST WOMAN OF THE LAND MEETS NEXT FIRST LADY

Mrs. Wilson Entertains in Honor of Mrs. Harding, Next Occupant of the White House

Washington, Dec. 6.—For the first time within the memory of the oldest attaches of the White House, a First Lady of the land entertained today a next First Lady of the land.

Mrs. Florence Kling Harding, wife of the President-elect, was the guest of Mrs. Edith Bolling Wilson, wife of the President, at an informal tea at the executive mansion late this afternoon.

After Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Harding had chatted a while they walked about the White House through the green and red rooms and the State dining room, over which Mrs. Harding will be called upon to preside after next March 4.

Mrs. Harding prepared to depart after spending an hour with her hostess and had progressed as far as the front door when Mrs. Wilson, suddenly recollecting details of the White House household organization which she had forgotten to impart, invited her back and they withdrew again to the blue room, where they talked for another 20 minutes.

CHILE EXPRESSES ASTONISHMENT AT LEAGUE'S ACTION

Newspapers Did Not Expect That Old Dispute With Peru Would be Revived in Meeting

Santiago, Chile, Dec. 7.—Chilean newspapers did not expect that the 40-year old dispute between Chile and Peru for possession of the territory of Tacna and Arica would be taken up by the league of nations' assembly at its first meeting in Geneva this month.

(Bolivia and Peru had requested the league of nations to revise their treaties with Chile. Bolivia wanted access to the sea and Peru wanted a reconsideration of the Tacna-Arica agreement; but both these requests were withdrawn early in the session, thus preventing the possibility that the league might encroach upon the Monroe doctrine by considering those American questions in the absence of the United States.)

Newspapers here expressed the belief that the league of nations would not touch any American questions until it was decided whether the United States would enter the league and under what conditions.

"What does the problem of Tacna and Arica, proposed by our northern neighbors—signify to the society of nations? It has waited years and can wait longer without any ill resulting to the world and to America. As soon as it is seen its solution is not simple—because our country asks the application of a treaty (the treaty of Ancon) and Peru does not wish to recognize it—the question would be postponed until a less press time in world affairs."

An interesting point not generally known in connection with Chile's preference to the league of nations is that it carried this reservation: "The government of Chile reserves the right of considering modifications or reservations to that pact that may be made by nations signatory to the treaty of Versailles and which have not ratified it up to the present."

EASTERN TOBACCO MARKETS TO CLOSE ON DECEMBER 17

Meeting of Tobacco Association Results in Settling Questions Confronting Planter

FARMERS ADVISED MAKE MATERIAL CUT IN CROPS FOR NEXT PLANTING YEAR

Agreed if Another Large Crop is Planted Prices Will be Years Reach in Pre-War Level

At a called meeting of the Eastern Tobacco association held in Wilson Monday night it was decided to close the eastern markets on Friday, December 17th. The re-opening was not definitely settled, but it is not to be earlier than January 11th.

A committee of five was appointed to meet in Richmond, December 18th, with the United States Tobacco association, conferring with them as to the best time to re-open. This committee is to report its decision by January 5th.

The meeting was attended by warehousemen from Kinston, Rocky Mount, Washington and several other markets. There was much sentiment in the meeting and everyone present was firm in their opinion that the farmers should be advised to make a material cut in the 1921 crop of tobacco, in order to get a living price for the next crop as well as the future crop.

If another large tobacco crop is planted prices will be years in going back to even a pre-war level, it was agreed by leading tobaccoists, and in order to prevent this it was advised to discourage the farmer in over planting the coming season.

Prices for good tobacco right at this time are fairly good, but common grades are practically without demand and fail to relieve the planter in realizing cost of production. Markets have been congested for several days and the average price instead of advancing, fluctuated in an alarming way without causing the planter to let up in marketing his crop.

Prominent tobaccoists expect that something of an important nature will be brought out at the meeting in Richmond, after which time the farmer may be more fully enlightened as to what course to pursue in next year's crop. Organizations already have pledged themselves to stand by 1-3 reduction in acreage for next season, and should this decision be strictly adhered to in every tobacco producing community it seems generally conceded that the situation in the future will be greatly improved.

PRESIDENT WILSON'S MESSAGE READ BEFORE CONGRESS BODY TODAY

Washington, Dec. 7.—President Wilson's recommendations to congress in his annual message here today were: Revision of tax laws; simplification of income and profit taxes; Philippine independence; Armenian loan; Economy in government appropriations and expenditures; Creation of a workable budget system; Cold storage and other laws affecting the cost of living; Federal licensing of corporations; Rehabilitation and training of disabled soldiers and sailors.

The President did not refer to the league of nations except perhaps by inference in quoting Lincoln's "Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith let us dare to do our duty as we understand it." He said "I have not so much laid before you a series of recommendations as sought to utter confession of faith by which I was bred and which is my solemn promise to stand by until my last fighting day. I would like to be the faith of the American, the faith of the future."

The President sent the message by a messenger, adhering to decision not to appear before congress.

CREDIT SITUATION

The country's credit requirements have, during the period under review, reached a maximum level. Pressure may for a time continue at this current high level but no substantial increase is anticipated in the demand for banking accommodations, either for crop financing or to meet commercial and industrial requirements. The credit position is essentially sound and the future is to be regarded with confidence.

The banks and reserve institutions have financed the enormous volume of current requirements with no weakening of their reserve strength. The beginning of a reduction in the aggregate of these requirements is now evident. Loans of reporting member banks of the reserve system expanded steadily until the middle of October. A moderate contraction is now shown. Interior banks in diverse sections of the country are moderately increasing the volume of their purchases of commercial paper, an evidence of the release of funds from other employments. They have also begun in a small way, to reduce their borrowings with other banks. Such contraction as has occurred is not of large volume. It is important, however, because, in the present difficult situation, it indicates an ability greater than might have been anticipated, on the part of both the interior banks and their customers to liquidate outstanding obligations. It indicates also that the future trend will be toward the contraction rather than expansion of such obligations.

Open market rates on commercial loans have continued unchanged on an 8 per cent level with country banks purchasing paper in fair volume. Call money was tight, ruling throughout most of the period at from 9 to 10 per cent, but easing at the close to 7 per cent. The continuing high rates in the call money market reflected the general stringency of credit rather than the requirements of the stock market, where sharp liquidation continued throughout the period. Both demands for and offerings of time loans on securities were nominal. Moderate offerings of time money may reasonably be expected shortly, as funds are released from other uses. This would result in lower quotations. Prime bank acceptances were in active demand and in reduced supply.

The determining factor in the entire situation continues to be the reluctance of consumers to buy, partly because of their expectation that prices may go even lower, and in part because of the curtailment of purchasing power of large sections of the buying public. Farmers are not purchasing actively at present because prices of the products which they have to offer in exchange have declined sharply. Wage earners hesitate to purchase because their earnings are being curtailed by increasing unemployment and in some cases by reduction in wages.

If reports of the Federal reserve bureau count for anything the movement of cotton in North and South Carolina will be considerably lower for the next several months, or until there is an improvement in prices. Heavy increases in the movement of cotton was reported for the month of November, but it seems quite probable now that sales will be much below the average in the future. The fact is, farmers are getting tired of accepting low prices such as have been in evidence for the past few months, and it is not to be expected that they are going to release the staple after satisfying creditors as far as possible. The situation is rather accentuated just at their particular time, but observers apparently anticipate an improvement after political differences are settled permanently. America produces the largest cotton crop in the world, and as increased population will bring about greater demand there's little use of worrying over the future.

Tobacco planters in six tobacco growing States of the nation apparently are determined to improve conditions in the future, and will resort to radical reduction in acreage that ought to have much to do with prices when the market opens next year. This section of the country is the largest bright leaf tobacco producing center in the world, and it may be easily seen how one-third reduction in acreage will affect the market. There's always a demand for high grade tobacco, but the farmer can't get by unless his entire crop is sold at a legitimate profit. With cost of production estimated at thirty cents per pound and average price of sixteen cents the planter finds himself in a precarious position, one that will insure cautious activity in the future. Organized effort alone can bring about better conditions, and when tobaccoists realize this fact and go about it earnestly, next year's crop will be safe.

That Coats banker didn't improve financial condition by committing suicide and leaving a wife and seven children. It would have been much better to have braced up and faced the world, for after all, money can't pay the toll of human life.

cost of the navy ration, which rose to an average of 70.5 cents, as compared with 55.7 cents in 1919 and a pre-war average of around 37 cents.

Admiral McGowan asserted that final figures showed that the navy subsisted 900,000 troops en route to France and 1,200,000 returning troops. In connection with the war-time work of the subsistence branch, he said:

"Despite the scarcity of certain articles of food and the constant and persistent pressure from outside amounting in effect to actual propaganda for relaxation of the rigidity of the navy's specifications, especially on meats, no such thing was done and the standard of subsistence was never lowered."

Admiral McGowan estimated that the navy during the three years from the outbreak of the war to the first of last April spent more than $4,155,000,000, or one and a third times as much as had been expended during the previous 123 years of the navy's history, during which time it was engaged in four wars.

"The World and His Wife" Has Interesting History

The renewed interest in modern Spanish literature, brought about in large measure by the success in this country of the novels of Vicente Blasco Ibanez, has been reflected in motion pictures.

"The World and His Wife", featuring Alma Rubens and coming to the White's theatre Thursday is based upon a classic of the Spanish stage that has had an interesting history. Jose Echegaray, one of Madrid's foremost dramatists, wrote the original play, "El Gran Galeoto". It was adapted into English by Charles Frederic Nirdlinger and in 1908 was produced on Broadway under the name of "The World and His Wife". William Faversham and Julie Opp played the leading roles.

The cinema version of "The World and His Wife" has been produced upon an extremely elaborate scale. It is full of the dash and color of old Spain. Montagu Love, Gaston Glass, Pedro de Cordoba and Charles Gerard are included in the cast with Miss Rubens. The picture is a Cosmopolitan production released through Paramount Artcraft.

Bolivians Unable to Enter Country as Result Revolt

(Continued) The revolt at La Paz occurred July 12. Jose Zaavedra, a republican, was proclaimed provisional president. The constituted authorities were deposed and three or four days later many of them were deported in special trains to Chile.

Emphasizes Need For Far Sight in Internal Affairs

(Continued from page 2.) ment of the territory's resources. Two lines may serve the region, but Mr. Payne indicated their services was not satisfactory. He suggested their consolidation as a means of improving the service but this apparently was impossible.

The government railroad in Alaska to be a total of 450 miles in length will be completed and in operation in 1922, Mr. Payne reported. Headed that it tapped fields of untold mineral wealth and praised the work of the engineers in the progress made.

In connection with Secretary Payne's discussion of Alaskan transportation, Governor Riggs, the territorial executive, urged the establishment of a tonnage tax on all shipping to and in the territory and the building up with the fund thus raised of "regular and reasonable service upon equitable rates and schedules". He advocated also government appropriations for the construction of a scheme of highways to serve as feeder wagon roads to the government owned rail lines.

The question of communication also is one in which little progress has been made and Governor Riggs informed Payne it was seriously handicapped as freight or express and frequently in badly damaged. The governor, however, believes is offset in a measure by cable and naval radio service he said was being used disastefully with the mails.

We finished our block sale of Monday this a. m. and have a house near full which came in for today's sale. This we will sell Wednesday as we get the buyers from the Star. It looks now that they will be here first thing Wednesday morning. Prices were not as good with us this morning as they were Monday, however our customers see and realize that we are working and doing our best for them and we are having no kicking. If you are bound to sell drive to Gormans and we will guarantee we will do no worse than the other fellow. We believe prices will be better after Xmas. But it is very essential to cut the acreage of the next crop. I believe this will be done and when the trade realizes this what is on hand is soon to sell better.
