ALABAMA POSSES IN DETERMINED SEARCH FOR NEGRO ASSAILANT

Seale, Ala., Dec. 30.—Poses are now searching the Pitts-ville community for armed negroes who today wounded Deputy Sheriff and four other white men who were attempting to arrest the negro, who it is alleged attacked a farmer's wife. None were seriously hurt. The negro took refuge in a house occupied by other negroes. Poses met with volleys when they approached the house. Every member wounded withdrew for reinforcements.

GREAT BRITAIN DENIES SHE WILL TAKE JAPAN'S PART AGAINST AMERICA

London, Dec. 30.—Insistence upon reversal of the naval armaments and holding of a conference in the subject by the United States, Great Britain and Japan was renewed today by London newspapers. The Times says belief that Great Britain is bound by treaty to support Japan in case of war is absolutely false.

LOW STANDARD OF LIVING SERIOUS IN CHINA TERRITORIES

Dr. Tyau Denies Charges That Country Is Militaristic As Claimed By Foreigners. GREATEST ENEMY TODAY EXISTS AMONG MASSES WITH BAD ENVIRONMENT Country Pins Its Faith to League of Nations for Non-Partisan Settlement of Thing.

Peking, Nov. 30.—Charges which have been circulated in some foreign countries that China has become a militaristic nation are denied by Dr. Philip Tyau, Councillor of the Foreign Office, in a statement he has just issued. "What China today is suffering from is not militarism properly so-called but an over-weight of provincial military organization in relation to the general administration," said the Councillor. "China, according to independent investigation made by several departments during the last few months, has almost precisely the same population as Europe—440,000,000—at least seven times the population of Germany. If to the field force permitted to Germany by the Versailles treaty are added the men in the safety police and civic guard, and that total is multiplied by seven, it will be found that the ratio in China is inferior to the ratio in an admittedly disarmed Germany. In field troops and provincial patrols, China has 1,500,000. "That their present organization and their dependence on military governors must be changed is granted. But until a decision can be properly registered regarding the separation of civil and military power and until the degree of provincial autonomy compatible with the sovereignty of the republic has been settled by parliament and the government, it would be inviting disturbances to attempt change. "The greatest enemy today is not militarism of provincial militancy but the low standard of living among the mass of the population and the luxury which modern essentials such as railways and roads represent because of their immense first cost in comparative terms. The narrow margin between existence and starvation is so easily wiped out in China's dense population that when to this problem is added the problem of taxation the work of the Most of Republics of North Ready to Accept Terms of Agreement of Reciprocal Rates.

Under this agreement, if countries actually sign, domestic rates of exchange will prevail on letters, postal cards and printed matter between the following countries: United States, Spain, Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, Chile, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, San Salvador, the Philippines, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Paraguay, Peru, Uruguay and Venezuela. As agreed upon here, packages carried between these countries containing books, newspapers, printed matter and commercial papers shall not exceed four kilograms (of 2.30 pounds each) nor 45 centimeters (about 18 in.) in length. FIRST CONFERENCE OF NATIONAL PARKS TO BE HELD SOON

Des Moines, Iowa, to Entertain First Gathering Because of Park Development. EXPERTS FROM EVERY STATE TO BE PRESENT TO DISCUSS MATTERS OF INTERESTING OF PARK SYSTEMS OF THE COUNTRY.

Des Moines, Dec. 29.—Iowa has achieved such remarkable results in state park creation and development that the first National Conference on Parks to be held here January 10-12 under the joint auspices of the Department of the Interior and the State of Iowa. Experts from every state will be present to discuss park problems and incidentally to learn how Iowa has been able to do so much. Ninety-seven out of every one hundred acres in Iowa are capable of cultivation, according to official statistics, leaving only three per cent of parkable land. That three per cent, however, contains some interesting outdoor things. The Indian mounds, for instance, several hundred of which are scattered over the state, are in a minor way to the United States what the pyramids are to Egypt, relics of an ancient civilization. About fifty of the mounds are within state parks, while the others will be included in the parks to be laid out in the future. Some of them have been despoiled for their treasures of pottery, beads and fighting implements, but many remain intact and officials of the Iowa Historical Department hope some day to have an adequate collection of the utensils which the first Americans used in their every day life. The ice caves of Iowa are another interesting part of its park system. They owe their existence, probably, to those prehistoric seas which once covered this territory, for they are found in limestone regions, where the rock is porous. In the winter these cavities store up cold air. When summer comes and the corn begins to grow under the

STOUTLY OPPOSES EARLY REDUCTION OF DUTCH ARMIES

Opposition Revived in Amsterdam Because of Fears of Probable Belgian Invasion.

Amsterdam, Dec. 30.—Opposition to the reduction of the Dutch army has revived here because of fear that a Belgian invasion would result in the failure of the two governments to reach an agreement on the long standing boundary dispute under the treaty of 1839. At a recent meeting of the society "Our Army," which includes most of the Dutch officers, men high in command of the Holland forces spoke strongly against a reduction of the army. One of them, Staff Captain Van Gensau, declared that a diminished army could not resist a Belgian invasion three months.

"TEA FOR THREE" PROVES DECIDEDLY GOOD ATTRACTION

Comedy Production Witnessed By Fairly Good Audience at White's Theatre Last Night.

"Tea for Three," the musical comedy which played in White's theatre last night, proved by far one of the most entertaining comedy creations that has appeared in Greenville during the present theatrical season. Not that it was the best show that has ever been seen here exactly, but because there was an interesting atmosphere surrounding the entire plot which proved intensely interesting in every part. The attraction was witnessed by a pretty fair audience which applauded generously and seemed perfectly satisfied. The plot was that of a "stogy" husband who became too immersed in business relations to give his young and beautiful wife proper attention, but who at last through sound logical advice from a former college student and doctor realized that, after all, business wasn't everything compared with the woman of his love. Several unique features were presented in gradual development of the plot, but nothing proved more interesting than the way in which the climax was presented in which the jealous husband, in realizing his actual blindness to conditions of life, went off on a short vacation, leaving his wife in care of the doctor to "do whatever they pleased" in his absence. There were only five characters constituting the cast, but they played their parts in such an admirable way each thread of the story was so carefully woven together that the story and actors seemed almost inseparable. Bert Leigh, as the doctor, scored a decided success from every viewpoint as his acting was above the average and at all times attractive and compelling. J. W. Cowell, "stogy" husband, who didn't know much about angels, also played his part especially well, as did Millicent Hanley, as wife of the man who didn't know much about angels and former sweetheart of the doctor.

Federal Indictments Issued Against Four Concerns and Eleven Individuals Today.

UNCOVER CO-OPERATIVE ORGANIZATION MEASURE OF BIG MANUFACTURERS Contractors Also Found Guilty of Exchanging Valuable Information In Industry.

New York, Dec. 29.—The Federal government added its legal flail to the whips of New York State's "trust smashing" organization today by returning indictments charging violation of the Sherman anti-trust act against four concerns and eleven individuals recently investigated by the joint legislative committee sitting here. These indictments, the first of a Federal nature, accumulated upon more than 120 indictments returned by the trio of grand juries co-operating with the legislative investigation. The defendants will appear for pleading tomorrow. Meanwhile, the committee uncovered some of the most extensive co-operative organizations of manufacturers and contractors which daily inquiry over ten weeks has brought forth. It was shown that hundreds of firms in all lines of trade throughout the country exchange, through clearing houses, the names of prospective buyers, their bids and signed contracts an hand and shipments. Fleeing Practices. These practices carried on under programs advocated by the late Arthur Jerome Eddy and his economic ideas, were characterized by Senator Undermyer, the committee chairman, as "team work to fleece the people." Legality is involved in the case of the American Column Company, before the United States supreme court. Chicago attorney, William J. Matthews, acting as counsel for a group of several of these societies, admitted in testifying today that he was employed to ster the concerns banded together under his direction "within the anti-trust laws." Among the many other men who are similarly employed in the country he named Clark McKirby, formerly with the anti-trust division of the Department of Justice. Denying that the members of these societies, after traveling over the country to attend meetings, ver discuss future prices, but that they talk merely of past and present prices and "exchange views," Mr. Matthews conceded Mr. Undermyer's claim that these business men were "skating on very thin ice."

Weak Government Case. The witness admitted he thought the government had presented a "very weak case" against the American Column Company and expressed the hope that proceedings would be instituted against another firm to test and make certain whether or not the Eddy plan is legal. He defended the plan on the ground that it stabilizes prices, denying, however, that it made them uniform.

HOUSE COMMITTEE CONTINUES HEARING ON APPORTIONMENTS

Washington, Dec. 30.—The House census committee has continued hearings on the congressional apportionment bill. Among the witnesses expected were representatives of national associations for advancement of colored people who are expected to urge the reduction of representation from the Southern states on grounds of alleged refusal to allow negroes to vote. A bill recently introduced in the house provides for the reduction of representatives from Southern state where is was found the enfranchisement of the negro was denied.

Thursday, December 30, 1920.

News reports say bears influence the price of wheat. They influence almost anything if near enough.

Next year this time Pitt county farmers will "smoke houses" chock full of something to eat instead of so much low-priced tobacco.

Greenville cotton mills are preparing to pay their stockholders $1,000,000 in dividends. It's Greenville, South Carolina, where this takes place.

D'Annunzio may not like the idea of giving up Fiume, but it isn't what the gentleman likes just at this time. It's what he's going to do.

Prices continue to decline on the cotton market. Yet, they have few terrors for the fellow who has a good supply and intends to keep it.

Japan is willing to modify its naval program if the rest of the world agrees. There's likely to be little disagreement the Japs stand fore-square in the throads of the nation paid out approximately one hundred billion dollars for coal during the last nine months. And yet there are many people wondering where all the coal goes.

Deportation of Russian radicals is still continuing, according to immigration officials. That much sounds good, but information of an uninterrupted break would sound better.

Japan declares its does not want to engage in war with the United States. Neither does the United States want to fight Japan. So that much seems to be a settled fact unless something happens to change things.

Congress seems to be troubled by charges that the South unlawfully prevented negroes from voting. If this is the least of the worries the future ought to be fair sailing for rest of the year.

Prohibition agents really succeeded in making seventy-five arrests in Hurley, Wisconsin. They might not get that many at one time in North Carolina, but by a little scout work many wide awake tigers could be nabbed.

The establishment of a central police bureau in Washington to keep check on criminals throughout the country would no doubt prove all right, in event it would accomplish its purpose. The greatest trouble facing the country just at this time in keeping its present number of bureaus at work, and they are not looking after criminals either.

Major Galbraith, American Legion head, is of the opinion that Secretary Houston over estimated actual cost of the proposed soldier bonus bill to the country, and brings down the sum considerably. Yet the figure is large enough to make it appear almost as large as Houston's as it all will come through the government.

Uncle Joe Cannon, native Tar Heel, has shattered all records in congress for long service, having served nearly forty years, and is looking for another long siege. He is eighty-five years of age, but according to reports, feels about as "spry" as any member on the floor. It is right that other members should celebrate his achievement, as a point of service to the country he is without a peer.

Judging by the way Pitt county tobaccoists, business men and bankers have gone after proposed reduction of tobacco acreage next year, it might be supposed that something of a definite nature is going to take form within a short time. They have realized that another large crop would ruin the industry, and this is what they are trying to prevent. The first thing to do, however, is to seriously impress the planter with the necessity of reducing his next crop at least one-half and to plant the surplus acreage in something that will fill the "smoke house" chock full instead of depending on other sections for commodities. If this is done thoroughly there is little reason to worry about the future, for demand will soon be restored and better grades of tobacco will naturally come about from intensive cultivation. This is exactly what the country needs, and if every one co-operates there is little reason to believe the future will be otherwise than prosperous. The next step will determine the destiny of the industry and it is highly important that every man realize what he is about before next planting season.

Dr. E. C. Brooks, superintendent of public instruction, has seen fit to lend his approval to Durham's plan for physical education in public schools of that section, and believes it should become statewide. The plan is, indeed, a good one, for there are hundreds of schools whose students fail to derive direct benefit from their studies simply because they do not get proper physical development. This seems to be taking the matter too seriously, yet if minds are to develop fully it is absolutely necessary that proper exercise of the body become a part of training. It is to be hoped that Durham has blazed the way to a state-wide system, one that will affect virtually all rural schools, for in this way alone will the schools ever be able to do what is expected of them in a progressive age such as we are now living in.

There are numbers of people who were got favorably impressed with the Klu Klux Klan in its inspiency, but since it has been announced that its members are going after undesirables, loafers and thieves sentiment seems to have changed in its favor. Such an organization certainly can do much good while the country is so unsettled, and if sustained by the people will probably be able to do much in the future. Concealed and unknown forces such as represented in the organization have more terrors for the lawless element than th law, and it is this fact that will do much in preventing crime in districts where it would increase rapidly were there not some restraining force.

Governor Bickett has issued a stirring appeal in interest of starving children in China, in which conditions of that country are fully explained. The appeal comes at a time when the country has been in the midst of a strenuous campaign for providing funds for Europe, yet China cannot be neglected. Civilization must be protected under all conditions, and if China needs the assistance of America, its people will gladly respond.

TO GIVE FIRST COURSE IN COTTON GRADING SOON

The first course in cotton grading for farmers and other will be offered at the State College, West Raleigh, N. C., beginning with January 20 and ending with February 3, 1921.

To teach the special work in cotton grading that will be offered in this course the college has been especially fortunate in securing the services of J. K. Wood, who has been specially detailed to the college by the Federal Bureau of Markets. Mr. Wood is a very practical man, having been connected with the cotton business for fifteen years, having managed a compress for a number of years, bought cotton in the streets, classed cotton for farmers in Texas and Arkansas, having taught two courses of two months each at the Fourth District Agricultural School, Monticello, Arkansas, and having assisted in cotton grading last summer in the Farmers Short course at the Arkansas Agricultural College.

There will be four hours a day devoted to intensive practice work in cotton grading throughout the two weeks of the short course. This will be a splendid opportunity for farmers and others of the State who wish to learn more about cotton grading. There should be a large number to attend course. Work will begin promptly eight o'clock in the morning of January 20, and those who wish to attend the course should start in at the grading in order to get the most out of the work.

Other work will be given on the various methods of proper yield by field selection of cotton, the proper fertilization of cotton, crown on different soils in different sections of the State.

HELP.

Help me over the darkness here
With love and laughter and bonny cheer.

The heart is sick sometimes, of things,
Even the heart that whistles and sings,
And we're all so weak though we seem so wise,

And often a teardrop dims the eyes
Of those who are fabled to be immune
From the sadder tune.

Help me often and help me now
I shall come again for your help,
Somehow,

For surely the strongest are sometimes weak

With the suffering that they cannot heal;

Do not ask me to tell or speak,
Cuddle me up till I know an' feel
There's someone happy to help me rest
My care on their breast.

Help, I cry, from my night of care,
We need love's help most everywhere,
And the merriest montebanks of us all
Know bitterness most, can taste the gall

Of terrible moments, when heart and soul

Cry out for help from pole to pole,
Needing, oh, needing, a friend so much
And a hand to clutch.

FIRST CONFERENCE NATIONAL PARKS TO BE HELD SOON

impulse of a burning sun, the frigid air escapes slowly, coating the mouth of the caves with rime and hoarfrost. These caves in turn give rise to one of the most interesting botanical phenomena of this country—the survival in Iowa of tree and flowers that have their normal range far to the north. While Iowa swelters, the temperature of the soil on the rocks near the caves remains at 50 to 55 degrees and there frequently grow balsam fir of the north woods and the aconite or monk's hood of the mountains. In Iowa parks may be seen the most southwestern distribution of white pine in the United States. While in western Iowa are found arid plants commonly associated with the desert and high mountain plateaus of the far west.

government presents incredible difficulties. In western countries well-articulated credit systems serve to disguise post-war problems perhaps greater than China's but in this country they present themselves in all nakedness which renders evasion of postponement impossible.

"China needs foreign help but it must be help justly given. She plus her faith to the league of nations and a dispassionate, non-partisan settlement of her issues abroad, because too often in the past it has been shown that what is desired of her at home is not negotiation but surrender. International generosity will find a swifter reward here than elsewhere."
