

TOBACCO FARMERS IN PITT COUNTY TO BEGIN ORGANIZING

Every Planter Having More Than 3 1/2 Acres, Will Be Asked to Pledge 1-3 Reduction TOWNSHIP ORGANIZATIONS TO BE PERFECTED RAPIDLY AS POSSIBLE EVERYWHERE District Agent O. F. McCrary Urges Immediate Attention to Carrying Out Present Plans

During the month of December every tobacco grower in Pitt county having more than three and one-half acres of tobacco will be asked to sign a pledge to reduce his acreage one-third (no man will be asked to plant less than three and one-half acres). Tobacco farmers who plant three and one-half acres or less will be asked to join the association, pay the same pro rata dues, and be entitled to all the privileges and benefits to be derived from the North Carolina Tobacco Growers association.

Township organizations will be perfected as rapidly as possible. The time for action is now at hand. Do not delay, but sign today. You will be expected to pay 25 cents per acre on your 1920 acreage as dues for 1921. The year is almost gone. Plans must be made this month for next year's farm operations. You have a chance to do your self and your fellow farmers good by joining this association. The Federal government protects and fosters farmers' organizations, but the Federal government will not do for the farmers what they can and ought to do for themselves. The power to organize lies in your own hands. Will you exercise this power?

But some croaker will say "We have had the Grange, we have had the Farmers Alliance, the Union and other organizations; but what have they amounted to? The farmer will not stick." Brother, will you stick? This is the all important question. Or will you join the crowd that says that farmers cannot be organized?

Farmers can be organized and they will stick, too. I call your attention to the Eastern Shore of Virginia Potato Growers association, California Fruit Growers exchange and other cooperative organizations as proof.

We are experts when it comes to growing and curing tobacco but we have yet to learn how to market it.

Do not feel that you are simply joining a township organization. When you sign a pledge you become a member of that army of tobacco growers not only of North Carolina but of Kentucky, Virginia, South Carolina and Georgia as well. You become a member of a great interstate tobacco growers association, the largest of its kind ever formed in the United States.

If farmers will sign up and stick together, it will not be long until they can market their tobacco cooperatively. When I say sign up and stick I mean that the farmers will be asked to pool their tobacco and sell it through the marketing association through a period of years. It will take time and a lot of hard work to put such a marketing association across, but you farmers, and you alone, have the power to put it over. Farmers must get over some of their individualism before they can cooperate successfully. Cooperation is largely a matter of habit, but unfortunately we have never acquired the habit in eastern North Carolina.

Begin planning a safe farming program for 1921 today. This means that every farm family should have a home garden, twelve months in the year instead of the present plan of having a garden a part of the summer and nothing but a patch of collards during the fall and winter. The production of corn should be maintained. Sow rye, and winter oats now. About the first of March sow permanent pasture on this sod. Consult your county agent about the best grass mixture to use. Use more lime and legumes next year and less fertilizer. Produce more than enough hay and forage to run your farm during 1921. Pitt county should maintain its production (Continued On Page 8)

EUROPEAN STATES LOOKING TO TRADE FOR FIRST RELIEF

Proposed Conference of Trade Interests Arouses Hope of Relief From Chaotic State

Vienna, Dec. 8.—The proposed trade, commercial and financial conference of certain of the central states of Europe has aroused hope in both political and business circles that it may bring at least some degree of order out of the present almost chaotic conditions as far as inter-state relations are concerned.

It is already known as "The American Plan" in compliment to its author Colonel Clarence B. Smith of the United States army, the unofficial American delegate on the Austrian section of the Reparations commission. "After more than a year's study and first-hand investigation of the problems of these countries," Colonel Smith said to The Associated Press, "I became convinced that the economic life of only of Austria but of all the succession states of the old empire, can be rehabilitated only by a larger measure of good-will between them and mutual understanding of their economic interdependence.

The plan was drawn after much thought and with full realization of the fact that it must be freed from all suspicion of politics. My hope is that, having once drawn them together in common council and with the disinterested advice of the representatives of Great Britain, France

HOUSTON IN FAVOR OF TAX REVISIONS IN UNITED STATES

Annual Levy of $4,000,000,000 With 2 Percent Increase on Incomes is Advocated REPEAL EXCESS PROFIT AND LUXURY TAXES ALSO RECEIVES CONSIDERATION

Secretary of Treasury Outlines Several Commodities Subject to Greater Taxation

Washington, December 8.—Immediate revision of the nation's tax laws on the basis of an annual levy of four billion dollars for a period of four years, and including an increase of two percent in the taxes on incomes up to $5,000, is urged by Secretary Houston in his annual report sent today to congress.

Repeal of the excess profits taxes, elimination of certain of the so-called luxury taxes, including the levy on soda fountain and similar beverages, and a readjustment of the rates in the higher groups of income taxes, is proposed by the Treasury chief. To meet the losses brought about by these proposed changes, Mr. Houston recommends revised and new taxes to yield about $2,000,000,000 as follows:

A tax of 20 percent on corporation profits, distributed or undistributed, in addition to application of a higher surtax rate to yield $600,000,000.

An additional tax of 6 per cent on corporation incomes to yield 400,000,000.

Readjustment of surtax rates on incomes to yield an additional 200,000,000.

Abolishment of the $2,000 exemption allowed corporations on income to yield $58,000.

An increase from the present 4 per cent to six per cent in the tax on incomes of $5,000 or less and from 8 per cent to 12 percent in the tax on incomes between $5,000 and $10,000, the whole estimated to yield $150,040,000 annually.

GALVESTON BEGINS WHEAT TRADE WITH EUROPEAN NATIONS

Middle-Western Wheat Exported to Foreign Countries at Rate of 6,000,000 Bushels Monthly

Galveston, Dec. 8.—Galveston, long the chief cotton exporting center of the country, now is sending middle-western wheat to Europe at the rate of more than 6,000,000 bushels monthly.

Exports of this grain for the four-month period ending October 31 last totaled 25,706,400.25 bushels, as compared with 8,802,780.20 bushels in the like period of 1919, an increase of 16,903,620.05 bushels, according to figures made public by the grain inspection department of the Galveston Cotton Exchange and Board of Trade. The receipts of the grain here in the same period were estimated at roughly 28,500,000 bushels as against 10,250,000 bushels in the like months of 1919.

Dige shortage of railway equipment in the east is given by traffic experts as the reason for the unprecedented movement of the grain to this port. In past seasons the great bulk of the middle-west's cereal was handled to the Atlantic seaboard and thence in bottoms for European destinations, they pointed out.

Great Britain leads all other European countries in the number of bushels imported, her October takings alone totaling 1,400,700 bushels. Italy was second in that month with 976,700 bushels; Belgium third with 908,000 and France fourth with 630,000

URGES CHANGES OF FEDERAL METHODS IN MINING INDUSTRY

Dr. F. G. Cottrell, Bureau Director, in Annual Report, Champions Immediate Innovation

CO-OPERATIVE ASSISTANCE CONSIDERED NECESSARY IN SOLVING GREAT PROBLEMS

Co-Operative Agreement Found Necessary in Meeting Demand for Metal Oil Production

Washington, Dec. 8.—An innovation in Federal government bureau methods, involving practical co-operative assistance to the mining, metallurgical and certain other industries of the country in solving many of the intricate and complex problems in manufacture, is outlined in the annual report of Dr. F. G. Cottrell, director of the bureau made public today.

This new policy, is described as a direct outgrowth of the world war. It is declared that not only has the bureau of Mines adopted this advanced co-operation with the actual needs of the industries, but that the leading nations of the world are following suit, determined not to be left behind in the coming race for supremacy in the industrial trade of the world. Great Britain, it is said, is especially alive to this movement.

For this new work of the bureau of mines has thirteen well organized experiment stations located in the different mining and metallurgical fields of the country, all fitted, Director Cottrell says, with the necessary chemical and laboratory apparatus as to enable it to take up with the industries peculiar to its districts where the stations are located the most pressing (Continued on page eight.)

LEADERS IN HOUSE IMMIGRATION TIDE PREPARE TO BLOCK

Desperate Effort Will Be Made to Stop Foreigners Entering America During Reconstruction

Washington, Dec. 7.—Determination of House leaders to stop during the period of reconstruction the great flood of immigration which has set in from Europe and other parts of the world was evidenced today by the action of the rules committee in reporting a special rule under which general debate on the Johnson bill could be limited to four hours and probably disposed of at one session. The rule will limit it up having been agreed upon only to permit the preparation of a minority report by Representative Siegler, representative of New York. The Johnson bill would prohibit practically all immigration for two years.

While the House committee was acting Senator King of Utah, introduced a bill proposing to suspend immigration for a period of six months. This proposal has the support of other senators who believe that congress should not act hastily in passing immigration legislation, but should put up the bars for a short period while it is assessing the whole situation and drafting legislation to meet it.

Senator King also offered a measure today calling upon the secretary of labor for a report on the disposition of appropriations made for enforcement of the law against alien anarchists, or the deportation of anarchists and for the enforcement of the immigration law.

FIVE CASES HEARD BY COUNTY COURT IN CITY YESTERDAY

Much Time Consumed in Disposition of Each Charge Regardless of Efforts to Speed Up

Disposition of five cases constituted an entire day of legal grind in county court here yesterday. It was not a record day in the slightest sense of the word, but according to court officials, the output was on the average and required some mighty hard work in finally concluding. Practically every case required some time in disposing of on account of legal controversies and long string of witnesses introduced in both morning and evening sessions.

The session was in no ways different from that of the day before. Legal grind began promptly at the usual hour, with usual intermission at noon and continuance of activity in the afternoon. Much time was consumed by jury deliberations, of course, but this did not delay the legal grind only in a slight way. Judge Wooten and Solicitor Hines exerted every energy for progress and succeeded in a gratifying way regardless of usual technical handicaps occurring from time to time.

Robert Carman, colored man of Renston was found guilty of assault with deadly weapon upon Luther Dail, white, judgment being withheld for further consideration. Following indictment of Carman, he in turn indicted Dail for assault, but the jury found no evidence to substantiate the charge and returned a verdict of not guilty.

Fenner Carr, colored, charged with assault with deadly weapon, was found guilty and fined $10 and costs.

Lima Wooten, colored, charged with removing landmark from a certain piece of property in his community, was adjudged not guilty.

Herbert Hemby, assault, was fined $25 and costs.

Resolutions Provide for Observance of Holidays Any Time Between Dec. 22nd and Jan. 3rd

VACANCIES IN TEACHING FORCE GREATLY REDUCED IN MANY RURAL SCHOOLS

Shortage of Teachers Greatly Relieved by Consolidation of Schools and Use of Trucks

The county board of education has authorized a week's vacation for the county schools at Christmas. According to the resolution adopted by the board, this week may be taken at any time agreed on by the teachers and members of the local committee in each school, between the 22nd of December and the 3rd of January. In other words no school is to close for the Christmas holidays before December 22nd. All must be re-open by January 3rd, and none must be closed for more than five school days. The board feels that since this is the season of the year when most of the children can attend school that as little time as possible should be lost, since time lost now affects all the children. Therefore, they have limited the vacation to one week.

Discussion of school affairs with the members of the county board of education at their meeting Monday brought out the fact that the number of vacancies in the teaching force of the county has been reduced to eleven with prospects of being able to fill the most of these after the Christmas vacation. There has been an unusual shortage of teachers this year, and it was thought for a while that many more schools than the number given above would be without teachers this year.

The situation has been relieved to some extent by the consolidation of schools and the use of trucks for transporting children to the large schools. At present there are twenty-one trucks in use in the county, and none of them has yet missed a trip on account of bad roads.

The development of some of these consolidated schools has been remarkable. As an example, the school at Winterville which last year employed only four teachers and had an average attendance of about 130, has nine teachers, with an attendance of about 300. This school is taking care of practically the whole of Winterville township, there being at present only one other school in operation in the entire township, and it having only one teacher. Three trucks are in use at this school taking the place of three small schools, and giving these children the benefit of one of the best schools in the county, employing nine teachers and doing four full years of school work, with about fifty pupils in the high school department. Before this year, there was not a high school pupil in any public school in Winterville township.

The school at Fountain has absorbed two other schools surrounding it, and now has seven teachers with an enrollment of more than 200 and an average daily attendance of approximately 175 and three years of high school work. Trucks are in use also at Gritton, Renston, Farmville, Falkland, Bethel and Pactolus, and in every case the attendance has been increased and the work of the schools greatly strengthened.

The first showing of moving pictures ever given with a machine the property of the school in a rural school in Pitt county was at the Arthur school last Friday night. The people of this progressive district have purchased a moving picture outfit of their own, and have arranged for a weekly film service, and pictures will be shown in the school auditorium one night at least each week throughout the year. The machine was put into use for the first time by Mr. H. E. Austin of the Training school faculty who demonstrated its use. The auditorium was well filled with the citizens of the Arthur community. The pictures were much enjoyed, as were vocal solos rendered by Miss Morgan. (Continued On Page 6)

Mob violence continues to gain sway in different parts of the country, but fortunately officials are firm enough to defend the law even though faced by overwhelming odds. Citizens should do everything possible to discourage lawlessness and assist so far as possible in permitting the law to take its course in every instance. Chilean newspapers express surprise that the league of nations should have revived the forty year old dispute between Chile and Peru for possession of Tachá and Arica, not realizing probably that such action is one of the purposes of the league. Territorial disputes have been one of the greatest setbacks of the small nation for many years and if the next assembly at Geneva succeeds in settling the trouble between Chile and Peru it will have accomplished one of its greatest missions. The league eventually will become one of the most powerful agents of peace in the world, and countries that fail to take advantage of membership will be doing themselves a direct injustice.

PACKING GOODS FOR EXPORT.

The proper stowage of export shipments is so important in successful export trade that the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce of the department of commerce has just published a special report on the subject.

The report was written by Thomas R. Taylor who is now in charge of the bureau's Latin-American division. Its preparation was begun by Mr. Taylor while he was engaged with the U. S. shipping board, and it, therefore, contains data gathered through that service, and also some facts and figures compiled by the war trade board.

While the publication is of primary value to shipping interests, certain sections of it should prove useful to manufacturers and exporters generally, especially those who take care of their own export packing or who supervise such work. Sixty-eight pages of the volume are devoted to stowage factors showing the type of packing usually employed for export for a wide range of commodities, all of which are shown in alphabetical order. With its aid, the manufacturer or exporter can learn whether he should make use of a packing case, a barrel, drum, bag, box, etc. Measurements are also indicated with gross weights, including information concerning the number of cubic feet occupied by a long ton of such merchandise packed as indicated.

Of direct interest to shipping concerns are chapters discussing the principles and methods of stowing, stowing to secure maximum weight and volume, stowing to prevent damage or danger to the ship or crew, stowing to secure maximum speed and minimum cost, laws relating to the seaworthiness of vessels, and many other related subjects.

In his message to congress President Wilson quoted from Lincoln the following: "Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith let us dare to do our duty as we understand it." It is not strange at all that he should find the famous saying so appropriate in his last moments as chief executive of the nation, for his ideals have been such that the quotation fits in splendidly, inspiring the ordinary American to greater things. Right certainly makes might. The President has displayed the fact in no uncertain terms during his administration, particularly in labor disorders and in governmental affairs. He has served the country diligently in all issues, and should have no regrets in turning the high office over to another. He will go down in history with Lincoln and Washington as their characteristics and virtues have been perpetuated faithfully and practically in every instance. The future alone can prove his true greatness as a statesman and a leader.

Tobacco planters of the county taking advantage of advice from organizations endeavoring to bring about better conditions for the future will be the ones to realize from this activity if they carefully abide by such provisions as decided upon up to the present time. The situation is serious indeed, for prices will not over half pay for cost of production and that leaves the farmer in a decidedly distressing state of affairs. Something must be done, and this must come about through decreased acreage and careful attention to planting and housing of crops. Pitt county produces the finest grade of bright leaf in the world, and this fact is more reason for intense interest in the program adopted by five States in the Union, in which curtailment of acreage is one of the prime features. Pre-war prices will never be reached again if large crops are planted again, therefore, it is easily seen that it would be better to go carefully into future conditions before acting again.

Hard times seem to be the principal subject of discussion during the present time, and all the time people are drawing their money from every available source and putting it in their pockets. They denounce the financial institution because of its inability to grant desired loans, failing to realize that loans cannot be granted unless money is put in circulation. Hundreds, even thousands of farmers, are accepting money from their crops, carrying it home to hold until next year. They can't realize, somehow, that banks are supported by depositors, that the more money on deposit, the greater the resources for loans. It is deplorable indeed that unsettled conditions should cause people to believe in the insecurity of the banks, and to adopt such unsafe measures as tucking money away in their pocket where it can't possible prove its earning power. This is an entirely wrong conception. There is as much money as ever, but it can't help the public unless in circulation. Banks look after this, but they cannot unless people wake up and come to their senses.

The ladies of the Round Table held a most enjoyable meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Underwood on Eighth street. Mrs. Fitzgerald reported for the Library committee. The program for the afternoon was unusually attractive, being a subject every woman is interested in. Miss Janie Bryan read a paper on "China and Pottery of our Forefathers". This took us back to some of the beginning of beautiful ware, and tracing throughout the change in styles of shape and decorations as the years go by, each age in turn stamping its imprint on the articles in use. Mrs. Person read a paper on "Old Silver". One noteworthy feature of this paper was the bringing out of many strange and unique ceremonies of ancient banquets before the use of knives and forks. There was on display several very beautiful pieces of old china and silver.

This meeting following immediately the one at Mrs. Fulford's last week on Lane makes two of the most interesting in the history of the club.

The treasurer being absent there was no report. The visiting committee reported having visited the sick and helping those that were in need. The child-feeding committee reported the results of the drive that was made for the starving children in Europe through the Daughters. The donations all total was approximately $450.00. Individual checks from fifty cents to fifty dollars. One check from a stranger in the city amounted to $100.00. All organizations responded so very liberal, from the Greenville schools $70.00, the Woman's club $25.00, the Sans Souci club $20.00.

There being no other business the meeting adjourned to meet January 4th.

Elegant tea and sandwiches were served by Misses Margaret Hassell and Ada Jones.

GILMER'S SANTA CLAUS AIRPLANE TO PASS OVED GREENVILLE EARLY DATE

The Gilmer Santa Claus airplane will hover over our community some time between now and Christmas, in fact will probably make two trips over and around our town. The Gilmer's airplane will be recognized by reason of its brilliant yellow hue. Santa Claus will be riding with the aviator, and will drop Christmas messages from the sky. He will also have the airplane to stop at the various stores of Gilmer's and leave Christmas gifts for the children as well as the grown ups. It hasn't been announced when the airplane will reach Greenville, but it is a settled fact that Santa Claus will visit our city.

"THE WORLD AND HIS WIFE" The Photoplay

Mrs. C. L. Porter Entertains

Mrs. C. L. Porter entertained at an eight course dinner last evening complimentary to Miss Alice Howison, who weds this month. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion, especially the dining room which was decorated so as to suggest the Christmas season. The table with centerpiece formed by the use of a small Christmas tree and other Christmas decorations.

After dinner was served the bride-elect was given a "stocking shower" by her friends.

DRAMATIC STORY IN "THE WORLD AND HIS WIFE" COMING HERE

Alma Rubens, who was the featured player in "Humoresque", has the leading role in the new Cosmopolitan production "The World and His Wife", which will be shown at White's theatre Thursday.

The scenes in the picture, which was adapted from a successful Broadway play, are laid in Spain. Miss Rubens has the role of Fedora, a young Spanish girl, who marries Don Julian, very rich and much older than herself. Ernesto, a youthful writer and son of Don Julian's deceased friend, comes to live with them. Evil stories are circulated about the young folks. A duel, in which Don Julian is fatally wounded, and several other startling events follow.

BUSINESS EXPERIENCES SLIGHT INCREASE WITH THE REGISTER OF DEEDS

Business picked up slightly at the register of deeds office yesterday, and as a result the marriage license records had a different kind of story to tell the news hunter this morning. Cupid, however, has failed to increase his number of victims to any noticeable extent, for only two licenses were issued yesterday and only two couples left some parson, somewhere, feeling that the world was theirs. The applicants were:

Miss Katherine Price of Lenoir to Mr. Arthur C. Roberts of Charlotte.

EMPHASIZES NEED FOR FAR SIGHT IN INTERNAL AFFAIRS

Annual Report of Department of Interior Stresses Necessity of Such in Government

LACK OF DEFINITE AIM HAS SERIOUSLY AFFECTED ADMINISTRATION ACTION

Secretary Payne Criticises Uncertainty Surrounding Congressional Activities

Washington, Dec. 6.—Need of a far sighted government policy with respect to many of the country's internal affairs is emphasized in the annual report of Secretary Payne, made public today at the interior department. Lack of a definite aim was said to affect particularly the administration of activities in Alaska, in dealing with the Indian tribes, in preservation of the national parks and forests and again in handling the greater reconstruction problem of maintaining a high agricultural production.

While Mr. Payne criticized the uncertainty which he said surrounded many activities, he commended as a strong constructive step the action of congress in making possible the "superpower survey" of the region between Boston and Washington with a view to the development of a unified system of power generation and distribution. This investigation, made under the direction of the interior department, will be completed and the committee's report given to the public about next June, the Secretary said, adding that he believed it would deserve public confidence.

On the subject of Alaska, the Secretary said the primal problem was transportation and advocated the operation of a government owned steamship line in order to insure development of the territory's resources. Two lines now serve the region, but Mr. Payne indicated their services was not satisfactory. He suggested their consolidation as a means of improving the service but this apparently was impossible.

The government railroad in Alaska to be a total of 450 miles in length will be completed and in operation in 1922, Mr. Payne reported. He added that it tapped fields of untold mineral wealth and praised the work of the engineers in the progress made.

In connection with Secretary Payne's discussion of Alaskan transportation, Governor Riggs, the territorial executive, urged the establishment of a tonnage tax on all shipping to and in the territory and the building up with the fund thus raised of "regular and reasonable service upon equitable rates and schedules". He advocated also government appropriations for the construction of a scheme of highways to serve as feeder wagon roads to the government owned rail lines.

The question of communication also is one in which little progress has been made and Governor Riggs informed Mr. Payne it was seriously handicapping development. Mail is slow, being shipped as freight or express and arriving frequently in badly damaged condition. The governor, however, believes this is offset in a measure by the army cable and naval radio service which he said was being used disproportionately with the mails.

CHILE EXPRESSES ASTONISHMENT AT LEAGUE'S ACTION

Newspapers Did Not Expect That Old

Dispute With Peru Would be Revived in Meeting

Santiago, Chile, Dec. 7.—Chilean newspapers did not expect that the 40-year old dispute between Chile and Peru for possession of the territory of Tacna and Arica would be taken up by the league of nations' assembly at its first meeting in Geneva this month. (Bolivia and Peru had requested the league of nations to revise their treaties with Chile. Bolivia wanted access to the sea and Peru wanted a reconsideration of the Tacna-Arica agreement; but both these requests were withdrawn early in the session, thus preventing the possibility that the league might encroach upon the Monroe doctrine by considering those American questions in the absence of the United States.)

Newspapers here expressed the belief that the league of nations would not touch any American questions until it was decided whether the United States would enter the league and under what conditions. El Diario Ilustrado said:

"What does the problem of Tacna and Arica, proposed by our northern neighbors—signify to the society of nations? It has waited years and can wait longer without any ill result to the world and to America. As soon as it is seen its solution is not simple—because our country asks the application of a treaty (the treaty of Ancon) and Peru does not wish to recognize it—the question would be postponed until a less press time in world affairs." The newspaper expressed the opinion that it would be very difficult for the league to attempt even "the initiation of consideration of American affairs without the concurrence of the United States."

An interesting point not generally known in connection with Chile's preference to the league of nations is that it carried this reservation: "The government of Chile reserves the right of considering modifications or reservations to the pact that may be made by nations signatory to the treaty of Versailles and which have not ratified it up to the present". The date thus referred to was November 4, 1919. This reservation would leave the opportunity open for Chile to adopt reservations subsequently made by the United States.

problems that have baffled them, especially those involving the treatment of low-grade ores, many of them heretofore useless, and turn them into commercial processes of value to the nation.

So success have these methods of solving commercial problems been, according to the bureau of mines, that at present the bureau has agreements for experimental work with nineteen industrial concerns, twelve different universities, and with state agencies in eleven States.

These co-operative agreements with the bureau embrace many different activities. For instance, there is an experiment station at Bartlesville, Okla., devoted entirely to the work of the petroleum industry. Already in one of the oil fields of Oklahoma the investigations of the engineers are said to have gone far enough to indicate that the production of this field may be materially increased because certain of the productive sands had not been recognized by the operators.

Seeking to find additional sources of number of automobiles, the bureau has entered into co-operative agreements with the States of Utah and Colorado to develop the oil shale industry. At Boulder, Colo., an experimental oil retort has been installed and tests have been begun on shales of that district. At Salt Lake City, Utah, similar investigations are being made. Co-operative oil shale work is also being conducted with the Southern Pacific company at Elko, Nevada.
